Memorial Foundation Elects Trustees

◆ James P. Brown, St. Louis attorney and an alumnus of Alpha-Nu Chapter at the University of Missouri, was elected trustee of the Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Foundation to complete the unexpired term of Powell B. McHaney, deceased. J. Harold Trinner of Memphis was re-elected to a three year term.

The members' meeting was held April 11, 1958 at the Memorial Headquarters in Memphis.

The foundation has five trustees who are divided into three classes:

Class I is composed of one trustee. Mr. Trinner's term is from 1958-1961.

Class II trustees whose three year terms expire in 1959 are C. Robert Yeager of Attleboro, Massachusetts and James P. Brown of St. Louis.

Class III trustees whose terms expire in 1960 are James V. LeLaurin of Meridian, Mississippi, and Albert E. Paxton of Chicago.

An amendment to the By Laws provides that no trustee shall serve for more than two consecutive three year terms. The trustees announced presentation of $2,500 in scholarship awards for the 1957-58 school year. Special appreciation was expressed for the $1,500 in scholarship contributions from numerous alumni throughout the United States. An additional room has been completed in the Memorial Headquarters for museum and display purposes.

The Board of Trustees re-elected J. Harold Trinner as president of the foundation.

The Paladian Room

The College of William and Mary

Historical Site of Leadership School

◆ President Alvin Chandler and Dean of Men Joseph Farrar graciously extended an invitation to Pi Kappa Alpha to hold its 1958 Leadership School at the College of William and Mary. The Supreme Council was unanimous in voting acceptance. Let's look at some of the reasons for the affirmative vote.

ITS FRATERNITY HERITAGE — The first American college fraternity, Phi Beta Kappa, was founded by William and Mary students in the Apollo Room in the Raleigh Tavern in Williamsburg in 1776. Although today it is classified as a scholarship honorary fraternity, Phi Beta Kappa's early-day method of choosing new members, its general operations, and its close brotherhood were quite similar to present-day social fraternities. Of our national fraternities presently classified as "social," Theta Delta Chi chartered a chapter here in 1853, Sigma Alpha Epsilon followed in 1857, and Gamma Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha was established in 1871. Kappa Alpha Order and Kappa Sigma joined the group in 1890.

Fraternities have always played a large part in the student life at William and Mary. In recent years during the administration of President Chandler and under the dynamic leadership of Dean Farrar, the fraternities, the Undergraduate Interfraternity Council, and the Alumni Interfraternity Council have become increasingly constructive and effective elements of student life and activity.

Gamma Chapter, under the leadership of past SMC Vincent Stoneman and SMC Jack Brendel extend greetings and welcome to the delegates and visitors to the Leadership School. The chapter invites you to pay a visit to its lodge on Fraternity Row during the sessions. The college established a "lodge row" shortly after World War II and made newly-constructed lodges available to each fraternity for its chapter meetings and social activities.

ITS HISTORY — A few years after the founding of Jamestown a movement started in England and Virginia to establish a college in the colony, and construction was actually begun in a settlement on the James River, about ten miles below the present city of Richmond. An Indian massacre in 1622 destroyed the settlement, but the idea of a college persisted. In 1693 King William III and Queen Mary II granted a charter for the college at Williamsburg, and it opened in temporary buildings in 1694.

The college took an active part in the events surrounding the Revolution and the founding of the Republic. In 1781 during the memorable Yorktown campaign, academic life was temporarily interrupted and the buildings were occupied in turn by the Army of Cornwallis and the American forces and their French allies. Again, in the War Between the States, the college buildings were occupied by Confederate and Federal troops and its historic Wren Building fell prey for the third time to devastating flames—the original walls survived all the fires. After the ravages of this war, it was difficult for the college to maintain its operating continuity, but despite severe economic ravages, it was kept alive. Since 1906 it has been a Virginia state institution and in 1918 it became co-educational.

The College of William and Mary has played an outstandingly prominent role in American education. Pi Kappa Alpha is proud that one of its members, Dr. William E. Pomfret, BII (Pennsylvania) charter member, served as president of this institution. Dr. Pomfret is currently head of the Huntington Library and Galleries, Pasadena, California.

A College of William and Mary pamphlet states the college was the first American college to receive its charter from the Crown and was second only to Harvard in actual operation . . . the first and only American college to receive a coat of arms from College of Heralds in 1694 . . . the first college in the United States to have a full faculty, consisting of a president, six professors, usher, and writing master, 1729 . . . the first college to confer medallic prizes, 1771 . . . the first college to establish a Greek letter society, the Phi Beta Kappa, December 5, 1776 . . . the first college to have the elective system of study, 1779 . . . the first college to have an honor system, 1779 . . . the first college to become a university,

Boatwright Memorial Library Tower,
University of Richmond,

1779 . . . the first college to have a school of modern languages, 1779 . . . the first college to have a school of municipal and constitutional law, 1779 . . . the first college to teach political economy, 1784 . . . the first college to have a school of modern history, 1803 . . . the first college to offer the degree of Master of Law and Taxation, 1954.

ITS ROLL OF FAME — Among its alumni the college includes three presidents of the United States, 15 members of the Continental Congress, the authors of the Declaration of Independence and the Monroe Doctrine, a Chief Justice of the United States and three Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, 13 cabinet members, 29 senators, 3 speakers, and 56 members of the House of Representatives, 18 ministers to foreign governments, 21 judges of the Virginia Supreme Court, and scores of others distinguished in civil or military life and the church.

GENERAL — The three original buildings are the main buildings designed by Christopher Wren and known as the Wren Building, the Brafferton, and the President's house. These three buildings have been restored to their original appearance. There are 19 other buildings, all designed in the Colonial Georgian tradition. The 1,200 acre campus includes Lake Matoaka, on the shores of which Paul Green's historic dramas "The Common Glory" and "The Founders" are presented each weekday evening during the summer.

Mount Vernon, home of George Washington, is visited by over one million persons each year. It is maintained as it was when the first president lived there, and is situated on the Potomac River a few miles from Washington.

Welcome to Virginia

By George F. Wright, Jr.

Director of Public Relations, Virginia Chamber of Commerce

◆ Pi Kappa Alpha is coming to Virginia. The fraternity was founded in the Old Dominion and it has five chapters in five colleges and universities in the state.

The welcome banners will be flying along the 48,000 miles of excellent highways which will carry our fraternity visitors to every point of interest throughout our wonderful state. The Old Dominion is filled with unique and historical attractions.

Virginia is the site of the first permanent English settlement in the United States, Jamestown; it was the birthplace of eight presidents and of many great patriots of the formative years of this country; it was a major battleground in both the Revolutionary War and the War Between the States.

Virginia's seaside resort areas annually attract millions. There are excellent beaches on its Atlantic shores and throughout the state; there are lakes and ponds of beauty. Some of the best known are situated within Virginia's state parks, open to the public for swimming and boating.

For those who want to bring along a rig and enjoy boating, Virginia has navigable rivers, the famed Chesapeake Bay, and many lakes. The reservoir created by the Kerr Dam on the Virginia-North Carolina line near Clarksville in south central Virginia is a great place for those who enjoy the outdoors.

There are both fresh and salt-water fishing in Virginia. The fresh-water fishing is administered by the Virginia Department of Game and Inland Fisheries, and a license is required. The department will furnish fresh-water fishermen a digest of regulations. The Virginia State Chamber of Commerce, 111 North Fifth Street, Richmond 19, Va., has a free summary of fishing.

Entrance to the famed Rotunda at the University of Virginia which was established by Thomas Jefferson. Pi Kappa Alpha was founded at the University in 1868.

Salt-water fishing is at its best in Virginia's tidal waters. There are over 1,000 finny species in Virginia's waters for those who want to wet a line in Chesapeake Bay, in the rivers—the James, Rappahannock, York, Potomac—or in fresh-water facilities.

Williamsburg, where the Pi Kappa Alpha leadership classes will be held in August, is only a short distance from Chesapeake Bay. The colonial city is situated between the York and the James rivers in the heart of Virginia Historyland.

PiKA's may want to enjoy the swimming or to tour the historic Virginia peninsula around Williamsburg. The historic importance of this country is expressed in other articles in this issue of The Shield and Diamond.

For those members who enter Virginia from the north, the charm of the traditional makes itself felt. Just across the Potomac River from the District of Columbia is the Arlington-Alexandria-Mt. Vernon area, where George Washington, George Mason, Gen. Robert E. Lee, and many another patriot lived. Just south of the Potomac, too, is the impressive Marine Corps Memorial. Washington's home at Mt. Vernon is one of the great shrines and is visited annually by more than a million Americans.

To the west of this area is Winchester and Leesburg and Virginia's "horse country" centered around Warrenton. Many of the estates in this area have been restored to immaculate beauty.

Patrick Henry made his immortal "Liberty or Death" speech in St. John's Church at Richmond.

Virginia caverns are fantasylands of weird forms and colors.

Virginia's long coast line offers fine salt water fishing in the Atlantic and Chesapeake Bay.

Winchester is one of America's old cities and is located at the junction of four highway arteries from the east and midwest. The Apple Blossom Festival held every spring has made Winchester famous. It is in the northern part of the Shenandoah Valley, one of the most beautiful sections of the state. PiKA's coming from the midwest and west will cross the Valley, with its rich, fertile ground and its many natural attractions. The Shenandoah National Park lies east of the Valley, along the top of the Blue Ridge Mountains. The famous Skyline Drive and the Blue Ridge Parkway traverse the tops of the mountains, offering scenic grandeur of this section of the state. At hand, too, are Virginia's natural caverns, the Natural Bridge of Virginia (which is crossed by U. S. Route 11), and Natural Chimneys, where modern "knights" on horseback still conduct each year a jousting tournament for the right to call a fair lady "Queen of Love and Beauty."

Confederate General "Stonewall" Jackson's Valley campaign is studied by Civil War students. His marches are well marked. In the Valley, at Lexington, is located Washington and Lee University, where General Lee once was president and now lies buried in the memorial chapel. Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States, was born in Staunton.

U. S. Route No. 1 traverses Virginia from north to south and runs along the fall line of her big rivers. From Alexandria-Arlington, Fredericksburg is the next city to the south. This is one of the old cities of the New World, the point from which the visitor may study famous battles of the Civil War. Kenmore, the home of Betty Washington Lewis (sister of George Washington), is open to the public. Also in Fredericksburg is the Law Office and Museum containing many possessions of President James Monroe, who practiced law here when a young man.

Richmond is fifty miles south of Fredericksburg. The state capitol at Richmond was designed by Thomas Jefferson. Richmond, a large tobacco-manufacturing center, is the home of several historic shrines. The oldest house in Richmond is now a memorial to Edgar Allen Poe. There's a PiKA chapter at the University of Richmond.

The land between Richmond and Williamsburg is battleground, indeed. Two wars were fought over it. The founders of the United States built great plantation homes along the banks of the James River and some of these are open to the public.

The mother chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha is located at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville, seventy-five miles north and west of Richmond in the Piedmont's rolling hills. The Lawn (Mister Jefferson never called any part of his academic village a "campus" and neither do Virginia students or alumni) and the Grounds form the original part of Thomas Jefferson's design. The center point is the Rotunda, patterned after the Pantheon in Rome.

The famed Natural Bridge, one of the wonders of America, was carved through rock by a creek. U. S. Highway 11 passes over the bridge near Lexington.

Jefferson's beautiful home, Monticello, filled with his inventions, overlooks Charlottesville from the southeast.

Hampden-Sydney College, where there is another PiKA chapter, is located at Farmville in Virginia's Piedmont.

Rough, rugged country will greet those who come to Virginia from the southwest. Plan to come through the Breaks of the Cumberland and into "Virginia's Highlands."

Those interested in the theater will find Abingdon particularly rewarding. In Abingdon is located Robert Porterfield's Barter Theater, the state theater of Virginia. Here actors sold entertainment for food during the depression days in the early 1930's. Barter now has been officially adopted as a state theater of Virginia. Productions are held in the theater, furnished with materials from the old Empire Theater in New York when that venerable institution was dismantled.

This, then, is Virginia. There are other attractions, other interests. The guest of the state will soon discover them.

One word might be of value in closing: Meet the Virginian. He is intensely proud of his state and his heritage, and, for the most part quite friendly. He is best described as a conservative, but when approached, he is rather expansive about Virginia. He'll shake your hand and look you in the eye and say "Welcome to Virginia!" And he'll mean it. He is proud of his state, and he is proud to have you visit it.

Jamestown Festival Attracts Delegates

◆ It is good news to learn through Parke S. Rouse, Jr., II (Washington and Lee), executive director of the Virginia 350th Anniversary Commission, that Jamestown Festival Park will be open during 1958 to give additional millions of visitors a glimpse of the nation's beginnings at Jamestown (1607).

The Leadership School program will include a visit to the park. It opened April 1, 1957, for the Jamestown Festival Year and was visited in 1957 by many hundreds of thousands of visitors. Although the Festival officially ended November 30, it was decided that public interest justified continued operation of the park.

Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip, Vice President Nixon, Secretary of Defense Wilson, and the Lord Mayor of London were among those who have visited the Festival, in which the governments of the United States, Great Britain, and Virginia officially joined. At the park were an Old World (British) Pavilion that told the story of the spread of English-speaking civilization and a New World (Virginia) Pavilion that told the story of Virginia.

The New World Pavilion displays irreplaceable relics of the eight Virginia-born presidents. It treats visually and dramatically the achievements of Virginians in other fields from the explorations of George Rogers Clark to the experiments of George Washington Carver.

Leaving the modern architecture of the park, the visitor first glimpses Chief Powhatan's lodge, built of bent saplings and cattail-leaf mats. Here is shown graphically and in authentic form phases of Indian domestic life. On hand are picturesquely dressed descendants of the original Indians of Virginia. A "dance circle" for ceremonial rites adds to the illusion of primitive and aboriginal culture.

Offshore in the James River are moored reproductions of the ships, Susan Constant (100 tons), Godspeed (40 tons), and Discovery (20 tons). These were built as full-scale reproductions of the three ships that brought the original settlers to Jamestown in 1607. Visitors may board the two larger ships.

Next to be seen is a sprawling reproduction of the triangular fort built by the settlers after their arrival. There is a log palisade with cannon-mounted bastions enclosing a score or more houses and a church, all built of hand-hewn hardwood embedded as half-timbers in wattle (woven twigs or branches) and daub (clay laced with straw).

A single admission fee entitles the visitor to tour completely both the Festival Park and Jamestown Island. There is no charge for children or organized educational groups. On nearby Jamestown Island the Park Service has a new $400,000 museum and visitor's center.

Alpha-Eta Dedicates New Home

◆ Alpha-Eta Chapter at the University of Florida ushered in its 54th year at the South's largest university of 11,200 students by dedicating the South's largest fraternity house March 1.

In addition to officially receiving the keys from the Alpha-Eta House Corporation to the new $250,000 three-story chapter house located adjacent to the campus, the active chapter also observed Founders' Day.

University President Dr. J. Wayne Reitz, National President Grant Macfarlane, and some of the chapter founders and members of the first house corporation made this a memorable occasion.

The Pikes, who built the first fraternity house on the campus in the 1920's, achieved several new distinctions with the opening of the new house. Included are: First fraternity to build a new fraternity house off-campus (all new houses since World War II have been built on the university-owned fraternity row); largest fraternity house in the South and largest Pike house in the nation with at least 21,000 square feet floor space with three stories and a basement.

The March 1 functions were planned by John Goodling and Jack Sites.

State Representative J. B. Hopkins, attorney from Pensacola, addressed the Founders' Day banquet.

Alumni Frank Akerman and William E. Hayes presented a trophy to the chapter in honor of Jack Estabrook, Alpha-Eta alumnus who died in a jet plane crash. The trophy is to be awarded by the entire chapter to the "most improved brother" of the year.

Dr. Reitz and President Macfarlane spoke at the House Dedication which immediately followed the Founders' Day banquet.

Al S. C. Miller, senior law student of Miami and president of the Interfraternity Council, acted as master of ceremonies for both occasions.

The climax of the big day was the presentation to SMC Al Hobbs of the keys to the chapter by John Hintermister, president of the Alpha-Eta House Corporation and assistant director of Food Services at the university.

Officers of the house corporation are John Hintermister, president; William H. Long, secretary-treasurer; Charles Boyd, Jacksonville; Dan Labry, Jacksonville, and Neil Powell, Orlando.

Guests of honor during the March 1 celebration included four National officers: President Macfarlane, Dr. U. S. "Preacher" Gordon, National Alumni Secretary; Dr. Freeman H. Hart, National Historian; and Dave Collins, Field Secretary.

We were especially proud to have two of Alpha-Eta's founders present—Arthur Malcolm Henry and Samuel Worthington Teague.

Pikes Prominent In Valparaiso Activities

By Terry H. Trautman

◆ Foremost on campus is the coming election of student council president for the next academic year. One of the main candidates for the office is Epsilon-Beta's Dieter Nickel. Brother Nickel has been prominent in fraternity and campus activities while at Valparaiso. In the fraternity he has been successful as rush chairman and is presently our IFC representative. On campus, Brother Nickel has been a member of the Junior Honor Guard, an honorary organization for outstanding men, and Alpha Pi, an honorary organization for outstanding senior men. This past year he has successfully filled his highest position as social chairman for Valparaiso University. He is now enrolled in law school.

Valparaiso's newspaper, the Torch, is about to select its editor for next year from two capable applicants, one of whom is Larry Eberhardt. Brother Eberhardt is presently a sports feature writer. He has just completed a semester of extensive study of American Government at American University under the auspices of the government department of Valparaiso University.

Another prominent Pike is David Fergus who is sports statistician for the university public relations department. He collects all sports statistics for Valpo's major sports events and summarizes them for the newspapers of the area. His statistics are sent to the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, which is the statistical service of the N.C.A.A.

Wes Matthews and Harlan Kalthoff comprise 40 per cent of Valparaiso's five-man bowling squad. Brother Kalthoff, a three year veteran, has compiled a commendable 180 average. Brother Matthews, in his first year, maintained a 184 average.

On campus we are proud to announce that we have finished second in scholarship among all campus fraternities as well as second among Pi Kappa Alpha chapters in small schools.

Delta Kappa Leads San Diego Campus

By George H. Roach, Jr.

◆ Pi Kappa Alpha is again leading the way at San Diego State College. Delta-Kappa Chapter pledged thirteen men in spring rush, pushing the total to twenty-eight pledges. Spring initiation brought twelve new brothers into the bonds.

In the field of sports, Delta-Kappa placed fourth in volleyball and third in basketball and badminton among the fifteen national fraternities at State. In spring varsity sports, Gary Sada, Manny Ventura, Bob Lee, Bob Johnston, and Ernie Trumper helped lead S.D.S.C. to the Southern California Rugby Union Championship. Jim Walton, Ken Holmes, Dick Jacobs, Dick Winn, and Lowell Raper are all competing for the varsity track team. Ed Sada, signed to a $50,000 Pittsburgh baseball contract, will play his first year with Columbus of the International League. He will return to State in the fall.

Bill Nugent, vice president of the Associated Students, received a Blue Key and Who's Who recognition. Jerry Fisher served as Men's President, and Dave Leverton as Vice President.

Socially, Delta-Kappa had a successful dinner-dance with Alpha-Phi. Four other sorority exchanges, the annual Mother-Son tea, and three Dream Girl teas were held during spring semester.

Dave Olson won the Best Dressed Man on Campus award for the second year.

Ohio U. Honors National President

By Clark Anderson

◆ Founders' Day was celebrated March 9 by Gamma-Omicron with a visit from National President Grant Macfarlane and National Secretary William R. Nester. An afternoon tea was held at the chapter house for the housemothers and the sorority and fraternity presidents honoring Brothers Macfarlane and Nester. The Founders' Day banquet followed at 6:30 p. m. in the main ballroom of the Ohio University Student Center. After the feast, retiring SMC Keith Krantz presented SMC Joe Ornowski the first SMC's badge, a gift from Field Secretary Lynwood B. Kleinhoffer, FO, '56. The Founders' Day celebration was climaxed by an inspiring and thought provoking speech by Grant Macfarlane in which he expressed through his personal experiences the deeper meaning of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Probably the biggest accomplishment of the fall semester was the great improvement in Gamma-Omicron's scholarship. We were well above the all-men's average and moved from twentieth place in fraternity standings to tenth place. The brothers are striving even harder this semester in hopes of reaching first place.

Gamma-Omicron Chapter has just completed its most successful rush season since the spring of 1956. Sixteen very fine men have accepted the ΠΚΑ pledge pin.

Under the capable leadership of Roger B. Olds, Gamma-Omicron was able to tie for league championship in football, only to lose out in the playoffs, 8-6. At the end of the season the Pikes enjoyed a victory in the annual "Little Brown Jug" game with Acacia Fraternity.

Trinity Celebrates Founders' Day

By Herbert H. Moorin

◆ Epsilon-Alpha's Founders' Day dinner was held on February 22 and featured National President Grant Macfarlane as the principal speaker. The entire undergraduate brotherhood and ten alumni attended. Special guests included Chaplain and Mrs. J. Moulton Thomas and Mr. John Butler of the Trinity Placement Service who gave a very stimulating and enjoyable talk.

A Founders' Day innovation was the presentation of the newly established Alumni Award. The recipient of the award was William Hull, long time Treasurer of the Tau Alpha Corporation. Brother Hull's name has been engraved on the Alumni trophy.

The highlight of the evening was Brother Macfarlane's inspiring speech. Our President stressed the glories of our great national fraternity which stretches from ocean to ocean. In speaking of our 50,000 brothers, he observed that in touring the country he had not met one Pike "who was not a true gentleman."

Colorado Holds Statewide Banquet

By Vincent P. Martino

◆ For the first time in the history of the state of Colorado, the Alumni Association of Pi Kappa Alpha held a state-wide Founders' Day celebration. The affair took place March 10 at the beautiful new multi-million dollar Continental Denver Hotel with more than 180 Pikes in attendance. The Pike contingent composed of undergraduate chapters at the University of Denver, University of Colorado, Colorado State University, and Colorado School of Mines and numerous alumni from throughout the state expressed the general feeling that it was the best event ever staged by the Alumni Association. With the help of many alumni in Denver and the leadership of Clifford Johnson, Alumnus Counselor of Gamma-Gamma Chapter, the event proved to be very successful.

Many Pike alumni, who are very prominent men in their respective communities, were in attendance. They included: Bud Curry, an alumnus of Beta-Eta Chapter, manager of the Continental Denver Hotel; Judge Edward C. Day, Jr., a member of the Colorado Supreme Court, who served as toastmaster; and guest speaker Richard Fitzgerald, BT (Colorado), Assistant Cashier at the First National Bank in Denver. Brother Fitzgerald spoke on the achievements a graduate today may attain in the business world after being exposed to the social values offered by Pi Kappa Alpha.

Among the many events of the evening was the honoring of William Leslie Ammons, P (Cumberland), who celebrated his fiftieth year as a member of Pi Kappa Alpha. Mr. Ammons was unable to attend the banquet, but expressed his appreciation for receiving his golden certificate. He is currently living in Boulder, Colorado.

The following brothers in attendance were celebrating their silver anniversaries as members of Pi Kappa Alpha: Milton J. Blake, FT; Otto Pfretzschner, FT; George Fuller, BT; Sam H. Hawkins, BT; H. E. Swedburg, FB; Fred E. Blair, BT; Carl G. Nordquist, FT; Ed Place, FT; Lester Carpenter, BT; J. Russel Chambers, BT; and Bud Curry, BH.

Omicron Holds Rush In New Lodge

By Chris Sizemore

◆ Omicron completed its most successful rush period in several years. The current pledge season came to a close on November 24 when Omicron pledged fifteen fine men. Bob Lacy and Jim Hoyle headed the rush program. The PiKA house decorations placed second in homecoming.

The first printed edition of the Omicron appeared just before Christmas in the form of Christmas greetings to alumni and the undergraduate chapters. Ed Briggs and Cal Strawhand served as editors.

Bill Phillips, past SMC, has been tapped by Omicron Delta Kappa, is listed in Who's Who, and serves as chairman of the Honor Council, secretary of the senior class, and as R.O.T.C. company commander.

Macfarlane Speaks In Atlanta

◆ Brother Grant Macfarlane told PiKA's at the Atlanta Founders' Day banquet that too many people "enjoy shade from trees they did not plant, and drink from wells they did not dig."

Our National President emphasized that we owe a debt to the men of the past who toiled many hours to establish the great fraternity we have today—men like Brother Robert A. Smythe, one of our Junior Founders, who was sitting at the speaker's table as Brother Macfarlane made his March 6 address at the Atlanta Athletic Club.

In addition to the main address, a highlight of the evening was the presentation of a 50 year golden certificate to Brother John S. McClelland, AM (Georgia).

A lovely silver plate was presented to Robert A. Smythe by Alpha-Delta Chapter. Engraved in the center were these words: "Beloved Leader of Pi Kappa Alpha, Robert A. Smythe, by Alpha-Delta Chapter, March 6, 1958."

SMC's of the three Georgia chapters reported on the year's activities for their groups, and a cash award was given to Alpha-Mu Chapter at the University of Georgia for having the most alumni present for the occasion.

Atlanta Alumni Association officers for the 1958-59 year were installed during the celebration with Harold Rice as president. One hundred and fifty brothers attended the banquet which was the most successful in the Association's history.

A Founders' Day Address

By A. P. Heiner

Vice Pres., Public Relations & Traffic
Kaiser Steel Corp.

◆ Believe me, it's a great personal thrill and pleasure to meet with you tonight. When Parm called me and extended the invitation to be with you, I literally jumped at the opportunity. It's not that I like to hear myself talk. Rather, I looked upon it as a means of getting together with my very dear Pi Kap friends.

Last night when I arrived in Salt Lake, I took a walk down Main Street. I said to myself, "This is my town." Today I spent at the University. I said to myself, "This is my school." Tonight before this meeting started I said to myself, "This is my fraternity."

Actually, I have been the world's worst Pi Kap alumnus. Living in the San Francisco Bay area as I have for the last 19 years, I simply have had no contact with the fraternity. I guess my main excuse is the fact that I have been busy trying to do my part in raising our five kids. Also, I have managed to do a fair share of church work, and, of course, my company has kept me under the gun rather constantly. I am sure things would have been different if I had lived in the Salt Lake area where I could be in touch with my Pi Kap friends right along and where I would get together with them on Founders' Day. I especially feel guilty when I realize how thoughtful your Active President is. He arranged to send a beautiful orchid to my wife at the Hotel Utah. She certainly thinks kinder than ever toward the Pi Kaps as a result, and I want you to know how much I appreciate your thoughtfulness.

As lousy an alumnus as I have been, I like to think I was a pretty good Pi Kap in my day. This much I know—I enjoyed being a Pi Kap and I participated heart and soul in nearly everything the fraternity did.

Things were a lot different in the olden days when I was an active Pi Kap. Now you have a bigger home in a better location and I understand your financial position is pretty good. I was a member during the very depth of the depression from 1932 through 1936. Believe me, those were hungry times for the fraternity. There were any number of very fine members who just simply did not have the money to pay their dues. If it had not been for the tireless and dedicated efforts of alumni such as Grant

Iverson, I don't know how the fraternity could have kept together at that time. I feel very fortunate to be here on the occasion of the tribute you have paid to Grant Iverson for his outstanding work in behalf of this fraternity. With his relinquishment of direct responsibility as District President, it constitutes the passing of an era for our fraternity. I also remember how hard Dr. Les Warburton worked as an alumnus. I remember the valued influence of such other alumni as Les Goates and Fred Pingree. I am sure over the years that other alumni have come along to offer the same kind of moral support and guidance to the chapter.

I'll tell you why I joined the Pi Kaps instead of some other fraternity when I was a freshman in 1933. After looking at other fraternities I concluded in my own mind that the membership of the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity at that time was a little more wholesome, a little more genuine, a little more "he-mannish" than I thought the other fraternities were. Don't misunderstand me, there were great guys in the other fraternities, and I, of course, could have been wrong in my judgment. No organization has a corner on good people or good principles. I mention the point only to bring out my hope that over the years the fraternity has endeavored to maintain the qualities of wholesomeness and genuineness.

I vividly recall when I was being rushed. What a sense of camaraderie I received by listening to the Pi Kap members sing their songs. Actually, in an atmosphere like that I don't see how any individual can feel other than attracted to an organization of men.

I remember my first reaction at the initiation ceremony. It was a thrilling experience for me. Alden Goates conducted and he handled it in a most impressive manner. When I was SMC in my junior year I had the privilege of conducting an initiation ceremony and I looked upon it as an important privilege and as a very worth-while and lasting experience.

Some of my best friends are those I made when I was an active Pi Kap. Some of the nicest fellows I have known over the years were in the fraternity at the same time I was—Hap Carlston, Rollie Christopherson, Ren Hoopes, Norm

Tanner, Dan Eastman, Reo Thorum, Lenny Ralphs, Ted Moss, Jay Parkinson, Dee Parkinson, Stu Jardine, Dale Clark, Ed McKay, Henry Pearson, Rex Skidmore, Rex Hansen, Bill Pace, Jack Johnson, Dan Heiner. There were giants in the fraternity in those days, and I considered it a privilege to be associated with them.

When Parm called me and invited me to talk to you, I asked him whether I should give my Bikini speech or my Kimono speech. He asked me what I meant. "Well," I said, "my Bikini speech covers the main points briefly and my Kimono speech covers the whole subject loosely."

That reminds me of a lady who had been happily married for 25 years. She was talking to a man who was quite impressed that this lady was so well adjusted in her married life. He said to her, "What do you think is the main reason why you and your husband have been so happy?" She said, "Well, early in our married life we agreed upon the respective responsibilities that each of us would have. He agreed to take the major problems and I agreed to handle the minor ones. As a result we have each recognized our responsibilities and there has been no interference." "That's very interesting," the man said. "What were some of the minor problems that you agreed to handle?" "Well," the lady replied, "I agreed to take charge of raising the children, running the household, shopping for the food, and keeping the yard up, and other such minor responsibilities." "And what were some of the major problems your husband agreed to handle?" "Well," she said, "he agreed to take on major problems such as the Suez crisis and the United Nations."

So tonight I am going to take on a major problem. I will leave the practical problems up to someone else, but I want to talk about something that seems very important to me and something that I think a fraternity should be interested in. As a matter of fact, it's probably the very thing a fraternity stands for, but I am not sure that it has been clearly recognized by everyone in the fraternity.

A few months ago a very dear friend of mine passed away. His name was Chuck Gragg. He was a professor at the Harvard Business School. I had a class under him when I attended Harvard in 1937 and 1938. I renewed my friendship on a much more personal basis with Chuck Gragg some 3½ years ago when I took a month's course for management people sponsored by Northwestern University. At Chuck Gragg's funeral, Dean Stanley Teele, of Harvard, gave a short and touching tribute to the grand qualities of this man. He wound up by saying the highest tribute he could pay to Chuck was that "He had a complete and genuine respect for the dignity and significance of every person." That's quite a tribute. I believe it was fully justified. I knew Chuck Gragg well enough to know that he did love people and believe in each and every one. He was a wise and sage philosopher. He stood for principles that were tried and true. He most certainly had a complete and genuine respect for the dignity and significance of every person.

I wonder if we can all say that about ourselves. Do we have genuine respect for everyone? Do we respect him for what he is or do we judge him in the light of what we would like him to be? Are we trying to remake people according to standards we have arrived at as being useful in our own individual lives?

To me, this is a very important challenge. In this day and age we are struggling to establish understanding in a troubled world. On the one hand is a system of government that believes the individual is insignificant and has meaning only in relationship to the party. In this country we are dedicated to the dignity and individuality of every person. If our system is to prevail we must believe in it, practice it, and preach it.

In this audience no two men look identical. Admittedly, we look alike and it is a remarkable phenomenon of life that the similarities of men are as great as they are. Nevertheless, we are not strictly identical. Every facial characteristic is different. The nose, the eyes, the amount of hair (unfortunately) varies with each one of us. Even with two brothers from the same family, it is remarkable how really different they can be as to looks.

Likewise, it is remarkable how different two brothers can be as to attitudes and abilities. Any parent will tell you this. They are amazed how different their children really are. One is willing to play the piano—the other hates it. One takes school in stride—the other finds it a constant struggle. One is well-coordinated and is a good athlete—the other is somewhat more awkward. One is kind and thoughtful—the other is absorbed in his own little world.

There is nothing new or remarkable about these observations. We take such situations for granted. Unfortunately, however, it seems to me when it comes to adults we expect them to think alike, to act alike. We expect them to conform to our standards. Somehow we think our way of conduct is the only way of conduct for someone else. We think it is the only way to judge whether the other person is living the right kind of life. Very frankly, it seems to me that we don't often enough have a complete and genuine respect for the dignity and significance of every person for what he is himself and for why he is as he is.

We seem to want to create a prototype, a standard, or a norm. We seem to want to cast people in our own mold. We miss the thrill of admiring the wonderful uniqueness and difference with which God has endowed each person.

Now I am not saying we shouldn't have standards of good conduct. Certainly, we have to have ideals to live by. We have to have principles to support. I want my youngsters to live a good life. I want them to benefit from my own experience and the experience of the generations that have gone before as to what is right and what is wrong.

Nevertheless, I think there is a great need to cultivate within ourselves a deep appreciation of the wonderful, God-given differences that we have. I think perhaps we should spend a little less time in trying to conform other people to our way of life or our way of thinking, and a little more time admiring the unique gifts, talents, and inclinations other people have.

In his Inaugural Address, President Eisenhower said:

"May we pursue the right—without self righteousness;

"May we know unity—without conformity;

"May we grow in strength—without pride in self."

What thrilling and beautiful sentiments these are. They are a sermon in themselves. They are guideposts for all mankind. I was especially impressed by his statement, "May we know unity—without conformity." This country has to have unity of purpose, unity of heart, but it does not demand conformity of thinking.

A flute when properly played makes beautiful music. A violin when properly played makes beautiful music. A piano when properly played makes beautiful music. And so on with dozens of other musical instruments. And yet the greatest melody of all—the most harmonious music—is that which comes from a whole orchestra made up of a wide variety of instruments well played under the direction of a good leader. Thus, harmony that grows out of diversity of instruments is the most melodious harmony there is.

Physically, a completed building is an harmonious structure consisting of many diversified parts. It is not aluminum, or steel, or cement, or plaster, or wood, or linoleum. It is made up of all of these elements performing the proper function with respect to each other.

Surely this is true in life. A successful company is a unification of individual persons with diverse qualities or characteristics. And the very strength of that company is that these people with different capacities and different tendencies counter balance each other and are blended together in a strong, balanced organization.

In my way of thinking, that's the real strength of America. We are a melting pot of people from all over the world who have generally learned to live together in mutual respect and trust in a system of law and order. If there were a oneness, or singleness, or sameness of people throughout America, I am convinced we would not know the strength we now have.

Crawford Greenewalt, President of DuPont Company, in a recent speech said, "Men are not interchangeable parts like so many pinion gears or carburetors; genius, as John Adams said, is bestowed 'imperiously' by nature upon an individual. And behind every advance of the human race is a germ of creation growing in the mind of some lone individual, an individual whose dreams waken him in the night while others lie contentedly asleep.

"Yet, in the very nature of our mass effort, there lies this grave danger—not that the individual may circumvent the public will, but that he will himself be conformed and shaped to the general pattern, with the loss of his unique, original contributions.

"It is a problem for management, for public education, for government, for the church, for the press, for everyone. The stake is both the material one of preserving our most productive source of progress and the spiritual one of insuring to each individual the human dignity which is his birthright."

That's our challenge—we must not conform or shape the individual to the general pattern, at the expense of his unique, original contribution.

We must instead develop a complete and genuine respect for the dignity and significance of every person. We must like him for what he is and not what we wish he were. We must respect his abilities and inclinations, however different they may be from ours. We must judge him by his standards and not by our own. We must seek a unity with each other, but not demand conformity. We must never forget that the most melodious harmony of all is that which comes from a diversity of instruments.

It's the kind of thing I believe to which a fraternity should give constant attention. A fraternity is made up of people. It's primary excuse for being is in helping teach people how to get along with each other. It teaches us social graces with each other. For my part I hope all of you here, and I hope the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity will continue to speak out in behalf of the dignity and importance of the individual.

I am reassured on this score because the very preamble of our fraternity contemplates these traits of brotherly love. At the University of Virginia, on March 1, 1868, the following preamble was signed, establishing our fraternity:

New Hampshire Dedicates House

By George T. Mauro

◆ Even with a raging blizzard and no electricity, Gamma-Mu celebrated Founders' Day and dedicated their new house in true Pike fashion on Saturday, March 15.

The scheduled activities included a formal banquet and guest speakers from the University administration and Pi Kappa Alpha. Due to the power failure, the banquet had to be cancelled and the entire program rearranged. Undaunted, the Pikes brought out candles and proceeded with a very successful informal open house and dance.

Despite the weather, a large number of alumni joined the active brothers and pledges in listening to National Secretary William Nester review PiKA's long history and comment upon the Pike spirit. He made the point that all of these new houses springing up all over the country would be nothing but empty shells but for the men within their walls. These men and the ideals they represent have made Pi Kappa Alpha what it is today.

With George Mauro acting as master of ceremonies, SMC Daryl Flinn welcomed our guests, Alumni Corporation Officers Henry Dowst and William Zimmerman made dedicatory remarks, and Alumnus Counselor Edward Shanken concluded the informal ceremonies. All who were in attendance agreed that the Gamma-Mu's had outdone themselves in planning a tremendously successful evening.

On the weekend of March 29 and 30, the District Convention was held at Alpha-Chi Chapter in Syracuse, New York. Ten brothers and pledges of TM made the 400 mile excursion on our 1923 American La France ladder fire truck, and succeeded in creating a minor sensation on the Syracuse campus.

William McKinley Frasier, K (Transylvania), is production cost coordinator in charge of cost analysts, Douglas Aircraft Company, El Segundo, Calif.

"For the establishment of friendship on a firmer and more lasting basis; for the promotion of brotherly love and kind feeling; for the mutual benefit and advancement of the interests of those with whom we sympathize and deem worthy of our regard; we have resolved to form a fraternity, believing that, thus we can most successfully accomplish our object."

I want you to know it has been a real thrill for me to be with you tonight. I treasure the friendships I made as a Pi Kap. It was heartwarming to renew these friendships from 21 years ago with so many of you. I am pleased to see the fine job your Active Chapter is doing. I am reassured more than ever that the Pi Kap Fraternity will continue to be a fine influence for building men.

Mississippi State Has Fine Year

By Donald H. Roth

◆ Gamma-Theta Chapter played host to the faculty and students of Mississippi State College with a Christmas Open House. The house was resplendent in decorations of silver and blue. As the guests were served, medleys of fraternity and Yuletide songs were offered by the PiKA chorus.

Following the Christmas holidays, Gamma-Theta held a Hi-Fi Party in celebration of our winning the Hi-Fi set in the local Marlboro Contest.

Other social functions included a Valentine Party, which was climaxed by the release of 300 colorful balloons suspended in air.

Gamma-Theta has entertained each Social Club from Mississippi State College for Women with dancing and refreshments at the house.

The chapter initiated twenty men this spring, bringing the total to thirty-two initiates this year. We also pledged twenty-six men this spring, thanks to a fine job by Rush Chairman Harry Walton of Memphis.

Founders' Day '58 will long remain in the minds of the brothers and pledges of Gamma-Theta. National President Grant Macfarlane enthralled his audience with his speech, "The Essence of Pi Kappa Alpha." It was a rare pleasure, indeed, to have as our guest the National President and National Vice President James V. LeLaurin.

The Dream Girl Weekend, April 11-13, began with an informal picnic and dance Friday evening at Probst Park in Columbus, Miss. Saturday evening, before the dance, the Dream Girl Banquet was held at the Stark Hotel, during which a combo played dinner music. The Dream Girl dance followed in the college cafeteria. During the dance, SMC Gordon Jones presented the 1958 Dream Girl, Miss Imogene Allen, with the Dream Girl Pin. Miss Allen currently reigns as "Miss Mississippi." He presented flowers to members of the court—Tiny Morgan, Lynn Darby, Coleta Farrell and Carolyn Bunch.

Pi Kappa Alpha Directory

STATE OF OKLAHOMA

AS OF APRIL 1, 1958

As a further service to members, The Shield and Diamond is providing a directory containing a geographical listing of members of the Fraternity. Several states will be carried from time to time in the magazine. We recommend that you detach and file these in a ring binder; thereby, building up the complete directory. The listing in each issue will contain the most recent addresses for the states included. There are many members whose addresses are not now known by the National Office. We request our readers to furnish us such information.

SPECIAL NOTE TO MEN LISTED HEREIN WHO WERE INITIATED PRIOR TO 1927:

Since 1927, each initiate has paid $10.00 for a life subscription to The Shield and Diamond magazine as part of his initiation fee. Some men initiated prior to 1927 have purchased life subscriptions at $10.00 each. All others initiated prior to 1927 are classified as non-subscribers. The Fraternity has authorized the National Office to begin sending The Shield and Diamond magazine on a complimentary basis to non-subscribers. Due to the considerable additional expense involved, the Fraternity is absorbing these non-subscribers into our regular mailing list state by state as the directory is printed. We trust your quarterly fraternity magazine will bring to you and your family hours of pleasure. It is published each March, June, September, and December. Please notify the National Office, 577 University, Memphis 12, Tennessee of any change in your address.

Omaha Elects Matthews President

By Bill Kautter and Bill Nicholson

◆ Bob Matthews, ΔX (Omaha), recently attained the third leg of a very impressive grand slam when he was elected President of Delta-Chi. His other two offices are President of the Omaha University Student Council and President of the Interfraternity Council.

Miss Diane Langevin, Dream Girl of Delta-Chi Chapter (Omaha).

Bob, a junior in the college of business administration, fills in his busy schedule by maintaining his captaincy of the varsity golf team and a "B" average.

Diane Langevin was named Pi Kappa Alpha Dream Girl at the annual Garnet and Gold Ball Friday, November 17, 1957. Miss Langevin is a member of Chi Omega and is an active campus co-ed.

SMC Bob Fead presented the 1957 Dream Girl with a black carry-all and a stuffed dog. Sharon Gidley, last year's Dream Girl, gave Miss Langevin the traditional bouquet of red roses.

Gamma-Eta House Corporation President John Hein, SMC Dick Gilbert, and Executive Secretary Bob Lynn have a reunion at the Southern California Chapter House.

New House Dedicated at University of Oklahoma

By Roy P. Stewart, BO

◆ There were no rings and there was very little circus atmosphere, but there was certainly a triple activity recently when a District 10 leadership school, dedication of a gleaming new chapter house for Beta-Omicron, and a statewide Founders' Day program were all rolled into one busy weekend.

Scene of the first two parts, or acts of the drama, were at the University of Oklahoma, at Norman. The Founders' Day event, with the growing Oklahoma PiKA Alumni Association as host-sponsor, aided by actives from Beta-Omicron (Oklahoma), Gamma-Upsilon (Tulsa) and Gamma-Chi (Okla. State), was at Oklahoma City.

The leadership conference, under the coordinating eye of District President Joseph A. Wirsich and with Don Hamilton, BO, as program chairman, was attended by representatives of the host chapter and its two state companions, with five from Texas. They were Alpha-Omicron, Southwestern; Beta-Zeta, Southern Methodist; Beta-Mu, Texas; Epsilon-Gamma, Texas Tech; and Epsilon-Delta, North Texas State. Also present was a delegation from the colony at Lamar Tech, Beaumont, and a prospective colony at West Texas State, at Canyon. Epsilon-Eta Chapter, University of Houston, was the only absentee.

The leadership conference was divided into four sections with that on rushing presided over by George B. Spencer as chairman; chapter awards by Bill Rush; scholarship by Charles Hills; and social functions by Dick Courtney. Herbert Miller outlined functions of the Chapter House Commission and explained methods by which funds are available for houses.

As a companion talk, Brother Joe C. Scott, executive secretary of the Oklahoma PiKA Alumni Association and past national rushing chairman, told delegates that Oklahoma chapters have dedicated three new houses in three years; there are 1,121 members in the state, and 1,081 alumni are on the active mailing list.

An historic occasion! Past National President John Hippel applies the mortar to the cornerstone of the quarter of a million dollar Beta-Omicron Chapter House at the Univ. of Oklahoma. J. Phil Burns, campaign director (L.) and Oklahoma Alumni Association Executive Secretary Joe C. Scott participate.

The alumni association has grown from 172 in 1952.

Brother Wirsich, in reporting on the leadership conference, said the program for the upcoming year included these objectives: to increase chapter scholarship ratings; develop chapter operating proficiency; implement the district convention's wishes to award the newly offered Joe Scott trophy for the district's outstanding chapter and the Joseph Benton trophy for best scholarship in the district; develop alumni participation in active chapter affairs through various means; have a leadership school at Austin next March.

Prospects of deferred rushing at Oklahoma and elsewhere drew attention and discussion of the delegates. The consensus was that chapters opposed deferment because it took from six months to a year out of a member's prospective chapter life. The alternative, in the face of administrative action by schools, was to improve chapter activities through better scholarship, better all around chapter proficiency and pre-school rushing.

Highlight of the dedicatory ceremony for Beta-Omicron's new quarter-million dollar house was an address by John F. E. Hippel, Philadelphia, past national president, who laid the cornerstone. Assisting him were J. Phil Burns, who headed the financial campaign and Joe Scott, whose assistance and counsel have been invaluable. The stone itself, carrying the founding date of 1868, the Beta-Omicron charter date of 1920, and the 1958 house dedication, was donated by R. F. J. Williams, BO. There were 250 persons present at the ceremony.

At the Founders' Day buffet, which was attended by 202 alumni and actives, the featured address was given by Robert D. Lynn in an inspirational talk. Brother Burns presented five new members of the Diamond Life Chapter, with the statement that Oklahoma now has 37 members of that distinguished group. Brother Leland Gourley, publisher of the Henryetta Free-Lance, was chosen president of the alumni association.

Oklahoma State Enlarges Membership

By Norman L. Sturdevant

♦ Highlights of the 1957-58 school year of Gamma-Chi (Okla. State Univ.) were the Homecoming House Decoration, Dream Girl Formal, Rush Program and Spring Formal.

The homecoming house decoration, which won third place in a campus wide contest, portrayed the homecoming theme "Harvest Time," featuring Pistol Pete, one of the colorful historical figures of the university.

Charlotte Synder was crowned Dream Girl of Gamma-Chi at a lavish formal held at Lake Carl Blackwell Lodge. The lodge was decorated with boughs of holly and mistletoe in keeping with the Christmas season.

Gamma-Chi's rush activities netted 25 pledges. This accomplishment created incentive for a bigger and better rush program. The spring rush program included a Western party to which the local high school seniors and their dates were invited.

A gay spring formal climaxed Gamma-Chi's social activities for the year. Held at Stillwater's Country House April 12, prospective rushees and their date were honored guests.

Alabama Has Successful Operation

By Clarence McDorman

◆ After retiring the Hoppel Award for outstanding participation in extracurricular activities, Gamma-Alpha has continued its leadership in campus organizations.

Jim North is on the Executive Cabinet of the Student Government Association, a member of ODK, and a member of Jaxons, outstanding senior men's honorary. David Ellwanger is associate editor of the yearbook, and has been elected next year's editor.

Gamma-Alpha has also shown its leadership in religious activities. Jim Harrison is president of the Student Religious Association and president of Wesley Foundation. David Ellwanger is president of Gamma Delta, Lutheran Fellowship, and Bob Allbritton is president of Westminster Fellowship.

The chapter recently had a rush party in Selma at the home of Judge Bernard Reynolds, Gamma-Alpha alumnus, and a beautiful party at the Vestavia Country Club in Birmingham for rushees in that city. On April 12 our annual Roman Holiday was held at the University.

Working with Darcey Tatum, T, a leading Birmingham architect, the House Corporation Committee is having plans drawn for a new house which we hope to build in the near future.

Louisiana Tech Honors Jan McLane

By Kenneth Caldwell

◆ Gamma-Psi Chapter at Louisiana Tech has selected Miss Jan McLane, Kappa Delta, as the 1958 Dream Girl. The crowning of Miss McLane was a highlight of the annual Black and White spring formal. The 1958 spring formal, under the direction of Richard Barron, used as decorations a gala array of balloons which covered the ceiling of the vast hall.

Social events for the Tech Pikes have been numerous. The first two parties of the fall semester were the informal and formal rush parties. The informal rush party was held at the fraternity house with W. J. Haddad acting as the master of ceremonies. Gene Barham, Leon Barnard, and John Edwards presented a skit. The entertainment also included vocals by V. J. Casamento, John Holstead and Ken Caldwell. Coach Eddie McLane spoke to the rushees on "What It Means to Be in a Fraternity."

In October a masquerade party was given at the house using an oriental theme.

The annual Pike Hayride, which is one of the most popular events of the year, was held in March. Numerous alumni were present and talks of old times were given at the Founders' Day banquet in Shreveport. Following the banquet the boys and their dates enjoyed the Founders' Day Ball.

Fall and spring rush proved very successful for Gamma-Psi. The combined number of pledges elected was 53. This was the largest number of pledges received by any fraternity on Louisiana Tech campus. Ken Caldwell and Bobby King were in charge of the rush program.

Gamma-Psi, which won the Grand Sports Award Trophy last year, again leads all organizations in sports. The Pikes placed second in football, and second in basketball and volleyball. In the cross country run the Pikes placed first in total points. Pledge James Mays broke the record in the cross country race and Larry Bowman placed third.

Gamma-Psi Chapter lost a wonderful counselor in the fall as Coach Eddie McLane resigned as faculty advisor because of health. Brother McLane will continue as president of the House Corporation, but his absence as advisor will be felt sorely in the chapter. Gamma-Psi thanks "Coach Eddie" for his many years of loyal service to Gamma-Psi and to Pi Kappa Alpha generally. Succeeding Brother McLane as faculty advisor is James Malone assisted by A. G. McKee.

Bowling Green Presents Pi Week

◆ Delta-Beta Chapter, Bowling Green State University, concluded its fourteenth annual Pi Week March 22 in a successful fashion. Chairman of the event was Pete Gerace assisted by Hugh Miller, Don MacFayden, and Mike Wise.

All sorority presidents were guests of the Pikes for dinner Monday evening, March 17. A serenade was given by members of the chapter on Tuesday, Wednesday, the pie eating contest took place, and each fraternity and sorority on campus presented a skit. On Thursday, the ten finalists for Dream Girl of Pi Kappa Alpha were honored with a dinner at the Pike house. The Gamma Phi Beta Sorority proved their skill by thumping the Pike Intramural Five by a 15-13 score Friday. The week was climaxed Saturday evening with the Dream Girl Ball and the selection of Miss Marilyn Rudy as 1958 Dream Girl of Delta-Beta Chapter. A freshman from Cleveland, Ohio, Miss Rudy is the sister of Brother Don Rudy.

A fine group of "Silver Chapter" members (25 years) receive their awards at Beta-Mu (Texas) Founders' Day banquet.

250 Celebrate Texas Founders' Day

◆ The 250 guests of Beta-Mu Chapter began arriving in Austin Friday night for the annual Founders' Day activities which were scheduled to begin Saturday, March 1. For those who arrived early, it was a period of reunion and reminiscing.

The official program began Saturday morning with a guided tour of the University of Texas campus. The tour was coordinated with the University's 75th Anniversary program and served to point out the physical progress made by the University through the years.

At noon Saturday, there was a luncheon for the guests at the PiKA house, followed by a business session in a downtown hotel.

Saturday evening, the alumni and active members of Beta-Mu met with their wives and dates at the fraternity house for a short cocktail party. Immediately after the cocktail party, the participants were transported to the banquet hall for the highlight of the week-end's activities—the Founders' Day banquet.

After the meal, there was the presentation of awards by Beta-Mu Chapter. Two of these were the $100 Garnet and Gold Scholarship Awards presented to Ronald Rogers and Jerry Cain. The scholarships were awarded on the basis of academic achievements and service to the fraternity and university.

A third award was a silver stein awarded to Dr. George Hoffman in appreciation of his outstanding service as Faculty Advisor to Beta-Mu for the past seven years. The inscription on the stein commended Dr. Hoffman for "Dedicated Service to Pi Kappa Alpha."

Another chapter award was presented to Allan Adkins as "Outstanding Member." Allan earned the honor through his service to the university as well as to the fraternity. An honor student, Brother Adkins served as SMC, as a member of several campus committees, and as Vice-Chancellor of an honorary law fraternity.

A highlight of the evening was the presentation of Silver Chapter certificates to the 30 eligible alumni present at the banquet.

Dr. H. H. Ransom, Vice President and Provost of the University of Texas, spoke on the relationship of the fraternity system to the university. Following the banquet the group was conveyed to the fraternity house to wind up the day's activities with a dance.

Sunday morning, many members attended church to hear Dr. John Barclay, K (Transylvania). After the service, lunch was served at the PiKA house for the last meeting of the chapter alumni association until next year's Founders' Day.

G. R. Fenner, AP (Ohio State), was recently awarded a Certificate of Appreciation at the 37th Annual Meeting of American Petroleum Institute in Chicago. It was in recognition of two years' service as Chairman of the Kentucky-Ohio-Tennessee District, Oil Information Committee. Brother Fenner recently celebrated his 35th anniversary with Pure Oil Company, where he is Co-ordinator for Marketing Personnel.

He was an outstanding leader at Ohio State University, where he served as Captain of the baseball team and President of the Senior Class. He is currently doing an outstanding job as Chairman of the Advance Gifts Committee in the campaign for funds by the Alpha-Rho Chapter House Corporation.

Dr. Thor Johnson, nationally prominent director.

Dr. Thor Johnson — Renowned Musician

By George H. Zimmerman
National Music Director

◆ Dr. Thor Johnson, ΔΓ (Miami), for over a decade the Musical Director of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, will assume new and varied duties after the current symphony season comes to a close.

It has been said that what one gets out of association with a great man cannot be computed in terms of what he has said to you, or what you have done for him, but in terms of the intangible contact with his mind and character. In Dr. Johnson's presence you are aware of a genuine, warm and human spirit, a person of vast experience, a gentleman with a sincere love of people and his art. It is an honor for brothers in Pi Kappa Alpha the world over to share in our great brotherhood together.

The foremost honor that has befallen Brother Johnson is his recent appointment to the federal government's first United States Commission on the Fine Arts. Dr. Johnson will represent all areas of music in this work.

Under Public Law 860 of the 84th Congress, ten men have been chosen to advise the President, the Secretary of State, and the Congress, on all cultural matters in regard to federal organization and policies pertaining to the fine arts. The particular areas represented on this commission are: Art and Art Education, Art Museums, Art Historian, Art Patron, Television, Literature, Film and Stage, Architecture and Music. Appointments have been made by the President for a two year period as of January 15, 1958. This is the first time in history for the United States Government officially to recognize the fine arts in this manner. Such appointments have grown out of President Eisenhower's committee on arts and science, and the work of Senators Humphries and Thompson.

In addition to this national capacity, Dr. Johnson will serve music in many ways. In early May, he appeared at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan in their annual May Festival presenting the Philadelphia Orchestra and the University Choral Union.

From May through August, Dr. Johnson will be in Taipei, Formosa where he will conduct the Provincial Orchestra of Taiwan, which is the Formosan National Symphony Orchestra. During this period Dr. Johnson will conduct a clinic for Formosan conductors.

During the middle and later part of August, Brother Johnson will conduct a Music Festival at Fish Creek, Ephriam, Wisconsin which is in its sixth year of operation. In a beautiful lakeside setting, Dr. Johnson and co-musicians will offer inspirational chamber music, small ensemble, dramatic and symphonic productions.

In the fall, Dr. Johnson will assume his new duties as head of the Department of Orchestral Studies at Northwestern University, from which institution he received an Honorary Doctors degree several years ago. Also during the fall he will appear in Iceland for an engagement with the National Symphony Orchestra of Iceland. It will be his pleasure to represent the United States on a number of cultural missions during the next two years.

Members of our fraternity will follow with interest the activity of this truly great brother, Dr. Thor Johnson. A devotion to high standards of personal growth, a dedication to his musical purpose, and sincere interest in people with a keen eye for the future, bound together with love and humility, have made Dr. Johnson a great inspirational figure, musician, teacher, friend, and brother. We wish him every good thing in his new ventures. May he inspire others to go and do likewise, for the brotherhood of man.

Northwestern Carousel Wins First Place

By Richard E. Winkelman

◆ Gamma-Rho Chapter, Northwestern University, for the second year in a row won first place in the men's division of homecoming decorations. The theme was Willie's Wonder Whirl. The huge revolving carousel was brightly decorated with figures depicting various Big Ten schools.

The chapter again won the intramural trophy for first place in basketball in League I. They won second place in intramural bowling.

The annual Dream Girl Formal was held in January at the River Forest Country Club. Miss Leslie Dunn of Alpha Omicron Pi was chosen 1958 Dream Girl.

A new party was introduced this year called the Dad-e-o Drag, which was held at the Tower Club in Chicago. At this party pledge fathers and pledge sons exchanged paddles and beer mugs. Awards were presented to Rod Murtaugh, best pledge athlete; Dennis Allar, most outstanding pledge; and Larry Hecht, best pledge scholar.

California Jaycees Honor L. Jack Block

By Roy Grimm, AΣ

Staff Writer, Oakland (Calif.) Tribune

◆ L. Jack Block (AΣ, '44), successful businessman, civic leader, Pi Kappa Alpha stalwart, and an indefatigable humanitarian, has been named one of California's Five Outstanding Young Men by the California State Junior Chamber of Commerce.

When asked how he found the time to aid the blind, Northern California's youth, flood victims, handicapped children, and the human derelicts of San Francisco's "skid row," he said, simply: "There's always time if you want to look for it."

L. Jack Block

That seems to be Brother Block's creed. He can always find time to help others—whether it be to organize a San Francisco civic salute to another leader, to raise funds for a worthy cause, or to continue as he has for years to serve Pi Kappa Alpha as president of the Alpha-Sigma Alumni Association.

Henry J. Kaiser Jr. pinpointed the reason Block and four others were identified as the Golden State's outstanding young men for 1957.

"It is the ninth, the tenth, the eleventh—the unpaid hour—which they put in which brought us here to honor them," Kaiser said.

Block's work with the jobless alcoholics in one of the most blighted, depressing sections of any Western city is perhaps the most spectacular, although certainly not the only one, of his humanitarian efforts.

He is credited with raising more than $135,000 to finance James House, a Salvation Army hotel for rehabilitating men in the heart of San Francisco's South of Market slum area. Block is a member and director of the Salvation Army Advisory Board of Directors. He is treasurer of the Harbor Light Corporation of the Army, skid row division. For five successive years he has headed up in San Francisco the Salvation Army Christmas Kettle drives.

A past president of the San Francisco Lions Club and of the San Francisco Council of 10 Lions Clubs, he holds the civic club's International District Highest Service Award. He received it for the part he played in Operation Philippines, an agricultural project sponsored by Lions in the Pacific Islands.

He is a director and treasurer of the San Francisco Center for the Blind. The San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce picked him as the city's Outstanding Young Man of 1956.

Block is chairman of the Red Shield Youth Association Committee for the Salvation Army, a group working to build a new $250,000 recreation facility for underprivileged boys and girls.

He is a member of Mayor Christopher's Committee for Log Cabin Ranch for Boys, a camp for the wayward; serves on the YMCA board of management; is a director of the San Francisco Chapter, National Safety Council, and is a past president of the Golden Gate Breakfast Club.

Block, a 1940 graduate of Piedmont High School, was a leader in college. He was rushing chairman, IMC and SMC of Alpha-Sigma. He was president of his class in 1942-43 at Cal; he was captain of the varsity rugby team, and a member of the University's student governing board. He is the permanent president of Cal's Alumni Class of 1944.

Today, he and his wife and four children live in Orinda, an exclusive residential area in Contra Costa County across the bay from San Francisco where he works. He is an account executive with the securities firm of Stewart-Eubanks-Meyerson & Co.

Iowa Chapter Pledges Nineteen

By Kleber Willcockson

◆ Since the beginning of the 1957 fall semester, Gamma-Nu Chapter has been acquiring a place for itself on this campus. Bolstered by the arrival of Ted Grofer, Gamma-Nu's resident counselor, our fall rush netted us nineteen pledges. Then the ΠΚΑ wagon started to move.

The pledge class, as a unit and with the help of our housemother, organized a tea for the pledge classes of every sorority on campus. The tea was a "first" at Iowa, and it was to the pledge class' credit that it was a complete success.

A couple of weeks before Christmas vacation, our winter formal, the social highlight of the Yuletide season, complete with a dinner at the Amana Colonies, was held to everyone's delight.

Recently, Gamma-Nu observed two Founders' Day ceremonies. The first, held Saturday, March 15, at the chapter house, had for its guest speaker George Nissen, world famous trampoline manufacturer. Mr. Nissen gave a short talk, then showed a film about trampolining. Another highlight of this program was the unveiling of a new oil painting of our fraternity crest by Ken Shuey, a recent transfer from Alpha-Tau (Utah).

The second Founders' Day program was the state-wide banquet held at the Hotel Savery in Des Moines. Not only the three chapters from Iowa, Gamma-Nu, Alpha-Phi, and Delta-Omicron, but also representatives from Delta-Chi (Omaha) and Beta-Gamma (Kansas) and District President Dick Bills were present. The guest speaker for the banquet, National President Grant Macfarlane, spoke of the values of being a ΠΚΑ.

After returning from the Founders' Day ceremony, a successful initiation was held, with fourteen men being activated.

Colorado Mines Host to Convention

By Bradley E. Vote

◆ Delta-Phi Chapter was host to the District 11B convention Saturday, February 22, 1958, with four chapters represented — Gamma-Gamma (Denver), Epsilon-Theta (Colorado State), Beta-Upsilon (Colorado), and Delta-Phi (Colorado Mines).

The convention was called to order by District President Hiram Jordan at 9:00 a. m. We were then divided into four groups (Rushing, Pledge Training, Finances, and Alumni Relations) to discuss problems of each and present any ideas or improvements that would be of benefit to any or all chapters present. Earl Watkins, Chapter Service Secretary, was on hand with many helpful ideas and suggestions.

In the afternoon we saw movies of the 1956 National Convention in Mexico, followed by some closing remarks from District President Hiram Jordan.

Delta-Phi initiated recently two very fine professors on the Colorado School of Mines campus: Professor George Johnson, Department of English, and Professor Scott Marshall, Electrical Engineering Department. We are very proud to have these active alumni here on campus to assist our chapter. Through their help we look forward to a brighter future on the Colorado Mines campus.

High Point Wins Trophies

By Jack Zimmerman

◆ On March 1, Delta-Omega Chapter at High Point held its annual Gangsters Ball. Brothers, pledges, alumni and dates alike dressed as gangsters. The Woodmen of the World Lodge hall where we held our ball was decorated like a typical hangout, with gun check, dim candle lights, and swinging bar doors. The music was furnished by a twelve piece dance band also dressed in gangsters' costumes.

The Pikes have already picked up five intramural trophies this year, consisting of first place badminton singles and doubles, first place volleyball, first place basketball, and first and second place ping-pong. At the present time we have enough points to win the All Intramural Trophy for the year.

The annual Dream Girl dance was held at the beautiful Starmount Country Club in Greensboro, North Carolina, May 3.

Nester Speaks At Miami University

◆ On March 6 Delta-Gamma celebrated the 90th anniversary of our fraternity and the 11th anniversary of Pi Kappa Alpha on Miami University's campus. Our speaker for the event was William R. Nester, National Secretary. His address concerned the advancement of fraternities and the fraternity system with emphasis placed on Pi Kappa Alpha. Another highlight of the evening was our Master of Ceremonies, George Zimmerman, National Music Director and alumnus of Delta-Gamma Chapter. The credit for such an enjoyable evening goes to Ron Mason who was in charge of Founders' Day banquet.

First SMC Speaks At Georgetown Founders' Day

By Powell Westmoreland

◆ Founders' Day, held March 15 at Alpha-Omicron Chapter in Georgetown, Texas, was a big success. Two of the seven charter members returned for the occasion — Claudius Mayo Singleton of Crowley, Louisiana and Merle Thomas Waggoner of Wichita Falls, Texas.

An open house was held early in the afternoon as the alumni arrived followed by a business meeting. The wives of the alumni were honored with a tea given by the pledges.

At the banquet that night Robert Duke, National Expansion Director, spoke on "The Values of the National Fraternity." Bob Coyner was presented with the new SMC badge by Brother Singleton, our chapter's first SMC.

Utah State Wins Awards

By Jay Monson

◆ The brothers of Gamma-Epsilon, Utah State University, may have to build a new trophy case, just to house the trophies won this year. The USU Pikes have won six trophies thus far and plan to win at least four more. The brothers have taken first place in football, basketball, bowling, Winter Carnival, Open House and scholarship. The four objects of competition left on the agenda are volleyball, softball, track and the campus intramural trophy. If the brothers win the coveted intramural award, they will once again be the only fraternity on campus to win all three major award cups—scholarship, Open House and intramurals—in one year.

Fine Rensselaer House Dedicated

By Ted Pateas

◆ The curved flagstone path is a new sight at Gamma-Tau, as is the chapter house to which it leads. This house, the culmination of years of extensive planning and endless correspondence, purports the very significance of ΦΦΚΑ.

Embodied here, we have the efforts of those brothers, long since graduated, by whom the embryo of the dream of a new chapter house was formed. The efforts of all the brothers in such varied fields as direct recommendations with regard to functional design, as well as the sale of bonds to assist in the financing and intensive rushing to increase the size of the chapter, have been rewarded by the completion of a 30 room house, ultra modern in design and fitted precisely to our needs.

The concrete and lumber that filled our yard one year ago has taken form and developed character. This transition did not occur by mere chance—not through the smile of Lady Luck, nor by mere desire. There were obstacles which intervened as we headed toward our goal that seemed insurmountable. Past SMC John Fisher had reason enough more than once to terminate the entire project. Exhorted, however, by the advice and assistance that flowed continuously from the National Office, and bolstered by a well founded faith in the bonds of Pi Kappa Alpha, he led us successfully through the most delicate situations and trying times.

In this task, he found willing and able assistance from Bill DeMers and George Shako, our corporation directors, without whose sage advice the project would have failed. In Peter Anthony of the class of '57, we found an excellent coordinator, and it was he who chaired the new house committee. Bob Lynn and Dave Powers, both distinguished and beloved throughout the national fraternity, were singularly instrumental in the successful fulfillment of our long cherished dream.

That all of these people were not able to be present at the dedication of our new chapter house was the only cause for regret on the weekend of March 2. On this weekend, Gamma-Tau was pleased to welcome back the class of '54 as well as all the other returning alumni, and to have them celebrate Founders' Day with us. The dedication of the new house was only one of the highlights of a fine weekend. At the Founders' banquet held at the Crossroads Inn, National Secretary Bill Nester delivered an eloquent speech which was meaningful and inspiring.

It was a pleasure to guide the returning alumni and the other guests through the new structure. The house, which consists of three wings, split level, each of which contains six study rooms and two sleeping rooms, and a fourth central wing wherein are located both heating and bath facilities, received only favorable comments.

We enjoy the benefits of the newly constructed house, but it is to those who came before us that the credit must go. The architect, Bud Cadman, and the contractor, Joe Cahill, gave us a very beautiful and comfortable house which will serve us well. But everyone who worked toward this goal of ours gave us something far more important. They gave us a clear understanding of what it means to be able to close a letter with "Yours in the bonds." It is for this that we take this opportunity on behalf of the present and future members of Gamma-Tau to say a heartfelt, "Thanks."

Pittsburgh Enjoys Spring Outing

◆ Gamma-Sigma Chapter at the University of Pittsburgh is planning its annual spring formal during a weekend outing at the Lawrence Hotel, Erie, Pa., June 6-8.

The chapter's activities for the year began with a homecoming entry in the float parade during the Pitt-Syracuse football game. We, with the help of Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority, won second place.

Of the forty-two actives, thirteen of which were initiated this fall, three are presidents of their classes. Bob Lipinski and Tom Autin are president and vice president, respectively, of the freshman class; Bob DiCicco is president of the sophomore class; and Bert O'Malley heads the junior class. Bert is also president of IFC.

Special feature of the winter formal in January was the recognition of the "Dream Girl of 1958." Polly Swanson, Chi Omega, accepted the Dream Girl pin from Helen McLain, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Gamma-Sigma celebrated Founders' Day with Beta-Sigma Chapter at Carnegie Tech.

Stetson Man Elected IFC President

◆ This has been a very eventful year for the men of Magnolia Manor. The latest honor to be bestowed on one of the brothers is the election of Ted Watson to the IFC presidency. Ted succeeds Brother Fred Slaughter.

The Pikes are currently in third place in overall intramural standings. We have captured the championship in the White League basketball standings.

Delta-Iota Brothers at Marshall College line up for the big blood drive.

Jungle explorer Otis Imboden, husband of Mrs. Joan Imboden, member of the National Office staff, is shown "at work" in Colombia. He and his crew are carving out a route for the final link of the Pan American Highway south of Panama City. Mr. Imboden was a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon at Memphis State University.

Delta-Upsilon is also strong in scholarship, as we have just won the campus-wide Quiz Bowl, after a 17-16 victory over the SPE's. The Quiz Bowl team consisted of Brothers Watson, Thurber and Pledge Turncotte.

We have had a very successful social season this year. It began with a victory party after rush season in which 25 of the best men on campus were pledged. A Roaring Twenties party in the old Pike tradition was held just before the Christmas holidays.

Our efforts in the homecoming lawn decorations earned a second place award. Our rifle team has also received a second place in the campus-wide rifle match.

Delta-Upsilon (Stetson) Dream Girl Evangeline Stavoulakis and Outstanding Pledge Frank Teets happily receive their honors.

March 14 the whole chapter journeyed to the Mayfair Inn at Sanford, Florida for our annual Founders' Day banquet. It was our pleasure to have National Alumni Secretary U. S. Gordon as guest speaker. Frank Teets was named outstanding pledge, and Miss Evangeline Stavoulakis was presented as Dream Girl.

Auburn Member Student Body President

By Sam Gammill

◆ Sonny Stein, T, has recently become Auburn's new Student Body President—the third Pike President in the past five years.

In keeping with Upsilon's traditions and ideals, Brother Stein has proven to be a leader in both fraternity and campus activities. In past years he has achieved the honors of Freshman Senator, Chairman of Student Affairs, Superintendent of Auburn Spirit (which no doubt led Auburn to become Number One in the nation), and member of O.D.K. He has also participated in and held various chapter offices. A Naval Midshipman at Auburn, Sonny will receive a commission into the Navy upon graduation.

Mrs. Helen Dixon of Atlanta became our new housemother during the early months of the winter quarter. Much hard work, devotion, and understanding have won her Upsilon's love and respect. We think she's tops on campus.

On February 21, Upsilon held its annual winter formal. Following tradition, dates moved into the house for the weekend, and the brothers, against their wishes, moved out. That evening all enjoyed a banquet and the Dream Girl Ball. The highlight of the evening was the selection of Miss Sara Alice Stephens of Louisville, Alabama, to reign as the 1958-59 Dream Girl. Members of her court were Mrs. Sylvia Smith and Miss Foy Ann Halstead. An informal party the next afternoon and church Sunday morning concluded the weekend.

Eleven fine, new brothers have recently been initiated into the ranks of Upsilon.

Montana State Holds Pi Week

By Floyd K. Haugen

◆ Gamma-Kappa's annual "Pi Week," the drive to raise money for the March of Dimes, was held in January. Pi Week was started by the Pi Kaps at Montana State College six years ago when one of our brothers was stricken with the dreaded disease, polio. Since that time we have contributed nearly $2,000 to help curb the crippling disease.

This year was one of our most successful years thus far, thanks to the wonderful cooperation given us by local radio stations, television, newspapers, and fraternities and sororities on the Montana State campus.

The money donated to the March of Dimes is raised by selling pie and coffee to students, faculty members, and local citizens who gather in the chapter house. Various entertainment groups from the organized houses on campus provide musical or comical talents to entertain the guests. A local radio station broadcasted a two hour program directly from the chapter house this year, and many times throughout the week they presented free advertisements about "All of the Crust with Pie Filling Between" that the boys at 502 South Grand had to sell for the March of Dimes. This year nearly 2,000 pies were sold in three short evenings, thanks to the publicity we received.

For each pie sold, the purchaser was allowed to cast one vote for his or her favorite candidate for "Miss Pi Week." One candidate was selected from each of the six sororities on campus. This encouraged considerable spirit among the sororities and fraternities who competitively supported their favorite.

The week is climaxed by the Pi Week Mixer, an all school dance which is held in the Student Union Ballroom. The highlights of the evening are the crowning of "Miss Pi Week" and the fraternity and sorority Pie Eating Contests. Three blueberry pies are eaten by the girls while five are eaten by the boys. The fact that the winner of the men's contest ate his five pies in less than 30 seconds proves that there is considerable spirit among the contestants. The pie eating contest was filmed this year and televised over most of the leading TV stations in Montana.

The girls forget Emily Post as they press for victory in Gamma-Kappa's Pi Week Contest.

Gamma-Kappa (Montana State) Dream Girl Lelia Sulivan casts her vote for her favorite "Miss Pi Week" candidate. Sully is a member of AOII.

Since our Pi Week drives had been so successful in the past, the Pi Kaps were given the sponsorship of the entire campus drive for the March of Dimes this year. The overall Pi Week drive netted a profit of $340 and the all campus drive an additional $100.

Colorado Enjoys Ski Sojourn

By David N. Brietson

◆ Beta-Upsilon Chapter at Colorado sojourned to the historical town of Leadville, Colorado in March for their annual ski-outing. This year the party was a particular success, for over 100 people attended the function.

As usual, there were the "pseudo-skiers" who through complete oversight neglected to bring their skis or any other equipment. When the traversing of the slopes was over, all enjoyed a salubrious prime rib dinner, and afterwards there ensued more festivities.

Two ski runs atop the 11,000 foot Continental Divide were available to the would be Olympic stars. Most of the couples decided to try both runs, and proof of their adroitness on the slats was vindicated by the absence of broken bones.

The promise of spring brings with it the anticipation of the Dream Girl Formal which will be held at the picturesque Brook Forest Chalet high in the Colorado Rockies. Along with this gratifying prospect, the Pi Kaps of Colorado University also look forward to the Sunday mountain parties and the gala "C. U. Days" in the month of May.

Delta-Theta (Arkansas State) Song Leader Sharon Faulkner is surrounded by a bevy of lovely girls, Barbara Burns, AOII, Ann Vance, ΦM, and Jackie Layton, AOII, as he receives the fraternity All Sing Trophy.

Gamma-Gamma (Denver) members are preparing for their annual valentine gift to each of the sororities on campus.

Beta-Upsilon (Colorado) members enjoy a weekend ski party in the beautiful Rocky Mountains.

Chapter Eternal

VERNON T. WHITE, JR.

First Lieutenant Vernon T. White, Jr., FK (Montana State), was killed March 27, 1958 when the C-119 he was aboard collided with a C-124 near Bridgeport, Texas. At the time of his death, he was stationed at Carswell Air Force Base, Texas where he was a Chemical-Biological-Radiological officer in the 7th Operations Squadron of the 19th Air Division, SAC.

Brother White graduated from Montana State College in 1954. After receiving his wings at Williams Air Force Base, he spent a year in Iceland serving as a helicopter rescue pilot. He leaves his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon T. White, Sr., of Cut Bank, Montana.

MILBY PORTER

Milby Porter, II (Washington and Lee), Spanish American War veteran, died January 18, 1958 in the Veterans Hospital, Houston, Texas. He served as First Lieutenant in the Army of Occupation in Cuba. A Golden Member of Pi Kappa Alpha, Brother Porter was initiated by Pi Chapter in 1894. He was one of the few remaining members of the class of 1896 at Virginia Military Institute.

Brother Porter was very active in the real estate business in Houston for many years, and was one of the founders of the Houston Country Club. An enthusiastic golfer, he was credited with the beautiful course that was developed there.

A member of the Palmer Memorial Episcopal Church, he leaves his widow, Mrs. Ruth O. Ely Porter of Houston.

ROBERT BRUCE CARTER

Robert Bruce Carter, ΔT (Stetson), was killed December 26, 1957 in an automobile accident fifty miles northwest of Atlanta, Georgia. At the time of his death, Bobby was assistant football coach at Florida Military School, Deland, Florida. An outstanding member of Delta-Upsilon Chapter, he was a member of the S Club.

ROBERT MATTHEW BARON

Robert Matthew Baron, ΓΩ (Miami), died January 5, 1958 as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident. A native of Union, New Jersey, he was a sophomore in the School of Business Administration at the University of Miami. Outstanding in the fraternity's intramural program, he was greatly esteemed by the members of Gamma-Omega Chapter.

Peter D. Minick Fatally Injured

By S. D. Wallace, Jr.

◆ Delta-Alpha Chapter (George Washington University) was overwhelmed by the loss of Peter Daniel Minick, 23, when he was killed December 14, 1957 in a collision with a fire truck in Washington, D. C. The tragedy was compounded by the death of Miss Elizabeth Ross of Washington, D. C. Four young people were en route to a pre-holiday pledge formal.

Pete came to Washington University in 1956 to major in Foreign Affairs since he planned to enter the U. S. Foreign Service. His many activities in Delta-Alpha Chapter included publicity chairman for the Shipwreck Ball and chairman of House Decorations for Homecoming. His record at George Washington was characterized by a high scholastic average.

A scholarship fund bearing his name has been established at George Washington University by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Minick of Springfield, Mo.

Zeta Loses Frances Johnston

Editor's Note: One of Pi Kappa Alpha's first and grandest Dream Girls, Miss Frances Johnston, died in Knoxville January 24, 1958. An article on "Miss Johnnie" appeared in the June, 1954 Shield and Diamond magazine. Her many friends will be interested in this letter from her brother and the tribute paid to her by Dr. Charles Rudder at the 1958 Knoxville Founders' Day banquet.

February 8, 1958

The Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity
577 University
Memphis, Tennessee

Dear Friends:

Please accept from us, the brothers and sisters of Frances Johnston, our deep, heartfelt appreciation of your thoughtful remembrance at the time of her death and of the many kindnesses which you have shown her over the years.

Thanks so much for all that the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity has meant to her through the years.

It is our sincere best wish that the future of each member of your group may be as rich in happiness as your friendship has enriched Frances' life.

Sincerely,
s/ James S. Johnston

A Tribute to Zeta's First Dream Girl

By Charles S. Rudder, D.D.S., Z

◆ It is a high privilege for me to say a few words regarding the late Miss Frances Johnston, our beloved Miss Johnnie, who was the first Dream Girl of Zeta Chapter. In 1902 she came to the University of Tennessee and served for 47 years, retiring as assistant registrar in 1949. For a half century she was the unofficial secretary of our chapter, corresponding with various members throughout the world, and many were the services which she rendered for us during this time. Then, too, I should like to remind you that in 1902 the University of Tennessee was a small institution and Zeta Chapter had only a few members. With the smallness of the chapter, its problems were large and this first Dream Girl was always willing to help share in the problems of the chapter or the problems of any individual PiKA.

Although, when elected the Dream Girl of PiKA she might have put someone's head in a whirl, we love her for the fact that again and again she was able by her sound advice and help to change a whirling brain into a complacent brain. Many are the fellows who have gone to her when their minds were astir and beset with fears, but through her advice, wisdom and service, she turned the tempests into tranquility. She was the type of Dream Girl who was never far away. She was always near at hand when needed. She was true to the trust that she was bearing.

The most luscious apple grows high in the tree where it receives the first kiss of the morning sun and the last caress of its rays before it sinks behind the horizon, and because of its altitude the apple remains on the tree to ripen, and sometimes is never plucked. And so Miss Johnnie was never married, but she became sweeter and more loyal to PiKA the longer she lived. The loveliest part of the day very often is after the sun is set behind the horizon, when it casts its rays against the sky, reflecting the beautiful ambers, reds, and the other glowing colors of the sunset. And so Miss Johnnie has dropped from our view, but we still may reflect in the beauty of her life and pause for a few moments to lift a love note to her who always gave of herself, her sympathy and understanding to homesick and troubled PiKA's.

Paul Cotton Named To Hall of Fame

◆ Paul Cotton was selected for the 1958 Hall of Fame at Mississippi Southern College. He was one of four seniors selected for this honor.

Paul hails from McComb, Mississippi, and is a senior majoring in Music Education. He has been very active in religious work, social music, and student government during his four years on the campus.

Some of his honors include: President of Wesley Foundation, president of the Mississippi Methodist Student Movement, and Youth Representative to the National Board of Education of the Methodist Church representing youth from ten southeastern states. In the music line he has had five leading roles in the Opera Workshop and is a member of the vespers choir. In student government he is serving as first vice president. A member of Omicron Delta Kappa (leadership fraternity), Pi Tau Chi (religious fraternity), Kappa Delta Pi (education fraternity), and Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia (music fraternity), he has been named to Who's Who.

Paul has been accepted by the Methodist Board of Missions as a three year missionary to Panama.

Turbyfill Speaks To Phi Theta Kappa's

◆ Subert Turbyfill, a Diamond Life Member from Beta-Omicron (Oklahoma), was the keynote speaker for the National Convention of Phi Theta Kappa fraternity in Brevard, North Carolina in April. Phi Theta Kappa is the national junior college equivalent of Phi Beta Kappa in the four-year colleges of the nation.

Subert Turbyfill

Brother Turbyfill was a professional stock company actor and reader of full-evening plays for years after graduation and has had a wealth of experience as a professional public speaker. He has been a special visiting lecturer during summer sessions and a guest speaker in assemblies in colleges and universities, particularly in Arizona, Oklahoma, and New Mexico. Listed in Who's Who in American Education, he is a director of the Little Theater, Balboa College, Canal Zone.

Houston Retains Scholarship Lead

◆ Epsilon-Eta Chapter began the fall semester at the University of Houston with 30 active members. Rush under the direction of Chairman Harry Searle resulted in a fine pledge class of thirty-six.

Epsilon-Eta
(Houston)
Dream Girl
Barbara Scott,
ΧΩ.

The first school activity of the year was homecoming. Using the theme "A Gift for the Queen," our chapter entered "Aladdin's Lamp," and was awarded first place.

The second big event of the year was the University of Houston annual Greek Songfest. We again won first place singing "The Ballad of Pi Kappa Alpha" and "The Happy Wanderer" under the direction of Russell Orr.

In intramural sporting events Epsilon-Eta won first place in football, third place in volleyball, second place in basketball, and is well on the way toward retaining possession of the all sports trophy.

The pledges, as their project during "Help Week," completely redecorated the fraternity house under the supervision of House Manager Gene Tanner.

Spring rush under the direction of George Overton resulted in 16 new pledges with Phillip Fitzgerald serving as pledge master.

Dr. Frank Lancaster was principal speaker for the Founders' Day banquet held at the Texas State Hotel.

Spring activity of Epsilon-Eta is centered around the annual campus presentation, "Frontier Fiesta," the "greatest college show on earth." We are looking forward to winning the top show award for our "Crow's Nest" based on a pirate theme and featuring a sensational underwater ballet. The show is under the direction of Harry Searle.

We proudly retain our top position in scholarship with an overall grade point well above the all campus men's average.

Ronald R. Cowden, an alumnus of Alpha-Gamma (Louisiana State) & Beta-Delta (New Mexico), received his Bachelor of Science degree from Louisiana State University in 1953. He studied at the University of Cologne, Germany, and at the University of Vienna, Austria, majoring in General Biology. He received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from the latter institution in 1956. After a year with the Public Health Service at Oak Ridge National Laboratory, he accepted an appointment as Assistant Professor of Biology at Johns Hopkins University, where he is currently doing research work.

Dr. Maynard Phelps, BT (Michigan), Professor of Marketing at the University of Michigan and President of the American Marketing Association, stated in a recent Chicago address that many mergers on tax advantages lacked sufficient compatibility or alignment in marketing, in manufacturing, in research or engineering to make real, long-range gains possible. He said the "urge to merge" in recent years can be expected to reverse itself in the near future with many companies divesting themselves of their uneconomic acquisitions.
