Chaplain's Corner

Dr. Gordon

June, 1954

Dear Pikes,

Have you met the fellow who is failing in the pursuit of happiness and success because he despises his own gifts? What he asks of life is some other man's talents or some other man's opportunity. To be successful and to find the fullest measure of happiness one must use his own equipment, and accept his own circumstances. He must face up to life and the chance it affords for one of his particular background and training. We call this the principle of individuality, of standing on our own feet, and using the tools dealt out to us, and of "being ourselves." In the poem about the king's son, one strikes the blow for victory with the weapon another despises and flings away:

"Then I beheld, or dreamed it in a dream

There spread a cloud of dust along a plain,

And underneath the cloud, or in it, raged
A furious battle, and men yelled, and sword

Clashed upon sword and shield. A prince's banner

Wavered, then staggered backward hemmed by foes.

A craven hung along the battle's edge
And thought, 'Had I a sword of keener steel,

That blue blade that the king's son bears
—but this

Blunt thing!' He snapt and flung it from his hand,

And cowering crept away and left the field.

Then came the king's son, wounded, sore bested,

And weaponless, and saw the broken sword

Hilt-buried in the dry and trodden sand,
And ran and snatched it, and with battle-shout

Lifted afresh, he hewed his enemies down and saved a great cause that heroic day."

Your chaplain,

Dr. U. S. "Preacher" Gordon

Mayor Tobey presents letter of welcome to Pi Kappa Alpha Convention to General Chairman Ben Glasgow.

Welcome Suh!

◆ Hear Ye! Hear Ye! Students and Alumni, Dream Girls and former Dream Girls! Put on your thinking caps, get out the memory books, polish those recollections of fraternity days and fraternity buddies and plan your vacation now for September 2-6, Memphis, Tenn. All roads, railroads, and airlines will head for Memphis on that Labor Day week end.

The mightiest convention in the eighty-six years of the fraternity's existence will be held. The important activities and festivities will be capped by the dedication of the Memorial Building and Headquarters to the more than four hundred Gold Star members of Pi Kappa Alpha. Many, many of your old friends and former national officers will be present to participate. The Dean of Pi Kappa Alpha, Robert A. Smythe, beloved Grand Secretary and Honorary National President will head the list of dignitaries and will share personally in the dedication of the Junior Founders' Room in the Memorial Building.

John R. Perez, National President

1917-30; P. T. Atkinson, National Secretary 1911-17; John U. Field, National Secretary 1917-20; and many other old-timers will be waiting at the front gate to shake your hand.

Two hundred student delegates are expected to attend the National Leadership School, University of Mississippi, Oxford, Miss. from August 31-September 2. They will engage in a thorough, systematic study of the national and chapter fraternity operations which will prepare them for leadership in their own chapters.

The convention will begin with a model initiation ceremony conducted at 4:00 p. m. in Hotel Peabody, Memphis. This will be followed at 5:00 p. m. by the biennial joint meeting of the Supreme Council and District Presidents. Convention business sessions will occupy Friday morning, Saturday morning, Saturday afternoon and Monday morning.

Entertainment galore will include a stag smoker Thursday evening, a stag-and-drag barbecue on the huge Crain cotton plantation at Wilson, Ark. on Friday afternoon and the National Dream Girl Dance Saturday evening. The men will have an official luncheon Friday, and Saturday will be "Alumni Day." It will include an alumni banquet, 12:30 p. m. Saturday, at which time all former national officers will be introduced and recognized. There will be "chapter reunions" Saturday afternoon and evening. Write your old college mates to bring the wife and children and meet you in Memphis for a glorious reunion.

The ladies will have a special entertainment program of their own, in addition to participating in the barbecue and dance. A tour of "Cotton Row" on famous Front Street in Memphis, which is the cotton trading capital of the world, plus a visit to the historic points of interest in Memphis and its environs will be followed by a luncheon on Friday. Shopping tours and teas will be arranged for Saturday.

One of the outstanding features of the convention will be the trip to the fabulous Crain cotton plantation in Eastern Arkansas. John Crain, Σ (Vanderbilt), and his wife will be hosts to the entire convention Friday afternoon and evening. A special train and special busses will convey approximately one thousand people to his 30,000 acre plantation. There will be a tour of his cotton fields, gin, and other points of interest, followed by a water show in his private swimming pool prior to wading into that good old Southern Barbecue. There will be entertainment throughout the evening featuring professional and Pi Kappa Alpha talent.

Sunday appropriately will be a day of rest and dignified ceremonies. At 2:00 p. m. in the Evergreen Presbyterian Church adjacent to the Memorial Headquarters Building the convention memorial service will be held honoring those men who have joined the Chapter Eternal since our previous National Convention. This service will be of especial importance in that this number includes National President Harvey T. Newell, Jr., who was killed in the line of fraternity duty, and our beloved Honorary National Chaplain, Dr. George Summey, who died in February of 1954 after loyally serving Pi Kappa Alpha for eighty-five years.

The dedication of the Memorial Building will take place at 3:00 p. m. and will be presided over by Memorial Foundation President Powell B. McHaney and Fraternity President John F. E. Hippe! It will be followed at 4:00 p. m. by a reception and open-house to which the public is invited.

Memorial Building Dedication September 5

♦ The dedication of the Memorial Building and Headquarters, September 5, will be a momentous event in the history of Pi Kappa Alpha. National President John F. E. Hippe! and Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Foundation President Powell B. McHaney will jointly preside over the dedication ceremonies. Among the many fraternity dignitaries who will likewise participate will be Robert A. Smythe, a Junior Founder; and National Historian Freeman H. Hart, long-time leader in the fraternity and one of the original proponents of the Memorial Building.

The MEMORIAL BUILDING will be dedicated to the more than four hundred Gold Star members of Pi Kappa Alpha who have given their lives in the service of our country. The Gold Star Memorial Hall will contain the names of each of these members. The building will, in truth, be dedicated to the memory of these men who gave their lives for the American way of life. We will work and pray that the building will be an avenue of living service to perpetuate those ideals for which they died.

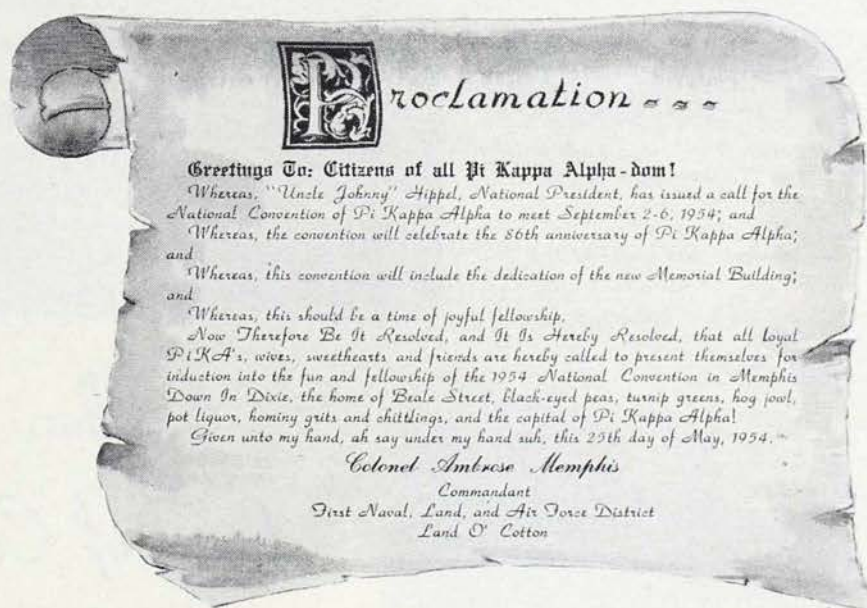

FOUNDERS' HALL will contain the oil paintings of each of the six founders and that portion of the building will be dedicated to these men who so firmly rooted the principles and ideals of Pi Kappa Alpha in their own lives and in their own planning that the magnificent human institution of Pi Kappa Alpha stands today as a monument to them.

The JUNIOR FOUNDERS' ROOM will pay lasting tribute to those valiant men of character and high principle who looked at the problems at the Hampden-Sydney Convention in 1889 and had the vision and energy to guide our beloved fraternity along the avenue of sound operations and high ideals. Robert A. Smythe, the only living Junior Founder, will be present for this auspicious occasion. The present members and officers of Pi Kappa Alpha are proud to pay homage to him.

The HARVEY T. NEWELL, JR. MEMORIAL LIBRARY just off the foyer will be dedicated to the memory of our beloved National President, who not only lived for Pi Kappa Alpha but died for it while on fraternity business May 17, 1953. Contributions of friends to the Memorial Foundation in memory of Brother Newell have been applied to the purchase of an oil painting of him which will be hung in the library. It has been said by many that Brother Newell came as close to personally embodying the ideals of Pi Kappa Alpha as any member ever known by those making the statement.

Truly, this will be a hallowed building. Its dedication will be soul-stirring and historic.

Dr. C. I. Diehl (r.), Southwestern President Emeritus, and Dr. P. N. Rhodes, President (second from right), discuss plans with Building Committee (l. to r.) R. D. Lynn, G. A. Mahoney, Tom Garrett, and J. H. Trinner.

Chairman of Ladies Convention Activities Mrs. Will Johnston (standing), Mrs. Bunyan Webb (l.), and Mrs. R. L. Pence get together to discuss convention plans.

Memorial in beautiful Overton Park. This large park is immediately south of the Memorial Headquarters and includes a zoo, golf course, and recreational areas.

The Convention Memorial Service will be held in the Evergreen Presbyterian Church immediately adjacent to the fraternity headquarters.

Air view of the home of John Crain, Σ (Vanderbilt). This cotton plantation will be the site of the convention barbecue.

Peabody Ducks Nationally Famous

◆ The ducks that swim daily in the fountain in the lobby of Hotel Peabody are direct descendants of ducks placed in that fountain over 25 years ago.

At one time it was legal to use live ducks as decoys in hunting, and enthusiastic sportsmen usually owned several. When it was declared illegal for such hunting, F. R. Schutt (president and general manager of the hotel) and Chip Barwick of Memphis owned some fine English call ducks. Three of these were placed in the fountain of the newly-built hotel, and the others on a farm where they were bred for hotel life.

Each morning at 7:00 a bellboy goes to the roof where the ducks' "suite" is located. The ducks cross the Plantation Roof to a waiting elevator which takes them to the lobby. In single file they march to the fountain. Promptly at 3:00 p. m. they parade back across the lobby to the elevator en route to their penthouse. Because of their regular schedule they are called "union" ducks. If unduly delayed, they raise a fuss and quack vociferously until properly escorted out.

The ducks cannot stay more than six weeks or two months in the hotel. Staying indoors tends to dry the oil from their feathers, so they are rotated with their brethren on the farm.

George, a colored man, is their official keeper. George feeds them in their suite (room service) and looks after them on the farm. The ducks placed in the fountain are always named George (for the keeper), Ruby and Pearl. Ruby and Pearl are namesakes of two of the colored maids who have been with the hotel many years.

These are probably the most famous ducks in the United States. Hotel Peabody is renowned for them.

Nominating Committee Named

◆ Announcement has been made by National President Hippel that the Nominating Committee for the 1954 National Convention will consist of: Powell B. McHaney, chairman; Ralph Yeager; and Grant Iverson. Brother McHaney is a past National President and is currently president of the Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Foundation. Ralph Yeager for many years served as an outstanding District President. In 1952, he was elected National Vice President and succeeded to the presidency upon the death of Harvey T. Newell, Jr. in May, 1953. He relinquished the post November 1, 1953 due to the pressure of a new business and his unwillingness to serve unless he could devote adequate time to do the best job possible. Grant Iverson, AT (Utah), from Salt Lake City is the beloved Dean of Pi Kappa Alpha District Presidents and has been an outstanding national leader of Pi Kappa Alpha for more than two decades.

The Nominating Committee earnestly solicits recommendations from any student or alumnus member of the fraternity and from student and alumnus chapters. Nominations should be mailed to: Powell B. McHaney, Chairman, Pi Kappa Alpha Nominating Committee, 577 University Boulevard, Memphis 12, Tenn. The name, address and as much pertinent data about the individual as can conveniently be furnished should be included in the nomination. His profes-

U. of Mississippi Site of Leadership School

◆ The biennial National Leadership School will hold its first session at 2:00 p. m. Tuesday, August 31, 1954, in the Graduate Building on the University of Mississippi campus in Oxford. Chancellor J. D. Williams, Fraternity Advisor David McCorkle, and Rufus T. Jones, Coordinator of Conferences, have been most generous in providing their excellent facilities for use by Pi Kappa Alpha. Preliminary reports indicate the largest attendance and one of the best training schools which the fraternity has held to date.

National President Hippel will head the delegation of National officers and the staff. Many prominent fraternity leaders and Alumnus Counselors from throughout the United States will likewise participate.

The school is designed to inform, instruct and train student members and Alumnus Counselors so they can effectively discharge various positions of responsibility in the fraternity chapter. The school sessions plus the opportunity for fellowship and an exchange of information with other fraternity members from throughout the United States serve as a tremendously broadening and enlightening influence on all who participate.

Gamma-Iota Chapter at the University of Mississippi and Gamma-Theta Chapter at Mississippi State will serve as host chapters. Doctor C. M. Murry, Alumnus Counselor at Gamma-Iota, will be general local chairman.

Those traveling by automobile will find convenient highways leading to Oxford. Those using public transportation will probably find it more convenient to come to Memphis and arrangements will

Ole Miss Pikes Bid You Welcome

◆ The land of cotton eagerly awaits the arrival of the delegates to the National Leadership School to be held at the University of Mississippi, August 31 through September 2. Genuine Southern hospitality, beautiful Southern belles, and maybe even a refreshing julep or two will be on hand to make the delegates' stay at Ole Miss more than memorable.

Naturally, the benefits derived by each delegate from the workshops and forums alone would more than justify the trip. However, Gamma-Iota hopes to make even more benefits available to the attending delegates by providing the damn-yankees and carpetbaggers with the best pre-convention meeting ever held anywhere. WE BID YOU ALL A HEARTY WELCOME.

Miss Johnnie — Pride and Joy of Zeta Chapter

By James R. Gray

◆ Back in the fall of 1921 at a luncheon meeting of Zeta Chapter, a Pi Kappa Alpha badge was presented to a woman who had served as a faithful friend and counselor to Zeta Chapter for several years. The presentation of the badge climaxed several years of service to Pi Kappa Alpha by Miss Frances Johnston—better known to Zeta and graduates of the University of Tennessee as "Miss Johnnie." Since that time Miss Johnnie's affection for Zeta and Pi Kappa Alpha has never changed. She still has her original pin and considers it one of her most cherished possessions. At many fraternity and University functions, Miss Johnnie is seen proudly wearing her badge and doing some wonderful rushing and public relations work for Pi Kappa Alpha.

Miss Johnnie began her long and faithful association with the University of Tennessee in 1915 when she accepted a position in the Registrar's Office. In 1925 she was promoted to the position of Assistant Registrar and held this position until her retirement in 1949. During this long span she became one of the most respected member of the Tennessee staff. Miss Johnnie has always been noted for her remarkable ability to remember literally hundreds of students by their first names. The students themselves are often amazed at the fact that she can recognize them after being away for several years. Miss Johnnie has made many friends during the years, not only in Pi Kappa Alpha, but among all the students who have come through the University of Tennessee.

She has distinguished herself on several occasions in the field of song writing. Her first endeavor at writing was her entrance in a contest to select an Alma Mater for Tennessee. Her entry, "To Tennessee," was awarded second place and was copyrighted in 1928. In the 1934 University All-Sing, the song was a required selection for all competing groups. In 1936, Miss Johnnie wrote a song for Zeta Chapter called "PiKA Sweetheart." The song was copyrighted and was officially adopted at the Mackinac Convention and made a song of Pi Kappa Alpha. It is now included in the official fraternity songbook. During the war, Miss Johnnie wrote a song for a group of Air Force trainees at the University which they quickly adopted as their official song. In 1949 she wrote a song called "A Little Hymn" which received the spotlight as the grand finale of the 1949 All-Sing program.

One of the many high spots of her career came in 1940 when The Torch, which is the official University publication presented to all incoming freshmen, was respectfully dedicated to the University's own Miss Johnnie.

Her association with Zeta Chapter began in 1918 and continues to the present day. She has been directly responsible for pledging many of the best men ever initiated into Zeta Chapter. Many of the present freshmen members of the chapter have learned that Miss Johnnie is one friend in whom we can all confide and who always has time to listen to our most pitiful tales of woe. Before her retirement she was one of those who could always be counted on to be around during that work-filled week just before pledging. She can relate many stories of the trials and impossible problems which often came up just as Rush Week was ready to begin.

Miss Johnnie remembers practically every man who has been in the chapter since she began her work with it. She is one of those remarkable persons who gains one's immediate respect and trust. As the years move on, it is interesting to note that very few of Zeta's older alumni can make a visit back to Knoxville without paying a personal call to Miss Johnnie. She still receives many cards from them on special occasions and maintains a correspondence with several of them. Very often she has been called on to supply correct addresses of some "lost" alumni. And when a special appeal needs to be made to certain alumni, it is generally Miss Johnnie who can get the most cooperation from them.

She has always been the ideal Dream Girl. She has not been the type whose interest dwindled after her term was over. The problems of Zeta have remained her problems; none was too large to frighten her or too small to arouse her interest. If the boys were ever in trouble with the Administration or had trouble at home, they could always count on Miss Johnnie to help solve them. In the 33 years that she has been Dream Girl of IKA, she has missed only one Dream Girl Formal.

There are many things which could be said of Miss Johnnie's work with the fraternity. Many interesting hours can be spent listening to her relate incidents which she can remember over the past years. But the important thing is that she is a true IKA girl. Her love for the Fraternity does not stop with Zeta Chapter but extends to every member of Pi Kappa Alpha—her fraternity. She is a grand lady who has been one of the staunchest and most consistent backers any fraternity ever had. Her friendship has come to mean an awful lot to many men who have been at Tennessee, and her loyalty to our fraternity has caused her to become the pride of Zeta Chapter.

At the present time, plans are being made by the chapter to send her to her first Pi Kappa Alpha National Convention. We want to send her to Memphis in September. This is our chance to let the Fraternity meet one of the grandest persons in Pi Kappa Alpha, one of their oldest Dream Girls. It is her chance to fulfill a lifelong aspiration. But in order to do this, we will need the help of every interested alumni of Zeta Chapter who would like to have a part in making this trip possible for Miss Johnnie. All who wish to contribute are asked to send their donations immediately to:

Mr. Tom Wade, Jr., SMC,
The Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity,
1305 West Clinch, Knoxville, Tenn.
We will all benefit by it.

Rensselaer Initiates Twenty-Five

By George Pearsall

◆ On Sunday, March 21, Gamma-Tau initiated what was generally conceded to be the top pledge class on the hill at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. A total of twenty-five men, it was probably about the most well-rounded class that Gamma-Tau has ever initiated. Included in the class are men in just about every sport at R.P.I., the freshman class president, three candidates for class office in the coming election, and outstanding men in campus and house activities. This class has within it high qualities of leadership and cooperation, a definite willingness to work for the Fraternity, and probably most important, a sense of humor and a bond of good fellowship. These men were treated to a steak supper after initiation by their big brothers. Sasha put on the usual "tremendous meal," reminding the new brothers of one of our most important assets, a good cook.

Our Founders' Day Banquet was held at the Crooked Lake Hotel. Both Bob Means and Bill Widger were present and seemed to enjoy our festivities as much as we enjoyed their presence. On Sunday afternoon we discussed the possibilities for a new house. The discussion was led by former SMC Joe Fratianni and the New House Committee.

From all appearances, Gamma-Tau is finishing this year strong and aiming with all intents and purposes toward starting next year just as strong.

Nancy Nelson Selected Arizona Dream Girl

By Bob Keiper

◆ Liltng rhumbas, sparkling waltzes, and sophisticated fox trots highlighted the Dream Girl Dance held last March 13. Nancy Nelson, AXΩ, was crowned the first lady of Gamma-Delta for 1954 and was attended by Betty Briggs and Shirley Roberts. That same night, Nancy was pinned by Brother Jack Warneke, to become Jack's first lady, too.

Main event during second semester rush was a party held at Agua Caliente Ranch, owned by the parents of Pledge Art Filiatrault. Five lakes on the ranch provided ample opportunity for canoeing, and a swimming pool tempted a few hardy souls to brave the still-too-cool weather to take a dip. A buffet supper rounded out the evening's festivities.

Founders' Day was observed Sunday, February 28. Letters of invitation were sent to all parts of the United States and to some foreign countries. A buffet luncheon was topped off by cigars for all.

Duane Burr was elected secretary of Kappa Kappa Psi, national men's honorary. Perry Peters was accepted into Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism honorary.

Kennett Alumni Organize

◆ The first meeting of the Kennett, Mo. Alumnus Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity was held the night of February 22. The meeting was opened with a dinner at the Cotton Boll Hotel, Kennett, Mo. The following officers, all of Kennett, were elected for the year:

President—Hal H. McHaney.
Vice President—Walter C. Huffman.
Secretary-Treasurer—Joe C. Browning.
Corresponding Secretary—William H. Billings.
Chairman of Membership Committee—Leon McAnally.

Tri-monthly meetings for the chapter were endorsed with the dates to be 7:00 p. m. on the first Tuesday of January, April, July and October.

Francis Marion Vaughan, Θ (Southwestern) and Miss Chebie Ann Gaines shared honors as King and Queen of the 1954 Columbus, Miss. Pilgrimage. The coronation ceremony opened the brilliant pilgrimage ball at the Columbus City Auditorium. Brother Vaughan is a well-known sportsman and planter in northern Mississippi. He is a director of the First Columbus National Bank, the Mississippi Fox Hunting Association and other organizations. His plantation is a favorite spot for entertaining visiting dignitaries.

Jack Hall Completes Fulbright Scholarship

◆ John E. Hall, Θ (Southwestern), will complete two years of teaching and study at the University of Athens, Athens, Greece in June. In 1952, he received the Fulbright Scholarship for travel and study abroad. His work in the English Department at Athens University was so outstanding his scholarship was extended for an additional year, during which time he served as head of the English Department.

A native of Memphis, Tenn., his father, Mr. Jess M. Hall, is also a member of Pi Kappa Alpha having been initiated at Alpha-Delta Chapter (Georgia Tech).

Jack lettered in football, basketball and track for six years at Central High School and at Southwestern College. Between high school and college, he served three years in World War II and made the Rhine jump with the 17th Airborne.

While at Southwestern, he won honors in English and Philosophy and was a member of the Southwestern Singers. Among other fraternity offices, he served as SMC of Theta Chapter.

He earned his Master's Degree in English and Philosophy from Vanderbilt University and was on the faculty of Columbia Military Academy at the time he received the Fulbright Scholarship. He will return to Vanderbilt University to continue work on his Doctorate this fall.

Before a large audience last Easter, Brother Hall, as soloist, sang "The Holy City" from atop Mars Hill near Athens, Greece where Saint Paul preached to the Athenians.

He and Mrs. Hall, the former Gloria Ross of Memphis, will make an extensive tour of Europe this summer prior to returning to the United States in August.

Brother Hall has prepared a large collection of colored slides and will give illustrated lectures on Greece upon his return to this country.

Mu Pays the Price For a Piano

(Reprinted from "Musings," chapter publication of Mu Chapter, Presbyterian College.)

◆ Brother Willie Neville received word of a good bargain in pianos in Columbia, S. C., and it was decided that he immediately investigate. That week end he arrived back at the campus driving a truck with a thirty-five-dollar piano lashed securely to the back. Before you accuse us of getting hooked, let us quote our one and only piano player, Ray Lord, assistant organist for the college choir, who said, "That's a real buy!" As the unloading progressed, the problem finally became apparent. How would we get that twenty-five-ton music maker up to the third floor of Neville Hall? At 5:00 p. m. that day, several of our brothers who possess stronger backs struggled it to the second floor. But, then, the trouble really began—the steps leading to the third floor were so narrow and there were two 90-degree turns to be conquered. But after much strain, struggle, and sweat, our first music broke forth at approximately 11:05 that night. You think you've got problems? It was worth it though!

Mrs. Burrows Joins Drake as Housemother

◆ During the months of February and March, the members of Delta-Omicron were kept busy with many campus activities.

During the semester vacation, the members prepared the house for rush by completely redecorating the interior of the house. Several rooms were papered and the rest were painted. A new shower was also installed by the pledges.

One of the most important events that has happened to Delta-Omicron was the addition of Mrs. Eva Burrows as housemother. She is from Dumont, Iowa and attended Coe College. She was affiliated with the alumni of Delta Zeta Sorority. Her husband, the late F. L. Burrows, was a member of Alpha-Phi Chapter at Ames College and her son, F. L. Burrows, Jr., is a member of Delta-Omicron Chapter here at Drake.

Founders' Day was a big day at Drake due to the initiation of Dick Paschal, Dan Stamatelos, Ray Seegmiller, Sam Beavers, and Gus Vlassis.

John Horton, Field Secretary, was honored at a luncheon March 12 at the chapter house. Just prior to that, Delta-Omicron was host at a Barbary Coast party which was a great success.

The members of Delta-Omicron are now preparing for the Sweetheart sing contest to be held during Greek Week End and also have started work on the Drake Relays Float.

In addition to these many activities, we have increased our pledge class from six to seventeen during the first four weeks of school.

Pictures of the First 250 Diamond Life Chapter Members Will Appear in the Memorial Building

The Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Foundation Trustees announced that due to space limitations pictures of Diamond Life Chapter members which will appear in the chapter room of the Memorial Building will be limited to the first 250 members. The chapter roll as of April 30 was 198.

There will be a meeting of the Diamond Life Chapter members in the Memorial Building during the 1954 National Convention.

Diamond Life Chapter member Paul E. Viko is serving as SMC of Alpha-Tau Chapter at the University of Utah.

In 1942 National President Hickman presented Dr. Summey with a certificate naming him Honorary National Chaplain.

◆ Dr. George Summey, the first pledge of Beta Chapter at Davidson College, North Carolina, joined the Chapter Eternal February 21st at 101 years of age. A former National Chaplain, he continued to hold the position of Honorary National Chaplain of Pi Kappa Alpha at the time of his death.

One of the "first and foremost," Doctor Summey has been a leader in Pi Kappa Alpha for eight decades. His devotion to the fraternity and its ideals have been an inspiration to thousands of members who came in contact with him. Ever-loyal, he regularly attended our national conventions. As recently as 1950, he traveled by bus alone from Michigan to attend the national convention at Cincinnati. Although ninety-seven years of age, he delivered a marvelous, extemporaneous address to the assemblage.

One of the many editorials at the time of his death stated, "few men merit description as remarkable, yet remarkable was the word for Doctor George Summey, clergyman—educator—author, who died Sunday.

"One of the pillars of the Southern Presbyterian Church, his good works were unconfined. When ordained at the age of 19, he was known as the 'boy preacher.' That youthful vitality carried throughout his long and fruitful career as a man of God."

Born in Asheville, N. C. on July 3, 1853, he attended the University of Georgia and graduated from Davidson College, Davidson, N. C. with honors in 1870. He also received M.A. and LL.D. degrees from Davidson. His Bachelor of Divinity degree was earned at Union

Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va. He served as a Presbyterian minister in North and South Carolina, Tennessee and Louisiana. From 1892 to 1903, he was chancellor of Southwestern Presbyterian University, Clarksville, Tenn. (Theta Chapter produced some of its finest members during this period.) From 1903 to 1928, he was pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church, New Orleans and has been emeritus pastor since that time. From 1927 to 1940, he was professor at Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Texas. Doctor Summey, a member of Phi Beta Kappa, served as editor of many church publications. In 1925, he was elected moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, which is the highest office that church affords.

Dr. Summey Joins Chapter Eternal at 101 Years

Doctor Summey enthusiastically promoted the selection of Memphis as the site for the Memorial Headquarters Building and gave his every effort toward the promotion of the Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Foundation. His ringing speech at the 1946 national convention in Mackinac Island, Mich. was a definite factor in the decision of that convention to accept the offer of a site from Southwestern-at-Memphis and move the national headquarters. He was keenly interested in the progress of the memorial building and was looking forward to participating in its dedication September 5.

In writing to his son, Doctor George Summey, Jr., Θ (Southwestern), a faculty member at Texas A. & M. College, Executive Secretary Lynn said in part: "His sound character, his sound judgment, his high ideals, his Christian faith, his love of mankind and his leadership of youth enabled him to make Pi Kappa Alpha a better fraternity and all of us who knew him, better men."

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. A. B. Dinwiddie, New Orleans and Mrs. Cleveland S. Smith, Indiana, Pa.; and two sons, Doctor George Summey, Jr., College Station, Texas and Albert T. Summey, Wilmington, N. C.

JOHN LLOYD NEWCOMB

Dr. John Lloyd Newcomb, T (William and Mary) & Alpha (Virginia), retired president of the University of Virginia, died February 22, 1954 at the University Hospital in Charlottesville, Va. He was 72 years of age.

Dr. Newcomb was the University's second president, having succeeded Dr. Edwin Anderson Alderman, who died in 1931, and being followed in the office by former Governor Darden.

His career in education began when he was named an adjunct professor in the engineering school. Twenty years later he became dean of the school and a year later, in 1926, was named assistant to President Alderman.

As president Dr. Newcomb devoted most of his energies toward strengthening the University's teaching program and expanding its physical plant and facilities. The student body, which numbered 2,515 when he took office, had swelled to more than 4,000 by the time he retired.

During his tenure the $1,000,000 Alderman Library was constructed, as well as Clark Hall, home of the University Law School; Bayly Memorial Museum of Fine Arts, and a sizable enlargement of the Medical School and hospital buildings.

The University's Mountain Lake Biological Station in Giles County was established during his tenure as president, as well as the Woodrow Wilson School of Foreign Affairs and a military training program.

Holder of honorary degrees from several colleges and universities, Dr. Newcomb remained active in University affairs after his retirement from the office of administrative chief.

President Darden asked and received his guidance in the building program of the late 1940's and early 1950's and the former president was especially proud of his part in helping bring about construction of the huge administrative office and classroom addition to Cabell Hall.

He was born at Sassafras, in Gloucester County, and received his bachelor of arts degree from the College of William and Mary in 1900. In 1903 he earned the degree of civil engineer at the University.

While studying at the University of Virginia he was student vice president of the engineering school and an associate editor of the University yearbook "Corks and Curls." After his graduation from the University he became assistant engineer on location and construction for the Norfolk and Southern Railway.

Dr. Newcomb married Mrs. Grace Shields, of Richmond, in 1926. She died in 1941.

NORTON B. SMITH

Norton B. Smith, AN (Missouri), vice president of the Carter-Waters Corporation, died March 13, 1954 in Kansas City, Mo. A graduate of the University of Missouri, Brother Smith has been associated with the construction materials firm for more than twenty years. He was a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Kansas City Club, and the Country Club Congregational Church.

JOHN E. GRANADE

Dr. John E. Granade, BΦ (Mercer), practicing physician of Bradenton, Fla., died February 20, 1954. He began his practice in Bradenton in 1948 after retiring as a colonel in the U. S. Army Medical Corps and chief of the medical service at Fort Benning, Ga.

Brother Granade had a distinguished service career during World War II. He served in the Philippine Islands, in Hawaii, and Guadalcanal. He held the Legion of Merit and Bronze Star Medal with oak leaf cluster.

JOSEPH A. SHEEHAN, SR.

Joseph A. Sheehan, Sr., AN (Missouri), charter member of Alpha-Nu Chapter and former national officer, died February 23, 1954 after a brief illness. Roll Number 8 on the Alpha-Nu chapter roll, he was initiated December 15, 1909.

Brother Sheehan served as National Alumni Secretary from 1930 to 1936. He was president of the Alpha-Nu House Corporation for several years and worked closely with the chapter in this capacity. He owned and operated the Joseph A. Sheehan Plumbing Company in St. Louis. His son, Joseph, Jr., AN, survives him.

JOHN R. GRINNELL

Lt. John R. Grinnell, BA (New Mexico), was killed January 12, 1954 near Brewton, Ala. in parachuting from his disabled training plane. Brother Grinnell was a Navy flying instructor and was on a routine training flight, accompanied by a student who landed safely by parachute. He entered the service as a Naval Aviation Cadet in February 1946 attending the University of New Mexico and Washington University in St. Louis. In March 1948 he was appointed midshipman in the U. S. Navy and completed his flight training at the U. S. Naval Air Station at Pensacola, Fla. and Corpus Christi, Texas. In 1949 he was commissioned an Ensign in the U. S. Navy.

He was overseas for three periods of service and was awarded three air medals, the Korean Campaign Ribbon, American Campaign Victory Ribbon, Chinese Campaign Ribbon, and Occupation Ribbon. In 1951 he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for heroism and extraordinary achievement in aerial flight as a member of a patrol plane crew in Patrol Squadron 47 during operations against enemy aggressor forces in Korea.

FRANK RANDALL PRATT

Dr. Frank Randall Pratt, AΦ (Rutgers), long associated with Rutgers University and New Jersey College for Women, died February 25, 1954 at his home in Highland Park, N. J. A native of Warsaw, N. Y., Brother Pratt received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Rutgers and his Ph.D. from Princeton.

He became an instructor at Rutgers in 1906 followed by a full professorship in 1921. His 43-year career at Rutgers continued when in 1923 he became professor of physics at New Jersey College for Women which department he headed in 1927 until his retirement in 1946. Dr.

Pratt was a member of the American Physical Society, New Brunswick Scientific Society, Rutgers Alumni Association, Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi, and was listed in Who's Who in America.

JOSEPH IRVINE STEEL

Joseph Irvine Steel, BN (Oregon State), president of Moore Dry Kiln Company in Portland, Ore. died January 30, 1954.

Born in Hillsdale, Ore., he was a graduate of Oregon State College where he was a charter member of Beta-Nu Chapter. He served in the armed forces during World War I spending 18 months in France with the 20th engineers. Brother Steel was one of the foremost authorities in the United States on kiln drying of lumber and was inventor of several improvements in the kiln drying field. He held patents on various designs and processes.

In addition to holding the position as president of Moore Company, Brother Steel was president of the Vancouver Iron and Steel Foundry Company and vice president of Moore Dry Kiln Company of Canada with offices in Vancouver, B. C. He was a Rotarian and a member of Hinson Baptist Church.

JAMES T. QUARLES

James T. Quarles, AN (Missouri), retired professor of music and dean of the Fine Arts College at the University of Missouri from 1924 to 1935, died recently in San Fernando, Calif.

Professor Quarles joined the university faculty in 1923 to organize the Fine Arts College. He was a native of St. Louis, served as dean of arts at Lindenwood College and was organist with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra for five years. He was a composer of songs, organ compositions and choral works. He was organist at several St. Louis churches and served as national president of Phi Mu Alpha, music fraternity, and as president of the Association of Music Executives in State Universities. He was also president of the Missouri State Music Teachers during his career at the University.

Tucker Celebrates 42 Years as a Bishop

The following is a condensation of an article by Dolores Lescure which appeared in the Richmond (Va.) News Leader March 25, 1954. Bishop Tucker, No. 142 on the Alpha chapter roll, is an internationally renowned and beloved church leader.

By Dolores Lescure

One of the most respected men in the Episcopal Church, Bishop Henry St. George Tucker, today marked the forty-second anniversary of his consecration to the episcopate.

Forty-two years ago on the Feast of the Annunciation in Kyoto, Japan, the young missionary took his vows as a bishop. He spoke them both in English and Japanese, because, as he explained, his was a two-fold dedication: he was a missionary bishop in the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States and he was in charge of a missionary district in Japan.

The tall, now slightly stooped, bishop is approaching his eightieth birthday in July. Behind him are a distinguished Colonial ancestry and the highest honors conferred by his church. Yet it seems his humble, unassuming ways as a spiritual leader have endeared him the most.

In all of his 42 years in the episcopate he has never worn the bishop's mitre to which he is entitled. He donned a cope only once when well-meaning parishioners in Baltimore thrust it on him for a confirmation ceremony. He accepted a bishop's ring, on the condition that he didn't have to wear it.

There is an often-told story about the mountain rector who announced to his parishioners that Bishop Tucker was coming to visit their church. An old-timer wanted to know: "Which bishop? The one who looks like us, or the other one?"

After he was elected from the General Convention floor as presiding leader of more than 2,000,000 Episcopalians, Bishop Tucker lamented to his friends that he didn't know how he could afford to live in New York. Reminded that his new job carried with it a substantial salary, he remarked "Oh, it does? I didn't realize that."

His easy informality, which his friends call an "Oriental calm," and his great personal charm enabled him as presiding bishop to bring together divergent elements of the high and low church.

A middle-of-the-road, Prayer Book churchman himself he has said that the Episcopal Church is broad enough and complex enough to contain both Anglo-Catholics and Evangelicals. He has good words for both, but he told his churchmen after his election:

"I know only one kind of service. If you want any other kind, you will have to take care of it yourself."

When the late King George VI and his Queen Elizabeth visited the United States, Bishop Tucker was called upon to preach in President Roosevelt's Hyde Park Church. Frequently he met the Archbishop of Canterbury on the English prelate's visits to the United States.

Last April he was given the Distinguished Service Award of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce at its world affairs dinner at Old Point Comfort. He is the first churchman to be so honored by the State chamber.

Always a scholarly man, he was said to have read all the volumes of the Encyclopedia Britannica before he entered the Alexandria Seminary in 1897. He denies the story, but it serves to illustrate his reputation as a student.

After his graduation from the seminary in June, 1899, Bishop Tucker was ordained a deacon. A month later he received the orders of the priesthood and set sail for Japan, where he remained for a quarter of a century.

But in those days, missionaries were not so highly respected. Even his aunt told her friends in San Francisco the young priest was going abroad "to study Oriental languages."

In 1901 he became missionary-in-charge at Sendai, Hiroaki, and in 1903 he became president of St. Paul's College in Tokyo, a missionary school that supplied the Episcopal Church in Japan with clergymen and lay leaders.

During World War I he worked with the American Red Cross in the Far East and, with the rank of major in the American Expeditionary Forces, directed refugee relief work in Siberia.

In 1923 Bishop Tucker returned to the United States and joined the faculty of Virginia Theological Seminary. Twice he turned down opportunities to become a bishop of other dioceses, but, in 1926, he accepted election as coadjutor of the Diocese of Virginia. He was elevated to bishop in the following year.

At that time Bishop Tucker's father, Beverley Dandridge Tucker, Sr., was serving as bishop of the Diocese of Southern Virginia. This was believed to be the only instance in the history of the Episcopal Church in America where a father and son were bishops of adjoining dioceses at the same time.

He concentrated much of his attention as Bishop of Virginia on the mountain missions of the Blue Ridge, the Negroes across the State and the little rural churches and missions in every county.

He was elected to the highest church office at a General Convention in Cincinnati in 1937 when he "was just looking on." His name had not even been suggested by the nominating committee.

In 1942 he was elected to head the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, the first Episcopalian to be named to this office by an interdenominational body embracing 13 communions.

He was serving simultaneously in three posts—presiding bishop, bishop of Virginia, and president of the Federal Council—until 1944 when he relinquished the last two.

On his father's side, Bishop Tucker comes from a family notable for its lawyers in earlier generations and later for its ministers.

His mother was Maria Washington, daughter of Colonel John Augustine Washington, who was a great nephew of George Washington. Her father was the last private owner of Mount Vernon and she was the last of the Washingtons born there.

The eldest of 13 children, Henry St. George was born July 16, 1874. All of the nine boys were graduated from the University of Virginia.

His brother, the Rev. Beverley D. Tucker, Jr., is the retired bishop of Ohio. Another, the Rev. F. Bland Tucker, is the rector of Christ Church, Savannah, and a deceased brother, Herbert, was rector of St. Paul's Church, Suffolk.

Another brother "Gus," became a missionary doctor and Ellis, a missionary professor at St. John's University, Shanghai.

Happy Chandler (l.), former Baseball Commissioner, and Emil Stanley, president of the Traffic Service Corporation, Chicago, exchange greetings during Cincinnati Traffic Club Annual Dinner.

Iowa State Goes Hawaiian

By Paul Bishop

◆ The Alpha-Phi Pikes beat the wintry Iowa weather February 6 by bringing Hawaii to the Lincolnway chapter house.

One of the most outstanding Hawaiian decorations was an electric-pump-powered fountain sprinkling colored spray. Architecture major Ole Olson's talent created the six-foot-tall indoor fountain that prompted many comments from mystified guests.

Flown in from Hawaii were 250 leis with orchid centers for Pike dates. A five piece band and 25 palm trees decorating the chapter house added to the Pike and campus event of the season.

A full parking lot, driveway, and yard, as well as cars parked on neighboring lawns were an indication of the terrific success of the party.

George Finnie Elected At Western Reserve

George D. Finnie, BE (Western Reserve) and AP (Ohio State), was elected president of the "R" Club of Western Reserve University for the 1953-54 school year. The club is a group of alumni and former students who are particularly interested in athletics and those boys who participate on all the teams.

This is the first time in history that the president of the club has been a non-letterman, but Brother Finnie's interest in and work for the athletic program has been outstanding and earned this honor for him.

Brother Finnie is a certified public accountant in Cleveland. He served as SMC of both Beta-Epsilon and Alpha-Rho chapters during his student days.

TO: Delegates of Student and Alumnus Chapters
GREETINGS

The 86th Anniversary Convention of our Fraternity will be held in Memphis, Tennessee September 2-6, 1954, with headquarters at Hotel Peabody. The National Leadership School will be held at the University of Mississippi, Oxford, Miss., August 31-September 2.

As National President, I hereby issue this call in compliance with our Constitution to those who will be convention delegates, but this is more than an official call. It is a cordial invitation to every member, wife, friend, or guest to share with us in this outstanding celebration.

It will be an unusual privilege for each of us to participate in the dedication of the Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Building. This beautiful structure which will house the headquarters of the Fraternity will honor the more than 400 Gold Star Members of Pi Kappa Alpha who gave their lives in the service of our country.

Make your plans now to bring the family and meet us in Memphis.

Yours in the bonds,

s/ JOHN F. E. HIPPEL

National President

This Cistercian Monastery, "Our Lady of Sacramenia," originally built in 1141 at Segovia, Spain, was reassembled near Miami, Fla. It is open to the public and has been called "the finest example of Gothic Architecture in the world."

Ancient Spanish Monastery Attracts Tourists

E. Raymond Moss, AH (Florida), National Secretary of IKA 1929-1931, has just completed the erection of The Cloisters near Miami, Fla. It bids fair to become the outstanding tourist attraction in this tourist mecca. The following excellent story of this project appeared in the Miami Herald, January 31, 1954:

◆ The world's biggest jig-saw puzzle finally has been solved and Saturday became South Florida's newest tourist attraction. It is an actual 812-year-old monastery brought stone by stone from Spain and reassembled just as it stood in a Spanish valley 350 years before Columbus discovered America.

The Ancient Spanish Monastery, as its owners call it now, was found in a remote part of Spain by the late William Randolph Hearst who bought it in one of his incredible "dollar raids" of European art treasures in 1925. At fabulous expense, and in circumstances that read like a fast-paced suspense novel, he had the building dismantled and literally spirited out of the country in the face of a Spanish government ban on removal of its artistic and architectural masterpieces.

But once the 36,000 stones, packed in 10,571 wooden boxes, arrived safely in New York, Publisher Hearst's troubles were not over. The Department of Agriculture stepped in. "These stones," said the authorities, "are packed in hay that comes from a part of Spain where there is an outbreak of hoof and mouth disease. Every box must be opened. Every wisp of hay must be burned."

It took three years to uncrate, unpack and re-pack the stones in American excelsior. Hearst picked up a tab for $70,000 for that job alone. Then came the depression, and the monastery began to gather dust in a New York warehouse.

E. Raymond Moss, Fort Lauderdale and Cincinnati land developer, began negotiating with Hearst more than ten years ago to buy the monastery and rebuild it in Florida. The publisher weakened, then changed his mind about what he always referred to as his "greatest art treasure." "What would the people of California think of me if I let it go to Florida?"

Moss' enthusiasm refused to dim. He was intrigued by the idea of trying to put the ancient building back together again. He wanted to see what it looked like. He thought people should be able to see a building that was acknowledged the world over as one of the fine examples of 12th century Gothic architecture still in existence.

After the publisher's death, Moss was able to buy the monastery from the Hearst estate. His Cincinnati business partner, William S. Edgemon, and their attorney, Carrol A. Muccia, of New York, had become infected with Moss' enthusiasm for the project. They became partners in the enterprise.

Once news of their purchase got out, they began to receive offers of free land on which to rebuild the monastery. But none of them seemed to fill the bill. Finally they found and bought the "perfect site"—20 acres in North Dade county—where elaborate medieval gardens could form a fitting setting for their architectural gem. Then, they chartered a ship to move the monastery to its new home in Florida.

That was when they began to find out that rebuilding a monastery is an expensive operation. It cost them $60,000 just to move the packing cases from New York to Port Everglades.

After the boxes reached the North Dade site, the owners found they had the world's biggest jig-saw puzzle on their hands. Stones which, according to plans drawn for Hearst in Spain, should have been in box number such-and-such, weren't in that box at all.

During the hay-burning episode, someone had forgotten to tell the workmen that each stone should go back in the box it came from. What's more, the markings, done in Spanish abbreviations, frequently made no sense at all. Quaintly, the Spanish had used the letter "o" to stand for "oriente" (east) wall. They also used "o" to stand for "oeste" (west).

There was nothing to do but tackle the job like a jig-saw puzzle. Twenty-three men spent 90 days opening the packing cases. The 36,000 stones, weighing anywhere from 50 pounds to 3,000 pounds, were spread over the 20-acre site. Nineteen months ago supervising mason Allan Carswell began fitting the stones together by the put-and-take method. He used as his guide a set of two dozen photographs Hearst had made in Spain. Hearst had made them not as architectural guides, but as souvenirs.

Fortunately, no two of the ornately carved stones is alike, and all but two of them appear somewhere in the pictures. The plain stones that form the outer walls also are of varying size and shape, making easier, though no less back breaking, the job of fitting them back into their original location in the building.

Now, 19 months and $1,500,000 later—the owners say—the monastery has been reassembled, just as it stood for nearly eight centuries in Segovia, Spain.

Its size alone is impressive. Hand-somely and intricately carved limestone columns support 52 different arches that make up the inner wall of the cloister walk. A series of ribbed and vaulted arches form the ceiling. Along the walls of the cloister walk are 10 ornately carved stone corbels depicting the coats of arms of noble families—gifts much like the memorial stained glass windows in more recently built churches.

The vaulted ceiling of the 26 x 32-foot chapter house is made up of a series of 75 distinct but intricately interlocking stone arches. Five huge stone double arches, weighing seven tons each, support the roof of the refectory, where once the gray-garbed Cistercian monks ate their meager meals.

Life-size statues of King Alphonso VII, of Spain, who founded the monastery, and his grandson, Alphonso VIII, who made huge grants of land to it, stand at the ends of the two corridors that lead at right angles from the entrance to the cloister.

To the left of the chapter house entrance is a flamboyant Gothic altar, intricately carved from pink limestone from Caen, France. A massive white marble statue of the Christus stands in a niche in the rear wall of the chapter house.

Almost two years of research have gone into the planning of the gardens that surround the monastery building. A five-acre formal garden, with handsome old stone fountains, reflecting pools and mass after mass of rare and colorful plants, is almost completed. Less formal plantings of trees, shrubs and flowers ultimately will beautify the entire 20 acres. Medieval statuary and a pink marble loggia from the palace of the Duke of Alba will ornament the gardens.

The monastery was founded in 1141 by King Alphonso VII and was given to the Cistercian monks who operated it as the Monastery of St. Bernard of Sacramenia until 1835 when all monastery holdings in the country were confiscated by the Spanish government.

The buildings and land were sold at auction to a farmer who closed up the arches of the cloister walk with rubble, used it as a storehouse for grain, and converted the refectory into a stable. Because of its remote location, its existence was virtually forgotten until the publisher bought it.

Saturday the public had the first opportunity to see the completed jig-saw puzzle. The Ancient Spanish Monastery will be open every day from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., year round. It is located just west of U. S. Highway 1 at NE 167th St. and Old Dixie Highway. There is an admission charge.

former National Chaplain.

Dr. Carpenter Made Minister Ecumenical

◆ Dr. Homer W. Carpenter, K (Transylvania), "stepped out" rather than "down" after his sermon at the First Christian Church, Louisville, Ky., February 28. He changed his title from minister to "minister ecumenical." After serving in the pulpit for forty-eight years, he expects to continue his travel around the country delivering sermons and addresses. He is also at work on a new book. Autographed copies of his other two works are in the Memorial Foundation Library.

Brother Carpenter was a student leader at Transylvania College in Lexington, Ky. where he was an outstanding member of Pi Kappa Alpha. He has been an outstanding minister since 1906 when he was ordained by the Disciples of Christ. He has served the last quarter century in Louisville.

He was a delegate to the World Council of Churches in Amsterdam, Holland in 1948, president of the Association for the Promotion of Christian Unity from 1944 to 1946, was thrice chaplain of the week at Chautauqua, N. Y., and served a term as president of the International Convention of the Disciples of Christ. Service outside his church has included membership on boards of the Red Cross, Salvation Army, Louisville Area Council of Churches, and the Rotary Service Club.

Brother Carpenter has had a marvelous influence on youth throughout his ministerial career. He served as National Chaplain of Pi Kappa Alpha from 1911 to 1913 and his fraternity is still dear to his heart.

Julius Fink Earns Shrine Office

◆ Julius J. Fink, FN (Iowa), National Secretary 1949-50 and National Treasurer 1950-51, has been named Captain of the Guard of Al Bahr Shrine Temple, San Diego, Calif., by Howard Carroll, illustrious potentate of the organization. In addition, hard-working Julie has been appointed general chairman of the Shrine Temple's annual Circus, an event which last year was attended by over 50,000 San Diegans.

A Mason since 1942, Julie advanced through the Scottish Rite bodies and joined Al Bahr Shrine Temple in 1945. Since that time he has been active in committee work and, in 1952, following an eight year stint in the Shrine Greeters, was elected president of that organization.

Currently a member of the Shield and Diamond Fund Trustees, he remains active in Pi Kappa Alpha work. Last year he neatly combined Shrine and fraternity work when he escorted some 20 men from Gamma-Eta (University of Southern California) through the Shrine-sponsored crippled children's hospital in Los Angeles, where a group of the SC men, togged out as clowns, presented a special show for the youngsters. In the party to entertain the crippled children were screen star Monica Lewis and famed comic Max "Alibi" Terhune.

A graduate of the University of Iowa (Class of '32), Julie had an impressive record of achievements in Gamma-Nu Chapter.

Brown Moore New Orleans Councilman

◆ A. Brown Moore, H (Tulane), has been in the fight for good government in New Orleans and Louisiana since 1932. A councilman and utilities commissioner for the past four years, he recently announced for re-election.

In an unusually strong two-column editorial, the New Orleans Item, a leading newspaper, urged the citizens to support him "both to give their district outstanding representation, and because the city as a whole needs men of his caliber on the Council."

The editorial concludes, "the re-election of Brown Moore as councilman from District A would do much we believe to assure this city progressive, efficient and honest government under the new charter."

A. Brown Moore was a Pi Kappa Alpha leader while on campus at Tulane University. Since his graduation, he has continued to be active in fraternity affairs among New Orleans alumni. For several years, he served capably as District President.

District Convention And Founders' Day Held In Austin

By Edgar Watkins, BM

◆ Austin, Texas was the "capital" of Southwest Pi Kappa Alpha March 5 and 6 when Beta-Mu Chapter was host to the Oklahoma-Texas district convention, the Beta-Mu House Corporation annual meeting, and the Austin Founders' Day celebration.

Delegates were dinner guests of Beta-Mu Chapter Friday evening at the new chapter house. Immediately after dinner, they converged eighty strong on the Austin airport to give Executive Secretary Lynn a rousing welcome.

Beta-Mu SMC Leroy Taylor presided over a question and answer period Friday evening at which time Brother Lynn and Field Secretary John Hein discussed local and national problems and procedures. The discussions elicited several constructive suggestions for the national office.

Saturday morning's business session was keynoted by the Fraternity Affairs Director at the University of Texas. Panels, reports and discussions led to a beneficial exchange of ideas and techniques. Subjects covered included: "Alumni Relations," "Relations Between the Chapter and the University," "Relations Between the Chapter and Other Campus Organizations," and "Fraternity Expansion."

Three major convention decisions were: (a) A recommendation that each alumnus counselor be especially invited to every district convention and to the National Leadership School; (b) the appointment of a district rush captain to coordinate rush activities between chapters; and (c) the establishment of a District Efficiency Trophy which will be presented annually to the chapter which maintains the best record of reporting

Convention delegates were present from every student chapter in the district which includes Tulsa, Oklahoma A. & M., and the University of Oklahoma in Oklahoma, and S.M.U., Texas Tech, Southwestern, and the University of Texas in Texas. Dr. George Hoffman, alumnus counselor for Beta-Mu, served as acting district president by request of District President Sanderson who was detained by business commitments.

HOUSE CORPORATION MEETS

The annual meeting of Beta-Mu House Corporation was held with prominent alumni present from several distant parts of the state. Arch Adams who has rendered outstanding service as treasurer for many years and had an important part in the erection of the new house, was permitted with great reluctance by the members to retire as an officer. Officers and directors for the coming year are: Stanley Hornsby, Austin; Bill Ferrick, Austin; Rev. John Barclay, Austin; Wm. P. Glass, San Antonio; Rick Robbins, Houston; Robert C. Duke, Austin; and J. M. Umstatt, Austin. SMC Taylor, IMC Glazbrook and Housemanager Adkins represent the student chapter on the board.

FOUNDERS' DAY BANQUET

The informal half of the week end began with the chapter's Founders' Day Banquet Saturday, March 6, held in Austin's new ultra-modern Commodore Perry Hotel Ballroom.

Brother Bob Hankal, BM, acted as master of ceremonies for the evening. He introduced Dr. George Hoffman, University of Texas geography professor and faculty advisor; Brother Bob Duke, newly elected chairman of the Beta-Mu Building Corporation Board of Directors; Mrs. Pearl B. Walker, Beta-Mu housemother; and the 25 year alums of Beta-Mu, including Dr. Frank Huston Lancaster, one of the men who founded Beta-Mu in 1920 at the University of Texas.

Following these introductions, Brother John Hein, Field Secretary, and Brother Lynn spoke to the group of 200 at the banquet.

Following the dinner, there was group singing under the direction of Beta-Mu Song Leader Ray Rabke. A dance was held in the ballroom of the hotel after the banquet.

Sunday morning, a formal breakfast was served at the fraternity house after which the group en masse attended the Central Christian Church services to hear Rev. John Barclay, K (Transylvania), minister and outstanding youth leader in Texas.

Washington State Honors Founders

By Presley Wayne Cheshire

◆ On March 7, 1954, the annual Founders' Day for Gamma-Xi Chapter at Washington State College was held in the chapter house. Invitations were sent to all alumni in the area with known addresses. Among those present were Gordon Duncan of Seattle, Wash.; Ed Wolf and John Lilienthal of Spokane, Wash.; George Wagner of Albion, Wash.; Marvin Siverson of Otis Orchards, Wash.; Jack Folsom of Sprague, Wash.; and Oron Turner, Earl Nelson, Guy Brislawn and Servet Duran of Pullman, Wash.

Entertainment during dinner included selections by the Pi Kap Trio and Bob Burns, pianist. SMC Brian O'Leary introduced the new members who were initiated on February 21. Awards were given to the two new members with the highest scholastic average—Joe Daus received $50 and Chuck Wilkinson, $25. John Lilienthal gave a short speech, and introduced the five original founders and told of the offices they held when Gamma-Xi was first begun.

One Thousandth Member Initiated at Auburn

◆ A notable day in Upsilon's history was celebrated on February 21, when the chapter's one thousandth member was initiated. The occasion was one which had been looked forward to and eagerly planned. For some months, chapter members and pledges had awaited the great day and wondered which of the pledges would have the unique privilege of being Upsilon's number one thousand.

When the day arrived, many alumni were present along with representatives from Delta (Birmingham-Southern), Alpha-Pi (Howard), Gamma-Alpha (Alabama), Gamma-Theta (Mississippi State), and Beta-Kappa (Emory).

Brother David Goodlett of Sheffield, Ala., received the highly coveted honor of being No. 1000 on Upsilon's roll. He was also chosen the outstanding pledge of fall quarter. Goodlett is a sophomore who entered Auburn last fall after two years in the Navy.

After the initiation ceremonies, a banquet was held at Opelika's Hotel Clement in honor of the new initiates. One hundred twenty alumni and actives enjoyed a delicious dinner of turkey with all the trimmings. Each person's place was marked with a IKA place card.

At the speakers' table were Housemother Mrs. L. C. Steed (Mama Lou), Brother and Mrs. Fletcher Harvey, SMC Mark Shipman, National Vice President Inslee Johnson, Housemanager Jack Pope, and Brother William Hardie (initiated 1903).

Brother Goodlett was presented a jeweled pin by Brother Fletcher Harvey of Memphis, a charter member who was initiated in 1895. The main address was given by National Vice President Johnson of Atlanta.

On Sunday, February 28, a tea was held in honor of the national president, housemother, and 1000th member. Floral arrangements added to the gaiety of the occasion and lovely Southern Belles were charming assistants to Mama Lou. Over four hundred alumni and guests attended the tea. It was a time for re-

Oklahoma A. & M. Has Campus Leaders

By Tom Campbell

◆ As far as leaders are concerned, Gamma-Chi Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha can easily match its men with any fraternity on the Oklahoma A. & M. College campus. Pikes have assumed top positions in virtually every phase of college life.

Ken Dunn, past president of the chapter, is currently president of the Schem Club, petitioning group to Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership fraternity. Dunn is also on the engineering student council representing Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity. He is treasurer of the American Institute of Industrial Engineers.

Dunn's past experience as all-college debate champion is coming in handy this semester, for he is representing IKA, Beta Theta Pi, Farm House and Phi Delta Theta fraternities in a case before the A. & M. supreme court. The case concerns the protest of a fine levied by the Interfraternity Council against these four groups because they ran candidates in last spring's election without representative party backing. Dunn is arguing that the fine is unconstitutional, and he is expected to win the case.

Incidentally, the only nonparty-backed candidate to win in last spring's election was Reid June, IKA. Last semester's Gamma-Chi prexy, June snared the engineering senator's post in a close race. Since taking over his senate duties this fall, June has gained recognition as one of the leaders of that group.

In addition to his political job, June is a member of the honorary engineering society, Sigma Tau, and the equally exclusive Phi Tau Sigma, mechanical engineering honor group. He is representative to the engineering student council and a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, of which he is past president.

Another well-known Pi-Kap is Tom Campbell, second semester editor of the Daily O'Collegian, the A. & M. college newspaper. Last semester's sports editor, Campbell was chosen editor of the 8,500 circulation daily in January. He has also served as vice president of Sigma Delta Chi, journalistic fraternity, and is a new member of the Sachem Club.

Jim Barnett and Roger Williams are also in Sigma Tau. Barnett is a member of Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity. He earned the distinction of being in both the engineering and agriculture honor groups by merit of fine scholastic work in his major of agricultural engineering.

New Hampshire Leads In Pledging

◆ One of the most successful pledging and rushing seasons in the history of the chapter marked this year's fraternity activities. Gamma-Mu far out-reached every other fraternity on campus in its percentage of success.

Rushing is determined by a set of rules set up by the Interfraternity Council. Under these rules each house is given a quota establishing the number of men they may pledge. Another rule states that married men do not count on the pledge quota. It was through the combination of these two rules that Gamma-Mu was able to make an all-time pledging record of 108 per cent of quota.

This gives a pledge class of fourteen which includes several athletes, many men with high scholastic averages, and participants in many campus organizations.

At the first meeting of the pledge class Frank Pozzi of Lynn, Mass., a pre-med student, was elected pledge president and Bob Paul of Hanover, Mass. and a music major, was elected secretary-treasurer. This class of pledges has shown fine spirit thus far this semester and great things are expected of them.

Socially, Gamma-Mu has also been quite active. Exchange suppers have been held with every sorority on campus. The exchange supper with Kappa Delta was especially notable. The services of Brother Zimmerman and his Oyster River Five Dixieland band was the highlight of the event.

Another outstanding social event was the pledge dance and the selection of a pledge sweetheart. Miss Jane Holloway of Alpha Xi Delta was extended the honor.

Gamma-Mu is at present engaged in intensive rehearsals for Song Fest and Interhouse Plays.

In intramural basketball Gamma-Mu piled up an unimpressive and deceiving two and three record. However, despite the record the season was successful in that no game was lost by more than ten points and the eventual champions were only able to gain a five point victory.

The most outstanding event of the coming spring social season was the District 1 convention held here on April 23, 24 and 25.

La. Tech First In Scholarship

◆ For the third consecutive semester Gamma-Psi Chapter has won the scholarship plaque at Louisiana Tech. In order to set an example for the pledges the actives staged a scholarship contest among themselves. This was done by dividing the active chapter into two teams, the Garnets and the Golds. The Golds, headed by Brother Bubba Wyly, emerged victorious, and the Garnets, as a result of their defeat, treated the whole chapter to a party. Pledges who set a fine example for both actives and pledges alike were Marvin Green and Charles Connoughton who both finished their first semester in college with impressive straight A averages.

The active chapter at Gamma-Psi now lists fifty-four members on its roster and the pledges number forty-three. Of the seven boys rushed this semester, all seven pledged.

Under the leadership of Richard Kavanaugh, the work on the new house is progressing steadily forward. Two lots directly across from the present house on 202 S. Homer Street are in the final stages of being purchased from the Illinois Central Railroad and the drive is on to sell shares of House Corporation stock. The total sold and pledged to date is approximately $4,300. Every member of the chapter has already bought at least one share of stock.

Gamma-Psi Chapter placed second out of twelve entries in the annual stunt night program presented on the campus. The stunt was a comedy based on the movie "High Noon," retitled "Hah Noon."

On the sports scene Gamma-Psi has a good chance to retain the intramural trophy which it has won for the past two semesters. If we win the trophy this semester, it will have a permanent position in our case. Ten Pikes entered the intramural boxing events this year. Out of the ten, six men won miniature gloves for having won either first or second place. As to softball, it looks as if Gamma-Psi will come up with a championship team for the third straight year.

Philadelphia Founders' Day Honors Horn

By Bill Smith

◆ Over one hundred brothers—Philadelphia alumni and undergraduates representing Pennsylvania, Lehigh and Delaware chapters—attended the annual Founders' Day Banquet held by the Philadelphia Alumni Chapter at the Barclay Hotel, March 5. The Reverend Edward T. Horn, BΘ (Cornell), and National President John F. E. Hippel, BII (Penn), were speakers at the affair which marked the 86th birthday of Pi Kappa Alpha.

In addition to being guest speaker, Reverend Horn was presented with the annual Philadelphia alumni award as the "most outstanding IKA alumnus of the year." Dr. Merle Odgers, BII (Penn), President of Girard College and first recipient of the award, made the presentation in conjunction with Al Zilligan, BA (Penn State), who was honored last year.

Bob Dietrich, BII (Penn), was toastmaster for the occasion and in introducing Brother Horn, praised the honored guest as a distinguished cleric, educator, economist, and athlete.

The Rev. Edward T. Horn III is pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church of Germantown, the largest Lutheran congregation in Philadelphia. He received his A.B. from Cornell in 1931 and is a graduate of the Mt. Airy Theological Seminary. He served as student pastor for Lutheran students at Cornell from 1934 to 1943 when he returned to Seminary as Professor of Theology. Brother Horn is extremely active in church and civic affairs. He is a member of the Lutheran National Church Music Committee for revision of the Lutheran Hymnal and Service Books.

This year the Philadelphia Alumni Founders' Day Banquet was doubly honored by having a second distinguished guest in John Hippel, active member of the local alumni, who was this year elected to the National Presidency of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Johnny was visibly touched by Bob Dietrich's introduction, and prior to making a short report on the National Office, waxed sentimental over his undergraduate days at Pennsylvania, and reminisced over his term as National Counsel.

He praised the undergraduate chapter and its many hundreds of alumni throughout the country and urged those alumni present to increase their support and assistance to Beta-Pi in view of alarming decrease in enrollment at Pennsylvania.

With Barry Johnson reporting for Beta-Pi, Carl Gabler for Gamma-Lambda and Bob Fisher for Delta-Eta, brief reports on undergraduate activities at Pennsylvania, Lehigh and Delaware were presented. High Dalziel, President of District No. 2, spoke briefly on the district news.

The "outstanding senior award" for service, scholarship, and leadership to both fraternity and college was presented to John R. "Jack" Leu. Jack is a former SMC of Beta-Pi Chapter and has been active in many phases of campus and fraternity life for the past four years. His home is in White Plains, N. Y.

Success of this year's Founders' Day Banquet must be credited to Banquet Chairman W. Craig Armington and his entire committee. Officers of the Philadelphia Alumni Chapter are Henry G. Schaefer, Jr., President; Harold W. Kalb, Vice President; W. Craig Armington, Secretary; and Jack M. Linton, Treasurer.

Arizona State Has First Greek Week

By Donald Loscar

◆ This past semester at Delta-Tau (Arizona State) has been quite busy. Four men were initiated into the chapter—Thomas Kiser, Donald Loscar, Robert McRae and Kent Pomeroy.

The pledges have been carrying on many of our activities for us. This last month they participated in the Phoenix Jaycees annual World's Championship Rodeo parade. At the Greek Week picnic that was held Saturday, March 27, our pledges entered all events and came in second in all except the canoe race. The events were a canoe race, a greased pig race, a clothes scramble, a three-legged race and pie eating contest.

This was our first Greek Week at Arizona State College. It was opened Monday, March 22 by an all-Greek Assembly with Governor Howard Pyle as the main speaker. At the assembly our service project was outlined to us—to raise money for the Shrine of The Ages to be erected on the rim of the Grand Canyon. It was decided to bring the "Queen for a Day" show to the campus to raise funds. Jerry Whipperfurth was head of the seating committee for the assembly.

Other activities during the week were the picnic and an all-Greek Formal Dance held Saturday, March 27.

Bobbie Morton, sophomore from Recor, Arkansas, was crowned Delta-Theta's

Binns at a regimental parade were Ennis Toone, Gene Foreman and Paden Neeley.

Delta-Theta continued to win campus honors at Arkansas State, taking first place in the annual Greek Song Fest sponsored by Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority. The Pikes sang three songs: "Down in Old Virginny," "Adoramus Te," and "There's Nothin' Like a Dame." John McMullan of Cotton Plant was director.

new Dream Girl at the annual Dream Girl formal that evening. A member of Phi Mu Sorority, she is one of four beauties selected for the college annual. Other candidates for the honor were Ina Lee Wiles of Jonesboro, Ark.; Joann Rains of Otwell, Ark.; and Jeanette Eason of Lepanto, Ark. Theme for the dance was "Down in Old Virginny," commemorating the founding of Pi Kappa Alpha, and decorations featured a large Southern mansion complete with four columns.

Gene W. Howard of Memphis is cadet colonel and commanding officer of the Arkansas State College ROTC this semester. Howard and three other Pikes received academic achievement wreaths for ranking in the upper 10 per cent of military science classes recently. Presented the awards by Brig. Gen. John J.

It was the second time in five years Delta-Theta had won the trophy. PiKA finished second among the six fraternities and sororities last year.

Miss. State Chapter Staffs Student Paper

◆ National President John F. E. Hippel stopped for a luncheon with Gamma-Theta at Mississippi State College on February 27. President Hippel was on his way to the Birmingham Alumni Association Founders' Day Banquet that night.

On Founders' Day, Pikes at State wore the colors and had a mid-day luncheon and program to commemorate the occasion.

Gamma-Theta officers for the spring semester are SMC Bob Parker, IMC John D. McKinney, SC Jim Crowder, Th.C Sam Dantzer, Pledgemaster John Garst, and Housemanager John E. Bobbitt. Dantzer is secretary of the Society for the Advancement of Management here. Garst, who is a straight A student, recently accepted a $1,400 fellowship awarded by the National Science Foundation. Last year he received the $500 William Flowers Hand Scholarship. He is president of the college band, a member of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, president of the local chapter of Kappa Mu Epsilon (honorary math fraternity), and a member of Blue Key (national honorary service organization).

The Reflector, student newspaper, has five Pikes on the staff. Robert Ferguson is news editor, Al Mosley is assistant news editor, Harvey "Bunky" Ray is society editor, Jerry Bristow is cartoonist, and Pledge David Langford is a news reporter.

Several parties have been on the calendar recently. Among the most outstanding were the Dream Girl Ball in December, at which time Miss Rebecca Allison was presented as the 1954 Dream Girl.

Other social functions were a party on Valentine's Eve, with Valentine decorations, and a Western motif party.

At the Phi Eta Sigma national honorary scholastic fraternity election here recently, Richard Stockett was elected president, Robert Weir was elected vice president, Edwin Upton was elected secretary, and Joe McCullen was initiated. Brother Weir also received a $250 engineering scholarship in March.

Fourteen members of the chapter and two pledges were on the President's Scholar List for the fall semester.

Individuals have helped to make Gamma-Theta one of the leading fraternities on the State College campus. In addition, other functions give the fraternity recognition—having the campus sororities to dinner, participation in IFC sports, and donations to benevolent organizations and drives.

The chapter is currently engaged in raising a fund to honor the late President Harvey Newell and a late alumnus of Gamma-Theta, Frank King. Portraits of these two men will be placed in the chapter house.

McHaney Speaks In Memphis

By Charles Mueller

◆ Awaiting the not-too-distant national convention in Memphis, Delta-Zeta Chapter at Memphis State College is rounding out another banner year in the Bluff City.

On March 13, members of both Delta-Zeta and Theta (Southwestern at Memphis) chapters and city alumni commemorated the 86th anniversary of the founding of Pi Kappa Alpha at a banquet at the Hotel Peabody.

Guest speaker for the affair, Powell B. McHaney, President of the Fraternity's Memorial Foundation, elaborated on the background history and present progress of the new ΠΚΑ Memorial Building, now nearing completion in Memphis.

Golden certificates, denoting fifty or more years membership in ΠΚΑ, were presented to three city alumni members—Claude M. McCord, R. H. Allen, Dudley D. Dumas, Jr., and Dr. R. B. Flaniken (in absentia).

Entertainment at the banquet was capably provided by Miss Webber and Jack Loveless, who sang several songs of ΠΚΑ—and David Dunbar (erstwhile performer with Ted Mack's Amateur Hour troupe), who gave another of his spectacular Swiss bell-ringing demonstrations.

A month prior, David had captured first place among individual entrants—with a similar, dazzling act—in the MSC Follies (under the auspices of Delta Zeta Sorority). Pi Kappa Alpha, meanwhile, placed second among participating groups in the program with its colorful presentation of the Indian Sabre Dance.

Highlight of the ΠΚΑ social calendar for the season was the annual Dream Girl Ball, held February 26 at the King Cotton Hotel. Miss Louise "Ruchie" Webber, 19-year-old sophomore beauty, was chosen 1954 Dream Girl of Delta-Zeta Chapter. A member of Delta Zeta Sorority, she is president of the Modern Dance Club, secretary of Lambda Delta, women's freshmen honor society, and was a member of the Homecoming Queen's court last fall.

Memphis ΠΚΑ Alumni President Ralph McCool presented "Ruchie" the traditional sweetheart trophy and pin. Miss Barbara Jean Burnette, AΣΔ, retiring favorite of ΠΚΑ at MSC, gave her successor a bouquet of red and yellow roses.

Kent Crea, cadet major in State's Air Force ROTC unit, was elected to represent the college at the National Arnold Air Society Convention at Omaha, Neb., on April 16 and 17.

The outstanding inductee of the past season, David Meadows, was recipient of the chapter's "Best Pledge" award for 1953-54.

New York Alumni Hold Outstanding Founders' Day

◆ Highlighted with an inspiring talk by National President John Hippel, the newly organized New York Alumnus Chapter celebrated Founders' Day with a dinner at the Williams Club on February 19. Introduced by Chapter Vice President Dave Powers, Brother Hippel gave us an outline of past events, a discussion of current problems, and an encouraging message for the future. At the conclusion of his remarks, Brother Hippel presented President Chuck Skade with the chapter's new charter.

The dinner was arranged by a committee under the chairmanship of Red Weiss and was attended by over forty alumni. As each person gave his name and college, it soon became apparent that chapters from every section of the United States were represented. Songs of ΠΚΑ, interspersed through the evening, brought on a warm and reminiscent glow—particularly to some of those alumni who had had no opportunity to enjoy such an occasion for many years.

Bob Means, chairman of the Contact Committee, represented the New York Alumni at Gamma-Tau's Founders' Day Week End, March 6 & 7, at Rensselaer, and brought back a very splendid report. Paul Williams journeyed to his own chapter at University of Pennsylvania to enjoy its Founders' Day activities. New York was represented at the very successful first Founders' Day Banquet and Dream Girl Dance, February 20, of Epsilon-Alpha Chapter, Trinity College, by District President and Mrs. Jess Van Law. Bill Baxter also dropped in for a part of the festivities.

The New York Chapter is enthusiastically interested in any activity which will promote the welfare of the fraternity. As particular projects, it hopes to recommend likely candidates for membership to active chapters and to assist brothers returning from the armed services in obtaining suitable employment. Committees also have been organized to handle contacts with active chapters, membership, finance, dinners, special events, etc.

Every effort is being made to build up an accurate mailing list to reach all of the several hundred alumni in the New York Metropolitan area.

The current roster of officers includes: President, Chuck Skade; Vice President, Dave Powers; Treasurer, Paul Williams; Corresponding Secretary, Rex Coston; Recording Secretary, Bob Burney; Chairman Membership, Red Weiss.

High Point Chapter Has First Birthday

◆ Delta-Omega Chapter at High Point College celebrated its first birthday and Founders' Day on Tuesday night, March 2 at the High Point YMCA ballroom. After the meeting was called to order by SMC Howard Coleman, Brother John Peacock (AA, 1911) pronounced the invocation and Dean J. H. Allred of H. P. C. made a few remarks as to the progress made by Delta-Omega in its first year on the campus. Then the brothers of Delta-Omega plus representatives from Beta Chapter of Davidson College, Tau Chapter of the University of North Carolina, Alpha-Apna of Duke, Alpha-Epsilon of N. C. State, and Gamma-Phi of Wake Forest settled down to a superb dinner of T-bone steak with all the trimmings. In addition to the brothers from the other chapters, the three faculty advisors for Delta-Omega, Dr. Kenneth Perkins, C. E. Branscome, and Arthur Paschal were present as were the newly initiated pledges of the chapter. After the steaks were well taken care of, a splendid Founders' Day address was delivered by Howard Arbuckle of Charlotte, N. C., who is a son of one of the junior founders of Pi Kappa Alpha and an alumnus of Beta Chapter of Davidson College.

Delta-Omega completed an excellent pledge period when, early in February, nineteen men were initiated as brothers. The chapter has also taken in three men as alumni since the opening of this school term—Darrell Hayden, now serving in the U. S. Coast Guard; Don Kearns, who is in the Army; and Chad Rogers, who is in the Navy. Two of our three faculty advisors have also been initiated during this period—Dr. Kenneth Perkins and C. E. Branscome. A very successful second semester rush period was culminated early in March when ten men were pledged.

The social life of the year was climaxed on Saturday night, April 10, when the chapter held its Dream Girl Ball on the Roof Garden of the Robert E. Lee Hotel in Winston-Salem, N. C.

Los Angeles Welcomes Grant Macfarlane

By Thomas A. Cocherell

◆ Gamma-Eta Chapter, University of Southern California, held its third annual Founders' Day Dinner-Dance at the Hollywood-Roosevelt Hotel on March 6. It was truly a festive occasion. The large crowd of over 225 which turned out for it generally agreed that it was the 'best of all Founders' Day celebrations—an event which has been Alumni-sponsored since 1952.

Grant Macfarlane, National Counsel for Pi Kappa Alpha, was the featured speaker, and John Baird, well known public relations man, was the toastmaster. Brother Macfarlane is one of the better known political figures in the country, and is rated as one of Utah's favorite sons. He gave a very inspiring speech on the founding of the Fraternity eighty-six years ago.

Prior to the speech, several awards were made, chief among which was one given to Bud Donaghy, Penn State, chosen by the active chapter as the outstanding alumnus in the Los Angeles area. The alumni, in turn, presented a beautiful pair of cuff links to George Burns, as the active "doing the most to promote good relations between the active and alumnus chapters.

Much anxiety reigned around the Gamma-Eta house at USC the other day when one of their most coveted trophies disappeared. However, some clever detective work along the "row" caused it to be returned unharmed.

Two large trophies were won by Gamma-Eta last fall. One was awarded for the best entry in the annual Flapper Day parade. Bathtub gin, the Charleston, and gang warfare turned SC's calendar back to the Roaring Twenties.

The other trophy, which disappeared for several days, was the Grand Sweepstakes winner in the annual Homecoming, hour-long parade which passed down Wilshire Boulevard, the evening before the Stanford-USC game. The scholarly Pi Kappa Alpha float depicted a large graduation cap over books and a scroll.

Univ. of Florida Chapter Celebrates 50th Anniversary

By John L. Layton

◆ Alpha-Eta celebrated its 50th anniversary on the University of Florida campus on Saturday, March 27 with a banquet in the new Student Service Center on campus. Back in 1904, eleven young men founded Alpha-Eta Chapter. At the installation the first pledge was initiated.

Little then did the men realize that their modest and quiet start would initiate a group action that would continue over the next 50 years and initiate nearly 1,000 members, spreading and inspiring a brotherhood prompted by Alpha-Eta's close college fraternal friendship.

Since its installation and subsequent move to Gainesville in 1905 along with the university, Alpha-Eta has continued as an integral part of the campus, becoming a leader among leaders, a catalyst with the university's progress, and a forceful, dynamic purpose and part of the campus, both in social and other fields of endeavor.

The chapter was very fortunate this year to have National President John F. E. Hippel of Philadelphia as principal speaker for the banquet. The chapter also welcomed Brother and Mrs. Larry Hirsig of Jacksonville, personal friends of Brother Hippel.

The four living founders and first pledge of Alpha-Eta were honored—Dr. William Rowlette, Samuel W. Teague, Arthur M. Henry, Walter M. Hackney, and Thomas J. Townsend. Fifty-year membership certificates were presented to them by Brother Hippel.

Alpha-Eta's sextet composed of Brothers Gaines, Hobbs, Layton, Langley, Robinson, and Zodik rendered the chapter song "Hail to Thee, Ole Alpha-Eta" and "It Was Down in Ole Virginny." Following the banquet a reception was held at the chapter house for the alumni and their wives and guests.

Dream Girl Week End was held March 5 and 6. The highlight of the formal dance was the crowning of the 1954 Dream Girl, Miss Johness Watts, a freshman and member of Chi Omega Sorority. Johness was escorted by Brother Ned Spake of Clearwater, Fla. Chaperones for the evening included Brother and Mrs. Sidney Robertson, Brother and Mrs. Edgar Johnson, and Mrs. H. H. Johnson, housemother.

Miss Nancy Dennis, KΔ, represented the chapter at Military Ball Dance and was crowned Military Ball Queen.

In spring elections on campus the Pikes led all the other fraternities in number of men elected to office. Don Moore is president of the Lyceum Council; Charlie Gray, member of the Lyceum Council; Bob McCormick, business manager of the Seminole, university yearbook; Bob Hall, honor court representative of College of Architecture; Gene Leggett, member of the Board of Student Publications; Bob Wells, member of the Executive Council; and Ed Galloway, Executive Council.

National Chaplain Speaks At Orlando

By George Wenzell

◆ Delta-Upsilon at Stetson started off the spring semester with a pledge-active basketball game in which the pledges lost to the actives. The losers treated the winners and their dates to a hamburger fry on the back patio.

Founders' Day was held Friday night, March 19, in the Seminole Room of the Angebilt Hotel in Orlando, Fla. We all ate heartily of the wonderful broiled chicken dinner, and afterwards enjoyed an inspiring talk by Dr. U. S. "Preacher" Gordon, National Chaplain. He spoke on the past history of IKA and what fraternal life means today.

Delta-Upsilon has been making plans to start serving meals in the house next year. We intend to have this serving supervised by a housemother, which will also be an innovation on the campus.

Jim Yonge, who graduated from the Business School, will be sorely missed by the Chapter. A list of a few of his honors includes: Outstanding Senior, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, President of the "S" Club, President of Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary men's leadership fraternity; President of IKA; and All-State in basketball. Brother Yonge has also maintained a consistent "B" average in his studies.

Maryland Chapter Moves To New Home

By Buzz Braun

◆ A mythical dream came true in the month of March for Delta-Psi Chapter at the University of Maryland. When negotiations for our new house were completed, we were able to move in and plan for the future.

Alumnus Counselor J. Allison Ballenger, the leading figure in alumni circles, assisted the chapter in obtaining the new house. Without Brother Ballenger's sincere efforts for helping our chapter, the realization of this dream would have been practically impossible.

Ever since June 8, 1952, the date of our installation into Pi Kappa Alpha, we had hopes of a suitable house we could call our own. Since then many plans have been brought forth to obtain this goal. Until now this has been impossible because of a small membership and our financial status.

When the house was first built, it was considered the ideal home in College Park, Md. It is situated conveniently near the campus on Rhode Island Avenue. Before Delta-Psi's purchase of the house, it was owned by the Pi Beta Phi Sorority House Corporation. Even though the house is not new, it is in excellent condition.

The chapter members, Alumnus Counselor Ballenger, Faculty Adviser Bastek, and other leading alumni in the area express their sincere desire for all other alumni of Delta-Psi Chapter and area members to participate in any program that would be beneficial in advancing the chapter's welfare.

President Hippel Speaks At Ole Miss Founders' Day

◆ Gamma-Iota at the University of Mississippi celebrated Founders' Day on Friday, February 26, with a banquet and dance honoring Brother John F. E. Hippel, National President. The banquet was held in the University's new Alumni House and the dance afterward was held in the chapter house.

Brother Hippel spoke to forty actives, pledges, and their dates and approximately twenty alumni with their wives and dates. Among the prominent alumni present were James V. LeLaurin of Meridian, Miss.; Harold Trinner of Memphis; Earl Watkins and Robert D. Lynn from the national office; and Dr. C. M. Murry, alumnus counselor for Gamma-Iota.

Brothers Earl Watkins and Jason Niles presented the chapter an honor pledge plaque in memory of Harvey T. Newell, Jr. This year's honor pledge whose name will be the first inscribed upon the plaque is Charles Carruth.

The chapter showed its appreciation to Brother Hippel for his splendid address by presenting him with a scroll signifying an honorary position as a Colonel in the Confederate Air Force. By accepting this position Brother Hippel, a native of Pennsylvania, swore to always remember that damnyankee is one word.

Bradley Men Hold School Offices

By Henry Rieden

◆ Delta-Sigma is very prominent in campus affairs at Bradley University. It displays a variety of leaders unmatched by any other fraternity on campus.

Roger Ahlforth, past SMC of Delta-Sigma, is president of the senior class and a member of the executive council of this year's graduating class. Jack Crebs handles the financial affairs of the class of 1955 as treasurer of the junior class.

Jack also is secretary of the Interfraternity Council and was Bradley's delegate to the National Interfraternity Conference. Delta-Sigma boasts of two members on the Bradley Student Court, and has the junior class representative of the Student Council. A Pike was general chairman of this year's Campus Carnival. Henry Schroeder is president of the Young Republicans Club; Delta-Sigma will have three of its members as delegates at this year's National Young Republicans Convention. This year's SMC, Ray Walls, is a squadron commander in the AFROTC, and is also a member of the Interfraternity Council and Arnold Air Society. John Challinor, IMC, is affiliated with the Federation of Scholars. Delta-Sigma has members in SAE and the Society of Professional Engineers. The Pikes are also well represented on the Homecoming Committee and the Pan-Fra Sing Committee.

On the athletic side of the picture Pi Kaps are quite active. Donald Tomaso is a member of the varsity swimming team, and leads the tankmen in total points. John Hudziak is an end on the Bradley football squad. Delta-Sigma has three members on the starting nine of the baseball team.

Delta-Sigma has been a hard-fighting foe in Interfraternity sports, and is still in the running for the all-sports trophy. The Pikes were just nosed out of the interfraternity bowling title; they are currently leading in interfraternity volleyball.

Louisiana State Boxing Coach J. T. Owen, AT, (r.) receives the Tigers' third Sugar Bowl boxing trophy after his team defeated Idaho State for the title. Wilmer Simpson, chairman of the Sugar Bowl Boxing Committee makes the presentation as the announcer looks on.

J. T. Owen —

L. S. U. Boxing Coach Nationally Renowned

By Jim Corbett

♦ There may be more successful collegiate coaches in America, but Louisiana State University's boxing fans would be hard to convince that anyone could equal their own Jim Owen.

In fact, it has reached a point where the name of J. T. Owen in boxing circles carries the same significance as Sterling among silver buyers. It represents the tops in the field.

One would immediately assume that in order to gain this prominence, the LSU boxing coach would have to be a veteran with a repertoire of ring stories about the boxers of old. That assumption couldn't be more wrong.

The LSU boxing expert is a relatively young man with no training room stories to tell and who looks more like a successful businessman (which he is) than a boxing coach.

He is a living example of the American success story where determination and hard work overcome every obstacle. In eight years as the guiding light behind Louisiana State ring teams, his record shows 34 dual meet victories against only six defeats and two ties.

In addition, his teams have won three Sugar Bowl championships, four Southern titles and one National crown. He has produced four National champions and so many Southern titlists that even the most competent statistician would get lost in figures trying to total them.

His ability was nationally recognized when he was selected to serve as co-coach of the 1952 Olympic boxing team which won the world's championship for the first time in history.

It would seem that with all of the work of producing champions, Coach Owen wouldn't have any extra time, but the personable young coach has served as president of both the National and Southern Boxing Coaches Associations. He is currently a member of the NCAA Boxing Rules Committee and the Olympic Boxing Rules Committee.

And even with his duties as boxing coach and private business occupying his time, Owen displays a civic mindedness commendable even if he were not a busy man. He collaborated with Sheriff Bryan Clemmons in organizing the East Baton Rouge Parish Junior Deputies, one of the most notable efforts to curb juvenile delinquency yet devised.

His intense interest and enthusiasm in this project was one reason that the local group enrolled such a high membership.

As a citizen, this member of Pi Kappa Alpha rates as tops in the community. As a breeder of cattle, he has also shown a keen ability which has won top prizes in many livestock shows.

One of the top disciples of intercollegiate boxing, Owen has campaigned hard and long to retain it and to keep it alive in the South. His firm belief that intercollegiate boxing builds character and men has been vindicated at Louisiana State, one of the few major universities to retain it as a collegiate sport.

Owen's phenomenal success is even more phenomenal in light of the fact that eleven years ago he never dreamed of coaching boxing. Although he served with the LSU Athletic Department prior to World War II, he had no active part in the ring sport until he was given the task of organizing and coaching a boxing team as a lieutenant at Georgia Navy Pre-Flight.

He coached the Georgia sailors and others at St. Mary's of California and at the Naval Air Station at Norman, Okla. Even in combat, he found time to do some coaching aboard his ship, the USS Natoma Bay.

After returning to civilian life, the White Castle, La. native came back to LSU and was given the assignment of reviving the boxing program. It was a tough assignment as his first team, in 1946, didn't win a dual match. He was unable to field a team in 1947, but he kept the intramural boxing program going in full swing.

— 1948 paid off for Owen as his Tigers won six of seven matches and LSU was off to an era of success in the ring. Later while copping the National crown, his boxers won 12 dual meets in a row.

His four national champions, Doug Elwood, Wilbert "Pee Wee" Moss, Tad Thrash and Calvin Clary strongly attest to his coaching ability.

On the strength of this year's team showing and the number of graduating seniors, most qualified experts figure the Tigers to be a cinch for national honors next year.

Louisiana folks, especially those in Baton Rouge who know Owen personally, feel that as a citizen, man and coach, J. T. can't be beat. His family agrees that as a husband and father, J. T. is certainly the best in the land. If you doubt it, just ask his lovely wife, or sons Jimmy and Mickey or daughters Peggy and Susan.

J. T. has served as Alumnus Counselor for Alpha-Gamma Chapter at LSU for several years. The Alpha-Gam boys say they'll "match him pound for pound" against any AC in the U. S.

Earl E. James

Elks Name James Grand Exalted Ruler

By Roy P. Stewart

◆ Earl Eugene James, 80 (Oklahoma) 1921-23, can tell the next Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks lodge a few things about that job the man who gets it at the national conclave in Los Angeles in July may not have thought about.

It means travel—like the 75,000 miles in 44 states and Hawaii James has done in his first eight months in office—it means letters by the thousands and even signing all administrative checks in a $700,000 national budget. It seems the Elks expect their herd boss to have many hands instead of horns.

Genial lawyer James thinks it has been fun though. He has lost a lot of sleep and most of his laundry is still trailing him around but he thinks it has been a fine experience. The Elks clubs must think so too for during his leadership membership has shown a net gain of 44,000 and the fraternal order now has 1,141,000 members in 1,680 lodges.

There aren't quite the same officers though because James used his powers as Grand Exalted Ruler to toss out 45 individuals or sets of officers who were unwilling to accept the new plan for Elksdom of cleaning up the clubs.

"No commercial vice will be tolerated," James has said all over the nation. "There can be wholesome recreation without any gambling or without booze peddlers on the premises. We've put an end to such practices where they existed and membership has applauded such actions."

In his talks, whether to 200 people in Vermont, 12,000 in Long Beach or 1,200 in the Waldorf-Astoria at a $15 a plate dinner, James has insisted on a three-point program being pushed energetically in all lodges.

First is elimination of improper usage of club rooms; next is to have a definite, worthwhile community project, with accent on youth and rehabilitation work; the last is expanded help to all youth work, particularly in the field of medical research. Nationally, $7 millions was donated last year for such work by the Elks. They also have college scholarships working.

James also has received a liberal education himself in his wanderings. "I know a little bit about more things than I could have imagined," he said at Oklahoma City, in a 24-hour layover at his home, between flights from Casper, Wyo., to Atlanta. He has been in mines, steel mills, sugar mills, factories, aluminum plants, chemistry labs and about anything else you can name.

Fifteen governors have personally entertained James, and it's a very nice coincidence that lodges near pleasant events have a habit of booking him at specific times. Like Pasadena for the Rose Bowl, Kentucky for the Derby, Miami for fishing tournaments and clam bake sessions in Massachusetts. James has fished off the New England coast and at Acapulco, Mexico the past eight months.

High point of his travels was Hawaii, where on Oahu and Hawaii he spent eight days, based at Honolulu and Hilo. The treatment was regal if a mite hard on the constitution because the Hawaiian Elks detailed various members to conduct James around but he had to keep up with all of them—even peeked into the crater of Mauna Loa.

After continued tours with only a ten-day break before mid-June, when he must start planning the national convention at Los Angeles, James will visit Alaska in addition to many U. S. cities. After his successor is chosen and the convention is wrapped up—he will sleep about two weeks—he thinks.

Aside from the feeling of doing some good work for the Elks and getting one's travel expenses, there is no compensation to being Grand Exalted Ruler. Other things of course provide compensation because the place could not be bought and the office holder does not expect to make money out of it. Actually it is expensive to someone like a lawyer, which James is, because little work comes in while the boss is away.

Born in Illinois in 1901, James moved to Oklahoma with his parents in 1908, settling on a farm near Oklahoma City for a few years before they moved into the city. He was educated there and at the University of Oklahoma, where he was a member of Beta-Omicron Chapter from 1921 through 1923. He also is a member of Phi Delta Phi, honorary legal. He and Mrs. James have three children, Earl Jr., Mary (Mrs. Clifford Dobson) and Frank.

Rensselaer Owns House

◆ The Founders' Day celebration of Gamma-Tau Chapter, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, was a doubly happy occasion when the financial report showed the mortgage had been paid off and that the house, furniture and three acres of land are now completely owned by the house corporation. Additional funds are being accumulated for the erection of a new chapter house.

Pikes Reach Peak At Miami

By Joe Lorooco and Pete Sprinkle

◆ The Pikes' combination of hard work and cooperation, matched only by their spirit and determination has given the Gamma-Omega Chapter at the University of Miami a prominent position among fraternities. The big six events of the year have IKA in every report.

Emblematic of the interest that the University places upon its intramural program is the President's Cup, which is annually awarded to the fraternity tops in sports activities. We ended the year with a first place in football, with seconds in boxing and bowling, and another first place in track. We led the pack of 33 organizations for the coveted cup for the first five months.

At Homecoming Pi Kappa Alpha made history at Miami. We won first place cups in both house decorations and float parade.

The spirit trophy reflects participation and good sportsmanship in all activities such as giving blood, working at the children's hospital, and being in parades boosting school spirit. We hope to add points to our second place spot by donating blood in the blood drive starting next week.

If the sports minded boys win the M-Day prize again this year, it will be for the third straight year and retirement of the trophy.

We can also retire the pushmobile trophy with a win in that event during M-Day.

The last loving cup goes to the winners of song fest held during April.

The Dream Girl Dance was held April 16 at the Coral Gables Country Club. The five finalists in this year's contest were: Joan Stadler, ΔΔΔ; Joanne Jacques, ΔΔΠ; Barbara Altman, ΧΩ; Pat Beckman, ΧΩ; and Margret Jenard, ΔΓ. The dance was preceded by a cocktail party held at 6 p. m. and a dinner at the country club. Guest speaker was John Maloney, noted writer of the Saturday Evening Post and a Pi Kappa Alpha alumnus from Miami.

Lehigh Boasts Good Year

◆ Gamma-Lambda began the spring semester with one of the most successful rushing seasons in the history of the chapter. The chapter needed only five men for next fall, but succeeded in getting ten acceptances out of twelve bids. Another addition was made to the names on the roll of Gamma-Lambda. Our District President and Alumnus Counselor, Hugh M. Dalziel, who is an alumnus of Beta-Tau (Michigan), has been taken into Gamma-Lambda and the Gamma-Lambda Alumni Corporation as a voting member.

Pi Kappa Alpha has been successful at Lehigh in all phases of activity. Our athletic teams have taken their leagues by storm. The football team is still in the running for the all-university football championship, and the bowling team remains undefeated. The points toward the all-university sports trophy are piling up for Pi Kappa Alpha. Another area where we have high hopes is the Greek Song Fest held each spring. The Gamma-Lambda Songsters are in fine shape and plan to be in the finals.

During Greek Week End at Lehigh, Gamma-Lambda was the host for all of the rush chairmen of Lehigh's thirty fraternities.

Dream Girl Selection Climaxes Pi Week At Bowling Green

◆ Delta-Beta's entry in the District 5 Dream Girl contest held April 23-25 was Miss Marilyn Sawyer, an 18-year-old freshman from Cleveland, Ohio. Miss Sawyer was chosen this chapter's Dream Girl for 1954 at our annual Dream Girl dance on March 6.

Her selection climaxed Delta-Beta's 11th annual Pi Week. This event, instigated by our chapter, included such events as an all-campus serenade, a sorority presidents dinner, the final Dream Girl tea and a pie eating contest. This last event is a highly contested affair in which the sorority and fraternity that present their candidate in the most novel manner are awarded a trophy. Alpha Xi Delta sorority was awarded first place for the women and Theta Chi won the men's entry prize. Theta Chi also won the men's division of the pie eating contest while Chi Omega won in the sorority competition.

We were especially proud to have included in our awards this year both the Lynn Award and the Smythe Award from the National Office. This is the second time in five years that Delta-Beta has won the Smythe Award for chapter proficiency.

During the first semester our rushing program was climaxed by the pledging of 42 men. This is, by far, the largest pledge class Delta-Beta has ever accepted and one of the largest ever pledged on this campus.

Another honor was conferred on us at the end of the first regular semester when the active chapter of ΠΚΑ ranked first in scholarship on Bowling Green's campus. Pledges' grades were not included in this ranking. The study program at this chapter has long kept our men near the top of the scholastic rating among the 14 fraternities on campus.

we have also had a good year. Our handball team took second place in the league; both the football and basketball teams ranked third in their division; the swim relay team took first place and the bowling team is currently leading the league with a 53-10 record.

Washington State Earns Scholarship Trophy

By Presley Wayne Cheshire

◆ Because of the low grade point (1.9) achieved by Gamma-Xi of Pi Kappa Alpha last spring, due to reasons beyond our control such as our fire, it was decided some methods of encouraging studying should be established. One of the methods decided upon was to have a scholarship contest with the local chapter of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity. It was agreed that the winner would receive a scholarship cup and have the honor of putting on the presentation ceremony, while the losers would receive a "Dumbo Cup." The latter is a rusty old piece of iron roughly welded together to resemble a cup and is to be prominently displayed by the losers.

When the grades were out, the local Pi Kaps had a grade point average of 2.31 against the Phi Kappa Tau's 2.26. We picked March 18th at 12:45 p. m. as the time of presentation. At 12:30 on the designated day, a car equipped with loudspeakers and a local pep band led a procession around the campus, with students from all the houses joining in as we passed. We ended up in the street in front of the Phi Tau house, where the official presentation began before a large crowd. Bob Patrick of Gammi-Xi served as master of ceremonies and presented the awards. SMC Brian O'Leary accepted on behalf of the Pi Kaps and President Bob Sinclair represented the Phi Tau house. We hope to keep this as a traditional ceremony and keep the scholarship cup in our house.

Illinois Chapter Volleyball Champions

By Frank Gerace

◆ Things have been moving around Beta-Eta this semester and it looks as though they will continue to do so in the coming months.

In the line of intramural activities we were volleyball league champs for the third straight year. Presently our bowling team is undefeated and our softball team is shaping up quite well.

Our social life has been getting quite a bit of nourishment. We have had exchanges with Pi Beta Phi, Kappa Alpha Theta, Alpha Chi Omega, Kappa Delta (who is our partner for stunt show next fall), Delta Phi Epsilon and Gamma Phi Beta.

We took second place in the Stunt Show here. Our partner was Delta Phi Epsilon. The show was entitled "Athenian Dilemma" and was a satire on Nero and the burning of Rome.

Recently we had our annual Hobo Brawl Dance which was a huge success and plans are now being made for the Dream Girl Formal.

A few weeks ago Pi Kappa Alpha and Alpha Xi Delta held a party for a group of orphans. It consisted of a few skits and a showing of a good time to these kids. Refreshments were served and the party ended with dancing.

Pi Kappa Alpha has complete control of the Advertising Department of the Daily Illini, the University newspaper.

Many of our men are engaged in Student Union and various other activities.

Brothers Larry Chapman and Roger Carlson were recently admitted to Sachem, national activity fraternity.

Miss. Southern Wins IFC Basketball

By Mark Blankenstein

◆ The pinning of Miss Frances Banks, dark-haired Tri-Delta beauty from Newton, Miss., at the annual Dream Girl Ball on March 5, climaxed another successful quarter for Delta-Mu Chapter at Mississippi Southern College.

This year the dance had a Fantasy theme, carried out by the use of phosphorescent-painted figures, mobiles, and indirect lighting. The decorations were designed by Mark Blankenstein of Jackson, Miss. and Pledgebrother John Boward of Davenport, Iowa. Other highlights of the night were the presentation of the Honor Pledge Award, the Intermission Party at the chapter house, and the private "After-Glow" held at the Village Barn, a local dance spot.

Delta-Mu not only ended, but started, the winter quarter with a bang. We won first place in the annual Christmas Interfraternity Song Festival sponsored by Chi Omega Sorority. The song group was under the direction of Joe Price of Newton, Miss.

On Sunday, February 7, we initiated eleven more new men to cap a closed week end of parties and other social functions. Some of the functions were a party for the pledges and their dates at the chapter house on Friday night, a stag party on Saturday night, church on Sunday morning, dinner in the private dining room of the school cafeteria, and a supper in the chapter house after initiation Sunday night.

The intramural basketball team, under the direction of O. J. Pearce of Washington, D. C., also proved itself outstanding by winning the fraternity intramural trophy with a 9 win, 1 loss record.

In March Delta-Mu was honored to be asked to serve as initiating team for Alpha-Gamma Chapter at Louisiana State University.

The All-Fraternity average at the University of Iowa has again exceeded the All-Men's average. The fraternities and their leaders on this campus deserve recognition for their excellent work in scholarship and their over-all fraternity program of activities.

John Hippel Attends Delaware Founders' Day

By Biff Eason

◆ National President John Hippel and District President Hugh Dalziel came to the University of Delaware for our Annual Founders' Day Banquet on March 20. Newly elected Delta-Eta SMC Bob Cornwell was master of ceremonies. John Hippel gave an interesting talk about what I I K A means to us and how much we will enjoy looking back on our fraternity years. After the banquet everyone ascended up to Pike's Peak where Brother Hippel entertained us with some of his amusing experiences.

On March 13, Delta-Eta set a new tradition by having the first Splash Party at the U. of D. Miss Phyllis Harvey, a freshman at Delaware, was judged Delta-Eta Splash Queen. Movies were taken both at the pool and at the house later on. Some very interesting versions of the Hula Hula were done by brothers, pledges, and their dates.

Delta-Eta Chapter has been well represented in sports at Delaware this year. Brother Frank Serpico, IFC President, was chosen to be on the All-I I K A Football team after he scored thirteen points in ten seconds playing time against Connecticut this fall. Brothers Vince Landi, Frank Serpico, Steve Butcher, Tom Redfield, Harold Henderson, Bob Cornwell, Butch Thompson, Tony Donofrio and Windy Graham brought back the Interfraternity Basketball Championship Plaque. Steve Butcher has already broken several shotput records this season. The brothers hope to have a championship softball team this year. We have many holdovers from last year plus a number of promising pledges.

Since January, Delta-Eta has pledged twelve men with a lot more hopeful prospects. The pledges have already started to repair our driveway. They also intend to sand and shellac some of our floors.

Formal Weekend Held at Auburn

◆ Formal week-end time came to the "Lodge" the week end of January 29-31. Friday afternoon, the brothers living in the house began packing their belongings and moving out in order to make room for the dates to move in. Festivities began with a delicious supper served at the house.

That night the men of Upsilon and their dates gathered at the Opelika Country Club for a semi-formal dance. Wonderful music by the "Manhattans" from Columbus, Georgia was enjoyed until 11:30. Mamma Lou, as usual, provided tasty refreshments for everyone.

Saturday morning was a time for late sleeping, and most of the brothers, pledges, and their dates took advantage of this opportunity after a long night. Brunch was served late in the morning, and the afternoon was taken up by small group parties. After an early supper, everyone retired to get ready for the big event of the week end, the Dream Girl Formal.

A few minutes before nine, the brothers, pledges, and dates began making their way toward the Student Activity

Building, the scene of the formal. All were welcomed by the mellow music of the University of Alabama Cavaliers, and the dance started off at a swift pace. Miss Gail Gregory and SMC Mark Shipman led the dance. During the leadout Miss Gregory was presented with a bouquet of red roses by "Mamma Lou." The Dream Girl Court, consisting of Miss Helen Wilson escorted by Brother Jess Phillips, and Miss Mary Jim Esslinger escorted by Brother Charlie Bottcher, was presented.

To climax the leadout, Miss Cordelia Parker, the 1954 Dream Girl, was introduced and presented with the Dream Girl trophy by SMC Shipman. Miss Parker was escorted by Brother Richard Bite.

After the dance everyone returned to the house for breakfast. When the two o'clock curfew forced all the brothers and pledges out of the house, most of them went home to a very inviting bed for a night's sleep. Sunday morning everyone attended church and returned to the house for dinner.

Another Upsilon achievement is the scholarship for fall quarter. Placing second among social fraternities, the chapter again bettered the all-men average. Upsilon recently scored again in a report released by the Student Affairs Office. In a study made by the Assistant Director of Student Affairs and Interfraternity Council Advisor, Pi Kappa Alpha is the only social fraternity on the Auburn campus to be above the all-men average for the last seven years.

Omaha Selects Miss Joan Willey

◆ Miss Joan Willey of Alpha Xi Delta was voted Delta-Chi's Dream Girl of 1953 at the annual Garnet and Gold Ball. The all-Greek dance was held in a setting of red and gold streamers and top hat decorations which were planned and executed by Ed Oathout and Pledge Dave Driutler. Eddy Haddad and his orchestra furnished music for the occasion.

At intermission ceremonies, the Dream Girl candidates were escorted down the white carpet to the stage where they were serenaded by Delta-Chi's octette which sang "Honeymoon" and "Pi K A Dream Girl." Other candidates were LuAnn Focht, ΧΩ; Kay Strimple, ΣΚ; and Jean Madden, ΖΤΑ. They were presented gifts to mark the occasion by Gene Anderson, social chairman.

The event was held on the tenth floor of the Livestock Exchange Building. Dinner was served at 6:30 p. m. Afterwards new actives and pledges were introduced as well as newly elected fraternity officers. The winner of the circulating trophy for the Best Pledge was awarded to Simon A. Simon, who also received the award for the best fraternity pledge at Ohio University.

Illinois Produces Two Fine Seniors

By Frank Gerace

◆ Beta-Eta can well afford to be especially proud of two of its senior members—Bob Wold and George Phillips. These two men have enviable records in every phase of college life.

Bob is 22 years old and is in architectural engineering. He hails from Glen Ellyn, Ill. and is a graduate of Glenbard High School. His life here at the university may be compared to that of a bee—for he has been just that busy. He is a member of seven honorary and professional societies including Tau Beta Pi, engineering honorary; Sigma Tau, engineering honorary; Gargoyle, architectural honorary; Scarab, Architectural honorary; American Concrete Institute; Student Chapter American Institute of Architects; and Student Chapter American Society of Civil Engineers.

Bob Wold

Bob also entered many activities to take up some of his "spare time." He was on the Illio (U. of I. yearbook) staff for three years, during which he was associate editor. He was a feature writer for the Technograph, an engineering magazine published here at the university. He was also a varsity award winner in golf. He entered intramural competition in ping pong and hand ball winning the Sports Fest Championship in the latter. He was elected SMC of Beta-Eta in the spring semester of his junior year. Bob says that of all honors awarded him this was the most thrilling moment of his life. He was a delegate to the National Convention and was on the model initiation team under the late Harvey T. Newell.

The activity that seems to be taking up most of his time presently is a Kappa Alpha Theta to whom he is engaged, but Bob still finds time to do a few things, such as chairman of Stunt Show last fall—which was a winner; and some baseball and golf.

Quite a record!

George Phillips is another outstanding member of Beta-Eta. He is also a senior and is majoring in economics. He recently completed a three months' trip to India where he represented the United States and debated with Indian students. The trip was a fourth place award in a national debate contest sponsored by The Institute of International Education. He was accompanied by Harland Randolph, first place winner in the contest.

George Phillips

The trip covered over 25,000 miles and included 200 speeches and 30 debates. The debates were on the following subjects: India's Foreign Policy, Communism, Question of Free Trade, and the Admission of Communist China to the United Nations. The duo left New York on December 1 and stopped at various places en route to India.

The first stop was Paris. Here they debated and then moved on to Rome where they had the privilege of having an audience with the Pope. The next stop was Pakistan where they spent ten days debating and speaking. Upon reaching India they toured the country speaking and debating. They visited 22 universities and spoke to approximately 65,000 people.

They interviewed professors, students, government officials, missionaries, businessmen, Hindu priests, cabinet ministers and politicians. "One of the things that amazed me most," said George, "was the fact that English is the medium of instruction. That made interviewing a lot easier."

During the ten weeks they were in India they went to the "Kumbh-Mela" the greatest of all Hindu Religious Festivals. "This," said George, "was probably one of the most revealing sights on the whole trip." Stops made on the way back were Cairo, Athens, Paris and London. "This trip was worth at least two or three college educations," commented Phillips. "I feel that I was very fortunate in having the privilege."

George is a past president of Illini Forensic Association, Speech group; past president of Delta Sigma Rho, speech honorary fraternity; and on the Racial Equality Committee at the YMCA.

In house activities he is a past rushing chairman and past scholarship chairman.

He also wrote most of the choreography for our stunt show last fall.

Hats off to these two. Beta-Eta is proud to claim them!

Oklahoma Pikes On The Move

By Leland Gourley, BO

Editor

Henryetta (Okla.) Daily Free-Lance

◆ Five college presidents and twenty other prominent educators and businessmen officially became Pikes at a 300-member statewide rally of Pi Kappa Alpha in Oklahoma City on April 1.

The occasion of a statewide banquet honoring National Secretary Bob Lynn was used for the initiation of men who were members of the old locals at Tulsa University and Oklahoma A. & M. College before they affiliated with I I K A national. In addition a few honorary initiates came into the fraternity.

Appearing on the program at the banquet, climaxing the all-day activities, along with Brother Lynn's address, was Oklahoma's Lt. Governor, Brother James E. Berry, IX (Okla. A. & M.) who introduced the Diamond Life Chapter members.

One of the highlights of the evening banquet was the announcement of five new members of the Diamond Life Chapter. They were R. F. J. Williams, Oliver Hodge, O. R. Shaw, Pat Pugh, and Leland Gourley. Diamond Life members who were already there included Lt. Governor Berry, Joe C. Scott and J. Phil Burns. Brother Burns was appointed "Diamond Life Chapter Rush Captain" for Oklahoma by "National Rush Chairman" Powell McHaney. His work bore fruit immediately with the addition of these five new members.

The success of the meeting attended by alumni from all over the state and by the actives from Oklahoma's three chapters, Tulsa, A. & M., and the University of Oklahoma, was made possible by Joe C. Scott, president of the Bankers Security Life Insurance Company and secretary of the Oklahoma City alumni chapter. Scott organized, publicized and ran the meeting which was staged only three days before he was due to leave on a trip throughout South America on an official mission for the United States State Department.

Speaker after speaker praised Scott for his efforts in making the meeting a success. Plans were started at the meeting to make it an annual affair and to expand it.

The meeting started at 2 o'clock in the afternoon in Oklahoma City's swank Oklahoma Club. The afternoon was spent in initiating the 25 new members. Beta-Omicron Chapter from the University of Oklahoma furnished two initiation teams to perform the ritual.

Following the initiation, a social hour was held in the English room of the Oklahoma Club. The banquet, attended by 300 was then held in the grand ballroom. Scott presided as toastmaster.

Seated at the head table were: Lt. Governor Berry; Rowland Standfield, Tulsa alumni president; Earle C. Albright, Stillwater alumni president; Dr. Dale Rookstool, Oklahoma City alumni president; Maj Malone, former assistant national secretary and now president of the IKA corporation at Norman; W. Neil Linn, SMC of IT (Tulsa); Max Spencer, SMC of IX (Oklahoma A. & M.); Larry Isbell, SMC of BO (Oklahoma); Lewie Sanderson, D. P. of District 10; Robert Lynn; and John Hein, field secretary, from Memphis.

The five college presidents who were initiated were assisted by another college president, Brother Dan Proctor, president of Oklahoma College for Women, Chickasha. The five were: Harold R. Burton, president of Southwestern

State College, Weatherford, Okla.; Bruce G. Carter, president of Northeastern Oklahoma A. & M., Miami; Dr. Willis Maxon Chambers, president of Central State College, Edmond; Elija Thomas Dunlap, president of Eastern Oklahoma A. & M., Wilburton; and Jacob Johnson, president of Connors State Agricultural College, Warner.

Seven other prominent educators included were: Ferman Phillips, secretary-manager of the Oklahoma Education Association; Dr. E. E. Battles, superintendent of schools, Henryetta; Ira Armstrong, superintendent, Hugo; Rex O. Morrison, superintendent, Ada; Harry D. Simmons, superintendent, Muskogee; Paul R. Taylor, superintendent, El Reno; and Trice Broadrick, principal, Chickasha.

Prominent businessmen who officially came into the fraternity included: William R. Abbott, Oklahoma City; Roy E. Allen, Oklahoma City; E. L. (Stub) Blackman, Oklahoma City; W. J. Edwards, McAlester; Marshall Hamilton, Tulsa; Lowell D. Harris, Purcell; Joe B. Hunt, Oklahoma City; J. V. Mosley, Duncan; Justin E. Vogt, Oklahoma City; Almon White, Tulsa; Thomas E. Whittle, Oklahoma City; Joe A. Wirsich, Oklahoma City; and Cliff C. Moore, Oklahoma City.

One unusual thing at the initiation was a father-son combination. Almon White, a member of the local at Tulsa University before it became affiliated, was initiated along with his son, Bill, now a student at Tulsa University.

Kennett, Mo. Alumnus Chapter Organized

◆ Charter night for the Kennett, Mo. Alumnus Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha was held Monday evening at a dinner meeting at the Cotton Boll Hotel in this city, at which time Atty. Hal H. McHaney of Kennett was chosen as president of this new organization for 1954. Attorney McHaney, long active in Pi Kappa Alpha affairs, and an alumnus of the Missouri University and University of Virginia chapters, is a brother of Powell B. McHaney of St. Louis, former National President.

The new organization, composed of Pi Kappa Alpha members in Kennett and Dunklin County, is one of 62 such clubs in the United States, and has for its purpose to participate in activities concerning the 109 active chapters located on the campuses of colleges and universities throughout this country.

Chosen to assist President McHaney were the following officers: Walter C. Huffman, Vice President; Joe C. Browning, Secretary-Treasurer; Atty. William H. Billings, Corresponding Secretary; and Atty. Leon McAnally, Membership Chairman.

The group formally adopted a Constitution and decided to hold four meetings each year on the first Tuesday of the months of January, April, July and October. All Pi Kappa Alpha alumni in the area are eligible and are invited to membership in the Kennett Alumnus Chapter.

In addition to the above named officers, charter members of the Kennett Chapter include: Atty. Flake L. McHaney, T. J. Colling, Atty. James F. Ford, Whitney Thrower, L. A. Pickard, Jr., James W. Tatum, T. E. Miles, Layton Pickard, Wilburn L. Davidson, A. M. Riggs, W. A. Hemphill, Ernest F. Simer, Congressman Paul C. Jones, Atty. Charles H. Baker, Vernon Wright and Fred S. Wright.

Valparaiso Clowns At Carnival

By Edward Drzik

◆ This past March proved to be a banner month for the infant chapter Epsilon-Beta at Valparaiso University. With our first birthday two months away we celebrated it early with several outstanding events throughout the thirty-one days of March.

The annual spring smoker was the first attraction that the brothers at Epsilon-Beta Chapter made into a rousing success. Several weeks before the specified date of the smoker at a special meeting, a carnival theme was jointly agreed upon by the group. The small but attractive local American Legion Hall was used for the five booths that were constructed. It would seem the messiest booth was the most popular attraction of the evening. A huge backboard approximately 8 by 12 feet with a hole the size of a human head caused all the excitement. Naturally someone's head happened to be always peering through the hole. Picture a scene if you will of two hours of continual hurling of pies, made out of a gelatin-like substance, resulting in sludge piled two feet high on the floor and splattered outward in various directions.

The serious side of the program brought a local alumnus, Dr. Brown, to speak on the advantages of joining a national fraternity. He was followed by the genial and most familiar national representative, Brother John Horton. Several humorous skits, highlighted by a hilarious mock wrestling bout, ended the active part of the evening. A midnight buffet style snack was awaiting all at the house after everything was completed.

In conjunction with Sigma Theta, a local sorority, a most successful variety show was performed one week after the smoker. The general theme was a return to the days of vaudeville, the times when Sophie Tucker and Jimmy Durante were wowing them along the vaudeville circuit. Ten fast snappy acts brought spontaneous applause following each and the place resounded with laughter and appreciative acknowledgment for the performances. There was dancing, music, and comedy in a well balanced program. The racy chorus line from Minsky's perhaps was the most talked about act. Excerpts from the newspaper review read: "If vaudeville had been dead, they certainly rejuvenated it last Sunday evening. This show proved to be one of the best we have seen for quite some time. . . . Those who were not able to attend missed one of the best shows that has been presented on the Valpo campus for the past few years."

These two events preceded the fraternity balloting for all campus prospective pledges. The rushing efforts of our chapter were rewarded with seventeen pledges who can be expected to continue in the noble standards of Pi Kappa Alpha.

In March we had the honor and privilege to be the host for the first convention of recently designated District 6. Delegates began to arrive on Friday evening March 26. Amiable night accommodations were reserved for all attendants at a nearby tourist court. In between new arrivals, card games, beverages, and general introductions, the first evening progressed. Saturday March 27 proved to be a day for a long business session. This was our first experience participating in formulating policies of IKA and both actives and pledges showed a fervent interest. Most prominent on the agenda included discussions on National Fraternity expansion, reallocation of national assets, and constitutional requirements for membership. That evening a date party climaxed festivities at the district convention.

George Washington Has Shipwreck Ball

◆ Delta-Alpha Chapter held its 16th Annual All-University Shipwreck Ball on February 27 at the Hyattsville, Md. Armory. Shipwreck and native costumes highlighted the dance. Brother Jack Daley served as chairman of the dance which is financed by sale of raffle tickets. SMC Ray Fox, who has proved his versatility by being named quarterback on the All-IKA football team, crowned Miss Doris Cooley, finalist in the recent Miss Washington contest, Queen of the Shipwreck. The ball is a Delta-Alpha annual and is for all fraternity and sorority members on the George Washington campus. There was a large delegation of IKA's from all over this area. We were fortunate to have many of our brothers in the service in attendance, including Warren Lytle and Bob McLindon, former SMC's; Dave Close and Pete Cerick, and Murray Alley from the University of Alabama. At the climax of the ball everyone got a great surprise when the band played the Bunny Hop and a real live bunny made his entrance on the floor to lead the dancers.

Miss Pat Tinney

Texas Tech Dream Girl Presented

By Bennett Corley

◆ Miss Pat Tinney, KAΘ of Texas Tech, was presented as the Dream Girl of Epsilon-Gamma Chapter at its formal Dinner Dance, December 13, 1953. The announcement came during intermission of the dance when SMC Allan Tomlinson presented each of the seven finalists and pinned Miss Tinney with the jeweled engraved Sweetheart Pin.

Pat was chosen from a field of six other nominees—Marijann Forrest, KKF; Patti Price, ΔΓ; Dana Stamper, ZTA; Mary Jane Johnson, ΔΔΔ; Marilyn Stonecipher, IIBΦ; and Nina Flaniken, AXΩ. Each of the nominees were presented at the dinner preceding the dance, but announcement of the Dream Girl was withheld until the dance.

Miss Tinney is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, an Air ROTC Sweetheart, and a Texas Tech Beauty. She is engaged to Brother Paul Griffith.

A long hard semester of continuous rushing paid big dividends for Epsilon-Gamma when forty-one men pledged IKA.

The formal rush party, which was March 12, was preceded by a series of parties, picnics, and dances for rushees. Our Lubbock Alumni Association came to our aid by giving a reception at the Hillcrest Country Club which 150 men attended. We are deeply indebted to our alumni group for the aid and encouragement they have given us.

"What Pi Kappa Alpha Should Mean to You" was the subject of the Founders' Day address which was delivered by Brother Bill Evans, BM, at our first annual Founders' Day Breakfast, Sunday, February 28, 1954. He was introduced by Paul Griffith. Forty members and alumni attended the breakfast which was at the Skyroom of the Lubbock Municipal Airport.

Penn State Chooses Joan Platt

By M. J. Price, Jr.

◆ Miss Joan Platt, a pretty freshman co-ed from Pennsylvania State College, was crowned the official Beta-Alpha Dream Girl of 1954. The crowning came as a fitting climax to a wonderful week end which featured a house-party Friday evening and the annual Dream Girl Dinner-Dance held at the Nittany Lion Inn Saturday evening, March 13. Escorted by SMC Roger Dietz, Miss Platt was chosen from many beautiful girls by our board of "experts," which included Mr. and Mrs. Charles honors in the Kropp and Mr. and Mrs. Charles "Rip" Engle. Other guests of honor included Mr. and Mrs. Nick Theil and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bowman.

The vivacious Miss Platt was crowned with lovely red roses and presented with a loving cup by last year's Dream Girl, Hazel Krauth of Easton, Pa. Serving on the Dream Girl court were two other IKA sweethearts, Jo Bothwell, ΔZ, and Lillian Lynch.

The name Platt is by no means new to the members of Pi Kappa Alpha as Joan's father was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha at Rutgers University.

On Friday night, the social committee headed by Brother Tony Lisanti turned the chapter into a virtual paradise as the house celebrated its annual South Sea Island party. Costumes for the party ranged from hula girls to educated beach-combers and fitted in perfectly with the tropical island theme.

Don H. Krey Promoted

◆ Don H. Krey, Beta-Sigma alumnus from Carnegie Tech, has been appointed Vice President and General Sales Manager of Samuel McKnight Hardware Company of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Don spent practically his entire business career with the Homestead Valve Mfg. Company, most recently as Vice President in charge of sales. In addition to supervising the builders' hardware and industrial departments, he will assist in the management of McKnight's three retail stores in the Pittsburgh District and head up the firm's advertising and sales promotion activities.

Currently serving a six year term on the Avonworth School Board, Don is also a Director of Shannopin Country Club and of the Pittsburgh Sales Executives Club. Reportedly his two sons and a daughter keep him otherwise occupied.

Three other IKA's are active in the Ben Avon Presbyterian Church which he attends. Roger Burke, former Carnegie Tech track captain, teaches a class in the Sunday School and was recently elected an Elder of the church. Graham Sale, former District President, teaches the Young Married Couple's Class which Don and his wife, Alice, served jointly as the first Presidents when the class was formed ten years ago. And Wayne Theophilus, local attorney and a Gamma-Sigma alumnus from the University of Pittsburgh has been Sunday School Treasurer for a number of years. The four families represent ten prospective IKA's and IKA sweethearts.

Don H. Krey
