SWEETHEART—GOD.

I.

I loved her well in the days that were,
And I love in the days that are,
And ever an urge, within, doth stir
To follow her footsteps far:
For the world is rich and the world is wise,
And the world is passing fair,
And the wisdom of earth is her dark brown eyes,
And its riches, the wealth of her hair.

II.

For this is the law of the thing that creeps,
And this of the thing that crawls;
The depths will dream of the vaster deeps,
Till the floor of the ocean falls:
Lo the world is waves and the world is skies,
And the world is cumbent air,
And they envied the deeps of her dark brown eyes,
And they chose them the waves of her hair.

III.

Now there is an earth that lieth without,
And there is an earth within,
And these are the earths that comfort him,
Whose love no love may win
But the world is sere and the world is dry,
And the world is desert bare:
So thirsty the world for the wells of her eye,
So hungry for scent of her hair.

IV.

So this I have learned of the thing that creeps,
And this of the thing that crawls:
They have then a King in the grassy deeps,
And a Throne in the foam of the falls:
For the world is love and the world is sighs,
From the core to the cumbent air,
And He was the joy of her dark brown eyes,
And the sorrow that softened her hair.

THE MEMORIAL HALL AT VIRGINIA.

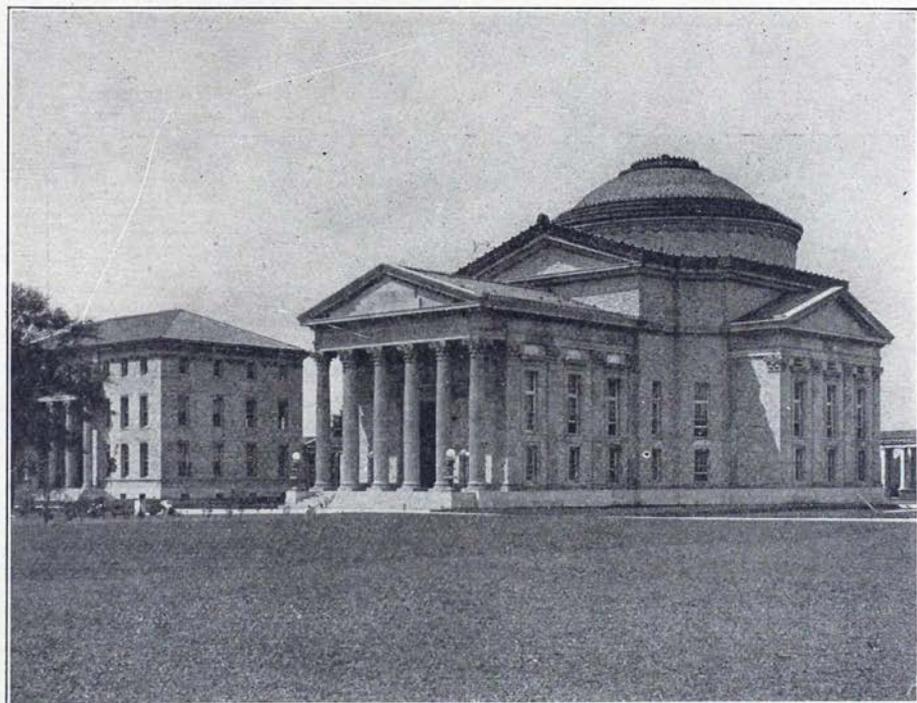

It is now two years since the movement for building a memorial hall to Pi Kappa Alpha at the University of Virginia was set on foot, but two months would probably indicate better the time since an efficient organization has been secured and the plan placed on a secure foundation. Two years ago the members of the chapter conceived the idea of incorporating the chapter and selling stock to alumni and active members. The chapter then in existence was certainly diligent in its intent as is shown by the fact that practically every member of Alpha at that time contributed toward the nest-egg, but the necessary red-tape of incorporating the chapter and the apparent uninterest shown by some of the alumni who were members of the board of directorate delayed matters somewhat.

Last year, however, the chapter was incorporated under the laws of Virginia and stock was issued to those who had paid cash in to the trustees. The affairs of the fund seemed at last to be gaining a business-like position, when the Virginia Safe Deposit company failed and the large part of the nest-egg was lost. The chapter was of course unwilling to hold the trustees of the money responsible as is provided by law. Since the failure a thirty per cent, dividend has been declared and it is believed that they will eventually pay out in full. This failure had a demoralizing effect on the officers of the Memorial Fund corporation and its affairs were carried on in a rather lax manner—no doubt to the contempt of several stockholders—till the election last fall.

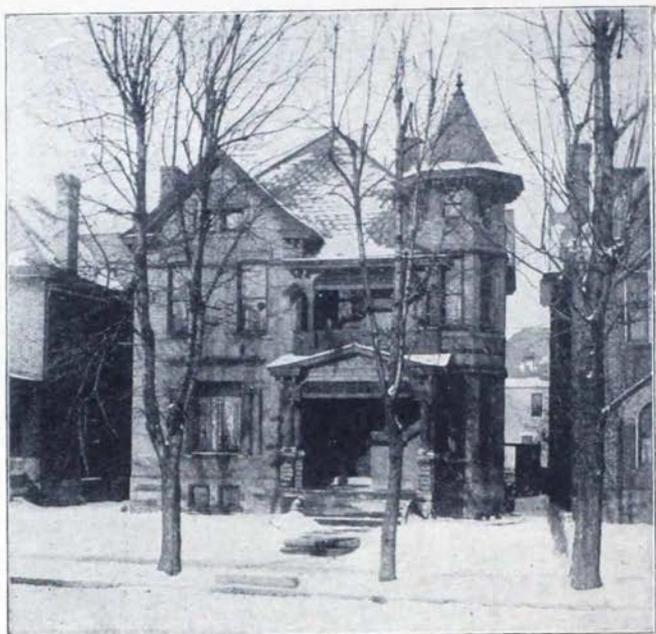

This year the new officers were elected and the affairs put on a thoroughly efficient basis. Bro. J. T. Twyman, of Charlottesville, who has been in the insurance and real estate business for the past several years, was elected secretary and treasurer, and Bro. A. D. Dabney, judge of the corporation court, was elected to the board of directors. It is felt that the acquisition of these two business men will be of great benefit in conducting the plan as a purely business organization. The importance of this is obvious, as purchasers of stock—though it be that of a fraternity—are not willing to conduct business dealings in an unbusiness-like manner. Such matters as prompt reply to letters and monthly statements to the board are imperative, and business men are much more apt to realize this than are professional men.

Thus, with the plan at last on a permanent foundation, it is hoped that a brick, instead of a blueprint memorial hall, is not so far distant. Approximately $3,000 is needed before we will be able to make the contract for a $12,000 hall on a $3,000 lot. It is hoped that this can be raised by the next convention.

HAIL TO THE COLORS.

Sing to the colors that float in the light,
 Hurrah for the garnet and gold;
 Garnet the jewel that sparkles clear and bright,
 With a glory that ne'er will grow old.
 Garnet the sky at the break of dawn,
 Garnet the west when the sun is gone;
 Hail! Pi Kappa Alpha, your colors so bright,
 Hurrah for the garnet and gold!

Gold are the moonbeams that shine on the lake,
 And brighten the waves that are blue;
 Gold are the cords that friendship doth make,
 To strengthen the bonds that are true.
 Gold are the colors to memory so dear,
 And garnet the colors for whom we cheer;
 Hail, Pi Kappa Alpha! whose cohorts we make,
 Hail to the garnet and gold!

Pi Kappa Alpha, whose colors we wear,
 Here's to the hearts that are true;
 Pi Kappa Alpha for friendship so fair,
 Hail to our colors too!
 Garlands of garnet and gold intertwine,
 And hearts that are true and voices combine;
 Hail! Pi Kappa Alpha, whose colors we wear,
 Hail to the garnet and gold!

THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, THE HOME OF ALPHA-SIGMA.

Its campus rising from the streets of Berkeley into the foothills overlooking San Francisco bay, the University of California stands facing the Golden Gate of the West, symbolic of the best in the progress of the state and of the whole Pacific coast. On the shores of one of the greatest natural harbours in the world and with the first metropolis of the coast at its door, the location is ideal. And this, together with the zeal and high standards of its founders and administrators, has served to bring it, a comparatively young institution, so rapidly to the front.

The University of California, second in the list of American universities according to the latest compilation of enrollment figures, grew from a private school established in 1855 in Oakland to the College of California. This had, in addition to its Oakland site and buildings, a property of one hundred and sixty acres situated five miles to the north, where Berkeley now lies. Upon the enactment of the state legislature, which brought a state university into existence, the management of this school donated its entire assets for the use of the new institution. The Berkeley tract furnished the site of the present campus. This occurred in 1868, the year in which Pi Kappa Alpha was founded at Virginia. In 1869, the College of California discontinued its work of instruction and gave place to the university.

From this date, the growth of the university has kept step with the rapid progress of the whole state. Including those attending the summer school and extension courses, the catalogue of students now contains over six thousand names, while the staff of officers numbers six hundred. Instruction is offered in all the branches of higher education, with notably good equipment in the departments of mining and agriculture. Coming within the jurisdiction of the university are also the professional colleges in San Francisco of medicine, law, dentistry and pharmacy, the Los Angeles College of Medicine, the Mark Hopkins Institute of Art in San Francisco, the Lick observatory, the University farm at Davis and biological and agricultural stations throughout the state. Informal instruction is offered to the public at large in various places through a series of extension lectures. A summer session of six weeks has grown to considerable importance and is now one of the largest in the country. Its faculty consists every year of men with a reputation, secured from all over the United States. Students enrolled for the summer school of 1911 numbered up to one thousand.

With the different colleges and departments housed in some half-dozen buildings of varying design, the campus at first presented little in the way of a unit landscape of any beauty. In 1896, however, a scheme was proposed looking toward a unified system of university architecture. A competition for plans was inaugurated under the patronage and at the expense of Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst. From the work of the one hundred and five competitors, a plan was selected according to which buildings are now erected as funds accrue. Those already constructed are the Greek theatre, the mining building, the library, California hall, Boalt hall of law and agricultural hall. Excepting the amphitheatre, which is built of concrete, these are all of white granite.

A notable feature of life at the university is the principle of thorough democracy which is here carried to its logical conclusion and embodied in a system of student self-government, successfully in practice for a number of years. Outside of the class-room, students entirely direct their own affairs. Senior control forms the basis of the system, the fourth year men meeting regularly at senior singing for an informal discussion of the affairs of the campus. Here too the upper-classman has an opportunity to meet and know members of the faculty. There is also a formal associated student-body whose elected officers direct the athletic and other activities of the college public.

Student publications include the following: the Daily Californian, with eight pages devoted only to college news, the Occident, a literary monthly, the Pelican, comic monthly, and the annual, Blue and Gold, published by the junior class. Plays original and adapted are staged by the upper classes, the English club, Mask and Dagger, Treble Clef and occasionally the language clubs. Musical talent is organized in the Glee club, Treble Clef, men and women's Mandolin and Guitar clubs, the university orchestra and the university chorus. In all the branches of athletics, outside competitions are chiefly with Leland Stanford, Jr., University at Palo Alto. Inter-collegiate events are held yearly in football (the English game), freshman and varsity, baseball, track and crew, freshman and varsity, tennis, basketball and golf. Games and meets are also arranged with nearby athletic clubs, the universities of Nevada, Washington, Oregon and Southern California and mine schools.

There are no men's dormitories on the campus, and consequently fraternities are in a very flourishing condition. Twenty-seven have chapter houses in Berkeley.

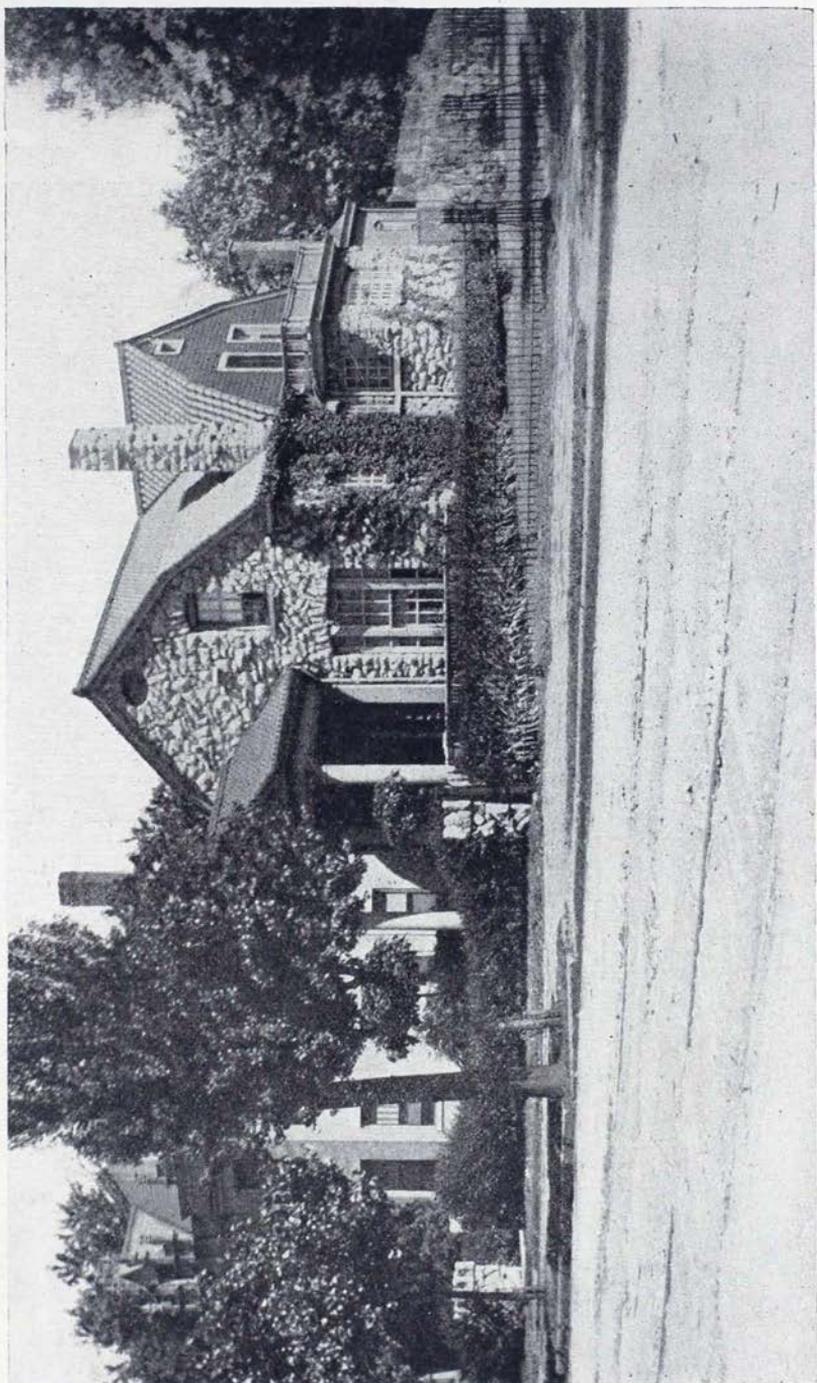

The campus, with the gold of acacia and poppy bloom, the shade of the oaks, the tall eucalyptus against the sky, and a variety of pleasing contours, equals in natural beauty any other in the country. Here is found a charming setting for the series of buildings provided for under the Hearst plans for the greater university, fit in all respects to be the center of higher education in the West.

PARTING SONG.

Tune: "Auld Lang Syne."

And now the closing hour is nigh
 When fleeting time shall part
 These ranks but not the flowers of love
 That blossom in each heart;
 And going, if to sorrow's gloom
 Or sunny skies of blue,
 The ties that we have known to-day
 Shall ever hold us true.

OMEGA CHAPTER HOUSE, KENTUCKY STATE UNIVERSITY.

ALPHA-UPSILON CHAPTER HOUSE, NEW YORK UNIVERSITY.

As now we go out in the world
 Each on his separate way,
 We'll carry in our hearts the love
 That in our hearts shall stay;
 Shall stay against the sands of time,
 Shall stay against the years
 That give the youth to manhood's prime;
 Shall stay in joy and tears.

As brothers we shall stand as one
 And future face like men,
 As brothers we'll united be
 Until we meet again;
 And whatsoever of joy or care
 To-morrow shall unfold,
 Our faith shall stay in Pi Kay A,
 And Pi Kay A shall hold.

We know not when we meet again,
 Or where, we know not how,
 With God the future rests alone
 And God shall show us how;
 And hearts shall beat and voices greet
 With joy and vigor new,
 And hands shall clasp, when we shall meet,
 And song ring clear and true.

How soon the Master Pi shall call
 Our Conclave none can tell.
 So, brothers, pledge we truth and faith
 Ere now we say farewell—
 True in our lives and to the ties
 And all the world shall see
 Pi Kappa Alpha knows her sons
 And they can loyal be!

THE OBLIGATION OF AN ALUMNUS TO PI KAPPA ALPHA.

Let no graduating member of Pi Kappa Alpha think for one minute that he has served his fraternity sufficiently since he was initiated and that he is now entitled to a rest and that it is up to the younger brothers to shoulder the burdens of the chapter. On the other hand, every Pi Kappa Alpha who receives his degree from college this year will leave owing his fraternity a greater debt than he can pay with years of service. Let him think of the beautiful conception of brotherhood and the great principles of his fraternity which have been laid before him. Let him continue to strive to be more and more worthy of the honor he has enjoyed in being a Pi Kappa Alpha and let him put in practical application the great principles he has learned. He should think of the social blessings he has enjoyed, which were brought to him by Pi Kappa Alpha. He should think of the prestige the little badge he has worn for some two or three years has given him as a student in his college. And further he should remember that for years to come he expects to point with pride to the little badge which he cherishes so much and, he expects to continue to enjoy recognition among Greek letter men as long as he lives. If this is true, then he will forever be in debt to Pi Kappa Alpha and unless he sees to it that that debt is paid, in so far as it is in his power to pay it, he will become a burden on the blessings of his fraternity.

There are a multitude of things an alumnus can do for his chapter and fraternity, but I want to mention only a few. First, he should strive to send to his chapter a good man to replace him. The loss of members upon graduation results in the great scramble in the fall for men to replace them and, if this is left to the young fellows who return they might in the excitement that prevails at that time, take in some man who would eventually be worth little to the chapter. Just think what a great relief to the young fellows it would be if every departing brother sent back in the fall a fine freshman. Then it would become the work of the returning men to concentrate their efforts on a few of the best freshmen not already "spotted." Of course every departing brother cannot do this, but let them do it wherever possible—that is, make an extraordinary effort to do it.

Second, it is not any more the duty of the active members to strive to keep in touch with the alumni than it is the duty of the alumni to keep in touch with the active chapter. Each alumnus can take the time to write to the active chapter at least each fall and do it early and find out how things are going. He should not merely glance over a letter from the active chapter and then throw it aside and perhaps never think of it again. It will take only a few minutes to read it carefully and give it a little thought. Perhaps he will realize some really great need of his chapter which he can help obliterate and with very little inconvenience to himself. If he is ever in a position to respond to the call from the active chapter or from the general fraternity, it is his just obligation to do so.

In fact the whole idea may be embodied by saying that no man can fully pay his obligation to the fraternity and the more he puts into it the more he will get out of it, and if he chooses to look upon his fraternity in the proper light he will see that it rewards him with friendship and love which can not be bought on the market for any price.

LEROY HIGHFILL, Alpha-Zeta.

FELLOWSHIP SONG.

Tune, "A Son of a Gambolier."

I'm glad to be a Pi Kay A, I hold the calling dear,
It taught me how to be a man, it showed me how to steer,
And life with all its troubled seas can make me naught to fear,
For we're brothers all in Pi Kay A, and that's the best career!

Chorus:

In Pi Kay A, in Pi Kay A, we'll rally and be gay,
And Pi Kay A shall never know another hapless day,
In old Pi Kappa Alpha, we're well content to stay,
So let's clasp the grips and pile the chips for good old Pi Kay A!

When'er I think of other clans, they're so far in the rear,
With pitiness, I must confess, I have to shed a tear,
So let us rally, Pi Kay A's, and give a thundrous cheer,
That shall wake the dead who else had fled, to tell them we are here!

Chorus:

H. W. RUDOLPH, Alpha-Upsilon.

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY THE HOME OF ALPHA-UPSILON.

The undergraduate division of New York University was opened in 1832, and for many years had its home in the University building at Washington square, New York city. About fifteen years ago, the University College flowered forth from the parent stem by leaving its early location and taking its present site at University Heights, in the northern suburbs of the city.

The possession of beautiful grounds, with an athletic field and gymnasium, and especially the erection of both university and fraternity residence halls, greatly transformed the life of the college and marked a new era. In this new home, the University College of Arts and Pure Science offers to students the advantages of college life of the independent college in a small town, combined with the advantages that are to be gained from life in a metropolis and from intimate association with the wider intellectual life of a great university. Here the college has indeed all the freedom and resources necessary for its expansion to the greatness made possible by unique natural advantages and a progressive inner spirit.

That the college will continue to grow in efficiency and prominence is attested, first, by unique natural advantages which it commands. For a site within the limits of a great city, the campus is almost incredibly beautiful. The hall of fame looks down upon the blue Harlem river and dreamy valley bounded to the west by the Hudson and the venerable Palisades. The grounds have been carefully graded, walks and roads laid out, trees and shrubs planted, and with the beautiful broad lawns and panoramic outlook compare favorably with any college campus in the world. These advantages of location, coupled with those of beautiful recitation halls of granite stone and the imposing grandeur of the library, place unrivaled natural facilities at the command of the college student.

The progressive inner spirit of the college, secondly, testifies to its continued growth and heralds its future renown. For over a decade, the college has been the standard-bearer of the university in athletics and the various other activities of the campus. The student body, which numbers about four hundred, has thus undertaken to maintain and advance the representative obligations of a great university—an enterprise which enlists the efforts of every last man. Football, baseball, track, basketball, tennis, and gymnastics comprise the athletic sports that are upheld. The weekly paper, The New Yorker; the literary monthly, The Colonnade, named after a renowned portion of the hall of fame, which is located on the campus; and the annual book, The Violet, bearing as its name the color and flower of the university, form the literary element of the intellectual field, in which are also to be ranked debating and chess, and the various technical clubs, such as the Andiron club—which publishes The Colonnade, the Engineering society, the Biological club the Cercle Francais, the Deutscher Verein, and a number of others. The annual varsity show, the senior minstrel show, the musical clubs, the junior promenade, the senior ball, and the football, baseball, basketball, and gymnastic dances, are the chief exponents of the social life of the college. Besides Pi Kappa Alpha, there are six Greek letter fraternities, which, in order of succession of establishment, are Psi Upsilon, 1837; Delta Phi, 1841; Zeta Psi, 1847; Delta Upsilon, 1865; Phi Gamma Delta, 1892, and Kappa Sigma, 1905; and the student life, as it is carried on in the fraternity houses and the dormitories, attains a standard of undergraduate association and fellowship that is unique on the campus of a metropolitan college.

New York University comprises seven separate colleges—the University College of Arts and Pure Science, the school of law, the school of medicine, the school of pedagogy, the graduate school, the school of applied science, and the school of commerce, accounts and finance; its total membership is somewhat in excess of 4,000 undergraduate students; its faculty numbers almost 300; and its endowments amount in total to about $1,200,000.

H. W. RUDOLPH, Alpha-Upsilon.

DRINKING SONG.

Tune: "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes."
 Pi Kappa Alpha, strong in each voice
 Thy song rings true and sweet!
 Pi Kappa Alpha, deep in each heart
 Thy name is in every beat!
 Then, brothers, may ever heart and voice
 To her be lifted high,
 Fill up the cup, together we'll pledge
 The vows that shall not die.

We'll pledge the toast to which each brother
 His heart and voice may give—
 "Friendship and love, in Pi Kappa Alpha,
 To strengthen them while we live!"
 The clasp of the hand, the eye's kindling truth,
 Shall these be of the past?
 Ties we have known in college days
 We'll know them to the last!

Pi Kappa Alpha, high thy praise
 Was sung by sons of yore,
 Thy mystic charm shall gladden all brothers
 To sing it forevermore!
 Thy key shall open every door,
 Thy sword quell every foe,
 In every land thy shield shall guard
 Thy diamond's quenchless glow!

HAROLD W. RUDOLPH, Alpha-Upsilon.

 ALPHA-UPSILON CHAPTER OF PI KAPPA ALPHA.

Alpha-Upsilon originated at New York University in the year 1907 as the Palisades club, which was formed by seven members of the class of 1909. This organization speedily took on the shape of a fraternity, and extended its membership in the lower classes. During the summer of 1908 a committee, having been given most extraordinary powers, completely overhauled the workings of the Palisades club, and started them again under a new name, Beta-Rho, with a new constitution, by-laws and ritual. Beta-Rho did not suspend operations during the summer, and meetings, at which a quorum was present, were held almost weekly; it is undoubtedly to this activity that the society owed the beginnings of the supremacy which, as a chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha, it enjoys on the campus today.

In the fall of 1908 Beta-Rho took a long-sought step and acquired control of East hall, a college dormitory, and used it for her first fraternity house. From that time her history may be gathered from the individual records of her members. In the fall of 1908 she acquired her new house at No. 2266 Andrews avenue—a two-story and basement building with eleven commodious living rooms, besides reception and dining rooms on the lower floor. Of the active chapter, which numbers twenty-three undergraduates, twelve have lodged at the chapter house during the past year, and all have been regular boarders at the table throughout the year.

The active chapter comprises the following, in order of classes:

Robert Bathmann	Frederick William Garnjost
John Thomas Brennan, Jr.	James Vincent Fitzgerald
Herman Henneberger	Richard Edward Elliffe, Jr.
Raymond Hamilton Mathews

1913

William Russell McAdam	James Harrison Rogers
Frederick Colwell Conklin	Harold Washington Rudolph
William Lebrecht Engels	Walter George Hill Ryan
Charles Edward Ackerman, Jr.

1914

Herbert Bathmann	Andrews Everett Bryans
Beverly Holmes Becker	William Aloysius Lynch
Joseph Redfield Birkholz	Eugene Walter von Janinski

1915

William Stewart Cloud	Ernest Ball Keyser
Norman William Sulser

The alumni who were initiated at the installation of Alpha-Upsilon chapter on April 24th are the following:

1909

Harry Melville Love	David Lowry McKay
Claude Edward Palmer	Daniel Carroll Nolan, Jr.

1910

Emil Nielsen	Sumpad Hovcep Sarafian
--------------	------------------------

1911

Elmer Galloway	Samuel Washington McCarte
Frederick Louis Kopff	Gerald Nolan
Jeffrey Richard Hosking	George Hamilton Scofield
Lyman Richard Hartley

1912

Royale Valray Rothermel

1913

Lucas Eugene Decker	Edward Michael Stanton
William Kearns Elliffe

1915

Leo Alvin Marsh

At the present writing, the active chapter has two pledges, Mr. John McCann of the class of 1914, and Mr. A. Kennard of the class of 1915.

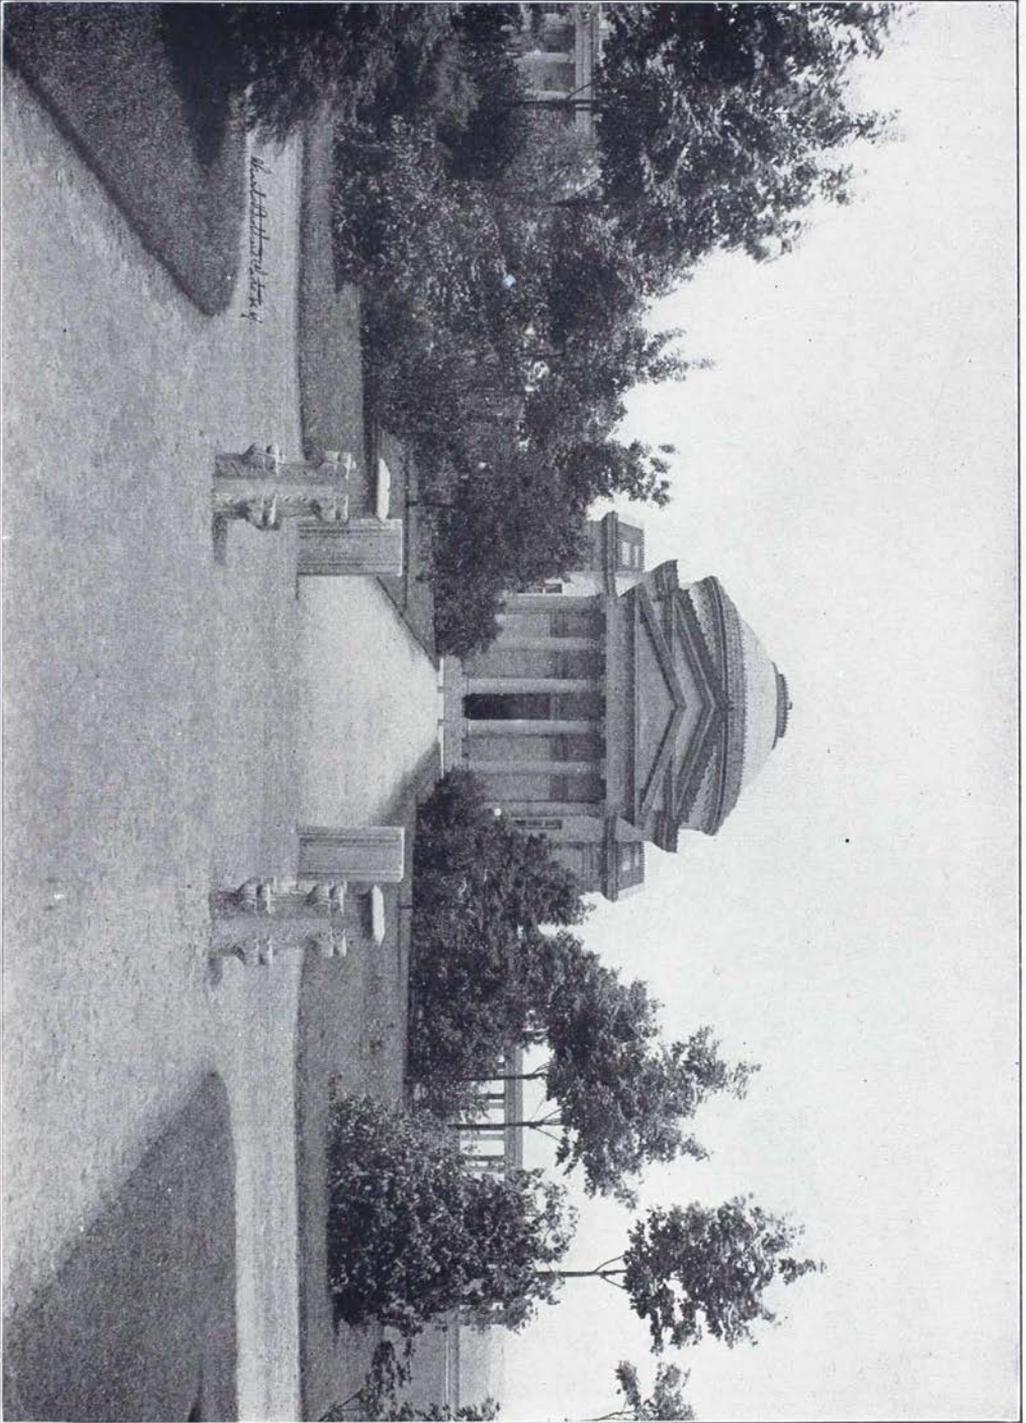

The election of chapter officers included the following:

W. L. Lynch, '14, Th. C.	W. L. Engels, '13, S. M. C.
H. W. Rudolph, '13, M. S.	J. H. Rogers, '13, I. M. C.
B. H. Becker, '14, M. C.	C. E. Ackerman, '13, S. C.

The progressive assertiveness of the chapter on the campus has found expression in all the activities, in which its attainments are disclosed in the following synopsis covering the past two college years, 1910-1911 and 1911-1912:

MARCHING SONG.

Tune: "Marching Through Georgia."

Brothers, let us gather in our circle as of yore,
Kneel before the mystic shrine and drink the magic store,
And let our voices echo clear to Heaven's distant shore,
For Pi Kappa Alpha reigns forever!

Chorus:

For Pi Kay A, for Pi Kay A we stand
For Pi Kay A we'll render heart and hand,
In Pi Kay A we stand to-day a loyal steadfast band,
For Pi Kappa Alpha reigns forever!

College days are going swiftly, soon they will be sped,
And then into the world of men our lives are to be led,
But still our love for Pi Kay A shall live and ne'er be dead,
For Pi Kappa Alpha reigns forever!

Chorus:

Life shall hold its hardships, brother, trying and severe,
Life shall have its balmy days when skies are bright and clear;
But come what may, in Pi Kay A our trust is strong and near,
For Pi Kappa Alpha reigns forever!

Chorus:

When the higher calling, brother, comes to you and me
To pass beyond the great divide and cross the mystic sea,
Like men we'll face it, strong in life, strong in eternity,
For Pi Kappa Alpha reigns forever!

Chorus:

CORRESPONDENCE BETWEEN J. G. HUGHES,
GRAND PRINCEPS, AND HON. OSCAR W.
UNDERWOOD, ALPHA.

Union, S. C., May 21, 1912.

Hon. Oscar W. Underwood, Washington, D. C.

My Dear Mr. Underwood: Some days ago I wrote you personally and congratulated you on your recent victories in Georgia and Florida. Since that time Mississippi has been added to the list of states supporting you through popular primaries; South Carolina, though "Wilson-ized" long ago by the press of the state before you entered the presidential race, has sent a delegation to the national convention with a number supporting you and I feel sure that the delegation will eventually come to you as a unit; Tennessee will give you several votes on the first ballot and will doubtless finally cast her solid vote in your favor; and on Saturday last North Carolina gave you a vote that I believe will mean that the full delegation will be yours. Every member of the fraternity is proud of your record in congress and appreciates the splendid support you are receiving for the highest office in the gift of the people of this country. Alabama's unanimous endorsement of you is a magnificent tribute, and the entire fraternity joins in expressing appreciation of it. We trust and believe that the progress of your candidacy during the past few weeks will continue, and that by the time of the national convention in June you will be found the choice of the Democracy of the country as its standard-bearer.

The supreme council of the fraternity asks me to convey to you this expression of its earnest hope of your success and its confidence in the ultimate favorable outcome of the contest.

With best wishes, I am

Fraternally,

J. G. HUGHES,
Grand Princeps.

Washington, D. C., May 23, 1912.

Mr. J. G. Hughes, Union, South Carolina.

My Dear Mr. Hughes: I received this morning your letter of the twenty-first instant, and write to express my appreciation of the earnest interest that my brothers in the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity are taking in my behalf, and for the very kindly expression of confidence and good wishes for success that you send me from the supreme council of our fraternity. I am very hopeful of the result and hope that at some time in the future I may be able to express my appreciation of the kindly message you send personally to me.

With kindest regards, I am

Fraternally yours,

O. W. UNDERWOOD.

TO PI KAPPA ALPHA ON COMING NORTH.

Shall history fancy again to record
 The page that was turned?
 Shall conflict be reaped from the seed of discord,
 Shall the past be unlearned?
 Shall feeling antagonize, hatred disrupt
 The ties that have grown?
 Or lurking distrustfulness blindy corrupt
 The seed that is sown?
 No, brothers, in hand-clasp we'll banish dissent
 On the seal of the past,
 And pledge, in fraternity's bonding cement,
 The ties that shall last!
 Letting friendship and love be in future the chart
 As now we go forth,
 And in Pi Kappa Alpha may heart receive heart
 For South and for North!

HAROLD W. RUDOLPH, Alpha-Upsilon.

SOME PI KAPPA ALPHA FOOTBALL STARS.

Elsewhere in these pages will be found a number of pictures of Pi's who have made their mark on the gridiron during the past football season. Those portrayed by no means represent all the Pi "gridironites," but only a small portion thereof, for Pi Kappa Alpha has been represented this past year in all the phases of football, from captain and manager to sub.

The following are short accounts of some of the players:

H. R. BOSWELL, BETA.

Bro. Boswell was manager of the Davidson College team for the season of 1911, and that the season was a success is due in no small part to the managerial ability of Bro. Boswell.

Q. D. WILLIFORD, BETA.

Bro. Williford played left half-back for Davidson, and was counted as a star by the athletic writers, the Birmingham papers referring to him as "the fastest man in North Carolina" after the game with Alabama, he being the only Davidson man to cross Alabama's goal line. Besides a good line plunger and strong defensive player, Bro. Williford is also a good punter.

J. N. VANDEVANTER, BETA.

Bro. VanDevanter played only one game during the season of 1911, being taken sick immediately thereafter and forced to remain out of the game for the balance of the season. As half-back he was a consistent ground gainer, full of grit and determination, and but for his unfortunate illness would have excelled his great record made in 1910.

W. L. PARKER, GAMMA.

Although his first year on the team, Bro. Parker played a good game at right end, and gives promise of developing into a real star next year.

E. R. WILCOX, GAMMA.

Wilcox, Gamma's only other representative, was manager.

R. C. BRANCH, ZETA.

Bro. Branch was captain of Tennessee and played quarter, and distinguished himself in every game. It is much to be regretted that he will not return next year.

F. M. TOMPKINS, ZETA.

Bro. Tompkins played full-back during the past season, and was a powerful man on both the offense and defense. He also will not return to Tennessee next year, having gone to the University of Michigan for a course of studies. He is expected to make good there on the gridiron.

J. V. GIESLER, ZETA.

Bro. Giesler played a star game at left end and will return next season, when he is expected to even surpass his record of this year.

G. F. McLEOD, ETA.

Bro. McLeod was initiated by Theta chapter. He went to Tulane in 1909, but could not play that year owing to the one year rule, but for his good work on the scrubs he was awarded a "T." In 1910 he took his position at tackle and played a most consistent game throughout the season. At the end of the 1910 season he was mentioned for the captaincy, but refused the honor because he had two more years to play and because it was his first year on the team. In 1911 Mac again played his usual good game and was a great ground gainer. In every game he was mentioned as a star. At the end of the season Bro. McLeod was elected to captain the 1912 team.

CLOVIS MOOMAW, PI.

Although over six feet in height, Bro. Moomaw weighs but one hundred and sixty pounds. He is quick, active and wiry, and never fails to make an opening. On the defense he is under the play before it gets well started, and generally spills it. As captain and as a player he was the backbone of the team, always anxious for work, never knowing when defeated, and always encouraging his team mates. Moomaw was always fair and honest and earnest in his playing. Before coming to Washington and Lee he played at Virginia, where he gained much valuable experience.

KELLY FRANCIS, PI.

Bro. Francis played left end and was a consistent ground gainer. In addition he did the kicking for the team, his spirals averaging forty yards. Also he received the majority of the forward passes, and could always be counted on to get them. In 1910 Bro. Francis played on Transylvania and made the all-Kentucky team. In the V. P. I. game in 1911 Francis received a forward pass and took the ball over for a touchdown, tying the score. In the North Carolina game North Carolina made only three yards around his end.

KIRK NEWELL, UPSILON.

Although Bro. Newell weighs only one hundred and fifty pounds, he was reckoned as one of the best men on the Auburn team of 1911. He distinguished himself time and again as a broken field runner. Owing to illness he was unable to participate in a number of games. He played quarter and was noted for his headwork. One of the best all-round athletes in college, he has made his "A" in football, baseball and track.

JOHN DAVIS, UPSILON.

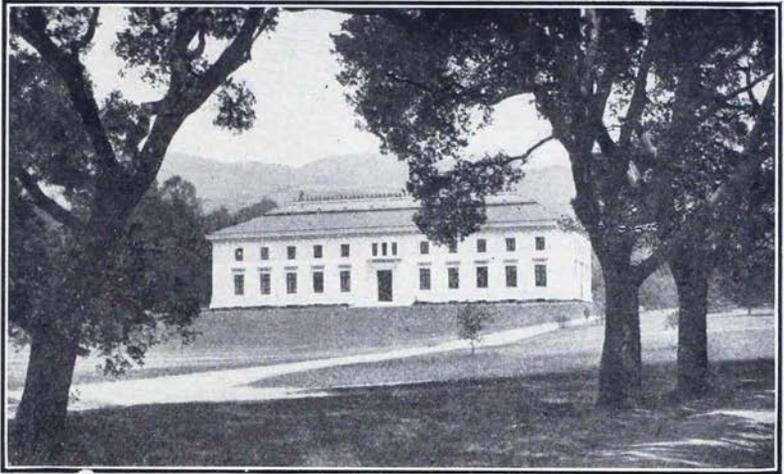

At the close of the season of 1911 the sporting editors of the South universally proclaimed John Davis as being the best full-back in the South. More than one team shifted the whole line on the desperate chance that the play would go on that side, only to have Davis smash the reinforced line like it was paper. In the Mississippi game his shoulder was dislocated, which kept him out of the Georgia Tech. game, and his loss was felt keenly. Absolutely without fear, every inch of him one hundred per cent fight, he is one of the cleanest football players the South has ever seen. Besides his football record, Bro. Davis last year broke the southern record for pole vaulting, which he still holds. He has made his "A" in football, basketball and track.

R. G. KNICKERBOCKER, ALPHA-KAPPA.

Bro. Knickerbocker has been a member of Missouri School of Mines' football team for the past two years. During the year 1911 he was captain of the team, where he played as guard and tackle, and distinguished himself on more than one occasion.

JOHN N. SCHMIDT, ALPHA-KAPPA.

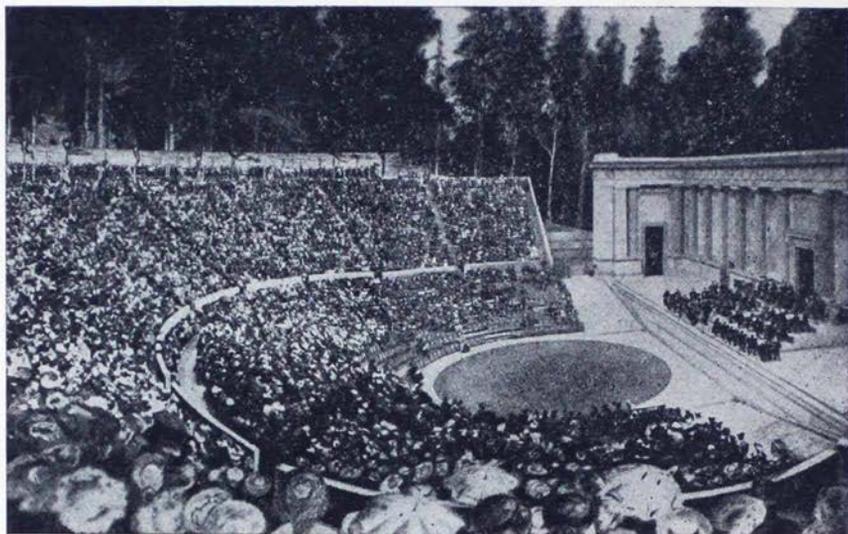

Schmidt played left end during the seasons of 1910 and 1911, and has not missed a game. Weighing one hundred and sixty pounds, he is a hard, fast and scrappy player, and has earned a reputation of which any one would be proud. Besides holding down left end he did all the kicking for his team last season.

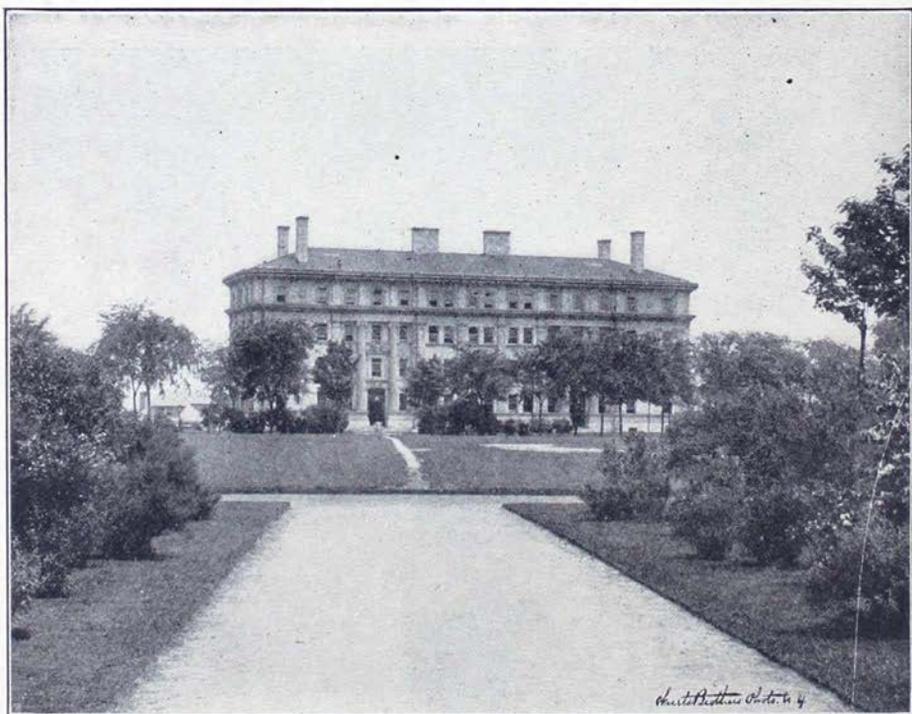

CALIFORNIA HALL, UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA.

LIVING ROOM, ALPHA-UPSILON,
Chapter House, New York University.

GREEK THEATRE, UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA.

DORMITORY, GOULD HALL, NEW YORK UNIVERSITY.

JOHN WILLIAM GLASS, ALPHA-LAMBDA.

While Glass was ineligible for inter-collegiate contests, he was considered one of the best men on the field. He worked at both end and full-back, and was elected captain of the 1912 team.

ISAAC CHRISTIAN SMITH, ALPHA-LAMBDA.

A new man at the game when the season opened, nevertheless he made the team by his hard attack and steady defense as full-back.

JO ROBERT HOWARD, ALPHA-LAMBDA.

Bro. Howard played a hard and consistent game at right half and never missed a game during the entire season.

OMER OGDEN MICKLE, ALPHA-OMICRON.

Bro. Mickle is only six feet four, and weighs one hundred and eighty. He plays left tackle. "Uncle Billie," as he is called, has played in every game for the past three seasons and has never been put out of a game. He is a great defensive player.

Editorial

The Editor's First Year. With this number, the last of Volume XXI, the editor completes his first year as editor-in-chief of the Pi Kappa Alpha publications. At the Knoxville Convention of 1911 the Supreme Council appointed the present incumbent to fill the editorial seat vacated by Bro. Walter G. Riddick. It was with a great deal of trepidation that he accepted the appointment and entered upon his duties. It was his first experience in an editorial capacity, and has been a year of trial for himself as well as the fraternity. For himself the editor can say with all frankness that it has been a year of real pleasure and profit to himself—pleasure in that he has been able to work for his fraternity and profit in that he has benefited immeasurably from his work which has brought him into contact with many of his brothers. Whether this year of trial has benefitted the fraternity, there are others better fitted to say. Had it not been for the most excellent staff of assistants appointed by the Supreme Council, the editor cannot say what would have become of the magazine. To them, in no small degree, its success, if successful it has been, is due. They have been loyal and painstaking, and always ready to respond to the call of duty. No request of the editor has been refused or neglected, and he takes this occasion to thank them for the kind assistance they have given him. The officers of the fraternity have been uniformly kind to the editor during the past year, both in suggestion and practice, and but for them the editor must have run on many a shoal; and especially is the editor indebted to that great old war horse, that grand old Pi, the father of the fraternity, but for whom Pi Kappa Alpha would not be known today, for his many and timely and kindly words of counsel and advice, the largeness of whose brain has caused his hair to go—Robert Adger Smythe.

Football. As has been promised in previous issues, we are publishing in this number some of the Pi stars of the past football season. Of a few of them short accounts are given. Of the great majority of Pi football men no account has been obtainable, so far, or at least has not been received by the editor. While no doubt a football issue of the magazine would be of much more interest to all Pi's than the present short display, it must be borne in mind that the editor cannot conjure up shapes to take the place of football players, hence a larger display is impossible.

This is perhaps the first time that THE SHIELD AND DIAMOND has attempted to publish pictures of football players in any quantity at one time, and it is the sincere hope of the staff that it will not be the last. It is our desire each year, as soon as practicable after the football season has ended, to issue a "football number." In this the co-operation of all the chapters is absolutely essential—nothing can be done without that.

Pi Kappa Alpha has made good this past season in the realm of football; but one would hardly judge so from the showing made in this issue. Brothers, keep this in mind, and next year let's have a real football number.

Chapter Pictures. In this issue will be found a number of pictures of the chapters. It was hoped to have a picture of every chapter, but in a number of instances the plates had already been promised to the annuals, and could not be secured in time for insertion. It is the desire of the editor to have in at least one issue each year pictures of all the chapters, and he hopes that this will be borne in mind by the chapters and that they will have plates made and kept for the magazine.

New Chapters. The past year has indeed been a prosperous one for Pi Kappa Alpha. During that time no less than four new chapters have been installed—Alpha-Rho at Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio; Alpha-Sigma at the University of California, Berkeley, Calif.; Alpha-Tau at the University of Utah, Salt Lake City, Utah; and Alpha-Upsilon at New York University, New York City. Not only the South, but the West and the North are being invaded by the fraternity, and chapters are being rapidly placed in representative colleges of both sections. Numerous applications for charters have been received, but the Supreme Council in their wise discretion, and after thorough investigation, have seen fit to decline the large majority of them. Next year, let all of us work for further expansion.

The End of the Year. Another school year is now closing. With it many Pi's leave the active chapters forever. Many of them, too many, will sever their connection with the chapters, for it is a regrettable fact, but none the less true, that the majority of fraternity men, of all fraternities, take little or no interest in their fraternity after leaving college. Some of them, however, and all the more honor be to them, will never cease their active interest in the chapter and the fraternity. It is needless to tell you men who are leaving college how best you can serve your chapters and your fraternity. There will occur to you in your journey through life many ways in which you can aid and assist your younger brothers. When occasion offers, do your best, and in serving your fraternity you also serve yourself. You are not going out of the life of your fraternity, you are really entering that broader field of endeavor for which your fraternity has tried in some small measure to fit you during your days as members of the active chapter. You will find in various parts of the country alumni chapters. With these you should align yourselves. You should subscribe to the magazine, and thus keep in touch with the progress your fraternity is making. And also in this way you will be enabled to note the progress of those brothers whom you regarded with so much affection during your college life. Think on these things, brothers, a very few of the many that could be mentioned, and prove that your fraternity has been and is a material factor in your life.

Chapter Letters

Chapter Letters must be mailed to C. W. Underwood, 1109 Atlanta National Bank Building, Atlanta, Ga., not later than the 25th day of September, November, January March and May of each year. Further notice of this rule will not be given. Chapters are liable to fine for failure to observe it.

ALPHA.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA.

Initiate—Robert Kinloch Massie, Theological Seminary, Va.

Alpha chapter has three graduates this year, Bro. Albertson getting a B. L. and Bros. Blanton and Brock getting their M. A. degrees. Of these, Bro. Blanton will return next year for further work. Bros. Guthrie, McEnery and Mosely will make this their last at Virginia, the former expecting to become a teacher, and the others planning to attend Louisiana State University next year.

This will give us a chapter of twelve next fall, and we should have a very successful year. We expect to occupy the same house, and will have ample room for every member of the chapter. Any brothers who expect to attend the university next fall are requested to communicate with Bro. W. B. Blanton, 300 W. Grace, Richmond, Va., with regard to rooms in the house.

We have just finished the inter-fraternity baseball series, the Phi Gamma Deltas getting the cup. Alpha won the first game against the Sigma Phi Epsilons by a good margin, but was defeated by the Delta Tau Deltas by an even larger score, thus losing all chance for it this year.

Bro. Shepherd was recently initiated by the Sigma Beta Phi, an honorary engineering fraternity. Bro. Albertson has also been elected to an honorary organization, the "Raven society." Bro. Livingston has been elected on the editing board of the University of Virginia Magazine.

The summer addresses of the members of the chapter will be:
R. B. Albertson, Portsmouth, Va.

- I. J. Shepherd, University, Va.
 A. B. Butt, Portsmouth, Va.
 F. P. Guthrie, Port Gibson, Miss.
 C. B. Livingston, Carlsbad, New Mexico.
 S. T. Bitting, Colorado Springs, Colo.
 John Marshall, San Angelo, Tex.
 W. B. Blanton, 300 W. Grace, Richmond, Va.
 R. A. Brock, 816 W. Marshall, Richmond, Va.
 J. M. Howard, Newbern, N. C.
 H. C. Stanard, Roanoke, Va.
 W. B. Allen, Suffolk, Va.
 J. B. Redus, University, Va.
 V. L. Mosely, New Orleans, La.
 J. McEnery, Monroe, La.
 R. K. Massie, Theological Seminary, Va.

BETA.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE

It is with a great deal of pleasure that we introduce to the fraternity at large, William Hollister of Newbern, N. C. He is a popular member of the freshman class, and with three more years of Greek life to live, we hope and expect him to do many things to make every loyal Pi Kappa Alpha proud.

Just now our final examinations are in full force, and some of you have experienced the worry, the anxiety, and the troubles they cause most of us. But they will soon be over and with their end some of us will be launched out on the deep ocean of life—to sink or to swim. A few to sink below the surface of the public eye, others to swim on to the shore of success and prominence, there to stand in the spot light of our nation, where they and all of their doings will be watched with the greatest interest. We wish every one could be in the last class.

Our commencement this year will be the celebration of the 75th commencement. Everything has been carefully and elaborately planned for this occasion. The time has been lengthened one day, thus making the commencement over Thursday night, whereas last year it ended on Wednesday night. A great many more visitors are expected to be present than have ever attended any commencement in the history of the college. Also about twice as many prominent speakers have been secured, among them some of the foremost educators in America.

The Quijs and Cranks has been out for several weeks and it is pronounced the best annual Davidson has ever had.

Beta loses two men by graduation. They are Q. D. Williford and H. R. Boswell.

The entire chapter roll and summer addresses are:

Q. D. Williford, Sumter, S. C.

H. R. Boswell, Penfield, Ga.

J. N. VanDevanter, Fort Defiance, Va.

D. E. Brown, Anderson, S. C.

M. E. Mattison, Anderson, S. C.

F. E. Nigels, Sumter, S. C.

E. M. Vereen, Moultrie, Ga.

J. E. Johnston, Davidson, N. C.

J. R. McGregor, Dillon, S. C.

S. J. Lanier, 1312 Barnard street, Savannah, Ga.

W. W. Boswell, Greensboro, Ga.

W. H. Cowles, Statesville, N. C.

F. A. Hill, Statesville, N. C.

Wm. Hollister, Newbern, N. C.

J. C. Todd, Laurens, S. C.

H. L. McCaskill, Bainbridge, Ga.

Beta wishes every Pi a most pleasant summer, and let us hope that every man will return in the fall, determined to do all he can for dear old Pi Kappa Alpha.

H. R. BOSWELL.

GAMMA

WILLIAM AND MARY COLLEGE

William and Mary is now practically through with her year's work, and in a few days the final exams. will start.

This year has marked a great change in the policy of the old college. The entrance requirements have been raised to the standard of the university, a preparatory academy established and a summer school started in conjunction with the college.

While the new system has not had time yet to prove its merit we are expecting great results.

The year has been a good and successful one for Gamma.

Bro. English, who has edited the annual, has been elected editor-in-chief of the Flat Hat, the weekly publication of the college, which has recently closed a very successful year.

Bro. English has also been elected editor-in-chief of the Magazine, but whether he will accept this position or not is doubtful, as he will have many affairs to engage his attention.

The baseball season has closed, Bros. Garth and Jones receiving their monograms.

This year Gamma has three men who will be pretty sure to receive their degree as they have at times led the senior class, Bros. English, Willcox and Dierhai, and we are hoping for a successful career for all, but Gamma will certainly be sorry to lose these able workers.

W. L. PARKER.

DELTA

SOUTHERN UNIVERSITY

Examinations have begun and within about ten days we will have finished another term's work. Our annual banquet will be on June 31st at the Greensboro hotel, and we are looking forward with much pleasure to this occasion.

Everything is favorable for a splendid commencement at the Southern University. A good program has been arranged, and a large attendance of the alumni is expected. Commencement day will be on June 5th, and Bros. Gross and Allen will receive the degrees of B.A. and B.S. respectively.

The following brothers expect to return next session: Has-kew, Calhoun, Stapleton, McClurkin and Roberts, and also some of the brothers who failed to return from last year.

ZETA

UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE

Zeta extends a cordial welcome to the latest college chapters. Let the good work go on as long as such good men and good schools can be had.

Many of the chapters every year can report a final dance ending the season successfully. Unfortunately the faculty decreed that none of the chapters at Tennessee should give the usual commencement dances this year, so we are comforting ourselves with the pan-Hellenic dances as best we may.

Sufficient occupation, however, is being furnished by the June jubilee, and the entertainment of the contestants in the prep. school track meet held by the university. We expect to entertain our quota of the visitors and get a chance to pick some good prospects from the bunch.

Speaking of vistor, we had the unusual pleasure of entertaining five visiting Pi's on one baseball nine in the past season. Our brothers of Psi seem to be well represented in athletics. Our only regret was that they could not stay longer with us. May they come again next year.

Although Zeta has been unfortunate in losing four men this year, and will lose three more at commencement, the outlook for next year is unusually bright. Already six men who enter here in September are pledged, and others are being considered.

Here's to the best use of the "good old summertime" for all the brothers.

BOYD BROWN.

ETA.

TULANE UNIVERSITY.

Eta chapter has just closed one of the most successful years in her history. While not as many in numbers as some chapters of Tulane, yet we have taken off our share of honors in every department of college activities.

As evidence of the standing of our men in their respective classes we have had: W. K. Smith, president of the junior medical class; G. F. McLeod, vice-president of the same class; T. J. McHugh, president of the sophomore medical class, and C. K. Townsend has been elected to succeed him next year. A. T. Johnson is president of the second year dental class; M. A. Buckingham is vice-president of the freshman law class; J. N. Wilson, secretary-treasurer of the senior class, which office he has held for three years.

On the athletic field we were well represented by McLeod, steady and consistent left tackle of the football team and captain-elect of the 1912 team. Ball, for his showing on the baseball team, was elected to Kappa Delta Phi, a society for the promotion of college spirit.

Ellis is vice-president of the senior german club, and a charter member of Phi Delta Phi, legal fraternity. We are well represented in the glee club, and various dramatic organizations in Tulane.

We have had the pleasure, lately, of meeting several alumni. Among them were Bros. Crisler of Millsaps, McElroy of Georgia, Garland of Tulane, and Fields of Tulane. Bro. Garland is now in the state legislature; Bro. Fields is practicing medicine at Columbus, Miss.; Bro. McElroy is traveling for Fitch & Co.; Bro. Crisler is teaching school at Vicksburg, Miss.

As a fitting ending of the year's work, we celebrated with our annual banquet at the Old Hickory cafe. Besides the members of the active chapter quite a few of our alumni were present. Six of our pledges also attended. Bro. O. A. Weiss, D. D. S. '11, presided as toastmaster and enlivened the evening with his very apt remarks. Bro. Langford, Upsilon; Hon. A. H. Garland, Eta; H. W. Waguespack, S. W. Provensal, and H. G. Hungate, all of the active chapter, responded to toasts in a manner which would arouse the envy of the greatest orators of the age. At the conclusion of the repast everyone pronounced it a brilliant success in every way, and adjourned with the intention of working harder than ever to make Pi Kappa Alpha the greatest frat in the country, and making Eta chapter the greatest chapter in the fraternity.

We lose by graduation this year, Bros. C. J. Ellis and S. W. Provensal, who graduate in law; J. N. Wilson, who graduates in engineering, and J. H. Fortson, who graduates in the academic department. It is with much regret that we see these men leave us, for they have been untiring in their efforts to build up the chapter and it is due in large measure to their efforts that we have attained the success we have. Their loss will indeed be a blow to us.

We will have Bro. Langford with us next year, as he is a member of the medical faculty. He is a most loyal Pi, and his assistance has been of much benefit to us during the past year, and we are delighted to hear that he will be with us again.

Eta chapter wishes to extend to the four new chapters her best wishes and congratulations.

The summer addresses of our members are:

C. J. Ellis, Jr., Rayville, La.

J. N. Wilson, 1213 Carondelet street, New Orleans, La.

S. W. Provensal, 2834 De Soto street, New Orleans, La.

J. H. Fortson, Homer, La.

THETA

SOUTHWESTERN PRESBYTERIAN UNIVERSITY

We take pleasure in introducing to the fraternity G. N. Stokes, a brother of Jim Stokes. "Old" Theta led the school last year in scholarship, and we are making our last stand to keep the banner and record up this year also.

Theta kept four men on the varsity baseball team, namely, Jim Stokes, captain; B. O. Wood, W. C. White, and G. N. Stokes, all of whom made fairly good records. The writer warmed the bench after the first two series. Most of our material will return next year and we hope to turn out an efficient team. W. C. White has been elected captain for next year.

Theta chapter has the oil of joy poured on them from two sources. Here they are—Jimmie Clotfelter has at last "caught the 'possum" and will join the benedicts on May 30th, when he marries Miss Alice Ritter of this city. Jim Stokes, W. H. Armistead, G. M. Smiley and the writer will take a part in this unique affair. George Currie will also "commit the act common to the sons of men" when he takes as his bride Miss Anita Gibon, also of this city. The bells for him will ring some time in June. Every member of $\Pi K A$ extends to them congratulations and best wishes as they sail out into the ocean of life. We will lose this summer one of our most devoted brothers, J. C. McQueen, who will sail for the Congo some time in July. We hope that an "accident" also will happen to him so that he may be compelled to take some one with him—and it may be.

When the wicket gates are thrown open next September, I. S. McElroy and R. A. Bolling will not answer to the wailing of the goat. Bro. Bolling will be at Louisville Theological Seminary, perhaps, Bro. McElroy may get married (?) or teach.

J. A. Warren has left school and is now at his home in DeKalb, Miss.

The following will be the summer addresses of Theta men:

U. S. Gordon, Sardis, Miss.

I. S. McElroy, Columbus, Ga.

Jim Stokes, Gloster, Miss.

G. N. Stokes, Gloster, Miss.

R. A. Bolling, Brookhaven, Miss.

L. R. King, Durant, Miss.

B. O. Wood, Moss Point, Miss.

F. L. Armistead, Lake, Miss.

J. A. Warren, DeKalb, Miss.

G. M. Smiley, Ariel, Miss.

W. C. White, Pulaski, Tenn.

J. C. McQueen, Congo, Luebo, Africa.

With the heartiest wishes to all the Pi's for a pleasant vacation we bid you adieu.

L. R. KING

IOTA

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY

It is with a feeling of regret that we announce the departure of two of our members from Iota's active ranks. Bros. Atkinson and Blanton will each receive an A.B. degree and pass from their alma mater, leaving records of good service behind them. Bro. Blanton intends to study medicine at Harvard, and Bro. Atkinson will take charge of his farm at Champe, Va. Both have held an enviable record in football, Bro. Blanton also being a member of the basketball team and Bro. Atkinson covering several positions on the baseball team.

Iota has exceeded her past record in athletics this year, being represented by four men on the football team, two on the basketball team, and five on the baseball team. Hampden-Sidney letters have been awarded to Bro. Painter, second base; Bro. Wysor, short stop; Bro. Wool, third base; Bro. Saunders, right field, and Bro. Atkinson, center field, while Bro. Laughon has accompanied the team on all the trips as a substitute for the outfield.

Out of the five men who lead the team with a batting average of over three hundred, Iota can claim two. Hampden-Sidney has the record of losing only one out of thirteen games that have been played this season, a record that surpasses any in the history of the college in athletics.

As the debating team representing the Philanthropic Literary society, Bros. Walker and Atkinson added to Iota's reputation on the platform with another victory. Bro. Walker also will represent his society as the final junior orator, while Bro. Wool will represent the Union Literary society as final junior orator. We can be justly proud that our members distinguished themselves in the forensic art as well as on the athletic field.

Bro. Hodges was elected vice-president of the freshman class, Bro. Walker president of the junior class, and Bro. Wool was made secretary and treasurer of the Virginia State Oratorical association.

Every year the alumni of Hampden-Sidney show their un-failing love for their alma mater by returning for the final exercises. Iota particularly has always had the pleasure of welcoming a goodly number of its brothers back, and expects to see several Pi Kappa Alphas return for the social event of our college year. We are always sure of having two of our alumni, Bro. Walker, G. L., and Bro. Atkinson, P. T., attend all the exercises and social functions of the college and fraternity, and, from what we can learn at present, they will continue to be the abomination of our meetings for another year.

The session opened last September with seven old men back; since then we have initiated five freshmen; and ten of us expect to meet next September to carry forward the banners of Π K A.

KAPPA

TRANSYLVANIA UNIVERSITY

Kappa introduces her new member, Louis A. Warren, of Worcester, Mass. Bro. Warren has been at Transylvania two years. He is at present manager of the university glee club, captain of the track team and a member of the Lampsen club, an honorary society.

The coming of examinations and the "doings" of commencement week are crowding together many of the important events of the last few weeks of the school year. The baseball team will soon have completed its schedule, and the hopes are for a state championship team. Our team has lost one game and won one game from both Kentucky State and Central, the two most powerful contenders for the pennant. The final games are yet to be played. We placed Georgetown out of the running by defeating her two times out of three games. Earlier in the season we took a game away from University of Cincinnati by an 18 to 4 score.

The Kentucky intercollegiate track and field meet was held at Lexington on May 15th. Bro. Wallace Spink represented Kappa and won first place in the high jump. Bro. Warren secured a record and third place in the sprints.

The committee on getting out the list of alumni are preparing a neat printed folder containing the names of the alumni and their addresses. They expect to use a number of these, together with a circular letter, to get new students and possible members for next year. They expect to send a letter to each alumnus asking him to busy himself to the extent of interesting high school students, likely fraternity material, in Transylvania. It is hoped that some good will result from this work.

The university carnival is to be held on May 30th. Kappa will participate by running a radium show.

The fraternities of Transylvania were given quite a boost recently when President R. H. Cronfield in a chapel address referred to them as instruments working for a great good in the university. The praise was entirely unexpected, yet Kappa takes some share of the praise as the good of the school has been one of her ideals.

We are fortunate in losing only one man next year, yet unfortunate in that man being Bro. Thomas. During his two years in the chapter he has been the backbone of the chapter and will be missed in many ways next year. His interests in school have been varied. He was last year's football captain, track man and a member of the university debating team.

Commencement falls on June 13th this year. After that the members will be found at the following addresses:

Karl Borders, Frankfort, Ky.

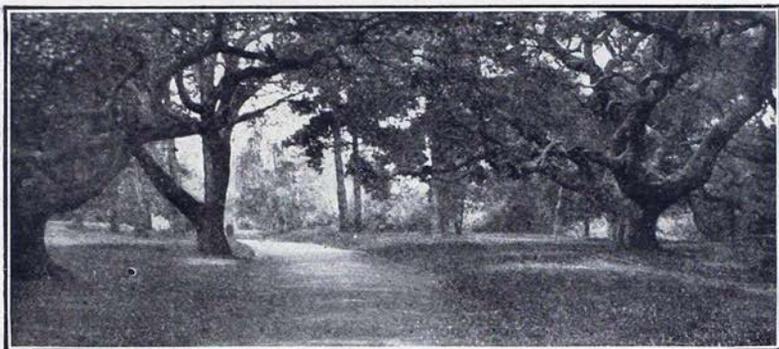

B. A. Thomas, Shelbyville, Ky.

Wallace Spink, Jacksonville, Ill.

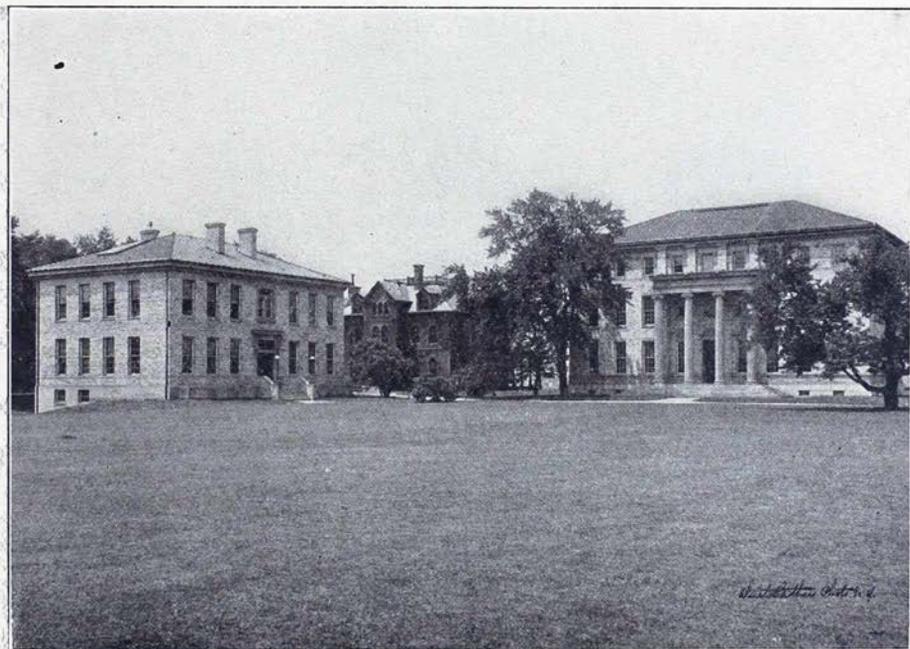

Robert Howard, Frederick, Okla.

Clark White, Mexico, Mo.

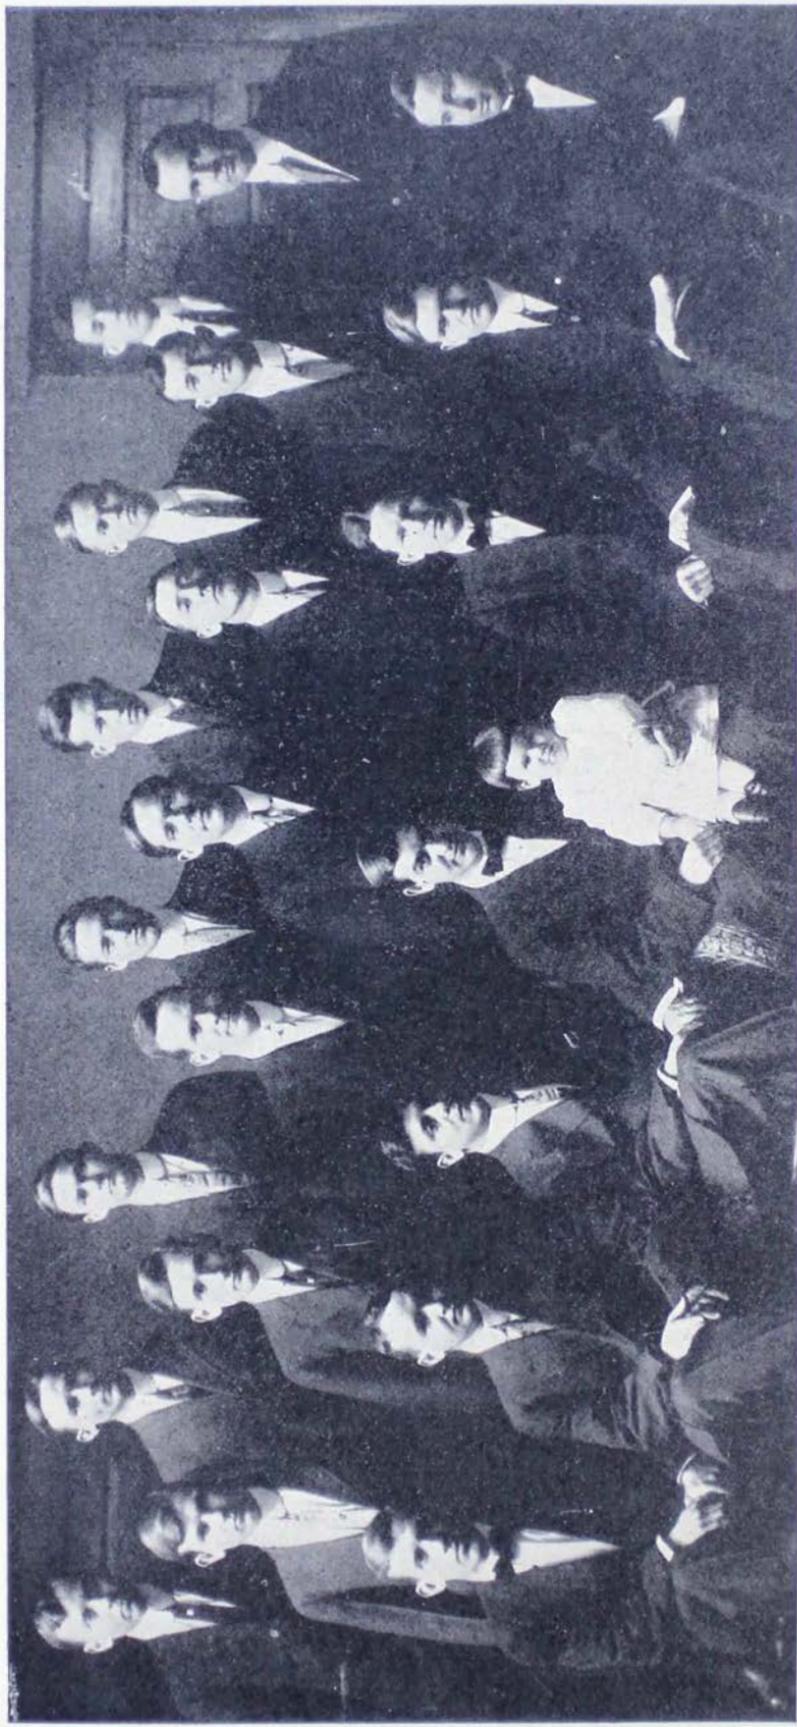

Paul McClelland, 1009 7th avenue, Seattle, Wash.

CAMPUS OAKS, UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA.

OMICRON

RICHMOND COLLEGE

In two short weeks the session, 1911-12, will have closed. We look forward with pleasure to vacation and home, but there is a feeling of regret when we think of leaving our best friends or brothers in $\Pi K A$, some for three months and some for a longer time, perhaps forever.

The work done by Omicron this year has been up to the standard set us by our predecessors. While only ten men comprised the active chapter, yet Omicron has been represented in every branch of college activities during the year. On all four teams—football, baseball, tennis and track—Omicron has had men, while the literary and social lines have received none the less attention.

The baseball season closes with a game with Randolph-Macon, our greatest rivals, on next Monday, May 27th. While the team has not been quite as successful as we had hoped, nevertheless Hampden-Sidney and William and Mary have been defeated by the red and blue team. If the game Monday results in a victory for the Spiders the cup for the Eastern division will be tied up between three of the teams, Randolph-Macon, Hampden-Sidney and Richmond College.

Omicron is represented on this year's team by Bro. Beale, who played star ball at third base last year. This year he is playing short stop, and is handling himself with great skill in his new position. He brought back many pleasant memories of the hospitality given him by the Pi's of Alpha and Pi. Omicron enjoyed very much seeing the brothers from Iota and Gamma when here with their respective teams.

Bro. O'Neil was a close contestant for the all-around athlete's medal in the recent field day exercises held May 17th.

He was defeated by only five points. Bros. Dewal and Snead won the tennis doubles, after which Bro. J. B. Dewal won the medal given for the best player in the tennis singles. After receiving the tennis medal in the morning, Bro. Dewal, in the evening of the same day, won the best debater's medal given by the Mu Sigma Rho literary society.

In the recent triangular debate between Richmond College, William and Mary and Randolph-Macon, it is interesting to note that four of the debaters were Pi's—Bros. R. C. and J. B. Dewal of Omicron, Bros. Thomas and Harrison of Gamma. We very much enjoyed the short visit paid us by Bro. Thomas on this occasion.

The members of Omicron are planning big things for 1912-13. We send our most heartfelt greetings to the new chapters and hope they will return with a large roll next fall to further the good work. In closing, Omicron sends her best wishes to every Pi, hoping all may have a most delightful and beneficial vacation.

PI

WASHINGTON AND LEE UNIVERSITY

The college year is drawing to a close and we are enjoying the calm between baseball and examinations.

Washington and Lee had one of the best baseball teams in her history, having won nineteen games, lost seven and tied one. In the last game of the season we won a great eleven inning game from North Carolina A. and M. by the score of 3 to 0.

The fourteen fraternities here have formed a pan-Hellenic council and, among other things, agreed that no fraternity shall initiate a new man until he has passed unconditionally examinations in at least two subjects carried during the term. This will, of course, postpone initiations until after the Christmas examinations. It is hoped that by this measure better men may be secured and that the class standing of fraternity men raised.

The inter-fraternity baseball league has been in progress for the past two weeks and has aroused a great deal of interest. We stayed in until the semi-finals when we were defeated, 6 to 5, by the Phi Kappa Pis. Bros. Williams, in the box, and Francis, at second base, were our stars.

The year just closing has been a very successful one for Pi chapter. We have been well represented in all departments of college activities and at the same time, with possibly two exceptions, all the brothers have passed all their tickets.

Since the last issue of THE SHIELD AND DIAMOND we have lost two of our members, Bro. Wilson, who is now engaged in ministerial work at Petersburg, Va., and Bro. Langhorne, who resigned college and returned to his home in Lynchburg. It was with much regret that we told them good-bye.

We will lose five of our best men by graduation:

T. B. Harrison, Amherst, Va.

W. H. Mann, Richmond, Va.

J. L. Curry, Staunton, Va.

C. E. Williams, Woodstock, Va.

D. C. Moomaw, Roanoke, Va.

Moomaw is to be with us until next Thanksgiving, as he is to return as assistant football coach. He was captain of the eleven last fall, and already we are planning for next year's team and are doubly glad that he will be back with us.

The summer addresses of the various men are as follows:

P. P. Gibson, Gordonsville, Va.

P. B. Lantz, Blackville, W. Va.

S. O. Laughlin, Wheeling, W. Va.

P. A. Laughlin, Wheeling, W. Va.

F. P. Webster, Norfolk, Va.

K. J. Francis, Hindman, Ky.

H. S. Yocum, El Dorado, Ark.

J. T. Rothrock, Jr., Somerville, Tenn.

P. D. Earwood, Beckley, W. Va.

G. B. Campbell, Bedford City, Va.

K. C. Whittle, Martinsville, Va.

W. C. Coulbourne, Walker's Ford, Va.

We have engaged the same house for next year and assure any brothers from other chapters who may enter Washington and Lee next fall a hearty welcome.

With many wishes for a pleasant and prosperous vacation to each and every II K A,

J. T. ROTHROCK, JR.

TAU

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

Tau chapter wishes to congratulate the fraternity as a whole upon its acquisition of four new chapters, and wishes to extend to the new chapters a hearty welcome and wishes them unbounded success in years to come.

The "hill" has been rather quiet during the past few weeks. Since baseball season has ended every one has been looking forward to examinations with fear and trembling. We are now in the midst of exams. and three of Tau's men have graduated.

Carolina's baseball and track record for the past season has been a good one. Our baseball team won a majority of the scheduled games, defeating such strong teams as Virginia, Georgia, Amherst, and Guilford. The track team won for the second time the trophy offered by the city of Raleigh, N. C., to the teams from all of the colleges of the state, making the greatest number of points. We also came out second in the meet in Baltimore, in which all of the principal colleges of the South Atlantic states participated.

The Easter dances this year were enjoyed by every one. Several of the IIs had ladies up to the festivities.

We had the pleasure of having visits from Bro. Leroy Hodges, Pi, of Petersburg, and Bro. Covington of the University of Georgia. We are always glad to have the boys come around and see us at the chapter house when they are in town.

We will lose the following men by graduation this year: James D. Phillips, Meredith, Fla.; W. W. Falkener, Warrrenton, N. C.

We will return the following men next fall, whose addresses are as follows:

T. S. Royster, Townesville, N. C.

J. H. Royster, Townesville, N. C.

L. L. Shamberger, Biscoe, N. C.

G. D. Askew, Harrellsville, N. C.

W. L. Daniels, Winton, N. C.

H. B. Hannah, Siler City, N. C.

J. D. Boushall, Raleigh, N. C.

N. S. Varin, 1219 E. Fourth street, Charlotte, N. C.

We are in hopes that Bros. Pell and Covington, who left us in the early part of the year, will return next year.

In closing we wish that every Pi will enjoy himself to the fullest extent during the summer, and be ready for college next fall with plenty of "goats."

N. ST. GEORGE VARN.

UPSILON

ALABAMA POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE

Initiates: Jesse Eugene Emmons and John Jefferson Emmons, of Albuquerque, New Mexico.

It is said that a woman has two doors in her heart which close upon her past life. One is called the door of remembrance, the other the door of forgetfulness. The door of forgetfulness is only opened when she puts something else in the room of the forgotten, something that is better not remembered. But as she grows older she loves to open frequently and still more frequently the door of remembrance, there to bask in reminiscence.

Up to the time the young man enters college he is not given much to looking backward; his eyes are turned toward the future, and he spends much time trying to see around the corner which he has not turned. It is after graduation that he begins to open the door of remembrance, to look backward to the days spent in college and often as he sits in idle fancy, while the god of necromancy weaves familiar visions, many friends come back to visit and converse in low voices and recall the things that happened in the days of long ago. Some are full of life and joyful, there are some morose and sad, some that must be relegated to the room of the forgotten, some that are cherished in the room of remembrance.

This June twenty per cent of the college men see the close of their college life. Whether they will look back on their college life with pleasure and a sense of time well spent is a function of how the days at college were used. He who used them well will have much for the room of remembrance and he who used them unwisely much for the chamber of the forgotten.

In two weeks Upsilon will close her most prosperous year. At the same time she lost more men during the session than she has ever lost before, seven in all.

We were represented on the baseball team by Allen, who made more runs than any other man on the team and batted third, and Newell, who was captain, to which position he has been re-elected for next year. Newell also played great football until taken from the game on account of fever. Allen, McEniry, Ellis and Brannen played class football.

H. W. Grady is literary editor of the college annual, the Glomerata.

"Dago" Anderson is engineering editor of the Orange and Blue, a monthly publication.

H. P. Dixey is first corporal in the corps of cadets.

Shirley Harris played class basketball, and is also assistant leader of the freshman german club.

H. C. Hanlin is sergeant-major of the first battalion, a member of the honor committee and president of the Y. M. C. A.

Grady is a captain and Avery is an adjutant in the corps of cadets, and Major, Anderson and Newell are lieutenants. Newell enjoys the distinction of never having attended a roll call or drill.

"Cutey" Owen is secretary of the freshman class.

Major is floor manager of the freshman german club.

We lose this year, by graduation, Anderson, Grady, Major, Allen and Thames. Grady will study medicine at John Hopkins University. Anderson will take his E.E. degree at the University of Wisconsin. Thames will be with the Southern Bell Telegraph and Telephone company in Atlanta.

McEniry, Ellis, and Murdock will not return next year.

During the baseball season we had the pleasure of meeting Bro. Joe Covington, Zeta, who was with the Vanderbilt team.

Upsilon's new house will be opened commencement and plans are in an embryo state for an opening and house warming at that time.

We wish to congratulate Alpha-Rho, Alpha-Sigma, Alpha-Tau and Alpha-Upsilon upon their entrance into the fraternity.

PSI

NORTH GEORGIA AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE

As we near the end of our college year we look forward with great pleasure to our summer vacation as well as to our next college year, which we hope will be the most prosperous year Pi Kappa Alpha has ever seen. We are always looking for better things, and we feel sure that we are growing in many respects as each year goes by. Next year Psi chapter will return at least eight men, and we have some good looking material also to begin on.

Our baseball season has just ended, and we are proud to say that we quit with a percentage of 500. We had a small schedule this year, playing only eight games. We also feel proud to say that five of our fellows made good on the team. The successful ones were Bros. Miller, Gibbs, W. M. and H. G. Huie, and myself.

Psi chapter gave its annual picnic at Porter springs on Monday, May 20th, and it was indeed a delightful day for all the fellows. Some of our delightful co-eds as well as some of the town ladies, among whom were some of our dear Pi sisters, of course made the day a pleasant one for us.

Target practice has been the order of the day for the past few weeks. The fellows have been doing some excellent shooting. Bro. L. W. Smith has, so far, made the highest individual score, having made two hundred twenty-seven out of a possible three hundred. This score entitles him to a sharpshooter's badge.

Commencement begins June 5th and lasts through the night of June 9th. We hate to give up our senior brothers, as there are some of them whom we will probably never see again, but we wish for them success and a long and prosperous career in their life's profession.

As the school year ends I wish for all a happy vacation and for you to return to college next year with renewed energy to make Pi Kappa Alpha a grander and more prosperous fraternity.

OMEGA

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

The school year for '11 and '12 will soon be over and it is with regret that we see it drawing to a close. This has been the most successful year, I believe, for us since the chapter has been established. Our chapter roll has been the largest, but we have not sacrificed quality for quantity.

Our baseball team has been very successful so far this year and it looks like the championship of Kentucky will be for us. We have already played about twelve games, we have tied Michigan, won two from Georgetown and one from Transylvania; we still have about ten games to play. We are represented this year on the team by Cap. Burruss and Less Guyn, with Finley and Hite as substitutes.

The inter-collegiate track meet, which was held here May 15th, was won by U. K. making 67 points while Berea, C. U., T. U. and Georgetown took the positions in the order named. Bro. Collins, champion mile man of Kentucky, was not able to enter the meet on account of excess of flesh and senior work.

On May 25th there will be a pan-Hellenic banquet given in which all frat men will participate. It is hoped that this will bring the frat men closer together and be an annual affair that will be looked forward to each year by the frat men.

One of the most enjoyable affairs of the season was the informal dance given by Omega in the chapter house on the 7th of May. This was a farewell reunion of the Pi's, and the men who will leave school this year are sorry that they will not participate in any more such affairs.

Plans for the convention for next year have occupied a good part of our time this spring, and we are going to try to make it the most successful ever. We have had a joint meeting of all Kentucky chapters and unusual interest is manifested in its success. We want every Pi to be here next spring. An executive committee from all of the chapters has been appointed and will leave nothing undone to make the convention a success. We would be glad to receive any advice from our sister chapters in regard to the convention.

Following is a list of our members and their summer addresses:

We have four pledges now and prospects for one or two more before school is out, so we will have a good start when we come back next fall.

School will be out on June 6th, and then we are going to have a camping trip on the Kentucky river, crowd to be made up of Pi Kappas. We hope that every one will enjoy the summer vacation and that every man will come back to school next year with at least one man for Pi Kappa Alpha.

FRANK D. CAIN.

ALPHA-ALPHA

TRINITY COLLEGE

The balmy days which always precede commencement are here, and before many days have passed the present college year will be a matter of history. Alpha-Alpha can look back on the closing term with no small degree of pride for the many achievements which have marked the most successful year of her history. From a present chapter roll of fourteen, at least ten will return to take up the work next year. The summer addresses of the active men are as follows:

F. H. Bryan, Washington, N. C.
L. L. Boone, Jr., Wilmington, N. C.
W. P. Creekmore, Henderson, N. C.
John English, Jr., Monroe, N. C.
L. B. Hurley, Newbern, N. C.
W. S. Lee, Jr., Monroe, N. C.
J. A. Lee, Monroe, N. C.
N. M. Patton, Morganton, N. C.
L. M. Kitchin, Scotland Neck, N. C.
W. H. Parsons, Covington, N. C.
R. M. Gannt, Baltimore, Md.
G. A. Warlick, Jr., Newton, N. C.
Eli Warlick, Newton, N. C.
J. R. Peacock, High Point, N. C.

At a recent meeting of the athletic council Bro. G. A. Warlick, Jr., was elected manager of the 1912 varsity baseball team. Alpha-Alpha feels proud that this honor has come to one of her members.

Sigma Chi has established a chapter at Trinity, absorbing Mu-Kappa, local. The new chapter starts life with about twenty charter members, many of whom will no doubt become good frat men. A smoker was given by them soon after their installation, complimentary to the other fraternities. Bro. Warlick represented II K A.

Kappa Delta sorority has also entered Trinity within the past month. Although Trinity is not co-educational in the strictest sense, the women merely being tolerated without any accommodations provided for them, it is the only institution in North Carolina where sororities are allowed, all of the female colleges having abolished them. There are two national sororities with chapters at Trinity, Alpha Delta Phi and Kappa Delta.

Alpha-Alpha is now looking forward to her annual commencement banquet, which will be given this year on the night of June 1st. Quite a number of alumni and visitors are expected to attend the occasion.

A hearty welcome is extended to the new chapters who have lately joined our ranks. May these worthy wearers of the shield and diamond have a long life. J. A. LEE.

ALPHA-GAMMA.

LOUISIANA STATE UNIVERSITY.

It is with regret that we are called upon to bid our fellow brothers farewell, even though it be for so short a time as three months; but in doing so let us wish them a most pleasant vacation in which to recuperate their drooping (?) spirits and to prepare themselves for another year of usefulness. May we all enter the arena next fall determined to make old II K A a frat such as her founders never dreamed of and may we be so full of the spirit of conquest that we will not rest in peace until the brotherhood of II K A becomes a part of every university of standing in our patriotic land.

Louisiana State has been refused the pleasures of her commencement this year, on account of the high water conditions prevalent over the greater portion of the delta lands of the state and the student body was allowed to depart as soon as the exams were completed; however, the diplomas were awarded as usual, with the usual ceremonies. When the Mississippi river was at its highest during the latter part of April and the first part of May, the entire corps of cadets turned out to do volunteer duty on the levees in front of the city. This action of theirs won for them much praise from the state authorities and they, the students, rendered much valuable aid during those dark hours.

We have had a most successful baseball season, having been defeated but once, and having defeated, first, our dear old rival Tulane, and, second, the crack team of the U. S. battleship Nebraska. This team claims to have never been defeated before and to be the champion of the navy. Nor have our successes been confined to athletics, for we have won some distinction in debating, having won first place in a contest with the various teams of the Pentagonal Debating league, of which Louisiana is a member. Here we were represented by Bro. Boatner, who bids fair to some day be another Daniel Webster.

We closed our this session's activities with a most enjoyable banquet, to which we invited as many of our alumni as were in striking distance and some few prospectives. The affair turned out to be as pleasing to our palates as it was to our vanity.

JOHN T. LAYCOCK.

ALPHA-DELTA.

GEORGIA SCHOOL OF TECHNOLOGY.

With the approach of vacation it is considered advisable to publish a list of members with their summer addresses:

- C. S. Crofoot, II K A Chapter House, Atlanta, Ga.
- R. H. Drake II K A Chapter House, Atlanta, Ga.
- S. A. Grogan, II K A Chapter House, Atlanta, aG.
- S. N. Hodges, II K A Chapter House, Atlanta, Ga.
- G. A. Kenimer II K A Chapter House, Atlanta, Ga.
- J. B. McLin II K A Chapter House, Atlanta, Ga.
- C. S. Watts II K A Chapter House, Atlanta, Ga.
- O. H. Attridge, Dayton, Tenn.

R. A. Camp, Winder, Ga.

J. C. Craig, Macon, Ga.

R. A. Drake, Jr., Griffin, Ga.

R. P. Easterling, Aiken, S. C.

E. S. Ford, Shreveport, La.

S. D. Oliver, Groesbeck, Tex.

R. M. Rolfe, 1312 College avenue, Ft. Worth, Tex.

F. A. Stiners, 303 Bailey avenue, Chattanooga, Tenn.

As will be seen from the above list seven of our number, at the earnest solicitation of Atlanta business men, have consented to remain in town and will stay in the chapter house. In this way, we expect to keep in closer touch during the vacation and shall be able to keep open house for all Pi's who wander our way.

Alpha-Beta is about to lose one of its best men. Bro. F. A. Stiners is to graduate this year and plans to continue his studies at Cornell. Bro. Stivers leaves an enviable record in both school and chapter and it is with deep regret that we see him leave.

May 18th the "Tech special" steamed over to Athens bearing about 400 frenzied rooters to the Tech-Georgia game. Though the game did not result as we had expected and hoped it would, we had a fine time and enjoyed the visit to the Alpha-Mu chapter house immensely. After the game, and just before our train left, the united student bodies of Tech and Georgia gave such a rousing demonstration of college spirit that the peaceful people of the classic city were left gasping with astonishment as we started home.

Besides college and class baseball the fraternities have arranged a series of games. So far our per cent is 1,000 and we are doing our best to capture the cup offered the winners.

On May 12th, the student body held a mass meeting in chapel to consider a means of eliminating graft from student activities. A student activity board, consisting of three students and three professors was hit upon as the best solution. This board will have supervision of all student activities, such as the college publications and musical organizations.

Indications are that nearly every active member will return next year, and we expect to start things with a rush in the fall.

R. M. ROLFE.

ALPHA-EPSILON.

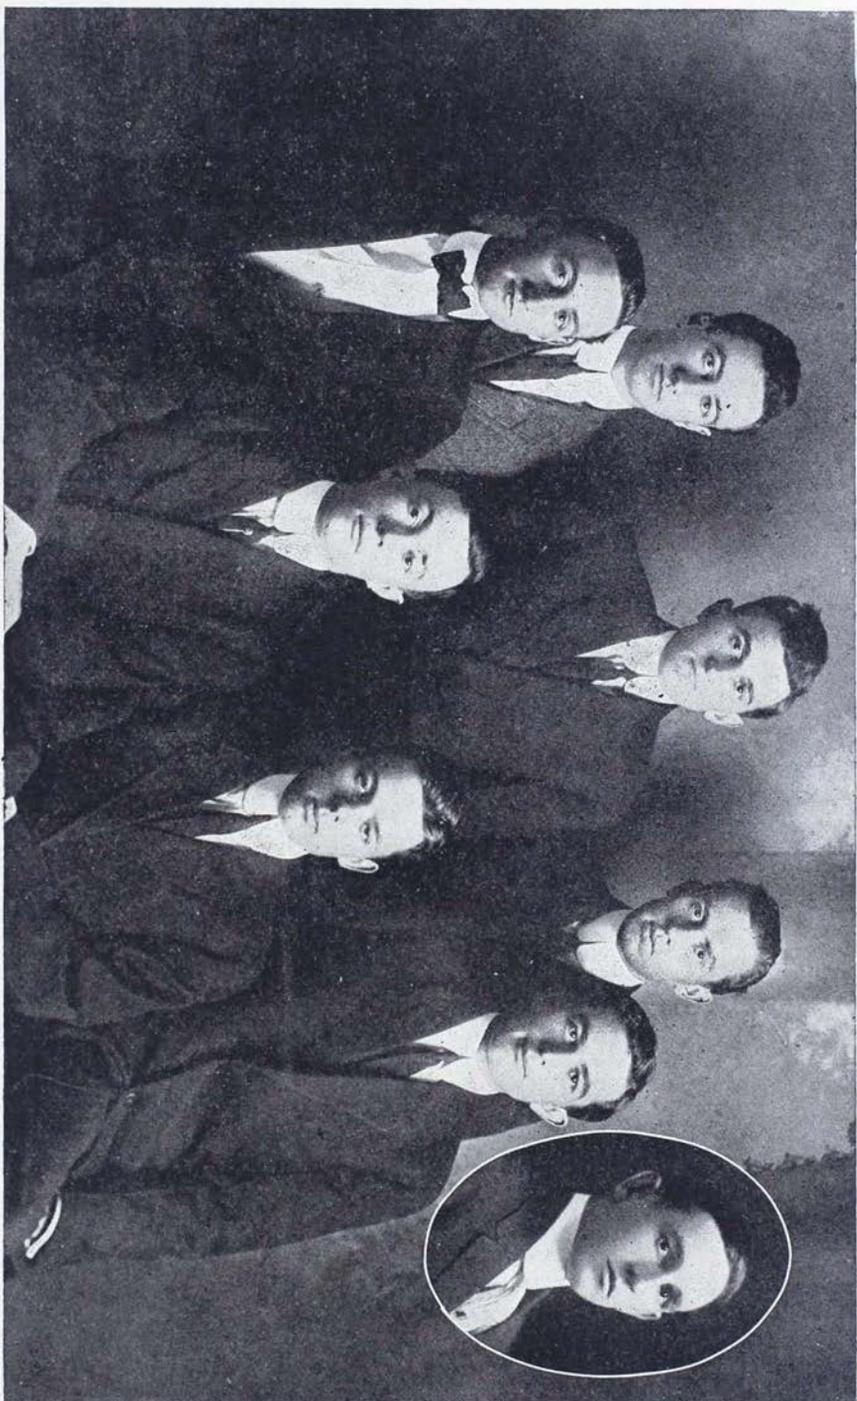

N. C. & A. M. COLLEGE.

Alpha-Epsilon has reason to consider this session which is about to close one of the most successful in every way. We have had a strong chapter, and every man has worked for the welfare of his brother as well as the general uplift of the fraternity as a whole. Never before has there been more harmonious relations between each member than this year. We have tried to keep in touch with the members of our sister chapters in the state as well as the alumni. Altogether, we have spent a most prosperous year, and the outlook is that next year will prove even better than the present one.

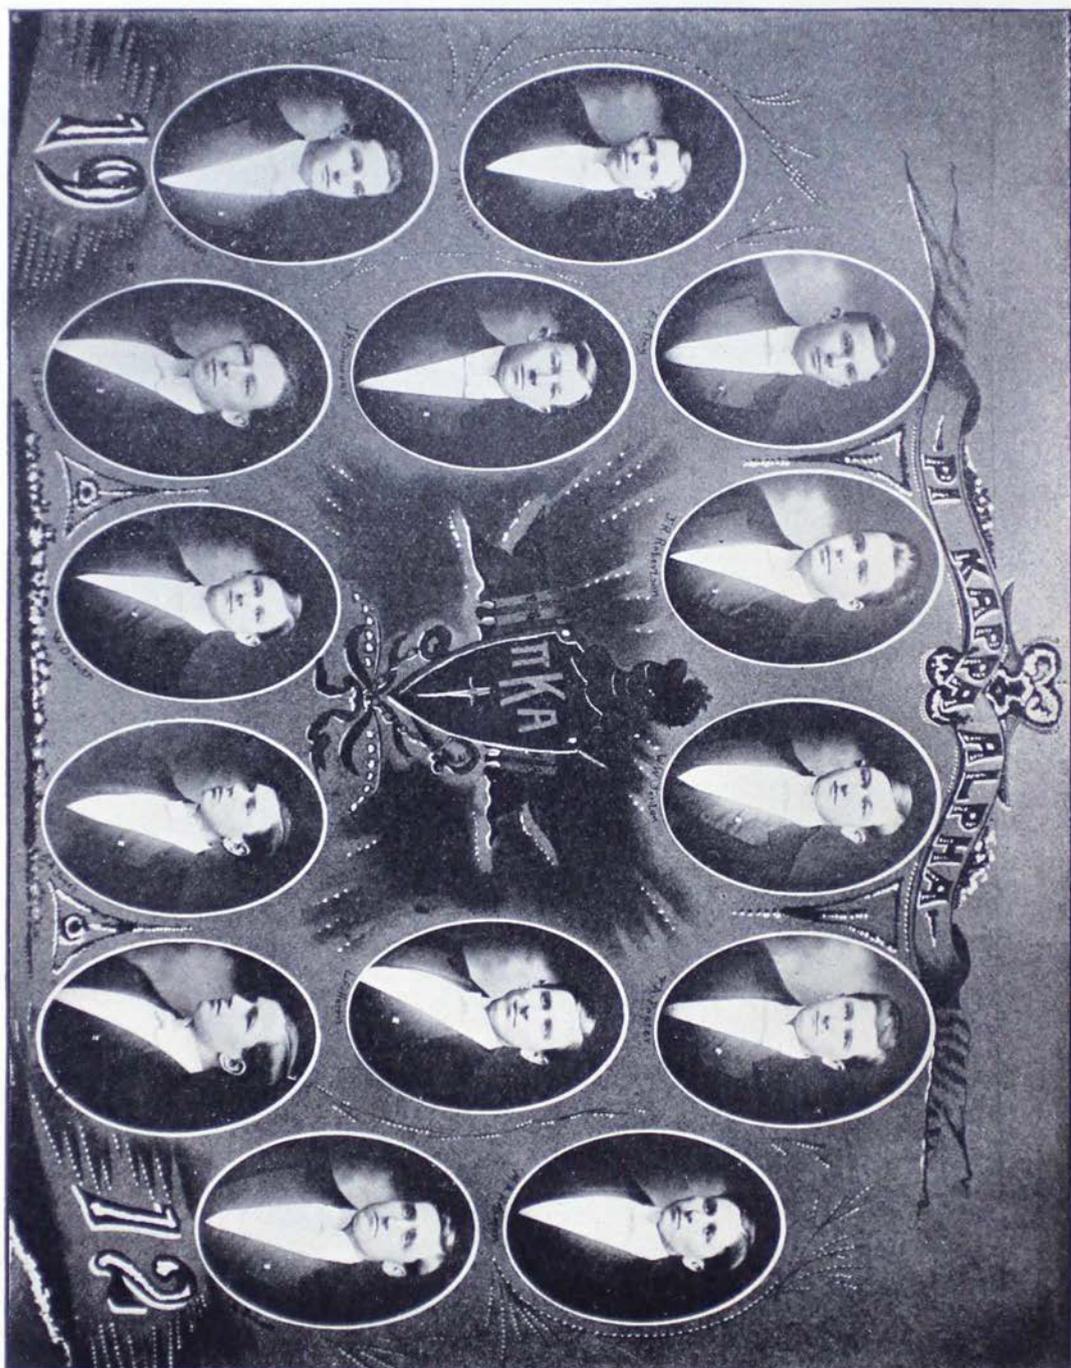

Alpha-Epsilon feels justly proud of the stand her members have taken both socially and in their studies. In the german club we were represented by Bros. W. A. and H. R. Holding, Stedman, Lachicotte and Howell. In athletics we were represented by Bro. Sumber on the varsity basketball team and by Bro. Lachicotte as assistant manager of the varsity football team.

This year we lose three men by graduation, Bros. Holding, Stedman and Howell. This will leave us eight men to begin next year's work with. This will enable us to have a good start on another new year.

On Easter Monday night Alpha-Epsilon gave its annual dance complimentary to the Kappa Sigma, Sigma Nu, Kappa Kappa Alpha and Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternities. At nine thirty dancing began and lasted until one. The hall in which the dance was held was decorated with various college and fraternity pennants and banners and presented a fine appearance. Full seventy-five couples were present and took part in the dancing. The favors were small silver change purses for the ladies and brass bound cards for the gentlemen. The dance proved an overwhelming success in every way.

The summer addresses of this chapter's roll is as follows:

W. Sumber, Asheville, N. C.

J. O. Rankin, Gastonia, N. C.

F. L. Crawford, Winston-Salem, N. C.

H. B. Norris, Raleigh, N. C.

J. B. Bruner, Raleigh, N. C.

P. H. Park, Raleigh, N. C.

H. B. Briggs, Raleigh, N. C.

H. R. Holding, Raleigh, N. C.

W. A. Holding, Raleigh, N. C.

C. A. Stedman, Greensboro, N. C.

N. S. Lachicotte, Waverly Mills, S. C.

R. W. Howell, Belhaven, N. C.

Since the last issue of THE SHIELD AND DIAMOND we have been favored with visits from members of Tau and Alpha-Alpha as well as alumni. Much good has been accomplished this year by these visits and it is hoped that next year even more attention will be paid to this.

Alpha-Epsilon wishes for every Pi a pleasant vacation.

R. W. HOWELL.

ALPHA-ZETA.

UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS.

Alpha-Zeta's policy in choosing men to bear the banner of Pi Kappa Alpha has been guided by the motto, "quality not quantity." As a result she stands among the foremost fraternities at Arkansas in scholarship and in athletics.

The men who have represented Alpha-Zeta on Arkansas athletic teams have been comparatively few but they stand out as stars. The first great varsity player that Alpha-Zeta furnished Arkansas was Charles Sample, who for three years was a member of the regular baseball team and during this time he made the remarkable record of playing in every game scheduled and only one error was scored against him. Playing along with Sample was Norman Coyle, who was regarded as one of the greatest college players in the Southwest. Coyle did not make the unusual record that Sample did but he was regarded as the greatest base runner on the team at the time he was playing. Bro. Sample was elected captain of the 1910 baseball team but did not return to college.

The first man that Alpha-Zeta put on the football team was Captain Dan Estes, as he is commonly known in Arkansas. Bro. Estes made his first appearance on Arkansas' gridiron in the fall of 1909. Coach Hugo Bezdek immediately recognized in him the making of a great player. Brother Estes was given a permanent berth at guard after one week's practice. That fall Arkansas defeated Louisiana at Memphis in one of the greatest games of the season in the South. The remarkable showing of Bro. Estes in this game resulted in him being picked as substitute on the all-Southern team. The next year he was sent to tackle and Stanley Phillips, captain of the team that defeated Louisiana at Memphis, witnessed the Arkansas-Washington University game at St. Louis in the fall of 1910. After the game he said, "Dan Estes is one of the greatest tackles I have ever seen in action." Phillips had been spending the fall at his home in Minnesota and had witnessed many of the great games of the western universities. In the fall of 1910 Bro. Estes was elected captain of the 1911 football team.

The record of the 1911 team does not stand as high as that of the previous two years. In 1909 Arkansas won every game. In 1910 they lost one and in 1911 they lost two, but even this is an enviable record. The loss of these games are easily accounted for. Arkansas was so unfortunate as to be forced to use four men at quarterback. This change of field generals kept the team disorganized. Bro. Estes will be with us next year and barring misfortune he will continue his record as a great college player. He is always in a good humor and his very presence lends strength to a team.

It may not be out of place to mention here that Alpha-Zeta has a promising track man coming on. Claud Garrett, one of the "goats," is being regarded as Arkansas' best man on the high hurdles and in a recent track meet with Texas University he set a new state record in the broad jump, clearing the dirt for 21 feet. Alpha-Zeta is well pleased with a few athletes who are worthy of mention. In fact, a few really great men are more desirable than a bunch of second class or medium classed athletes.

June 12th will close one of the busiest and in many ways one of the most profitable year's for Alpha-Zeta. Last fall she opened up in her new home and with all the many problems incident to conducting a chapter house unknown to her. She assumed a heavy debt in order to place herself in a position to be second to no fraternity at Arkansas, but now she realizes that the obligation and the many struggles she had to go through are being handsomely paid for in the position she believes that she now holds in the institution, and the character of new men she has attached to her this year. In the social life of the university Alpha-Zeta has been in a position, because of her new location to hold her own and she has put forth every effort to conduct herself in a way befitting a chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha.

In student activities of all kinds Alpha-Zeta has been well represented this year. In fact, it is always her purpose to place her men where they will be doing things in college. Her members are numbered among the leaders in Y. M. C. A., in literary societies, in the recent student strike Bro. Joe Joiner was one of the famous "X-Ray" men which gives him a mark of distinction in Arkansas. He was also a member of the inter-collegiate debating team and represents his literary society in an important local debate. Bro. Miles is a member of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet which is distinction that is worthy of mention because few fraternity men bend their energies in this direction at Arkansas. He was manager of the year book last year. Alpha-Zeta again placed a man as manager of the year book, Bro. LeRoy Highfill, thus keeping the honor in the frat. for two consecutive years. It speaks well for the position Alpha-Zeta holds among both the fraternity and non-fraternity men as most all of these honors are effected directly or indirectly by the wishes of the student body.

In athletics Alpha-Zeta points with pride to Bro. Dan Estes, captain of the football team last fall. We have not had a man on the baseball team this year. In track one of our "goats" has gained distinction by setting a state record for the broad jump, leaping 21 feet through space. Alpha-Zeta is now having a hard battle in the pan-Hellenic baseball league. She has tied for the first honors in her division and with even luck should pull down the pennant.

Some of Alpha-Zeta's men have developed such a love for their studies that they are contemplating a six weeks stay in Fayetteville, and incidentally register as students in the summer school. As a matter of fact the summer school at the university is getting to be very popular with many students, especially when they need only a few more credits.

A short time ago Bro. Lloyd R. Byrne came in rather unexpectedly and spent a few days with us. Bro. Byrne is an alumnus of Alpha-Zeta and was on his inspection trip through Arkansas and Missouri. While here he made a talk to the chapter commenting on the work and progress of Alpha-Zeta and gave some good suggestions as to our future work. His visit was indeed beneficial to us and we are always glad to have such men as Bro. Byrne visit Alpha-Zeta.

It is now being planned to keep the chapter house open all summer. The customs followed by other fraternities here and the demand for accommodations for summer visitors is such as to make it profitable. Bros. Highfill and Files and probably others will be here the major portion of the summer and nothing would delight them more than to entertain their brothers from other chapters.

Alpha-Zeta will lose 5 of her strongest men this year. Bros. Miles, Joiner, McHenry, Purcell, Giles and Goughan will complete their work at the university. But all of these men are enthusiastic workers and have pledged themselves to send back a good man in the fall to replace them.

It was with extreme pleasure that Alpha-Zeta noted the four new chapters which have been added to the fraternity. Alpha-Zeta has long wished for a more rapid expansion and she feels that the new chapters have been decidedly logically located. Alpha-Zeta extends to her new sister chapters, hearty greetings.

ALPHA-ETA.

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA.

Well, well, here we are again!

Semester exams are over and everybody is glad, whether they "flunked" or not, simply for the reason that they are looking out upon the calm and beautiful sea of summer vacation, anticipating a fine swim amid its joys and festivities.

The year, 1911-12, will soon be "one of memory only" and now as we look back, beholding, as they stand out upon the beautiful background of retrospective thought, the many happy pleasures that have been ours during these months, a feeling of silent thankfulness steals over us, and we rejoice that we have been in the bonds of dear old II K A. Alpha-Eta, indeed, has much to be thankful for. Its latest good fortune came only a few days ago, when it enlarged its circle and set within it another gem—granting the fact that we are all gems, and that all gems do not glitter. If there are any Pi's who should happen to wander into the little city of Warrenton, N. C., this summer go around and look him over. His name is John Carey Price. If you find him meditative and looking sad, "be wise," for he's loving a girl that's wearing a K A pin.

At present we are all looking forward to our final hop on the evening of the 27th. Alpha-Eta has acquired a considerable reputation for the brilliancy of its final balls, in the past, and it is our purpose to make this year's the greatest and best of all.

The good news in the last issue of THE SHIELD AND DIAMOND of the establishment of four new chapters brought much happiness into our chapter. Alpha-Eta wishes to congratulate these new chapters, and extend to them a hearty welcome into their new life. May they live a long life and may tradition wrap them in its folds of continued success and prosperity.

The University of Florida's baseball season closed some few week ago, and as was predicted in our last letter, our team won the championship of the—United States. But hold, I mean the "State" with the "United" omitted. Sometimes becoming so absorbed that we think only of our own achievements, and we are apt to say some things, forgetting the presence of others, and such was this case, for there were three II K As on the team, and another as manager. Bros. Riggins, Tenney and Bug (?) with Bro. Storter as manager.

As we sit again around the good old home table and enjoy the good things to eat, which it shall hold, we each, shall have a thought for every wandering Pi, and a welcome when he's around. The summer addresses of our chapter will be as follows:

- Dr. C. L. Craw, Gainesville, Fla.
- Louie R. Morgan, Arcadia, Fla.
- Louis E. Tenney, Federal Point, Fla.
- C. A. W. Read, Cedar Keys, Fla.
- Orville W. Ray, Gainesville, Fla.
- Walter E. Lang, Gainesville, Fla.
- J. Clark Evans, Gainesville, Fla.

Elmo L. Riley, Jacksonville, Fla.
 Thos. B. Deen, Gainesville, Fla.
 Wm. F. Nottingham, Tallahassee, Fla.
 N. S. Storter, Everglade, Fla.
 D. F. Thomas, Gainesville, Fla.
 Dugal M. Buice, Bell, Fla.
 L. Wallace Riggins, Lakeland, Fla.
 James B. Griffit, Citra, Fla.
 M. F. Brown, Lawtey, Fla.
 J. Carey Price, Warrenton, N. C.

Twelve of these men will return next year.

Alpha-Eta wishes every Pi a most pleasant vacation, and let each one of us determine to do more for $\Pi K A$ next year than we have ever done before, whether in college or as alumni.

LOUIE MORGAN.

ALPHA-IOTA.

MILLSAPS COLLEGE.

Initiate: J. T. Murrah, Aberdeen, Miss.

In many respects this has been the most successful year in the history of Alpha-Iota. Our splendid chapter house, which we have leased for three years, has given us a considerable amount of prestige. We have it nicely furnished, and everything is about paid for, so we are anticipating an easy time for the next few years.

Again Millsaps has starred, and $\Pi K A$ men were in the starring. During this year there has been organized a triangular debate between Mississippi A. & M. College, Mississippi College and Millsaps. Millsaps won both from Mississippi College and A. & M. College. Bros. Scott and Foster were one of the representatives on each team.

On May 10th, Millsaps men attended the Mississippi inter-collegiate association meet at Meridian, Mississippi. It was college day indeed. The four leading colleges of the state were represented, and some several thousand students were on hand to enjoy the day. Millsaps won second place in oratory. Our track team made the best showing that it has made in several years. Bro. Colmer has worked hard as manager, and his efforts have not been in vain. Bros. Kirkland and Brumfield represented us, and brought back several of the medals given.

Everything is in readiness for the home-coming at commencement time. This is the first attempt to organize the alumni of the state, but we have every reason to believe that this effort will be successful. Our program for commencement week is a full one. Our annual reception will be given on Saturday evening, June 8th, and our banquet in honor of the alumni the following Monday, June 10th. All Pi's passing this way are requested to enjoy these festivities with us.

The summer addresses of the members of Alpha-Iota are:

T. W. Lewis, Jr., 204 N. Second street, Memphis, Tenn.

J. W. Huntington, Pontoc Miss.

W. M. Colmer, Gulfport, Miss.

about the campus of the Missouri School of Mines. The final examinations commence on the 24th of May. This should be enough of an explanation to a college man. Everybody is moping around and asking what "Prof. So-and-so" is going to give on his final examination. Our chapter has already commenced to burn the "mid-night oil" too.

Since the last issue of THE SHIELD AND DIAMOND baseball has been the most important thing thought of around school. The miners have a fine team this year, and one that when under pressure can certainly deliver the goods. The first game of the season was played with the University of Wisconsin, who were on pre-season training trip through our section of the country. The miners won the game by a score of 2 to 1. Since then we have won a majority of the games played, both at home and on the trips.

Alpha-Kappa has just had a visit from Lloyd R. Byrne, the Chief of our district. Bro. Byrne is certainly the sort of a man to get among a bunch of men and induce into them some of his spirit. We were very glad to hear, from Bro. Byrne, news of the other colleges, and especially from the II K A chapters. There is nothing so good as to hear news first hand. We were very sorry that he could not make us a longer stay and I am confident that he left a better bunch of II K As. We shall certainly look forward to Bro. Byrne's visit next year.

Bro. Knickerbocker has just been elected as editor-in-chief of the Rollamo for next year. The Rollamo is our school annual. This year's annual has not been issued as yet, and we are waiting patiently for it. Bro. Broughton is the treasurer of this year's board.

On the evening of the 4th of May the annual miners minstrel show was given. The show was said to have been a great success by every one who saw it. There was a change in the show this year. The girls of Rolla kindly offered their services to the show committee, and their offer was accepted. As a result the show this year was a mixed one. The troupe consisted of eleven girls and eleven boys. Three girls and three boys took the part of the end "men" and they certainly carried out their parts like professionals.

The stage settings were especially effective. The scene represented a lawn scene at a country club. Among the things on the stage was a water fountain in full play.

Bros. Halsey and Moses were members of the chorus, and Bros. McBride and Knickerbocker had charge of the numerous properties used in the production.

Alpha-Kappa was very pleased to hear of the installation of the new chapters and wishes to take advantage of this opportunity to extend the hand of fellowship and brotherhood to them, and wish them all success in their future struggles.

In closing Alpha-Kappa wishes every Pi a happy vacation and lots of luck for next year.

The men of Alpha-Kappa who expect to be back next year and their summer addresses are as follows:

ALPHA-LAMBDA.

GEORGETOWN COLLEGE.

As usual, things are piling up heavy for these last few weeks. The twelfth of next month will end all our educational troubles for the time at least, but somehow there's so much enjoyment that we feel very real regret when the doors are closed and the old halls silent.

Our seventh annual banquet took place at the Lancaster hotel on the 20th of April, and was quite some function. Owen Moreland and "Billy" Bradford were honored guests. If all our alumni were as loyal as these two we would have no trouble keeping in touch with them. John Herndon, of Omega, was also one of us on that occasion.

"Bill" Glass on third and Lyon Switzer in left field have made good on the college nine. "Switz" has now won his initial, thus giving us a chapter of "G" men even to the pledges.

Robert Howard has been elected to the captaincy of the track team. He is a member of the inter-collegiate debate team which overwhelmed the Central University team and won both an unanimous decision of the judges and a holiday for the entire school. Howard takes a certificate in vocal from the college school of music this year.

We were very glad to have K. Howard Smith with us on a visit to the city recently.

This year's members will be located as follows during the summer:

Issac C. Smith, Campbellsburg, Ky.

Lee A. Simms, Harrodsburg, Ky.

Jo Robert Howard, Mt. Vernon, Ill.

J. William Glass, Georgetown, Ky.

W. Lyon Switzer, Georgetown, Ky.

Very best wishes to all the brothers for a pleasant vacation.

JO ROBERT HOWARD.

ALPHA-MU.

UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA.

Initiates: J. B. Sinclair, J. W. Smith, L. G. Proctor.

Hurrah! Thrice Hurrah! We have just won three straight games of baseball from our greatest rivals, Georgia Tech. This is probably the first time in the history of the two schools that one team has succeeded in trouncing the other so decisively.

We do not like to boast, yet we must expatiate to some extent on such a worthy feat. We entered the series minus the services of our two star twirlers, one ruled out just before the series by the faculty, and the other by a mere technicality through a "trumped up" charge of one who certainly does not wish us well. But nothing undaunted and with a spirit born of desperation and pure "Georgia grit," we accomplished what our most sanguine well-wishers hardly dared hope for.

But to turn to other things. Final exams are almost on us and are looked forward to with a certain amount of dread by all, as it means hard work in hot weather and this naturally "goes against the grain."

We have two men in the graduating class, Bros. Covington and Hunter. They have rendered invaluable aid to the fraternity and their loss will be keenly felt next year. There is a slight chance, however, that Bro. Covington will return. It is much to be hoped for.

We have excellent prospects for next year. About twelve of this year's chapter will return and we have several good men pledged. With this nucleus to build on, we see nothing but success.

In conclusion we wish all our brothers a happy vacation and may we all return next September with the determination to advance the high standard already held by $\Pi K A$.

DAVID W. JOHNSTON.

ALPHA-NU.

UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI.

We take pleasure in announcing to the fraternity the following initiates:

Felix C. Duvall, Ponca, Okla.; Clifford B. Savage, 5575 Vernon avenue, St. Louis, Mo.; Henry L. Fist, Muskogee, Okla.; Homer S. Price, Sturgeon, Mo.

The chapter considers herself fortunate in getting these men for $\Pi K A$. Bros. Savage and Duvall are members of honorary fraternities. Bro. Duvall has been elected delegate to the Phi Alpha Delta convention. Bros. Fist and Price are freshmen in the college of arts and science. Owing to the new 24-hour rule they were unable to be initiated until the end of the school year. These men will aid in filling vacancies left by the graduation of three men. Bro. Bermond, of the track team, will enter the law business in St. Joseph, Mo., Bro. Waters, who graduates in engineering goes immediately to Panama, and Bro. Benham, who graduates in law, is candidate for state's attorney in his home county. These men have done much to forward the interest of Pi Kappa Alpha and their loss will be keenly felt.

In athletics this year the University of Missouri has been very successful. The close of the baseball season show the Tigers to be champions of the valley. But not only champions in baseball, but also in track. Bro. Bermond has led his team to victory, and for the second consecutive time, Mu holds the banner. Next Saturday Missouri goes to Purdue, where she hopes to win the "Big Eight" conference championship as she did last year.

Since our last letter many annual department stunts, that Missouri is so famous for, have taken place, among which were, the mock trial of the law department, farmer's fair of the College of Agriculture, and hobo's day, the latter being a stunt peculiar to this university. Upon this day the students garb themselves as typical tramps. Immediately after dinner they ride into town on a freight train, parade the streets, and visit the back doors of various homes and sorority houses.

The pan-Hellenic baseball series is gradually approaching an end. Although $\Pi K A$ did not finish on top, we were able to stay out of the refreshment division, and will now partake of the elixir with a little more enjoyment. It looks as if the Beta's will get the cup.

Bro. Le Mire, after taking all the honors in the university, has attached himself to one more, by riding the goat of $O N E$. As there is nothing else here to join, except the $Y. M. C. A.$, he will have to go elsewhere to do his joining next year.

Last month we enjoyed a visit from Bro. Lloyd R. Byrne, District Chief. If he was half as pleased with Alpha-Nu as we were with his presence, his report should be very high. We enjoy these visits and hope that they will be more often in the future.

Alpha-Nu is especially proud of her past scholarship record. For the last semester, she stood third out of the twelve fraternities here. For the past two years she stood second. Probably our brother, "we" and "us," of the Alpha chapter, will say we are a bunch of Y. M. C. A. sharks, etc., but this is not the case although the approaching "exams" have caused a number of us to gather at the prayer meetings led by Deacon Boles.

ALPHA-XI.

UNIVERSITY OF CINCINNATI.

Alpha-Xi takes great pleasure in presenting to the fraternity the following new brothers: Harold Vernon Pemberton and Rowland Lee Rickwood.

As this is our last opportunity of greeting the fraternity at large until next year we wish to present to you a brief summary of the work that we have been trying to do for Pi Kappa Alpha. The last year has, on a whole, been a most successful one for Alpha-Xi. We are now located in the best fraternity house in our college; we have posted through two very successful rushing periods, and our members, in their various lines of college activities, have advanced the standards of the fraternity. We have suffered from one great loss, however, during this year by the death of Bro. Hull; but beyond this affliction Alpha-Xi has nothing to complain of. We graduate this June five men—Bros. Booke, Garvin, Hewitt, Walther and the undersigned. All of these men have taken an active interest in the welfare of the chapter, and though we know we graduate them from our midst as active members we also feel confident that we have not lost their hearty support by so doing. Each of these brothers have made enviable records in college and have striven hard to make II K A stand foremost in every college enterprise. Bro. Booke, besides having received from our hands the highest honors that we could bestow upon him, has reaped plentifully from those distributed by the college. As manager of the university book-store, as a member of the track team, as Ivy orator and as the “villain” in the senior class he has won for himself and for us a great honor. Brother Garvin, as a member of the numerous honorary clubs of the university, as one of the four whole students of the college to secure the desired Phi Beta Kappa key, and as one of the leading representatives of his class in all its undertakings, has likewise done credit to the university and to Φ Φ Κ Α. Bro Hewitt has since his entrance in college been at the head of the musical organizations of this institution and as president of the Co-Op club this last year has represented us and the growing engineering department before the school. Bro. Walters has also done his share in securing the honors passed around and has worked hard both in the fraternity and without to make II K A stand for the highest development of manhood. As for our other senior brother we may say that he has also tried to do his share in helping to advance and raise the standards of our society.

Besides the achievements of these, our oldest men, Alpha-Xi has also been aided by the good work of its younger men. Bros. Wagner, Kruse, Grosman, Sylvester, and Shepard have all represented us in some line or other of athletics. While the fact that out of the four men who secured Phi Beta Kappa this year, the only ones that were fraternity men were from Pi Kappa Alpha, and the fact that these constituted one-half of the entire members who received keys, Alpha-Xi feels especially proud of her scholastic achievements.

But space will not permit of us relating the good work the rest of our chapter has done, and for fear that you will think that we are boasting too much, we wish you all a pleasant vacation and bid you "adieu" for the present.

R. C. McGRANE.

ALPHA-OMICRON.

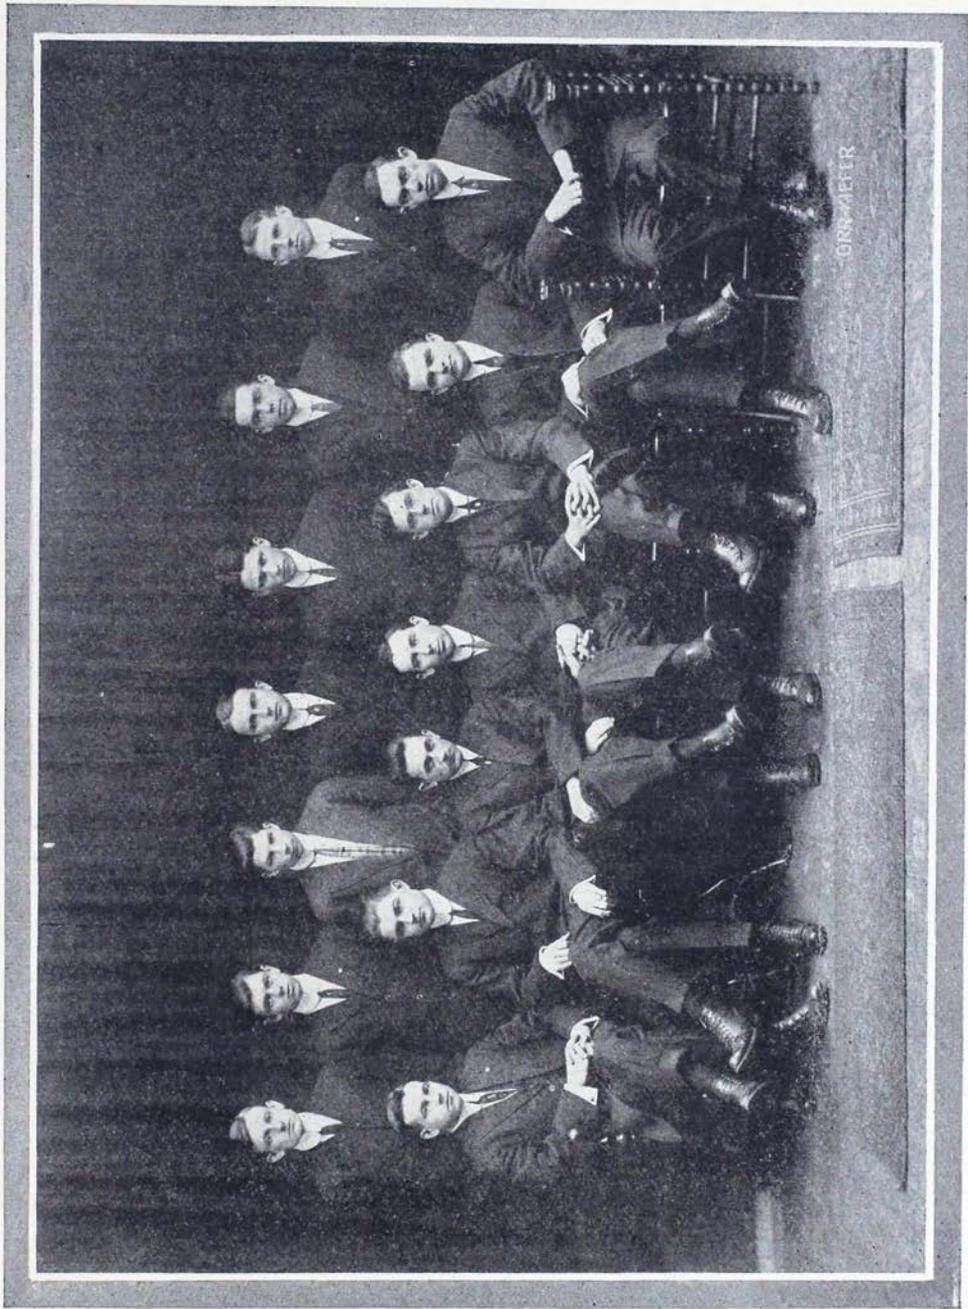

SOUTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY.

Initiates: Warren Telemichus Binion, Cumby, Texas. Socrates Jerome Irwin, Floresville, Texas.

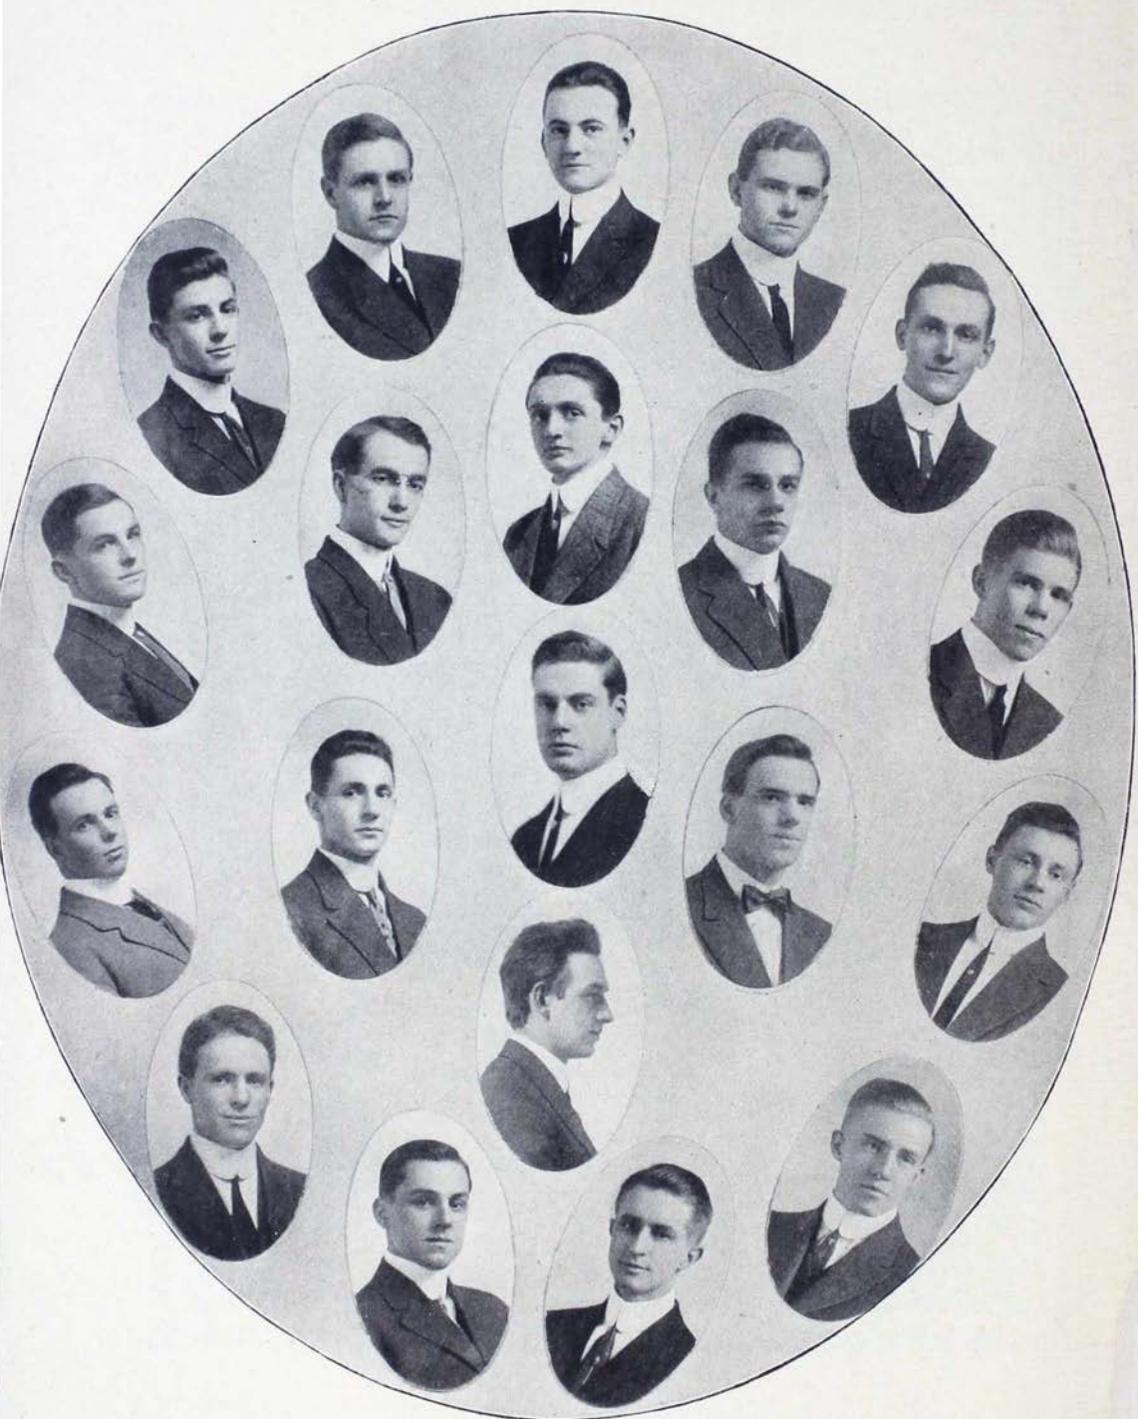

In these two men Alpha-Omicron feels as if she has acquired two men worthy of the fraternity and the badge. Both are freshmen.

In taking a retrospect the five men who returned at the opening of school this year feel as if they have done good work. We seemed to realize very forcibly that upon the men we chose this year depended our standing in the future. Up to the present time we have initiated ten men, one being a junior, two sophomores, and seven freshmen.

Alpha-Omicron has come in for her share of honors this year in almost every department. We were represented on the football squad by Bros. Mickle, Gregory, and Waggoner. In baseball we were represented by Bro. Mickle, who was the leading pitcher. In fact, he did such good work that he was elected captain for next year. In honors conferred by the literary societies and the student body we have been getting our share. Bros. Spruce and Stuckey were on inter-society debates. White and Waggoner were chosen on the lecture committee, and there were other officers of minor importance.

ALPHA-RHO, OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY.

ALPHA-XI, UNIVERSITY OF CINCINNATI.

We feel as if our prospects for next year are very flattering. Practically all of our present chapter are expecting to return next year, and with that many to begin with, we are expecting it to be the banner year of our existence.

We are now in the midst of the pan-Hellenic baseball series. We administered a stinging defeat to our friends, the Phis, today. We have a chance to win the cup, but the K A have quite a lead.

We are indeed glad to note the fact that we have several new chapters, and wish for them the greatest success. We like to see the fraternity enter good schools.

ALPHA-PI.

HOWARD COLLEGE.

We are closing a great year in this chapter. We doubt if any chapter has ever had a more eventful year. Five old men returned, one affiliated from Alpha-Iota, and we initiated eight. These fourteen men have had some time here this year.

In the first place we went to work for a larger hall and it soon developed that by hard work we could have a chapter house. So we now want all of the Pi's to see our beautiful home on the campus. It is a dandy. We have had a hard time and are still in the hole but hope to come out. We have the dearest set of sisters in the land. Wish you could see the beautiful things they brought to the house warming. It just takes them to make things shine. They always put on the finish.

Our fellows have all made good in their work. One of our men leads the school in grades. We have singers, artists, poets, orators and almost anything good, in the chapter. Moon made most of the drawings for the college annual. Williams wrote the poem and will deliver the class oration. Robertson leads the social stunts.

One of the events of the near future is for June 4th. It is the marriage of one of our men, Bro. Joe Embry, to Miss Molton. She has been wearing his pin for more than a year. This will be wholly in the hands of the Pi's of Birmingham. It bids fair to be the swellest affair of the season. Our men mean business. Think we will have some other things like this to report in next issue.

The addresses of our men for the summer follows:

- J. A. Deavars, East Lake.
- J. O. Williams, 619 S. 28th street, Birmingham, Ala.
- L. F. Harris, 1008, S. 16th street, Birmingham, Ala.

ALPHA-RHO.

OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY.

Wednesday, May 8th, was link day for the Sphinx, a senior honorary society at Ohio State, and Alpha-Rho is proud to say that one of her number was linked. Brother Wefler has a voice, an oratorical voice, one that will win him fame and distinction some day.

Alpha-Rho will always look to March 30th as the anniversary of its birth. But there is another fraternity, or sorority rather, right here in our own university which claims the same day for a similar celebration. While our brother Pi Kapps from Lexington and Cincinnati were keeping us busy by way of initiation, a number of Alpha-Phi girls a few squares away were annexing Rho chapter of their order. The Ohio State Lantern came out with this question the following week: "If a sorority and a fraternity are installed in the same school on the same day are they sisters?" If we are it is purely circumstantial, but nevertheless we congratulated each other on that eventful evening just as good sisters should.

Our chapter is planning an open air dance and picnic on June 1st. We want to wind up the year in good joyful style and give our seniors a jolly send off. A number of our alumni will be in town that date and we will make them think of college days again.

Since Ohio State's entrance into the western conference we have been more than anxious to have Pi Kappa Alpha investigate the universities in the Middle West and pursue its expansion policy. Athletics is one thing that keeps chapters in close touch with each other when there are contests between their colleges. We are glad to see the additional chapters in the April issue and hope to see more in the May number.

ALPHA-SIGMA.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA.

Alpha-Sigma of Pi Kappa Alpha was installed on April 16th at Techau tavern in San Francisco by P. Tulane Atkinson-Grand Secretary.

Owing to the fact that there were no alumni members of Pi Kappa Alpha to assist Bro. Atkinson in installing the chapter, he initiated in the morning the following five men: B. P. Davis, F. G. Linde, R. P. Shields, Jr., W. D. Horner, and W. H. Snyder.

These men assisted Bro. Atkinson in administering the ritual to the remaining twenty-six initiates of the chapter.

The members of Alpha-Sigma chapter in the order of their initiation are:

Brython Parry Davis.
 Frederick George Linde.
 Robert Patterson Shields, Jr.
 Warren Douglas Horner.
 William Harrison Snyder.
 David Locke Clement.
 Ernest Winton Cleary.
 Roy Everett Warren.
 Samuel Ellsworth Bailey.
 Randolph Churchill Eisenhauer.
 Harry Ellis Stocker.
 Edward Huntsman Trout.
 Stanley Lincoln Arnot.
 Howard James Swift.
 Dunnleigh Corey.
 Carl Leslie Hoag.
 Robert Bliss Howell.

John Carroll Ruddock, Jr.
 Charles Lee Tranter.
 Marsden Scott Blois.
 Thomas Dale Stewart.
 Edward Cline Bull.
 Clarence Edgar Wells
 Jay Marion Read.
 Fletcher Brandon Taylor.
 Howard Alexander Houston.
 Eugene Nathaniel Arnot.
 Earl Barton Birmingham.
 Clifford Grant Canfield.
 John Gee Clark.
 William Gardner Corey.

The ceremonies of the evening were concluded by a banquet at which Bro. Atkinson instructed the members as to the policies of the fraternity and ideals which Alpha-Sigma should uphold.

Three of the active members and petitioners from the Calimedico club were unable, on account of sickness and absence from town, to be present at initiation; but will be initiated within the coming week. They are Harold Lund Jensen, Graham Blair Moody, and Walter Penn Taylor.

ALPHA-TAU.

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH.

In this, our initial article to THE SHIELD AND DIAMOND, we take the opportunity at the outset to express our hearty acknowledgment of the many letters of congratulation which we have received from the brothers of our fraternity. We also wish to thank most kindly those chapters and alumni members whose ardent efforts in our behalf were largely instrumental in securing for us a charter from II K A. It is needless to say that we feel very fortunate in being recognized by such a great and high standard fraternity. Concerning the University of Utah, at which our chapter is located, a word of information might not be out of place at this time. The University of Utah embraces The School of Arts and Science, The Medical School, The State Normal School, The School of Law, and the State School of Mines. Including summer school students instruction is given to about two thousand. Requirements for entrance are four years of high school work, or its equivalent. It maintains a standard equal to that of the leading colleges of our country and our graduates are admitted to most graduate schools upon presentation of their certificates. Our School of Mines offers special advantage to the student because of location. Situated as it is, in the heart of the mining and smelting district of the Rocky mountains, students are enabled to combine their theoretical work with practical observation. The largest smelter and copper mines in the world are but an hour's ride from the school. Extensive coal fields and other mineral deposits are in the immediate vicinity. These natural advantages which the School of Mines possesses draw students from all parts of the United States and from many foreign nations. The rapid growth of the institution in the last few years has necessitated the erection of an additional building which is at the present time in the course of construction. Upon completion the new building will cost approximately three hundred thousand dollars. Because of the wealth of resources and the rapidly developing industrial life of our state with which the university aims to keep in close touch, we feel that our school has the possibilities of becoming one of the leading educational institutions of our country.

Our chapter includes among its members students from each of the departments of the school. We are also represented in all the branches of school activity except baseball. Bros. Norman Hamilton and Arthur Rynearson were members of the football team, Bro. Robert Dalglish was prominent in dramatics, Bros. Grant Bagley and Floyd Hatch represent us in journalistic activities and Bros. A. C. Callister and Rynearson are members of the track team and are also engaged in forensic activities. Bros. Floyd Hatch and Leonard Sutherland are assistant instructors in the Medical School and Bro. Carlos Bardwell is assistant in chemistry. With all the men back next fall, with the exception of Bro. Floyd Hatch, who goes to Harvard Medical School, the prospects for a successful year for Alpha-Tau are very bright.

Our chapter house, which is comfortably furnished, is located at a very convenient distance from the school so that the solidity of our fraternity has been well maintained by close association. We are always glad to have any of the brothers visit us while in Salt Lake.

We are now preparing for the final examinations and although the extra work and attention which accompanied the installation of our chapter, has caused us to slight our school work somewhat, we feel that by a special effort we can complete our work in a satisfactory manner.

Alpha-Tau sends her best wishes to all sister chapters and wishes for them a happy and pleasant vacation.

GRANT BAGLEY.

ALPHA-UPSILON.

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY.

Alpha-Upsilon is glad to greet the sister chapters and shake hands with her southern and western brothers. The prospect of the chapter for the coming college year promises the return of sixteen of the present active membership of twenty-four undergraduates; of at least ten men living at the chapter house; and of men in all the campus activities; and with the certainty of these conditions the chapter feels prepared to maintain the prestige of Pi Kappa Alpha among her rivals during 1912-1913.

The chapter has become informed, through recent numbers of THE SHIELD AND DIAMOND, of the capabilities of sister chapters in certain directions, and is glad to be able to contribute, among other ways, to the already large ranks of II K A football captains and players, the captancy for the past two years of the N. Y. U. football team, which encountered the strongest college teams of the North, and several players.

The installation of Alpha-Upsilon chapter became generally known to the student body on the night of April 26th at the senior ball where the shield and diamond for the first time lent its brilliancy to other incandescent displays from the fraternity quarters. We are sorry that the New York University annual, The Violet, went to press before a change in the fraternity section could be made, but as the editor-in-chief happened to be a Π κ A brother, it was so effected at the last moment that our name appeared in the index, although not in the chapter pages. We hope to send all our sister chapters a copy of the annual, which throws some light upon the activity and standing of Alpha-Upsilon on the campus, and we trust that it may be possible for us to get news of the others in a similar manner.

The chapter gave on May 10th an open-house reception, to which the chancellor of the university, the active chapters of the six other fraternities at New York University and the faculties of the two colleges at University Heights were invited and came in large attendance.

Although among the last in the succession of chapters, Alpha-Upsilon does not intend to be last in her efforts to establish the supremacy and heighten the glory of Pi Kappa Alpha wherever she may have occasion to carry the standards, and would close the first letter with hearty regards to all sister chapters for the summer and a cordial invitation to all brothers to visit the chapter at any time they may happen to be in New York City.

ALUMNUS-RHO.

LEXINGTON, KY.

It seems that all the alumni chapters ought to have a letter in THE SHIELD AND DIAMOND at least once a year making some sort of a report. In the beginning, we wish to say that Alumnus-Rho has been active. Meetings have been held at least twice a year. There are forty members now and every year the roll is increasing. The chapter gives a banquet once a year to the active members in Kentucky and most of them attend the various social functions given by the active chapters. Some of the alumni are always dropping in on the meetings and we feel that they are getting the benefit of something that we did not have.

We are glad to see so many new chapters going in and especially those in the large universities. Don't let's stop until they are scattered all over the country.

If it is not out of place here we would like to say that Pi Kappa Alpha is flourishing in Kentucky. The chapters are taking in members that we are proud of, and another thing they are taking the lead among fraternities in the schools where they are located.

The most important thing before us at the present is the 1913 convention. Everyone seems to realize what this is going to be and a special effort is going to be made by Kappa, Omega and Alpha-Lambda to get all of their old men in Lexington at that time. These three chapters will entertain the convention, making it the Kentucky convention, the biggest and best convention Pi Kappa Alpha has ever had. Success to all the chapters.

In the celebrated Allen trial, which is now being held in Wytheville, Va., being the trial of the Allen clan for killing the judge, prosecuting attorney, sheriff, and others, in the Carroll county court house, no one has made a greater reputation for himself than has Bro. R. Holman Willis, a brilliant young lawyer of Roanoke, Va., who has conducted the defense for the Allens. The Associated Press dispatch, in commenting upon his speech in the defense of Floyd Allen, said:

“R. H. Willis, of Roanoke, opened for the defense at the beginning of the court session and for over two hours he made one of the strongest speeches ever heard in the criminal courts of southwest Virginia. He reviewed the evidence in a masterly manner, putting a thread here and there together in the formation of the most plausible theories to show that his client should not be held responsible for the terrible tragedy at Hillsville. He devoted much time to answering the arguments made on yesterday by Attorney Poage, for the prosecution. It was evident that Mr. Willis had some weight with the Jury, and his theories were so plainly in opposition to those advanced by Mr. Poage that the address here is regarded as having been one of the most adroit and convincing ever made before a Wythe county jury.”

Invitations have been received which read: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roberts Jernigan request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Frances Sharp, to Mr. Stanley Winborne, on Wednesday afternoon, the 17th of April, at half after twelve o'clock, “Oak Grove,” Harrellsville, North Carolina.

Enclosed cards read: "At home after May 1st, Murfreesboro, North Carolina."

Miss Jernigan is a charming and attractive young woman of a winning personality, popular in a large degree. Her father, Mr. T. R. Jernigan, at one time resided in Raleigh, where he was editor of The Raleigh Intelligencer. In 1885 he was appointed by President Cleveland as consul at Kobe, Japan, where Miss Jernigan was born. He resigned when President Harrison came into office and when President Cleveland was elected the second time was appointed consul general at Shanghai, China, where he now practices law. Mr. Stanley Winborne is a young man of ability, a successful lawyer, in partnership at Murfreesboro with his father, Hon. B. B. Winborne, a leading lawyer of the first district. He is a graduate of the University of North Carolina and is held in the highest esteem, popular alike in social and business life.

FRAT ITEMS

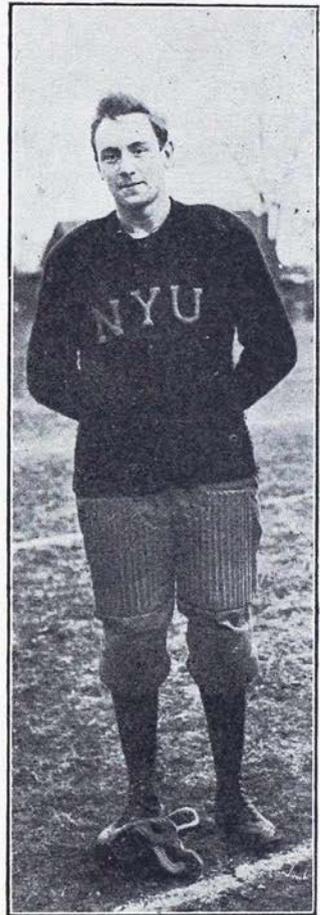

We are. Only lately have we fraternities begun to ask why we are. Perhaps we have been forced from the outside to ask this question. The laws of economy in their inexorable pressure have begun to say, "You are taking up space; what for?" And it will not do to answer, "We be fair butterflies in the summer of youth." The answer only comes, "It behooves you, then, most speedily to turn yourself into busy bees, laying up store against the stern winter of responsibility that most surely succeeds your summer of youth. This winter has some biting questions, stern judgments, exacting requirements of the summer. In fact, winter lives on summer's stored surplus. Besides, speaking of butterflies, we never know what germs any useless, harmless insects may carry." In other words, if fraternities are only for luxury (whether in pastime, housing, sentiment, or social standing), they have not justified themselves. The trouble with America is that we are having too much luxury in all these domains—in sport, housekeeping, sentiment and society. "So, Mr. Frat," say the college authorities, "you are using buildings, money, men and time (to say nothing of hot air). Now show us that you make for character or else get out."

When we fraternities "come down to the scratch" must we not acknowledge that this is the situation?

But the point is that we are all beginning to hustle to produce the proofs of our character making. Needless to say, no one fraternity has been discovered to have a monopoly on the industry. Some chapters in each of us have had a desperate time finding where they mislaid the character-maker. "It hadn't been used for some time, you know, Doctor. Joe White used to wield it, didn't he, fellows? But when he left who took it? Did you find it in the beer cellar, Caddy? Have you looked under the cushions in the living room? Plague take it! Where is that character prop? We certainly had one, Professor." Other chapters have sent in rush orders for new character machinery to be installed, and in proof have the bill on file. Still others have surprised the character inspector by calmly showing him an easily running, well oiled, carefully attended system that had been in operation ever since the chapter was established, and was clearly shown to have been sending for years a strong current of juice into the old college dynamo itself.

But that all of us are now openly at the task of adding to our fraternity faith, virtue, knowledge and temperance is shown by the following expressions from fraternity publications:

"Work like hell, and tell the truth." "Understand your business and trust yourself," said the other, "and by so doing you will compel others to trust you."

To be successful one must be a student of human nature, and the very best way to study human nature is by getting well acquainted with one's self, and familiar with nature in general. It is a very good plan to go to your room, turn out the light, and sit down for a few moments' visit with yourself. Shake hands with yourself. Get into the habit of dissecting your own motives, notions and whims. They are in you just as well as any one else, so do not imagine that you can account for and understand the motives, notions and whims of others until you are "next" to those of your own.

While you are thus communing with yourself, make up your mind as to whether or not you are in sympathy with the place in life you are seeking. If you are not, change your "tacks" at once, because if you are anything of a student of nature, and you must be before you can understand its climax—human life—you will have learned that there are no duplicates in nature, everything has its place and purpose, and if you will know yourself, you will find it. Having found it, stay with it until the finish, as in it and in it alone, you will find happiness and the satisfaction you must get out of your work if you do it well.—Roscoe C. Chambers in The Record of Σ A E.

Does scholarship mean anything to you? Is it not the most important part of your college work? When you planned your college course, was not scholarship the all-important end in view? Why then is it that so many students place other phases of college life first and relegate scholarship to the rear?—Σ Φ E Journal.

It is admitted that the American college places at the disposal of the student facilities equal to any. The number of students, however, has become so great that personal supervision cannot longer be given by college authorities. . . . It is the duty of each one of our chapters and our national organization to give to each active therein such supervision as is necessary to make him realize his responsibility and be a credit to the fraternity.—The Rainbow of Δ T Δ.

Indiana Beta has adopted a new ruling which demands that every freshman shall enter into two or more branches of college activities; i. e., he may choose one branch of athletics and one of literary work, two branches of either, go out for the press club and glee club, or arrange any other combination for which he thinks he is best adapted.—Φ Δ © Scroll.

Six presidents of the United States and five vice-presidents have been Greek letter men. Roosevelt, as usual unique, belonged to two. They are rival associations, too. One is Alpha Delta Phi and the other Delta Psi. President Arthur was a member of Psi Upsilon. Garfield belonged to Delta Upsilon; Cleveland to Phi Delta Phi; Harrison to Phi Delta Theta; McKinley to Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Mr. Taft is a Psi U.

In addition to Arthur and Roosevelt, who were vice-presidents before succeeding to the presidency, Stevenson, Hobart, and Fairbanks were Greek letter fraternity men. The first named was a Phi Delta Theta, the second a Delta Phi, and the third a Phi Gamma Delta. Jefferson Davis was a Kappa Sigma.—The Φ Γ Δ.

The Delta Upsilon Quarterly propounds the following question:

By the way, when we were in college we were accustomed to hear societies of college women spoken of as "Sororities." Now, everything in the college society line, regardless of sex, is a fraternity. Do our "sisters" feel that "brotherhood" means more than "sisterhood?" We will not admit that this is merely another indication of the new woman, and should be glad if some of our "sister" editors would tell us why they persist in using the term fraternity to include themselves.

To which the Arrow of Pi Beta Pi replied at length and carefully. This portion of a paragraph contains the gist of the reply:

The best usage declines to employ the words "actress" and "authoress" on the ground that there is no sex in art. So we refuse to take a special name for a relation which differs not at all from that of our brothers. Will they say that our bond is a whit less true, less strong, less fraternal than is theirs? As they stand for all that is firm in friendship, so do we. As they stand for all that is lofty in life, so do we. Then why a different name for what is one in kind?—Σ A E Record.

But may we add our manly protest to such "best usage" when it is transferred from the domain of art and applied to family relationships? That we may call an "actress" an "actor" is no reason for calling "mamma" "papa" or "sister" brother." When my "wife" becomes my "husband" I grow restive. What the exchange editor at least wants to know of given "fraternities" is whether they be male or female—and that without having to investigate. Why not call "college women" "college men" upon the same "best usage?" Then we would only have to write (what we now have to add whenever we write "fraternity") "college men (male)" or "college men (female)" as the case might be. We would only be following best abuseage.

The occasion of the installation of Alpha-Upsilon chapter on April 24th was featured for many weeks afterwards in the daily press of the metropolis; the New York Times, the New York World, the New York American, the New York Globe, the New York Sun, the New York Telegram, the New York Press, and several of the Brooklyn and New Jersey papers containing detailed accounts of the installation and the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. Below is cited an excerpt from the New York Herald for the second Sunday following the installation:

"FRATERNITY MEN FAVOR EXPANSION.

"New Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha Welcome at New York University.

"Gratification has been expressed by college fraternity men over the announcement made in the Herald last Sunday that the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, for many years restricted in its activities to the colleges of the South, is going to expand until it acquires a national scope. The fact that it has just entered New York University with a chapter has not been met with resentment by the other fraternities there, but rather with a display of welcome.

"It has been realized among fraternity men that eventually the Greek letter society question will narrow down to a question of a war between fraternity men and non-fraternity men, and that the more allies obtained in this fight the more sure the Greek letter societies will be of victory. . . .

"This added chapter at New York University increases to seven the number of national societies with branches there. These are Psi Upsilon, Zeta Psi, Delta Phi, Delta Upsilon, Phi Gamma Delta, Kappa Sigma, and Pi Kappa Alpha fraternities.

"The latest member of the fraternity family at University Heights was born in the University of Virginia in 1868, and has about four thousand members. Oscar W. Underwood, the chairman of the ways and means committee in the house, and potential presidential candidate, is a member, as are also William Alexander, secretary of the Equitable Life Assurance society; Floyd Hughes, collector of the port of Norfolk; James Austin Cabell, George Tucker, president of St. Paul's college, Tokio, Japan; Dr. H. A. Arbuckle, the educator, and Dr. W. T. Howard, the bacteriologist."

COLLEGE TALK

President Alderman has asked the Virginia legislature for an increased appropriation of $8,000 per annum for current expenses of the University of Virginia, making the total $88,000 a year. In this increase is included an amount needed to insure the gift of $40,000 by the Peabody education board, for the erection of a building for the department of education. Five thousand dollars additional is asked for the hospital, making the total $15,000 a year.—The Scroll of Φ Δ Θ.

CINCINNATI'S CO-OPERATIVE SYSTEM.

The co-operative plan of engineering—which is becoming widely known, has been labored upon by Prof. Herman Schneider, dean of the college of engineering, until it may certainly be said to be successful.

The student taking this course is employed in the shop where the work best suits his course, civil, mechanical, electrical or chemical engineering as the case may be. One week is spent in such a shop and the following in school, the student's alternate meanwhile being in shop.

The full co-operative course keeps the student employed in shop and school for eleven months during each of five years at the end of which time the student is given the full degree of C.E., M.E., E. E. or Chem. E.

The pay of the student workman is approximately that of an apprentice, the hourly rate being increased at regular intervals and while the student may not be entirely self supporting, he will be nearly so.

Such a course, the student being practically an apprentice, is bound to benefit the recipient since when the five years of shop and schooling are finished, practical as well as theoretical knowledge has been gained, and coming together as they do, are certain to be of great benefit.

Upon the completion of this course the student may well claim the title of engineer.—The Scroll of Φ Δ Θ.

Registration, now complete at Columbia, shows that attendance upon university courses for the scholastic year is 7,468, as compared with 6,842 last year, an increase of 626. Including the extension courses, the number is only eight short of 8,000. This places Columbia at the head of all other universities in the world in point of attendance, taking the place of Berlin, which stood at the head last year. In Columbia College (the liberal arts department of the university) the registration has increased from 697 to 721, the freshmen leading the list with 254, as compared with 237 a year ago. In engineering there is a decrease, due to the strict enforcement of regulations, many deficient students having been dropped in the second year. The freshmen are about the same as last year, the respective figures being 183 and 189.—Zeta Chi Quarterly.

The University of Oklahoma has an endowment fund of more than $9,000,000.—Σ X Quarterly.

Yale's proposed stadium will hold 70,000 and be the largest in the world—till Columbia builds one.—New York World.

Students at Wisconsin actually govern themselves. With the approval of the regents and the faculty a student court of nine members, six seniors and three juniors, has been established. It has original and exclusive jurisdiction in all cases of discipline and male undergraduates except cases involving dishonesty in university work. Appeal may be had to the faculty discipline committee only on the ground that all evidence was not brought out. The faculty discipline committee, however, may only dismiss the appeal or remand the case—the student court makes the decision.

The advisory system, now in its second year at Dartmouth, is declared to be a success. The members of the faculty compose the board of advisers, and they are expected to assume an informal supervision over the studies and general affairs of a small number of freshmen, whom they follow through their sophomore year. The system gives the adviser valuable information regarding the undergraduate view-point and the student's capacity for work outside the class-room.—Φ Δ ©
