Gamma-Chi (Oklahoma A. & M.) alumni and active chapter members have plans and specifications for their new chapter house—a model of which appears on our cover. District President J. Lewie Sanderson and Alumnus Counselor Claude Drierer are sparkplugging the drive among alumni. They are soliciting 100% support in order to take advantage of a loan commitment before the deadline, December 31, 1952. Several thousand dollars must be raised in order to begin construction on the $115,000 project. Contributions should be sent to Claude Drierer, House Corporation Treasurer, 215 Knoblock St., Stillwater, Okla.

The student members of Gamma-Chi Chapter are contributing their utmost to the project. Tom Keleher, Gamma-Chi architectural student, constructed this model of the proposed house.

"Be Wary How Ye Judge"

By Richard L. Evans, AT

From a new book, Tonic for Our Times
Copyright, Harper and Brothers, New York

As to the difficulties of arriving at justice and fair judgment, one philosopher observed: "We must remember that we have to make judges out of men, and that by being made judges their prejudices are not diminished and their intelligence is not increased."<sup>1</sup> It is high tribute to say of any man that he is just in all his judgments. And it is higher tribute to be able to say that he is generous as well as just in judgment. Ungenerous judgment is an unfortunate character fault, and perhaps no one is ever innocent when an ungenerous person is his judge. It sometimes seems that there is nothing men do quite so much as misjudge other men. Whether knowingly or not, it is a perennially prevalent fault to permit personalities or prejudices to enter into the judgments of others. There isn't anything that anyone could do that couldn't be misjudged by one who wanted to misjudge. There was never a mortal man in whom fault could not be found by one who wanted to find fault. There is no act or gesture that could not be misinterpreted by someone whose mind was so set. There is no uttered word to which someone could not give a different meaning from what was intended. No sentence is ever written that could not be read in different ways. There is no one who could not in some respects be presented in a bad light by a prejudiced person. In other words, either we can decide to see the best side of a man or we can decide to see his worst side—and we see the side we want to see. Perhaps this is in some degree inevitable so long as people are imperfect—and that seems likely to be for a long time. But the fervent petition of Solomon could well be the earnest plea and prayer of each of us: "Give therefore thy servant an understanding heart . . . that I may discern between good and bad: for who is able to judge . . . ?"<sup>2</sup> Whether it be among our friends or family, among our own intimate associates or absolute strangers, one of the greatest qualities of character is to be just and generous in judgment. And with a plea from Paradiso again we could well let Dante give us these words of constant warning: "O mortal men, be wary how ye judge."<sup>3</sup>

Harvey T. Newell, Jr. —

Mr. President

by

A. G. (Aggie) Weems, FΘ

◆ It seems quite probable, that could members of the 1930 Millsaps College Alpha-Iota Chapter have realized just who a certain young pledge, H. T. Newell, Jr., was, they would have gone about their initiation tasks, so far as he was concerned, with considerably more gusto.

For it's not often that any undergraduate, much less a sophomore, is presented with the opportunity of putting a paddle—either figuratively or literally—to the national president of his fraternity.

But the Pikes who populated that Jackson, Miss., house 22 years ago, though scattered far and wide today, must have beamed with reminiscent pride when they heard the news from the Kansas City, Mo., convention that Harvey Thornton Newell, Jr., the boy they introduced to the Shield and Diamond, had been honored with the fraternity's highest office.

Harvey Newell is a fraternity man in any language, and his sincere devotion to Pi Kappa Alpha and all that it stands for has been proved by an outstanding record of service.

After his initiation on February 5, 1930, he served Alpha-Iota, in turn, as S.C., Th.C., House Manager and SMC, and he has been a delegate to conventions in Memphis, New Orleans, Chicago, Mackinac, Salt Lake City, Cincinnati, and of course, Kansas City. He was associate editor of the Shield and Diamond from 1936 through 1938, and from 1940 through 1942 he was district president of the Louisiana and Mississippi Chapters. From 1940 through 1946, he was national Pledge Training Director, and, in between, during 1942, he compiled both "The Garnet and Gold Guide" and "The Pledge Master's Manual." During his chairmanship of the Ritual Committee from 1946 through 1950, a revision of the ritual was completed. The Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Foundation claimed him as a trustee in 1949-50, when he was elected National Secretary, serving in this capacity through the Kansas City Convention. A member of the Diamond Life Chapter, Harvey Newell has not only maintained his activity on a district basis, but he is a charter member and has held office in both the Jackson and Meridian, Miss., Alumni Chapters.

So much for the official fraternal record.

ΠΚΑ's all over America know Harvey Newell personally, having met him at conventions and entertained him in chapter houses across the country. Thousands of new members will meet him during the coming two years, for with his job goes the responsibility of personal contact and the role of a father-advisor.

Though there's little physical resemblance between the two men, there's something about Harvey Newell that will remind you of the late Will Rogers, for, I'm sure that Harvey, too, never met a man he didn't like.

There's an ever-present humorous glint in his green eyes that blends pleasingly with the just-as-constant smile on his lips. An even six feet tall, he weighs 160 pounds and wears his smartly-tailored clothing with the quiet confidence of a successful business executive.

But what about his background?

Harvey T. Newell, Jr., was born in the little town of Camp Hill, Ala., on April 3, 1912, to become the fourth and almost middle child in a family of five other children—all girls! Being surrounded by women since the first day he can remember may, or may not, have had any effect on him in later years, but the fact remains that, having just turned 40, he has never married!

With the problem of educating his children paramount in his mind, the elder Mr. Newell sought out a town with adequate college facilities and, after much deliberation, selected Jackson, Miss. Moving there in 1921, he opened the Jackson Paper Co., the first wholesale paper house in the state, and has continued to direct that business personally ever since.

Harvey's "upbringing" was normal and he finished Jackson High School in 1929, where most of his extra-curricular activity was directed toward the band. He played the clarinet, drums, and baritone horn, and served, from the tenth grade on, as assistant director, a job he continued to hold even after entering Millsaps.

Harvey has been in the paper business practically ever since his dad opened the company in 1921. Working after school and on Saturdays, he says, "I literally learned from the ground up."

But as luck would have it, when Harvey Newell finished at Millsaps, an honor graduate with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1933, business conditions were not good, and the paper company did not at that time need to add to its staff. So he went to Tylertown, a small community of 1,500 in southwest Mississippi, to teach school. For $78 a month, he taught English, French, History, organized and instructed a band and sponsored the school paper.

"I made more life-long friends there in that one year," Harvey says today, "than I had in my whole life up until then. And I'm proud to say that, on a per capita basis, I believe more IKA's have come out of Tylertown than any other place in the country. And, naturally, I take quite a bit of the credit."

The following year, in 1934, Harvey went to Northwestern University for graduate work in the School of Commerce, later returning to Jackson to re-enter the paper business with his father. Before getting off the subject of his college days, however, it might also be pointed out that he was honored by his Millsaps' classmates with the office of Life President of the class of '33. There, he was editor of the student weekly, and held memberships in Omicron Delta Kappa (honorary leadership), Alpha Psi Omega (dramatic), Sigma Upsilon (literary) and Eta Sigma (scholarship) fraternities. A student assistant in English for two years, Harvey majored in French, English and History.

Fine father —fine son. Harvey T. Newell, Jr., with his father who is president of the Jackson (Miss.) Paper Company.

When the war came Harvey was not accepted for active military duty so he volunteered for service with the OPA and served as assistant price officer for the state for six months. Wanting to get closer to the meat of things, he managed to get in the American Red Cross Military Welfare Service as field director.

Serving in that capacity until 1945, he was stationed in Washington, Atlanta, New Orleans and Jackson, finally transferring to the Red Cross Veterans' Service with supervision over Mississippi and Louisiana. During this period, he says, his offices handled about 10,000 claims for returning veterans.

With the war over, Harvey went back into the paper business as vice president of the Jackson firm. In 1946 he and his father organized the Newell Paper Co. at Meridian and Harvey moved to that east-central Mississippi city to take over as vice president and manager there, the position he holds today.

It didn't take a man of Harvey Newell's character long to begin being felt in his new "home-town," and in three years after arriving, a practical stranger, he had his hand in many civic, religious and social enterprises, and had been elected to the Board of Directors of the First National Bank, even though he didn't then own a dime's worth of stock in that organization.

To cite a few of these achievements, he is:

A member of the Newcomen Society of England, a member and past officer of the Meridian Chamber of Commerce, a member and former officer of the Meridian Research Council, a member of the Mississippi Economic Council, Director of Meridian's Civil Defense Program, a member and past officer of the Meridian Rotary Club, a member of the International Association of Fire Fighters, a member of the Meridian Police Department, a member of the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, a member and former president of the Meridian Civic Music Association, and of course, National President of the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

Some record for a young bachelor of 40, whose life, they say, has just begun!

But Harvey's activities are not confined solely to such business and civic work, and he has balanced the scale of his active life with a conscientious devotion to God and Church. A member of Meridian's Poplar Springs Drive Methodist congregation, he has been a steward here and in Jackson for 18 years. Former treasurer of the Conference Board of Education from 1940 through 1944, he is today chairman of the Poplar Springs Finance Committee and a member of the Building Committee, which only this year completed the construction of a beautiful auditorium.

There's one question you might well ask:

"By the way, what does Brother Newell do for relaxation? Does he have any hobbies, or does he just work all the time?"

Here's the answer, and it's good medicine.

"This," he said, touching the diamond-studded shield on his chest with reverent affection, "is my golf, my tennis, my fishing and my relaxation. For I have found that direct contact and association with the younger undergraduates will make a man feel 20 years younger."

Harvey does have one hobby, however. It's amateur movies, and his ever-favorite subjects are his nieces and nephews, and a little godson, Harvey Knight, the child of a close friend.

He lives in a finely appointed, modernistic bachelor's home, adjacent to the home occupied by his youngest sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hyer, in Meridian's northern residential section.

But, though he, himself, is a bachelor, Harvey claims to be an expert in getting his brother PIKA's married off. The record shows that he has been in 20 PIKA weddings, doing everything from acting as usher to giving the bride away.

With all that Harvey has done, and is still doing, two things stand out definitely as closest to his heart—his family and his fraternity.

In the former, there are his mother and dad, his five sisters and their six sons and daughters. It's a closely-knit family, and the proof of their love and affection for one another should be found in the fact that none has "married and moved away." They all live either in Jackson or Meridian, and probably always will!

As for his love for his fraternity, there's only this to say:

I may have been a bit over-zealous in comparing Harvey to Will Rogers in even so wide a sense as I have, but of one thing you can be sure.

As least, he never met a Pike he didn't like!

College Enrollments To Rise

Reports of both the American Council on Education and the U. S. Office of Education predict slightly lower college and university enrollments this year. The latter states that a decline of 75,000, to about 2,150,000 students, may be expected. Schools specializing in engineering and the physical sciences, however, may show gains up to about 20%.

After 1952-53, the Council anticipates that enrollments will increase for a period of ten years or more, assuming that present selective service policies on student deferment are continued. Their study reveals that about 57% of entering freshmen are 18½ years old or less, and are so assured of at least one year of collegiate study.

Elementary and secondary school enrollments will reach all-time highs this year, with the former expected to gain 1,596,000 pupils, to about 26,064,000, and the latter 95,000 to 6,263,000. The effects of increased birth rates in the late 1930s will begin to be reflected at the college level next year.

It is estimated that about 265,000 men have now been discharged by the armed services, and there will be an additional 460,000 by 1953. A substantial number may be expected to take advantage of the educational benefits of the 1952 Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act, but the full effects will not be evidenced until 1953-54, according to Dr. Earl J. McGrath, U. S. Commissioner of Education.

The new G. I. bill provides that payments be made directly to veterans—$110 a month to those without dependents, $135 to those with one dependent, $150 to those with more than one. The 1945 version provided $90 to $120 for maintenance, plus payments direct to colleges for tuition, up to $500 a year.

NIC Opposes Questionnaires

Questionnaires, addressed to undergraduate chapters of men's and women's fraternities, have become more than a nuisance, according to NPC and NIC officials. Among those appearing in the mail last spring were some seeking opinions on which Greek-letter organizations "rate," and others asking for an expression of preference between "spiked punch" or "pancakes" at fraternity breakfasts. Investigation of the sources of these survey forms has, in some instances, disclosed an intention to use the responses in publicity ridiculing and discrediting college students and their organizations.

National Panhellenic Conference member organizations have entered into an agreement seeking to curb frivolous and malicious inquiries, but without impeding bona fide research efforts. Their compact says in part, that "no constitutions will be filed with colleges and universities, or other outside groups, without approval of the NPC Chairman of Research and Public Relations, and no questionnaires, oral or written, answered . . . until such time as such questionnaires have been reviewed by the NPC Committee on Research and Public Relations and information released as to their validity."

Ralph Yeager Named Vice President

By Roger Anderson, AΣ

◆ News of the election of Ralph F. Yeager as National Vice President of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity at Kansas City was received in Cincinnati with unanimous approval.

For 20 years Brother Yeager has loyally served PiKA in every conceivable capacity. His willingness to accept every assignment of the fraternity and to perform his task in a thorough unassuming way has earned him the complete respect of all PiKA's in the Ohio District.

Thus when Brother Yeager was honored by election to the second highest office in the fraternity, the reaction "at home" was that "it couldn't have happened to a nicer, more deserving guy."

Ralph was pledged to Alpha-Xi Chapter in 1933, initiated in February, 1934, and was elected to his first term as SMC in May of that same year. He served a second term as SMC in 1934-1935 school year, and then as Rush Chairman in 1935 and 1936. Brother Yeager attended the New Orleans National Convention in 1936 as student delegate.

As Pledge Advisor to the 1937 class Ralph developed one of the finest pledge classes in Alpha-Xi's history. Brother Yeager became affectionately known as

"Doc," and to the Alpha-Xi's of that era he still carries that title.

At the age of 26 Ralph was appointed District President of the Third District, which at that time included all of Ohio. His service as District President was notably marked with two new chapters and the strengthening of all the other chapters in the district.

Brother Yeager's tenure as District President was interrupted by 52 months in the U. S. Air Force, during which time his shoes were capably filled by Brother Phil "Bud" Heil, well known Cincinnati insurance executive. Ralph served as a Captain in the Air Force in the States and in Germany.

Brother Yeager's professional background has been extensive. His many years service as Assistant Dean in the University of Cincinnati Evening College has kept him in close contact with the active chapters and with students of the active age group. While Brother Yeager was Assistant Dean the U. C. Evening College became the fourth largest in the United States, having a student enrollment of 9,000, and a faculty of 220.

Prior to his Evening College work Ralph had taught in two of Cincinnati's largest high schools. His subjects were American History, English, and Social Studies. He also coached football and swimming. Last June Brother Yeager left the University to enter the real estate sales field. He is associated with Esther B. O'Brien, specializing in residential sales. He continues his teaching, however, by handling two classes in speech in the Evening College.

Ralph's activities in the education field have been very extensive over the past years. He has delivered several papers at national educational conventions and is currently President of the Adult Education Section of the Ohio College Association. He is a member of the Cincinnati Real Estate Board, an affiliate of the Ohio and National Real Estate Boards, and a member of the Cincinnati Club. He resides with his wife, Margot Fischer von Hollstein, at 2929 Woodside Place, Cincinnati.

Atlanta Attorney Elected Secretary

By Luke Greene, AM

◆ Inslee M. Johnson of Atlanta, Pi Kappa Alpha's new National Secretary, is what might be called in football parlance a "triple threat."

A successful attorney, Johnson not only finds time to devote to fraternal affairs, but he has been active in Scout work for 15 years and only recently was elected President of Men of Trinity Presbyterian Church in Atlanta.

A robust, genial fellow with a persuasive voice, Johnson is a member of the law firm of Phillips, Johnson and Williams with offices in Atlanta's Connally Building.

His interest in PiKA goes back to his college days at the University of Georgia, where he was graduated in 1935 with an LL.B degree. Not only did he serve as House Manager and President of Alpha-Mu chapter but he was elected treasurer of the Panhellenic Council, one of the top honors on the campus. He was also elected to membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, an honorary fraternity, which selects only top college men who are recognized leaders.

After his graduation from the University, Johnson went back to his home town of Alma, Ga., where he was born in 1911. He practiced law there until 1943 when he joined the American Red Cross as an overseas field director. He served the Red Cross for two and one-half years, carrying out assignments in both England and France.

At the end of the war, Johnson decided to come to Atlanta and re-enter the practice of law there instead of returning to Alma. He is now a member of the Atlanta Bar Association, the Atlanta Lawyers Club, the Georgia Bar and the American Bar Association.

Johnson is married to the former Betty Ann Tittle of Springfield, Ohio, and they have one daughter, Jennifer Ann, age two. They live in a new home in one of Atlanta's best residential areas, 1500 Peachtree Battle Ave. N.W.

Before being elected National Secretary, Johnson served as president of District 8 of Pi Kappa Alpha.

His interest in IKA has never lagged since his college days. He keeps in close touch with alumni in the Atlanta area and each Friday at noon you'll find him sitting down with fellow IKA's of Atlanta at their regular weekly luncheon. And whenever there's a job to do you'll usually find him in there pitching. He's forever reminding delinquent members, like newspapermen who never seem able to break away from their jobs, that they ought to attend the fraternity luncheons and get back on the active list.

But much as he loves his fraternal activities (he's also a member of the Buckhead Elks Club), he usually gets around to talking about Scouting. He takes pride in the fact that he was chairman of organization for Scout work in South Fulton county.

His hobbies? Well, when you're busy with the law, church, Scouts and fraternity, there isn't much time left. But Inslee would have you know he recently completed building a brick terrace at his new home. And that's quite a project within itself.

District President Made Treasurer

By Robert W. Haverfield

◆ Our new National Treasurer sits on the Supreme Council as the youngest in age (32) among men all young in spirit.

Region II's representative on the Council is an attorney of St. Louis, Missouri, where he has been practicing for five years as an associate of the law firm of Thompson, Mitchell, Thompson & Douglas, one of the oldest and the largest firms in St. Louis.

Born in Richmond, Missouri, he was exposed to education in the public schools of that city and those of Springfield and Jefferson City, Missouri. An honor student in high school, he was captain of the swimming team and a three-year letterman in swimming. A member of the Jefferson City Chapter of the Order of DeMolay, he was Master Counselor of that chapter and a recipient of the Representative DeMolay award of that Order.

Arriving at the University of Missouri as a junior, he was pledged (Rush Captain—Robert W. Haverfield) and initiated by Alpha-Nu Chapter. He served the chapter as Th.C. for a year.

Majoring in political science and public administration, he completed his major and minor subjects as a junior and took his senior year as a freshman in the University's law school.

Upon receiving his A.B. degree in 1942, he entered the army. Three and a half years later, and after serving 21 months in the European Theatre with a civil affairs and military government detachment in France, Luxembourg, and Germany, he returned to his native soil and the University of Missouri to complete his law studies.

While in the law school, he was a member of the Board of Editors of the Missouri Law Review, elected to the Order of the Coif, a Case Club Finalist, and the recipient of the Alexander Martin prize as the senior with the highest scholastic average.

Elected District President by the Missouri chapters of Pi Kappa Alpha at the Salt Lake City Convention in 1948, he served the Fraternity in that capacity for four years and until his election to the Supreme Council. During this time, he supervised the refinancing of the house indebtedness of Alpha-Kappa Chapter and the sale of one house and the purchase of another house for Beta-Lambda Chapter.

A member of the Missouri Bar and the Bar Association of St. Louis, he is the three-year member of the latter association's Committee on Coordination and Correlation. He is active in his church and is Company Commander of Company G, 407th Inf. Regt. (Res.)

He is married to the vivacious former Ruth Atkinson of Jefferson City, a graduate in music of Central College, Fayette, Missouri. They have two children, a daughter, Carol, age 8, and a future Pi Kap prospect, Stephen, age 3.

Alumni Secretary From Salt Lake City

By Al Thomas

◆ If there happens to be a "Mr. Pike" in Utah, then that accolade belongs to Grant Macfarlane, AT (Utah), one of the newest appointments to the Supreme Council of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

And, besides being "Mr. Pike," Grant Macfarlane has justly earned the title of "Mr. Democrat," too. Brother Macfarlane has just recently resigned as State Chairman of the Democratic Party of Utah but has kept his finger in the political pie by accepting the chairmanship of the "Volunteers for Stevenson" committee for the state.

Born in St. George, Utah, on April 1, 1899, Brother Macfarlane graduated from the University of Utah in 1920 and later received his LL.B. from the "U" in 1927. He resides at 22 North Wolcott, which coincidentally is just across the street from the Pi Kap house near the university.

Two sons, Grant, Jr., and James, are now active members of Alpha-Tau Chapter and two other sons, Richard and John, are on the "ready line" for initiation as soon as they are old enough to go to college. Only his wife, the former Lucy Gayle Langton, and a daughter, Marilyn, have not been able to have Pi Kappa Alpha rub off on them, but they still wear the sweetheart pins of the fraternity.

One of Utah's most prominent attorneys, Grant Macfarlane has also long been associated with political activity in the Beehive state. He served as president of the Utah Senate and was a member of the Utah House of Representatives, as well as serving as Salt Lake County Democratic Chairman. Brother Macfarlane was signally honored by being named Chairman of the Board of Managers of The Council of State Governments in 1944. This honor is rarely accorded a person not holding a high-ranking nationally known elective office.

During the recent Democratic National Convention in Chicago, Brother Macfarlane gave the seconding speech for Oklahoma's Senator Robert S. Kerr. Macfarlane chaired the Kerr organization in the eleven western states prior to the nominating convention.

Mr. Macfarlane is on the Executive Board, Salt Lake Council, Boy Scouts of America, as well as being very active in the affairs of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon).

Besides his legal activities which include counseling for the real estate boards, hotel and motel associations, and apartment house associations, Brother Macfarlane maintains his "business-man-about-town" atmosphere by being a member of the National Exchange Club, the Aviation Club, and Delta Theta Phi law fraternity. He has served as president of these organizations as well as having been president of the Pi Kappa Alpha Alumni Association.

Living but a step and a half from the chapter house, Grant has been able to keep tab on the fraternity activities and has been called on countless times for many rare bits of advice. And, that advice has not been just of a legal nature, either.

A highlight of the annual Founders' Day banquets on March 1st is the verbal jousting between Macfarlane and Pratt Kesler, AT, '28. It's always in good fun, but with Macfarlane as State Chairman of the Democratic Party of Utah, and Kesler as State Chairman of the Republican Party of Utah, sparks always fly when these two old fraternity brothers let go with both barrels. (Author's note: Alpha-Tau Chapter claims to be the only Pike chapter in the U. S. who has two alums heading both political parties in the state. Any challenge?)

With all of Brother Macfarlane's accomplishments in the field of law and politics, his greatest stock in trade is his big heart. His office has always been open to anyone in the fraternity who has a problem. Possessing one of the most understanding natures a mere man can have, Grant Macfarlane is "Mr. Pike" because the hundreds of alumni in Utah, plus the fuzz-faced active members of the chapter, know that in Grant they have not only a ready hand but a sincere interest in what they are doing.

Utah's Alpha-Tau and Gamma-Epsilon chapters of Pi Kappa Alpha are proud to have Grant Macfarlane on the Supreme Council of the fraternity. No better Pi Kappa Alpha could serve.

Hippel Re-elected National Counsel

By David F. Maxwell

♦ A human dynamo—that describes in a nutshell our National Counsel. Full of energy and endurance, John Hippel learned in his undergraduate days at the University of Pennsylvania how to take it. There he played on the scrub football team and for three years was one of the unsung heroes who acted as a doormat for the big Varsity brothers. And as though that wasn't enough of a beating, in the off-season he rowed on the 150-pound crew which in 1923, his senior year, won the intercollegiate championship. With that rugged background it is no wonder that "Johnny," as he likes to be called by his friends, has the vitality and sparkle which has endeared him to all who have come in contact with him.

From the time of his initiation into Pi Kappa Alpha he has continuously and unstintingly devoted time and effort to advancing the interests of the fraternity. As an undergraduate, he served as SMC and IMC and as Chairman of the Rushing Committee. As an alumnus, he was President of the Philadelphia Alumnus Chapter. From 1940 to 1946 he served as District President for District No. 1 and since 1946 as National Counsel he has been a member of the Supreme Council. In 1942 the Philadelphia Alumnus Chapter recognized the distinguished contribution he had made to the fraternity by naming him "Man of the Year" and awarded him a gold wrist-watch as symbolic thereof.

By profession he is an attorney, having graduated from the University of Pennsylvania Law School in 1926 where he was a member of the Editorial Board of the Law Review, one of the highest honors that can be conferred upon any law student. He was also made a member of Phi Delta Phi Legal Fraternity. After receiving his LL.B degree, he joined the law firm of Edmonds, Obermayer & Rebmann, with which he is still associated as one of the senior partners. He is recognized as an authority on labor law on which subject he has not only lectured but has written many articles.

Despite his numerous activities, he has always found time to heed the admonition of Theodore Roosevelt "every man owes some of his time to the upbuilding of the profession to which he belongs," and has served the Philadelphia Bar Association as Chairman of its Committee of Censors and as a member of the Board of Governors. Presently, he is serving as President of the University of Pennsylvania Law School Class of 1926 and as Secretary of the University of Pennsylvania undergraduate class of 1923.

His home is in Bryn Mawr and as an indication of his interest in the affairs of his community, he serves on the Board of School Directors of Lower Merion Township, Montgomery County. He is a member of the Union League, Philadelphia Country Club, and the Bachelors Barge Club.

Despite his active schedule, he is essentially a family man and enjoys nothing more than spending his leisure time on his Main Line suburban estate with his lovely wife, the former Myrabel Port, whom he married in 1927, and his two comely daughters, Barbara Purdue, who just last June graduated from Mt. Holyoke College, and Judith Port, who this fall started her freshman year at Sarah Lawrence College in Bronxville, New York.

In addition to serving as Chairman of the House of Delegates of the American Bar Association, Brother Maxwell is State Delegate from Pennsylvania and is presently a member of the Executive Committee of the Pennsylvania Bar Association. He was formerly a member of the Board of Governors of the Philadelphia Bar Association. Besides his interest in Bar Association affairs, Mr. Maxwell is active in civic organizations and is presently Chairman of the Philadelphia Citizens Highway Safety Board. He is Immediate Past President of the Kiwanis Club of Philadelphia and Vice President of the Germantown Cricket Club. He is married and has two children, a daughter, Mrs. William H. Pasfield, who graduated from Wellesley College, and a son, David O. Maxwell, who graduated from Yale University in June of 1952. His son is presently attending Law School at Harvard.

District Presidents Appointed

◆ The Pi Kappa Alpha District President System has been revised by the 1952 National Convention. The number of districts has been reduced from 28 to 14. The District Presidents will be official representatives of the national fraternity in their districts.

The District Presidents are responsible for planning, calling, and presiding over District Conventions at least once between each national convention and preferably each year. They will receive reports from the chapters in their districts and copies of correspondence from the national office to their chapters.

Due to the pressure of their professional duties it has been difficult for the District Presidents to spend the time necessary to do a thorough job of chapter visitation. With the increase in the number of chapters this visitation would frequently require at least two weeks. The Convention decided to relieve them of this visitation responsibility and have it handled by the Field Secretaries.

District Presidents are available for Founders' Day banquets and other meetings of student and alumni chapters. It is expected that such groups will defray the expenses of the District Presidents on such occasions. The only expense to the national fraternity will be their attendance at national convention. They can contribute immeasurably to the deliberations, and receive training as potential members of the Supreme Council.

The directory on page 38 indicates the district in which each chapter is located. Of the 14 District Presidents under the new system, five were serving at the time of the Convention and one other is a previous District President. The deepest appreciation is extended to those loyal members of Pi Kappa Alpha who have brought strength to the fraternity by their devoted service to it as District Presidents since the system was established many years ago. We welcome these new leaders who give every indication of maintaining the high standards and ideals of Pi Kappa Alpha.

William Fuller — Fiction Writer

◆ William Fuller, Alpha-Eta (Florida), is the author of a four-page fiction article in a recent issue of Argosy magazine. He uses the Okinawa fighting as a background for the story. Brother Fuller actually served in the South Pacific as a Captain in the Cavalry and received a medal for saving the life of an enlisted man who was about to drown.

Bill has had many interesting experiences since he left the University in 1935 with an urge to travel. Included among the many jobs which he is said to have had at one time or another are deck boy on a freighter, working for a lady masseur, a newspaper reporter, film extra and script reader, doing publicity and advertising work, posing in long-drawers for mail-order catalogues, and escorting a quartet of six-foot redheads to New York night clubs.

He is now a full time fiction writer.

A scene of the beautiful Shenandoah Valley of Virginia which is part of the 15 county area which will be promoted by Caskie Norvell, II, B (Davidson), who became Executive Director of Shenandoah Valley, Inc., September 1, with headquarters in Staunton, Va.

Field Secretary John Hein

National Office Announces Staff

◆ Several changes in the National Office staff have been announced for the coming year. Office Manager W. E. Rothrock has been made Assistant Executive Secretary. John Hein, FH (Southern California), has been appointed Field Secretary for the western area to succeed Thomas A. Bowles. William E. Hayes, AH (Florida), has been added to the staff as Field Secretary of the southeastern area as a result of the action of the National Convention and the Supreme Council. Field Secretary Gary Steiner will continue to serve the Midwest and East. John R. Horton will continue as senior Field Secretary handling both chapter visitation and work with petitioning groups.

John W. Hein assumes his duties with an excellent fraternity background. After serving two years in the Navy during World War II with duty in the South Pacific he returned to the University of Southern California where he began an energetic membership in Gamma-Eta Chapter. He attended the 1950 National Leadership School at Oxford, Ohio, and the Cincinnati National Convention. Upon returning to his chapter he served in several offices.

Brother Hein graduated from Southern California in 1951 with scholastic honors including membership in Phi Beta Kappa. He plans to enter law school after an interlude of work. He attended the 1952 National Leadership School at Columbia, Missouri, and the Kansas City National Convention at which he served as the Los Angeles alumnus chapter delegate. John is single, 26 years of age, and a member of the Anaheim, California, Methodist Church.

The fraternity is fortunate to have good lawyers both as Supreme Council members and members of the National Office staff. William E. Hayes, Starke, Florida, received his law degree from the University of Florida in June, 1951. His love for the fraternity took him back for additional school work, but primarily to bring the membership records of Alpha-Eta Chapter into good order. He voluntarily spent a full semester at this task and did a superb job. (See page 35, March, 1952, Shield and Diamond).

After serving in the Marine Corps during World War II Bill attended the University of Florida where he soon became a leader at Alpha-Eta Chapter. His offices included Alumni Secretary and S. M.C. Under his leadership the chapter operation and administration improved greatly. Brother Hayes is 27 years of age, single, and a member of the Baptist Church.

Michigan Alumni Hold Reunion

◆ The 1922-27 group of Beta-Tau (Michigan) alumni held a grand reunion in Ann Arbor, Michigan, October 4, 1952. R. B. Pickard, Tuscola, Illinois, was the sparkplug who handled preliminary arrangements. Believe it or not, 46 members of the chapter were present. Great was the rejoicing when these brothers saw each other again after many, many years. Brother Pickard said it came close to being a miracle to have such a fine group present from such distant points as Florida.

Plans are already underway for another reunion in two years to which the entire alumni group will be invited. Work is now underway on a directory of the chapter alumni to facilitate the interchange of information and correspondence.

The one dark cloud in the sky is that Beta-Tau Chapter is now dormant. These alumni are working toward the re-establishment of a chapter. A committee has been appointed with Professor D. Maynard Phelps, 1601 Morton Avenue, Ann Arbor, Michigan, as chairman. Members having sons or friends attending the University should pass this information on to Brother Phelps.

These are the fellows and their wives whom you would have seen at the reunion: Amos C. Anderson, Clayton B. Briggs, Hugh M. Dalziel, Harlan F. Hedden, Cyril L. Kendall, George E. Korten, Robert Lindquist, Robert A. Manchester, Robert B. Newcombe, J. C. Peck, Donald J. Reese, Lyman G. Rupp, W. Roger Greene, Robert M. Bosserman, Mr. and Mrs. G. Howard Chappell, Mr. and Mrs. Edison H. Cramer, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Diehl, Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hastings Downie, Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur G. Eklund, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Fernamberg, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald H. Frieling, Mr. and Mrs. E. Payson Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. Evans K. Griffing, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Hacker, Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Hussey, Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Kuenzel, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Lindberg, Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. McClure, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. McPherson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Morgenstern, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Brother Horne is an interested and active alumnus of the fraternity. He and his family reside in Washington.

Meadows Veep Of Jaycees

◆ Jack E. Meadows, BM (Texas), was elected a vice president of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce at the National Convention held in Dallas, Texas, this summer. He participates in the formulation and execution of Jaycee programs in the fields of safety, health, fire prevention, human relations in industry, youth welfare, industrial development, and community welfare funds. He will serve the states of Arkansas, Alabama, Florida, and Kentucky in an administrative and visitation capacity.

Colonel Albert Barrs Pledges ΠΚΑ

By John Layton

◆ Perhaps one of the oldest men to ever pledge Pi Kappa Alpha was Colonel Albert E. Barrs who was 66 years of age on November 6. Colonel Barrs attended the University of Florida for one semester in 1906, then entered business with his father where he followed the lumber and timber business with various wholesalers and brokers until 1915. He then joined a Public Relations group until World War I, and served with First Florida Infantry from April, 1917, until November, 1918. He was commissioned a First Lieutenant in the Infantry Reserve, and attended First Officers Training Camp, Ft. McPherson, Georgia, where he graduated as Captain of Infantry Reserve, assigned to 82nd Division, Camp Gordon in Atlanta.

Colonel Barrs was injured while in training, was sent to the hospital and then to Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Alabama, as P.M.S. & T. until September, 1919. He later returned to Jacksonville where he maintained his broker's office until 1922. He took a position with Security Building and Loan Company in Jacksonville and later was connected with National Container Corporation as Insurance Specialist until October, 1940.

Colonel Barrs attended Advanced Infantry School at Ft. Benning from October, 1940, until January, 1941, and rejoined the 31st Division as Brigadier Commander. In January, 1942, he transferred to the Air Corps as an Administrative Officer for various Air Squadrons. In June, 1943, he was assigned to train with the 401st Heavy Bombardment Group, and was moved to England with that organization in October, 1943. He returned to the United States in June, 1945, and was sent to March Field, California, as an Inspector and Legal Officer. In June, 1946, he went to Letterman General Hospital and in June, 1947, he retired as Lieutenant Colonel for total disability. He spent most of 1948 in the Naval Hospital at Jacksonville Naval Air Station, and after recovery at the hospital he entered the University of Florida under the G. I. Bill in February, 1950. He enrolled in the College of Law, but this semester has entered the College of Business Administration. He is now a junior and plans to graduate in June, 1954.

Col. Albert Barrs, AH

Colonel Barrs pledged Pi Kappa Alpha the fall semester of last year and was initiated into the bonds of brotherhood in March. Colonel Barrs is the brother of Judge Burton E. Barrs (AH, 1909), Judge of Circuit Court, Duval County, Florida. After graduation he plans to enter Real Estate, Insurance and Appraisal Business. He also plans to go to parties, travel, work at convenience, loaf at will, and be an active and outstanding alumnus of Alpha-Eta Chapter.

THE LIFE OF a fraternity pledge begins pleasantly, as David Sarrett, a Marshall College student, finds as he receives his pledge pin from an active member, Stanley Love. Another active, Larry Hill, sees that as a pledge Sarrett keeps his nose to the grindstone and helps him with his studies. Trying to call his girl on the phone, he is heckled by Jim Jones and Robert Shive. Now comes his house duties and house manager, Charles Boyd, supervises the floor waxing. He is taught how to cut meat properly by Gene Watson, and teaching him to jitterbug are L. B. Johnson and Fred Kemp. In the background are Bill Clementin, Lucy Saunders, and Bill Alexander. His other pledge duties include collecting old clothes and clearing the yard in front of the fraternity house. He is welcome in this job by Glen Smith and Mark Booker. ## J. L. Gourley — Energetic Publisher

◆ A tourist driving through Henryetta, Oklahoma, one sunny Monday at noontime last summer, slowed down at the intersection of Fifth and Main and asked a native what all the crowd was about, just a half block off Main street.

"It's another one of Gourley's stunts," remarked the Henryettan as he headed for the crowd.

"Gourley" is J. Leland Gourley, Beta-Omicron (Okla.), editor and publisher of the Henryetta Daily Free Lance. Oklahoma's youngest newspaper publisher, age 32, Gourley is fast gaining the reputation as the most colorful editor in the Southwest. Recently he added the Hugo (Okla.) Daily News to his newspaper empire to become the Southwest's youngest chain publisher.

The "stunt" the native was telling the tourist about on this particular day was the public display of a Henryetta area goat in front of the Free-Lance office. The billy, a couple of days before, had butted a car right off the highway. The car had to be towed in but the goat walked calmly away from the accident. Gourley used the goat as a part of his continuous campaign to convince the public that Henryetta has the biggest and best of everything, including billy goats.

When Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc was at the height of his Hadacol fame, Gourley made a deal with him to get 500 bottles of the elixir free to give away with each mail subscription in a circulation drive. Gourley ran half-page ads captioned: "J. LELAND GOURLEY AND DUDLEY J. LEBLANC BRING HAPPINESS AND HEALTH TO HENRYETTA AREA RESIDENTS." The ad went on to explain Gourley brought the happiness, and LeBlanc the health. The Oklahoma Press Association and the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association distributed copies of the ad to all their member papers.

Gourley's promotional talents led the manager of Henryetta's chain theaters to write a letter to the Hugo manager when Gourley bought that paper. The theater man said, "Gourley is a showman in the newspaper business. The people may disagree with him but they grab for his paper when it hits the front porch. Needless to say, this makes it a good advertising medium."

In the five and one-half years since Gourley took over the Henryetta paper at the age of 26, he has doubled the cir-ulation and the advertising lineage. He has been written up in trade journals, and a few months ago one of his exploits was written up in Time magazine. He spends a great deal of his time as an after dinner speaker. This is his hobby and he has appeared at practically every city in Oklahoma and has spoken in Arkansas, Missouri, Texas, and Colorado.

When Remington-Rand and other big companies were offering General MacArthur $150,000 a year after he was relieved in the Far East, Gourley sent MacArthur a telegram which was waiting for him when he landed at San Francisco. The Henryettan offered the General a job on the Free-Lance at $2,500 a year. He remarked to friends later, "I got just as much publicity as Remington-Rand, and for $147,500 less, too."

At the University of Oklahoma, Gourley began his colorful, if somewhat controversial, newspaper career on the student daily. For an item in his personal column, he was dunked in OU's mirror pool by a group of students.

Editor J. Leland Gourley,
BO (Oklahoma)

After leaving the University, he worked on the loud and lusty Seminole, (Okla.) Producer, where he was rotten-egged on one occasion.

During World War II, he served as a combat artillery officer in the European theater (94th Division) and after VE Day was made a public relations officer. Gourley aroused the ire of his General with an editorial he wrote and published in the division newspaper entitled "Be Kind to Officers, You Might Be Selling Apples Yourself, Someday." Said the PRO, "I was just trying to be funny, but the General didn't seem to have a sense of humor. Shucks!"

All of Gourley's promotions have not been for self interest. He works just as vigorously for others. The Henryetta Chamber of Commerce recently said publicly, "This guy lies awake nights trying to figure out ways to make Henryetta better."

He conducted a 48-hour campaign through his newspaper to raise $800 to send a 2-year-old boy to a spastic paralysis foundation. Instead of the $800, more than $1,600 came in the door. Gourley opened a Crippled Children's Fund and appointed three local men as trustees.

The young IKA editor has served as Sunday School superintendent, Christian church deacon, commander of Okmulgee county's reserve battalion, state publications board chairman of the American Legion, and director of the Henryetta Chamber of Commerce and the Henryetta Rotary Club. He is listed in "Who's Who in the South and Southwest."

He is married to the former Billijo Simpson, a Kappa Kappa Gamma from the University of Oklahoma who also attended Christian College, Columbia, Mo., and Washington University, St. Louis. They have one son, age 4.

Kansas Holds Athletic Party

By David Baker

was the new fall social function at Beta-Gamma Chapter, Kansas University. It replaced the 12th Street Brawl usually staged every year. The affair was held in the colorfully decorated Big Six room of the Eldridge Hotel. Pikes, dates, and alumni were present in comic athletic attire. The brothers wanted something new for the theme of their party since many houses on the hill have costume parties depicting the gay nineties. The athletic idea was accepted and carried through with a great deal of success.

A screened-in cage was placed just inside the entrance way, and sports notices were posted on a bulletin board just outside the entrance to give the party the atmosphere of a locker room. Humorous posters lined the walls and added to the scene.

Couples came dressed as baseball players, bookies, bullfighters, hunters, fishermen, swimmers, boxers and archers. The chaperons made a big hit with everybody by dressing as officials.

The invitations presented to the girls were one of the highlights of the party. The girl's name appeared on a sweatsock which stated that she had been chosen by the national scouting board to appear at the party.

Delaware Active On Campus

By William H. duBell

◆ Delta-Eta Chapter at the University of Delaware, the youngest fraternity on campus is presently planning an extended rush program for upper-classmen and transfer students. The house opened the fall term with sixteen active brothers and six pledges, two of whom will be initiated within the next few weeks. Delaware does not permit freshmen pledging until February.

However small the chapter may be, it is one of the most active on campus, having representatives in most of the major activities. The house, as a unit, has its sights set on its first trophy, the "Cheerleaders' Trophy," for the group showing the most spirit and the best decorations. So far a great showing has been made with house displays, spirit at football games, and at pep fests. One rally was followed by an all Pi K A fire dance with torches on the athletic field as a large throng of spectators looked on.

The football team—there's a bunch full of vitality! Quarterbacked by Pete Pefter, they dropped their first three games by close scores to the three teams which will undoubtedly end the season in one-two-three order in our league. A winning streak has since been raging which as yet shows no sign of ceasing.

The brothers and pledges are also making a name for themselves. Frank Serpico, next year's IFC president, has been the Blue Hen's offensive left end for the past two years. Quite a few of his excellent catches and runs have set up Delaware touchdowns this season. Ben Mountain, IMC, and Steve Butcher, a pledge, are on the starting defensive line-up.

Members have also earned quite a few military honors. Bob Fisher, Th. C., and Ben Mountain are respectively second and third in command of the ROTC cadets, while Herb Heyl, a junior, is a first sergeant. Ben is also in command of the Delaware Rifles, a crack drill unit. Four of the sophomores have been awarded the rank of corporal. Other members and pledges are active in student publications, soccer team, chorus, student government, and various other clubs.

The current address of former Alumnus Counselor John P. Diehl is: Box 434, Avon Park, Florida.

Outstanding Serenades At Florida Southern

◆ The last skit of the annual Cap and Gown Pajama Party (an affair at which every girl on campus could be found) was over, and the applause was just dying out. From outside the big drawing room in the Freshman Girls' dormitory came the humming of voices; the whisper swept over the excited group of girls: "It's the Pikes!"

The humming now ceased and resonant words of the Alma Mater burst forth:

"Florida Southern, Thee we love . . .". As the girls crowded the windows and out onto the balconies, fifty men dressed in white dinner jackets moved into position. Songmaster, Charles Selph, stepped to the front of the group and led the Pikes in their traditional opening number, "Southern Gal Ain't'cha Coming Out Tonight?" With all the lights out in the dorm, there was only the bright harvest moon reflecting on the jackets of the serenaders as they sang "Blue Moon." Among the popular repertoire were such favorites as, "Somewhere Over the Rainbow," "Down In Old Virginny," and the best loved melody of them all, "You're the Dream of PiKA" composed by Delta-Delta Brother Lynwood Beder. It seemed like a mere moment and it was all over as the men sang "Goodnight Ladies." Then humming the Alma Mater, they filed two by two into the dark.

It was certainly a very beautiful event and will be long remembered by every listener, but few people realize the persistent preparation that precedes the actual serenade. Hours are involved in selecting, rearranging, and rehearsing the music. The Pikes upheld their fine tradition of being the best serenade group on campus because of their hard work.

Three scheduled serenades are held each year. They are at the beginning of school, at Christmas, and at the end of the school term. However, each time a brother pins his sweetheart occasions a "Sweetheart Serenade."

Miss Detroit — Delta-Nu Dream Girl

◆ When Delta-Nu Chapter at Wayne University picked its Dream Girl last May, it was just a few steps ahead of the city of Detroit (Michigan) judges.

For soon after SMC Jim McMicking presented Miss Norene Gerald as PiKA Dream Girl, word was received that blond-haired, blue-eyed Miss Gerald had also been selected as "Miss Detroit of 1952-53."

At the Dream Girl festivities held in the exclusive Whittier Hotel overlooking the Detroit River, Miss Ann Ahoe and Miss Irene Ghindi were announced as attendants to Miss Gerald.

Last year's Delta-Nu Dream Girl, Miss Janet DeHaan, also won a further beauty title after being honored by PiKA. She reigned as the Mackenzie Union Governor's Lady, queen of the men's organization on campus, throughout 1951-52.

Wagner Northwestern Student President

By Jon L. Ressel

◆ The highest student office at Northwestern University, the presidency of the Student Governing Board, is held this year by Ray Wagner of Gamma-Rho chapter. Wagner, a liberal arts senior, won the coveted position in last spring's student elections as the candidate of the Student Congress, dominant political party on campus. Not waiting till fall to lower his gavel, Ray called two special meetings of the Student Governing Board last spring in an attempt to settle a dispute involving the editors of the Daily Northwestern.

A three-year background in the field of student government and activities provide him with a wealth of experience for his new job as chief executive of the student body. He has been a past SMC of Gamma-Rho Chapter, a member of class councils, a member of the activities and organizations committee of S.G.B., and treasurer of Student Congress. This fall, such tasks as working out the agenda for S.G.B. meetings, presiding over school functions, and keeping other dates such as lunching with N. U. Prexy J. Roscoe Miller and Mayor Kennely of Chicago have made Ray the busiest man on campus. However, his heavy responsibilities have not kept him from taking an active part in chapter affairs. He played a big part in securing a pledge class of 22 boys, one of the largest on campus.

The house touch football team swept through League I M competition without a defeat, adding another handsome trophy to the large group already adorning the two cases in the lounge.

The team went all the way to the semifinals of the interleague playoffs, losing out to a powerful Chi Psi outfit in their only defeat of the season. Chi Psi lost to Phi Delta Theta in the all-school championship contest.

So far this fall the chapter has a 1-1 record, beating Alpha Tau Omega 21-12, and losing to Kappa Sigma, 19-0.

Chuck Hobbs and Ray Grassa were responsible for the year's other addition to the trophy case as they won the IM golf championship in the spring tourney.

The appearance of the chapter house, which is one of the newest on campus, has been improved considerably during the past year. The Mother's Club kindly furnished each room with venetian blinds. Several of the brothers remained in Evanston during the summer and painted the lounge, hallways and several of the other rooms. They also put new wallpaper in the foyer.

A new television set has been installed in the game room, and new lamps and overhead lights have been put in each bedroom. Last year's pledge class bought a lamp post which has been placed in front of the house.

With these many improvements in the house, a large well balanced pledge class, and an active chapter which contains many leaders in campus affairs, Gamma-Rho Chapter should have a banner year in 1952.

Bowling Green First In Scholarship

By C. D. Hornaday

◆ Delta-Beta chapter placed first out of 16 fraternities in scholarship for the spring semester. The group had a 2.5897 average out of a possible 4.0 to rank well above the all-men's average. This marks the third time during the last five semesters that Pi K A has been first in fraternity scholarship at Bowling Green.

At the Annual Sadie Hawkins dance, Delta-Beta received a trophy for having the most bearded men present. Brother Roger Uhl, whose beard formed the letters IKA, won prizes for having the longest and most unique beard. Brother Vern Wright was chosen the best hog-caller at the annual event.

Homecoming was held at Bowling Green over the week-end of October 18. The Pikes had a banquet for the returning alumni and their wives. Decorations covering the front of the house were put up by the chapter to welcome the alumni.

On October 19, Delta-Beta Chapter sponsored a forum discussion on the question "Should Ohio Have A Constitutional Convention." The question was placed on the Ohio ballot in November, and was considered a very important question in Ohio. The forum featured speakers from the CIO, Toledo Women Voters, Ohio Farm Bureau, and a Toledo law firm. Mr. Harry S. Wonnell, former president of the Ohio State Bar Association, was the mediator for the forum. The discussion was broadcast by five Ohio radio stations: WSPD, Toledo; WFIN, Findlay; WFRO, Fremont; WLCE, Sandusky; and WBGU, campus station. The forum, which was held in the auditorium of the University, drew a large crowd from the Bowling Green area.

Arizona State House Enlarged

By Henry Verrue

◆ Delta-Tau Chapter has been busy trying to fill the large addition built to the house during the summer. This has boosted the capacity to twenty men. John Horton was here for the "rush week" kick off. We have fifteen new pledges to date.

The pledges have planned a big Halloween party for the actives; Saylor Milton is acting chairman.

The Arizona Country Club in Phoenix was the setting for the Dream Girl Dance November 14, 1952. Harold Donovan and Al Ralph served on the planning committee. Mathew McMinn and Bill Mough were in charge of selection of the Dream Girl.

Art Hartmann S.M.C. and Dave Novick have received their second lieutenant commissions in the Air Force; the latter receiving an active commission.

Delta-Theta, Arkansas State, Makes A Clean Sweep

Rensselaer Campus Leaders

◆ Gamma-Tau Chapter has a fine group of outstanding men this year. Bill Shoop is president of the R Club, an organization of R.P.I. lettermen; a member of Phalanx, the highest honorary on campus; and a fine end on our football team. Glenn Brown is serving as president of White Key, honorary for outstanding freshmen. Gene Bilodeau is captain of the ski team and Tiger Ingham devotes his 5' 4" to commodoring the Yacht Club as well as being steward of the house. Don Bailey organized the Inter-collegiate Outing Club's canoe outing this fall on Lake George. George Pearshall has been elected president of Sophomore fellowship, a Christian organization.

The chapter is now in the process of redecorating its hallways and have added a deluxe new room to the third floor. Scholarship has been above the school average, and the house parties have been better than ever.

Sacha Garret, our cook, came back this year to keep the kitchen on an efficient basis. We eat better food for less money than any other house at R.P.I.

Stetson Entertains Neighbors

By Allen George

◆ Delta-Upsilon started off the 1952-53 school year with a "Good-

Neighbor" party in their new chapter home. All the neighbors in the block were invited, so that they might get acquainted with the members of the chapter and learn a little about what is being done in the fraternity house. The party revolved around the radio broadcast of the Stetson Hatters-Northern Louisiana football game. If the reaction of the neighbors was any indication, the affair accomplished a great deal toward getting the chapter off on the right foot.

Rushing on campus this year was quite limited by the Interfraternity Council, but nevertheless Pi Kappa Alpha at John B. Stetson University was second to no other fraternity on campus, securing an outstanding pledge class of 21 eager young men. The first pledge project was the rebuilding of the garage to make a rumpus room in which "Cain-raising" will be tolerated while studying goes on in the house. This move should solve what was previously one of the chapter's biggest problems.

Dave Laude, honorable mention on the All IKA Team and outstanding end on the Stetson football team, was injured internally in the game of October 18 against Tampa. Bobby Marks scored the lone Stetson touchdown in the 6-6 tie.

On the Delta-Upsilon political scene, Brother Jim Yonge was elected Vice President of the Business School. S.M.C. James "Booty" Nance, who is also President of the I.F.C., is on the ballot for Homecoming Mayor.

Omaha Takes Class Elections

By Dan Langevin

◆ Delta-Chi Chapter has taken Omaha University by storm during the first two months of school. We have entered in three events so far this semester: the All Greek Sing, intramural football, and class elections.

In class elections, we won six out of ten positions. We used a platform of good leadership and together with free apples we captured three presidencies, two vice presidencies, and a student council seat. This makes our third member of the student council as two brothers were elected to the council last spring. Aksel Schmidt is the senior class president, while Duane Post and Bob Schropp, respectively, serve the junior class. Pledges Dick Matthews and Don Schroder are the freshman president and vice president respectively, and Kyle Petit is the new Student Council representative.

In intramural football, we tied for first place with Sigma Phi Epsilon. We won our first two contests 8-0, and 27-6. As defending champions, we are favored to win again.

We entered the All Greek Sing competition here October 10, and won that contest with our rendition of "Down In Old Virginny."

Our first two months have not been dull either as our pledges skipped the night before the elections. The actives had to parade downtown in skirts and play a game of "jacks" before they could have the next clue. Needless to say, the pledges were caught before the deadline. We also participated in the Founders' Day program by singing some service songs that helped to narrate the history of Omaha University.

We also won other honors as three of our brothers play on the first string football team. Jack Frost has the male romantic lead in our fall play, "Good Bye, My Fancy."

Transylvania Upheld Traditions

By T. M. Carroll

◆ Kappa Chapter at Transylvania College has upheld the tradition of the chapter by winning the touch-football crown for the past nine years. This fall seems to be no exception as they are well on their way toward the tenth trophy, having defeated the top fraternities on campus. Members of the team are: Bill Carr, Kenny Catlett, Bill Cuzner, Bob Reed, Richard Harris, Frank Williams, Henry Stovall, Stanley Hadley, Cecil Upchurch, Jimmy Hahn, Billy Ray Ward, and Theo Carroll.

The annual fall hayride of the chapter was held on October 4. Twenty-six couples enjoyed the ride which carried them to Sleepy Hollow, a cove on a creek about twenty miles from the college.

Brother Frank Williams has recently been elected chairman of the annual Transylvania Day festivities which is the biggest event of the year at the college. At this time Mr. Pioneer and Miss Transylvania are selected.

Sara Starry Chosen National Dream Girl

By Richard Bills

◆ Miss Sara Starry, 19-year-old KAO of the University of Kansas, was selected as Pi Kappa Alpha National Dream Girl at the 1952 Convention in Kansas City, Missouri.

"She is simply divine" had to be changed to "they are simply divine" at the Kansas City National Convention. Tyrone Power of Hollywood selected Miss June Bottcher, Cullman, Alabama; Miss Sara Starry, Kansas City, Kansas; and Miss Isabelle Wilson, Dallas, Texas, as the three finalists who were awarded a trip to the National Convention. The girls were chosen from among the chapter Dream Girl entries. The finalists represented Upsilon Chapter (Alabama Polytechnic Institute), Beta-Gamma Chapter (Kansas), and Beta-Zeta Chapter (Southern Methodist University), respectively.

Miss Starry had merely to "cross the river." Miss Bottcher and Miss Wilson arrived by plane simultaneously at the Kansas City airport and were greeted by convention officials, their convention escorts, and the photographers. The girls were the center of the social festivities throughout the convention. On the final day, the delegates cast secret ballots and National President Powell B. McHaney presented Miss Sara Starry as the new National Dream Girl during the Convention Ball.

A junior, Miss Starry is majoring in speech correction and has an enviable scholastic record, being a member of the Dean's honor roll. Quite an activities girl she is treasurer of her sorority, past secretary of the student union activities, and advertising assistant on the current University of Kansas student directory. She is a member of the Young Republicans' Club. She is busy with many "hill" activities on campus and is quite popular with the students. This modest Theta is always on the go and occasionally complains that she doesn't have a chance to sit down and indulge in bull sessions with the girls. She is an accomplished musician.

Sara's beauty and endearing charm not only won her the Dream Girl Contest but also she is Queen of the 1952 Jayhawker, student yearbook. Last July she was picked College Queen of America for the year 1952.

The Dream Girl trophy, which incidentally is kept quite shiny by Theta pledges, occupies a very prominent place over the fireplace in the Theta living room.

Tyrone Power Selects Finalists

By Frank Neill, TH
Press Agent

Twentieth Century-Fox Studio

◆ Tyrone Power had just been clobbered, the sixth time, for scenes of his latest picture, "Pony Soldier," an action-packed adventure drama dealing with early-day exploits of the storied Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

In this particular parcel of movie mayhem, which took place last spring, the handsome hero was rudely chucked over a cliff of minor proportions by Cameron Mitchell who was making like a blood-thirsty war chieftain of the Cree Indians, circa 1870.

Previously, during the course of production, Mr. Power—one of Hollywood's ranking box-office magnets since 1936—had been (1) stabbed; (2) shot by bow and arrow; (3) lashed to a burning stake; (4) starved, and (5) generally belted around and about the premises by hordes of hooting Redskins, all of whom were intent upon dispatching the palefaced Pony Soldier to the Happy Hunting Ground, posthaste.

And now, after climbing slowly to his feet at the base of the pygmy precipice, Ty Power limped toward his portable dressing room to get his second wind before the next stint of emoting.

Kansas City Holds Outstanding Convention

◆ The election of Harvey T. Newell, Jr., Meridian, Mississippi, as National President climaxed the 84th Anniversary Convention, Hotel Muehlebach, Kansas City, Missouri, August 25-28, 1952. Other members of the Supreme Council are: Vice President, Ralph F. Yeager, Cincinnati, Ohio; Secretary, Inslee M. Johnson, Atlanta, Georgia; Treasurer, James P. Brown, St. Louis, Missouri; Alumni Secretary, Grant Macfarlane, Salt Lake City, Utah; and Counsel, John F. E. Hippel, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Brothers Newell and Hippel were members of the Supreme Council during the 1950-52 term also.

The National Convention was preceded by the National Leadership School which was held at the University of Missouri, Columbia, Missouri, August 21-24.

The outstanding personality of the convention was Robert A. Smythe of Atlanta, Georgia. Brother Smythe, a graduate of The Citadel, Charleston, South Carolina, has been a national officer of Pi Kappa Alpha since 1889. Over the past 64 years, he has served as Grand Secretary, Grand Treasurer (Executive Secretary), and Honorary Life President. He founded the Pi Kappa Alpha Journal and in 1890 its successor, The Shield and Diamond magazine, and for many years served as editor. At the Convention Banquet on Monday evening, he brought a thrilling message which was a delightful mixture of reminiscences and inspiration.

The convention address was delivered by the Honorable Earl D. Johnson, Assistant Secretary of the Army. After reminiscing about his student days as a member of Beta-Xi Chapter at the University of Wisconsin, Brother Johnson presented a graphic survey of the military operations and the part that the young men of America are playing in the present program of the Armed Forces.

Tom Collins, Vice President of the City National Bank and Trust Company, Kansas City, Missouri, and a nationally prominent after-dinner speaker, presented the address at the Alumni Luncheon on Tuesday. He is an alumnus of Beta-Gamma Chapter (University of Kansas). His mixture of wit and wisdom brought both good cheer and inspiration.

The highlight of the social activities of the convention was the selection of the 1952 Pi Kappa Alpha National Dream Girl from among the three finalists which had been selected by Tyrone Power from the chapter entries. The three finalists were Miss June Bottcher, Cullman, Alabama, sponsored by the Alabama Polytechnic Institute Chapter; Miss Sara Starry, Kansas City, Kansas, sponsored by the University of Kansas Chapter; and Miss Isabelle Wilson, Dallas, Texas, sponsored by the Southern Methodist University Chapter. Miss Sara Starry, the winner, was selected by secret ballot by the student delegates and was presented by National President McHaney during the Convention Ball. Miss Starry is nationally prominent for her beauty, charm and personality. Among her many honors, she has been selected as University of Kansas Campus Queen, "Miss Collegiate" in Hollywood and Queen for a Day on the national radio and television program. She is a student at the University of Kansas where she is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. Pi Kappa Alpha is proud to claim her as its 1952 National Dream Girl.

In addition to the Convention Banquet and the Convention Ball, members and their dates enjoyed a Western Style Barbecue at Quivera Country Club where they were entertained with swimming and square dancing.

The convention sessions were presided over by National President Powell B. McHaney, St. Louis, Missouri. In his President's address, he summarized the outstanding accomplishments of the fraternity during the past two years and recommended a sound program which will insure continued progress for the future.

A fraternal telegram was dispatched by the convention to Dr. George Summey, the oldest living alumnus. This was the first convention in many years which Dr. Summey of New Orleans has missed. He was initiated in April, 1869, having been the first pledge of the second chapter of the fraternity. His membership in Pi Kappa Alpha extends over 83 of the 84 years of its existence. It is believed that he has the longest record of fraternity membership of any living man.

It was interesting to note that there were in attendance at this convention the administrative officers of the fraternity from 1889 to the present. Robert A. Smythe was Grand Treasurer from 1889 to 1933; Robert M. McFarland, Jr., was Executive Secretary from 1933 to 1941. Dr. Freeman H. Hart was the Executive Secretary from 1941 to 1946, when he was succeeded by the current Executive Secretary, Robert D. Lynn. After serving with distinction in World War II, Brother McFarland retired with the rank of lieutenant colonel and accepted an executive position with the Southeastern Underwriters Association, Atlanta, Georgia. Dr. Hart relinquished his post as Executive Secretary to accept a position on the faculty at the University of Florida, Gainesville, Florida. He continues to serve as National Historian.

The convention registration of 456 included 100 student chapter delegates in addition to alumni delegates, national officers, and members. The most important legislative action of the convention was the decision to reduce the number of districts into which the United States is divided from 28 to 14 with a corresponding reduction in District President personnel. There has been a reduction in the amount of chapter visitation and inspection required of District Presidents.

A major "contribution" literally and figuratively, was the 1952 edition of Songs of Pi Kappa Alpha. The Kansas City alumni presented each of the delegates with a gift copy of the newly published revised edition of the songbook. National Music Director George Krueger did an outstanding job as editor. With the aid of the Alpha-Xi Quartet (Cincinnati), composed of Skip Potter, Larry Johnston, Dick Zimmerman, and James Raesner, Brother Krueger kept the convention happily singing old and new Pi Kappa Alpha songs.

Robert B. Perry, Kansas City Life Insurance representative served as general chairman for the convention. He and his staff did a highly effective job of planning and executing the multitude of details for the convention operation.

Retiring members of the Supreme Council are: Powell B. McHaney, St. Louis, Missouri; L. A. McCall, Jr., Florence, South Carolina; Julius J. Fink, San Diego, California; and Earl W. Wagner, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Newell Introduces Robert A. Smythe

◆ National Secretary Newell presented the grand old man of Pi Kappa Alpha, Brother Robert A. Smythe, to the Convention during the banquet. His introduction was as follows:

To introduce Robert A. Smythe to any member of Pi Kappa Alpha would be superfluous. I can only present him to you.

I shall not even attempt to outline the details of his illustrious career in serving Pi Kappa Alpha. You know that he was initiated by old Lambda Chapter (The Citadel, Charleston, S. C.) and that in 1889, when the fraternity's life was flickering, he was one of those Junior Founders who saved the fraternity.

He has been a national officer of Pi Kappa Alpha for more than sixty years, longer than any other fraternity official in the fraternity world. He served as Grand Secretary and Treasurer, and as Grand Treasurer, (the executive position of the fraternity at that time), and as Founder and Editor of The Shield and Diamond magazine. In recent years, he has been Honorary Life President of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Those are some of the statistics on this great man, but I would prefer to introduce him to you on the basis of a personal experience. One of the privileges enjoyed by members of the Supreme Council is the appearance at Founders' Day before various groups throughout the country. This year it was my high privilege to speak to the Atlanta Founders' Day group.

In thinking of a subject for my Founders' Day talk this year, I finally decided to base my talk on the first fraternity talk I ever heard in my life, one delivered by the great Robert A. Smythe when I was an undergraduate in my home chapter. That was in 1931, and I remember distinctly the things that Robert A. Smythe said, how he brought out the beauty of our fraternity. He inspired me then with the full depth and meaning of Pi Kappa Alpha and what it can be, and I remember throughout the years the things he said in that talk.

So it was in Atlanta that I prepared my address based on one I had heard more than twenty years ago. The great emotional experience of the evening came, however, when Robert A. Smythe himself entered the dining hall and was present for my talk.

To paraphrase the late Graham Sale, may I present him who for nearly three-quarters of a century has unselfishly devoted his time, means, and talent to the advancement of Pi Kappa Alpha; who, by his wisdom and labor, lifted it from a condition of weakness and disorganization of strength and power; and who, by his daily life, so clearly exemplifies that which is noblest and best in the fraternity. I present that true and loyal friend; that devoted brother; that Christian gentleman, that best and most beloved of all IKA's our Honorary Life President, Robert Adger Smythe.

Smythe Speaks From the Heart

♦ Mr. Toastmaster and Brothers in IKA:

I have not prepared any speech, for when it was definitely known I could be with you, time did not permit. So I will talk to you from my heart of some of the early days of the revival of old IKA.

I speak to you under great stress of emotion as I think of those glorious fellows who planned with me that IKA might live and grow. At the Hampden-Sydney meeting in December, 1889, there was the saintly Rice, of whom the President of the college where he taught in his latter years said, "It was a benediction upon the college just to have Dr. Rice walk across the campus." Then there was the greatly beloved and splendid Howard Bell Arbuckle who stood with me for 30 years in the work for IKA, and John Shaw Foster, quiet but so true, so loyal, so efficient. All have gone to their just reward, and so I stand before you tonight the only living member of the four Junior Founders.

At that time, December, 1889, there were only two chapters at all active, Theta and Iota, for Alpha was dormant and almost extinct. My chapter, Lambda, lived but a few months, as laws were passed at the Military Academy to prohibit fraternities, and IKA has always prohibited sub-rosa chapters.

I have often been asked how I obtained such a love for my Fraternity when my chapter life was so short, and even when alive Lambda had its meetings and few initiations in my bedroom in my father's house. Recovery from a desperate illness of typhus fever, my life saved as by a miracle, I resolved in gratitude for this that I would endeavor to do something which would benefit my fellow young men, and IKA presented this opportunity.

When Alpha Chapter finally became extinct, they sent me their books. Among them was a very large record book which had years ago been used by some old society at the University of Virginia. In this book was written our first constitution and our first initiation ceremony. Turning over the pages, toward the other side of this book I found a list of names whom I presumed were IIs. So I at once wrote them that the law of their fraternity provided alumni should pay $3.00 yearly dues and to "please remit." Only one paid any attention to this and he was a very crusty old gentleman. He wrote "Your letter has insulted me. I am a man of honor and pay my debts. I know nothing of your damned old fraternity and if you write me again, I will have my lawyer sue you for defamation of character!" (Laughter.)

At the Hampden-Sydney meeting in 1889 I was elected "Secretary and Grand Treasurer." I do not remember my giving much attention to my duties as Secretary but thousands upon thousands of IIs all over this land will testify I was never slothful in those of Treasurer, and "please remit" became an axiom in IKA and a nickname for me. If you read the December, 1951, issue of our wonderful Shield and Diamond magazine, there is no need to tell you here of how I conceived and brought forth our Pi Kappa Alpha Journal and changed its name to Shield and Diamond the following year.

In those years which followed, there were little funds, mostly my meager cotton clerk salary. When a chapter was established, I went to the college, selected one of the members of the group, administered the oath to him, and instructed him in the initiation ceremony. Reaching back into memory I recall another story I think will amuse you. When I established Nu Chapter at Wofford College, it was a very cold day, snow on the ground. The boys had secured use of the Knights of Pythias hall. It was at the head of a long flight of stairs, with a room across from the hall at the top. I selected J. C. Spann, afterward a Bishop in his Methodist Church, to be my helper, and the other boys went into the room across the hall. It was very cold in the large main hall but Spann and I viewed with joy a goodly supply of wood and coal by the stove. However, by some ingenuity of the provider, the wood was a couple of inches too long to get into the stove. So Spann and I leaned pieces up against the base of the stove and took turns jumping on them to break off the ends.

Finally, we got the fire going and then after pledging and instructing Spann, we opened the door and went to the waiting room for the next initiate.

Not a one was in the room! That noise of breaking up the wood was taken by them as my initiation of Spann. They were huddled in a group at the foot of the long stairs, and I had to produce Spann "alive and in the flesh" before they would come back upstairs.

Speaking of initiation, I was a member of the Fraternity for some 40 years before I was initiated. Walter M. Smith administered the oath to me, and I helped him initiate the other five into Lambda Chapter.

Another custom in the early days was that when the initiating teams from chapters in the District had inducted five men into the Fraternity, these five conducted the initiation ceremony for the others of the group. A member of the Supreme Council had to be present, and at one of the western chapters I was present. The five initiates then requested that I be their first initiate, and so the youngest chapter initiated one of the oldest members. Thus, Brothers, I became a II.

I had the privilege of being present last October, when the beautiful Memorial Chapter House at Hampden-Sydney College was dedicated to the four Junior Founders. You can well imagine my feelings and my thoughts when the tablet in their large reception hall was read, dedicating this house to the memory of the four Junior Founders.

I would that I had time to tell you more of the early days of your Fraternity. Some time again I may have this privilege but not now.

The years from 1890 well past the middle 1900's witnessed desperate struggles to keep IKA alive. There were many times when it seemed nothing could save her.

But, Brothers, take this message back to your Chapter—IKA could never die! It was destined from the first to live and through its noble principles and high ideals, do good to the young men of our colleges.

And tell this also: Keep alive those high ideals, live up to those noble principles of the grand old Fraternity which I have loved and served for over sixty years.

Editor's Note:

After the banquet was over those present pressed forward to shake hands with Brother Smythe.

District President John Yerkovich told Brother Smythe that it was his Chapter, Gamma-Pi at the University of Oregon, which had initiated him, and that he had been a member of the initiating team.

National Award Winners

◆ Outstanding chapters and members from throughout the nation were honored at the Awards Luncheon on Wednesday, August 27, during the National Convention in recognition of their achievements in various fields of activity.

The Robert A. Smythe Award for chapter proficiency in all fields of activity is the top honor. The splendid records of Mu Chapter (Presbyterian) and Alpha-Kappa (Missouri Mines) earned them a tie for first place among all chapters. The Smythe Award is based on the sum total of the records for each of the other awards. The leading chapters, in addition to the winners, were Delta-Nu (Wayne), Gamma-Alpha (Alabama), Alpha-Rho (Ohio State), Alpha-Eta (Florida), Beta-Alpha (Penn State), Beta-Eta (Illinois), Alpha-Theta (West Virginia), and Gamma-Tau (Rensselaer). The winners were doubly honored by having the privilege of receiving the award from the hands of Honorary Life President Robert A. Smythe, for whom the award is named.

Five chapters tied for the Lynn Award for chapter reporting. No one can make better than a perfect record and these five chapters achieved this distinction. Every officer of each of these chapters submitted every report required by the National Office on time throughout the entire year. Several chapters had very nearly perfect records, but those completely without blemish were: Alpha-Eta (Florida), Alpha-Kappa (Missouri Mines), Beta-Pi (Pennsylvania), Gamma-Iota (Mississippi), and Delta-Beta (Bowling Green, Ohio).

The Karl B. Pauly Trophy for the best chapter publication was presented to Upsilon Chapter at Alabama Polytechnic Institute. "The Plainsman Pike" is a printed chapter publication carrying many pictures and several departments of interest to both student and alumni members. Other chapter publications in the final running and deserving honorable mention are: Alpha-Gamma (Louisiana State), Alpha-Xi (Cincinnati), Alpha-Chi (Syracuse), Beta-Theta (Cornell), Beta-Phi (Purdue), and Gamma-Alpha (Alabama).

National Historian Freeman H. Hart presented the plaque for the Best Chapter Historical Sketch to Alpha-Iota (Mississippi). Second place went to Delta-Gamma (Miami University, Oxford, Ohio) and third place to Alpha-Eta (Florida). Chapters receiving Honorable Mention were: Beta-Pi (Pennsylvania), Alpha-Rho (Ohio State), and Beta-Theta (Cornell).

This year marked the first presentation of the Hippel Award for outstanding participation in campus activities. The donor of the award, John F. E. Hippel, of Philadelphia, an alumnus of the University of Pennsylvania, was highly delighted to present the trophy to his "cousins" at Beta-Alpha Chapter (Pennsylvania State). Alpha-Eta (Florida), Alpha-Kappa (Missouri Mines), Delta-Gamma (Miami, Ohio), Beta-Lambda (Washington, St. Louis), Beta-Sigma (Carnegie Tech), and Gamma-Tau (Rensselaer) all scored heavily in campus activities.

The Riculfi Athletic Trophy is given to the chapter having the highest percentage of member participation in both varsity and intramural athletics. This year top honors went to Iota Chapter at Hampden-Sydney College. Mu Chapter at Presbyterian College was runner-up. Alpha-Lambda (Georgetown), Alpha-Tau (Utah), Gamma-Zeta (Wittenberg), Alpha-Mu (Georgia), Alpha (Virginia), and Delta-Iota (Marshall College), scored highly.

National Scholarship Director John Fincher presented the Scholarship Award for greatest improvement to Beta-Mu Chapter at the University of Texas. The scholarship cup for group No. 1 (schools with more than 1,500 male students) was earned by Gamma-Theta Chapter at Mississippi State College. Alpha-Iota (Mississippi) received the trophy for having the highest average of any chapter in group No. 2.

The Wagner Award for the greatest number of "man miles" of convention attendance by any chapter was earned by Alpha-Xi at the University of Cincinnati. This chapter had 18 students and alumni attending the convention, with a total of

Sing Hi — Sing Low

By George F. Krueger,
National Music Director

◆ After many months of revising and editing, the Song Book is ready for you. It is our hope that every man will have his own book.

From pledgship through to the final dying echoes of graduation the Song Book will have its place in the life of the chapter. Music in one's everyday life is so much a part of it that one doesn't realize its value. The lilting whistle along a darkened street as a man comes home from a "good" date; the singing in the shower making your voice seem twice as good as it is; the fellowship created around candlelighted tables after dinner; the serenade and that humming of a love song in the receptive ear of your best girl as you dance; all these and more are valuable and as necessary as breathing.

Humans must have emotional outlets, and music provides the best. Humans must think, and music is a great aid to deep thinking. Most men who are completely happy have these things in their lives—knowledge, wisdom, God, music.

The Song Book is simplified, has many uses, and is just as important as the HISTORY in what Pi Kappa Alpha will mean to each of you as you live in the ideals of the Fraternity.

Newell Speaks At Mississippi State

By Clarence McMillin

◆ Gamma-Theta Chapter had a very successful Rush Week this fall with the pledging of forty new men. Rush Week was very well planned and executed and was climaxed by a very stirring and timely speech by our National President Harvey T. Newell, Jr.

At the National Convention Gamma-Theta was honored with the Scholarship Cup for the year 1951-52. The Chapter is very proud of this cup and is happy that it will remain in possession of the cup for the 1952-'53 school term.

The chapter elected Brother Roy Speed of Aliceville, Alabama, as S.M.C. for the coming term. We won the Freshman cake race, sponsored by the Interfraternity Council on October 18, in half-time activities at the homecoming game between State and Kentucky.

The Chapter is anticipating a very successful year with the Dream Girl Banquet and Dance planned for December 9, 1952, to be held at Mississippi State College for Women.

Lehigh Enjoys Vaudeville Show

◆ Gamma-Lambda Chapter is very proud of Brother John P. Arnesen who was recently elected president of Acadia, the student governing body at Lehigh. J. P., who hails from Elizabeth, N. J., was a Radar Technician in the Navy, but is now majoring in business administration. He has been very active on the campus throughout his college career.

When last semester's final grades were tabulated, our house was sixth in scholarship among the thirty fraternities at Lehigh. We shall certainly strive to maintain this position and the prestige it carries.

In intramural athletics, the house hopes to field a team that will keep the football trophy here again this year and make a flying start towards another all-university sports cup. Gamma-Lambda holds the fraternity league football championship for 1949-50-51.

The big highlight of the autumn season was the Lehigh Fall House Party. Saturday evening we staged our own Pi Kappa Alpha Vaudeville Show, a house party tradition at Gamma-Lambda. Dance music was supplied by men from the chapter.

Nine men were initiated into the fold Friday evening, October 17. A banquet followed the ceremony.

Miami Forms Dads Club

By Cal Davison

◆ Dads Day at Miami University on October 10 marked the founding of a Delta-Gamma Dads Club with twelve charter members.

Elected to head the group was Mr. Carlyn Rogers of Lorain, Ohio. Mr. Lester Jones of Bedford, Ohio, was elected as secretary-treasurer.

The club, which will be a counterpart of the Mothers' Club that has existed for several years, plans to help the chapter finance such projects as it would normally not be able to afford. Each of the charter members assessed himself $5.00 at the initial meeting as a beginning towards this goal.

During the coming year the club plans to solicit new members in order to make its representation as close to 100% as possible. It is hoped that much interest will be engendered in the group since some of the fathers are members of Pi Kappa Alpha themselves.

Delta-Gamma Chapter sent bouquets of roses to every sorority pledge class on campus this year. As far as it is known this is the first time that any fraternity has done this at Miami, and it gained for our chapter much favorable comment.

Memphis State Rush Successful

By Charles W. Mueller

◆ Delta-Zeta Chapter at Memphis State College started off in fast style this fall by pledging thirty-five men. Two rush parties were held during the week of October 6-13—a stag buffet style spaghetti supper in the Military Ballroom of Hotel King Cotton, and a typical Delta-Zeta "fun, food, and fellowship" outing at the Forest Hill community center. The chapter was particularly fortunate to have National President Harvey T. Newell, Jr. as principal speaker for the first party. His fine talk, along with a preceding one by James Bobo, Memphis Alumni president, was of great inspiration to rushees and members alike. The values of Pi Kappa Alpha and of all fraternities, the necessity of such organizations, and the many services they give for today's youth, were clearly brought to mind in both.

The chapter was also honored to have as its guests at the dinner Executive Secretary Robert D. Lynn, Field Secretary William E. Hayes, and numerous alumni.

Brother Louis Pritchett's authentic Indian dance and Wayne Oldham's fancy piano playing provided joyous entertainment for the evening.

The second party for the rushees furnished another evening of gaiety, fellowship, and good food—this time fried chicken! Group singing, and skits rounded out another successful party and rush campaign by the Pikes.

As could be expected, the men of Delta-Zeta are among the leaders in campus activities at Memphis State. Joe Gibbs holds the highest cadet rank in the local Air Force ROTC wing—that of colonel, and is also president of the student body. Johnny Burns, recently elected president of Delta-Zeta Chapter, is the commissioner of the student government elections commission, president of the Wesley Foundation (a Methodist student group), and is also secretary-treasurer of the Interfraternity Council. Louis Pritchett and Bobby Reed are president and treasurer, respectively, of the senior class. Hamilton Baker is captain of the ROTC rifle team, and Richard Roland is president of Disciples of Student Fellowship, a Christian religious organization.

Colorado Enthusiastic

By Gary Dean

◆ Although Beta-Upsilon lost over thirty active members through marriage, graduation and draft last year, it compensated for the fact by taking in thirty-five pledges during one of our most successful rush weeks for some years. Those recently married were: John T. Browne, Charles Butcher, Herb Hollister, Ken Head, Roy Canfield, Larry Fundingsland, Dean Keating, Cecil Lusby, and Don Shirk all of whom make their home in Boulder. Tom Loney is attending the University of Missouri. Bruce Conway, former S.M.C., is teaching at Kansas State, and Bill McDowell is living in South Dakota. Much spirit and enthusiasm is being shown on the part of the new pledges and actives. We are getting off to a good start in intramural play in the football and water polo leagues and hope to better our last year's record of finishing third on the campus in intramurals for the year. The men of Pi Kappa Alpha are busily growing beards for the twenty-fifth annual Barn Dance which is to be held the eighth of November at the chapter house. This promises to be another successful year.

Tulsa Plans New House

◆ Under the leadership of Pat Manhart, S.M.C., Gamma-Upsilon is again feeling growing pains. Although handicapped during formal rush by the lack of adequate housing, the boys at Tulsa have come through with a fine pledge class.

Brothers Art Burford and Tom Laverty transferred from Beta-Theta and are now the T.H.C. and Pledgemaster respectively. Laverty doubles as Gamma-Upsilon's House Manager. The post of IMC is being filled very adequately by Brother Jerry Wilson.

SC Jack Francis, recently returned from the Navy, topped off his senior year by being chosen for "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." Besides having held several offices in Gamma-Upsilon, Brother Francis has been president of the Tulsa chapters of Phi Eta Sigma and Pi Gamma Mu.

One of the highlights of the fall was an alumnus-active party, at which time a visit was made by Executive Secretary Robert D. Lynn and Field Secretary Gary Steiner. Chapter housing conditions were discussed, a building organization set up, and now all are confident that construction of Gamma-Upsilon's new house will be started this school year.

New Hampshire Cook Dies

By Maurice A. Rheume

◆ Albert Cork, the beloved cook of FM (New Hampshire) chapter for the past four years, passed away at his home in Wolfeboro, New Hampshire of a heart attack, August 20, 1952. He was buried in Lowell, Massachusetts, on August 23.

Gamma-Mu is really feeling his departure, since "Al," as he was called, was a "brother" to everyone of us. Al took a personal interest in all our problems, as everyone who knew him will ascertain.

His wife writes us that he dreamed of the brothers of Gamma-Mu on his deathbed and that he died with his PiKA sweater on. Al always considered himself a PiKA "pledge".

Mr. Cork is survived by his wife, Winifred, and his son, Oliver.

Although Al never actually held membership in PiKA, he was a "Pike" in spirit and his memory will long be cherished by Gamma-Mu.

POWER SELECTS FINALISTS

mond on his own wesket some decades ago, give or take a few semesters. "It's a national contest, with the winner to be announced at the Pika national convention."

The star of "Pony Soldier" promptly spread the pictures of thirty-one co-ed cuties across the floor of the dressing room.

"This," he mused, studying the portraits, "is the nicest thing that has happened to me since the Indians went on the war path a month ago . . ."

But then he paused, as though someone had suddenly played a nasty trick on him like, say, sneaking Never-Leak into Johnny Ray's bottle of Murine.

"It really isn't fair," he said. "It is most difficult to try to select a beauty without meeting her personally. A cold, impersonal photograph invariably leaves out her personality, which, as everyone knows, is the most important part of beauty."

Power, however, spent the rest of the day between scenes of his 40th starring movie gradually eliminating the bevy of beautiful candidates. Hours later he had narrowed the candidates to three finalists for the honor of becoming the Dream Girl of Pi Kappa Alpha.

"I only hope my selections don't get me shot!" he said, flashing the famous smile that has caused feminine hearts to flutter from Azusa to Zanesville.

Neill 20th Century Fox Press Agent

◆ Frank Neill, AΘ (West Virginia), former nationally known newspaperman, for the past two years has been a senior press agent at 20th Century-Fox studios in Hollywood. The writer and one-time war correspondent helps publicize the careers of such films stars as Tyrone Power, Dan Dailey, Linda Darnell, Victor Mature, Marilyn Monroe, June Haver, Betty Grable, Richard Widmark, Jean Peters, Dana Andrews, Humphrey Bogart and others and the movies in which they appear. Prior to joining 20th Century-Fox, Neill was chief of the Los Angeles bureau of International News Service as well as author of a daily syndicated Hollywood column that appeared in more than 300 newspapers.

Brother Neill arranged for Tyrone Power to select the three finalists in the National Dream Girl Contest.

George V. Irons, Jr., AΠ (Howard), has been awarded an Omicron Delta Kappa scholarship. Brother Irons graduated from Howard College magna cum laude with a straight A average. He plans to be a physician, and has entered the College of Medicine of the University of Alabama in Birmingham.

NATIONAL AWARDS

21,564 man miles traveled. This was exclusive of National Alumni Secretary Wagner and District President Yeager. Alpha-Sigma (California) was runner-up followed closely by several of the chapters from Washington and Oregon.

The President's Service Award is an outstanding addition this year to the national awards. It is presented to that chapter which is credited with having rendered the greatest service to its community and college during the school year. The delegates from Gamma-Alpha (Alabama), Beta-Beta (Washington), and Beta-Kappa (Emory) were interviewed as finalists at the convention by a committee composed of past national presidents. The award was presented to Gamma-Alpha with Beta-Beta and Beta-Kappa as runners-up.

At the conclusion of each National Leadership School, each student writes a critical analysis of the school. The critiques were graded by a committee composed of Dr. Walter A. Zaugg, Chairman; Dr. F. H. Hart, and Dr. John Fincher. Checks were presented to Tom Keheler, Gamma-Chi (Oklahoma A. & M.); Walter A. Hoy, Delta-Beta (Bowling Green, Ohio); and Richard Bills, Beta-Gamma (Kansas) as winners of the John L. Packard Critique Awards.

A pair of Pi Kappa Alpha cuff links was presented to the alumnus who has attended the greatest number of national conventions. John U. Field, for many years a district president and national officer, was the winner. He has attended 14 national conventions, beginning with the Richmond, Va., National Convention in 1907. Herbert Miller, of Des Moines, Iowa, an alumnus of Iowa State, was runner-up.

William
N. Briscoe,

II

WILLIAM N. BRISCOE

On September 23, 1952, with the passing of William N. Briscoe, II (Washington and Lee), Pi Kappa Alpha lost one of her most loyal and beloved alumni. A retired executive and former manufacturer of clothing he died in Knoxville, Tennessee, at the age of 80.

Uncle Billy, as he was affectionately known throughout the fraternity, was born in Morristown, Tennessee, the son of a pioneer merchant in the east Tennessee region. His family moved to Knoxville where he spent most of his life. After attending Sweetwater Military Institute he entered Washington and Lee University where he was initiated into Pi Chapter and began his long and fruitful association with Pi Kappa Alpha. He later transferred to the University of Tennessee.

Uncle Billy began his successful business career as a traveling salesman. His business interests included a partnership in a shoe manufacturing concern in Lynchburg, Virginia, the Briscoe Manufacturing Company which produced work clothing, and the Briscoe Tire and Supply Company. He retired from active business participation in 1919 but remained quite active in his community until his health failed recently. His chief interest throughout adulthood was centered in the men of Pi Kappa Alpha. He endeared himself to hundreds of Pikes all over the country by giving freely of his time to help them. His closest contact was with Zeta Chapter, and he insisted until the last that he was the true founder of Zeta. When he entered the University of Tennessee in 1892, he found the chapter inactive although the original charter had been granted in 1874. It was largely through his efforts that the chapter was reactivated, and it has remained active since that time. It has been stated that he never missed a national convention since his initiation until the one held in Kansas City this summer. His reservation had already been made, but his illness prevented attendance.

Dr. James D. Hoskins, President Emeritus of the University of Tennessee and outstanding alumnus of Pi Kappa Alpha, says, "He lived his Fraternity and thought more of ΠΚΑ than any organization. He always wanted to talk about it. He was the most devoted man to Pi Kappa Alpha that I have ever met."

One of the highlights of his later years came this past summer when he was presented with a Kentucky Colonel's commission at the request of Governor Weatherby of Kentucky. The commission made him an honorary member of the governor's staff. The presentation was to have been made at the Convention, but due to illness, it was made by Brother John Fields, member of the governor's staff, at his bedside.

The entire membership of Zeta Chapter served as honorary pallbearers at the committal services. Past National Secretary John U. Field and Frank Fulton were official fraternity representatives.

Uncle Billy wore his fraternity pin on his breast as he entered the Chapter Eternal.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ina Hodges Briscoe, three daughters, two sons, eight grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

Diamond Life Chapter Organized

◆ Powell B. McHaney, president of the Board of Trustees of the Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Foundation, convened an organizational meeting of the Diamond Life Chapter during the 1952 National Convention in Kansas City. The meeting followed the Alumni Luncheon at which approximately twenty Diamond Life members were honored.

The first order of business was the election of "chapter officers". David C. Powers, New York City, was elected S.M.C.; Roy D. Hickman, Birmingham, Ala., I.M.C.; Robert D. Lynn, S.C.; and Powell B. McHaney, Th.C. In recognition of his past outstanding services and continuing zeal Brother McHaney was also unanimously elected as "rush chairman".

Powell immediately entered upon his rush duties by announcing to the Convention that he had bids ready to offer membership to any good brother who qualified ($100 contribution, that is). He announced that the contributions could be cumulative and that those who had already given war bonds or a cash contribution would become members when the additional amount contributed totaled $100.

Correspondence and contributions should be directed to the National Office, 1294 Union Avenue, Memphis, Tennessee.

Brother Robert A. Smythe, Honorary Life President, was welcomed into membership in the Diamond Life Chapter.

Recent additions to the Diamond Life Chapter are:

Gamma-Delta's new home at the Univ. of Arizona.

Arizona Buys New House

◆ Gamma-Delta Chapter now has a home of its own, and what a site, too! The attractive stucco building is located at 1065 North Mountain Avenue, Tucson, Arizona, between the Pi Beta Phi and Alpha Xi Delta sorority houses and directly across the street from Kappa Alpha Theta. Gentlemen, it is now a pleasure to walk to classes every morning.

One of the alumni recently wrote the chapter, "It seems a bit ironic that for years hundreds of men have passed through the chapter when it was large and when it was small, and all have screamed, ranted and raved for a new house. Now that we have it, the responsibility falls on about four men." He was not exaggerating. When the fall term began there were three members of the active chapter and three holdover pledges who returned—without doubt the smallest chapter in the country. With a new house to finance and only six men living in the house the boys knew they had to produce during rush. Although handicapped in number, with the aid of several fine alumni the chapter pledged seven men the first week, three the second, and two men during the third week. The boys are highly pleased with the quality of men pledged, and say they don't intend to let up in their rush work.

The house is rather small. A major addition has already been made and further additions are contemplated. It will house approximately twelve men. Purchase of the house was made possible by Gamma-Delta's fine Holding Corporation headed by Marty Baldwin, a charter member of the chapter. His energetic co-worker is Ros Roberts who has served as Alumnus Counselor for many years. As a result of their efforts about fifty alumni contributed for the purchase of this property. They hope to accumulate more funds to provide for the further additions which will increase the sleeping capacity from 12 to 18 men.

Contributions to Gamma-Delta Holding Corporation should be sent to: Roswell Roberts, Treasurer, 2002 Conner Stravenue, Tucson, Arizona.

Alabama Pledges Twenty-Seven

By Hobart Grooms, Jr.

◆ Gamma-Alfa Chapter welcomed twenty-seven new pledges into our fraternity during fall and summer rush weeks. As always, PiKA can be proud of its newest, as well as one of its best pledge classes. The pledge class came as a result of over a week of concerted rushing and hard work. Members of Gamma-Alfa arrived at the University several days early to give the chapter house living room and trophy room an entire face-lifting, including a new coat of paint, new draperies, and furniture. The appearance of the house gave the brothers that needed lift to carry them through the final days of rushing.

Another important factor that contributed to the rushing success was the traditional Birmingham Alumni Dinner. Over 150 members, pledges, alumni and rushees gathered at the swanky Vestavia Country Club in Birmingham for an evening of fellowship. Main speaker for the occasion was past national president, Roy Hickman, of Birmingham.

Harvey Newell, newly elected national president, was the featured speaker at a rush smoker at the chapter house recently.

Gamma-Alfa brothers are marching in cadence after the election of officers by the advanced R.O.T.C. cadet officers' clubs. Former SMC, Forrest "Bo" Brice, was chosen to head the army cadet club, while Clyde Roddam was selected for the top of air force organization. Brother Brice is the present commander of the Pershing Rifles.

Bob Miller is the new president of the Student Spirit Committee, and it is a quiet day at 'Bama when he isn't "whooping it up" for the Crimson Tide. Bob handles the pre-game pep rallies, parades, sound trucks, and distribution of thousands of posters and stickers urging students to "back the Tide."

The "Alabama Cavaliers," regarded as one of the nation's top college orchestras, is now under the direction of Brother Willy Thomas. Thomas has gained quite a reputation as a trumpeter, having played with Horace Heidt's orchestra at one time.

Maryland Begins First Year

By William T. Stecher

◆ Pi Kappa Alpha's youngest chapter is well into its first year as an active chapter, after being installed on June 8 after school was out at Maryland. One of our first actions was to elect and install a new slate of officers for the coming term. They were: William T. Stecher, S.M.C.; William M. Tatum, I.M.C.; James B. Taylor, Th. C.; Paul Lambrides, S. C.; and Theodore Gates, historian.

We recently pledged the following: Carl Jones, Ken Andrews, Joe Natarra, Dan Bradley, John Vanne, Bill Dusman, Phil Hotton, and Dan Dorsey. Bill Dusman is vice president of the University Band and another pledge, Carl Jones, was elected as freshman representative to the Engineering Board of the University's School of Engineering. One of our actives, Bill Fisk, M.C., has also achieved a noted place on campus. He is listed in the "Who's Who of American University Students," is president of the University Band, and is the senior class representative to the Men's League.

Homecoming was the week-end of October 25. A party was held for actives and alumni on Friday, and a buffet supper immediately following the game on Saturday. Sunday morning, we initiated those alumni of our local who were unable to attend the ceremonies last June.

We are now making plans for our first Dream Girl Dance to be held at the new Colonial Hotel in Washington, D. C. All PiKA's who will be in town and might be interested in attending are invited to contact the chapter for details. We plan to make the selection of our first Dream Girl an affair long to be remembered on the Maryland campus.

Senator Sparkman Visits Florida State

By Robert Loomis

◆ The opening activity of the year for Delta-Lambda Chapter (Florida State University), was a vigorous Rush Week. Brothers and pledges alike helped in redecorating the house and landscaping the grounds. The highlight of Rush Week was the visit to the chapter by Senator John Sparkman, Democratic nominee for Vice President. The Senator was a guest at the chapter house during a Rush party after having been greeted at the local airport by members of the fraternity. At these Rush parties the guests were entertained by skits, singing, and refreshments. Rush Week was concluded with the pledging of a fine group of young men.

As the opening social function of the year on this campus we sponsored a formal dance at the country club. To raise money for the campus drive of the Community Chest the chapter has organized a hay ride party.

Among other activities planned for this fall are a pledge-active football game and a series of week-end dances. In line with its policy of giving better service to its members, the chapter intends to begin serving meals in the near future. In all, Delta-Lambda is expecting an interesting and profitable fall semester.

— Π Κ Α —

Gamma-Lambda Chapter (Lehigh) has always maintained a good scholarship average. They slipped somewhat last fall, but this spring came back with a bang. Their fall rank was 20th out of 30 groups, but the spring semester presented them ranking 6th with a 2.234 average which exceeded the all university average. Lehigh is an engineering school with high scholastic requirements.

David C. Powers, chairman of The Shield and Diamond Endowment Fund, represented Pi Kappa Alpha at the twenty-third Biennial Convention of the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity in August, 1952, at an Interfraternity-Panhellenic luncheon in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York City.

Davidson Honors Bes Shields

◆ BENJAMIN E. ("BES") SHIELDS, '20, composer of "The Dream Girl of Pi K A" and "Oh! Davidson," Davidson College fight song, was Beta Chapter's guest of honor during the 1952 Homecoming held October 25. The college honored Brother Shields at half time during the Davidson-Furman game when "Oh! Davidson" was played in his honor.

Approximately seventy-five alumni and guests attended the Chapter's festivities, which included an after-the-game open house, a dinner at the boarding house, and a dance intermission party.

Alumni attending were: Dr. W. S. Patterson, alumnus counselor; Dr. John McSween, of Greenville, S. C.; Robert U. Woods, president of the North American Insurance Company, Richmond, Virginia; Dr. Thomas Jones, M.D. of Durham, N. C., and Howard Bell Arbuckle, Jr., Charlotte, N. C., attorney.

Competing with ten other national fraternities, Beta Chapter won first place in the Homecoming decorations and received a gold cup for the award. Their ingenious "Blushing Purple Hurricane" fascinated the many spectators. A clever mechanical hurricane traveled out of a large ruptured purple bag of wind (representing the Furman University team) along a concealed track to a large stuffed Wildcat (representing Davidson College team). The cat would jump, causing the hurricane to travel back into the wind bag changing its color from purple to red.
