CHAPLAIN'S CORNER

Dear Fellows,

A well known American, who talks and writes at length on every conceivable subject, has said, "Most of the trouble in the world today is caused by men monkeying with the multiplication table and the Ten Commandments". Anyone who talks as much as he does is bound to say something good sometime. And he has really diagnosed the situation in the world today.

There are those who are supposed to be leaders in American life who are continually "monkeying with the multiplication table" and trying to make two and two equal five. It just can't be done. Many nations have tried it and failed. If we as a nation spend more than we receive in taxes and customs, we are heading for bankruptcy, just as truly as an individual is under the same circumstances.

And there are those who seem to want to amend the Ten Commandments, this basic law upon which all of life is built if the structure of life is to have any stability. Right is right, and wrong is wrong, whatever revolution and change may take place in the life of any nation or individual.

College men would do well to heed the dictum of life stated above and realize that there are certain unvarying factors which must guide all men and nations.

There are some hard, cold facts of life which face every college man. Chief among these is the fact that education, while most valuable, is a costly thing. You or somebody else is putting up good money that you may be prepared in the best possible way for the inevitable struggle in the world outside. It is just good business to apply one's self to the business at hand which is application to study and research.

Pi Kappa Alpha is stressing scholarship more and more in the men whom it selects to become brothers in our sacred bonds—not that we want a lot of long-haired boys who stick their noses in a book and stay there for four years. They are wasting good opportunities to develop leadership and the social graces which are equally important with scholarship and are important phases of college and university life.

Not only do individuals sacrifice in order for us to secure an education. Every state and many churches and independent groups maintain institutions of higher learning in which education is subsidized by the citizens or members or endowments. No student in any college or university in the country today pays all of the cost of his education.

And just as important is the fact that the Ten Commandments must be our guide in the development of character which is the greatest asset any person can possess. There is not one standard for college men, and another for those who do not have the privilege of college training. Sometime we excuse college men for actions which are at variance with acknowledged axioms of right and wrong by saying, "Boys will be boys". But boys will also be men and the standards which we set for ourselves as boys will be the standards which will guide us as men.

Pi Kappa Alpha is a noble brotherhood built upon tried and true ideals of manhood. If we would contribute our part in the making of our beloved Fraternity greater in the days ahead, we must learn to differentiate between the good and bad, the true and the false, the cheap and the valuable, and choose rightly.

EPSILON-NU CHARTERED

The Pi Alpha local fraternity at Georgia State College, Atlanta, Georgia, became the Epsilon-Nu chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha on February 25, 1960. Twenty-seven charter members were initiated including the Assistant Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences.

The formal individual initiation ceremonies of the charter members were held at St. Luke's Episcopal Church Wednesday, February 24. Initiating the new fraternity were undergraduate teams from Beta-Kappa Chapter (Emory University) and Alpha-Delta Chapter (Georgia Tech).

Preceding the ceremonies, Administrative Assistant David A. Collins administered the National Pledge Tests and made the arrangements for the installation in conjunction with Dr. Robert L. McLeod, Executive Director.

Thursday, March 25, the second part of the ceremony took place with the chartering of the new chapter. Presiding over the installation was National Secretary L. A. McCadl and Dr. McLeod. The installation team was furnished by Alpha-Mu Chapter (University of Georgia).

Atlanta's 93rd annual Founders' Day Banquet, which was held the same day as the installation of Epsilon-Nu Chapter, was attended by all the new initiates.

A reception was held in the Student Lounge at the College and refreshments were served to all fraternity and sorority members, faculty departmental heads, and administrators at the College.

Dean and Mrs. Paul G. Blount held a reception at their home on Sunday following the ceremonies to close the weekend activities. Dean Blount, the EN faculty advisor, was among the charter members initiated.

Since its inception in 1956, the Pi Alpha fraternity had worked towards affiliation with Pi Kappa Alpha. In the original group of eight members, there were three PIKA brothers and three PIKA pledges. The Pi Alpha pledge pins were garnet and gold and the fraternity pin was similar to the "Pike" pin.

At the first meeting of the Pi Alphas four basic goals were established: to stress scholarship, to promote brotherhood, to develop leadership, and ultimately to obtain a charter from the Pi Kappa Alpha National Fraternity.

The Pi Alphas strove to keep a close relationship with the PiKa chapters from Georgia, Emory and Georgia Tech. Many successful joint functions were held with these chapters, including a party given by the Pi Alphas for all "Pikes" following the Georgia-Mississippi, and the Georgia Tech-Auburn football games this past season. Over 300 persons attended with brothers and pledges from five chapters.

Pi Alpha has endeavored to excel in every field. Realizing the opportunity and need for an interfraternity council at Georgia State, the first brothers of Pi Alpha were instrumental in its formation.

Pi Alpha won the interfraternity council athletic trophy during the 1956-57 and the 1957-58 school years, and is currently co-champion for 1958-59. Pi Alpha received a trophy for their skit during the 1959 Greek Week, and their Dream Girl was selected Greek Week Queen for 1959-60.

Pi Alpha's most outstanding achievement during 1957-58 was earning the highest academic average of all fraternities on camps.

The brothers of Epsilon-Nu hold prominent positions in all religious organizations, two national military fraternities, the "G" club, several business fraternities, and many other local organizations. They have also participated in numerous fund raising campaigns sponsored by the school.

Epsilon-Nu SMC Jon Williams made this statement to Pi Kappa Alpha for the new chapter:

"We are quite proud of our accomplishments since we have been competing with five national social Greek letter fraternities. I feel confident in assuring you that, with Pi Alpha becoming the EN chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha, we will surpass our previous accomplishments and will be a credit to you."

The elected officers of EN are: SMC Jon Williams, Atlanta, Ga.; IMC Walter Fountain, Decatur, Ga.; Th. C. Richard Shivers, Atlanta, Ga.; S. C. James Brunt, Raleigh, N. C.; M. C. Reynolds Couch, Decatur, Ga.; Historian Ronnie Chastain, Atlanta, Ga. The faculty advisor is Dr. Paul G. Blount.

An Insurance Program . . . for Your Survival

By LEO A. HOEGH, Director
Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization

It has been a long time since I was a student at the University of Iowa. But I often think back to those days and recall my happy association with Pi Kappa Alpha.

It has been suggested that I submit to the Shield & Diamond a short article on civil defense. I welcome the opportunity.

You will recall the traditional high school commencement address, in which the speaker assures you that you "are embarking upon turbulent seas." That platitude has been uttered for years. But when the speaker says it at your forthcoming graduation exercises, he will be telling you the truth.

We live in the atomic age. Only the common sense, good will and energetic statesmanship of man can protect civilization, as we know it today, from the dangers of this age.

An accident of judgment, an order from an irresponsible leader anywhere, could conceivably plunge the world into a holocaust. Millions could die.

Leo A. Hoegh, TN

This is a most somber and sobering prospect. For a time many Americans preferred an ostrich-like approach, seeming to hope that if they paid no attention to the threat it would go away. It is not that easy. But neither is the situation hopeless. Today Americans are rallying to face up to the H-bomb era problems and to find solutions.

Many individuals and organizations both in and out of government are working diligently to solve the problems of living in the nuclear age. Mankind always has risen to the challenge of changed situations, and mankind is meeting that challenge today. We are happy to report to you that the answers are being found and that we can look forward with confidence to a future in which the atom will be the servant, not the terrifying master, of man.

I shall not go into details about military defense as my job is in the field of non-military defense. The two are necessary complements to each other, however. Our great objective is to prevent war. The capacity to retaliate against an aggressor is the essential basis of our effort to minimize the danger of war.

This military power to retaliate is not enough, however. There also must be the power to absorb any blow an enemy may deliver against us. There must be the power to save the lives of our people and to save the resources they need to survive and recover.

This power to survive and recover in itself strengthens the deterrent to war, for any possible aggressor must take it into account as he weighs the advantages and disadvantages of an attack upon our country.

It is the task of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization to make the home front so strong it can survive nuclear attack—and recover.

Two of the major goals of OCDM are to:

- (1) Inform people of nuclear hazards and how to meet them.
- (2) Prepare governments at all levels to lead, direct, and execute actions required for survival and recovery.

We cannot afford the luxury of leisure in either of these areas. It isn't that we expect an attack, or predict an attack. The urgency we feel is a product of the power of the H-bomb—and these facts:

- (1) Russia is dedicated to the pledge that it will rule the world.
- (2) Russia has weapons so powerful that each could destroy a city.
- (3) Faster and faster delivery systems are being developed.

In the event of nuclear attack upon us, survival for days or weeks could be starkly, intimately personal, with no one able to help. This would be because of fallout, the most far-reaching threat of the H-bomb, which would pin down all survivors for indefinite periods of time.

To lessen the threat against survival, OCDM is vigorously pushing a nationwide program of education and example. Every individual in America—and you, as college students who should be at the very front of this effort—must know certain things for your own survival and that of your family. They are:

Warning signals and what they mean.

Your community plan for emergency action.

Protection from radioactive fallout.

First aid and home emergency preparedness.

Use of CONELRAD—640 or 1240 on your radio dial—for official directions in emergency.

Soon you will assume the responsibility of establishing a home and a family. I cannot urge you too strongly to include shelter against fallout in your plans for a home. Shelter against radioactive fallout is an essential element in family security today, as essential as shelter against storm has always been in the past.

It need not be an expensive project. A do-it-yourself shelter in your basement can be built for as little as $150 to $200.

If in business, see that a program is developed for continuation of your firm and preservation of its records in the event of attack. OCDM is hard at work on a program to assure continuity of government at all levels.

In short, get yourself actively interested in civil defense; contact your local civil defense office; learn the simple but vitally important facts NOW. It will be too late after an attack.

Author Donates Book To Library

Colonel John D. Langston, charter member and No. 3 on the Alpha-Psi chapter roll at Duke University, has recently contributed his book of poems entitled LIFE'S GLEANINGS to the Harvey T. Newell Memorial Library.

The now-retired North Carolina lawyer, soldier and one-time newspaper publisher is the holder of two Distinguished Service Medals. In World War I he served as assistant director of the draft; in World War II he was assistant director of the National Selective Service and chairman of the President's Board of Appeals.

His collection of poems are a gentle but embracing survey of the beauty and wonders of nature, the fallacies and the greatness of mankind, the wondrous warmth of family ties and human relationships to God, and the moods and activities of "just plain people."

One Hundred Fifty Gather In Denver

by Donald Guerriero

One hundred fifty alumni and undergraduates gathered in Denver March 3rd to observe Founders' Day. Assembling in the South American Room of the beautiful Continental Denver Hotel, brothers from the entire state of Colorado enjoyed renewing old acquaintances and making new ones.

District President Hiram Jordan introduced a varied program of after dinner topics including a film on the 1958 National Convention, presentation of silver certificates, and a report on the Gamma-Gamma house building project.

Further highlights of the program were president reports from our chapters at Colorado School of Mines, Colorado State University, Denver University, and Colorado University.

As a highlight of the evening, Grant Macfarlane of Salt Lake City gave an inspiring address on the value of a large chapter in the fraternity system. Brother Macfarlane explained the many advantages to be found in a large chapter and inspired many of the brothers to work with renewed vigor in building bigger and better PiKA chapters in Colorado.

Marathon Victory At New Mexico

Four Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity brothers at the University of New Mexico decided to do something constructive rather than engage in the silly business of packing a phone booth.

Their serious project was a marathon bridge game! According to a recent article in SPORTS ILLUSTRATED, they played and played and played and played.

After 24 hours, Jim Brown said his eyes felt tired. After 62 hours Sam Gray, Jr., said he couldn't remember the rules. After 69 hours Jack Fink asked where his cards were—he was holding them. After 73 hours Terry Duffy said he couldn't play because he kept seeing a body lying on the table.

At 75 hours the game broke up and Pi Kappa Alpha claimed a world marathon bridge record.

When interviewed by newsmen, S.M.C. Neil Frumkin gave out this profound statement to the press: "Any university can stuff a telephone booth."

Administration Sounds Death Knell At Rutgers

by Joe Quade, President
Alpha-Psi Alumni

After having been on the Rutgers University Campus since 1913, the "death knell" sounded for the Alpha-Psi chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha in May, 1959. The University, in its drive to have all the social fraternities remove restrictive clauses from their constitutions, rescinded the Pi Kappa Alpha charter on the Rutgers campus. Prior to this action, the alumni representatives held a number of meetings with the undergraduates, the National officers, and the University representatives. These meetings produced little in the way of results in the face of the strong University position which has changed drastically after several decades of compatible relations.

As a result of the University's action, Alpha-Psi found itself "off-campus", but still in possession of the chapter house at 32 Union St. Throughout the summer, several prospective purchasers were contacted, and finally arrangements were made for the sale of the house to the Phi Sigma Kappa Fraternity, a local group on the Rutgers Campus.

Thus, after 46 years, Alpha-Psi is no longer on the Rutgers University campus. However, we are "standing by" waiting for the day when we will be able to meet the University requirements, and petition the respective officials for approval to return to the campus.

Alumni Officers: The recently elected officers of the Alpha-Psi Alumni Group (Alpha-Psi Chapter House Association) are:

President, Joe Quade; Vice President, Ralph Hilmer; Secretary, Ron Rogers; Treasurer, Dick Metzger; Members-at-large: Matt DiGiamo, Charles Fowler, Frank Heenan, Ed Jones.

On Friday night, March 25th, the Alumni of Alpha-Psi Chapter joined with other Pi Kappa Alpha alumni now residing in Northern New Jersey to pay honor to the Founders of our Fraternity. A banquet dinner was held at the Rock Spring Corral in West Orange, and we were fortunate in having as guest speaker, Don O'Neal, President of District I.

Memphis Founders' Day At University Club

by Edward B. Ballou, Jr.

Two hundred and eleven alumni, actives, and pledges of Pi Kappa Alpha, with their wives and dates, made up an overflow crowd at the annual Founders' Day dinner dance on Friday evening, March 4, at the University Club in Memphis, Tennessee.

The invocation was delivered by Reverend James A. Warren, the toastmaster was Robert H. Horton, and introductions were handled by Earl Watkins, president of the Memphis Alumni Association. The main address was delivered by Dr. Freeman H. Hart, professor at the University of Florida. Dr. Hart made an inspiring talk about his experiences with the fraternity as author of The History of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Dr. Hart had appeared on a local radio station just prior to the banquet and made another address the following evening before a Pi Kappa Alpha group in Jackson, Mississippi.

Dr. John Beard was in charge of all arrangements for the evening and was assisted by John Simmons and Allen Holland in the decorations.

It was certainly a wonderful and enjoyable evening for all who attended.

McFarland Promoted To Regional Director

Robert M. McFarland, former Executive Secretary of Pi Kappa Alpha, recently assumed the post of Regional Director of Insurance Information Institute, 319 Trust Company of Georgia Building, Atlanta 3, Georgia.

Brother McFarland, an alumnus of Alpha-Delta Chapter, Georgia Tech, has served as an officer of the Southeast Underwriters Association. The new organized public relations association of capital stock insurance companies handling fire, casualty, surety and inland marine insurance is a successor to the division of the Southeast Underwriters Association.

The Institute covers the entire United States. The southeast region includes nine states.

Brother McFarland resides at 1499 Emory Road, N.E., Atlanta 6, Georgia, with his wife, Mary Palmer, and two sons. Jack is an alumnus of Alpha-Delta Chapter at Georgia Tech and Bob is currently a member of Beta Chapter at Davidson College.

Dr. Freeman H. Hart speaks in Memphis.

Herbert Miller Receives Diamond Badge

On March 11, 1960, some seventy-five members and alumni gathered at the Hyperian Field Club near Des Moines, Iowa, to commemorate the founding of our fraternity.

After an excellent dinner sponsored by the newly formed Central Iowa Alumni Association, those present listened with interest as Charles L. Freeman, National Treasurer, gave the main address. Brother Freeman had braved inclement weather to drive from Bloomington, Illinois to Des Moines.

Richard N. Bills, president of District Nine, flew in from Kansas City to act as master of ceremonies. Thanks to Brother Bills for a fine job!

Brothers Freeman and Bills were both presented certificates naming them honorary members of the Central Iowa Alumni Association while they were in Des Moines.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of a diamond fraternity pin to Herbert Miller (AΦ-1913), given in appreciation of his many years of devotion to PiKA.

Brother Miller began his long career in 1909 as a member of the local fraternity which was installed as Alpha-Phi chapter in 1913. Since that time he has served in a number of capacities. Since 1940 has been secretary of the National Chapter House Commission.

Brother Miller, retired general manager of Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel, is widely known throughout the mid-west for his business acumen.

After a few closing remarks by Brother Miller, members swept out across the city gathering awaiting companions. The couples returned some sixty-five strong to dance until midnight. The co-operation of more than fifty Drake University co-eds in helping to make the evening a memorable one was greatly appreciated by the men of Delta-Omicron chapter.

Utah Senator Frank E. Moss climbs into the cockpit of an F-106 jet fighter plane at Andrews Air Force Base.

Here's looking to Founders' Day 1961!

100 Victories Earned By Engle

Penn State's win over Alabama in the 1959 Liberty Bowl game in Philadelphia was of special importance to head Lion coach, Charles A. "Rip" Engle, for it marked his 100th victory as a football coach. Brother Engle is an alumnus of Beta-Alpha chapter.

A native of Salisbury, Pennsylvania, "Rip" was graduated from Western Maryland College in 1930 where he lettered in football, basketball, baseball, and tennis. In 1929 he won recognition as All-Maryland end.

After several years as head coach at Brown University, he came to Penn State in 1950. "Rip's" ten year record at State is 62 wins, 28 losses, and 4 ties. He has coached many post season bowl games including the East-West Shrine game in 1957. Currently he is serving as president of the American Football Coaches Association.

The Pennsylvania State yearbook, La-Vie, dedicated its 1960 volume to him "In appreciation of his many years as football mentor, and as a tribute to one of Penn State's finest coaches."

W. V. Bolloway, AO (Southwestern), is vice president of the University of Tulsa.

EDITOR'S NOTE:

This letter quietly presents some of the factors relating to membership in a social fraternity. It was written to the editors of THE COMMONWEAL, a nationally distributed Catholic publication. Reverend James A. McInerney, a Catholic clergyman, speaks from years of experience as a national officer of his fraternity, Phi Kappa Theta. We appreciate the permission to reprint it.

A THOUGHTFUL LETTER

Gentlemen:

May I comment on your editorial, "Fraternities for Negroes" (January 8, 1960)? While it is true that the "problems of Negro fraternities integration are not the most crucial of the nation's integration difficulties, perhaps, but they do indicate the seriousness and complexity of the color division in our national life." This statement unwittingly faintly echoes a pat refrain of those who would destroy fraternity life on a college campus under the all-embracing doctrine of "democracy regardless."

Because of the nature of your Review one could not expect you to be too familiar or too concerned with the violent yet consistent efforts across the country to destroy private college organizations, especially fraternities and sororities with the pretext and rabble-rousing charge: "discrimination!" The tyranny of democracy is far better organized than you perhaps know. An extreme, an engineers' group must take in a pharmacist if he applied even though he is in no way connected with engineering. Otherwise, the engineers are discriminating. This will strike you as gross exaggeration. Would that it were.

The obvious effort, ill-concealed, is to undermine the prestige, friendships, and influence of private college organizations. The pattern of attack generally follows the same line, a charge of discrimination. In your own State of New York the attack has been vehement. A sorority was thrown off a New York campus because the members dared to have a Communion Mass and breakfast. That was discrimination.

In your editorial you seem to assume that fraternity life is somewhat of a public functioning of an educational system. This, of course, a social fraternity cannot be by its nature. The social fraternity is primarily a private home-life on the campus, supervised by the harboring institution to be sure, but still a private organization. It cannot be classified as public in the way that education, the armed forces, civil service, etc. are public or civic. In the well-organized fraternity house men live together in a degree of closeness never thought of even in the usual homelife of the family.

It is this very closeness which engenders such fierce loyalties and serious difficulties at times. In later years this closeness and this loyalty are the source of enduring friendships, prestige, and influence especially in education, mounting with the growth and age of the social fraternity. It is this influential union of friends which enemies of the fraternity system are seeking to destroy. This is the trick, old as political intrigue: divide and conquer. These enemies could hardly care less for a houseful of college students or for their attitude on race, religion or national origin. But this championing of "democracy", with irresponsible charges of "discrimination" is the most potent in our hysterical times for the destruction of the national union of private groups, particularly if that organization is influential and a force for good. "People's Governments" and "People's Courts" did not just happen. Nor is the patriotic cry for "Separation" the anguish groan of an outraged citizenry.

You suggest that organizations of Negroes such as fraternities are superfluous, perhaps harmful. "The function of all such groups: to help bring about conditions which will make their own existence unnecessary." This kind of a function might be true and desirable if social fraternities were a public agency of some sort. As a private institution the fraternity's reason for being will not and cannot disappear with what is referred to as "integration", which, implied by your description, is merely the mixing of white and colored students.

Human personalities, following the law of love, will always be under the reason of love; likeness and mutual sharing of things in common. Fraternities are no exception to this law of love. Most are explicitly dedicated to it. All assume it. The union may go under another name than "fraternity", but the law of love will remain the motive force. This kind of union is not necessarily "a hardening and perpetuation of a discriminatory pattern" nor need its "special purpose" be a minority complex.

Let this effort be thought prejudiced pleading, may I cite some twelve years experience of teaching Negro youth at Xavier University of Louisiana, preaching and close association with priests and people in Negro parishes there, two years of teaching in an integrated Catholic women's college in Texas, and now teaching in De Paul University, Chicago, where no racial or religious barriers or restrictions are allowed. The fraternity of which I am a national officer has no racial restrictions. Despite many happy years of this kind of free association and very frank discussions with Negro leaders, I must admit that I am quite baffled by the problems of human integration at the level of public and political life, that is, at the level of the necessary, the human, and the religious; but I am appalled by the rash invasion of private personal rights in the name of democracy and by the naive and explosive solutions offered in a most difficult problem of human living and social adjustment.

One principle should surely guide a rational approach to the problem: Public or civil rights and private personal rights cannot be indiscriminately lumped as though they were one and the same under every aspect. Nor can the correlative duties, public and private, be ignored. Yet in many integration attempts crucial personal differences and personal rights have been apparently excluded if not openly violated. This is by no means all one-sided.

There can be and are many reasons for personality clashes between White and Negro which do not arise solely because of skin color. There are deep personality problems which cannot be eliminated by mere association. Respect, admiration, sympathy and mutual help can be and must be cultivated, but these do not follow simply on association or enforced integration, if the words can be used. Why must efforts to avoid personality difficulties be branded as discriminatory? Personal preference, which carefully respects the rights of others, is still a private right. So is the right to associate with one's kind. The Irish, the Italians, the Greeks, etc. may have their own unions and no one raises issues. Yet let either a white man or a colored man say that he would rather not associate with the other group and he is immediately condemned. He is discriminating. Wild charges of immorality are sometimes alleged against him, even by those who should know the extent of the laws of supernatural charity. May I respectfully suggest that the reckless invasion of personal rights probably accounts for more bitterness between races than any other factor? The ignorance of which right is public or civil and which is personal or private causes the most damage.

In the case of the social fraternities, it is the free association of men which is challenged. The fraternity for Negroes is told that it must accept white members. This is an infringement of a personal right. On what grounds must a Negro be compelled to associate privately with a white man if he does not care to?

Anyone who has worked with Negroes very soon realizes that the greatest need of the race is for leaders of their own, not by way of segregation but by reason of a need for those whom they trust and revere, and who in turn are filled with a compassion for the needs of their own. These needs are obvious in religion, education, politics, housing, medicine, law, etc. But how many have considered, for instance, the need of Negro youth on the playground? The often pathetic lack of initiative, organization, enthusiasm, cooperation among the young in neighborhoods or schools seems traceable to a lack of understanding, qualified, dedicated leaders. This kind of leadership must be developed within a group and cannot be imposed upon it from the outside. Perhaps limited experience in the problems of Negro youth-guidance leads to my exaggerating the lack of qualified, devoted leadership by Negroes, but I wonder if sordid crime records do not substantiate a serious lack of youth-training among the underprivileged Negro youth. The responsible "give and take", developed especially on the playground and in youth organizations, seems woefully lacking. I am convinced that only Negro leaders can give and capture the confidence necessary to guide Negro youth desperately seeking ideals. These cannot be imposed, ready-made, by enforced integration.

Again, because of years of close contact with fraternity-living I do not hesitate to say that there can be no more extraordinary training of the young for leadership than in the true and wise discipline of college fraternity living. The college potential is selected and trained by his own equals and his immediate superiors, whether in years or experience. This training includes very personal aspects: respect, obedience, table manners, study, dress, deportment, dating, etc. If the college youths have much in common, the job of right training is done quite effectively and far more thoroughly. There can be no squeamish self-consciousness in such a group. If the youth have respected supervision, the results can be truly outstanding. Under these considerations the training of Negroes by Negroes in fraternity life is not a continuation of galling or hateful segregation nor is it a makeshift of a minority aping a majority. It is the exercise of man's right of free association, whose prize can easily be a tremendous respect for one another and a distinguished campus position. The group is dedicated to social understanding and useful means which are truly human, friendship, sympathy, and cooperation. The fraternity has purpose, direction, social meaning which it gives to its members in their maturing years. They build and merit their own prestige.

This kind of fraternal life and training can develop respected, educated, compassionate leaders. I have seen such trained leaders take their place on the campus and in the inter-fraternity world. These men have earned their respected places working with and for their own, without a thought that this kind of cooperation smacks of enforced segregation. This kind of cooperation is true of our fraternity of Catholic men, now under heavy fire as discriminatory against non-Catholics.

The need is not for less fraternities for Negroes on the college campus but for more fraternities, dedicated to the social advancement and harmony of the members who build character and prestige by their personal efforts and together. This is not to keep these men out of other groups, but to help them to understand the others and their own. This is to help these men grow successfully to a stature befitting human persons and friends and brothers. This is discrimination with high purpose, selecting with care and with loving consideration. This is friendship, a growth, not an enforced and often strained imposition, with artificial barriers, which true friendship cannot endure. And on campus rival fraternities can be very friendly because there are no barriers among them, even though by self-determination they exclude dual social membership. High purpose and achievement must be the test of their rivalry and strength. Should the Negro be denied the right to compete in purpose and achievement on his own?

Sincerely,

Denver Chapter Trains For Office

Realizing that we will have an expanded chapter in the 1960-1961 school year Gamma-Gamma at Denver University is now involved in an "on the job" training program. By giving each man a specific job and further allowing him to understudy other officers and committee chairmen we hope to develop an experienced core of leaders.

It has been gratifying to see that our mistakes this quarter have been held to a minimum. Rushing is becoming better every week, chapter organization is developing, and the University has commended the chapter for the condition of the house and for scholarship improvement.

On the social front activity has picked up noticeably. The chapter has participated in May Days, Greek Week, and several other all school activities. Coupled with our own parties the brothers have found plenty of social activities to balance the hard work involved in rebuilding the chapter.

50 YEARS OF FRIENDSHIP

By John Stoelting

"Fifty Years of Friendship—Alpha Xi—Pi Kappa Alpha—University of Cincinnati." . . . So reads the program from the memorable celebration of the Golden Anniversary. Over 200 alumni and undergraduates gathered to join four charter members in reminiscing about the five decades of growth from the old Epsilon Gamma Chi to today's proud chapter, possessor of the Smythe Award presented to it for 1959 achievements.

From 15 men in 1910, the chapter has grown to more than 750. Little did these men realize what they were fostering—the good times to be shared—and the hardships to be equally shared—each year becoming stronger. These successes are a tribute to the integrity of the ideals of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Joining the brothers of Alpha-Xi at this great occasion were two who have followed the development and growth of the chapter closely for many years—National Editor Robert D. Lynn and National Treasurer Charles L. Freeman. Each presented an inspirational message as only he can do regarding the ideals of fraternal brotherhood.

John U. Field, who was instrumental in the chartering of the chapter in 1910, was present also, along with many alumni of other chapters. From far and wide came the alumni, each with fond memories of his days as an undergraduate.

Herbert F. Koch added just the spark that was needed in recalling memories of the early days. Twenty-five and Fifty Year Membership Certificates were presented and tributes paid.

Under the chairmanship of former National Secretary William R. Nester, Southland Hall leaders such as Cedric Vogel, Art Weber, Gordon Waltz, Ted Grofer, Jack Gunderman and others, developed an outstanding program.

Standing in a darkened room with the Pi Kappa Alpha Crest spotlighted, the group paid silent tribute to those who have entered the Chapter Eternal, then with voices raised on high the sound of "Brothers We Stand with Hearts United" brought a fitting close to the Golden Anniversary. "Brotherhood was the cause, and success is the result."

WILLIAM WATSON DAVIS

Professor William Watson Davis, Y (Auburn), chairman of the Kansas University history department from 1936 to 1949, died April 5, 1960, of a heart attack in Iowa City, Iowa. He was 76.

A Kansas University faculty member from 1910 until 1954, Professor Davis was living with his son, Lane Davis, associate professor of political science at Iowa State University and an alumnus of Beta-Gamma Chapter.

Brother Davis served his fraternity as National Historian from 1924-1931. An avid sports enthusiast, he was chairman of the Kansas University athletic board much of the time between 1932 and 1952. He was the university's representative to the Big Six and Big Seven athletic conferences for 16 years.

A native of Florida, Dr. Davis earned his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Alabama Polytechnic Institute in 1903-04 and continued his education at Columbia University where he received his A.M. and Ph.D. degrees.

Though specializing in the teaching of American and Latin American History, Professor Davis had an active interest in the Far East and had traveled to that area of the world many times.

JOHN OMAN, III

John Oman, III, Z (Tennessee), president of the Oman Construction Company which builds highways and airport runways throughout the world was killed March 20, 1960, when his private plane crashed near Nashville, Tennessee, during a light snowstorm.

Brother Oman was returning from Muscle Shoals, Alabama, where he had flown Dr. Emilio Donato del Carril, Argentine Ambassador to the United States. Del Carril had been visiting the Tennessee Valley Authority installations and was the weekend guest of Mr. Oman.

JAMES D. HOSKINS

Dr. James Dickason Hoskins, Z (Tennessee), historian and retired president emeritus of the University of Tennessee, died April 3, 1960, in Knoxville, Tennessee. He was 90 years of age.

During his long educational career, Dr. Hoskins participated in two major historical events in the State of Tennessee: the battle over the teaching of evolution and over segregation.

As a dean and assistant president of the University of Tennessee, he was embroiled in the turmoil that followed the dismissal in 1923 of a professor for teaching the theory of evolution.

After graduating from the university in 1891, Dr. Hoskins joined the faculty as a mathematics instructor. Except for six years as a schoolteacher and principal, he remained with the university throughout his career.

He was named a Professor of History in 1907, dean three years later and president in 1933. In March, 1960, he dictated a letter from his bed asking for contributions totaling at least $1,000,000 for construction of a chapel on the campus. His last public appearance was on October 11, 1959, when a bridge across the Tennessee Valley Authority lake near Dandridge, Tennessee, was dedicated in his name.

In 1930, Dr. Hoskins was elected vice moderator of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A. He was a president of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges and of the Knoxville Chapter of the Sons of the Revolution.

Brother Hoskins was initiated by Zeta Chapter in 1904 and was a loyal and devoted member of Pi Kappa Alpha throughout his life. To thousands of Tennessee alumni, he was known as "Mr. University". The current president of the University of Tennessee, Andrew D. Holt, said, "Dr. Hoskins was one of the truly great educators of the state and nation. His monument will shine forever in the hearts and lives of students and faculty members who had the privilege of sitting at his feet."

WALTER V. McADOO

Walter V. McAdoo, P (Cumberland), 85, an ordained Presbyterian minister for sixty-two years, died February 15, 1960, at his home in Peoria, Illinois. Brother McAdoo had served pastorates at Bethel Presbyterian Church and the First Presbyterian Church in Peoria prior to his retirement.

Born at Bell Buckle, Tennessee, he was a graduate of Cumberland University where he was initiated into Rho Chapter in 1894. During his lifetime he served churches in Nashville, Tennessee; Los Angeles, California; Newburgh, Indiana; Athens, Alabama; and a number of Illinois churches including Mt. Vernon, LeRoy, Carbondale, Harrisburg, and Litchfield. Although he had been retired for a number of years he often was called upon by churches to fill their pulpits when the need arose.

Brother McAdoo was a former moderator of the Peoria Presbytery.

HAROLD S. WEISER

Harold S. Weiser, AP (Ohio State), prominent Beloit, Wisconsin, businessman died recently in a Milwaukee hospital. He was owner and operator of Bud Weiser Motors.

He served as Alumnus Counselor for Beta-Iota Chapter at Beloit College and in that capacity attended the Alumnus Counselor Conference in Memphis in the summer of 1957.

Brother Weiser became associated with the General Motors Corporation soon after graduation at Ohio State University and purchased the Bowman Chevrolet Company in Beloit in 1938.

An active participant in many civic programs in Beloit, he was prominent in the affairs of the First Congregational Church. He was a former moderator of the church and served as chairman of the board of trustees. He was active in the Chamber of Commerce, YMCA, community chest, Red Cross and was the sponsor of the All-American Soap Box Derby in Peoria.

His son, John, is an alumnus of BE Chapter (Wisconsin).

WILLIAM EUGENE WADE

William Eugene Wade, Z (Tennessee), well known northwest Tennessee businessman, died recently at his home in Union City, Tennessee. He was 72.

Mr. Wade was born July 21, 1887, in Trenton, Tennessee, and was the brother of Tom W. Wade, Sr., of Kenton. His nephew, Tom Wade, Jr., now serves as President of District 7.

A graduate of Castle Heights Military Academy and the University of Tennessee law school, he was actively engaged in the operation of Freeman-Wade Motor and Implement Company in Union City until his retirement in 1954.

He was a member of the First Methodist Church, the Rotary Club, and the Chamber of Commerce.

CHARLES E. PACK, JR.

Charles E. Pack, Jr., Z (Tennessee), widely known pediatrician, died at his home at 4603 Park Avenue, Memphis, Tennessee, April 13, 1960. Dr. Pack and his wife had just returned from a golf game at Colonial Country Club when he was stricken with a sudden heart attack.

He served overseas with the 504th Parachute Regiment of the 82nd Airborne Division in World War II. Throughout his professional career he has maintained an active interest and participation in Pi Kappa Alpha affairs.

He is survived by his wife, a son, Charles, and a daughter, Carol.

Tribute Paid Blanford Taylor

by Allan M. Trout, AA
Louisville Courier-Journal

A diamond pin represented the gratitude of Pi Kappa Alpha to J. Blanford Taylor when he retired as editor of The Shield and Diamond 10 years ago.

Now that he has laid his burden down, the diamonds somehow have lost their sheen as material gems. But they glisten with a new glow as symbols . . . spiritual symbols of fraternal appreciation for this lifetime of devoted service to the enlightenment of his fellow men both in and out of the bonds.

Blan Taylor died February 16, 1960, at his home in DeLand, Florida, where he had been director of the news bureau of Stetson University since 1949. A heart attack struck him down without warning at age 55.

At the funeral at First Baptist Church, Dr. J. Winston Pearce, the minister, spoke of Blan's dedicated competence in the field of communications. That, of course, had been his life's work, beginning with undergraduate journalism at Georgetown College, Georgetown, Kentucky, where he graduated in 1926.

The first years of his professional career were spent as city editor of the Louisville Herald-Post, defunct since 1936; Kentucky editor of The Cincinnati Enquirer; assistant city editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, and city editor of The Jacksonville Journal.

Interspersed were stints as regional correspondent of The New York Times, Life, Time, and Fortune.

In 1949 he left the fast pace of spot news for the slower but more subtle field of public relations. Only 11 years were left to him, nevertheless his professional stature reached full maturity as news chief of Stetson University.

As Dr. J. Ollie Edmunds, president of Stetson, remarked at his death: "Blan's place will be hard to fill. Men of his high ideals, ability, and Christian character are not readily found."

As a practitioner of public relations, Blan had no tolerance for the shoddy facade of press agency. He insisted upon the facts, presented fully and without bias. His credo was that if the facts do not make a cause worthy, the cause is not worth support.

This deep-rooted integrity won him recognition far beyond the campus. He was director of the Southeast Region of the American Collegiate Public Relations Association; a past president of the Florida Public Relations Association, and a member of the Public Relations Society of America.

Aside from his family and his church, Pi Kappa Alpha was the golden glow in Blan's life. He was one of the campus leaders in the restoration of fraternities to Georgetown College early in 1926, after a ban of five years. Hence he became a charter member of Alpha-Lambda a few months before his graduation.

Nor did he ever lose interest. He was editor of The Shield and Diamond from 1942 to 1950. At Jacksonville in this period he staged the first annual Dream Girl contest to which a dozen chapters in the Southeast sent representatives. It was a sort of preview to the national Dream Girl contest and is still held annually.

Former Executive Secretary, Robert D. Lynn, stated, "Blan Taylor was one of the most genuinely sincere members of Pi Kappa Alpha I've ever known. He loved his family, his church, and his fraternity. He served Pi Kappa Alpha faithfully and well throughout his entire life. His influence for good will live long."

His was the active interest that led to the chapter at Stetson in 1950, even though it added the chore of faculty adviser to his already busy schedule.

The tempo of Blan's life was unhurried diligence, yet he achieved prodigious production in everything he set his heart and hand to. He had a flair for coming up with something solid every time. He was a gentle man, a devotee of the simple pleasures to be derived from home, friends, and the contemplative pursuits.

His widow is the former Edith Cooper, of Trenton, Tennessee, whom he married in 1933 at Louisville. Also surviving are a son, J. Blanford Taylor, Jr., ΔT (Stetson) and a daughter, Ann Cooper Taylor, both of whom will graduate from Stetson this year; a brother, Edward R. Taylor; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Taylor, and a granddaughter, Kimberly Taylor. All live at DeLand.

LOYALTY

By V. Farrell Thomas

"O, where is loyalty? If it be banished from the frosty head,
where shall it find a harbour
in the earth!"

WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE

In recent articles we have suggested: UNITY creates cohesiveness in a group; VALUES gives meaning and significance to its operation; while CHARACTER adds depth and conviction and distinguishes it from a mere social entity. With this in mind, let us turn our attention to the important and salient principle of LOYALTY—the foundation of brotherhood.

LOYALTY, as defined by Pi Kappa Alpha, is that sense of allegiance or strong sentiment which promoted Fred Dudley, Epsilon-Mu, member of one of our youngest chapters, to say with feeling and pride: "MY FRATERNITY IS THE FINEST FRATERNITY IN THE WORLD!"

LOYALTY is represented historically in the case of

Brother Daniel J. Brimm, grand old man of Theta, 1885. "Brimm," according to our History, "was a man versed in a dozen languages, who was so busy with his studies that he grumbled because of the time lost eating and sleeping, but who, at any time, would cheerfully give a whole day to Pi Kappa Alpha."<sup>1</sup>

Continuing in the History of Pi Kappa Alpha, we read this classic example of CHAPTER LOYALTY. "During the storm and stress years of 1886-1887, Iota, Hampden Sydney College, held on, valiantly lending strength to the fraternal cause and at the same time asserting herself on the campus. . . . Her members were outstanding in the various activities of the college as well as in scholarship. An unusual spirit of cooperation developed within the Chapter. THE MEMBERS WERE NOTICEABLY LOYAL TO EACH OTHER."<sup>2</sup>

They won the admiration as well as the good will of the other students on the campus by refusing to allow this loyalty to each other to be turned to selfish purposes.<sup>3</sup>

As someone has suggested: "True LOYALTY lies in noble deeds, in unselfish acts and in honoring and serving that which we love."

A Hot Tip

A background in real estate, music and the tobacco business has preceded the appointment of William T. Tweel to the position of Vice President-Public Relations of the Continental Tobacco Company, Huntington, West Virginia. A major new entry in the national cigarette manufacturing sweepstakes, its unique marketing concept assures it a position among the front-runners in this tremendous and expanding industry.

The new company, organized and headed by a group of men with wide experience in cigarette marketing, has been underwritten by the New York firm of Best Securities, 135 Broadway. It manufactures its own complete line of cigarettes and markets them directly from the factory to the consumer by mail. To overcome earlier obstacles to mail-order cigarette selling, the company pre-pays not only federal taxes and postage, but also all taxes applicable in the consignee's home state.

The company also offers a cigarette-size cigar called Rob Roy, and will soon market a revolutionary, self-lighting cigarette which has been christened Flame-Tip. Continental Tobacco Company has acquired world-wide rights to the unique self-lighting feature of the Flame Tip.

Brother Tweel is an alumnus of Delta-Iota Chapter at Marshall College in Huntington where he received both his Bachelor's and Master's degrees, the former Magna Cum Laude as top-ranking man in a class of 128. Earlier in his business career he was engaged in a real estate business, fronted his own regional name band in supper clubs and dances throughout the area, and later held an executive position with one of the country's principal mail-order cigarette houses. He resides with his wife and 9-year-old son at 1201 Third Street West in Huntington, West Virginia.

Los Angeles Honors Hoghe

Russell L. Hoghe, Gamma-Nu (Iowa), received the 11th annual Will Farrell Award presented by the life insurance industry for distinguished service to the public.

The trophy was presented at the Coconut Grove in Los Angeles, California, at a luncheon attended by agents and executives of the industry.

Brother Hoghe served for a quarter of a century as general agent of Equitable Life of Iowa. He is an outstanding civic, professional and fraternal leader. Brother Hoghe served as district president of Pi Kappa Alpha for the state of California for several years.

WHY A PLEDGE

By Ed Hollbrook, ΔI (Marshall)

The tow headed youth appeared on the porch of the chapter house the night of our first smoker this fall. He was of average build and was a good looking young man. There was really nothing to prevent him from assuming an inconspicuous position among the host of rushees—nothing except that he was a shining example of the well known "wise guy".

I looked at him and thought, "there is a boy who will never make it". We had not yet pledged the boy, but that evening he told me that he would like to become a Pike. That was enough for me but I knew there would have to be some drastic changes made on his part if he intended to become an active.

It was some two weeks later when he donned his pin and became a pledge of Delta-Iota. He seemed to wear his pledge pin with pride and it was now that I again asked myself the question, "Will he ever make it?" And then I confronted him with the same question! It occurred several days later when several of the actives and pledges were enjoying pizza. He and I sat momentarily alone. As tactfully as I could I told him of the initial impression he had created and what would be expected of him now that he had begun his pledge training.

He was sullen, withdrawn and yet outspoken in his speech. He had the proverbial chip on his shoulder. I did my best to let it remain without arousing him and we continued our little confab. He wasn't the village rowdy type, rather he was taciturn and completely unabashed in his negative attitude toward, seemingly, everything.

He gave me a cursory glance, as if to say "what's it to you" and then retracted by admitting that he wasn't totally aware of his misgivings. Once out of his shell we exchanged small talk and he then exhibited his shy yet attractive personality.

Later that evening I talked to several of the brothers and they were somewhat disappointed with him. They looked upon him with disfavor and objected to his poor attitude.

The next day I saw him and he offered a strained hello. I learned he had come to Marshall from a relatively small town, felt lonely, and few had befriended him. He withdrew and felt rather bitter.

Pi Kappa Alpha had unlocked the door for him but he had failed to open it. He regarded many of the guys as cocky and didn't particularly care for them. In essence, that was what they thought of him.

He hadn't bothered to do his house duties or even to come around the house,

He had become acquainted with only a few of his pledge brothers and even fewer of the actives.

Now I asked him what, exactly, he expected. He had wanted to receive, but not to give. He had wanted to share, but only what others had contributed.

Then came intramurals, we talked of athletics. I encouraged him to play on our football team. He did. He proved adept. In his first game he was a constant thorn in the side of the opposition and in his second appearance he helped score a decisive victory.

Maybe it was the applause, or the feat of accomplishment, a personal reassurance, or it could have been a multitude of things, but I don't think so. I believe it was the warmth of fellowship, the union of brotherhood and the hearty slaps on the back by his team mates that turned the tide for this pledge.

His outlook, his entire perspective, underwent a radical change. If one were to compare the boy I saw on the football field that day and the remote youth on the porch early last October, he could scarcely believe the change.

He began to participate and he began to give. He took the initiative to guide his pledge class through several crucial periods and during "construction week" again proved to be a guiding light.

He delivered an unwritten message in teaching us that we should never be too hasty in our judgment and in reviving the oft forgotten concept that first impressions are not always lasting ones.

I look forward to his initiation as a brother.

Gilfillan Named Student Of Month

Dick Gilfillan has been selected as the Agriculture Student of the Month by the College of Agriculture at the University of Illinois. Dick was chosen for the month of March and was the first student picked for this honor.

Dick gained recognition for the unusual way he is helping to put himself through school—by selling eggs. On Friday afternoon Dick drives to his parents' farm in Watseka, Illinois, and buys about two hundred dozen eggs. He returns on Saturday morning and makes his deliveries to fraternities, sororities, faculty members, and other Champaign-Urbana residents.

Brother Gilfillan got the idea of selling eggs from Beta-Eta's housemother, Mrs. Alice Moeller, who said she would like to have fresh eggs from the country. Since then Dick has been selling his eggs at a fast pace and his sales are increasing all the time.

On Saturday night, March 6, Beta-Eta held a birthday party for Pi Kappa Alpha with singing, dancing, games, and refreshments. The highlight of the evening was a song fest around the piano in the front room of the chapter house.

New Mexico Well Represented On Campus

Beta-Delta Chapter at the University of New Mexico has been increasingly active in campus activities. In the fall with sixty-five men returning to school, the fraternity was represented in every major campus function. Helping win the intramural championship were John Byrd, John Shaski, George Kennedy, Larry Glass, John Ramsey, Tony Shaw, Paul Martin, Bob Morgan, Pete Brown, Jim Breen, John Bowdish, Chris Lovato, Jon Michael, Terry Eytcheson, and Bruce Erdal.

A first place in homecoming was followed by a third place in the Spirit Sing.

The highlight of the Dream Girl Ball was the selection of lovely Miss Gail Russell, KΑΘ, as 1960 Dream Girl of Beta-Delta. Her attendants were Miss Jan Stowe, ΠΒΦ, and Miss Marti Adams, ΔΔΔ.

Oklahoma Alumni Association President Pat Pugh was the principal speaker at the Founders Day banquet held at the Four Hills Country Club. An alumnus of Beta-Delta Chapter, Brother Pugh was at his delightful best.

Jon Michael is chairman of the 1960 New Mexico Fiesta and Albert and Michael Nahmad both hold seats on the student council.

Beta-Delta officially welcomed Dr. Albert Lopes, faculty advisor, to the folds recently by his initiation on April 11th.

Our special thanks go to our housemother, Mrs. Besse Davis, who has been such a wonderful help during the past year.

Determined that Beta-Delta Chapter will stand up and be recognized, all the officers of the chapter are busily filling in reports which will qualify the chapter for national awards during the National Convention in Miami. Fifteen to twenty brothers plan to head for Miami come August since the chapter does not plan to give up the Wagner Award for convention attendance.

Memorial Foundation Increases Scholarships

An enlarged scholarship program was adopted by the trustees of the Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Foundation at its annual meeting April 11, 1960. Arthur S. Bowes of Chicago and James V. LeLaurin, Meridian, Mississippi, were elected to three year terms as trustees.

At the meeting of the board of trustees, Brother LeLaurin was elected president of the Foundation for their ensuing year to succeed J. Harold Trinner who declined to stand for re-election after serving the Foundation in a splendid way as president for the past three years. Mr. LeLaurin directed a campaign for funds in 1952 which, combined with the campaign conducted by Harold Rainville of Chicago in 1954, enabled the Foundation to embark on its building program which led to the erection of the new headquarters in 1954.

Arthur S. Bowes, charter member of Beta-Chi Chapter at Purdue, is a nationally known business leader. He received the fraternity's Distinguished Achievement Award in 1958. Brother Bowes succeeds his close personal friend, Albert E. Paxton, vice president of McGraw-Hill Publishing Company, Chicago. Brother Paxton has rendered valuable service to the Foundation. He served as trustee of the Pi Kappa Alpha Endowment Fund, 1942-1948, and aided in the establishment of its successor, the Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Foundation, which was chartered in 1948.

The trustees requested Dr. William R. Atkinson to expand his program for scholarship promotion through recordings and printed instructional material. These recordings are available not only to Pi Kappa Alpha but to other national fraternities and sororities.

Upon the recommendation of President Trinner and John F. E. Hippel, the officers of the Memorial Foundation were urged actively to solicit annuity contracts, endowment funds, and other large gifts.

During the past year $3,395.00 were distributed by the foundation for scholarship purposes through various colleges and universities. The allocation of funds for this purpose has been doubled for the next fiscal year.

Officers of the foundation for the coming year are:

President, James V. LeLaurin, Meridian, Miss.

Vice President, James P. Brown, St. Louis, Mo.

Secretary, Thomas M. Garrett, Jr., Tunica, Miss.

Treasurer, Dabney Crump, Memphis, Tenn.

John F. E. Hippel, Philadelphia, Pa., and Arthur S. Bowes, Chicago, Illinois, complete the board membership.

President Appoints Nominating Committee

Grant Macfarlane, Alpha-Tau (Utah), Salt Lake City attorney, has been named chairman of the 1960 National Nominating Committee according to an announcement of National President John Yerkovich of Portland, Oregon. Others named to serve with him are Howard Hartman, BH (Illinois), and James V. LeLaurin, H (Tulane). These alumni appointees will represent Regions V, II, and IV respectively.

Two undergraduate delegates will be added to the committee at the national convention in Miami Beach, August 29, 1960 to represent Regions I and III.

Brother Macfarlane is immediate past national president and is currently a member of the national Chapter House Commission. Howard Hartman of Waukesha, Wisconsin, is a former District President for Wisconsin, Illinois, and Indiana. He is president of Weber-Waukesha Brewing Company. James V. LeLaurin is a Chartered Life Underwriter with insurance offices in Meridian, Mississippi. He is a former member of the Supreme Council and recently was elected president of the Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Foundation.

These men bring to the committee many years of experience and contacts in Pi Kappa Alpha. They solicit your nominations and recommendations of the most outstanding leaders within Pi Kappa Alpha for membership on the Supreme Council. A nomination blank is included for your convenience.

The national officers to be elected by the convention delegates are: president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, alumni secretary, and counsel. These offices are currently filled by John U. Yerkovich, Portland, Ore.; David C. Powers, New York City; L. A. McCall, Jr., Florence, S. C.; Charles L. Freeman, Bloomington, Ill.; Joe C. Scott, Oklahoma City, Okla., and Guyton Watkins, New Iberia, La. respectively.

Send your nomination with complete current information on the nominee to Grant Macfarlane, Chairman, Nominating Committee, 577 University, Memphis 12, Tenn.

Our congratulations to Delta-Pi Chapter for rating No. 1 in scholarship among fraternities on the San Jose State College campus for the 1959 fall semester with an average of 2.519 based upon the 4.00 system. The all men's average was 2.377 and the all-college average was 2.420.

Charles M. Skade, FB (Nebraska), has recently been elected to the Board of Directors of Fuller and Smith and Ross, Inc., large advertising agency with offices in seven cities in the United States and in London.

District 10 Foregathers

On March 5th, Gamma-Chi at Stillwater, Oklahoma, was host to a triple-play event of truly three-power magnitude—and quality.

District 10's annual convention was held, attended by delegates and chapter contingents from its eleven chapters in this three-state area. Founders' Day was celebrated. The Oklahoma State Alumni Association was in session.

THREE hundred men with their THREE hundred ladies attended. The THREE fire wagons of the THREE Oklahoma chapters served as shuttle buses, conversation pieces, and camera targets. THREEScore alumni couples participated. THREE seminar groups operated simultaneously under the direction of 10th District President Joe Wirsich, Joe C. Scott of the Supreme Council, Robert McLeod, Executive Director, Dave Collins, Administrative Assistant, Jack Lux, C.P.A., and Dr. William R. Atkinson, noted educator and psychologist, the latter four being from Memphis, national headquarters.

THREE achievement awards were conferred at the banquet-dance which climaxed the THREE-day affair. The Joe C. Scott Award for Outstanding Chapter was won by Gamma-Chi Chapter, Oklahoma State University; the Joseph Benton Scholarship Award by Beta-Mu, University of Texas, and the Joseph A. Wirsich Award for Most Improved

Scholarship by Beta-Zeta, Southern Methodist. (AFTERGLOW contest was won by Alpha-Zeta Chapter at the University of Arkansas. This chapter is new to 10th District. Their hog-calling was OUTSTANDING. The TRIPLE-plated hog trough award—distinkwished!)

Among other dignitaries of the chivalry, cream and flower gracing the occasion were THREE university presidents; THREE Deans of Men; THREE Deans of Women; THREE Head Coaches; THREE Comptrollers; THREE Dream Girls; THREE Panhellenic presidents, and THREE Interfraternity presidents; THREE Presidents of Board of Regents; THREE Bands. Here, the sequence of THREE ends—the dinner was FIVE COURSE, of course.

Dr. Robert L. McLeod made the principal address. Outgoing State Alumni President Pat Pugh was master of ceremonies. State Alumni Association officers elected were Ridge Bond, of Tulsa, President—you remember him as Curley in stage-and-movie OKLAHOMA!; Joe C. Scott, Executive Secretary; Joe Wirsich, Assistant Executive Secretary; Clark Wysong, State Rush Chairman; Roy P. Stewart, Historian; Hank Jones, Keeper of the Great Seal.

Plans were announced for a midsummer resort gathering of Oklahoma's THREE chapters with their THREE fire wagons (here we go again . . .)—

Things are "looking up" at Seagraves ladder truck w Saturday sessions keep it

At home, at last! The crew which "engineered" the trip from New York to Tulsa paid tribute to the Sinclair Oil Company for a subsidy, the Seagraves factory for a reconditioning, the Ohio State chapter for a long rest stop, and the alumni of Oklahoma for "transportation expense." The journey began Christmas, terminated Valentines Day!

emphasis on RUSH; also a THREE fire wagon fire brigade to the National Convention in Miami (probably smoke ring dreams, Bros. . . .); and for a TRI-Chapter (3-wagon) RUSH dinner dance, Alumni Association meeting, Founders' Day celebration next March.

Ring out, wild bells—FIRE, that is. (Looks like Beta-Delta at my dear ole New Mexico Universitatis is catching the Okey fire fever and is getting a WAGON—and perhaps coming into District 10!)

Tulsa Fire Wagon Purchased In New York

Surpassing KA cannons and ATΩ jalopies is the new official mascot of the University of Tulsa—a 1929 Seagrave Pumper. The project started when Gamma-Upsilon Chapter decided that a fire engine would make an excellent rallying point for all TU students. Securing approval from TU president Dr. Ben. G. Heneke, Gamma-Upsilon charter member, a frantic search began.

Several unpromising leads finally led us to one in near-mint condition (including NEW tires) in Walton, New York. After purchasing it the crew headed toward Babylon, Long Island, New York, home of member Dick Poucel. The trip only took twenty-eight hours—the radiator boiled over—and then we busied ourselves in a vain attempt to fix it up for photographers. Thus our journey began.

Through the generosity of Sinclair Oil and Gas Company who paid for most of our three-mile-per-gallon gas bills, we were able to average seventy miles the very first day! Yep, we were really doing all right until three days later we burned out a bearing near Columbus, Ohio. We "deserted" our idol and left it in the Seagrave factory for repairs.

Weeks later after Oklahoma alumni bailed it out, two original and two new recruits traveled to Ohio to bring it back.

Then on that glorious day in February the young heroes returned to Tulsa surrounded by a large crowd, TV newsmen, and relieved Pikes. The truck has since been used for dedication ceremonies and the annual Engineers' Club picnic. With warm weather on its way we plan to use it for rush parties and picnics. Those braving the twofold journey were Richard Poucel, Robert Lorenz, Bill Turpen, Leigh Taylor and James Ellington.

Our special thanks go to Alpha-Rho Chapter, Ohio State, for its excellent hospitality when we stopped there for the night.

Bill Turpen

Wofford Spirits Soar With Ladder Fire Truck

The "Old Ladder Truck", pride of the Orange Volunteer Fire Company, has found a welcome berth with the boys of Nu Chapter, Wofford College. In searching long and hard for a truck that seemed to be within our reach, we finally located a 1922 Seagrave Fire Engine. The old truck had been parked next to the firehouse at Newberry, South Carolina. After much haggling and $200 dollars later the fire truck was ours. That evening we brought the truck home. Next day we got a good look at it, and needless to say it was not in top shape. The paint job had been dulled by age and the sun, the leather seats were beginning to crack, and the power plant was in dire need of repair, but we did have 42 feet of fire truck and a great deal of enthusiasm. Restoring the fire engine was a project for the whole fraternity. The entire truck was sanded down, ladders and all, the motor was worked on, the pledges did a marvelous job on the seats, and the rear of the truck was floored to accommodate the entire fraternity. All that remains to be done to put the engine in tip-top condition is a new paint job.

In restoring the engine we had an opportunity to work as a fraternity. This spirit of fellowship extended to the pledges and made them feel that they are an essential part of the group. We hope to give the truck a good name by using it for such services as collecting for the March of Dimes and other service projects, and when college lets out this summer the old ladder truck will accompany Nu Chapter to the beach for our house party June 5-12 at Crescent Beach, South Carolina. We feel sure the truck will spread the name of Pi Kappa Alpha throughout the Palmetto State, and thus will be a big asset in our program.

Pi Kappa Alpha Proud Of Buck Family

by Freeman H. Hart
National Historian

East Tennessee has been a prolific breeding area for good Pi Kappa Alphas. Among these is the Buck family who followed the adage of "go West young man" and wound up in Memphis, Tennessee, where it made an unusual impact on the history of Pi Kappa Alpha.

The "founder" of this particular branch of the Buck family (Frank Buck of "Bring 'em Back Alive" fame was undoubtedly one of these) was James Morison Buck from Johnson City, Tennessee, who was initiated into Zeta Chapter at the University of Tennessee just a little over a half century ago. Among those who were in the chapter with him was Dr. James Hoskins who was for many years president of the University of Tennessee.

Jim Buck was a successful businessman in Memphis for a period of years and while there was an aggressive leader among the Memphis Pi Kappa Alphas. He not only did a lot to keep the alumni chapter alive in Memphis, but actually gave them "something to do" which developed tangible results. He was one of the leading spirits in the movement that felt that Memphis was the logical place for the National Headquarters of Pi Kappa Alpha. He "sold" Dr. Diehl, president of Southwestern, on the idea of giving to Pi Kappa Alpha the land on which the headquarters would be placed, as it now is. Along with this idea, he lined up the Chamber of Commerce in Memphis, and those who attended the Victory Convention of Pi Kappa Alpha, Mackinac Island, Michigan in 1946 will well remember the splendid delegation that came from Memphis to that convention. The delegation had as its able spokesman the Grand Old Man of Pi Kappa Alpha in the person of Dr. George Summey, who then was well toward 100 years old, but whose eloquence, along with the effectiveness of the Memphis alumni and the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, caused the convention delegates to vote overwhelmingly for Memphis as the site of the National Headquarters and Memorial Center for the Fraternity.

While the Bucks lived in Memphis, Jim's wife, Nelle, furnished the same aggressiveness in leadership that her husband had shown and was for two years the able president of the Pi Kappa Alpha auxiliary in Memphis.

As was to be expected their son, Morison, became a member of Theta Chapter at Southwestern in Memphis and served ably as its president.

Three generations of Bucks—(l. to r.) Zeta Golden Member James Morison Buck, James Frederick Buck, age 5, and Morrison Buck, Θ.

From Memphis, the Bucks, like a lot of other good people, made their way into Florida. Jim is now manager of the Retirement Department of the Florida Development Commission, which is one of the most challenging positions in the state government of Florida today. Since the "retiring" from all of the United States are flocking to Florida by the thousands the state is accepting their moving as both an opportunity and a responsibility. Jim is also a member of the Advisory Committee of the Council of State Governments and chairman of the Interdepartmental Committee on Problems of the Aging for the state of Florida. In this connection, he has prepared a number of pamphlets that are both interesting and informative.

Jim's son, Morison Buck, is a successful lawyer in Tampa, Florida, and has for several years been the United States Commissioner for the Tampa Area, one of the youngest to be named to this position. Also Morison had a distinguished record in the Air Force during World War II. Morison has a young son who at the age of five is already a Pi Kappa Alpha "pledge".

Our fraternity is proud of its Pi Kappa Alpha families and one of the chief of these is the James Morison Buck family.

Note Of Appreciation

Dr. Frank H. Caldwell, author of the feature article in our March issue entitled "Robert Lee McLeod", deserves the brass ring for his fine story. The editor and our readers join in saying "Thank You."

Dr. McLeod and Dr. Caldwell were students together at Louisville Seminary and again at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland. Later, when Dr. McLeod was president of Centre College, Dr. Caldwell was one of his trustees—and Dr. Caldwell, president of Louisville Seminary, prevailed on his friend to reciprocate as one of his trustees. They have been devoted friends, fellow-educators, and fishers of men through the years.

Bowling Green Pledge Program Successful

This fall Delta-Beta started off by winning the fraternity football league with an 8-1 record, and then went on to defeat the seniors of the independent league for the all campus-championship. Then this winter the basketball team captured the fraternity basketball crown with a 14-0 record and went on again to defeat the seniors for the all-campus crown. The taste of victory was carried over into water polo which we also won bringing up to date the campus sporting events.

During pledging this year Delta-Beta's rush program paid off with a pledge class of 25 strong. This was due to the time and effort put forth by the brothers. There was much personal contact made during the informal rush period of the freshmen's first semester at the university. Since pledging, our pledges have had parties and work sessions with the various sorority pledge classes on campus promoting a better fraternity-sorority relationship among the pledges. The work sessions held develop pride in the chapter and the chapter house. This pride will be invaluable next year when we move into our new chapter house.

On March 25th the Dream Girl Dance was held at Findlay Country Club with Miss Betsey Schwenk being crowned as Delta-Beta's Dream Girl of Pi Kappa Alpha for 1960.

Robert B. Hancock
ΔB, Bowling Green

Delta-Beta Basketball Team wins all campus crown at Bowling Green.

In the past year, PiKA has reigned supreme in nearly every aspect of campus activity. Politically, we held nearly every major office on the campus—President of the Student Body, President of the Student Christian Association, Editor of the annual, Commander of the Scabbard and Blade military organization, President of the Senior Class, President of the Robed Choir, President of the Block P Letter Club, and many other offices besides the biggest ones.

Athletically, the football team, basketball team, tennis team and golf team were captained or co-captained by Pikes with a very good representative of members on each. And at the time this article was written, the fraternity teams in intramurals had copped first place in football and basketball and had excellent prospects for winning the Intramural cup for the fifth year in succession.

In scholarship, the fraternity compiled a 1.6 grade point ratio out of a possible 3.0 and placed second among the fraternities in that respect.

We had a successful rush season and brought our size up to the maximum quota set by the Interfraternity Council with an excellent pledge class.

Penn Receives Scholarship Award

Beta-Pi Chapter at the University of Pennsylvania received the Peter D. Taylor Award for scholarship, March 10, "for that fraternity's sophomore class which has shown the most scholarship improvement". This is one of the most coveted awards a fraternity on our campus can receive. The presentation was made by C. C. Madeira, President of the Interfraternity Alumni Council and a trustee of the University, to S.M.C. Maurice Moskowitz at the formal Interfraternity Banquet held in Philadelphia's Barclay Hotel.

The award is an engraved silver cup, a replica of the actual trophy. The trophy will be on display in the student union with the name of Pi Kappa Alpha engraved thereon.

Scholarship occupies a very high place at Pennsylvania. In the other scholarship award, Pi Kappa Alpha was a very close runner-up to Delta Phi, which won the Sigma-Chi trophy for over-all scholarship improvement.

The brothers in last year's sophomore class, who made winning the award possible include a math major, pre-med students, business students and liberal arts majors—and all are "extra-curricular men".

Stephen M. Creskoff
BII, University of Pennsylvania

C. J. Clarke, IT (Rensselaer), has been appointed distributor in Hawaii for the Voicewriter Division, McGraw-Edison Company.

Mu Pikes Hold Top Offices

At a party in February, Mu Chapter had an accidental fire which rendered useless a portion of its fraternity suite. The fire damaged the largest of our three rooms to the extent that we were forced to abandon it. However, the calamity had its rewarding effects.

Since the time of the fire, the administration has been working with the six fraternities on campus toward an acceptable fraternity lodge system. Our present system is inadequate. Long range building plans by the college were already being considered, but the fire brought to the attention of the administration and the Board of Trustees the problems of the present situation. The Board of Trustees will discuss the matter more fully and Mu Chapter hopes that their decision will bring immediate action.

Mu has a House Corporation which has been in existence for several years in hopes of furthering plans for a fraternity house which would meet our needs. The Corporation consisting of alumni contributors of $25.00 or more, is actively soliciting the help of all Mu alumni in a drive for funds. Checks should be drawn to Presbyterian College and mailed to David A. Collins, Secretary-Treasurer, 577 University, Memphis, Tennessee. Indicate "PiKA Lodge" on the check.

George Nissen, Gamma-Nu (Iowa), is "up in the air" most of the time either demonstrating his Trampoline or flying to distant places on business. Over 8,000 schools in the U. S. alone use Nissen Trampolines.

Lehigh Pikes Hosts To Convention

On the weekend of April 30 Gamma-Lambda chapter at Lehigh University was host to the Region I, District 2 annual convention. A good representation of brothers and pledges from all seven of the student chapters in the district were in attendance: ΓΑ (Lehigh); ΒΣ (Carnegie Tech); ΓΣ (Pittsburgh); ΒΠ (Pennsylvania); ΔΗ (Delaware); ΔΑ (George Washington); and ΒΑ (Penn State).

On Friday night, District President Hugh Dalziel held an opening session which was followed by a stag affair. Saturday was filled with committee meetings in which ideas on all areas of house policy were exchanged. The day was most informative and all chapters gained through the experiences of others.

Saturday evening, a banquet was held, followed by an enjoyable party at the fraternity house featuring a band.

The weekend was a profitable one in that all present had ample opportunity to increase their knowledge of the fraternity and to meet their brothers.

Southern Methodist Entertains Orphans

Delta-Zeta sorority and Beta-Zeta Chapter were co-hosts at a Valentine's Day party for fifty frisky boys from the Dunn Memorial Orphans' Home at the PiKA house at Southern Methodist University.

A project of both the Delta-Zeta and Pike pledge classes, the party included a Valentine hunt, baseball and football games, and a horse-rider battle.

Prizes were given to the children. Valentine cakes and cookies with red punch were served by the Delta-Zeta actives.

The money for the party was raised from an earlier box supper between the sorority and the fraternity at the Delta-Zeta house. From the funds roller skates were purchased for the orphanage.

William And Mary Wins Championships

After having won the intramural football and swimming championships, the Pikes at William and Mary continued to lead the intramural race.

Gamma's basketball team led by captain Bruce Hobbs was runner-up, dropping only one game. This puts the Pikes in quite a strong position to win the coveted intramural trophy which is presented each year.

Gamma Chapter is active in varsity sports also. I.M.C. Loe Bechtold is now engaged in spring football practice, preparing for his second year as first string tackle on the William and Mary Indians. The varsity swimming team had a successful season with Gary Collier as captain. Bruce Hobbs is anticipating his third season as a starter on the mound for the varsity baseball team. Lawrence Schalk, former S.M.C., has been referred to as the "smoothest fielding first baseman seen at William and Mary in recent years". Rush Chairman Ingram is beginning his third season on the varsity golf team.

The brothers have also been active in other extra-curricular activities. William Burnside was recently elected president of the National Society of Scabbard and Blade. Bill is currently the secretary of Gamma Chapter. Thomas Foster is president of the Senior Class and Brother Tracy is acting vice-president of the Senior Class.

The chapter has refurnished the fraternity lodge. The brothers continued to eat their evening meal together at the lodge with selected pledges acting as waiters.

Arkansas State Cops Songfest Trophy

Delta-Theta Chapter, Arkansas State, won first place for the third consecutive year in the Alpha Omicron Pi sponsored All-Greek Songfest which was staged March 19. The Pikes thus gained permanent possession of the traveling trophy.

No other fraternity on campus has ever won the Songfest during the four years that fraternities competed against sororities or the three years that competition has been in separate divisions.

Phil Burns of West Memphis was the director of the twenty-five man singing team which presented three numbers to the delight of the audience. The songs included "Down in Ole Virginy", "In the Still of the Night," and "The Crowdad Song". All three were sung in four-part harmony with piano accompaniment.

High Point Participates In Virginia Ball

Delta-Omega spring social events included a trip to the mountains, a few regular week-end parties, a trip to the Annual Pi Kappa Alpha Ball in Richmond (Omicron), and of course, the Dream Girl Ball.

The year was brought to a climax with Delta-Omega's annual sojourn to Myrtle Beach, South Carolina the first week in June.

Captain Shook Advisor To Kansas Chapter

First place for the 1960 Greek Week chariot races at Kansas University went to the men of Beta-Gamma. The brothers responsible for bringing home this trophy were Bruce Burns and Paul Dozier with Herman Mast riding the chariot. The race, which is a part of the annual Greek Week festivities, was composed of twenty-five entries. The time, a university record for the five hundred yard course, was 61.6 seconds.

Each entry in the Greek Week races is a model of the ancient greek fighting chariots. The entries are pulled by two runners, and they carry one rider. This year's winning entry was built by Harold Rogler.

On many occasions throughout the semester, Beta-Gamma received help and advice from a man who has constantly shown an increasing interest in the chapter, Captain Shook, Beta-Gamma alumnus and presently Assistant Professor of Air Science at Kansas University.

Whenever there is the least bit of trouble, Brother Shook steps in and offers his help. By talking with the men and helping them develop better study habits, he has won the respect and admiration of every member of the house. It is very seldom that he has ever missed an active meeting, and he has done many worth-while things for the house including helping with homecoming decorations, chaperoning many of our parties, and even taking the housemother's place when she was delayed by snow at Christmas. His consideration of others and his ability to carry on an interesting conversation have endeared him to the men of the chapter.

East Tennessee Wins Intramural Events

Epsilon-Zeta Chapter continues its lead over other fraternities at East Tennessee State College in intramurals. After an undefeated team in football, a repeat performance was made in basketball. Runners-ups in badminton, swimming and other minor sports have kept us at the top. Under the fine leadership of Bill Cox, our lead should continue to hold its course with expected championships in volleyball and softball.

This year Founders Day at Epsilon-Zeta was celebrated with an honored guest, National Secretary L. A. McCall, Jr. presented the alumni and members with an inspiring talk on the true meaning of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Aside from intramurals this past quarter Epsilon-Zeta chapter was busy working and participating in various activities to make PiKA stand out as leaders on campus. These included: the presentation of a beautiful PiKA calendar to the students under the supervision of Gene Cowan, a fine showing in the Lambda Chi Alpha All-Sing production, the capturing of an all-sorority and fraternity bridge tournament by "card sharks" Tom Hendricks, Bill Cutshaw and Dale Kiker and work on numerous community and school service projects.

Epsilon-Zeta has now concentrated its efforts toward sweeping the upcoming spring elections, promoting a large rush and picking a Dream Girl.

Future plans are centered on a house for next year.

Alumnus Counselor Williams Retires

Clayton Epes Williams, Dean of the Washington and Lee Law School, will retire at the end of the 1959-60 academic year after 40 years of service to the University.

Dean Williams, 69, has been a member of the Washington and Lee faculty since 1919 when he joined the law school staff as an associate professor.

Brother Williams attended Washington and Lee from 1908-12 during which time he was an active member of Pi Chapter and served his senior years as S.M.C.

Following his graduation in 1912, he practiced law for several years. From 1916 to 1919 he served as Commonwealth's attorney for Shenandoah County in Virginia.

After returning to W&L as a faculty member, he was promoted to full professor in 1920 and to acting Dean in 1946. In 1947, he became Bradford professor and Dean of Law.

Brother Williams has been active in Virginia legal circles, serving on the state commission to study the improvement of the administration of justice in 1944-46 and on a sub-committee of the Virginia Advisory Legislative Council that entered into a study of the requirements for the State bar.

In the text writing field, he collaborated with Martin P. Burks, III, on the third edition of Burk's Pleading and Practice which is widely used in Virginia.

In addition to his legal and academic activities, Dean Williams has served Pi Chapter for many years as Alumnus Counselor and as Secretary-Treasurer of the Pi Chapter Corporation which he helped to establish. Next year will mark Brother William's 53rd year with Pi Kappa Alpha, and although he plans to retire as Dean of Law he will continue to serve as Alumnus Counselor.

Recently, Dean Williams was praised here at a testimonial dinner given in his honor as one of the "great Deans" in the 111-year history of the W&L Law School, and as "the rallying force" in the re-establishment of the Law School following World War II. At this dinner, a plaque from the national headquarters of the Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity was presented to Dean Williams praising his contribution to the bar.

Dream Girl Festivities At Mississippi State

With more than traditional enthusiasm, Gamma-Theta started its three-day "Dream Girl Weekend" with an informal party at Columbus, Mississippi. The party was sparkling with the music of the "Five Dukes" following a supper from the tasty kitchen of Mother Claiborne. Saturday's activities centered around the chapter house where the members, pledges, and their dates enjoyed music and refreshments.

The Dream Girl Ball was held in the Municipal Auditorium in Columbus. Decor for the festive event consisted of Spring pastels with large fraternity emblems at the center of the entrances. The Ball proved, as always, to be one of the outstanding social events at Mississippi State University. Music for the occasion was provided by the "Auburn Knights" acclaimed to be one of the nation's leading collegiate orchestras.

The highlight of the evening was the announcement of the Dream Girl of PiKA for the 1961 University Year, Miss Elizabeth Anne Robison of Mississippi State College for Women. Miss Robison, affectionately known by Gamma-Theta as "Cookie," is a Home Economics major from Memphis, Tennessee. Leading her court were: Miss Mary Donald, Miss Dorothy Rodgers, Miss Marie McCulloch, and Miss Zara Gressett. The "Trade Winds" from the University of Alabama furnished music and antics for intermission.

Following the Ball, Pikes and their dates went to the chapter house for an early morning breakfast. The dates were presented PiKA sweaters, as favors. The week-end ended at church on Sunday.

Not without tradition, Gamma-Theta's 1960 "Dream Girl Weekend" was an outstanding success filled with good times and good company, one of the hallmarks of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Pitt Chapter Climbs Scholarship Ladder

Gamma-Sigma's success over the past two months stems not from the efforts of any man but from those of the chapter and alumni as a group.

Perhaps the best news from Gamma-Sigma is its progressive scholarship. The chapter rose from sixteenth to sixth place among campus fraternities. Although we are still below the all men's average, this progress is definitely heartening.

Our winter trimester rush certainly succeeded, garnering the largest pledge class at Gamma-Sigma in four years. The well-rounded thirty-five man pledge class contains scholars, athletes and "party lovers", totaling one-fourth of the number of men on campus who pledged fraternities.

At the Dream Girl Formal lovely Miss Lillian Stanezak was named Dream Girl of Gamma-Sigma for 1960-61. Lillian attends the University of Pittsburgh on a part-time basis and works in Pitt's office of scholarships and loans.

The alumni came through with the best news recently; Gamma-Sigma now has a house. Gamma-Sigma has not had a house since 1956, and the odd fact is that the house obtained was the chapter's house until 1944. Alumni William Schofield and Don Buchek are to be thanked for their untiring efforts to obtain the house.

Athletically, Gamma-Sigma still stands second in the all sports trophy race. Taking firsts in swimming and volleyball and a second in basketball, Gamma-Sigma has narrowed the front-runners lead to three points. The final results will depend upon the outcome of the last sport, track.

Gamma-Sigma contributes to the University through its campus leadership. Charles Isler was elected as the new Student Government President. Bob Lipinski and Nick Chronis became the president and vice-president of Scabbard and Blade, a national honorary military fraternity. Druids, honorary academic and leadership fraternity, initiated Carl Pepine. Pledge Robert Bryan made Phi Eta Sigma, freshman academic honorary. Thomas Auten is the vice president of Block "P", Pitt's flashcard section. Numerous Gamma-Sigma PiKAs represent the University in all major athletic teams.

Pi Kappa Alpha joined Phi Gamma Delta and Sigma Chi in a joint party to improve relationships. The pledges held their traditional pledge week, sponsoring a social with Kappa Alpha Theta and a skit-party for the brothers. The spring formal will be held at Bedford Springs, one of the finest resorts in Pennsylvania.

Waldron Breaks Record At Southern California

Gamma-Eta has ushered in the spring semester in grand style. The Founders' Day Dinner dance was celebrated with the welcome company of an encouragingly large number of alumni who expressed a growing interest in chapter functions. This was the chapter's first attempt at making Founders' Day a joint Alumni-Undergraduate celebration.

As always, Gamma-Eta is in the thick of campus activities. With the help of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority, we captured the University's Co-Recreational Softball Championship with an unblemished record of 4 wins and no losses. We're looking forward to another trophy in the Interfraternity Softball League where we are continuing our winning ways.

On the political scene, Brother Chuck Orapeza is now campaigning for the position of University Yell King. Chuck was a cheer leader in high school and a Yell Leader at USC last year. With the full backing of the chapter, Chuck has high hopes for a successful campaign.

Pi Kappa Alpha is well known on campus for its fire engine, "The Big Red Beast," which makes a daily "lunch run" to and from campus and "the row". It has been pictured and featured in the University's daily newspaper and the local Hearst Syndicated newspaper and is used for various community projects in which the chapter participates.

In athletics, Gamma-Eta is very proud of Jim Waldron's outstanding efforts on USC's track team which is consistently number one in the nation. Last week Jim broke the existing school record for the 160 yard low hurdles in addition to a second in the 120 yard high hurdles and anchoring the quarter mile relay.

Dream Girl Honored Each Month

February marked the beginning of Beta-Beta's program of selecting a Dream Girl of the Month. Candidates are selected on the basis of their campus activities, personality and merits. Our first award went to Sue Stephens, Kappa Kappa Gamma, newly elected secretary of the Freshman class. The winner receives a small permanent trophy and roses. She is honored at a dinner at the chapter house, and her sorority is serenaded later that evening.

Under the excellent chairmanship of Brad Zylstra the Dream Girl formal plans have been made. The first event began with a picnic which all the contestants attended. Other activities included a tea, a cruise on Lake Washington and dinner dancing for the five finalists.

Miller Leads At Kentucky

The 1959-60 school year will be remembered as the year Omega Chapter at the University of Kentucky regained some of the prestige it lost during lack-luster years, and all the credit goes to present SMC Art Miller. In fact, the Chapter was so pleased with the work done by SMC Miller that he was re-elected president for a second term.

At the beginning of the spring semester, eight new actives were installed and a pledge class of nine was initiated.

Our Founders' Day Banquet was held March 7, and we were honored to have L. A. McCall, National Secretary, as our guest speaker. Deep snows prevented many of our alumni from attending, but we were pleased to be host to Kappa (Transylvania) and Alpha-Lambda (Georgetown) who were here in full force. Many thanks to Brother McCall for the inspiring speech he delivered.

A welcome addition to Omega this year came in the form of a deep freeze. Thanks to the help of our alumni and especially the help of John H. Ewing, we were able to get the freezer for a reasonable cost. Let me take this space to formally thank all who helped make this dream a reality.

Let me add that we are in the market for a fire engine. Any chapter who knows where we can get one, please let us know.

Hazelrigg Outstanding At Oklahoma

George Hazelrigg—Tau Beta Pi, former vice president of OU Engineering Club, St. Pat's Council, Engineering Queen chairman, and engineering college representative to the student government for two terms. What is his major?

If you guessed engineering, you're wrong. Brother Hazelrigg, a second semester senior, began working on his foreign relations major at the University of Oklahoma this semester after seven semesters in the college of engineering. For his 116 hours in engineering, Hazelrigg accumulated a 3.5 grade average (on a 4 point system).

"I finally decided what I wanted to do," Brother Hazelrigg said. "I want to study foreign relations and serve my country abroad in underdeveloped countries. Here is where the real challenge of our country lies in the future."

Hazelrigg gave dissatisfaction with his former major as another reason for the change. Here is the way Brother Hazelrigg put it: "I didn't feel that the challenge and stimulation which I desired was there. I felt that there was more memorization and plugging numbers into equations than provocation for thought."

Hazelrigg feels that other schools are also failing in the same manner. "All college departments are failing to provide the type of education which our college students need in order for them to become thinkers rather than reactors," Hazelrigg said.

In Hazelrigg's opinion not all of the blame should be placed on the colleges and universities. "In many cases," Hazelrigg commented, "college students have forgotten why they have come to college—namely to get an education. Many college students are willing to 'just get by'. This had led to a citizenry which is apathetic to most anything except the $35,000 salary and a swimming pool in the back yard."

Brother Hazelrigg's future plans are to get a doctorate and then work for the government abroad in the Afro-Asian countries. Eventually, he plans to teach in college.

While at the University of Oklahoma, Brother Hazelrigg has been student body president, Omicron Delta Kappa vice president, president of the Oklahoma Intercollegiate Student Association. Hazelrigg is presently the president of the International Club. He has been selected one of the top ten senior men as well as being elected to Who's Who. Hazelrigg was also instrumental in getting a model United Nations established at the University of Oklahoma.

Two Oklahoma Pikes On Student Gov't

Pi Kappa Alpha has won the Interfraternity Council's scholarship improvement trophy at the University of Oklahoma this year.

PiKA's pledge class ranked third in grades while PiKA's entire house average brought the chapter seventh place among 26 fraternities.

Grades and the social side of college life went hand and hand for Beta-Omicron this year. Pi Kappa Alpha has had desserts with Pi Beta Phi, Delta Delta Delta, Gamma Phi Beta, and Delta Gamma. Three other desserts have been scheduled with Chi Omega, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Kappa Alpha Theta.

This was the 38th year that Beta-Omicron has held its Apache Party. The chapter house took on the appearance of Paris night life for the party.

Two more Pikes have been elected to the OU student government. Henry James is representing the Interfraternity Council in the senate and Duane Brown was elected to the senate from the College of Business. Two other Pikes, Jim Machen and Skip Core, are also serving in the student senate.

Pike bowlers won last semester's Interfraternity Bowling League trophy. Pi Kappa Alpha has won the first place trophy for the last five years. The Pike bowling team also brought home eight of nine trophies given at the Norman all-city tournament.

McLeod Speaks At St. Louis Celebration

In Saint Louis, Founders' Day was celebrated on March 12 by some fifty alumni and actives of the metropolitan area with a dinner at Garavelli's restaurant. Pete Baker and Pledge Bob Tison spent most of their meal time fighting a strange German camera, and after great pains they managed to take one roll of pictures only to find after completion that there was no film in the camera.

After the meal, SMC Tilker of Beta-Lambda introduced the members of the chapter. He then asked all the chapters represented to identify themselves. Those mentioned were: Alpha-Omega, Alpha-Nu, Beta-Lambda, Beta-Mu, Beta-Gamma, Beta, Beta-Eta, and Epsilon-Iota.

The only saddening note of the evening was the absence of Brother Claude Welch. A moment of silent prayer was offered in his memory led by Brother Charles Freeman.

The highlight of the evening was an address by our new Executive Director Dr. Robert L. McLeod, principal speaker. He read the preamble to our Constitution and spoke stirringly on its meaning.

After the speech, District President Richard Bills presented the District Scholarship Improvement Plaque to Beta-Lambda Chapter for the 1958-1959 school year. In one semester the chapter moved from fifteenth to fourth place on the campus.

A. W. Moise was presented with an honor citation from Beta-Lambda in appreciation for all he did as Alumnus Counselor, in securing new housing on the campus. In his word of acceptance, Brother Moise said that he felt that many others should share the honor with him.

Dunaway Receives Honor At Lamar Tech

Epsilon-Kappa Chapter announces the election of charter member William E. Dunaway to the Presidency of the Texas Academy of Science Collegiate Academy.

TASCA is unique in that it is an undergraduate organization in which students do research work on a graduate level. It is affiliated with the National Academy of Science. Since its organization in Texas in 1936, it has grown to a membership of over 3000, and presently has a chapter at every college in Texas with main offices in Austin.

A native of Houston, Bill now resides in Beaumont with his wife and son and is currently a senior Geology student and student instructor. He plans to do graduate work.

Charles Griffin

John P. Dolman, BII (Pennsylvania), was elected a vice president of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers at its convention in Toronto, Canada.

Ockel Receives Pledge Award

Miss Joan Schneider, Alpha Chi Omega, was elected Sagamore Queen of 1960—the most outstanding social event of the year at Southeast Missouri State, and Epsilon-Iota is proud to have sponsored such a lovely candidate.

On March 5, 1960, we held our Founders' Day banquet. Arthur Ockel was given the outstanding pledge award for the fall pledge class. We have initiated 12 new pledges for the spring semester.

Recognition of the quality of men in Epsilon-Iota can be seen in the positions of leadership some of its members have attained for next year. Sam Bishop was elected president of Kappa Pi art fraternity, and Gene Gurgess serves as president of the Newman Club of Catholic students.

Coming events for this spring include a basketball tournament at Murray State April 8, the Dream Girl Dance May 7, and our annual outing May 8 at Reelfoot Lake in Tennessee.

John Crowell EI, Southeast Missouri State

ing this month, the Dean of Men's Office announced that the Pikes had topped the other 18 fraternities on campus with a scholastic average of 2.711 for the fall semester. The chapter received the IFC Scholarship Trophy for this accomplishment, and later in the month our Fall pledge class received the IFPC Scholarship Award for its 3.06 average.

National Treasurer Charles L. Freeman was the guest speaker at the Founders' Day Dinner held early in March at the Ohio University Center. Many alumni, friends, and families of the brothers and pledges were in attendance at this most enjoyable affair. An informal open house at the chapter closed the evening.

March also saw the number one Pike bowling team come home with flying colors. This team went through its entire league schedule dropping only a single point. The team is now looking forward to the league playoffs and a possible campus championship.

Spring activities included the annual Dream Girl Dance, a Firehouse Party, the traditional Memorial Day outing, and J-Prom.

Ohio Univ. Pikes On Top

Top fraternity grades on campus, a fire truck, and a championship athletic team have been just a few of the highlights in the lives of the Pikes at Ohio University since the beginning of 1960.

Shortly after the Christmas vacation, six of the brothers traveled to Columbus, Ohio to bring our 1924 Seagraves pumper back to its new home in Athens. Arrangements had been made to secure the truck in December. In the meantime, the purchase costs were raised through donations by the actives and pledges of the chapter. The day was quite cold but luckily it remained clear, and after numerous coffee stops, the brothers got their open cab charge to the chapter house. After loading all available brothers, pledges, pin mates, girl friends and girls in general, the fire engine made its first appearance on the campus. Several trips around the College Green and the East Green were made before the big red wagon was given a chance to rest.

At present, the Fire Engine Committee is attempting to secure additional equipment to outfit the truck. The necessary renovations to turn it into a true PiKA fire engine are being planned. The truck itself is in good physical shape. It is powered by a six cylinder Hercules engine and carries a 500 gallon storage tank to supply the 500 gallon per minute bronze pump which is fully operational.

February marked the beginning of a new semester on campus and the opening of the fraternity rush. Following a week of intense smokers and parties, the chapter placed pledge buttons on 18 fine men. Dur-

Pike First President Of Warriors

The Capaha Warriors was founded by a group of six men at Southeast Missouri State in January, 1959. On April 30, 1959, this group received its charter, the first to be granted by the Student Council. Bob Kotrba, Epsilon-Iota charter member, was elected first president (Chief Sagamore, symbol of school spirit) for 1959-1960, and Miss Sally Osborn, Sigma Sigma Sigma, was chosen the first princess. This group is devoted to the promotion, and furtherance of the great tradition of Chief Sagamore, to help stimulate school spirit.

Chief Sagamore appears with his Indian Princess "on the hill" overlooking the football field before every game, and with arms uplifted offers a silent prayer to the "gods" that the team will be victorious as the band plays the Alma Mater. This is the traditional blessing performed over the blazing campfire, a truly impressive and touching ceremony. This is also done before each basketball game—a spotlight being substituted for the campfire.

Chief Sagamore, the symbol of school spirit, is the legendary chief of the Capaha Indian tribe, member of the Sioux Nation, located in this immediate area. Actually, "Sagamore" means "Chief of Chiefs". This was the title given to the greatest chief of the council of chiefs of an Indian Nation. His was the deciding word in all matters of great importance. Since the Capaha Indians inhabited this area, and since our athletic teams are named the "Indians", it was decided many years ago that our school should have this symbol.

Bob Kotrba, EI, was elected Chief Sagamore, symbol of school spirit at Southeast Missouri State College, and his Indian Princess Miss Sally Osborn, Sigma Sigma Sigma.

Memphis State Has Pike Quartet

Delta-Zeta Chapter has been quite busy for the past two semesters. Our Dream Girl Ball was held April 2 at the Claridge Hotel. The five lovely candidates for the coveted honor were Brenda Theurer, Ruth Ann Heitner, Marcy Byrd, Thelma Schwartz, and Dottie Stewart. The ballroom shook with applause as Brenda Theurer received the symbolic loving cup from S.M.C. Vic Robilio. At this point the brothers serenaded Brenda with "The Dream Girl of Pi Kappa Alpha." The ballroom was decorated beautifully in blue and silver, and everyone enjoyed tremendously the music of Charles Causey and his Dixielanders.

We initiated eleven new members on February 14. Those deserving men were "Butch" Alford, Doug Averitt, Bob Diebold, Buddy Duke, Charles Emerick, David Estile, Jackie Hurst, Wayne Johnson, Tom McNair, Lewis Trotter, recipient of the Best Pledge Award, and Bob Spray. This pledge class initiated the idea of wearing pledge emblems on dark blue sport jackets and we think that this could well become a practice of all chapters.

Delta-Zeta worked many hours during homecoming week to complete the prize winning display the second straight year that the chapter has won this honor.

We were quite fortunate to have Dr. Freeman H. Hart address us at the annual Founders' Day Banquet. We particularly enjoyed his autographing our copies of The History of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Well-known around the campus is the newly-formed "Highlanders" which is a quartet composed of Perry Gaither, Jackie Hurst, Harry Paulk and Ron Tate. As a result of their Kingston trio style, they walked away with the top honor in the annual "Follies."

Our championship basketball team really put forth great effort in winning three trophies to add to our display. We salute them for their outstanding loyalty to the chapter.

Howard Entertains Underprivileged Children

A successful party was given to the underprivileged children at the Alabama Rehabilitation Center in Birmingham. These children are not only underprivileged but all have some type of deficiencies such as hearing, speech or muscular dystrophy. The children were presented with toys and ice cream. This was the first time any organization had given this group a party.

Popular Margie Pattillo, Alpha Delta Pi, was chosen Dream Girl of Alpha-Pi Chapter for 1960.

Georgetown, Kentucky First In Homecoming

To start the year off right the pledge class of Alpha-Lambda Chapter won first place among fraternities on campus in the Homecoming competition. After the homecoming victory the Pikes had their annual Homecoming dinner for the alumni at the chapter house. This was attended by more than one hundred guests.

The next big event was the annual Christmas Party highlighted by the crowning of the Dream Girl for 1960. Lovely Kay Vogel a junior elementary education major from Ashland, Kentucky, was crowned Dream Girl of 1960 by SMC Robert E. Harris.

The Pikes at Alpha-Lambda are in the thick of intramurals. The champion will probably be determined at the very end for it is a close battle.

The house has been improved this spring with the painting of the living room and the front television room.

Alpha-Lambda is proud of its new 12 man pledge class as they have proved to be a great asset.

Murray State Wins Intramurals

Anyway you look at it, Epsilon-Lambda's spring pledge class is tops on the Murray State campus. Two of its members have already shown great leadership potential by being elected to the only two freshman positions on the Student Council.

Our highly talented basketball team took top honors in the annual Intramural Tournament this year and will receive a handsome trophy for their excellent performance. In an attempt to see more of our fine team in action, we are sponsoring a four team intrafraternity tournament between Southwestern, Memphis State, Arkansas State and Murray State, which will be played here at Murray.

Socially this year we have made an all out effort to more firmly establish our local alumni relations. One day a week has been designated to meet with them in an attempt to let them know us better and especially to give them the feeling that they are actually taking a part in the fraternity.

Our inspiration for this effort came from their unanimous approval of our first alumni dance. They so thoroughly enjoyed themselves at this affair that they want to give us a dance each semester instead only one each year as originally intended. We feel that we have a responsibility to our alumni members. It is up to us as actives to keep their interest in the chapter alive and to make them proud to be associated with Pi Kappa Alpha.

With the addition of our exceptionally fine pledge class, our first intramural basketball championship, and our greatly improved alumni relations, we feel that we have made considerable progress as we near the end of our second year as a chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Only now, in light of these achievements, can we fully recognize the quality of leadership that we have had to guide us. Our new SMC, Ken Pember, can be proud of the job he has done.

Distinguished Visitors At Colorado Mines

Delta-Phi has made great strides from its position last fall. The active membership is now up to 16, more than twice what we started with. This semester's pledge class numbers 6. We sincerely expect all these men to be ready for activation by next fall.

The house had two very distinguished visitors recently. Jack Moreland, Alpha Gamma, and Rudy Ravalos stopped by the house between practice periods at the Mines gymnasium. They were in Denver for the U.S. Olympic game basketball team tryouts.

Delta-Phi took second place in house decorations at homecoming, and our representative for the "Beast" in Alpha Phi Omega's "Beauty and the Beast" competition, Bob Hunt, walked away with the title by a large margin. The help solicited from alumni at Founders' Day dinner was much appreciated in this campaign.

New Hampshire Honors Shanken And McIntire

Formal rushing has officially closed, and Gamma-Mu now has 19 pledges, one of the largest pledge classes in our history. One of the highlights of the rushing season was our annual Dixieland Party which featured a swinging Dixieland band in the cellar and four hi-fi speakers on the roof which put out enough volume to cover the whole campus with music. The evening was climaxed with the traditional piano burning on the front lawn. The piano used was carefully selected by our music experts from a large number of willing donors who wanted the distinction of having their piano burned by PiKa. It was placed on top of the remains of our Winter Carnival snow sculpture, but the event itself proved to be somewhat disappointing as the piano burned so fast that no one could get near enough to it to play even a few bars of Hot Canary.

The other highlight of rushing was the Founders' Day celebration which drew a large turnout of alumni as well as rushees. House Corporation Secretary Bill Zimmerman presented Outstanding Alumni Achievement Awards to George Thomas, Ed Shanken, and Paul McIntire. Our Faculty Advisor, Ed Shanken, then showed his appreciation by presenting the Shanken Scholastic Achievement Award. The winners of the award for the first semester were Dick Duggan with the highest grade point average and a tie between Hartley Town and Charlie Clark for the most improvement in their average. Joe Acorace, under the watchful eyes of his wife, then announced the candidates for the Dream Girl contest. Miss Ann Cogswell escorted by Howie Publicover was selected as our Dream Girl for 1960.

The pledges are anxiously waiting for the day when our fire engine will again roar around the campus and recreating the reputation for which Gamma-Mu is noted. After hearing many tales of the good old days when Gamma-Mu had a workable fire engine parked on each side of the house, of the famous District Convention trip to Syracuse on the American LaFrance, and of the many trips taken to fight local forest fires, they are anticipating the day when the 1917 Ahrens-Fox will roll under its own power. On its first trip for PiKa, the Fox covered 88 of its destined 90 miles, but then threw a bearing cap, put a gaping hole in its oil pan, twisted its 3-inch-wide connecting rod into a corkscrew, and broke a section out of the piston. Most of the repairs have been completed, but we are still in desperate need of a left hand engine block and would appreciate any information on the location of such an indispensable part.

Gamma-Mu has placed several men in prominent campus offices this spring. Frank Rathgeber was elected president of the Interfraternity Council, one of the most important positions on campus. Dan Emery is president of the Intramural Athletic Council, and Dick Duggan is Managing Editor of The New Hampshire, University newspaper. Two men earning their letters in winter sports were Pete Cole for the ski team, and Dan Emery, leading scorer for the indoor track team and captain of the team for the 1960-61 season.

Pikes Largest At Florida Southern

Delta-Delta, the largest fraternity chapter on Florida Southern College's campus, is proud to make a report of outstanding campus leadership.

Besides making preparations for the National Leadership School and the District Convention for which this chapter is to be host, noteworthy advances are evident in the chapter's general functioning.

The scholastic standing has improved, additions such as curtains, a new sign and other refinements have been made to the new house, and the Greek Sing has once again been won by the Pikes. Also the public welfare activities of the chapter have been stimulated since Delta-Delta is the benefactor of a new health clinic for the poor children of Polk County.

Congratulations are in order to the new officers of the chapter led by S.M.C. Linton Taylor and I.M.C. Tom Keenan and to the eighteen men recently initiated. Our new faculty advisor is Reverend Francis Luce, one of the charter members of this chapter.

Chuck Hunter was named Senior Honor Walk Student, Bob Broyles gained admission to Omicron Delta Kappa, and Jim Davis and Tom Keenan were important leaders in organizing the Diamond Jubilee festivities.

Tim Scobie was chosen sweetheart by the Kappa-Deltas, Tom Keenan by Alpha Chi Omega, Al Trevalian by the pledges of Alpha Omicron Pi, and Paul Keen by Zeta Tau Alpha.

Watson Stars In Basketball

Great chapter spirit was developed this year at Transylvania by the "fightin' Kappa brothers". The Pikes fielded strong contenders in all intramural sports. They currently have their eyes set on the softball trophy and believe victory will be assured behind the fast pitching of Tom Watson. Tom also was a stellar member of the varsity basketball squad.

Arkansas No. 1 In Scholarship

Alpha-Zeta chapter continues to rank near the top of the fraternity structure at the University of Arkansas.

Pikes at Arkansas have enjoyed an outstanding winter with top flight performances in scholarship, intramurals, and social events.

In the intramural department, Alpha-Zeta swept through the University's two fraternity divisions placing all four of the house basketball teams in the roundball playoffs. PiKA teams enjoyed a 27-5 record over the course of the basketball season. Under the inspired guidance of Jim Poynter, intramural director, things look even better for the coming spring events.

While stressing scholarship through fellowship and hardwork, Alpha-Zeta has attained one of the top slots on campus in this area in recent semesters. Once below the desired scholastic level of the house, PiKA soared to number one among fraternities in the spring of '59 and expects to be there again when the grade reports are made available for the fall and spring semesters this year.

Neither has the social aspect of fraternalism been neglected at Arkansas. Alpha-Zeta opened the door to the spring social life at the University with the annual Quo Vadis party. At this writing plans are being formulated for a spring outing, the Dream Girl formal, and a forceful summer rush program.

Virginia Holds Alumni Weekend

Formal rush week at the University of Virginia ended with a ringing success on Bid Sunday when eleven outstanding men were pledged to Alpha-Rocky Fera, Dennis Andrews, Frank Gildner, Terence Duffy, Reggie Baker, Ted Rezempoluch, Gary Cuozzo, Bill Kenton, Al Alzaur, and Joe Kehoe. Special congratulations are in order for Pledgemaster John Barger who did a remarkable job.

Early spring activities at the house were highlighted by Alumni Weekend, March 25-26, when many brothers who hadn't been back to Charlottesville since undergraduate days returned to talk over "old times". It was a truly gay time as the alumni were treated to a reception and banquet by the actives following the Varsity-Alumni football game. Alumnus Counselor W. H. Flannagan and Alumni Secretary Art Stone were instrumental in this successful affair. Plans for future social functions include Pledge Weekend and Easter Weekend. Many compliments have been received on the new hi-fi system recently installed in the house. Since all of the electronic and carpentry work was done by the brothers, an added note of pride is evident.

On March 16, Ham Hannah was elected to Virginia Beta of Phi Beta Kappa. This highlights Ham's four truly outstanding years at the University. After receiving his degree in chemistry in June, he will enter the University of Virginia Medical School.

Vanderbilt Pledges Thirty-One Men

Sigma this year outstripped all other fraternities on the Vanderbilt campus by pledging thirty-one outstanding men, practically filling the thirty-three quota allowed each fraternity during the 1959-60 rush season. This year's pledge class is the largest Sigma has had since 1956, and both the large number and high quality of those pledged is attributed largely to the effective leadership of our capable rush chairman, Bob Tomlinson. Although these future Pikes are only now in their sixth week of pledge training they have already demonstrated greatly their enthusiasm and loyalty to PiKA by bringing honor and recognition to the chapter in many diverse fields of endeavor. Pledges Neal Batson and Bob Sims were elected to the Vanderbilt Student Senate during the fall elections thus filling both posts open to freshmen men. The pledge class grade this year was the highest of any class ever to be affiliated with Sigma, and this is a source of understandable pride to the active chapter. Pledge Sims made an admirable contribution to this average by his perfect all "A" record for his first semester at Vanderbilt. With such a superior group of men scheduled to become members of PiKA in the near future, it is evident that Sigma may look forward to a future of ever increasing respect and admiration from all those who are aware of college and fraternity life.

Sigma, continuing with its already impressive previous record, has again excelled in scholarship. For the third straight semester, Sigma led the campus in academic proficiency having an all fraternity average of 1.516 for the fall semester. This average is well above that of the next highest fraternity and is clearly much in excess over the Vanderbilt all-men's average of 1.428 for last year. Another impressive aspect of Sigma's scholastic record is that approximately 25% of the members had an average of 2.0 or better. This coupled with the high average of the pledges indicates that Sigma will continue to excel in this field. Since an overall average such as this cannot rest solely on the endeavor of a few men, Sigma's academic record effectively symbolizes the manner in which the members of the chapter work in cooperation and harmony to maintain the high position Sigma now enjoys.

The highlight of the Dream Girl weekend will be the Dream Girl Dance to the music of Woody Herman and his orchestra.

Sigma's talented basketball team drove on undefeated through all of its regular opposition during its Intramural League play, winding up the regular season with a 7-0 record.

Toledo Pledges Remodel Chapter Room

In October of 1959, Epsilon-Epsilon Chapter pledged 10 men. The pledge class consisted of Dick White, president; Terry Jankowski, vice-president; Gene Korecki, secretary; Jim Loudon, treasurer; Dick Rodriguez, historian; Bob Bowen, Ray Heffern, Greg Shaefer, Dick Blickle, and Ron Onnenga.

Seven of this pledge class were initiated into the active chapter on January 31, 1960.

The pledge project was to remodel one of the rooms of the chapter house to be used as a meeting room for the pledges. Bob Bowen supervised the project and did a marvelous job.

On January 30, 1960, the date of the "Big brother—Little brother" dinner, the award for the most outstanding pledge was presented to Bob Bowen.

Bill Lehrer served as pledgemaster for this fine group and was assisted by John Farkas and Dean McCreary.

Arizona Pikes Tops In Scholarship

At this year's annual Greek Week banquet, Gamma-Delta chapter was awarded the IFC scholarship trophy for topping 25 other fraternities in scholastic attainment for the fall semester 1960. The pledge class also received the IFC scholarship award for having the highest grade average of any fraternity pledge class at the University of Arizona.

The pledge class grade average was within .01 points of the average accumulated by the actives. The chapter is very proud that it was able to initiate 100% of this fine pledge class into the bonds of the Fraternity. One more accomplishment of last semester's pledge class was the winning of the IFPC "Help Week" Award for outstanding community service. The new group of pledges at the present time promise to challenge their predecessors in these accomplishments.

Everyone was very proud when Bob Haskins was elected president of the Student Religion Council. Doug Dunipace at the present time is a candidate for student body president. Boyd Carpenter was elected president of Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity.

We are looking forward to the construction of our proposed 42-man house planned for occupancy this fall. Rushing has become our watchword in an effort to increase our membership to match the size of this new home for PiKA at Arizona.

Leaders Recognized At U. Of Cincinnati

Success breeds success. James A. Woodard, has been elected president of the Senior Class of 1961 at the University of Cincinnati. Prior to this great achievement, Jim had been Sophomore and Junior Class President, president of the Business Administration Tribunal, SMC of the chapter, District V Convention Chairman, a member of Metro and Cincinnati Service honoraries, a member of Sigma Sigma honorary and other organizations too numerous to mention.

James W. Green has been elected president of the University of Cincinnati Interfraternity Council, following a year as secretary of that organization which governs all fraternity affairs on the campus. Jay is also a member of Metro and Cincinnati honoraries, has been Greek Week Chairman, and a member of the Y.M.C.A. Cabinet and Business Administration Tribunal on Campus.

Leadership such as they have shown is not entirely outside of the chapter as both have contributed fully of their time and abilities to further the program of Alpha Xi.

Des Moines Alumni Elect Duncan

In November, 1959, a dozen loyal Pikes met at the Delta-Omicron chapter house in Des Moines, Iowa to lay the ground work for an alumni association in the Des Moines area.

This meeting was held to determine whether enough Pikes in the surrounding area were available to form such a group.

Immediately after this meeting in November, several of the alumni compiled from various sources a list of the members in the area and cards were sent to all calling for a meeting in December. Two days before the meeting personal calls were made to some eighty-five Pikes in and around the Des Moines area.

Twenty-three men arrived at a well-known supper club north of Des Moines for dinner. After the meal a meeting was called to order by Donald L. Duncan, acting chairman. It was decided at this meeting to form the Central Iowa Alumni Association, petition National for official recognition, and to conduct business beneficial to the fraternity.

At a meeting the following officers were elected for 1960: Donald L. Duncan, president; Leo Gross, vice-president; Tom Vlassis, secretary-treasurer; Morris Kinne, Jr., corresponding secretary.

Many events are contemplated — the 1960 Iowa Founders' Day Banquet, summer rush parties for Pike chapters at Iowa schools, and the placement of the PiKA leadership trophy in a Des Moines high school.

Sowers Speaks At Alpha-Kappa

Spring vacation this year was topped off with another great St. Pat's celebration. The weekend from Wednesday until Sunday evening was filled with dances and house parties all over campus. Alpha-Kappa's traditional Breakfast Dance which lasted all Friday night until 5:00 a.m. Saturday morning was a big success. After finally locating all the pieces, the house was reassembled so that we might house the silver punch bowl awarded to Alpha-Kappa for its first place float in the parade. The theme of our float was "The Vikings". It had moving oars and a sound system which played tape recorded music. During the week prior to the celebration pledges carried over-sized shillelaghs with them at all times. An AK Pledge won first prize in the shillelagh contest by entering a seven foot, eight pound, well decorated cudgel.

At Christmas time the chapter gave a party for underprivileged children. Following games and plenty of ice cream and cookies, gifts were handed out by Santa.

Our Founders' Day banquet was held at the house and was attended by many of our alumni. Brother Sowers, local newspaper editor, gave an inspiring talk concerning the progress of Pi Kappa Alpha through the years. At this time scholarship awards were presented to deserving brothers by Dean Wilson.

Alpha-Kappa is also taking an active part in many campus activities and organizations. We boast 14 offices filled by brothers in campus societies. Four of these are presidents and two are vice-presidents. Our intramural sports standing is picking up with points won in boxing and wrestling and a great start in volleyball. With the momentum we've gained so far this semester, we are looking forward to doing well in the spring sports.

Panhellenic President Named Dream Girl

Miss Nona Parker, Kappa Kappa Gamma, was named Dream Girl of Gamma-Iota Chapter at Ole Miss. Nona, who is president of the Panhellenic Council, is engaged to Melton Rhodes.

A party was held in the house the night before the Dream Girl Ball with Bill Black and his Combo providing the music for a Mardi Gras dance. The Dream Girl formal was held the following night at Spring Lake Lodge with Bill Justise's Orchestra.

On February 27 eighteen men were initiated into the bonds bringing active membership to seventy-eight. The second semester pledge class is composed of 19 fine men.

Founders' Day celebration began Saturday night, March 5, with a party in the house to honor the new initiates with the music of the Downbeats. Sunday morning the entire chapter, actives and pledges, attended church together at the First Presbyterian Church in Oxford. After church, a luncheon was held in the house with several parents and alumni present. Joe Montgomery of Lumberton was presented the Honor Pledge award.

Gamma-Iota retains its usual place in campus leadership with the election of Howard Boone as Associated Student Body Treasurer. Howard, a sophomore from Jackson, is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, honorary scholastic fraternity, and is studying civil engineering. Last year Brother Boone was varsity cheerleader and served on the President's Cabinet and the Engineering School Judicial Council.

Arizona State Initiates Eight

During Easter vacation, Delta-Tau initiated eight men. The initiation of these men was the climax of a school year in which the membership mushroomed from two members at the beginning of the year to twenty-eight at middle of second semester. Twenty men were pledged first semester and sixteen were pledged by the middle of second semester.

Several of the new pledges have moved into the house. These new men will make sleeping space a critical problem next year. In fact, this problem will be so critical that new additions are past the planning stage. Plans include a new chapter room, new dining room, new study room, and additional sleeping space. The present living room—chapter room combination will be turned into a lounge.

During the easter holidays, the actives and pledges of Delta-Tau painted the chapter house inside and out. This job was supervised by "everybody's all-american" Field Secretary Johnny Browning. Assisting him in his supervisory position were District

President Larry Courtney and Alumnus Counselor Bob Smith.

In intramurals Delta-Tau refused to let the high percentage of freshmen members be a handicap. With only a few sports remaining in the season, the Pikes are in ninth place out of about twenty-five participating groups.

The PiKA bowling team is in second place just one game behind the league leader. After beating the first place team three games out of four, the Delta-Tau boys are confident of finishing in first place.

SMC Bill Ross and IMC Boyd Garner are the proud owners of a three man canoe which is used to take rushees on wet, wet trips down the Verde River.

Carrying out an aggressive alumni program, members of Delta-Tau visited alumni on the 2nd and 3rd of April. This alumni visitation was carried out to acquaint the alumni with the men of the chapter and was climaxed by an alumni party which was held early in May.

Millsaps Wins Song Fest

Alpha-Iota has done it again! Another first place has been added to the list with the winning of the annual Song Fest sponsored by Chi Omega. Dressed in black tuxedos PiKA presented three of man's emotions expressed through music. First, with "This Is My Country" the feeling of patriotism was expressed; second was the deep-rooted religious fervor of the Negro Spiritual "Rockin' All Night," and third was the emotion of a man in love with "Honeymoon." The group was directed by Charles Ricker. At the annual Stunt Night PiKA won third place with the presentation of "My Fair Ad-Man", a satire on the musical "My Fair Lady".

On Saturday, March 5, Alpha-Iota Chapter and the Jackson Alumni Association sponsored a Founders' Day banquet with about 125 people in attendance. Dr. Freeman H. Hart, National Historian, was the guest speaker for this occasion.

Highlighting the second semester social calendar was the Annual Cotton Ball on April 1. At this formal dance Miss Nina Cooper, 1959-60 Dream Girl, crowned the new Dream Girl, Miss Fay Provost, Kappa Delta.

One of our brothers, Lacy Causey, recently won the State Oratorical Contest. He will represent Mississippi in the National Oratorical Contest to be held soon.

Fourteen At Trinity On Dean's List

The fall term of the year 1959-1960 marked the third straight semester in which Pi Kappa Alpha led all other fraternities and social organizations at Trinity in scholarship. Last semester Epsilon-Alpha compiled an academic average of 78.4% which was well above the all-campus average. Fourteen brothers out of a total brotherhood of thirty-nine achieved Dean's List (85%) or better averages. Our fall pledge class of six sophomores had an average in excess of 80%, well over the 73.5% average of the sophomore class as a whole. Two of these men, Dave Arp and Dave Gates, made Dean's List. Brother Gates's 93.2% average was the second highest average in the entire college. This is certainly an excellent record for a pledge class and proof of the fine work done by Pledgemaster Roy Stephens.

Senior Irv LaValle received his Phi Beta Kappa key in recognition of his outstanding academic and extra-curricular accomplishments at Trinity. Irv has ably served Epsilon-Alpha both as ThC and as SMC. He was also elected president of the Trinity chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, honorary social science fraternity. Other Pikes recently elected to Pi Gamma Mu are Frank Jago and Dick Schwiebert. Dick has also been elected to Psi Chi, honorary psychology fraternity, as has Phil Newman.

Following the second semester rush week, we pledged three fine men, Jack Denson, Andy Miller, and "Butch" Wiley.

We are now busily engaged in organizing our spring intramural program. Prospects appear excellent for a winning softball season. Much work is also being done by Ed Harrison, who is busily planning our fall rush program. Roger Wilson, our new social chairman, is planning a Senior Ball house party which will equal, if not surpass, our fabulous parties of the past.

Stetson Names Ulmer Best Pledge

Delta-Upsilon is indeed proud of its new Dream Girl, Miss Mary Heney. Mary, a senior honor student majoring in Spanish is from Deland, Florida. A member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority, she holds the office of treasurer in that organization. Upon graduation Mary will enter the stewardess school for Pan American World Airways.

Our Founders' Day Banquet was held at the Daytona Bath and Tennis Club. The Best Pledge Award was presented to Gene Ulmer.

The days of April 8, 9 and 10 were reserved on Stetson's campus for Pi Kappa Alpha weekend. The brothers and their dates spent the weekend in St. Augustine and entertained themselves with a banquet and dance, pool parties, sightseeing and the beach.

Delta-Upsilon's pledge class as a pledge project had our 1921 American La France fire truck repainted a bright fire engine red. The monster is looking and running better than ever before in its new coat of paint.

Delta-Upsilon has quite a celebrity in its midst in the person of Terry K. W. MacNamara whose recording of "Chris Columbus" will no doubt find its way to the charts. Disc jockeys beware.

Dr. George Hoffman Honored At Texas

On February 27, Beta-Mu held its annual Founders' Day in celebration of its fortieth anniversary on the University of Texas campus. Bill Jackson and Bill Woodford were in charge of arrangements.

The Beta-Mu Building Corporation met early Saturday afternoon followed by an informal refreshment hour.

George H. Zimmerman, National Song Director of Dayton, Ohio, was the featured speaker at the banquet. Master of Ceremonies was Bob Cornell.

The Garnet and Gold Scholarship Awards of $100 each were presented to Richard Araiza, Tom Crowell, and Harvey McBrayer. A picture of Dr. George Hoffman, alumnus of Beta-Mu and retiring faculty advisor, was presented to the chapter. It now hangs in our chapter house in honor of Dr. Hoffman whose tireless efforts have always been in the interest of Beta-Mu.

The Outstanding Member Award was given to Neal Kocurek, a graduate student at the University. Neal is a member of a number of honorary fraternities, Silver Spurs Service Organization, and has well over a two point grade average (on a three point system). He has served as Rush Captain for Beta-Mu and was named a Goodfellow by the Cactus, the University yearbook. On the campus, Neal is co-chairman of Swing Out, a program honoring graduating seniors. Wallace Mays and Bill Davidson are chairmen of sub-committees for this event.

At the District Ten Convention of Gamma-Chi in Stillwater, Oklahoma, Beta-Mu was awarded the district scholarship trophy for having the highest grade average in the district.

Our annual retreat was held on February 20 and 21 at Wimberly, about an hour and a half drive from Austin. Dean of Men Jack Holland went with us and helped with the discussions. The topics discussed were: "The Responsibility of the Individual to the Fraternity", "The Responsibility of the Fraternity to the Individual", and "PiKA and the Changing University".

Initiation was held on March 13, and Johnny Nabors was announced as the Best Pledge in his eighteen man pledge class.

Nassau Round Trip
$39 up

Now is the time to take that dream trip to colorful Nassau—emerald isle in the Caribbean. Luxury and economy have been combined in a Pi K A Preconvention Cruise. Bring the family and take advantage of the special rates for the all-expense three-day cruise.

Meet your friends at the Peninsular and Occidental Steamship Company docks, Municipal Pier No. 2, Miami 8, Fla., Friday afternoon, August 26. The SS Florida will be your floating hotel. Friday evening there will be dancing and entertainment to the strains of "Moon Over Miami." Saturday morning after a shipboard breakfast, a tour of Nassau in limousine or carriage will be the first order of pleasure for the day. Government House, Bobbies, and British accents emphasize that Nassau is a bit of Britain in our western hemisphere.

Saturday evening there will be dancing to the haunting music of the calypso bands. Native nightclubs will offer fascinating entertainment.

Sunday—church services, more sight seeing, or bathing at Paradise Beach. Sail for Miami 5 p.m. Then a relaxing night in your state room as the SS Florida steams toward Miami.

Sailing Tuesdays 11:00 AM • Fridays 5:00 PM
