ATTLEBORO MASSACHUSETTS

In Canada: Henry Birks & Sons in Affiliation—Montreal

Los Angeles' famed Ambassador Hotel, home of the West Coast's noted nightspot, Coconut Grove, will be the headquarters of the 1938 IKA Convention. The time is the last four days of August—Aug. 28-31, inclusive—next year.

Los Angeles Invites You!

◆ AS PRESIDENT of the Los Angeles Alumni Association of Pi Kappa Alpha, I extend a cordial and sincere invitation to each and every IKA throughout the United States and the world at large, to come to the City of the Angels, Los Angeles, from Aug. 28, to Aug. 31, 1938, for the National Convention of our Fraternity.

Los Angeles is known as the Convention City of the World. It is also known as the world's most famous playground, with its sporting events and entertainment of every kind, type and description in progress every day and night of the year.

It is known throughout the world for its beautiful homes and buildings—gardens and flowers—boulevards and lights. It is world famous for its lovely year-round climate, its Hollywood and the moving picture industry, its parks, museums, colleges and universities, beach resorts, theaters, not forgetting its international fame for having the most beautiful women in the world.

It is world famous as an international melting pot, for here you find a little China, a little Japan, a little Russia, a little Sweden and Holland, a little India, Italy and Egypt and, of course, a little Jerusalem.

Its cabarets and night clubs are known the world over. All these and many more things of interest await you upon your arrival in Los Angeles for our 1938 Convention.

We welcome you to our beautiful Pacific Ocean with its beach cities and resorts, to the California valleys and mountains with their charming and fascinating towns and cities teeming with old Spanish atmosphere, to the mountain and valley lake resorts, and the desert—all within a short drive from Los Angeles.

Here is your golden opportunity to spend the best and most interesting vacation of your life, at small cost, in the most famous, most interesting and fascinating city in the world.

More than 400 alumni, together with Gamma-Eta and Alpha-Sigma Chapters of our Fraternity, will be on hand to welcome you, and to see that you are more than adequately entertained.

We want you all to come. We have plenty of room for everybody, for Los Angeles is the largest city in the world in area, and fifth in population in our United States.

Again, Brothers, I repeat that you are all cordially and sincerely invited to be with us, to be our guests and to enjoy real Southern California hospitality at our National Pi Kappa Alpha Convention in 1938.

Come early and stay late!

Sincerely and fraternally,

T. PAUL MOODY, President
Los Angeles Alumni Association.

PAUL BECHTOL

(Dear Brother Bechtol: We know just how you feel but we really can't blame it all on our New Deal IKA's. Stick with us; we've got some interesting dope coming up on IKA footballers, preachers, travelers, lawyers, business men, etc.—The Editors.)

◆ IF COLLEGE athletic associations want their athletes to get a free ride through college, they ought to furnish the vehicle. They shouldn't expect the fraternities to do it. When college athletic departments come around and arbitrarily assign men to "wash dishes" at a fraternity house for his meals, regardless of whether he ever washes any or not, it's time the fraternities got up on their hind legs and struck back.

What is probably worse—but what can be controlled within the chapter—is the pernicious habit of some fraternities in writing off the monthly bills of athletes who become "brothers" for the sake of free room and board. Real fraternity brotherhood doesn't include spongers. There should be but one reason for joining a fraternity—friendship.

◆ TO CONSERVE space and because, after all, fraternity men are Greek Letter men, the editors have adopted a system of identifying members of Pi Kappa Alpha by using after their names the Greek letters denoting their chapter.

For the benefit of those who may be a bit rusty on their Greek letters, we reprint the symbols below:

Heads Episcopal Church

♦ AFTER making the office of Presiding Bishop the supreme administrative or temporal authority, as well as the supreme spiritual direction of the Protestant Episcopal Church, the triennial convention of that denomination, at Cincinnati in October, chose as the nineteenth holder the Rt. Rev. Henry St. George Tucker, A.

The addition in power was accomplished by making the Presiding Bishop ex officio president of the National Council, or board of directors, of this historic offshoot of the Anglican church. Even in the lay press it has been said the position might tend increasingly to correspond to that of the Archbishop of Canterbury in England—but friends of the quiet, unassuming Bishop Tucker know that he will invest the place with no Gothic pomp.

Indeed, the convention refused to adopt the title "Archbishop" or to establish a primatial see at Washington, D. C., or elsewhere.

Bishop Tucker, a Virginian of the bluest blood, whose home state was the earliest American seat of the Anglican communion, is of a family dedicated to the church in service as well as name. A decade ago, when he was the new Bishop of Virginia, his father, the late Rt. Rev. Beverley Dandridge Tucker, was Bishop of the adjoining diocese of Southern Virginia.

The eldest of a family of 13, he has three brothers in the Episcopal ministry, another who is a missionary physician in war-torn Shanghai and still another who is professor of mathematics at St. John's University, Shanghai. One of his four sisters is the wife of an Episcopal rector.

A colleague asked the Rev. Bland Tucker recently, whether he was related to the new head of the church. "Distantly," was the reply. "He was the first son, I the seventh."

The Bishop's mother was born Anna Maria Washington, a direct descendant of Lawrence Washington, brother of George Washington. Her family was the last to reside in Mount Vernon, deeding it to an association for preservation. On the paternal side, the Tuckers likewise date from colonial times in Virginia. The Bishop is the namesake of a relative, the late Henry St. George Tucker, long a Congressman from the old Dominion.

Standing 6 feet, 2 inches, Dr. Tucker weighs 181 pounds but gives the impression of being lean and full of vitality. Heavy steel-gray hair falls in an unruly lock over his forehead. His penetrating eyes are deepset under heavy brows; his nose long and his mouth broad. The expression is of kindly

Significant Succession

CHOICE of Rt. Rev. H. St. George Tucker as presiding bishop is a greater compliment to the church than to the man. It demonstrates the deep desire of the Episcopal convention to sustain the highest spiritual ideals of the past.

Almost any of the best-known bishops of the most conspicuous dioceses in the United States—men with great cathedrals and familiar public names—would have been flattered to receive a post which increasingly will correspond to that of the Archbishop of Canterbury. And of several of these men would have surrounded the office with Gothic pomp.

Delegates to the convention doubtless had intimation of this, but they chose, instead, one of the simplest and most unpretending of all the bishops, one who has no cathedral and probably never dreamed that this great office would fall to him.

There could, we say, be no higher tribute to the convention itself than the selection of such a man as Bishop Tucker. He will deepen the spirituality of the church and will give to its labors the missionary zeal he himself always has displayed in America as in Japan.

Historically the choice is no less appropriate. Those who hold to the doctrine of "apostolic succession" may be inspired by the reflection that the first presiding bishop to discharge the enlarged duties of the office should be in a most literal sense the direct inheritor of the Anglican episcopate. Bishop Tucker is in every sense the American successor of the Bishop of London, to whose diocese Virginia, as the oldest of American colonies, for more than a century and a half belonged.

—Richmond News-Leader.

forcefulness. In the simple black and white vestments of his church he is an imposing figure.

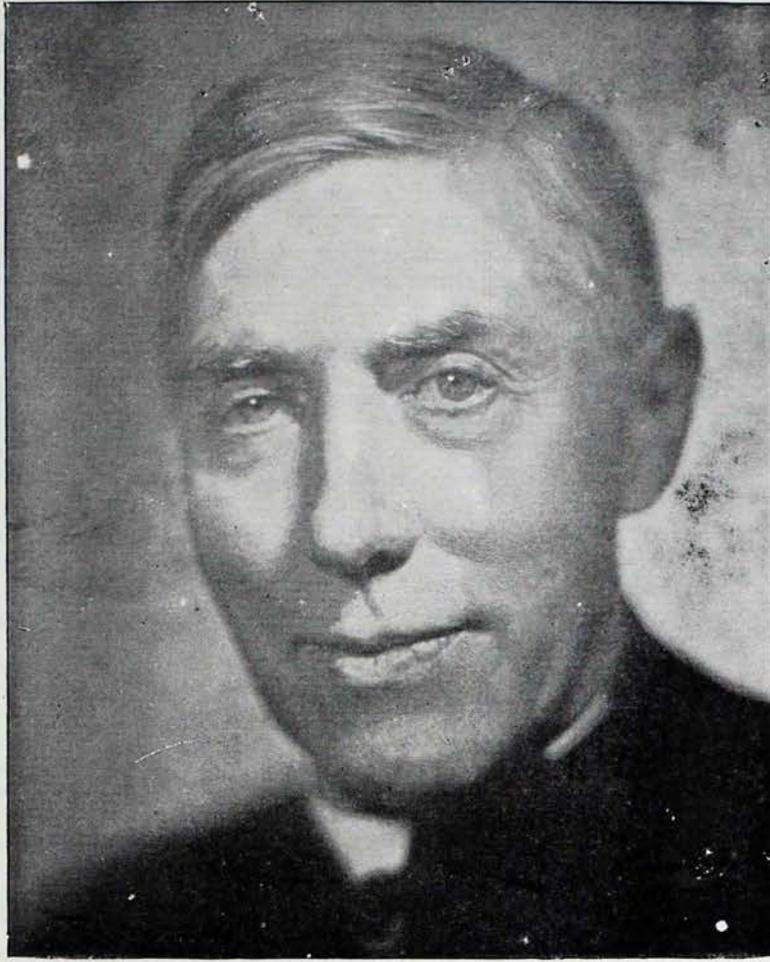

Let his associates describe him, as they did for the author of this article:

"He is about as humble-minded a fellow as I've ever known," said a fellow Bishop; "a thoroughly fine Christian spirit. The selection is almost too good to be true. He is considered the greatest missionary statesman in the whole church. The emphasis is on that attribute in view of the tense international situation."

"There are few men whose judgment is respected more in the field of statesmanship," said a colleague on the church's National Council. "When he served in Japan he was consulted frequently by those who respected his objective judgment. Extremely modest, he seldom speaks unless he really has something to say. His advice is practical and often inspired.

"He has a knowledge of the East and the respect of the East and holds the affection of people in Japan to a very marked degree. Therefore, in this critical time, we are particularly happy to have a man who knows the Oriental mind.

"An omnivorous reader, he is a profound scholar. 'I'm about caught up on my reading,' he once said to a friend who is a famous theological professor. But the Bishop had read all the books the professor recommended, and more. He has a fine sense of humor and can enjoy a jolly time with his friends. He will slip away with two close associates to Radio City, when time in New York permits, or will sit and tell stories from his great fund of Negro tales. He loves the companionship of a few persons, but does not wear his heart on his sleeve.

The Rt. Rev. Henry St. George Tucker, member of Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha, elected to highest post of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

"About him there is no suggestion of worldliness, but more of other-worldliness, yet he is not the ecclesiastic. There is nothing stuffy about him. The perquisites of office will mean nothing to him; they will only amuse him."

Intimates address the Bishop as "St. George"—inheritor of the name of him who slew the dragons.

This, then, is the man who, next Jan. 1, will assume the leadership of a militant church which is alive to the social and economic problems of the day, with missionaries in far-flung lands. The convention adopted a budget of $7,500,000 for the triennium of 1938-40 for departments of the national church and the missions. Last year the 1,408,000 communicants at home and abroad contributed $30,488,000 for local and general use.

In the spiritual realm, Bishop Tucker is a "low church" man, but all groups joined in his election on the second ballot in a secret session of the House of Bishops. The choice was confirmed by the House of Deputies. No less a leader of the "high church" element than Bishop William T. Manning of New York City expressed public approval and confidence in Dr. Tucker. Low church follows the traditionally simple liturgy of the early days of the Episcopalians in America; high church practice varies from a counterpart of the Anglican communion to a frank copying of many of the forms of the Catholic church.

Among Dr. Tucker's 18 predecessors as Presiding Bishop the outstanding personality was the Rt. Rev. Daniel Sylvester Tuttle of St. Louis, who held the record of more than 20 years in the office. Dr. Tucker succeeds the Rt. Rev. James De Wolf Perry of Providence, R. I. Under a new rule, the Presiding Bishop is elected for life, subject to retirement (on the same pension schedule as all of the clergy) at the triennial convention following his 68th birthday. Hence Dr. Tucker, who is 63 years old, will serve until 1943. The Presiding Bishop must relinquish his diocesan work to a coadjutor to an extent sufficient to permit him to handle his general duties. Much of Dr. Tucker's time is likely to be spent in New York City.

A proposal to curtail the authority of the House of Bishops was rejected by that body at the convention, defeating a step toward decentralization of the administrative functions. Government of this church is similar to that of the United States, legislative authority at the conventions being vested in two houses, of which the general representative group is the House of Deputies.

"The church," said the convention in a message to the clergy, "must not sit quietly by when the world faces acute social and economic problems. The church is intensely concerned with these crises which bring misery and need to God's children."

Bishop Tucker, who will struggle with these problems in a world filled with turmoil, suspicion and money trouble, was born in Warsaw, a small town on an eastern peninsula of tidewater Virginia July 16, 1874. He entered the University of Virginia a few years after the rebirth of Pi Kappa Alpha and was initiated in the Founders' chapter. In 1895 he was graduated with the degree of Master of Arts and four years later he earned at the Theological Seminary of Virginia the right to place Bachelor of Divinity after his name. The doctorate of divinity came in 1911.

Ordained a minister upon his graduation from the theological school, he was sent at once as a missionary to Japan, which then was still emerging from its isolation to the status of a world power. Shortly he was placed in charge of the missions of the province of Aomori, which forms the northern tip of the principal island. Then, from 1902 to 1912, he was president of St. Paul's College, a church school at Tokyo, which he made into an outstanding institution. He was rated missionary Bishop of Kyoto, a city near Osaka and Kobe, March 25, 1912, just a quarter of a century before his elevation to the head of the whole church.

Returning to America in 1923 because of his wife's health, he succeeded his brother, the Rev. Beverly Dandridge Tucker, Jr., as professor of theology at the Theological Seminary of Virginia. It was not for long that he was to be left in scholastic seclusion. He was called as Bishop-Coadjutor of the diocese of Virginia Aug. 10, 1926, and automatically became Bishop Aug. 1, 1927, on the death of the incumbent.

There was a period after the World War in which Dr. Tucker had a busy interlude from missionary duties, when he served as a Major in charge of civilian refugee work with the American Red Cross Commission in Siberia, following the first wave of bolshevism.

Considered one of the two Episcopal missionaries speaking the difficult Japanese language closest to the standards of the educated natives, he learned and used the tongue with accuracy sufficient to excite the comment of the people. Last summer he went back to Tokyo for the anniversary of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. Various audiences there were astonished to have him address them in Japanese. He thought the gift had slipped away, but recaptured it when back in the old surroundings.

For several years he has been a member of the National Council. He is the author of Reconciliation Through Christ (1910) and Providence and the Atonement (1934).

He was married in 1911 to Miss Mary Lillian Warnock of Atlanta. They have two sons—Henry St. George, Jr., and James W. Tucker. His home is at Westhampton, Richmond, Va., and his office at the Mayo Memorial Church House, 110 West Franklin St., Richmond.

As Presiding Bishop he will have the newly increased salary of $15,000 a year and an annual allowance of $5000 for expenses. The church anticipates that he will pursue a vigorous missionary policy, particularly in the Far East.

In an interview in New York shortly after his election he declared that Japan's aggressive foreign policy, (marked by the new onslaught on China), merely followed the tradition of empire winning inaugurated earlier by ambitious western powers. The western nations had set a bad example for Japan, he said, adding that most governments paid little attention to Christian principles. The United States, he pointed out, claimed half of Mexico by conquest. Japan, he continued, did not feel bound by the Christian idea of brotherhood, but some means would have to be found to give that nation access to raw materials and mass markets for its products. American restriction of Japanese immigration irritated the Japanese and hurt this country worse than Japan, he concluded.

As to the function of the church, the new Presiding Bishop said: "I do hope that we may all unitedly go forward to the realization of the great missionary task which our Lord has entrusted to this church. The only hope for overcoming the turmoil which at the present time is being manifested in so many parts of the world is in the spirit of brotherhood which was brought into the world by Christ. Through the help of God I intend to give myself as fully as possible to the task."

In domestic missions the Episcopal church deals with mountain people, Negroes, Indians and the foreign-born. Abroad its field is in Alaska, Hawaii, the Philippines, the Canal Zone, Cuba, Brazil, Japan, China and Liberia. It has 6385 clergymen, including the Bishops. There are 74 domestic dioceses and 20 domestic and 12 foreign missionary districts. In the world today there are 2,068,000 persons baptized in this faith. Whereas one out of every 416 residents of the United States were Episcopalians in 1830, the ratio a century later was one out of every 97.

Such is the setting of the labor taken up by Bishop Tucker of Alpha.

Plan Alumni Award

By Harold E. Rainville,
National Publicity Chairman

◆ THE ALUMNUS Alpha-Theta chapter of Chicago again will present a plaque to the most outstanding alumnus of Pi Kappa Alpha for the year 1937, it is announced by Paul A. Potter AΦ, president of the Chicago alumni.

Prof. Wm. R. Slaughter, AN, director of the evening school of the Northwestern University school of journalism, will again be chairman of the selection committee. Arthur S. Bowes, BΦ, past president of Alumnus Alpha-Theta, and Potter will be members of the committee with John W. Ladd, BΣ, District President, and Harold E. Rainville, ΓP, chairman of the national publicity committee, ex-officio members.

As has been past practice, each undergraduate chapter will be requested to nominate one of its own alumni and an alumnus from the general alumni body for this award. From the brothers placed in nomination, the committee will select the candidate to whom the trophy will be awarded. However, the Chicago alumni retain the right to nominate a candidate who may have been overlooked by the chapters but whom the Chicago committee feels deserves consideration. Each alumnus chapter, of course, will be invited to nominate a candidate.

The 1936 award for alumni achievement was given to Lynn O. Waldorf, AX, head football coach at Northwestern University. It was presented at the Founders Day dinner by Gov. Albert "Happy" Chandler, K and Ω, of Kentucky. Chandler won the first award in 1935.

This year the announcement of the winner and the presentation of the trophy will again be made at the Chicago Founders Day dinner at which National Vice-President Freeman H. Hart will be the principal speaker. The trophy will be presented by Coach Waldorf to his successor and it expected that Gov. Chandler will again be present.

DON'T FORGET — 1938 CONVENTION —
LOS ANGELES WELCOMES YOU!

Convention Shifted to Los Angeles Ambassador

◆ THE AMBASSADOR HOTEL, located in the heart of the beautiful Wilshire, District, just two miles from downtown Los Angeles and easily accessible by motor, bus, or streetcar, will be the official headquarters of the 1938 IKA Convention, following a change in arrangements by the Los Angeles Convention Committee. Previously, plans called for the convention to be held at the downtown Biltmore. The Ambassador, from various standpoints, is generally considered preferable.

The Ambassador is noted the world over for its beauty and accommodations, being rated the fifth hotel in the United States by those who know its charm of location, excellent cuisine and unfailing courtesy to its guests. It is located in a twenty-two acre tract of land facing beautiful Wilshire Boulevard, one of Southern California's finest thoroughfares.

Not alone a hotel, but a complete city within itself, with a theatre, shops, and various amusements under one roof, the Ambassador probably is most famous for its Coconut Grove, the rendezvous of movie stars and socialites of Los Angeles, and a mecca for those who enjoy good amusement. It features the best in music and entertainment, with dancing to the modern rhythms of such famed bands as Guy Lombardo, Ted Fio Rito, Jan Garber, Ben Bernie and Rudy Vallee.

The beautiful Lido, and outdoor swimming pool where one may view international swimming and aquatic meets, as well as rub elbows with the stars of movieland, are also features of the Ambassador.

The management of the hotel has promised IKA convention visitors the best in accommodations and service, and has gone so far as to reserve Coconut Grove for the exclusive use of IKA delegates and visitors for the convention formal dinner dance, a privilege never before extended to any organization.

Sidewalk cafe in Los Angeles Mexican quarter, typical of the city's international eating places.

◆ EPICURES among IKA delegates and visitors to the IKA convention in Southern California next August may complement their other vacation activities with revelling in many foreign eating places.

With its internationally-minded movie colony demanding the delicacies of a dozen different countries, Los Angeles has more than its share of European and Asiatic restaurants.

Naturally the Spanish influence is predominant in this land that was once an empire of the dons, and wherever you wander you'll find tortillas and enchiladas served by gay señoritas who sing and dance for you with the gracious hospitality of the Latin races. Old Castilian recipes and the spicy food of the Aztecs are laid before you—in adobe casas or shaded patios.

The Italian influence in dining also manifests itself in Southern California—what with half the musicians in the world, more or less, centered in and about the film and radio center at Hollywood. For though he be born in Podunk Center, a dyed-in-the-wool musician will shout for anti-pasto with the gusto of a son of Naples.

French restaurants in Southern California may be fashionable or homely. Some are counterparts of Paris sidewalk cafes; others serve you "en familie," seating a dozen at a long wide table covered with checkered oil cloth.

There are Armenian restaurants breathing the atmosphere of Araby, even to the oriental narghile (smoking pipe). The Armenian's culinary art is mystifying, but one demonstration of it is completely convincing, and after you sample Shish Kebab (lumps of baby lamb dipped in wine and barbecued on skewers over charcoal)—your skepticism about Armenian food dissolves into a consuming desire.

Perhaps they'll serve you Ekmek Kadayiff, and you'll try to decide whether the delicacy is concocted of figs or dates, or apples from the garden of Eden—until the Paris-bred proprietor ends your guessing by explaining that it is simply Armenian bread, soaked and cooked in honey syrup with a topping of Kaymak (Armenian whipped cream).

Chinese restaurants vie with Japanese eating temples, where you sit crosslegged, in stocking feet, before a low table; the sukiyaki prepared and served the while you watch.

Quite a few places are devoted to Russian cuisine; others are dedicated to the recipes of the Basque. There are countless English tea rooms, almost hidden by shrubs and flowers, offering a rendezvous with your favorite blend, sipped with crumpets, jams, Devonshire cream.

There are Swiss chalets, and hofbrau gardens featuring real German cooking.

Gourmet or casual-diner, travel wise or "innocents abroad" the charm of international eating is one of the undeniable attractions of vagabondia in Los Angeles.

Los Angeles Promises

These are the men who have guaranteed to our fraternity at large the biggest and best convention in its history. Their work has just begun and they will work unceasingly to put the coming convention across.

In order that you might know these men more intimately, following is a brief personal introduction:

J. BRANDON BRUNER, AE, Chairman of the General Arrangements Committee. When the Los Angeles Alumni began looking for a man to fill the intricate and involved job of chairman of general arrangements, Brother Bruner and his general business ability, plus a most genial southern personality, immediately stood out as the man for the job. He is a born leader, and executive; is forceful, yet diplomatic.

Although he is a very busy business man, and a leader in Los Angeles as such, being affiliated with the bond and securities house of Nelson-Douglas and Co., he gladly accepted the appointment and man of the Shield and Diamond Endowment Fund. His work with Gamma-Eta Chapter at U. S. C. has been phenomenal, for he has placed that Chapter on a sound financial basis. Oertel is one of IKA's outstanding business men in Los Angeles, being investment counselor for one of the large bond and securities houses.

T. PAUL MOODY, ΓΔ, Chairman of the Attendance and Publicity Committee. On his shoulders rests the responsibility of bringing an expected 2,000 brothers and their families to Los Angeles for the 1938 Convention; of letting the Fraternity at large know what a grand time they will have at the convention, and what a treat they all have in store for them in Los Angeles, and Hollywood. Moody is an attorney and is serving his second tee. The wisdom and good counsel of this beloved veteran of the fraternity cannot be justly evaluated.

ALFRED W. BUNN, BΔ, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee. The entertainment program of all conventions spells success or failure to that convention. Realizing this fact, the Los Angeles Alumni selected a man who knows his entertainment. Al Bunn is an insurance broker in Beverly Hills. He is a past president of the Los Angeles Alumni Association, and was alumni delegate to the New Orleans Convention in 1936. With Al in the saddle of this important committee you can expect the best in entertainment.

CHARLES K. BRUST, S. M. C., Gamma-Eta Chapter, Chairman of the Date Committee. Do you want a date with Garbo, Joan Crawford, or Marlene Deitrich? If so, Brust will do his best to make it for you! At any rate Brust will have a file on hundreds of beautiful girls, giving their height, weight, color of eyes, complexion, and various characteristics that are especially appealing to the male sex. He assures the younger men of a date that will cause many a heart throb.

HAROLD E. HOLLISTER, TH, Chairman of the Housing and Arrangements Committee. Hollister is a buyer for one of the city's largest and best department stores and his specialty is furniture. He will be on hand to see that you obtain the best rooms and accommodations at the world famous Ambassador.

RUSS W. KIMBLE, AS, Chairman of the Registration and Badges Committee. Kimble is an outstanding insurance broker. He will greet you at the registration desk of the Ambassador Hotel.

EDWARD L. REDMAN, AP, Chairman of the Hospitality and Reception Committee. When you are met at the train, the airport, or the hotel by Brother Redman, you will immediately feel at home, for this Redman will greet you with his winning smile and a sincere hand shake that will go straight to your heart. He recently withdrew from business to return to the University of Southern California Law School, and complete his law course.

KENNETH L. ROTH, BB, Chairman of the Transportation Committee. Roth, an executive of the Adohr Creamery Comany, is the man who will attend to your transportation problems, whether by airplane, train, ship or bus. And after you arrive in Los Angeles adequate transportations facilities will be provided for you.

MRS. ALIECE VAN BUSKIRK, Chairman of the Ladies Auxiliary Committee, is the wife of Dr. Van Buskirk, and prominent and active in social circles of Southern California. She will plan and provide the best in entertainment for all the ladies present at the convention. The wives of the brothers attending the convention will not find a dull moment on their hands.

MISS DOROTHY PRATT, Assistant Convention Secretary. Last but not least we introduce the charming Miss Pratt, whose delightful personality will make you forget the many miles you have traveled in reaching Los Angeles. She will be first assistant to Brother Kimble.

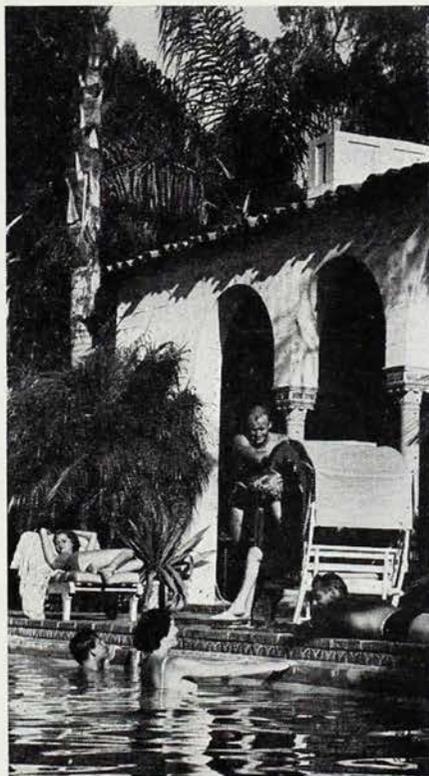

Spectacular lighting signalizes Hollywood movie premier as seen from above the city.

◆ VISITORS, including IKA wives, of course, will have a chance to match their footprints with those of the movie great when they walk in the footprints of the motion picture stars, imprinted in the concrete sidewalk fronting Grauman's Chinese Theater in Hollywood, during the IKA convention next August.

This exotic palace patterned bizarrely after a temple of the ancient Chinese gods, is a favorite setting for world movie premieres, with spectacular prologues elaborately staged for the occasion.

These premieres attract the elite of Hollywood's film colony, writers, players, musicians, directors, a super-brilliant assemblage of stars and satellites. For hours before the curtains are drawn, crowds gather around the entrance, waiting eagerly to catch a glimpse of their favorite actor or actress as they step from their motor cars onto the carpet under the Oriental marquee.

The piece de resistance of the ceremonies preceding the actual performance comes when the stars of the picture being exhibited, walk across the cement of the lobby, to carefully press their footprints in a block of wet mortar, prepared for the event. After the celebrated footprints have been captured, the wet sand is carefully guarded from accidental impressions by lesser lights, until it is thoroughly dry, and thus become a perpetual monument of the picture, the stars and the premiere.

This unique hall of fame boasts not only foot-prints, however. Among the plastic engravings visitors find an impression made by Al Jolson while he caroled "Mammy" on his knees, a wide-oval, identified as the print of Joe E. Brown's mouth, Harold Lloyd's spectacles traced in mortar by the comedian himself, while Eddie Cantor left for posterity a self-made caricature of his famous eyes.

◆ Pi Kappa Alpha probably has more football varsity regulars this season than ever before if the information received by the committee selecting the 1937 All-IKA team is any criterion.

This is being written in mid-season and already more than 150 names have been submitted as candidates for the Fraternity's all-star team. The committee has before it the individual records of footballers in more than 40 chapters, and reports are coming in daily from others.

The boys this year look good, and the dope received so far indicates that the 1937 squad will be one of the best yet. Among the candidates are several prospective All-Americans and it is already apparent that some real grid heroes will be among those finally selected for the honor places.

Take that boy Lafferty, for example. A member of Beta at Davidson College, he was recently called by Duke's great Wallace Wade, "The best back I've ever seen." Henry McLemore of the United Press says of Lafferty, "Probably the best back in the entire South is an unknown young man at little Davidson College in North Carolina. His name is Teeny Lafferty and there isn't anything he can't do . . ."

McLemore wrote that at the beginning of the season; Lafferty is not "an unknown young man" any more, and it seems pretty certain at this writing that a berth on the All-IKA team will be his.

And Orlando Maio of Gamma-Gamma at Denver. There's another great back. The western sports scribes are all agog about him, and the Denver Post recently gave him almost all of its front page—seven column streamer and a quarter-page picture. The nice things they are saying about him are justified, too, from all the reliable information we can gather.

◆ The 1937 All-IKA Team will be announced in the next issue of THE SHIELD AND DIAMOND instead of in the December issue as in the past. This change is necessary because of a new publication schedule.

Final selection of the team will not be made, therefore, until the football season has closed and the committee feels that the additional time available will result in a more accurate selection than would have otherwise been possible.

Then, from last season's All-IKA team, both Goodson of S. M. U. and Pinky Rohm of L. S. U. are back doing some spectacular work. Cheek Duncan of Tennessee is setting the woods afire in the South and promises to be a real contender for an honor position. Callow of Washington State represents the Northwest, and Zindahl of Syracuse is a whiz in the East. Maero of Utah is showing unusual abilities in his section.

Of course, backs don't make a team. So we have Bo Russell of Auburn, and Max Kimberley of Montana State at tackle position. Both seem to have a pretty good chance at the team but there are also Stout of Arkansas, Riddle of Birmingham-Southern. Craft of Hampden-Sydney (who also plays end), and Thomas and Sartain of Tulsa.

Tulsa, by the way, seems to be the most football-minded of all the chapters. Twelve men are out for the team and most of them have seen service on the regular squad.

Arkansas and Southwestern also have big groups reporting for practice every day as does the chapter at Transylvania.

But to get along with some of the candidates. There is the usual big crop of candidates for end. From those mentioned so far, there is Smith of Oklahoma who made the team last year. His record this season seems to be even more spectacular than last, and he will naturally be a contender for the 1937 honor squad. And from last season's Honorable Mention list, we find "Spec" Towns and Barbre of Georgia, Edwards of Mississippi State, and Robinson of Georgetown. Others who look good are Hamilton of Arkansas and Elred of Tennessee.

Of course, the great Gilbert of Auburn is gone from the ranks of collegiate football, but there are many promising candidates for the center position. From those selected last year, we find Anderson of Iowa, and Ramsey of Tennessee. Then there is Self of Theta, who looks unusually good, as do Smith and Lomas of Gamma-Tau at Rensselaer.

None of the star guards of last year are playing this season, but a dozen or so candidates for these places have already appeared. Among them are Morgan of Southwestern, Graham of Tulsa, Salisbury of Georgia, Knudson and Tampa of Denver, and Todd, McRae, and Carson of Presbyterian.

It should be pointed out again that this is being written in mid-season, and that complete reports have by no means been received. There are many IKA grid stars whose names are not even mentioned above but who will be given every consideration in the selection of the All-IKA team. There are many IKA pledges who have not been mentioned but who will be initiated before the end of the season and who will thereby become eligible for an All-IKA position.

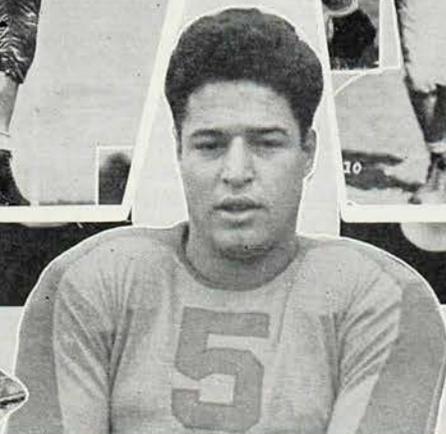

The all-star team will not be selected until after this issue of THE SHIELD AND DIAMOND has gone to press. So if your favorite is not listed below, write the committee about him. Maybe he is already

Kansas House Looted

◆ MEMBERS of Beta-Gamma chapter at the University of Kansas lost $241 in a burglary early in the morning of Sept. 15. The only member who escaped a loss was one cautious lad who had locked his room. The largest loss was that of Paul Hormuth of Topeka, Kan., from whom $73 was stolen. He had spent a year working so that he could return to college this autumn.

The same morning three other fraternity houses in Lawrence, Kan., were robbed, as follows: Phi Kappa Psi, $67 and a $57 wristwatch; Acacia, $78, and Beta Theta Pi, at least $75.

"Such burglaries," said a Lawrence dispatch to a Kansas City newspaper, "occur annually at this time of year when students have an extra amount of money to pay their college expenses. Nearly all fraternity houses are left unlocked throughout the night."

Moral for IKA chapters everywhere: Lock up your houses.

Designs Rotating Spring

◆ J. STERLING KINNEY, IT, who received his doctor's degree in civil engineering at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute last spring, conducted experiments on the endurance of metals at high temperatures on which he later based his thesis, and is given credit for development of the rotating spring fatigue machine. The experiment was partially financed by the General Electric Co. The result of the test, the rotating spring, is now being used in turbine designing.

IKA Coast Units Improving

◆ "GO WEST YOUNG MAN GO WEST."

Horace Greeley's advice was followed by IKA's Executive Secretary as the first order of business for the 1937-38 Chapter visitation. Leaving Atlanta on Sept. 14, I travelled 8,468 miles, visiting 17 undergraduate chapters, attending two District Conventions, meeting with alumni in various centers and conferring with National and District Officers.

Beta-Delta Chapter at the University of New Mexico—the first national on that picturesque campus—was my first visit. Here the chapter has not only an attractive home, but the unique meeting place of the country, the famed Estufa, built in the early days of Tri-Alpha, the local which became Beta-Delta in 1915. This is the old Pueblo type meeting house. Until other fraternities attempted to gain entrance (uninvited), the entrance was through the roof. Now, the secrets of the Estufa are carefully guarded by a vault door, purchased from one of the banks.

In the Land of Sunshine, our Arizona Chapter upholds the name of Pi Kappa Alpha, bringing together in the brotherhood men from every corner of our country and from many foreign countries who are taking advantage of educational facilities and the Arizona climate.

The Southern California Chapter, busily preparing to be co-hosts with the alumni and the chapter at Berkeley, is comfortably situated in a large home, filled to capacity, and with a waiting list. Giant palms give the large grounds of this chapter house a typical Southern California setting.

The undergraduates and alumni of California are expecting to entertain Pi Kappa Alpha August 28-31, 1938 at a super-colossal convention. The headquarters selected, The Ambassador, with its Club Lido, its Cocoanut Grove, and its several-acre grounds quickly initiate the visitor to the delightful atmosphere of the Pacific playground.

Mother Camper, the dear lady who has guided the destinies of our California chapter at Berkeley since 1912, is the honorary hostess for the convention.

Plans were laid at the District 17 Convention, in Berkeley, for the development of undergraduate and alumni activity and the chapters in that section. Alpha-Sigma Chapter and Alumnus Alpha-Beta Chapter were joint hosts for this gathering. Delegates and visitors gave earnest consideration to the problems and plans.

Gamma-Pi Chapter, at the University of Oregon, the youngest chapter on the Pacific Coast, has improved in condition considerably during the past year. Their enthusiasm and determination is bringing results and the chapter is now planning for a new and larger home. This chapter led all fraternities at Oregon in scholarship during 1936-37, the second consecutive year to hold this distinction. The Alumni of Portland, the Alumnus Chapter that holds the record for official representation at each National Convention since its establishment, turned out en masse to hear of Pi Kappa Alpha and to enjoy fellowship with each other.

The chapter at the University of Washington, Beta-Beta, comfortably financed, is enjoying a return to strength. Rushing season added more good men than in recent years. Alumni interest and co-operation is at a new peak. Seattle alumni meet regularly and take active part in assisting undergraduate chapter with their problems.

Gamma-Xi, at the State College of Washington, enjoying the second year in their new home, is in a strong position.

The finances of all fraternities at Montana State College are handled by the College Treasurer. Under this guidance, the fraternities are enjoying an unusual period of prosperity. When there are no financial troubles, chapter members can devote their meetings and their energies to development of the chapter and to participation in extracurricular activities, in addition to better study.

Gamma-Epsilon Chapter, Utah Agriculture College, "turned out the guard" with 35 members and pledges—nearly half of their membership—meeting me upon arrival. Gamma-Epsilon owns a lot and has a building fund, but in addition, is planning to buy its present home.

Our U. A. C. chapter is perennially one of the five largest in the fraternity. They returned 43 members and pledged 28.

Our first chapter in Utah, Alpha-Tau, at the University in Salt Lake City, returned 45 members. Rushing is deferred until the winter quarter but the chapter already is organized for a successful rushing season. This chapter takes an unusually prominent position in extracurricular activities, particularly in campus politics.

Beta-Upsilon, at the University of Colorado, is the largest chapter visited during this seven-week trip. A total of 81 members and pledges—all of them good men—make this chapter one of the strongest in IKA. Their beautiful home, built eight years ago, is in a three-acre lot, beautifully landscaped. The large living room, 45 by 30, with a 35-foot ceiling, is the envy of the campus.

The University of Denver Chapter, Gamma-Gamma, boasts the Fraternity's smallest member, Jack Hayes, affectionately called "Dynamite" by the chapter members, is less than 5 ft., but has the energy and activity of a giant. The fraternities at D. U. draw practically all of their members from the city of Denver, which makes difficult the operation of a chapter house. Fortunately, our house is on a balanced budget and is being carefully guided by Mother Northway and the alumni.

At Manhattan, Kan., the three chapters of District 13 met for their District Convention, bringing together the undergraduates of Kansas State College, University of Kansas and University of Nebraska. Here again problems and their solutions were discussed. The chief problem of the host chapter, Alpha-Omega, Kansas State, is how to avoid slipping from the top position. Everett M. Oxley, alumnus of K. S. C. and member of IKA's Chapter House Loan Committee, was in attendance also.

Best All'Round Award Goes to Ole Miss

By Wilson B. Heller,
Alpha-Nu, Missouri

Donor of the Best All-Around Chapter Award, Wilson B. Heller, (left) presenting plaque to Frank B. Wylie, Jr., of Gamma-Theta.

◆ IN DECEMBER 1935, the donor of the Best All-Around Chapter Award suggested to the Supreme Council of Pi Kappa Alpha that such an award was needed and offered to present a suitable trophy for the purpose. Shortly afterward the Supreme Council accepted.

The award is a very large (18 x 30 inches) bronze plaque mounted on a base of golden oak. It is to be handed down to the winner annually. The inscription reads:

BEST ALL AROUND CHAPTER
Award of Wilson B. Heller
(Alpha-Nu '14)

MORALE-MANAGEMENT-SCHOLARSHIP-ACTIVITIES-STANDING

Spaces are provided upon which may annually be engraved: name of winning chapter, the year, name of the alumnus counsellor and of the District President. After the spaces are filled in for 20 years, the donor has arranged a fund to care for perpetuating the award as long as Pi Kappa Alpha may exist.

In addition to this principal award, certificates will be awarded not only to this winning chapter but also to the first ten chapters and also to all highest ranking district chapters which were not included in the first ten. These certificates will carry signatures of Supreme Councilors, award committee, District President and Alumnus Counsellor.

Reasons for setting up the award were: (1) to settle in our minds which are our strong chapters; (2) to stimulate inter-chapter competition both within each district and nationally; (3) to reward those chapters deserving reward.

The donor made a thorough study of comparable awards in other fraternities and discussed the matter with officials of this and other fraternities. It was decided to base the award upon the following system of points (until such time as a change seems fair or necessary):

- 15—MORALE (spirit; alumni contact).
- 15—SCHOLARSHIP—in competition with competing chapters solely.
- 15—ACTIVITIES (sliding scale of prominence of members).
- 15—STANDING—according to general campus opinion.
- 40—Management, subdivided:
  - 15—PROMPTNESS (in reports and payments to Gen. Off., Nat'l editor, Dist. Pres., Nat'l Historian, etc.)
  - 15—FINANCIAL STABILITY and IMPROVEMENT (Asset accumulating operation, collection and payment of bills, etc.)
  - 10—HOME LIFE (Appearance of House; Manners; Memorabilia Collection).

100—TOTAL POINTS POSSIBLE.

It has been found by other fraternities and by the donor to be not a difficult task to secure sure, fair comparisons and ratings on the above points. It does take a considerable amount of detailed work.

Brother "Bob" McFarland compared all 77 chapters in regard to Promptness and Finances. He knew all the facts here—accurately. All the District Presidents reported a "confidential" comparison of their chapters on many of the points at issue. These reports always will be kept confidential—so that true facts and opinions may be freely given.

The writer considered also his own estimates upon subjects such as standing, morale and home life from personal observation. Oddly, without exception, all matters of opinion were reported approximately alike by the General Office, District Presidents and the donor. In reality only a small percentage of the numerical result attained by each chapter was a matter of opinion. Statistics and facts—and not opinions—largely guide the results procured for determining this award.

Activities ratings were based solely upon proof shown by honors named in SHIELD AND DIAMOND chapter news and there were considered according to their importance. Thus a Student Body President meant more than a letter in archery, a football captaincy more than captaincy of a military company.

Scholarship ratings were made mechanically and based on inverse proportion to the position of any chapter among the social fraternities rated by the National Interfraternity Conference report. Nine IKA chapters are located in colleges which do not report to the National Interfraternity Conference. In four instances college officials furnished a comparative report of fraternities on this campus. But in five cases no report was procurable and the 85 possible points of these chapters were scaled up to 100.

Morale is largely a matter of opinion—what percent members bend their energies to unselfish fraternity work.

Standing was based on the unbiased opinions of many on each campus who knew not to what fraternity the questioner belonged and who were not allowed to name their own. This is the method used by the donor of the award to secure his list of "strongest" and "weakest" on each of 222 campuses on which there are two or more national social chapters. Even the districts may be compared by merely adding up points of its chapters.

Conditions of the donation of best chapter award were: (1) Pass on annually; (2) Based on "qualities" and "percentages" approximately as shown above; (3) Start in 1935-36 school year; (4) Award made by Committee of One—to have undivided authority and responsibility; (5) Award Committee to be named by donor as long as he desires but to be approved by the Supreme Council; (6) Award results to be published in the SHIELD AND DIAMOND; (7) Ratings to be published in this report; (8) District President and Alumni Counselor to be named upon plaque at each winning; (9) Certificates to First Ten and to each District Winner.

At the 1936 Convention at New Orleans the 1935-36 award was given to Gamma-Theta at Mississippi State College although the complete scholarship reports countrywide were not available until the following December. A certified report showed them to rank first of seven on their campus in that line. Hence it was impossible for them not to win the plaque as they already led their nearest rival (Beta of Davidson) by 6½ points.

After this Convention the new Supreme Council decided to not allow items 6, 7, 9 in next paragraph above. They rescinded most of this in August 1937 but yet do not permit publication of itemized rat-

Observations on the 1935-36 Best All-Around Award

By the Award Committee

◆ IT MAY BE many years before a chapter again equals the 91.5 point total of Mississippi State.

Davidson and Presbyterian are rivals in the District and in athletics. It was close between these two for second and third.

With good scholarship Washington & Lee could have been fourth instead of 7th. Florida could easily have been second instead of fifth by having had an SMC who made his sub-officers get reports and monies in on time, and, with a little better Scholarship.

Washington State is the only Pacific Coast chapter above 35th and only chapter we have anywhere to score over 15 points on any one quality. They got 16 points on Finances because of an extra 3 points for the best operating Building Fund Accumulating system of any chapter we have.

There will be some mighty big changes in position in the '36-'37 report which will appear in an early issue. Some of the mighty have fallen and some not even seen on this chart will be in the top ten.

The fractions appearing in the Scholarship column are the rank and the number of national social chapters on campus belonging to the N. I. C. Thus at Mississippi State the figure reads: 1/7. This means Gamma-Theta chapter was first among seven.

Most of our chapters in Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia have a mark of 10 or higher under Standing, meaning they are among the strongest.

Point totals of some Districts are ruined by some one very low chapter. Districts 11, 12, 5, 4 and 9 would each have a very much higher point total but for one chapter in each.

There is a possibility that one chapter in the 77 will this year jump about 40 places from last year's position. Several will jump 30 positions. One will fall off as many.

Districts 11 and 5 each had three chapters in the top ten. District 9 had two. Two chapters were rated as low as ½ on Home Life (house appearance, manners, memorabilia). A single chapter got as low as 1 on Finances. One very active chapter received a total of minus 1½ on Promptness, because they just wouldn't send in reports—S. & D. news and historical report all were missing.

In Activities, three chapters received a zero, several received 2 or 3 out of a possible 15.

In Scholarship IKA does not rate very high among the fraternities for '35-'36 as shown by the N. I. C. report. It would seem that this will improve rapidly in next few years' reports.

ings nor of point totals of any chapters except those receiving certificates. Nor can winner be named in a District with two or less chapters. It was stated that a few members of a few chapters objecting to seeing their situation printed.

Practically any question of general importance concerning any chapter receiving a certificate can be answered by studying the accompanying report chart. It would be interesting for the reader to see the itemized reports of each of the 77 chapters in order of their AWARD RESULT STANDING. For example in general as chapters rate lower toward this award they also rate lower in each of the 7 columns of credits on this chart. It is even noticeable with only 22 listed in accompanying chart.

Our scholarship director, Dean Massey, will smile to see that as chapters become All-Around weaker they become weaker in scholarship. Of course he has known this for a long time—that low scholarship goes hand-in-hand with the weaker characterized average member and with weaker chapters.

Our departure only is made from the 0 to 15 point possibility for each chapter on the seven qualities in the chart. Some allowance is made for amount of competition. Chapters at colleges with four or less comparable chapters were given a maximum of 13 possible points in several of the qualities judged. Where there were from five to 12 campus social chapters, 14 was set as the maximum points obtainable in many columns. Over 12 chapters premitted full 15 points.

While this seems a handicap to, we will say, Millsaps, nevertheless it is much easier to be first in Scholarship. Standing and Activities with only three rivals than it is with 34 rivals as at Wisconsin. Further let us not forget too that it means slightly more in some respects to possess a top chapter at a college with 45 fraternity chapters than it does to be top where there are only four on the campus, even tho the smaller college chapter will probably average a higher percentage of fraternity-loving members.

In other fraternities where such an award has been made, the publicity of same has brought about the greatest spur to inter-chapter competition (especially inside the Districts) in the fraternity's history. Let's hope the same comes to us. Since posting of complete itemized data (except Scholarship) for the 77 chapters for this year of 1935-36 on the wall of the assembly room at the 1936 Convention, the donor has been continually flooded with letters concerning future winning by chapters (as written by ambitious members), queries concerning present status, etc. This is a good sign. The weakling wants to improve. He wants to correct errors of commission which placed his chapter in a bad spot.

The award committee will take all raps on his shoulders. To date but one adverse criticism has come to the committee's ears directly—and that from a member of a chapter rated 72nd without the Scholarships points counted. Scholarship reports showed this chapter to 74th position among 77. For, his chapter was next to last among 15 on the campus.

Districts Presidents might get someone to donate a trophy or award to go annually to their winning chapter. Some day we will have an award probably for chapter making greatest improvement in position in one year—one jumping most positions from one year's award to the next.

Perhaps an award should go to the District President whose District leads. Certainly if he has been District President for any considerable period of time. Some District Presidents are prompt, some are not about reports and inspections. Some make their chapters obey laws, others do not. Some give their chapters constructive help, others help make social calls. He who gets results should be awarded.

Seamon Enters Air Corps

By Robert W. Cyester, AP, Ohio State

◆ ALTHOUGH Alpha-Rho gained glory and numbers with the opening of the current school year it also lost a valuable part of its chapter, when Walter E. Seamon, Jr., president of the chapter, left for the Army Air Corps training school at Randolph Field, Texas.

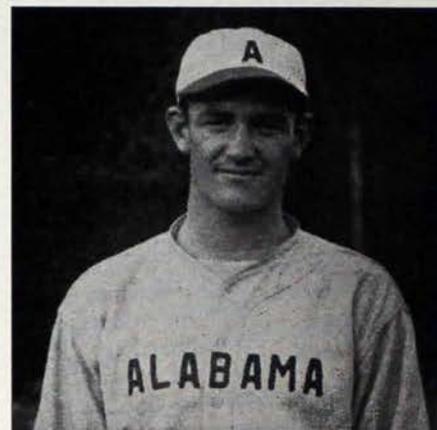

"Pappy" Seamon's work for his fraternity made his loss keenly felt. He was feted with a farewell banquet upon his departure and presented with the outgoing SMC key and a ΠΚΑ ring by the active and pledge chapter combined.

Seamon is a member of an old army family, having been in the tank corps at Ft. Benning, Ga., prior to his coming to O. S. U. His father is Maj. Walter E. Seamon, stationed at Ft. Hayes in Columbus.

Rogers' Pitching High

◆ LEFTY LEE ROGERS, GA, one-time Crimson Tide ace hurler, was one of the leading pitchers in the Southern Baseball Association last season. He won 14 and lost 8 for the Little Rock Travelers.

Lee was the hero of the first half of the Shaugnessy play-off when he hurled a two-hitter to blank the New Orleans Pelicans, the fourth place group, to give the Travelers a 3-to-1 decision of the series, and the privilege to meet Atlanta in the Southern Association finals.

Lee Rogers, as he appeared when pitching for Alabama.

The finals went the full seven games, Rogers not being used until the rubber game, when he stepped in and set the Atlanta Crackers down for a decisive Traveler win.

Lee has announced that he will stay in Little Rock this winter and enter the life insurance business.

While an the University campus, Rogers was regarded as the most popular athlete in school. He made OAK, national honorary fraternity, and was one the honor committee in the school of education.

Boast New Furniture Set

By Harold Bound, IZ

◆ ABOUT THE TIME Carnarvon was ghouling around in Tut-Ankh-Amen's grave, the IZ's of Wittenberg purchased some upholstered furniture which in recent years assumed a lugubrious appearance.

But this fall new furniture decorates the downstairs rooms, acquired at bargain prices.

A faculty member at Wittenberg was leaving for Washington, D. C., and relinquished the following pieces which now add much to the IZ house: A davenport with matched chair, a pull-up chair, two bridge lamps and a table lamp, a tea table, a secretary set; a kitchen locker; and a banjo clock.

Football Color Painted by IKA for Grid Programs

Lon Keller, IKA artist who fashions those colorful football programs for big college games.

Symbol of public attention on football is this hefty halfback breaking into the fall calendar.

◆ No DOUBT when you attended a football game this fall, you noticed that the program had a colorful cover showing a blue-clad halfback crashing through the October page of the calendar.

Or a cover showing a red-shirted stalwart running heroically across a map of the United States.

Or another, showing the strained expression on the faces of kicker and quarterback, as they make good the try for point-after-touchdown.

If you have, you are only one of over two million people who each year have seen—and bought—the football programs for which H. Alonzo Keller, AX, '29, has designed and painted the covers.

Lon Keller, as one of the recent Syracuse University graduates who has made good in his chosen work, confined all his campus activities to the art field that was later to be the means of bringing in his bread and butter.

At Syracuse, he was art editor of the yearbook and of Orange Peel, the comic magazine; also art director for Boar's Head, dramatic society, and Tamborine and Bones, musical comedy society.

Keller didn't have much difficulty getting a job after graduation. He became connected with a New York publishing house, which unfortunately hit the rocks along with the stock market. After that, he took a position and continued with post graduate art work at the University of Pennsylvania, doing freelance painting for whatever market made itself available.

It was not until 1933 that Keller struck out as a full-time, free-lance artist doing work for various advertisers and agencies. Among the accounts using his are work were the Sun Oil Co., Community Jewelers, and Keystone Automobile Club.

About that time, Keller began specializing in football program covers—striking action figures in water colors and oils. He designed special covers for the Army-Navy game as well as the major games of Pennsylvania, Princeton, and other Eastern universities.

This was a big step forward, and if you look up the people who have been chosen to do Army-Navy program covers you will find that it was Robert Foster in 1934, Lon Keller in 1935, Howard Chandler Christy in 1936, and Percy Crosby in 1937.

Splashing color depicts the team symbols of Stanford and Columbia (left) while the Army and Navy forever are brought together in the program cover at right.

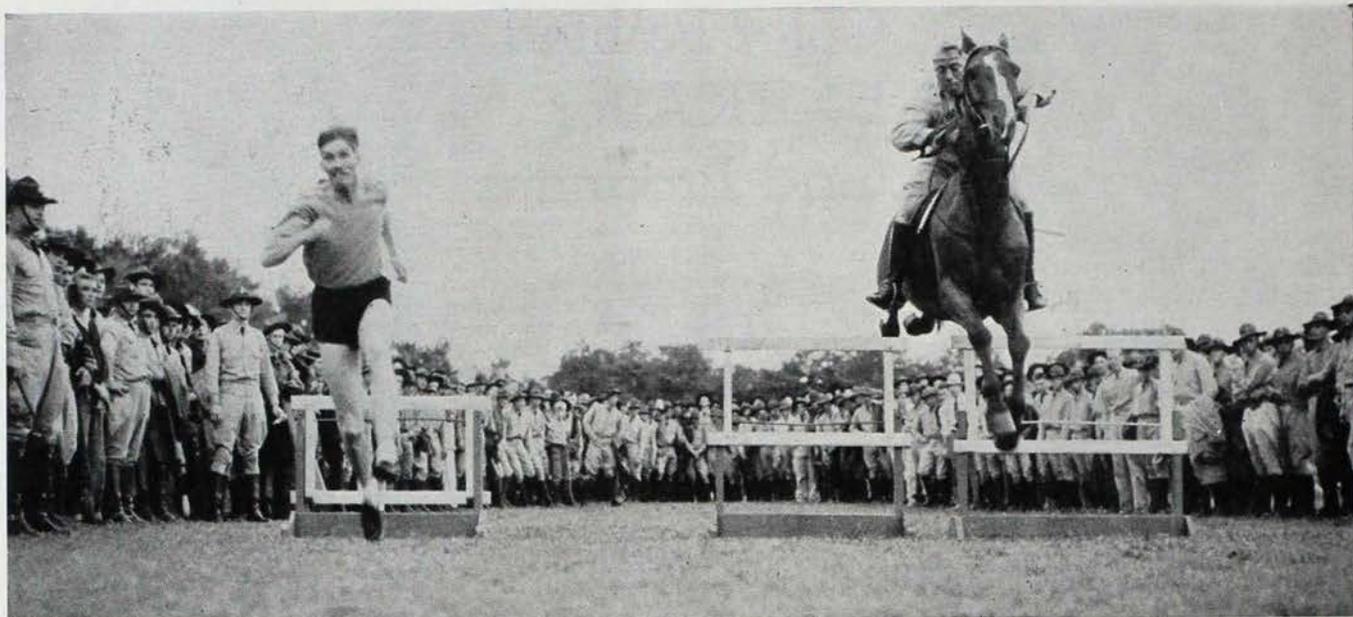

Keller is now connected with Athletic Printing Service, Inc., of Philadelphia, Pa., a company which today prints four-color football program covers, with a high standard of professional art work, that are used by over 250 schools, large and small, throughout the country. He is the leading artist in this field—each year his designs have proven to be the best sellers—and each year the mails bring eloquent testimony to the fact that people are buying more programs, because the attractive covers which Keller produces makes the program more appealing to the football fan who wants a souvenir of the game.

If you want to get an idea of the extent to which Lon Keller's work has spread and is known, it should be pointed out that of the complete list of colleges and universities at which Pi Kappa Alpha has chapters, only seventeen of these schools

Reveals Eskimo Findings

◆ THERE IS no doubt that the Eskimos of Alaska and Canada came from Northern Eurasia (Europe and Asia) and were perhaps the first North American immigrants, it was announced recently at Washington, D. C., by Henry B. Collins, Jr., AI, assistant curator of ethnology of Smithsonian Institution.

Dr. Collins said, according to press dispatches, that the expedition of the summer of 1936 to St. Lawrence Island, Bering Sea, which he headed, found new evidence that the Eskimos not only migrated from Siberia as far as Greenland, but then turned back and moved to Alaska. The result, he said, was a mixture of cultures which puzzled archeologists and ethnologists for almost a century.

His study, issued by the institution at the time of the dispatches, was awarded a gold medal of the Royal Danish Academy of Science and Letters.—(THE SHIELD AND DIAMOND, October, 1936.)

He said that two great waves of culture undoubtedly moved from Asia—one of coast dwellers, who wrested their living from the Sea; the other of inland forest hunters. Alaska Eskimos still show traces of both cultures, mixed and changed.

An article by Dr. Collins on his work is expected to appear shortly in the National Geographic Magazine. The National Geographic Society sponsored his 1936 expedition, along with Smithsonian.

Start of the Man vs. Horse race at Ft. Oglethorpe, when Towns beat Tommy Roberts.

◆ VOTED THE MOST outstanding member of the C. M. T. C. camp at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., last summer, Forrest (Spec) Towns, AM, Georgia's superb timber-topper who has out-raced the best the world had to offer over the low hurdles, also outran a cavalry horse in the feature event of a field day celebration at the fort.

Before a huge crowd of spectators, newspaper reporters, photographers and news reel men, Towns was off to a fast start over the cavalry horse "Tommy Roberts."

Although the wet turf slowed up the Georgia hurler considerably, Towns held his lead. He staged a desperate drive in the last 25 yards to nose the horse out. Another 10 yards and "Tommy Roberts" might have been the victor.

A few minutes prior to his hurdle race with the horse, Towns out-ran six camp mates in the 100-yard dash, doing the century over the rain-soaked turf in 10 seconds flat.

The Georgia marvel trotted across the field from the hurdle race to win the high-jump at six feet.

Apparently not fatigued by participation in these three events, the freckle-faced Olympic champion then ran as anchor man on a relay team, finishing well out in front.

Towns won the heart of newspaper men as well as the crowd by his willingness to be interviewed and photographed and to autograph innumerable programs.

Speaks at Homecoming

◆ DR. CHARLES RICHARD BUGG, I, '16, was one of the speakers at the Hampden-Sydney Homecoming on Saturday, Oct. 16.

Dr. Bugg was prominent in all branches of activity at Hampden-Sydney College, being voted the best all-round man in college in his senior year. He starred on the football field, where his exceptional drop-kicking was responsible for several Hampden-Sydney victories. He was editor-in-chief of the Kaleidoscope, valedictorian of his class and a member of the glee club and the Philathropic Literary Society. In addition, he won the Denny track trophy and was captain of the baseball team.

After graduation from Hampden-Sydney, Dr. Bugg entered the Army in November, 1917, serving as a trainer for replacement troops. When he received his discharge, he took a medical course at Johns Hopkins University and started practicing as a specialist in children's diseases in Raleigh, N. C., where he has remained to the present.

St. Louis Alumni Name 30th Head

◆ WHEN RAYMOND X. GRUENINGER, BA, was elected president of the St. Louis alumni chapter, Alumnus Alpha-Nu, Oct. 18, he was the thirtieth man to take the chair in the chapter's 18 years of continuous history.

His election called attention to the record of all chapter officers which has been kept by a charter member from the earliest days of the group. The record showed that Grueninger's predecessor, Francis F. Kernan, BA, was the first man ever re-elected president (with one unusual exception), as it has always been the custom to rotate the office as a means of maintaining interest. Kernan also holds the record for length of time in official positions—seven years.

While alumni of Beta-Lambda (Washington University) and Alpha-Nu (University of Missouri) naturally have predominated among the officers, 10 other chapters which have been represented in the official roll were: Pi (Washington and Lee), Beta-Gamma (University of Kansas), Alpha-Omega (Kansas State), Beta-Eta (University of Illinois), Alpha-Kappa (Rolla), Beta-Beta (University of Washington), Beta-Omicron (University of Oklahoma), Omega (University of Kentucky), Alpha-Omicron (Southwestern University) and Beta-Theta (Cornell).

Sectional or chapter feeling never has sprung up in the alumni chapter and consequently it has never been necessary to allot offices among the men of various colleges. The new set of officers all were graduated from Washington University.

Kernan was re-elected president because of his willing and efficient service and as a compliment to his long-standing interest in the chapter. From the time of the chapter's establishment, early in 1920, until the autumn of 1931 it was the practice to elect new officers every six months. Then, in the latter part of 1931, an unscheduled election was held and J. Hardin

Smith, BA, was made president, being re-elected the following spring. In November, 1932, there was another election and since then the elections have been held annually.

Informality in these matters has been possible because the Committee on Constitution and By-Laws, appointed at the first meeting, in 1920, has not yet presented its report. The chapter has a standing joke about referring troublesome questions to this committee.

Presidents, in order from the beginning, have been: W. D. Adams, II, and Joseph A. Sheehan (former National Alumnus Secretary), AN, 1920; Frank R. Eversole (former District Princeps), AN, and Walter J. Haddaway, AN, 1921; K. G. Coffman, AN, and George W. Gladding, AN, 1922; T. S. Morgan, BH, and Ben S. Cornwell, AK, 1923; George L. Stemmler (former head of the National Endowment Committee), BA, and Arthur A. Jordan, BA, 1924, the year of the St. Louis national convention; Alfred H. Norrish, BA, and Richard G. Baumhoff (associate editor of THE SHIELD AND DIAMOND and former District Princeps), BA, 1925; Dr. F. B. Zener, BB, and R. P. Buchmueller, BA, 1926; Raymond W. Brown, AN, and James Ballard, AN, 1927; W. E. H. Knight, AK, and R. R. Casteel, AN, 1928; Sam B. Armstrong, AN, and Fred P. Conrath, BA, 1929; John F. Wilkinson (former District President), BO, and the late Henry N. Eversole (former Grand Chancellor and District Princeps), 1930; John L. Gilmore, BA, Dr. H. Gordon Fisher, Strauss Portrait.

BA, and J. Hardin Smith BA, 1931; Smith and Joseph B. Wentker, BA, 1932; R. S. Wobus, BA, 1933-34; George B. Marsh (former District Princeps), AO, 1934-35; Francis F. Kernan, BA, 1935-36 and 1936-37; Raymond X. Grueninger, BA, 1937-38.

In the same period, 28 men from six chapters have been vice presidents. The only ones ever re-elected were Grueninger, who served from 1935 until this autumn, and Carl G. Heidbreder, AN, who served both terms in 1923. Thirteen vice presidents became presidents.

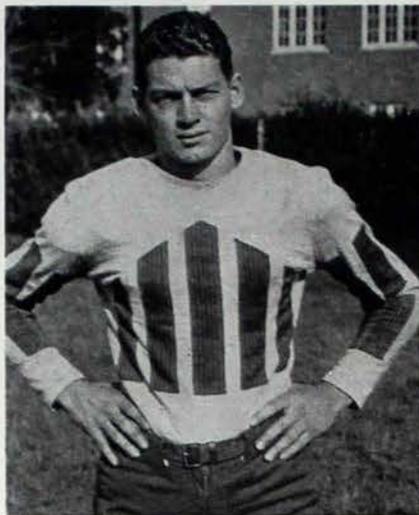

The treasurer for the first five terms was Hollis F. Marsh, BF, while for the next eight terms, or four years, R. H. Schneider, BH, held the office. Later, Cornwell filled it for three terms. Until the summer of 1928 there was a separate position of secretary. Among those filling it, who were re-elected, were Kernan, three terms; Robert W. Tiernan, O, three terms, Edgar H. Schwarzenbach, BA, two terms, and Richard G. Baumhoff, BA, five terms. Baumhoff previously had been corresponding secretary for five terms, after which that office was abolished.

Since the summer of 1928 the demanding detail work has been combined in the office of secretary-treasurer, held for the first seven terms, or three and one-half years, by Kernan. Eight others have followed in that job, including Grueninger and another who later became president, Wobus.

All told, 57 different men have been elected to the various offices in the 18 years. One or more are dead; some have disappeared, as far as their old colleagues know now; time and the depression have scattered a number about the country, but many are still in St. Louis, including a number still active in alumni affairs. Many of the charter members have left the city.

Never once has the chapter failed to hold a well-attended Founders' day dinner. A list of several hundred IKA's residing in the city and suburbs has been set up, thanks to painstaking work of the officers, but only those who have showed signs of interest have been kept on the mailing list.

Present officers, besides President Grueninger, are Earl McLeod, BA, vice president, and Elliott P. Koenig, BA, secretary-treasurer. This history of continuous activity is published to stimulate interest among alumni elsewhere.

Football Programs Colorful

have not used football program covers designed by Keller.

Lon Keller is quite serious about his covers. He attends the University of Pennsylvania games at Franklin Field each season. He watches the Penn varsity practice in the hope of catching a glimpse of some action which would make a smashing, dynamic design. He studies photographs of action scenes taken at games; he puzzles over ideas that will help him to fill a cover with the excitement of crowd background without taking attention away from the central action on the football field. He experiments with colors and with perspective in designing football program covers and posters.

If you draw him out, he will confess to you that he is devoting his spare time to preparing for his marriage, which is to take place this coming January, when he will move from Philadelphia to New York.

So the next time you attend a game and buy a program, be sure to notice the artist's name on the cover. The chances are nine out of ten that it will be H. Alonzo Keller.

Mothers' Clubs Active

◆ THE MOTHERS' CLUB of Nashville met at the Chapter House at noon, Oct. 6. Mrs. James L. Lauderdale is president of the organization. Mrs. C. S. Pigg, the house mother, told of the needs of the chapter. A social hour was held at the close of the business meeting and refreshments were served informally.

OMICRON CHAPTER Pi Kappa Alpha Mothers' Club met Oct. 11 at the home of Mrs. M. S. Gartright, 1219 Stanhope Ave., Richmond. The newly elected officers are Mrs. J. D. Clark, hospitality.

THE MOTHERS' AND WIVES' CLUB of the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity at Northwestern University held their first meeting of the fall on Oct. 11, at the new chapter house on Lincoln St., Evanston. Mrs. John Rygel, of Winnetka, Ill., is the president.

The club made a tour of inspection of the newly completed $40,000 house. The club furnished drapes and curtains, Mrs. Hans Matson of Evanston, being chairman of the committee which selected and made the curtains. Mrs. Oliver Shabino of Wilmette, secretary of the club, introduced new members, mothers of freshmen who have been pledged by the Fraternity this semester. Refreshments were served by the chapter, in appreciation of the assistance given them by the club during the construction of the new house.

THE PI KAPPA ALPHA MOTHERS' CLUB of Salt Lake met for luncheon at the chapter house on Oct. 7. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Herman Bodmer, Mrs. Carl Scott, Mrs. Earl J. Glade and Mrs. W. M. Williams. Miss Lisle Bradford (not related to a IKA) told of her recent trip to the Orient, particularly of the hostilities in China near Peking and Tientsin.

THE PI KAPPA ALPHA WIVES' CLUB of Salt Lake met at the home of Mrs. Harold Boyer, 1405 Bryan Ave., Salt Lake City on Oct. 6. Mrs. Theron S. Palmilee gave a book revue. Mrs. Paul Buehner, Mrs. Earl J. Glade and Mrs. DeWitt Paul assisted the hostess.

THE PI KAPPA ALPHA MOTHERS' AND WIVES' CLUB of Columbus, Ohio, held a meeting and tea on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 12 at the chapter house. Mrs. Paul Crider and Mrs. Robert Nihart were hostesses.

THE MOTHERS' CLUB of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity at Howard College, Birmingham, met Oct. 15, at the chapter house. Plans were completed for the tea to be given soon honoring members of the Fraternity and their pledges.

Mrs. Roy Hickman, national chairman of the Mothers' and Wives' Clubs, who recently returned from a European trip, presented an unusual brass bowl to the chapter house. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. L. D. Wyers.

NO MAN has a good enough memory to make a successful liar.—ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

◆ CLIFFORD A. FAUST, AΦ, '27, re-elected president of Eta Kappa Nu, electrical engineering fraternity, has shown real ability as a fraternity organizer, as well as in his profession.

He is in the advertising department of the Ohio Brass Co., Mansfield, O., formerly having been associate editor of the Transit Journal (the old Electric Railway Journal) for McGraw-Hill Publishing Co., New York.

Of the dynamic type, quick to turn thought into action, he seems to have an inexhaustible capacity for work.

His re-election followed two terms as a national officer, and during this period many activities of permanent value to the organization were undertaken. A survey of all electrical engineering departments in the country, involving a study of curricula, faculty, scholastic requirements and many other factors, was one of his first moves. With the information obtained, negotiations were opened or revived for securing worthy chapters.

Two years ago Eta Kappa Nu established an "Award for Young Electrical Engineers" to provide a means of honoring men, graduated not more than 10 years, who had distinguished themselves in their profession and by active participation in civic and organization affairs.

In the field of employment, Faust has been responsible for hundreds of members and non-members securing work or better positions. He developed a plan in New York which alone aided more than 100 men to get located during the three years he supervised this activity. The plan was adopted by other alumni chapters, by two Federal employment offices, by several individual groups, and even by one social fraternity. In national office he encouraged all of the college chapters to start employment campaigns for seniors, and this work has been very successful.

During his first two years, alumni chapters were established in Cleveland, Washington and Detroit, increasing the number of chapters from 8 to 11. At present 52 per cent of Eta Kappa Nu's 6,300 alumni are served by live alumni chapters.

To provide a stimulus to electrical students to attain a high record of scholarship, a booklet was prepared which sets forth the purposes and accomplishments of Eta Kappa Nu.

Directing Genius of Electrical Fraternity Is Iowa State I K A

Clifford A. Faust, president of Eta Kappa Nu, who has done an outstanding job of organization for the fraternity.

This is distributed to all freshmen at colleges with a chapter. Another booklet with similar content is given to upperclassmen elected to membership to enable them to appraise the organization before joining.

Other accomplishments during his term include: reducing the number of incorrect addresses of members from 1142 to less than 50; improving the content and appearance of The Bridge, the official publication; increasing subscriptions to The Bridge; instituting a life subscription plan; preparing a geographical directory of members; reducing initiation fees and at the same time putting the organization on a paying basis; revising the ritual and initiation ceremony to make it more impressive; defining more clearly the requirements for various grades of membership; placing a national scholarship restriction policy in effect, and sponsoring an extensive program of co-operation with the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, both in the colleges and with the national organization.

For four years he held successively the four offices of the New York alumni chapter of Eta Kappa Nu, from secretary to chairman of the advisory board. When he was president of the New York alumni in 1932-33 the attendance record was almost doubled, reaching, with guests, 1,295 for the season.

Some of the inducements to attendance offered were: A trip backstage at Radio City Music Hall—this set a high record of 450 for a single meeting; talks by Amelia Earhart and persons noted in electrical engineering; a dinner dance on the S. S. Vulcania; inspection of a big brewery with free beer; a visit to the New York Police Museum and Radio Station. Preferences of the membership as to type of programs were determined through an elaborate questionnaire, which continues to furnish guidance.

The chapter accumulated funds for purchase of addressograph plates for its entire mailing list of 500 alumni, payment of expenses of its Employment Committee, purchase of its first Merit Award plaque and still there was a surplus.

Other accomplishments of his administration included, according to The Bridge of Eta Kappa Nu: Chapter handbook of instructions and suggestions; rewriting of the by-laws; development of improved meeting notices; launching of the employment plan, which has met with much success, and sponsorship of the New York Advisory Council.

For two years Faust was associate editor of The Bridge, to which he has contributed numerous articles

Born at Bellevue, Iowa, in 1905, he was class president at high school there for three years and led in scholarship. Graduating from high school at Pasadena, Cal., he won a gold medal award for scholarship.

At Iowa State College, where he earned a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering, he was near the top of his class. He was head cheer leader, junior manager of varsity basketball, worked on four publications, being editor-in-chief of one for four years; belonged to two journalistic and three honorary fraternities, was S.M.C. of the I K A chapter in his senior year, and served on the Interfraternity Council and the yearbook board.

THE RECENT Delta Upsilon convention recommended to the board of directors that it work out a plan for interchange of chapter scholarships and that it put in operation a plan to loan chapters not to exceed $2,500, to be liquidated in installments of not more than three years

Check-Up Week Seeks Revenue

♦ "THE LARGEST source of 'lost revenue' for our chapters is from members leaving school without paying their debts . . . Many of Pi Kappa Alpha's money troubles come because members leave school owing money, then forget they owe it; and in later years, records are incomplete and sometimes wrong, leaving room for doubt; and because the Fraternity lacks formal acknowledgment of the debt."

Those were the explanatory sentences which introduced District Presidents, S. M. C.'s, and alumni to the first annual "Financial Check-Up Week" which was inaugurated by the Supreme Council of Pi Kappa Alpha late last spring, under direction of National Treasurer Walter F. Coxe.

The primary purpose of the campaign was to collect current and past due accounts for the active chapters, and the two-fold aim of the drive was (1) to secure from the member a definite acknowledgment of his outstanding indebtedness to the chapter at the end of the school session, and (2) to increase the possibility of collecting the account by determining some definite manner of liquidating it.

Alumnus Counselors, on direction of the District Presidents, worked with the S. M. C.'s and financial officers of the chapters by talking with each individual who owed the chapter any amount of money. Each case was handled individually, and any unusual circumstances surrounding any indebtedness was handled without embarrassment to the member. In every case an understanding was reached whereby the member made definite arrangements to care for his indebtedness at specified dates.

The National Treasurer supplied blank note forms, and when the member could not make an immediate cash payment, he signed a note for the amount due, at the same time signing an acknowledgment of items covered by the indebtedness.

One of the first chapters to report on the results of this plan and one which reported probably the greatest amount of immediate success was Alpha-Iota at Millsaps College, Jackson, Miss. About $200 in cash was collected and definite promises for 95% of the remainder of the $600 due Alpha-Iota was obtained.

During the summer months, Alpha-Iota officials contacted the members on the dates on which the notes fell due, and in practically every case the note was paid in full. As a result, members of this chapter have begun the new year with a substantial cash reserve.

This follow-up work during the summer was an important part of the program and was in line with a letter issued to all chapters by Executive Secretary McFarland early in the summer which stated in part, "I believe that it would be very helpful to you in your pledge work if prospective pledges knew that they were not coming into a chapter where they will be burdened with a portion of the unpaid obligations of present or alumni members."

Chapter officers and advisors have an excellent opportunity this year to keep their members' accounts paid up. It is not yet too late for members to sign notes acknowledging last year's debts, and plans can now be effectively laid to make Financial Check-Up Week next spring 100 per cent effective for every chapter.

Active in Illini Affairs

Deneen A. Watson

R. M. Lawson

♦ Two IKA's are prominent in alumni activities of the University of Illinois. Deneen A. Watson, BH, '24, is president of the Chicago Illini Club, one of the largest and most active of the Illinois alumni organizations. The club has staged many notable gatherings in its history, among which is an annual football dinner for members of the Illinois gridiron squad. This year the dinner was to be held on Dec. 2, especially honoring Robert C. Zuppke, Illini football coach who is celebrating his twenty-fifth year at Illinois.

Ralph M. Lawson, BH, 27, is secretary-treasurer of the Detroit Illini Club. He is with the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., in Detroit.

Heads Pharmacists

♦ DR. WILLIAM G. CROCKETT, I. '12, professor of pharmacy at the National College of Virginia, Richmond, and an analytical and consulting chemist, recently was elected president of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy.

He is also a member of the revision committee of the United States Pharmacopoeia, the great standardizing body for medicinal drugs, and a member of the board of reviews of the Journal of the American Pharmaceutical Association.

Educated primarily at Hampden-Sydney College, in Virginia, he later obtained a Master's degree at New York University and the degree of Doctor of Pharmacy at Columbia University.

Before entering the teaching profession he was a chemist for the New York City health department, for the widely known medical house of E. R. Squibb & Sons and for the famous Du Pont concern. During the World War he served in the analytical research division of the Army's Chemical Warfare Service at Washington, D. C.

In 1919 he became professor of pharmacy at Baylor University, Dallas, Tex., and the next year moved to his present position at Richmond. At various times he has been chairman of the section of practical pharmacy and dispensing of the American Association of College of Pharmacy and editor of the Bulletin and chairman of the Virginia section of the American Chemical Society.

Publicity for Police Chiefs

Harold E. ("Pete") Green FP, of Chicago, has left the Pure Milk Association, where he was publicity director and editor of the association house organ, to take a similar position with the Safety Division of the International Association of Chiefs of Police in Evanston. This association is affiliated with Northwestern University. His new job will not interfere with Green's office as president of the Chicago House Organ Editors' Association, although he will not issue a house organ for the Safety Division.

It is interesting to note, in connection with the opening of a new house by the Northwestern chapter, that their present house is next door to the Police Chiefs.

N'Orleans Alumni Ballyhoo Big Picnic

By Harvey T. Newell, Jr., Associate Editor

◆ IT ALL BEGAN with a short five-line mimeograph bulletin sent to the Board of Directors of the New Orleans alumni chapter last May. No one dreamed that this little note could cause such a series of rapid-fire events. No one dreamed that the battery of mimeographed bulletins which were sprinkled all through the Garnet and Gold populace of the Crescent City would bring such remarkable results. In fact, no one dreamed that when the little scheme was carried through, a perfect pattern for other active and alumni chapters would be the result.

But here we have the case history of a New Orleans alumni picnic from start to finish.

The remarkable thing about this picnic was not the fact that a swell time was had by all or that "Cigar" Mabry's "Million Dollar Outfield" beat (or was beat by, as the case may be) active Eta's baseball team. The astounding fact about the picnic was that its promoters rigged up a home-made propaganda machine that can't be beat. The first five-line notice was followed by an immediate succession of seven varied bulletins—all inexpensively mimeographed—which really brought the desired results.

The little note which started the ball rolling simply stated:

"Brother Harry Hammet has called a meeting of the Board of Directors of Pi Kappa Alpha for Monday, May 3rd, at Arnaud's Restaurant, at 12 o'clock noon. There are several important matters to be discussed which necessitate a full attendance. Please make every effort to be present.

"(Signed) A. Brown Moore, Secretary."

And so on May 3 the Directors met and among the "important matters" decided was that the alumni would work with the local chapter and the Mothers' Club and hold an all day picnic on Sunday, May 23.

The next move was a mimeographed, fancily headed bulletin from Secretary Moore to all New Orleans alumni giving the details of the picnic.

Reading in Bulletin No. 1 of the "big ball game," Brother Carl J. Mabry, AI, on his own initiative and at his own expense, sent out a two-page bulletin offering his "million dollar outfield" to the

On Hospital Staff

Interne at Nashville hospital is Dr. S. C. Garvin, former University of Kentucky athlete.

◆ DR. S. C. GARVIN, Ω, has been appointed to the interne staff of the General Hospital in Nashville, Tenn., oral surgery department.

Dr. Garvin received his academic training at the University of Kentucky and the University of Pennsylvania. While at Kentucky he was active in athletics, receiving his letter in freshman football and playing on the varsity the second year.

Upon the completion of his pre-dental course he entered the University of Tennessee college of dentistry in 1933 and was graduated in 1937 with a D.D.S. degree. Dr. Garvin was active in campus activities, holding one of the three class offices each of the four years in school. He is a member of ΨΩ, dental fraternity.

fans as well as the players a million dollars worth of fun, and "Cigar" Mabry's publicity stunt was worth a million dollars to the success of the Covington picnic—and can be worth at least a half-million dollars to any other IKA affair.

The third announcement was one sent by Secretary Moore on May 18—just five days before the party—answering such questions as where, when, rides, family, food, drink, etc. Most important part of this bulletin, however, was a detailed map showing just how to get to the picnic grounds.

On the next day, the Mothers' Club, not to be outdone by their Garnet and Gold menfolk, published a very enticing bulletin entitled "Play a Day at Monserrat." This letter was signed by Mrs. F. E. LeLaurin, president.

The actives of Eta were busy on that same day, too. They had been contracting with "Big Bill" Green, father of one of Eta's members and operator of a food shop, and on May 19 they were able to mail out a bulletin giving a menu for the picnic. Listed were three lunches which could be purchased from Green's at prices ranging from 25 to 50 cents.

Last, longest, and loudest was a legal-size "extra" sent out on May 20 and containing three "news stories" ballyhooing the baseball game. The top part of the sheet was a "flash" with a screaming headline "Charges Plot to Bribe Umpire for Big Game Sunday at Pi Kappa Alpha Picnic."

In the middle of the page, separated from the foregoing "news" by a line: "FLASH! . . . FLASH! . . . FLASH", appeared an article headlined "Hammett Selects Leander Perez to Captain Alumni Ball Team; Hammet to Play Third."

The last bit of the "extra" was a "SUPER-FLASH" and chronicled "Perez Hires $1,000,000 Outfield on Condition their Manager Umpires."

And thus did the New Orleans brothers show all active and alumni chapters throughout the nation what a mimeograph machine, a good imagination, a roll of stamps, and a little hard work can do toward the success of a Pi Kappa Alpha social function—picnic or otherwise.

IKA's Newspaper Wins U. S. Laurels

◆ IF YOU WERE to take a look in on community life at St. Cloud, Minn., you immediately would find that much of the activity revolves about the personage of Harold L. Shoelkopf, BX, managing editor of the St. Cloud Times-Journal.

What you will observe became manifest in 1928, when Shoelkopf, then only 28 years old, was elected to a four-year term in the city council, and it became accentuated the next year when he was chosen president, for three years, of the board of education. Next, he was made part-time professor at St. Cloud State Teachers College and president of the St. Cloud Civil Service Commission.

And just two years ago signal professional recognition came his way. The St. Cloud Times-Journal, nightly newspaper, of which he became managing editor in 1923, came a threefold winner in the National Editorial Association contest — an unprecedented event. Citations were given as being the year's best news-sheet in general production, community leadership, general excellence.

Reason for all this is that ever since anyone can remember Schoelkopf has been a newshawk, a doer of community deeds. Almost as soon as the University of Minnesota had accepted his St. Paul High School graduation certificate, he was finding a place for himself in student life. As time moved along he emerged as editor-in-chief of the Minnesota Daily, as associate editor of the Gopher, yearbook, as undergraduate editor of the Minnesota Alumni Weekly, as organizer and first editor of Ski-U-Mah, monthly humor magazine. He was one of the five men who sat down at a table and decided they wanted to bring IKA to the campus. Sigma Delta Chi and Pi Delta Epsilon, journalism fraternities, also counted him a member.

Interwoven with all this and the business of getting scholarly grades, was reportorial and copy desk work for the St. Paul Pioneer Press-Dispatch and the Minneapolis Tribune. So that he really was already for the managing editorship at St. Cloud.

He is married and has a son, Dean, five, and a girl, Jean, three.

And for those who have journalistic ambitions, here is his formula for becoming a newspaperman.

Triple winner in NEA competition for best newspaper in the country. Harold L. Shoelkopf, BX.

Says he:

"If I were to formulate a course of study for prospective newspapermen, I would divide into three main sections the material to be studied.

"The first would include thorough training in the mechanics of newspaper organizations and production, with special attention devoted to editing, head-writing and makeup. The newspapermen with whom I have come in contact, especially the younger ones, some of whom include graduates of reputable schools of journalism in the country, are too often lop-sided—that is, good writers, but without knowledge of copydesk work, or almost completely ignorant of type faces, handling of illustrations and newspaper machinery. These things, I believe, are fundamental, and as essential to a newspaperman as the knowledge of addition to an accountant.

"The second section would include rhetoric—intensive drilling in how to write—so thorough that every graduate could express himself simply, interestingly and accurately. It is surprising how few college and university graduates know how to write, what to write, and most important of all, what NOT to write.

"And for the third section, I would include in this theoretical course the essential knowledge of many things—law, particularly state, county and municipal law—medicine, economics—all the branches of learning that almost every day are related to newspaper work, and of which newspapermen must have a definite understanding."

Seeks Marriage Stake in Puerto Rico

◆ ARMED WITH the backing of an American brewer, plus some additional resources of his own, Thomas A. Henry, BH, has gone to San Juan, Puerto Rico, to undertake distribution of American beer in cans.

His earlier experience with the American Can Co. proved useful in connection with beer exporting questions. Furthermore, his study of Spanish for several years in college has shown a practical value.

"A fortune can be made here in the beer business," Henry wrote a fraternity brother in Chicago recently. "At the price I can quote I can undersell the local brewer. There is a volume of canned beer business done here now of over 12,000 cases a month. With my price structure and a good advertising campaign, I can see at least 6000 cases a month because there is no pressure on other brands."

Turning to the nature of the country he was staying in, Henry wrote:

"You have never seen such a place; people living on old river beds in houses built on stilts, getting their food from God knows where, yet living.

"There are 17,000 cars on the island, each one with two horns; you have never seen such a place for drivers. It is a hit-and-run paradise, no laws and no speed limit. Fifty to 60 miles an hour on the city roads is just a good pace. They have new busses called Wa Wa's, which cover a seven-mile route in 20 minutes, traveling 40 to 45 miles an hour, except when they throw on the air brakes.

"Streets in town are only about 15 feet wide in some sections and girls call at you from all the windows; light or dark, it makes no difference here, and they are a really beautiful people.

"I am living in a high-class boarding house for $20 a week and am lucky, but expect to move to an apartment where they have hot water and a private bath. Money is plentiful and prices are high."

Back in Chicago Henry has a fiancée. He went to Puerto Rico to build up a stake for their marriage.

IKA Legionaire Wins Paris Trip

♦ LITTLE DID Thomas H. Weatherford, Z, Dun and Bradstreet Chattanooga sales manager, think that his friendship with a Tennessee mountaineer during the 1927 American Legion pilgrimage to France would mean a free return trip to Paris for him ten years later.

Yet this last June he was awarded a free trip to Paris by the American Legion Monthly for relating in a short story one of his experiences on that previous pilgrimage.

Learning of the magazine's offer he thought of his experiences with "Sunshine," whose real name is Harvey Stubblefield. Believing it good material for the contest, Tom stopped by the Pennsylvania-Dixie Cement Corp. Richard City plant to see his old friend and get his permission to use the story.

"Sunshine" smiled through the heavy layer of dust on his face and gave his assent.

A little work writing the 250-word story and some polishing and it was sent off to the contest editor. Later came the word that he had won the trip.

His prize winning story follows:

His name was "Sunshine" Stubblefield and he came from the mountains of Tennessee to embark upon the glorious pilgrimage of 1927. "Sunshine" arrived in New York carrying, in addition to his baggage, an old sack, the contents of which he did not reveal, despite the curiosity of his buddies.

Even in the midst of the enthusiasm of the departure of our ship, "Sunshine" showed an unusual attachment to his strange possession. When the Leviathan steamed slowly away with the bands playing, airplanes circling overhead and the legionnaires singing, "Good-bye Broadway, Hello, France," and throughout the entire voyage, "Sunshine" never forgot his sack.

In Paris, as we dashed madly about sight-seeing, and on the American Express tour, "Sunshine's" first concern was the safety of his bag. Strange to say, as we marched in the unforgettable "parade of nations" down the historic Champs Elysees to the thrilling strains of the "Star-Spangled Banner" and

"The Marseillaise," he carried his sack along.

Just before returning, "Sunshine" urged me to accompany him on a journey. Together we motored to the beautiful American cemetery at Romagne. Here I understood "Sunshine's" mission. I watched him, with tears in his eyes, walk towards the grave of a boyhood friend to fulfill his promise to a Gold Star mother. "Sunshine" had carried this sack of soil from the hills of Tennessee that the flowers of France, decorating his comrade's last resting place, might forever grow in the earth of his native land.

The University of Missouri Chapter, Columbia, met a bad situation and overcame its difficulties. Only eight men returned to their palatial home, which easily accommodates 35, and the first week of rushing added eight additional men. With firm determination, the men and the pledges entered into the situation and pledged eleven more good men. The chapter brought themselves great credit at the reception given Oct. 24 in honor of their new Chapter Mother, Mrs. Hinchman. The Fraternity can reasonably expect more progress as the year progresses.

Beta-Lambda Chapter, Washington U. in St. Louis, is working toward a new home on the campus. They have increased their number, have a good group of new men, and are determined to start next year in a new home on Fraternity Row.

Gamma-Rho Chapter, Northwestern U., is enjoying their $40,000 home, built during the summer. The entire house is newly furnished, their living room giving the appearance of a lounge in a fashionable club. The house affords a good view of Lake Michigan and the North Campus of N. U. The private beach is less than 150 feet from the house.

Our Wisconsin chapter, Beta-Xi, is another chapter enjoying its own private beach. Scarcely 50 feet from the house is Lake Mendota, where the chapter enjoys swimming, boating, ice skating, ice boating, in season.

Enters West Point

♦ SON OF A retired Army captain, Joseph M. Cannon, Jr., AZ, received an appointment to West Point last spring and has been a cadet at the United States Military Academy since July 1. He is 21, a member of E. Company of the Cadet Corps. "I nourished a desire to enter West Point ever since I was old enough to realize what was going on about me," he recalls.

Cadet Joseph M. Cannon, Jr., as he appeared in uniform at Marvin Military Institute.

He spent the first 18 years of his life at Army posts with his father, who retired in 1928. The family home now is at Caruthersville, Mo.

It is his hope, upon completion of the four-year course, to enter the Air Corps.

Attending the University of Arkansas for two years, 1934-36, he was sergeant in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps. In 1936-37 he attended the Marion (Ala.) Military Institute, a West Point and Annapolis prep school, where he was made battalion sergeant-major.

At Arkansas he was chapter correspondent for Alpha-Zeta, a member of the university band and the honorary band fraternity, Kappa Kappa Psi, and a member of Pershing Rifles, honorary military fraternity. In the spring semester of 1934-35 he was on the honor roll of the arts and science college.

Cannon's father retired from the Regular Army on Dec. 6, 1927, and has been Regimental Adjutant of the 140th Infantry, Missouri National Guard since June 1, 1929.

Proud of Tigers' Condition

BATON ROUGE, LA.—Mike Chambers, (BH) picturesque trainer of Louisiana State University's defending Southeastern conference champions, smiled happily as he surveyed a training room bare of injured football players.

"We're in better condition now than any team I ever trained," he said. Chambers is a former sailor, steel mill worker and professional boxer, now beginning his third season as L. S. U. trainer.

The big Irishman, a native of New Orleans, served overseas in the United States Navy and played football with Red Grange at Illinois before turning to training college athletic teams.

In between serving as a bosun's mate on a destroyer doing patrol duty in the North Sea during the World War, Chambers won the heavyweight boxing championship of his division. He went to Illinois in 1922 and was a second string guard on the varsity in 1923 and 1924. He was unlucky enough to play the same position as the great Jim McMillan.

Leaving Illinois to become head trainer at Iowa State in 1925, he later served as trainer at Ohio State.

While training the American Olympic track and field team at Amsterdam in 1928 he met W. A. Alexander, head football coach at Georgia Tech. Alexander brought him South in 1929 to train Yellow Jacket football teams.

His success in keeping Georgia Tech athletes in shape brought him wide recognition during the six seasons he helped get Jacket warriors ready for the football wars. Chambers came to L. S. U. the first of 1935.—Dallas Morning News.

City officials would not comment today on an allegation in a Federal suit that the city had shown preferences to certain bondholders and purchasers of bonds in the payment of interest and principal.

Prior to filing of the suit, Mayor Charles Lembke, (BA) had instructed City Attorney Merritt W. Oldaker, (BT) to prepare suits against paving delinquents.—Albuquerque, N. M. Tribune.

Directs Fund Council

J. Harold Johnston, (AΨ), the efficient and energetic assistant to the President, has assumed new duties as executive secretary of the University Fund Council. Already Johnny has systematized the office which was run in such slipshod fashion under my spasmodic direction, and—wonder of wonders—has prepared his appeals for the entire year. It was through his efforts that the class agents were organized last year, and he is responsible in large degree for the fact that the Council turned back to the University a balance of almost two thousand dollars for 1936-1937. I have a feeling that he will do even better this current year, and I am confident that he will have the earnest co-operation and support of all readers of the MONTHLY.—Earl Reed Silvers in Rutgers Alumni Monthly.

Kiss Reveals Marriage

By Robert W. Cyster, AP, Ohio State

♦ NOT UNTIL the Ohio State football team left for the West Coast to vie with the University of California in one of the season's bigger games did it become known that the star IKA halfback, William Phillips, Jr., '39, was a married man.

This fact came to light when, noticing the rather dejected look on Bill's face when he kissed his "girl" goodbye, a newspaper man popped the question "Are you married?" The answer was written in a look.

Pictures of Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips, Jr., were splashed all over the pages of the Columbus, Ohio, papers on the day of the team's departure. Their picture also appeared in the Oct. 29 issue of the magazine Life. Mrs. Phillips, before her marriage Mary Frances O'Neill, was graduated from Ohio State University in the College of Education last June. They were married January 12 in Huntington, W. Va., and are making their home in Columbus while Bill completes his education.

News of the Alumni

Los Angeles, Calif.

HONORING Robert M. McFarland, national executive secretary, some 50 alumni and active members met at the Gamma-Eta chapter house in Los Angeles, the evening of Wednesday, Sept. 23.

After the dinner, Brother McFarland gave a brief outline of his present trip and his listeners were very interested in hearing "first hand" news from other chapters.

T. Paul Moody, head of the Los Angeles Alumni Association, presided and introduced the various brothers who made brief talks. Dan Oertel, district president, outlined tentative plans for the 1938 convention, and announced that Brandon Brunner, prominent Los Angeles broker, had accepted chairmanship of the general arrangement committee. A complete list of committee chairmen soon will be announced. Other formal talks by active members and alumni made the meeting one of the most successful of the year.

The genuine enthusiasm displayed by all those present indicated that Los Angeles will stage in 1938 one of the greatest conventions in the history of the fraternity.

Dr. Guy Van Buskirk, past National Vice-President, has recovered from a cold which confined him to bed for several days. Dr. Van Buskirk introduced Brother McFarland to the alumni meeting.

Already deep in the financial work of the convention is Al Bunn, Beverly Hills, Calif., insurance and real estate man.

It seemed like old times to see Garth Lacy. Garth is the most prominent attorney of Salina, Calif. His talk indicated several brothers from the north will attend the convention.

Prof. Frank Nagley, University of Southern California, wore a large smile. His son, Winfield, was initiated into the bonds Oct. 2. Prof. Nagley has been a source of inspiration and guidance to Gamma-Eta Chapter since his initiation 12 years ago. Naturally it is with great happiness that both alumni and active members welcome young Nagley into the fraternity.

There were many new members present, including Don Hinman, Iowa State, who is with Johns Mansville Co., in Los Angeles; Roland B. Rucker, Arizona, manager of the Los Angeles office of McKesson and Robbins, wholesale drug company; Dave Moore, California, now with Sears Roebuck and Co.

Moody attended the state convention of the California Junior Chamber of Commerce, along with Bob Crosby, Los Angeles artist. Moody returned with the large trophy awarded the traffic and safety committee, of which he is chairman. Crosby was sent to the convention by the Junior Chamber magazine of California, Trend.

William Arnold has established his own advertising agency in Los Angeles, after several years with Forrest Lawn Memorial Park in Glendale, Calif.

Duncan Powers, who recently returned from Texas and Central America, is at North Hollywood High School, teaching journalism and gymnastics. Just to bring back memories of life with Pan-American airways, he flies frequently at the government airport at Long Beach.

Fred Woody recently passed the state bar examination and has opened a law office in West Los Angeles. Art Shepard, Arizona, has increased his family to two—this time, a boy!

Dan Oertel and Russ Kimball attended the district convention Sept. 23-25, Dan as district president and Russ as delegate from alumnus chapter Beta-Alpha, Los Angeles.—R. M. CROSBY.

Jackson, Miss.

SITUATED in the middle of District 11, voted the most outstanding in the whole nation at the New Orleans Convention last year, Alpha-Psi alumnus chapter in Jackson, Miss., is well upholding the reputation of the district.

Under the new budget worked out by President Kirby Walker and Treasurer Robert Ezelle, the chapter has cleared all former and current debts and has paid registration and convention dues to the national office, thus assuring the chapter of a fully accredited delegate to the Los Angeles convention next summer. In spite of all this, the chapter still has enough money for operations the remainder of the year.

Besides becoming solvent for probably the first time in its history, the chapter has renewed interest in the fraternity among a large number of Jackson alumni, and consequently a regular attendance has been noted at the monthly luncheons which serve as chapter meetings. Even during the summer attendance did not drop off, and even bigger gatherings are anticipated during the winter months.

Alpha-Psi had a large part in the I I K A Mississippi dance Sept. 10. The dance was the first of the annual I I K A Cotton Balls and featured most unusual decorations. A large "II" made of ten bales of cotton was one of the individual features.

With an active membership list of 32 fully paid up members, the chapter gradually is increasing its roll and expects to have 40 members before the close of the year.

Officers are: Kirby Walker, president; Garner Lester and Henry G. Flowers, vice-presidents; Dewitte Mullin, secretary; Robert Ezelle, treasurer, and Claude Yarborough, publicity director.

President Walker, Θ, is head of the Jackson public schools system, the largest in the state, and for the past year has been supervising a million dollar expansion and building program.

Frank Scott, AI, is director of the federal housing administration in Mississippi and has played a large part in the phenomenal building program in Jackson for the past two years.

Manager of Jackson's efficient Chamber of Commerce is Wendell Black, AN.

Henry Toler is interested in several test oil wells in South Mississippi.

Heading the "World's Longest Parade" was W. S. "Smylie" Shipman, who was in charge of the five Mississippi floats that paraded all the way to New York City—in the recent American Legion parade there, and back to Mississippi by way of Detroit, where the party was entertained by Henry Ford. Shipman is head of the veterans' bureau here.

An officer in the National Cotton Ginners Association is Garner Lester.

E. M. Sumner is an officer in one of Jackson's largest banks.

Discuss Budgets, Alumni, Rushing

◆ NUMEROUS recommendations for fraternity administration, chiefly in conduct of undergraduate chapters, were made by the convention of District No. 17 at the Alpha-Sigma house, Berkeley, Cal., Sept. 24 and 25.

Present, under guidance of District President Daniel T. Oertel, were delegates from Alpha-Sigma, University of California; Gamma-Eta, University of Southern California; Alumnus Alpha-Beta, San Francisco, and Alumnus Beta-Alpha, Los Angeles. National Executive Secretary Robert M. McFarland, Jr., was a guest, delivering several addresses on fraternity affairs.

One session was held as a special joint meeting of Alpha-Sigma, Alumnus Alpha-Beta and the Pi Kappa Alpha Building Association of Berkeley.

Among suggestions by McFarland were the following: Send each alumnus an inexpensive chapter news letter twice a year; be sure to acknowledge suggestions of prospective members by alumni; notify a man's home town newspaper when he is pledged.

Included in the convention's recommendations, some of which would have to be enacted by a national convention to become effective, were the following:

Profits derived from house and Th.C. operations should be turned over to the chapter holding corporation at the end of the year for a building and contingency fund, after paying all bills and setting up a small reserve to open the next year.

Budgets anticipating receipts and expenses for at least three months should be required of chapter financial officers.

Chapter profits from the initiation fees also should go to the building and contingency fund.

DISTRICT No. 1. President: S. Roy Smith, Alpha-Psi, 101 Fairview Ave., South Orange, N. J.

Plan Hospital Clinic Dance

By Daniel B. Hurley, Gamma-Mu

UNIVERSITY OF NEW HAMPSHIRE—During the summer, fire destroyed the old dairy barn and firehouse; soon a modern brick structure will rise to replace the old one.

An addition is being made to the library and old lighting is being replaced by new. The changes give a fresher atmosphere and a better accommodation for study.

Eight men have been initiated: Philip Smith, David Gile, David Hadley, Robert Twombly, Arthur Theros, Royce Whittier, Kyle Willoughby, Daniel Hurley, all of '40.

During the summer Mason, Patten and Waters motored to Fort Monroe, Va., where they had attended the R. O. T. C. camp. They visited with Pittsburgh IKA's on returning. Smith traveled with the Barnstormers, Inc.

Ames spent eight weeks at a Forestry Camp a Passaconaway, N. H. Hurley traveled extensively in Texas, Louisiana, Maryland and the District of Columbia. Summer closing of the chapter house in Baton Rouge made it impossible to contact brothers there.

A likely theme for the fall party will be hospital activity; perhaps it will be called a dance clinic, with the ladies dressed as nurses and the men as either patients or doctors.

Tranavitch, Grid Sensation

By Frank Updike, Alpha-Psi

RUTGERS—During the preliminary rushing season four new pledges were added to Alpha-Psi's roster: Charles Costa of Leonardo, Robert Holland of Brooklyn and Clarence MacNelly and John Clark of Collingswood, N. J.

Pledge William Tranavitch, heralded by state, local and college newspapers as one of the most outstanding backs ever to come to the Banks, has fulfilled all pre-season predictions in turning in brilliant performances both offensively and defensively. Two other sophomore pledges, Wilford Dorn and Franklin Burke, also have given excellent accounts of themselves as tackle and end.

Anthony Fama and Byron Prugh spent six weeks of their summer vacation at Plattsburgh Barracks as part of their course in military science. In the Rutgers R. O. T. C. unit, Prugh is a company captain; Fama, a second lieutenant.

After leading the competition for the Keller Trophy, given each year for the highest number of points scored in intramural sports, the chapter was defeated in spring baseball and had to be content with second place.

With the exception of Pledge Carmichel all the brothers returned to college this fall. Eighteen men are living in the house, a larger number than in several years.

Pledge Thomas Finnie, a star of last year's 150-pound football aggregation was lost to the 1937 season through a severe leg injury. Alpha-Psi still has a representative on the lightweight squad, Walter Holmquest.

Extensive Renovations at Alpha-Chi

By Harold E. Hustleby, Alpha-Chi

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY—The chapter house has been under repairs and during rushing only a few rooms were open. The interior has new wainscoting and shining woodwork. The dining room has no rival on the "Hill" for beauty and roominess. It was our housemother, Mrs. Denison, whose suggestions, taste and hard labor made all possible. Local alumni help make available the finances. Wives of the alumni through functions of their auxiliary club and the aid of Mrs. Denison, presented the chapter a handsome new cooking range.

At the pledge dance were seventeen men wearing the II button. The annual tea in honor of Mrs. Denison will be held Dec. 12. The chancellor's wife will be a guest of honor.

The fraternity is undefeated in intramural competition to date.

The new school of citizenship and public affairs has been instituted. The building is a beautiful and imposing structure.

II Has Myriad Jobs

By Richard Olson, Beta-Sigma

CARNEGIE INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY—Mark M. Miller is perhaps the busiest student on the Carnegie Tech campus. Aside from his high scholastic standing, he has found time to engage in many activities. At present he is S. M. C., president of the engineering senate, member of the senior honorary society, member of the student council, business manager of the monthly magazine and a member of interfraternity council.

In his sophomore year Mark was a member of the class honorary society and won a letter in cross country. As a junior he was a member of that class, honorary, advertising manager of the monthly magazine, and Th. C. of the chapter. And now he plans to enter track activities next spring.

At present his favorite diversion is the Big Apple; prefers girls with intelligence in addition to beauty, and it might be added that southern accents meet with his great approval. Mark hopes to enter the oil industry after graduation.

Acquisition last December of the Thaw mansion as a chapter house has placed Beta-Sigma in an advantageous position.

By Robert W. Cyester, Alpha-Rho

OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY—In starting the 1937-38 school year this chapter finds itself in the best financial condition since receiving a charter in 1912. The chapter house had been remodeled at an expense of $12,000 through help of alumni and the Mothers' Club.

Pi's Print Miniature Magazine

By Lea Booth, Pi

WASHINGTON AND LEE — Seventeen pledges were honored at a party and dance Oct. 9. Under direction of our house mother, Mrs. Otis Mead, the house was decorated with fall ornaments. Martin and Easley had charge of arrangements for the dance, which followed a buffet supper. About 25 girls attended from neighboring girls' colleges and nearby cities. Brother Clayton Williams of the university faculty and Mrs. Williams chaperoned.

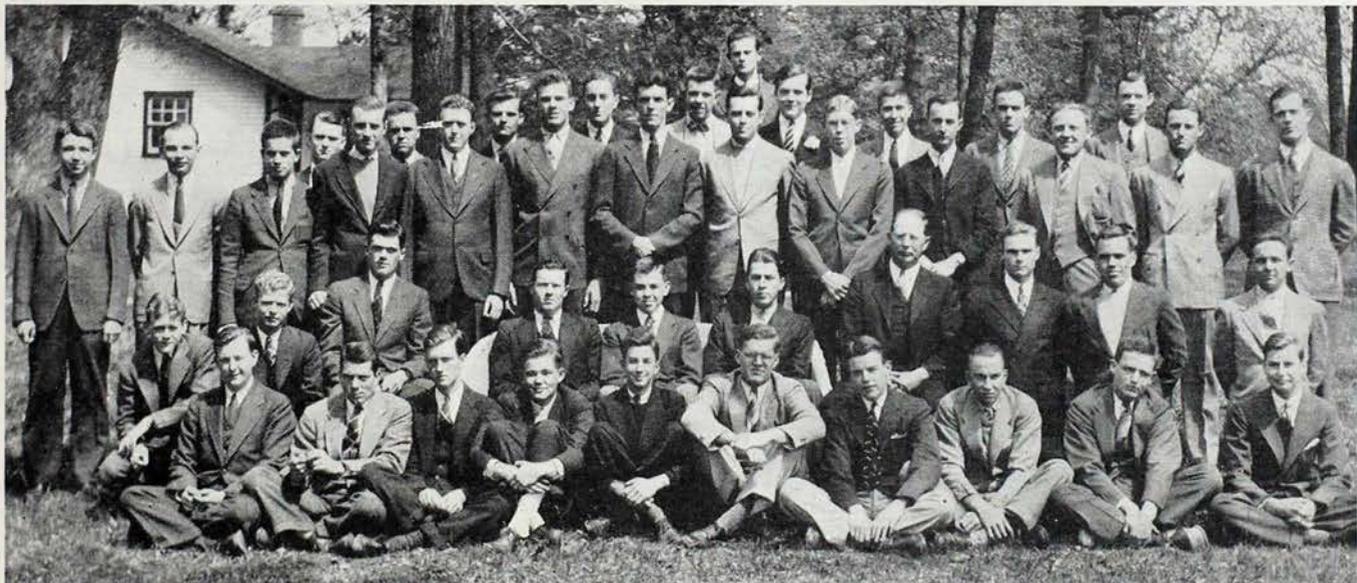

Robert Thomas is senior manager of varsity football while Robert Howard (there are seven Bobs in the chapter) is a halfback and Pledge James Humphrey, a quarterback.

Robert Hobson was a halfback but retired to undergo an emergency appendectomy. Pledges Walker and Studwell are running first string in one of the greatest freshman lines in history.

Frank Frazier, besides being elected vice-president of the student body, has been chosen co-captain of this year's baseball squad. Frazier and John Dill made their letters in that sport last spring.

Of material aid in the new system of rushing inaugurated this year was "the Annals of Pi", neat little chapter publication, edited by Parke Rouse, '37. The magazine was made up as a miniature Time magazine and made a big hit with rushees and alumni, who received them through systematic mailing. The cover carried a picture of Brian Bell, whom the chapter chose as its "alumnus of the year."

The rushing season was highly successful, the pledges being William Ames, '41, Arlington, Va.; Arthur Avent, '41, Jack-

Omicron Pledges Seven

By A. E. Grigg, Omicron

UNIVERSITY OF RICHMOND—Rushing season being concluded, members of Omicron Chapter opened too long neglected text books in a mad rush to bring class assignments up to date. But the failure to faithfully complete the home work assignments was not in vain, for seven freshmen were pledged: Red Jenkins, Robert Cotton, Robert Shifflett, William Horton, Junie Waymack and Earl Fox, all of Richmond, and Robert Rhodes of Windsor, Va.

Shortly before school opened the chapter held initiation ceremonies for Austin Grigg and Virginius Goodman. Both are on the staff of the school paper, Grigg being feature sports editor and Goodman, the staff cartoonist.

Chapter officers are: Wesley Boykin, S.M.C.; Larry Edberg, I.M.C.; Frank Crosby, Th.C.; William Cash, S.C.; and Austin Grigg, M.S.

The chapter held two dances during the rushing season and a house party at the home of Bruce Rennie, alumnus. At the latter occasion a picture of I I K A's singing the "Sweetheart of I I K A" and "How'd You Like to be a I I K A," with all the worries of school and the outside world far removed, was an impressive spectacle.

Lafferty Again in Good Form

By John S. Raynal, Beta

DAVIDSON COLLEGE—Beta opened the year with return of 25 active members and four pledges, two of whom have been initiated: John H. Reiser of White Plains, N. Y., and Richard N. Aycock, Lincolnton. Under the leadership of John R. Horton nineteen pledges were listed.

In the R. O. T. C. department Teeny Lafferty commands the battalion as cadet major, and M. B. Crisp is captain of C Company. Three juniors are taking the advanced R. O. T. C. course, J. A. Long, P. E. Connor and J. S. Raynal.

Lafferty, along with these honors, is president of the student council, highest undergraduate honor. R. H. McClellan is vice-president of the council.

C. W. Akers was elected by the chapter at the end of the past year as Beta's most representative freshman.

Find Chapter Room Redecorated

By Robert S. Knapp, Alpha-Alpha

DUKE UNIVERSITY—The first informal meeting found 22 brothers and seventeen pledges and associates answering the roll. They were welcomed into a completely redecorated and refurnished chapter room. Russell Cooke, S. M. C., will serve the Pan-Hellenic Council as treasurer and representative to the National Inter-Fraternity Council. It was largely due to his efforts that the first official action of the council was the inauguration of a new season dance plan. The Y. M. C. A. elected Denny Williams and Frank Markham vice-president and secretary, respectively. James McGimsey enters his fourth year as a member of the Columbia Literary Society, this year being president. Troy Ferguson, I. M. C., is one of the busiest men in the chapter. He is both district and local president of Kappa Kappa Psi and manager of the Duke Instrumental Association. It is due to his influence that the interchange of bands between near-by colleges for important occasions has been effected.

Duke University has a deferred rushing plan which does not allow the pledging of freshmen until the second semester. However, three upper-classmen have been pledged and two pledges initiated. The pledges are: Curtis Kingsberry, Gene Wilson and Sam Pulliam; the new members, Marvin Wiley and Wallace Olson.

Though few in numbers, the chapter worked hard during rushing, and was aided by four faculty brothers and alumni. The latter gave a banquet at the Tutwiler Hotel, at which seven men were pledged. Two others since have been pledged. The new men are: J. T. Aldridge, Harry M. Burns, Lamar H. Davis, Jr., Robert Murray, Walter Snow, Maurice F. Watkins, Jr., of Birmingham; Herbert Huie, Deatsville; Frank Norton, Center, Ala.; and Leonard Wrona, Norwich, Connecticut.

Four of the men are on the varsity football team. Riddle, a senior, plays tackle, Aldridge and Watkins, sophomores, are ends, and Huie, a junior, is a tackle.

Thomas, last year's captain, soon will be turning out for basketball; he plays forward.

On Oct. 1 the chapter held its annual steak fry in honor of the new pledges. Because of a pouring rain, this was held in the home of Dr. Hubert Searcy. The chapter also has begun its Sunday night stag dinners at a down town cafeteria; these stimulate companionship and help in rushing. Later some of these will be held with Alpha-Pi Chapter.

Officers are: Charles Rogers, S.M.C.; Clarence Mize, I.M.C. and Th.C.; Walter Riddle, S.C., and Abner Johnson, chapter historian.

Hayes Heads Alabama Greeks

By Walter Bogart, Gamma-Alpha

UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA—Alex Hayes, S.M.C., has been elected president of the Greeks, interfraternity social organization. He also is a member of the Alabama Crimson Tide baseball team and was recently placed on the all-fraternity touch football team. He is a brother to Jack Hayes, former Alabama baseball star, who now is playing second base for the Chicago White Sox of the American League.

John Coxwell, law student, is on the honor committee of the junior class in the school of law. He is a member of Phi Delta Phi.

Dow Moss and Walt Bogart were selected for membership in the Greeks. They qualified by participating in an "ice race" in University Avenue.

Glenn Elliott, member of Greeks, Rho Alpha Tau and Scabbard and Blade, is a captain in coast artillery. He was president of the junior class and chairman of the junior prom last year. Buddy Teague, ace hurler of the Crimson Tide baseball club and an "A" Club member, is a first lieutenant in infantry. Pledge Virgil Pittman is a first lieutenant in infantry and Pledge Bob Carlson is a second lieutenant in infantry.

Pledge Conrad "Bully" Fowler of Clumbiana is known on the Alabama campus as the "Ghost President." He was elected prexy of the freshman class in the school of commerce in September as Billy. A check-up in the registrar's office revealed there was no such person enrolled. The error is attributed to the fact that students mistook the name "Bully" for "Billy."

Walt McDowell, Joe Cobb, Frank Robinson and Bob Weyhab entered the intramural boxing ring.

After reigning supreme in touch football for two seasons, the II's were defeated recently 2 to 0.

The chapter lead all fraternities in pledging during the recent rush season. Twenty-three men were pinned.

Freshman Honor Established

By Edward Miller, Beta-Lambda

WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY—William B. Mill, an alumnus, has presented the chapter a cup, the Mill Trophy, for awarding each year to the freshman most outstanding in scholarship, fraternity spirit and campus activities.

Among the young ladies present at the pledge dance Oct. 23, were Miss Evelyn Bissell, Pi Beta Phi, 1938 Hatchet Queen, Student Life society editor; Miss Genevieve Davis, Gamma Phi Beta, 1938 Hatchet

Maid of Honor; Miss Peggy Lou Baker, Pi Beta Phi, honorary captain of military ball; Miss Sally Alexander, Pi Beta Phi, honorary captain of Military Ball.

At the semi-annual father-son gathering in November, Dr. William Crowe, St. Louis minister, spoke on values of fraternity life and also on great achievements of ancient civilizations.

Unique in dances was the Thanksgiving breakfast dance, held at the Marquette Hotel with Alpha Tau Omega members. We gathered there about 8 o'clock, had breakfast, danced till nearly eleven, and then hustled off to church. Then dinner and the annual football game between Washington University and Saint Louis University.

Samuel Evans, former I. M. C., is the rush captain. His mother, Mrs. G. L. Evans, is president of our mothers' club. The chapter has been the recipient of many gifts from her and this year she saw to it that the house was redecorated. Sam's brother, Cedric, is an alumnus of the chapter, while his younger brother, Walter, is a pledge. Sam is a member of the band, and Phi Eta Sigma, scholastic society.

Birkle Eck, I. M. C., perhaps our most outstanding scholar, has been elected president of Tau Pi Epsilon, pre-medical honorary fraternity. He is a good sportsman as well. He spent a part of his summer vacation fishing. His ability as a hunter is evidenced by the fact that in one afternoon he killed some eighteen crows, using a stuffed owl as a decoy.

Last year, Washington University produced the champion track team in the Missouri Valley Conference. Elmer Miller was the ace half-miler of the team. This year he is one of thirteen retiring lettermen who are expected to retain the championship. He is also a member of the executive cabinet of the Campus Y. M. C. A. Y. W. C. A., being co-chairman of the publicity committee, and is a member of Lock and Chain, sophomore social honorary fraternity. He is pledge master.

A new rule concerning out-of-town rushees was put into effect this year by the Pan-Hellenic Council. All fraternity prospects from out of town now are contacted by the council, which makes all dates for the rushee. Each fraternity is given at least three dates with each such man, within a rushing period of one week. Each day of this rush week is divided into five dates, namely, noon, afternoon, dinner, evening, and night, the night date carrying over the following morning till the noon one.

William Goessling, social chairman, and Gilbert Coughlin, house manager, entered the law school this fall. In addition to Robert Emonts, S. M. C., and Boyd Fletcher, Th. C., we now have Richard Crews and John Poulos in the business school. Harold McCann, former S. M. C., has entered medical school.

James Miller returned to college this fall, after having been absent two years. He is a senior in the business school. Being a most energetic intramural manager, he has instilled new life into our teams.

Initiates: John Patton, '40 and Lloyd Buhrman, '39, Saint Louis, Mo.; Richard Crews, '39, Wichita, Kan.; Kenneth Miller, '40, Webster Groves, Mo.

Pledges Robert McCann and Edward Berkemeier are members of the university band. John Patton has become a member of Lock and Chain, sophomore social honorary fraternity.

Officers: Robert Emonts, S. M. C., Birkle Eck, I. M. C., Boyd Fletcher, Th. C., Philip Nanos, S. C., Edward Miller, M. S.

Alpha-Kappa in Strong Position

By W. J. Carr, Alpha-Kappa

MISSOURI SCHOOL OF MINES—At no time since its establishment in 1905 has Alpha-Kappa stood so strongly on the campus as it does now. It has many of the important student offices and has the largest pledge class

W. L. Goelkel, Student Council president.

— sixteen — in recent years. Eighteen actives and the pledges, which are as many as can be accommodated, are living in the house. Three actives live elsewhere.

Alpha Kappa has started a four-page news sheet, the Alpha-Kappa Kapers, for its alumni. Those not receiving the paper are asked to send in their addresses.

Homecoming activities, Oct. 22, were marked by a pledge dance.

Joe Spafford, sophomore, again is playing first string center on the Silver and Gold football team. Ridley is a reserve end. Earl E. Kelsey, senior, is living with his family across the street from the chapter house.

Russell Gund and Robert Ridley, sophomores, have been initiated. Both are of St. Louis.

Under leadership of W. R. Rea, these 16 men have been pledged:

Wilbur Sanders Owen, Joplin, Mo.; Jesse Milton Logrbrinck, Eugene, Mo.; Ernest Frederick King, Lebanon, Mo.; Walter Max Bollinger, Bell City, Mo.; David Fleming Zaring, Rogersville, Mo.; Smith Long Halfhill, Minden Mines, Mo.; Albert Laws Kidwell, Caruthersville, Mo.; Norbert Eugene O'Connor, Batavia, Ill.; Randle Hudson Egbert, Harold Nicholas and Collins Maxey Burton, St. Louis, Mo.; William Donald Lies, Wheaton, Ill.; Arthur William James Retzel, Wheehawken, N. J.; Russell Edwin Dewitt, Sioux City, Ia.; Richard Chancellor, Lamar, Mo.; Robert S. Westwater, Kansas City, Mo.

Robert Lange, '37, former S.M.C., and star athlete, was married to Miss Sybil Powell on Oct. 25 in Rolla. Lange attended homecoming activities before going to the altar. Also newly married are George Dickinson, '37, and Miss Rita Mitton of Denver, Colo., who exchanged vows July 10, in Denver. They are living at Lewistown, Mont. Dickinson is employed by the U. S. Gypsum Company.

W. L. Goelkel, J. R. McCloskey and B. V. Turner will mold, to a great extent, the campus destinies of Missouri School of Mines through this year.

W. L. Goelkel, Alpha-Kappa's S.M.C., and probably the most popular man at Rolla, sits in the highest undergraduate seat of authority, as president of the newly organized student council. Its inception last year to promote student government was due in no small part to the efforts of Goelkel. In recognition of his work for Blue Key, an honorary service organization, Goelkel was given the vice-presidency. In the interfraternity council he is secretary. And besides all this he editorializes for the Rolla Miner, as senior associate editor.

J. R. McCloskey is editor-in-chief of the Miner. The editorship is probably the most widely sought position. McCloskey also is vice-president of the Missouri College Newspaper Association and a member of the board of control of student publications. He is the undergraduate representative to the board on intercollegiate athletics, which recently reorganized the Rolla coaching staff.

B. V. Turner is president of the St. Pat's board, sponsor of many school dances. When not decorating the gym for a dance, he is performing duties of Th.C. of Alpha-Kappa.

Still another important position held by a II is that of business manager of the year book, in which post is William Rea.

Heavy Rushing Party Schedule

By Jack Johnson, Beta-Zeta

SOUTHERN METHODIST—Beta-Zeta was more active in rushing during the summer than any of the other fraternities on the campus. Several outstanding parties were given, among which was a dance in the mural room of the Baker Hotel on Sept. 2, and a reception, banquet and dance at the Hotel Adolphus. This was given Sept. 20, with approximately 200 attending, including rushees, pledges, initiates and alumni. Many informal house parties, barbecues, and cinema parties were held. Gilbert and Gordon Jackson, rush captains, own a large sailboat on White Rock Lake and many of the rushees were taken sailing.

The alumni chapter, Theta, was re-organized in June and two banquets were held during the summer. The first was on July 15 when 75 Dallas alumni of IKA gathered at Spunk Muller's Grove. Officers are: Richard Ivey, president; Ed Meek, vice-president, and Weldon Howell, secretary-treasurer. Committees are: membership, Forrest W. Clough, chairman; Gordon Jackson, Alan Withee; program, Hudson Miers, chairman, Ed Meek and Weldon Howell.

Now plans are underway for the weekend when Alpha-Sigas come down to Los Angeles for the UCLA game.

Lead Campus in Scholarship

By Richard Anthony, Gamma-Pi

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON—Gamma-Pi again was first in scholarship on the campus for fraternities for 1936-37. This is the second consecutive time Gamma-Pi has had this distinction. In fact for last year we received the Burt Brown Barker scholarship cup for the highest grades of any men's organization. For the first time in the history of any fraternity at the university we received the highest grades of any group on the campus for winter term, including women's organizations.

Our house was painted inside and out during the summer. To complete the comfort of the house the Mother's club reupholstered some of our chairs and davenport. Last year they gave us two lamps, a radio and the draperies in the dining room.

Because of complaints over laxity of house rules last year, the executive committee formulated new ones which are being carried out successfully.

Robert McFarland's visit to the chapter was one of the most stimulating experiences we ever have had. While Bob was on the campus a banquet was held in his honor at which the local alumni, professors, and Ed Reams, past president of the SAE fraternity and alumnus advisor of their chapter, were present. Bob also spoke over the radio.

Pledges: James Goodwin, '39, Portland, Ore.; Orest Houghton, '39, Eugene, Ore.; William Ralston, '41, Albany, Ore.; Douglas Faunt, '40, Portland, Ore.; Howard Wilson, '39, LaGrande, Ore.; and Robert C. Watson, '41, Eugene, Ore.

Repledged from last term: Bruce Currie, Robert D. Emerson, Merton Larson, and Roger Sheppard.

Initiates: Galen Robbins, '39, Ralph Johnston, '38, Eugene, Ore., and Douglas Simms, '39, North Bend, Ore.

Paul Callow, a sophomore, has been acclaimed as the outstanding sophomore footballer of the season by many sports writers. He plays in the quarterback position. ## IIKA's at N. I. C.

◆ FIVE OFFICERS and one former national officer represented Pi Kappa Alpha officially at the National Interfraternity Conference in New York City on Nov. 26 and 27.

Dr. Freeman H. Hart, National Vice-President; Dean F. M. Massey, National Educational Advisor; and J. Harold Johnston, former National Secretary, were the delegates. Johnston is a member of the executive committee of the Conference.

Alternates were S. Roy Smith, District President of No. 1, and K. D. Pulcifer, National Editor, who also was a delegate to the Fraternity Editors Association, of which he is a past president.

Robert M. McFarland, Executive Secretary, attended the conference as a visitor and was a delegate to the Fraternity Secretary's Association.

Innovation of the conference was the Saturday session which was conducted by the Undergraduate Conference in joint session with the National Conference. Undergraduate delegates took a leading part in the discussions. On Friday the Undergraduate Conference held a separate session while the National Conference disposed of routine business, including a report of the joint committee of Conference members and representatives of the Association of American Colleges on its study of the function of the fraternity in the college program. ## Iota Noses Out Three for Smythe Cup

By C. H. Olmstead,

Chairman, Efficiency Committee

◆ AFTER A COMPLETE check of the records of all the chapters regarding their business relations with the General Office, it was found that four chapters—Iota, Gamma, Beta and Omicron—had almost perfect records.

Dr. Smylie to St. Louis

THE REV. DR. THEODORE S. SMYLIE, ©, '12, who until last March was pastor of Central Presbyterian Church, Clayton, Mo., a St. Louis suburb, has been called to take charge of Oak Hill Presbyterian Church, St. Louis, to fill a vacancy caused by death. His new congregation has about 500 members. In the interval between pastorates he conducted evangelistic services in the South. While he has been a member of the southern branch of Presbyterianism, Oak Hill Church is affiliated with the northern branch.

report on the activities of the Dartmouth Undergraduate Council also was to be presented.

More detailed accounts of the Conference sessions will appear in the February issue of THE SHIELD AND DIAMOND.

It appeared, however, that Iota Chapter rated slightly higher than the other chapters so the Committee on award of this trophy decided that Iota Chapter should have the custody of the Robert A. Smythe Chapter Efficiency Trophy for the year 1937-38, in recognition of their 1936-37 record.

The trophy has not been forwarded to the winners for three years up to the time of the 1936 Convention. It was agreed at the Convention that the three chapters to whom it had been awarded but never in their possession, should each hold it for three months and then forward it to the chapter winning it the following year.

In carrying out the wishes of the 1936 Convention, the trophy has been refinished and engraved with the names of the winning chapters and will be in possession of Gamma-Alpha Chapter to whom it was awarded for 1934-35 until January 15. For the next three months Gamma-Lambda will hold it. At the end of this period it will be sent to Iota Chapter.

While it is very encouraging to the General office to find four chapters so closely rated in the consideration of this award, it is hoped that as this trophy is passed around, a greater number of our chapters will strive to gain possession of this beautiful trophy.
