KUDOS

THE FRATERNITY MONTH in its April, 1961 issue included the following in its Kudos column on page 66:

To Editor Robert D. Lynn for a well designed SHIELD AND DIAMOND of Pi K A and particularly for his due-tone cover on the 1960 December issue; also for his unusual inside cover done in green and black line with type overprinted, telling the story of "The Traditional Tree."

The editor admits that he is human enough to be pleased by this compliment. He wants to properly "share the wealth," however. Credit must be also given to Assistant Editor Jean Isbell and our friend and artist, Gus Beatty.

CHAPLAIN'S CORNER

THE UNWRITTEN STORY—Take any name in Who's Who regardless of how high or important his life has been, the real story of his life is never written in a book like Who's Who. It is true they will give many important facts like the date of his birth, whom he married, names and ages of his children, where he went to college, what degrees he took, what fraternity, clubs, organizations he belongs to and many of the highlights in his life, including officers held, honors conferred, travels, hobbies, etc., etc. But the real, genuine, true story of his life can never be known until a biography is written that sees all of the facts and statistics in Who's Who as of secondary importance. The frank, unexpurgated autobiography would tell the real story. That story has to do with motivation, with the inspirations that came from high places and low, from great people and obscure people. It must tell of the dreams and aspirations and high hopes, as well as the moments of discouragement, frustration, and despair. It must tell the story of his slipping away from the crowd and having somewhere in his universe, a quiet little chapel which has become in his experience life's sanctuary—a hideaway from the storms and the pressures, the noises, where he can feel in his aloneness the touch and the lift of the Divine Presence.

Just so, the story of any chapter of a fraternity on an American university or college campus is really unrecorded. Great portions of the story are recorded with satisfaction and a certain flavor of boasting. All kinds of extra-curricular activities in which the chapter excels are given display in their national magazine, in the campus paper, in the city press. Here the records will show what trophies were won, what honors were bestowed, the high standing academically of the chapter, pictures of the house, the number of members, annually the number of pledges, and faculty advisor, and the housemother. But here in fraternities, as in individuals, in Who's Who, the real story, the genuine, human, personal story of a college fraternity will forever go unwritten and unexplained. As men go out from the chapter after graduation and become honored alumni and succeed in life and look back upon their fraternity experiences, I am confident these are the things they will remember: true friendship, the ability and opportunity to give help where help is solely needed, academically coaching a roommate, friendly encouragement when one feels whipped, intellectual order as help comes to one through library regulations of quiet hours of study, someone in whom to confide secrets that simply had to be told, help in overcoming certain timidities in social situations, friends to comfort and console in trouble, failure, or struggle—these are some of the unwritten stories of fraternity experience.

But above all of these personal things in the unwritten story there is another and very important part of that record that never gets in writing. It is the feeling, hard to define, that one has of walking in a high tradition with older men, present and particularly with those who have gone on before, who have lived under the guidance of high ideals, who have seen in their fine experience the noblest concept of honor. This is something of James Moffett's meaning in his excellent little book, The Thrill of Tradition. When he looks back, he has this deep, unwritten feeling that those were the years when the noblest pattern of his life was partially set and from the memory of the realities of them, he gets strength to continue to walk in that high tradition.

PI KAPPA

Executive Director Robert L. McLeod, Jr. (l.) and Assistant Executive Director Collins (center) with their fine staff members at the headquarters entrance. Pi Kappa Alpha has occupied its lovely Memorial Headquarters at Memphis, Tennessee for seven years. The building and furnishings still "look new" but there is a warmth and personality which can only result from human occupancy. Every member takes great pride in this material embodiment of the ideals of our brotherhood.

The Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Building had its official dedication September 5, 1954 as the feature of the National Convention which was held in Memphis at that time. For years there was a dream and there was an effort on the part of many members of the Fraternity to provide a museum and administrative center that would be a memorial tribute to our brothers who gave their lives in World War I and World War II. In 1946 the Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Foundation was established and a sound plan for the growth of the Memorial Foundation was established and a sound plan for the growth of the Memorial Fund was adopted at the 1950 National Convention in Cincinnati. Further impetus was given under the leadership of Harvey T. Newell, Jr., Meridian, Mississippi, during his tenure as National President in 1952-1953 prior to his untimely death in the service of our fraternity. President John F. E. Hippel, 1953-1956, and his fellow Supreme Council members cooperated with the Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Foundation Trustees under the presidency of Powell B. McHaney in the fulfillment of this dream. Construction was begun in the summer of 1953 under the direction of a building committee composed of J. Harold Tinner, chairman; Thomas M. Garrott, Jr., vice chairman; Robert D. Lynn, secretary; and Dabney Crump, treasurer. Lynn had been serving as Executive Secretary of the fraternity since 1946 and had worked diligently with several National Presidents on this project. George F. Mahoney, Alpha (Virginia), served as the architect.

Inspiration which thousands of members of Pi Kappa Alpha have received from a visit to the Memorial Headquarters is outstanding testimony to the success of those who strove to design and build this structure so that it is worthy of the ideals and purposes to which it is dedicated. The beautiful Georgian architecture conveys richness, beauty and a touch of Pi Kappa Alpha's mother state of Virginia. It is generally acclaimed one of the loveliest most efficient national headquarters of any fraternity or sorority. It is indeed a memorial with a function—for seven years the National Office has occupied space in the building. The beautiful surroundings enhance and make more effective the dedicated work of its staff as they move quietly and efficiently about their tasks of serving Pi Kappa Alpha.

Let's take a vicarious trip through our headquarters. As we pass through the foyer, we enter the Founders Hall. On its walls of richly paneled walnut, we find the oil paintings of the six Founders of our Fraternity, the work of the outstanding Hungarian artist, Paul Penczner. In dedicating this hall, Dr. Freeman H. Hart, National Historian, said in part:

"From the crucible of human experience, and faith, and hope, they were to help teach the world that friendship at its best is congeniality based on character."

From the foyer we move into the Newell Memorial Library. Dr. Ellis Finger, close personal friend of Harvey T. Newell, Jr., stated:

"This handsome room is dedicated to the memory of Harvey T. Newell, Jr., a man who loved books, for he was committed to greatness and goodness. He loved truth and was sensitive to beauty. With his name are appropriately associated the marks of a select library—quality, excitement, discriminating excellence, exploration, adventure."

In this library one will find bound volumes of THE SHIELD AND DIAMOND magazine and other fraternity records. The room also contains books written by members of Pi Kappa Alpha. The Memorial Foundation solicits autographed copies of books by members of the fraternity. We hope each of you authors will respond by sending a copy to the Memorial Headquarters.

Just south of the library one enters the Junior Founders Room. It honors the four members whose insight, foresight, and courage in 1889 reorganized the fraternity and placed it on a sound business basis during the Convention which met in Cushing Hall, Hampden-Sydney College. The four Junior Founders were Theron Hall Rice, Howard Bell Arbuckle, John Shaw Foster, and the grand old man of Pi Kappa Alpha, Robert Adger Smythe, who for many decades was the Executive head of the fraternity. Brother Smythe is still living and will celebrate his 90th birthday July 25, 1961. He will welcome letters from his many friends in the fraternity. His address is 2799 Andrews Drive, N. W., Atlanta, Georgia.

Proceeding west, one enters the general meeting room. This is a large room available for use by educational, civic, and philanthropic organizations. Hundreds of meetings of this type have been held here. This service to the community has been an avenue of good will for Pi Kappa Alpha.

The northern portion of the first floor is devoted to offices for the Executive Director, Assistant Executive Director, Shield and Diamond circulation manager, bookkeeper and secretarial staff.

As one reaches the top of the stairs, he enters the Gold Star Memorial Hall. The bronze plaque carries the names of over five hundred members who gave their lives in the service of our country in the Spanish-American War, World War I, World War II, and the Korean Conflict. Chaplain William P. Williams, Chi (University of the South), paid tribute to these brothers in his dedicatory remarks by saying:

"Around the world, on hillside and plain, white crosses stand guard over the silent battalions, while the oceans' whitecapped waves keep vigil for those lost at sea. They consecrated citizenship by death, giving that America might live. We must so live that America may not die."

Truly we have a great heritage in Pi Kappa Alpha.

In the southwest room on the second floor we enter the fraternity museum and become fascinated by the wealth of historical material on display. Dr. Freeman H. Hart, National Historian, serves as custodian of the museum. He urges every member to be conscious of his responsibilities to preserve material of historical value. It can be sent directly to the National Office and will be properly catalogued and preserved.

The east room on the second floor is the beautiful Diamond Life Chapter Room. It is richly furnished in garnet and gold hues and provides a comfortable social area for meetings of the Diamond Life Chapter and other organizations. Additional office space is provided in the north area for Administrative Assistants and editorial work.

Just south of this room we enter the Supreme Council Room. At the time of the dedication in 1954 there were in addition to the then National President John F. E. Hippel, six former National Presidents in attendance: John R. Perez, Freeman H. Hart, Roy D. Hickman, Andrew H. Knight, Powell B. McHaney, and Ralph F. Yeager. In his dedicatory remarks Robert D. Lynn said in part:

"To the honor of our past officers,

To the encouragement of our present officials, and

To the inspiration of our future officers, we dedicate this room."

This handsome board of directors room has rich mahogany paneling. Here the Supreme Council holds most of its meetings to chart the course of Pi Kappa Alpha.

There is no better way for a pledge or member of Pi Kappa Alpha to grasp the significance of membership than to visit the Memorial Headquarters. If you have not had this privilege, put it on your "must" list. Many chapters include a visit to the Memorial Headquarters as part of their pledge training program prior to initiation into our brotherhood. The building is a fitting symbol of the love and affection that exists in Pi Kappa Alpha.

Sigma Pledges from Vanderbilt University visit the National Headquarters.

Our Trip to the NATIONAL OFFICE

by Edward C. McAdams, Jr.

A warm summer sun shone down on the red and white chartered bus as the pledge class of Sigma Chapter prepared to leave Vanderbilt University. Where were we headed? Memphis, the home of Pike chapters throughout the nation. This was to be the highlight of our pledge training period, or so the actives told us.

I, for one, was rather dubious of the whole trip. I could imagine already what was in store for us: the usual dull office building, the typically boring speeches, and everything else that is associated with a tour of this kind. However, I slipped these thoughts to the back of my mind and boarded the bus with the rest of the pledges. The entire pledge class of twenty-seven was going, along with ten actives.

The ride to Memphis proved to be what was possibly the wildest trip in the history of the bus company, but we finally managed to arrive at our motel near downtown Memphis. Donning our usual coats and ties we then headed in the direction of the National Office. Driving down a parkway lined with beautiful trees, our bus pulled to a stop in front of what seemed to me to be a beautiful, southern, brick home. I kept looking around for the National Office that I had expected and then someone told me, that we were parked in front of it. I looked around again but still all I could see was this beautiful house. And then I caught a glimpse of the Pi Kappa Alpha crest glowing above the green lawn. It was the National Office, unbelievably beautiful and charming in the gathering dusk of the summer evening. There it stood, the home of Pi Kappa Alpha.

We had our picture taken with Dr. Robert McLeod, Executive Director, and then went inside. It was as if you were walking into an elegant house rather than into an office. The beautiful carpets, the period furniture, the tastefully decorated walls, all blending together to make the building truly worthy of the name HOME.

After signing the guest book we were told that dinner was ready. Picking up our plates we moved in a line helping ourselves generously to delicious roast beef, golden potatoes, and the other tempting items set before us. As dinner came to a close, all eyes turned toward the head table where the evening's speakers were seated.

The after dinner speeches came as my second great surprise of the weekend. They were not the usual boring, monotonous speeches; they were something that is rarely heard, but once heard is never forgotten. All the speakers gave to us a sense of the dedication and meaning they felt toward their work. They instilled in us the true and meaningful spirit of brotherhood in Pi Kappa Alpha. In particular I remember the opening speech given by Dr. McLeod. It gave me a new meaning and insight into the fraternity. It made me want to take an active and vital part in not only Sigma Chapter but in Pi Kappa Alpha as a whole. I felt after listening to these men that this trip to Memphis would remain a dominate part in my life as a Pike.

Following the speeches we were taken on a tour of the National Headquarters. We walked first through the obviously efficient offices in which the main business of the fraternity is carried on, then into the library, and finally upstairs to the museum. We looked at early chapter minute books, personal possessions of the founders of Pi Kappa Alpha, the coonskin cap worn by Fess Parker in "Davy Crockett" and many other mementoes. Throughout this tour we were helped and guided by the kind words of the staff in the National Office.

It was soon time to go and thanking our gracious hosts we departed to our motel while making plans to return again as soon as possible. On Sunday we left for Pickwick Lake on the Tennessee River. We threw ourselves wholeheartedly into the task of forgetting about Vanderbilt for one day and really enjoying ourselves not only individually but also as a pledge class.

This indeed brought to a close a weekend which none of us will forget. Our trust and faith in Pi Kappa Alpha has deepened, our devotion to the fraternity has grown stronger, and we looked forward more than ever to our coming days as active Pikes.

PI KAPPA ALPHA LOSES ADMINISTRATIVE LEADERS

BY ROBERT D. LYNN

Pi Kappa Alpha has suffered a great loss due to the resignation of two of its outstanding leaders. Executive Director Robert L. McLeod, Jr. and Assistant Executive Director David A. Collins submitted their resignations to the Supreme Council at the close of the school year. Both have embodied to an unusually high degree the ideals of Pi Kappa Alpha and have labored long and unselfishly to advance its interests. Integrity, honor, faithfulness and unselfish service have been their guiding principles.

An outstanding minister and educator, Dr. McLeod accepted a call to the Evergreen Presbyterian Church in Memphis as Associate Pastor, as of July 15th. He has been listed in WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA for many years. When he was invited to the post of Executive Director, The Supreme Council told him it wanted a man of breadth, of depth, of vision, of integrity, and of leadership, a man who loved men and who could help Pi Kappa Alpha dream big dreams and fulfill them. Those who have had the privilege of seeing him in action know that he has more than fulfilled this challenge. It is our loss that he feels that at this time he is called to other fields of service. Our love and prayers go with him as he continues to serve his God and his fellowman.

Assistant Executive Director David A. Collins began his official service with Pi Kappa Alpha as a Field Secretary in 1954. Since that time he has become thoroughly trained in national operations and has contributed greatly to its organizational improvement and the efficiency of its national office. He was promoted to Administrative Assistant and subsequently Assistant Executive Director. Dr. McLeod had stated shortly after entering upon his duties in Memphis that he had never met a finer, more dedicated group of people than those comprising the members of the National Office staff, both male and female.

Brother Collins will always hold a fond place in his heart for his associations in the National Office. It was here that he met Miss Kay Maples who is now Mrs. David A. Collins and the mother of their two lovely children, Debra, 3, and David, 1. Brother Collins is now enrolled at Memphis State University where he is taking graduate work in the field of history.

The following excerpts from letters are indicative of the esteem in which these fine Pi Kappa Alpha leaders are held by those who know them.

NATIONWIDE TRIBUTES TO DR. R. L. McLEOD, JR.

"I certainly appreciate all the help and encouragement you have given me and the attempts to revive my chapter. Knowing that you were behind me fully played a part in keeping my enthusiasm high during periods when all hopes seem to have been lost. . . I express to you my heartfelt regret that you are giving up your wonderful and devoted leadership in Pi Kappa Alpha. With others I feel it is an irreparable loss to the fraternity. . . After I had met and talked with you on the two occasions when you visited my chapter, I knew that Pi Kappa Alpha was under the guidance of a man of strong character and that it would continue to prosper. I would like to thank you personally for the work and devotion that you have given to the Fraternity. We only hope that we can further the ideals of Pi Kappa Alpha as you have. . . Your departure will be a great loss to the Fraternity and I regret that we shall lose you. . . I was deeply moved by your letter of resignation. I am sure that I only echo the feelings of those brothers, many expressed, some silent, when I say that Pi Kappa Alpha has lost an inspiring and dedicated leader. What contributions you have made to the development of the Fraternity in the west and other difficult transitional work are equally as bright as any of our great leaders. One cannot help but be impressed by the great personal effort and faithful dedication both you and Mrs. McLeod gave to our fraternity. . . You have made a real contribution to the National Organization at a very critical period and the four new chapters in 1960-61 also are in promising institutions. . . I am exceedingly disappointed that Pi Kappa Alpha is losing you as its Executive Director. You are possessed of all the talents Pi Kappa Alpha desperately needs in its Executive Director. . . Your interest in my army career and your taking time during business hours to stop and chat make me realize that we are losing a valuable person and personal friend who is never too busy to take an interest in each one he meets. . . You have made a substantial contribution to the ethics, spiritual value and growth of Pi Kappa Alpha. You have brought mature judgment, a warm attitude and have been most cooperative."

TRIBUTES TO DAVID COLLINS

"I heard yesterday that you had resigned and will be leaving the national office in September. To me you are the national office. I depend on knowing you are there, and I am sure there are many others who feel that way. I know my "Pikes" here do (housemother). . . You continued consideration in my behalf of the district president has made my job a great deal easier. Your encouragement in time of difficulty has helped me over the rough spots. . . I cannot tell you how much I appreciate all your assistance and kindnesses on all the many occasions when we worked together on different matters. All of the people who have worked with you are grateful for your loyal and dedicated service. . . We regret very much to lose your services to the fraternity, but we shall never lose your friendship. . . I know you are acutely aware of all that you have left behind and of the numerous brothers who will be both surprised and disappointed by your decision. I cannot reflect on the past two years and not realize that your words have given me insight, conviction and perspective; and more than once, they gave me the will to remain at a seemingly impossible task. . . I have come to know you perhaps better than anyone else there. In the capacity of a national correspondent of great dedication and superior experience, your influence has undoubtedly been felt in many places in which your face is unknown. . . Too few will recall that for many years you were the capable right-hand of Bob Lynn and fewer that you conducted the business of the entire fraternity in the absence of a director after Bob's retirement. . . I am glad that I have had the privilege of knowing and being associated with you. After being out of school for about thirty years, it is easy to lose contact with fraternity operations. As alumnus counselor, I learned from your voluminous correspondence the many things which you had to handle and contend with. When these efforts are multiplied by 118 chapters, I have often wondered how you had any time for your family. You certainly organized the affairs of the fraternity in a business like manner. You are personable and industrious. You have performed your duties with our chapter with efficiency and in a top-notch manner."

WIRSICH RESIGNS

JOSEPH WIRSICH, outstanding president of the Oklahoma-Texas district since 1957, resigned effective June 30, 1961. His leadership will be greatly missed. Brother Wirsich states that the pressure of business responsibilities makes this decision necessary. He is Secretary of Bankers Service Life Insurance Company, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

Tremendous progress has been made by Pi Kappa Alpha during his tenure of office. The district is large geographically and includes twelve chapters. He had a major share in the development and chartering of

EARL WATKINS NAMED EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

BY RICHARD N. BILLS

June was barely into its second week when, late one afternoon, I received a telephone call from Memphis.

"Dick?" inquired the familiar voice with its unmistakable Mississippi softness, "Earl Watkins speakin'. I'm back on the job and have a couple of questions about one of your chapters."

Earl Watkins, former Chapter Service Secretary (1953-1959), and more recently Assistant Cashier of the Memphis Bank and Trust Company, was indeed back on the job—as Executive Director of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Ebullient Earl, a man of almost breathless energy and refreshing candor, is a singularly devoted son of 1868 whose name is known and respected wherever Pi Kappa Alpha gathers. He is his happiest when involved in some type of fraternity activity, and involved he has been almost ever since his initiation in 1949 (this is a recorded fact, and may come as a surprise to those who are sure Earl was born wearing the Shield and Diamond) at the University of Mississippi, better known as Ole Miss.

T. (for Thaddeus) Earl Watkins was born on July 21, 1929, in the near-Memphis farming community of Collierville, Tennessee. When he was four his father, Collierville physician Dr. T. E. Watkins, died and, with his mother and two older sisters, Earl moved to Philadelphia, Mississippi, where he was reared. Mississippi, his adopted state, has been one of his great loves ever since.

He attended Holy Cross College preparatory school in New Orleans where he distinguished himself in sports, especially football. After graduation he enrolled at Ole Miss where his fruitful association with Pi Kappa Alpha began. As an undergraduate member of Gamma Iota, he served his chapter in many capacities, including a term as its president. He was a student delegate to the 1950 Leadership School at Miami University, Oxford, and the Cincinnati Convention where his leadership school critique was cited by the Packer Awards Committee. He graduated in 1951 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in education and a major in biology.

With the Korean conflict, Earl entered the service of his Country in the Dixie Division (it is difficult to imagine him in a division of any other name!) of the Mississippi National Guard where he served in the 31st Infantry Division. After his tour of duty, "Sergeant Watkins" returned to Mississippi and a staff position with the State Department of Health.

In June of 1955 Earl married Louise Ruch Webber, former Dream Girl of Delta Zeta Chapter at Memphis State. Their "pledge class" includes Thaddeus Earl, Jr., 4; James Hull, 3; and John Stritch, 2. The home is at 1058 Mendenhall Cove in Memphis.

Earl's life is devoted in service to others. Aside from his fraternal activities, he is a busy Memphis civic leader. In addition to his many Exchange Club activities—for which he was named Tennessee Exchangeite of the Year in 1959—he is an active member of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, serving as a member of the President's Committee and Necomer Committee. He is treasurer and member of the Board of Directors of the Memphis Speech and Hearing Clinic. While with the Memphis Bank and Trust Company, Earl was a director of the Memphis American Institute of Banking.

An active Catholic layman, Earl is a member of the Knights of Columbus and Serra International. As a team captain for the Saint Judge Hospital Fund, his group reported the largest amount of solicited donations for the Danny Thomas hospital for children (research in the area of leukemia and rare blood diseases) now under construction in Memphis. The Watkins' youngest son, John Stritch, is named in honor of the late Cardinal Stritch of Chicago, a close family friend.

Area Pi Kappa Alpha activities have been enriched with Earl's participation. Long an active member of the Memphis Alumni Association, he served as its 1959-1960 president. Under his leadership, this group was awarded the "Most Outstanding City Alumni Association" citation at the 1960 Miami Beach Convention. He has just completed a term as president of the Gamma Iota House Corporation and currently serves at its treasurer. The chapter room in this beautiful Southern Colonial house is dedicated to Earl for his untiring efforts in the campaign for funds which lead to the culmination of one of his most cherished dreams—a new Gamma Iota Chapter house on the Ole Miss campus.

Pi Kappa Alpha is not only a belief, it is a way of life for Earl Watkins, a way of life he faces each new day with vigor, imagination, and a ready smile.

"It was a hard decision to make", observed Earl on that day in the early June as he reflected his departure from banking and the return to the Fraternity. "But I am sure it was the correct one, and I am going to give my very best for Pi Kappa Alpha."

This, it is observed, will undoubtedly prove to be the understatement of the day.

WIRSICH—(Cont. from p. 5) these—Epsilon-Kappa (Lamar Tech), Epsilon-Omicron (Stephen F. Austin State), and Epsilon-Pi (Sam Houston State).

He has stimulated and prompted the Oklahoma State-wide Alumni Association which is one of the most outstanding in the nation.

District Leadership Schools for the training of chapter officers and leaders have been held annually. These have proved highly effective. Brother Wirsich has served on the faculty of several national leadership schools.

His work and influence have been of great value to all who knew him. He radiates sincerely the ideals and standards of our fraternity. We know he will respond to the call to service again when his personal circumstances permit.

JORDAN RESIGNS

HIRAM JORDAN, Epsilon-Gamma (Texas Tech), has relinquished the office of National Treasurer, due to the geographical representation requirements for membership on the Supreme Council. Each of the five voting members must reside in the region which he represents. Whenever any member of the Supreme Council shall remove his domicile from the geographic region represented by him, his office shall be declared vacant.

Brother Jordan, former vice president of the First National Bank of Colorado Springs, Colorado, moved to Wichita Falls, Texas in January to accept the presidency of First State Bank of Wichita Falls. The Supreme Council accepted his resignation at its meeting in Denver in May. It will select a replacement from Region 2 to serve as National Treasurer until the next National Convention.

Brother Jordan was president of Los Camaradas Social Club at Texas Tech, Lubbock, Texas when it became Epsilon-Gamma Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha in 1953. He became a charter member and immediately began working with and for Pi Kappa Alpha. He served as District President from 1955 until he was elected to the Supreme Council in September, 1960.

OPTIMUM CHAPTER SIZE

A health, minimum-size undergraduate chapter, writes George V. Uihlein, Jr., in the $\Phi\Kappa\Theta$ Temple, will be made up of 70 members at the start of the school year and 12 of them will be seniors; 15 juniors; 18 sophomores and 25 freshmen. This provides for 45 upperclassmen in proportion to 25 pledges. His study of the memberships of many chapters over many years indicates there should be at least 25 pledges to assure a graduating class of 12 seniors. This presumes that out of the 25 pledges, 20 will be initiated and of the 20, two will drop out before they become sophomores, and three more will have left the chapter (due to finances, scholarship, marriage, death, and other factors) at the end of each of the upperclassman years.

David A. Collins, (left) Assistant Executive Director, and Dr. Robert L. McLeod, Jr., Executive Director, point with satisfaction to the chapter growth under their administration.

Culminating one of the greatest success stories in Pi Kappa Alpha, Epsilon-Rho Chapter was installed on May 20, 1961 at Idaho State College, Pocatello, Idaho. National Alumni Secretary R. H. "Bunny" Clark directed the initiating and installation teams as the seventh chapter was added to the growing Idaho State fraternity system.

Epsilon-Rho's birth marked the sixtieth anniversary of Idaho State, founded in 1901 as the Academy of Idaho. For years the college existed as the Southern Branch of the University of Idaho, but in 1947 the school was reorganized as Idaho State College. Attracting a majority of its students from the southern part of Idaho, the enrollment is hovering at 2,700 and is expected to increase quite rapidly in coming years.

The newest chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha is located in Pocatello, Idaho, an industrial and agricultural city of some 40,000 citizens. Labeled as the "Gateway to Idaho and the Pacific Northwest", this rail center is a favorite vacation spot and offers excellent trout streams and big game hunting within short driving distance.

As though it had been plotted, Pi Kappa Alpha was extremely fortunate to have three very interested persons in this southeast Idaho community. Spearheading the formation of a colony in 1960 was Donald E. Noorda, Pocatello businessman, and Alpha-Tau chapter president in his undergraduate days at the University of Utah. Speeding to the cause came Tom and Tim McLaughlin, transfer students from Alpha-Sigma Chapter at the University of California. After planning their approach, these three men soon instituted a program which was to bring Epsilon-Rho to a reality.

Operating with only a President, Pledgemaster, and Alumnus Counselor, this group grew within weeks to better than two dozen members. Organization became necessary. Officers were elected and the original three-man "active chapter" carried out a pledge training program to instill in their new comrades the traditions and ideals of fraternity life and

The Pi Kaps soon became the talk of the campus. In the formative stages of this project, Lieutenant Colonel David V. S. Kirkpatrick, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, was chosen as Faculty Advisor. This proved to be a real cornerstone in the foundation which was being laid. Intramurals were soon dominated by the future Pi Kappa Alphas. Although not organized in time to participate in football, this new colony gathered enough points in other sports to finish second among the seven fraternities in over-all competition. Socially, several exchanges were held with the Idaho State sororities and an all-school party officially introduced the group to the campus and community.

On March 25, 1961, the chapter journeyed to Utah State University for the District Convention. At this time a formal inspection of the group was held. Representatives from Alpha-Tau, Gamma-Epsilon, and Gamma-Kappa chapters enthusiastically approved the men and they became known as the Pi Kappa Alpha colony.

Official colony status was the spark that evoked additional fire and enthusiasm. Still guided by the original three men plus Colonel Kirkpatrick, a petition was submitted to the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity in the spring of 1961. A favorable vote was received and the installation was set for May 20. This climaxed one of the most inspired stories of all local fraternities organized for the purpose of petitioning Pi Kappa Alpha for a charter.

Assisted by initiation teams from Alpha-Tau Chapter, (Utah) and Gamma-Epsilon Chapter (Utah State), National Supreme Alumni Secretary Clark presented the charter. Also participating in the installation and initiation ceremonies were past national president and current Chapter House Commissioner Grant Macfarlane, District President Howard Jorgensen, Administrative Assistant Jim Henderson, and Alumnus Counselor Don Noorda.

The events of the day were conducted in the Bannock Hotel in downtown Pocatello. The installation banquet was held at the Green Triangle Supper Club with Grant Macfarlane as the principal speaker. Twenty-one charter members of Epsilon-Rho Chapter were welcomed into the brotherhood and presented a challenge to make Pi Kappa Alpha and Epsilon-Rho first, no matter what the contest.

Charter members are: THOMAS FRANCIS McLAUGHLIN, TIMOTHY CARSON McLAUGHLIN, DONALD ELTON NOORDA, DAVID VIRGIL SEAY KIRKPATRICK, GARY LEE PRUCHA, JAMES LOREN CARTER, ROBERT OWEN WADDELL, RONALD E. BLAKE, JR., RONALD DEAN PEASE, BRADLEY D. Pike Correspondent Arrested in Cuba

Martin Porter Houseman, former S.M.C. of Gamma-Delta Chapter at the University of Arizona, was a United Press International correspondent in Cuba at the time of the recent invasion. He was arrested by Castro police two days after the abortive effort. He was among the first large group of Americans to be repatriated and filed the following story with UPI upon arrival in Miami. May 19, 1961:

Nearly 250,000 Cubans were arrested by Fidel Castro's police in a sweeping roundup that followed the abortive invasion April 17.

More than half have since been released, but additional arrests are being made to stamp out opposition to Castro's "Socialist" regime.

I was among 50 Americans arriving here by plane from Havana tonight, the first large group of U. S. citizens to be repatriated since Castro proclaimed his island a "Socialist State" three weeks ago. More than 700 Americans remain in Cuba, 19 of them in prison.

Despite large-scale dissatisfaction, the consensus among foreign observers in Havana is that Castro's stock, which was plunging prior to the invasion, has picked up notably. Estimates of his popular strength now generally range from 50 to 60 per cent.

The night after the invasion, I received a call from UPI Correspondent Norman Cornish. Realizing that the government probably would act after the call, I remained in the UPI office that night, locking the door and putting the elevator out of action on the fourth floor near the office.

At three a. m., I heard someone bouncing up the flight of stairs. I got into the elevator and went down fast as he came up. I went home.

At 9 a. m., eight militia, including two women, burst into my apartment, armed with automatic Belgian rifles and Czech submachine guns and began a search of the apartment.

They went through everything in the bookcase, they debated ripping the mattress open. They found an old UPI cables code book and a U. S. Army khaki shirt. They grabbed my press credentials and went through my personal effects. They also took my Pi Kappa Alpha Pin as "Devisas"—foreign exchange, which means anything of gold or cash value. My cuff links also disappeared in this fashion.

The militia called G-2, and two agents arrived in a station wagon. They arrested me and my roommate, William Fitzpatrick, an English teacher from New Haven, Connecticut. As we were being taken to intelligence headquarters, one of the officers said "when we finish the problem of the invasion we are going to pass the knife through all of you Americans."

Castro had taken so many prisoners that the moat around Morro Castle was used as an emergency open-air prison.

Most of those held have had no charges placed against them. Many of them are being permitted to see lawyers for the first time in recent days.

From the time of the invasion and the mass arrests until last week, not a single noise bomb sounded in Havana, although there had been a long series of them before.

But the bombing resumed with Castro's speech Sunday night.

However, the concensus is that any effective counter-revolution will be many months in regaining the potential it had prior to the invasion, since many of the group leaders have been arrested. However, some cells are known to be intact.

LIGHTNING

Review of THE LIGHTNING BOOK. By Peter E. Viemeister, Gamma Tau. Diagrams by Read Viemeister. Doubleday & Company, Inc., Garden City, New York, 1961, 316 pages. $4.50.

Reviewed by W.m. K. Widger, Jr., GM

In these days when the rapid progression of spectacular scientific events directs primary attention to the distant planets and the power that can be derived—whether for good or evil—from the submicroscopic nucleus of the atom, it is perhaps reassuring that more commonplace phenomena can still be a matter of interest and, at times, awe. For even the space scientist, whose mind is normally hundreds of miles—or even of light-years—away from the earth, can not help pause and look with humility at both the concentrated energy and the simple beauty that become apparent vividly as a summer thunderstorm releases a striking display of lightning in the vicinity of his laboratory or home. Peter E. Viemeister, an alumnus of Pi Kappa Alpha's Gamma Tau Chapter (Rensselaer) and presently a member of the professional staff of the Grumman Aircraft Engineering Company, has made lightning an avocation since the age of twelve. With the publication of The Lightning Book, the results of his studies are now available in a very readable form that should be of interest to all of us, since, as Pete makes vividly clear, no one can be completely immune from lightning's widespread influence.

The Lightning Book opens with a fascinating discussion of the history of man's ceaseless drive to understand lightning as one small part of his innate desire to learn more about all natural phenomena. For the layman, these chapters may also aid in understanding the ways in which science, and those who have made it a vocation, operates to explain, and to apply knowledge of, our environment. The second section deals with the causes of lightning, starting with the macroscopic aspects of meteorology and atmospheric convection and then moving to the smaller scale electrical processes. Although this section is somewhat more technical than most of the book, Pete has done overall an excellent job of keeping to the proper scope of a book like this, avoiding on one side the Scylla of serious technical inaccuracy and on the other the Charybdis of introducing concepts above a level that can be understood by the average reader. Nevertheless, there are a few errors of a minor or details nature in certain parts of Chapters 4 and 5. The third and major section treats of the effects of lightning, both on the natural environment and on man and his works. Included here is considerable sound advice with regard to the protection of buildings, powerlines, boats, aircraft, and people in order to eliminate or minimize the consequences of potentially destructive thunderbolts". The last three chapters deal respectively with some of the more exotic tricks that have been assessed, in some cases falsely, against lightning; current areas of research interest (where, in many cases, the consequences could be of far-reaching importance to all of us); and a brief summary of protective actions that are desirable if caught in an unexpected storm. For those who may care to go further into particular aspects of the matters discussed in the first 287 pages, the volume concludes with an extensive, up-to-date, and rather complete bibliography.

Although my part in the history that led to this book is very minor, Pete did me the honor of acknowledging it in the Preface and it may be of some interest in illustrating how contacts and friendships establish through membership in our Fraternity may be helpful in ways that can not be anticipated. More than ten years ago, Pete was a leading member of that energetic and effective group of Gamma Tau's who were responsible for their chapter being one of the best both on the RPI campus and within Pi Kappa Alpha. At the same time, I was giving them a certain amount of "static" since I was responsible for making sufficient noises so that it would appear that District I did have a District President in more than name. In spite of this, Pete and I became friends and, perhaps five years ago, he wrote me (apparently remembering I was working in the field of meteorology and perhaps hoping that I could be of some help in partial compensation for my previous "static"), sending two single-spaced pages of fundamental and detailed questions on lightning and related topics. The answers to most of them were well beyond my ability to provide—otherwise, the book might have been written shortly after that. I could and did, however, send him a list of possibly applicable books and published papers—most of which he could have found out about from any one of a number of other easily available sources—and another of people who were knowledgeable with regard to lightning and atmospheric electricity. The Lightning Book is proof that he parlayed this small contribution into a major and successful investigation. In only one small way do I feel that I perhaps gave him special assistance; that was in bringing to his attention the significant but then obscure radar observations of lightning being made by Dr. M. G. H. Ligda, as illustrated in Plate XLV which shows a lightning bolt at least 100 miles long.

It should also be of interest to the readers of the Shield and Diamond that, as is true in many other fields of importance, Pete Viemeister is only one of the several members of Pi Kappa Alpha who are making significant impressions on or in the field of meteorology. To cite only two, Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, Tau, has a part of his widespread responsibilities not only the United States Weather Bureau but also the National Bureau of Standards in whose Central Radio Propagation Laboratory at Boulder, Colorado, Bradford Bean of my own chapter, Gamma Mu (New Hampshire), is making internationally respected studies with regard to the effect of the atmosphere on the transmission and propagation of radio waves and signals.

Finally, if I may be permitted to digress briefly into matters of philosophy, I hope that many other scientists and science writers, whether or not they are members of Pi Kappa Alpha, will publish books on a wide variety of scientific topics of the excellence, readability, scope, and approximate technical level of The Lightning Book. Such books will, unfortunately, often be received with mixed emotions (or worse) by many people. The scientific specialist will always be concerned with the lack of complete and absolute technical accuracy (For example, Chapters 4 and 5 of The Lightning Book contain in certain sections a few errors of a minor or detailed nature); on the other hand, the popular science writer must be permitted reasonable technical liberties if his product is to be understandable and interesting to a wide audience. Conversely, the lay reader will find that an authoritative and well written scientific book will nearly always take a bit of work if its contents are to be understood and appreciated—say more work than most popular novels or TV programs but probably not much more than the perennially popular crossword puzzle. But it is important that the average citizen have some understanding and appreciation of science. Otherwise, he can not adequately play his proper role in our democratic society where science, because of its increasing significance in our lives and to the very survival of our country and its free institutions, must be an important factor when the voter is making his political decisions, whether through his choices at the polls or by his comments to and his influences, directly or indirectly, on his elected officials.

Rx for Freedom

Certain freedoms to which "self-propelled and self-directed" college students should look get staunch support from Dr. Harry H. Ransom, UT's new chancellor.

FREEDOM FROM EMPTY TRADITION—Few experiences are more deadening to the alert mind than having to follow a path simply because it is a well-beaten path. Few academic dictates are more deadly than the common one, "It has always been done this way." By such academic mortmain the real values which education is designed to preserve get crusted with useless formalism.

FREEDOM FROM SLAVERY TO MERE UTILITY—Whoever goes into a career or a college course merely for utilitarian advantage will certainly achieve nothing beyond utilitarian advantage. . . This is not to insist that useful knowledge is not always of great consequence in education. It is to insist that the pay-off for education is not the starting salary only, but the starting salary plus the assurance of continuing growth and satisfaction.

FREEDOM FROM MERE FAD—"It is the fashionable thing to do" appeals only to the mindless, the very dim of wit who spend so much time keeping up with the Joneses that they cannot navigate themselves. They know where they are but they don't know where they have been or where they are going.

FREEDOM TO MAKE MISTAKES—We should not be greatly disturbed . . . at the tremendous emphasis put on what is called the "fast buck." We should be only slightly more uneasy when we observe deep interest in the very slow buck and in security—when, for example, a 20-year-old graduate demands to know what his retirement pay at age 70 will be . . . Most disturbing is the person who has undertaken the temporary job of being a serious student and who does not realize the tremendous value of negative results. Until a student has learned what it is to "labor to no use," until he has discovered the importance of failing and assessing the failure, he has not even begun to prepare himself for real life. Even if he is the one in 10 billion who never fails at anything, who never discovers the meaning of "no go," he still loses. For though he may be fortune's darling . . . he has not become a member of the human race.

Honesty In The Classroom

We have a feeling of depression as we note the contents of a recent article in THE TIMES RECORD newspaper, Troy, N. Y. regarding cheating. The depression results from the fact that the statements appear all too true. It reads: "This is the examination period in many of our schools and the study which comes out of New York is most disheartening. It states that 78% of the students in the City College of New York have admitted that they cheat in examinations. This is a shockingly high figure and we are confident that the study is not representative of all colleges in the country.

Perhaps the sampling was a small one and not really accurate. At any rate, the schools should give more attention to this prospering system. The authors conclude gloomily that their project was not a happy one and that the students are more interested in obtaining good grades than in maintaining their integrity. This should have caused the college administration to give more thought to the moral development of its students. Perhaps the faculty should introduce a course which will set forth the merits of old fashioned Yankee honesty and principal."

Many chapters of Pi Kappa Alpha are constantly searching for "projects". There could be no finer project than leadership by chapters of Pi Kappa Alpha on our college campuses in the matter of honesty in class work. Let's implement the ideals of Pi Kappa Alpha and serve as living examples of the virtues which the Fraternity expounds!

Sigma House Under Construction

At Vanderbilt a $90,000 chapter house of modern design is being erected on the lot after the razing of the old house and acquisition of adjacent property. The new construction is a coordinate project with the University which is modifying its fraternity housing program. The living quarters are on the second floor where there are two double and two single bedrooms designed to house six persons. The main floor will be used for social purposes. Eating facilities will be provided in the basement area. Construction is expected to be completed in October, 1961.

"LEIPZIG TOWERS" RECORDED AND RELEASED

BY JIM HYAMS

Paul Shahan, professor of theory, brasses and conductor of the Murray State College Band, admitted that he is both excited and proud that one of his compositions has been recorded and released by Westminster Recording Company.

The record probably won't sell a million copies because it is a serious work written for brass and percussion instruments. But to a serious musician—and Shahan is that—the recognition is a great honor.

The composition "Leipzig Towers" written in 1955 was recorded by the Vienna State Opera Orchestra last summer with Sayard Stone conducting. The Album entitled "High Fidelity Brass/Ancient and Modern" includes works by Dietrich Buxtehude (1637-1707), Johann Hermann Schein (1586-1630), Johann Joseph Fux (1660-1741), and the contemporary work by Shahan which is the only modern work in the album.

"Leipzig Towers" won the Thor Johnson award in 1955 in the International Brass Competition at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. It was selected as the best composition for brass and won over entries from the United States, Germany, England, France, Italy, Finland and Mexico.

A native of West Virginia, Brother Shahan holds degrees from Fairmont State College, West Virginia University, George Peabody in Nashville and has completed classwork for a doctorate of musical arts at the famous Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y. At Eastman, he studied composition under Howard Hanson and Bernard Rogers. He is a faculty advisor of Epsilon-Lambda Chapter at Murray State College.

FIVE RECEIVE WOODROW WILSON FELLOWSHIPS

Five members of Pi Kappa Alpha have been elected Woodrow Wilson Fellows. The men and their five chapters are:

JAMES THOMAS ANDERSON, Beta, Davidson College, Alexandria, Virginia
KENNETH T. JACKSON, Delta-Zeta, Memphis State University, Memphis, Tenn.
RICHARD J. OLCOTT, Beta-Iota, Beloit College, Chicago, Illinois
MAURICE EDWARD SCHWARTZ, Mu, Presbyterian College, Laurinburg, N. C.
JOHN HAGOOD SWANSON, Gamma-Rho, Northwestern University, Taylor, Texas

The Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation named 1,333 students from 381 colleges and universities throughout the United States and Canada as Woodrow Wilson Fellows for 1961-62, the largest number ever elected by the Foundation in its 15-year search for prospective college teachers.

In announcing the 1961-1962 winners, Sir Hugh Taylor, President of the Foundation, estimated the total value of this year's awards at $3,000,000.

The fellowships cover the first year of graduate study and are meant to encourage the newly-elected fellows to consider college teaching as a possible career. Nominations for these highly-competitive awards are made by the students' professors. Screening of candidates also is done by 15 regional committees drawn from the academic profession. Winners were chosen from 10,453 nominees.

Sir Hugh said, "after keen competition, we have been able to recruit young people who possess the highest qualities of intellect and character."

More than 23 fields of study, nearly all in the humanities and social sciences, are represented by this year's winners. Those in mathematics and natural sciences represent 15.9 per cent of the total. The winners, of whom 28.2 per cent are women, will be enrolled in 90 different graduate schools in this country and Canada.

Dr. Hans Rosenhaupt, National Director of the Foundation, noted the following points about this year's competition:

1. Larger numbers are turning to college teaching as a "prestige" career despite opportunities to earn more in other fields.
2. More students of outstanding ability are being recruited from hundreds of colleges, indicating the high quality of education in many lesser known schools.
3. Candidates are choosing their graduate schools on the basis of their own needs rather than the general prestige of the institution. In consequence, their choices of graduate school represent a larger list than ever before.

In addition to the awards for first-year study in graduate school, the Foundation annually makes subvention payments totalling nearly $2,000,000 to the various graduate schools where Woodrow Wilson Fellows enroll. Three-fourths of the funds must be used for awards to graduate students beyond the first year regardless of whether they are Wilson Fellows. The remainder may be used at the discretion of the graduate schools to improve library facilities, raise faculty salaries, provide counseling services, or otherwise to improve their program of study.

Blake Receives Honorary Degree

William Rhea Blake, Iota (Hampden-Sydney), Executive Vice President of the National Cotton Council, received an honorary doctor of science degree from Auburn (Alabama) University on June 2, 1961. Brother Blake, administrative head of the Council since 1939, has served on various commissions and advisory groups in the field of agricultural education and business. He has also represented the cotton industry on task forces, trade missions, and committees. After attending Hampden-Sydney College in Virginia, he received his degree from the University of Virginia.

Million Dollar Round Table Members

Three members of Pi Kappa Alpha are listed in the 1961 Roster of the Million Dollar Round Table of the National Association of Life Underwriters. Every member of the 1961 Round Table must have sold at least a million dollars of life insurance in 1960 or must have attained Life membership by having sold a million yearly for three years in succession. Fewer than one per cent of the world's life insurance agents are Round Table members.

The members are J. Walter Bishop, Jr., Delta-Epsilon (Chattanooga), Northwestern National Life, Chattanooga, Tennessee; Melvin W. Mitchell, Delta-Psi (Maryland), Columbus Mutual Life, Cleveland, Ohio; and Albert E. Watson, Mu (Presbyterian), New York Life, Macon, Georgia. Congratulations!

David G. Leaverton

Two hundred pounds and six feet three inches of fellowship aptly describes David G. Leaverton, Delta-Kappa (San Diego State), Administrative Assistant. Twenty-four year old Dave is a native of Illinois but "grew up" in California. He earned an academic scholarship at the University of Southern California where he was pledged and initiated by Gamma-Eta Chapter. He spent most of his undergraduate activity at Delta-Kappa Chapter at San Diego State College, however.

Dave's leadership abilities immediately became evident. He served as president of his pledge class, rush chairman, vice president of the student body, president of the student body, and held office in numerous campus honorary and leadership organizations.

He earned his A.B. degree with a major in English and a 3.2 average on a four point base in June, 1959. He immediately enrolled in graduate school but took time out to serve Pi Kappa Alpha as Administrative Assistant from February, 1961 to the present. He is completing the class work for his Master's degree in August of this year.

Brother Dave has been described as a man of charm, balance, depth, and inspiration. He has brought to the Pi Kappa Alpha national staff real strength and has earned the respect of all who have had the privilege of knowing him in the field.

Brother Leaverton "was last seen headed for California in a Jaguar convertible" (note cover). Truly he is a young man going places in a hurry—but he is not leaving anything undone!

Reich Named Indiana Executive of the Month

Jack E. Reich, an alumnus of Beta-Phi Chapter at Purdue University, was recently featured on the cover of "Indiana Business and Industry" magazine, a magazine for Hoozier and Midwest executives.

In being named "Executive of the Month" he was referred to as a human dynamo in action and an "organization man" hard to beat! Brother Reich was recently appointed by Governor Harold W. Handley to fill a Democratic vacancy on the four-member bi-partisan Indiana Toll Road Commission. He is also a member of the Governor's Youth Council, the Small Business Administration's National Board of Field Advisers, the Visiting Committee of the Indiana School for the Blind, and the State Advisory Committee on Outdoor Education.

Jack joined the staff of the State Chamber of Commerce in 1940. He became the Chamber's top executive in May of 1952. He has held many offices in the Junior Chamber of Commerce, including that of national vice-president.

A native of Chicago, he labored as a steelworker to finance his education at Purdue University.

Jack and his wife, Jean, have two daughters, Rosemary and Judith, and they are communicants of Christ the King Catholic Church and reside at 5235 Washington Boulevard in Indianapolis.

The Bells Are Ringing

The March, 1961 issue of THE CRESCENT of Gamma Phi Beta has a feature on "The Bells" of Milwaukee. Donald L. Bell, Beta-Xi (Wisconsin), popped the question to his Univ. of Wisconsin sweetheart Elise M. Bossert, president of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority and wedding bells chimed.

Through the years Elise has accumulated an outstanding collection of bells which are beautiful unique and historic. Recently, she placed them on exhibition for the Gamma Phi Beta tour of homes.

In addition to being president of the E. F. Schmidt Printing Company, Brother Bell has served for a quarter of a century on school board of Milwaukee, the Boy Scout Executive Council, the Kiwanis Service Club, and other civic assignments. He and Mrs. Bell have three fine sons, Tom, Dan, and Jim.

dedicates new chapter house

Dreams will come true—if you work hard enough! The biggest dream that Delta-Sigma Chapter has ever had became a reality when its beautiful new chapter house was dedicated March 18, 1961. Over two hundred guests joined the members and pledges for this happy occasion. The attractively designed new home at 1417 W. Fredonia Street, Peoria, Illinois is a two story structure but includes four different levels. The upper level contains the dormitory and president's and treasurer's room. The next level is the main living area which consists of the living room, dining room, kitchen and house-mother's quarters. There are eight four-man study rooms on the next level. The ground level contains two study rooms, a shower room, a recreation room, and the chapter room. This new forty-two man house is the first fraternity structure specifically constructed for fraternity living at Bradley University.

Larry Savre served as Master of Ceremonies. After a word of welcome by S.M.C. Thomas Albrecht, the distinguished guests were presented—Dean Leslie H. Tucker representing Bradley University, Pi Kappa Alpha National Chapter House Commissioner Herbert Miller of Des Moines, Iowa, past National Treasurer Charles L. Freeman of Bloomington, Ill., Executive Director Robert L. McLeod, Jr. of Memphis, Tenn., and District President George Beacham of Chicago. National President David C. Powers of New York City gave the dedication address.

Bruce Druckenmiller and Mendy Mearkle then dedicated the chapter room in memory of Lawrence Dourlain Jones, an alumnus of Delta-Sigma Chapter who died while serving in the Naval Air Corps as a jet pilot. An oil painting of Brother Jones will be hung in the chapter room. Brothers Druckenmiller and Mearkle then announced that the alumni association has established the Lawrence Dourlain Jones memorial award which will be presented annually to the pledge, student or alumnus member who has best served the chapter during that year. Presentation of the award was then made to Robert Weise, president of the Delta-Sigma House Corporation and W. F. Elwood, faculty advisor, as joint recipients for the first year. These two men had a major share in making the new house a reality.

Dr. Robert L. McLeod, Jr. served as master of ceremonies at the dedication luncheon which was held at Hotel Pere Marquette. Commendations and challenges were made to the chapter by House Commissioner Herbert Miller, past National Treasurer Charles Freeman and President David C. Powers. Other distinguished guests included the Reverend Louis P. Arkema, Dr. Harold P. Rhodes, Dr. Chester E. Sipple, Dean Leslie H. Tucker, Mr. George R. Beck, Dean Edward King, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Jones, Mr. Robert Weise, Mrs. Robert L. McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan McShane, Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Elwood, District President George Beacham, former District President O. J. Wheeler, Mr. Hilton D. Jones, Mr. Conrad Culbertson, and Mr. Ken Guinther.

The entire chapter boarded a special bus immediately after the luncheon and departed for Chicago to attend the first annual District Six Founders' Day banquet at which Brother Everett M. Dirksen, U. S. Senate Minority Leader, and Brother Leslie C. Arends, U. S. Congressman from Illinois, were the honored guests.

DENVER dedicates geodesic home

by Ken Koso

Gamma-Gamma Chapter, University of Denver, held its formal house dedication ceremonies on May 27, 1961. The dedication coincided with the annual meeting of the fraternity's Supreme Council which was held in Denver. All members of the Supreme Council were able to attend and several participated, most notably President David C. Powers.

Brother Powers spoke concerning the values of fraternity brotherhood and the many things which a fraternity house can mean other than merely a shelter. The inspiring talk was delivered on a most appropriate occasion. With such an auspicious beginning, Gamma-Gamma is certainly destined to prosper and grow.

The dedication program began at 11:00 a. m. with the invocation by Dr. Robert L. McLeod, Jr., Executive Director. Master of Ceremonies was Charles E. Mitton, charter member of Gamma-Gamma and former District President. Vincent P. Martino, president of the Gamma-Gamma Chapter House Corporation, acknowledged the efforts of all who had contributed to the realization of the new house and formally presented the chapter house to S.M.C. William Steele.

In his acceptance speech Brother Steele thanked Brother Martino, the House Corporation, the University of Denver and the National Fraternity for their combined cooperation and effort which enabled Gamma-Gamma to realize its long dream of a new house. Dean of Students Daniel Feder, University of Denver, accepted the chapter house on behalf of the university and stated that the undergraduate chapter and the entire organization of Pi Kappa Alpha should be highly commended for achieving its housing goal.

A tour of the chapter house by all present preceded the dedication luncheon.

The dedication luncheon was held at Tiffin Inn, Writer's Manor, in Denver and was attended by over one hundred actives, alumni and guests. Throughout the ceremonies and luncheon, the 1961 Dream Girl and her attendants assisted Housemother Margaret W. Trask with the hostess duties.

Another important event which transpired during "IITKA Denver Weekend", our Dream Girl Formal, was held Friday evening at the Pinehurst Country Club in Denver. Miss Barbara Rees, Pi Beta Phi, was crowned as the 1961 Dream Girl. Attendants were Carol Wright, Delta Gamma, and Miss Joan Kreppes, professional model.

The District Convention of 11b was held Saturday afternoon with Gamma-Gamma as the host chapter. District President Walter J. (Dutch) Osterhoudt presided. R. James Henderson, Administrative Assistant, was also in attendance and led the convention in a detailed and extremely beneficial rush seminar.

The weekend of May 26-May 28 was truly "IITKA Denver Weekend". Gamma-Gamma Chapter wishes to thank everyone for any part he may have played in connection with this historic occasion. It would be a pleasure to have each of you visit us and enjoy the world's only concrete geodesic fraternity house.

Vincent Martino, house corporation president, presents dedication plaque to Gamma-Gamma S.M.C. William Steele.

The attractive home of Gamma-Omega Chapter, University of Miami, Florida, that is!

Anyone for a swim? This lovely pool adjoins the Gamma-Omega house.

Rensselaer Continues Strong

Looking back over the school year, we see another period of leadership for the brothers of Gamma-Tau Chapter on the Rensselaer campus. The satisfaction of two semesters of excellence in politics, athletics and all facets of interfraternity competition has been added to by the knowledge that end-of-the-year appointments have assured us of another year of prominence.

We initiated our year of sports participation with a full 50% of the varsity soccer team. Bob Stockton, Jim Barker, Fred Holmes, Gary Youngs, Harry Russell and Whitey Stephens made up most of the house offering, while Corky Smith and Brian McManus helped, picking up All New York State honors in the process. Bill Edwards and Ron Penkalski represented the house as starting members of the football team. Al Dahlberg played for the hockey team that traveled to Denver to represent R.P.I. in the N.C.A.A. championships. Gary Parsons swam, setting several records in the process. Art von der Linden, Jim Pollock and Dick Scheels represented the house on the R.P.I. basketball team. Scheels picked up honors as the leading rebounder. Wally Parsons starred in water polo and made the N.C.A.A. second team. In the spring, we were once more liable to claims of monopoly as five members of the house played on the lacrosse team, with George Vachuda in the goal, and Bill Edwards, José Wilkes, Nat Towle and Brian McManus spread out in the field before him. In track, Doofy Earl was one of the school's leading pole vaulters. Bill Edwards was awarded the title of Athlete of the Year for the class of 1963.

John Ritch, Mike Rakvica, Roc Asselta and "Machine" Mastronardi were all members of the freshman football team, with Peter Soule working on the soccer team. Other freshmen athletes on the basketball court, were: basketball—Cliff Hon, Jack Mastronardi, Brian Dillon, Tom Markworth and John Ritch; swimming—Jack Stebins; track—Tom Markworth and John Ritch; and baseball—Ken Miller and Pete Soule.

The overall academic proficiency of the brothers earned the eighth position among thirty fraternities. Two senior physics majors have made it through Rensselaer with almost perfect averages. As a result Eb Fetz has been awarded a full National Science Foundation scholarship to do graduate work, and Gil Markle has been granted a Fulbright Scholarship to study in Europe. Approximately one third of the house has made the Dean's list. We are well represented in the field of academic honoraries.

Jim Barker served as vice president of the Coalition party and as a member of the Interfraternity Council, with Chip Gamble, Pete Lewis and Glenn Mueller. Tom Webb and Pete Lewis were co-chairmen for the homecoming weekend festivities. We are honored to be the only house on campus to have two brothers appointed to Phalanx, the highest honorary on campus, Chip Gamble and Gary Parsons.

Lest any of our more realistic comrades across the nation get the idea that we devote our time solely to the pursuit of the academic and athletic, we surrounded these accomplishments with lots of fun and social activities. A barnyard party, complete with all appropriate livestock, and a caveman party are representative.

Tulane Pledges Eighteen Men

Eta Chapter has finished its 82nd year on the Tulane University campus—one of the most successful years in the history of the chapter.

The year began with the pledging of 18 rushees. After the completion of the pledge program, thirteen were initiated into the bonds of fraternal brotherhood, one of the highest percentage of initiation on campus.

Highlight of the year was the annual Dream Girl Formal held during the peak of the Mardi Gras activities on February 11, at the Southern Yacht Club. The big event of the evening was the presentation of pretty Miss Jeannie Mullins as the 1961 Dream Girl. Jeannie, a junior at Sophie Newcomb College and a member of Chi Omega Sorority, hails from Baton Rouge. She was escorted by Bill Green. Members of her court included: Lynda Harvey, Camille Webb, Pattie Curahan, Grace Bushey, Ann Melen, and Sandra Moyers.

National President David C. Powers was in New Orleans on March 5 to speak at our annual Founders' Day banquet. This is the first time in many years that Eta Chapter has had the pleasure of having such an honored guest, and all the brothers enjoyed his visit very much. The banquet was held in the Wildcat Room of the Roosevelt Hotel.

Jay Seastrunk, while doing research work at Scott and White Clinic in Texas this past summer, discovered a new stain for detecting the tubercle bacilli. The new stain is 20 to 30 per cent more accurate than the method which is now commonly used. Where the old method required 24 hours, Jay's method requires only 10 minutes. The method has been approved by the department of pathology of Scott and White Clinic and has been submitted to The American Journal of Clinical Pathology for publication. This method may be put into common use in the near future.

Brother Seastrunk is also talented in many other respects. He was named "Outstanding Sophomore Lineman" in the Fresh-Soph football game, and named to the All University football team. Jay is also an outstanding member of the famed Tulane Band. Jay has been accepted in the Tulane Medical School and will enter this fall. Butch Schaller and Bruce North are currently members of the Tulane Naval ROTC Rifle Team. The team, composed of 5 men, was named the nation's best in 1960 and is now leading in the race for the 1961 title. Ed Garland has been named 1961-1962 drill team commander of the 320th AFROTC Demonstration Team.

Arkansas Pikes Win Elections

Alpha-Zeta Chapter at the University of Arkansas did exceptionally well in student elections this spring. In the general elections Lance Alworth took the post of president of the senior class. Tommy Rogers was elected secretary of the Interfraternity Council, and Cricket Gruenewald was selected as the most outstanding engineering student in Army ROTC.

The Pikes held their annual Mothers' Day banquet on May 14 in honor of all the mothers and especially dedicated to their housemother, Mrs. Walter (Popo) Sorrells. Maurice Lewis presented Popo with a plaque and silver bracelet for her ten years of untiring and inspiring service to the chapter.

The social season drew to a close with the annual Quo Vadis party. Alpha-Zeta selected Suellen Martin, Kappa Kappa Gamma, as Dream Girl for 1961.

The Pikes ended intramurals this semester by sweeping the AA track championship.

Jim Cox was selected rush chairman to head an aggressive summer rush program and will make a tour of the state of Arkansas this summer to meet with rush captains of different sections of the state.

Montana State Entertains Mothers

Spring quarter at the Gamma-Kappa chapter house included chapter elections of SMC John Bodner, IMC Jerry Young, ThC Tom Sedlacek, Historian George Baker, and House Manager Larry McKay. The spring fireside with a Hawaiian Holiday motif was a big success under the direction of Social Chairman John Bietendueful.

During the newly formed "Greek Week" Larry Gernaat won first place in arm wrestling and J. R. Johnston and Arnie Rasmussen earned third place in the chariot races. We took second place in intramural basketball.

Our annual Mothers' Day festivities under the direction of Jerry Young were a real success.

Our Dream Girl candidates included: Janean Kessler, ΠΒΦ; Helen Cesheemaeker, ΑΓΔ; Marsha Thompson, ΧΩ; Sandy Turner, ΔΓ; Carole Sandenaw, ΑΟΠ; Kay Woldtvedt, ΚΔ; and Ginger Boss, Independent.

Alumnus Frank E. Heikkla, marketing manager for Westinghouse Electric Company in New York City, is receiving an honorary doctorate of engineering degree from Montana State.

SMU Pikes Earn Campus Posts

Beta-Zeta chapter at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas, is looking forward to a prosperous year during 1961-62. With giant strides toward more campus participation and more pride in the fraternity and its relation to the school, the chapter has created better spirit and is stronger financially.

Early in the term, Dick Bywaters topped all other opponents for one of the engineering school representative seats on the Student Senate. Mike Melner, BZ's 1961 fall president, received awards for and was elected to high positions in SMU's Arden Club, an active campus dramatics group. Bill Hunter was appointed Campus News Editor, the number three position on the school newspaper. Next year he will serve as president of the Dallas undergraduate chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism society on campus.

Other brothers active in various clubs and professional and scholastic honoraries were Dale M. Schoettler, Tommy Thomason, Ian McDonald, Wade Campbell, Gene Guinn, Dick Bishop, Jerry Gilbert, Harold English, Ronnie Chapman, Ralph Corley, Gerard Rickey and Joe Piott.

Of a membership of more than 50, twelve Pikes participated in the Air Force ROTC: Bob Dorrough, George Taylor, Joe LaFoy, Harry Koch, Jack Swindle, Ray Wolf, Ronnie Wilkinson, Bill Hooker, Terry Dahlman, John Rankin, Tim Smith and Richard Pool.

Shortly after the resignation of Mrs. Nommie Roberts, Beta-Zeta secured Mrs. Ruby Harrell as housemother. Now fully "initiated," pin and all, Mom has begun helping watch the budget in the kitchen. Too, Mom is busy making curtains for each of the 20 rooms in the house. It is as if Mom Harrell had been in training all of her life to become the Beta-Zeta housemother, for she's as much a part of the house as any other individual. Her needle is always ready to mend that ripped pair of pants or to sew on that missing button. Though other campus "Moms" are beginning to tell her that she's spoiling the chapter, she has baked and decorated a birthday cake for each boy living in the house, as well as for special chapter occasions, Mothers' Club luncheons, alumni dinners and campus open houses.

As host to 270 Pikes in District 10 March 3 and 4, Beta-Zeta had a formal dinner and dance. Miss Kerry O'Keefe, Delta Delta Delta, was crowned District Dream Girl of PiKA. BZ's other two formals included the crowning of Miss Laney Edwards, Delta Delta Delta freshman, at the pledge-arranged Christmas Dance, then in April the crowning by Dallas Mayor-elect Earle Cabell of Miss Nancy Cooper, Chi Omega, as Chapter Dream Girl.

SMU Pikes sponsored an all-sorority bridge tournament. Then came a series of open houses, serenades and the "classical," but traditional "Dream Ghoul of Pi Kappa Alpha" coronation at the Halloween Shock Hop.

Pikes rated third on the campus in scholastic achievement first semester. Actives ranked number one, but the pledges slipped to fifth place in grade averages. The slip, however, gave the chapter a chance to strengthen the "Big Brother-Little Brother" plan through active-pledge cooperation in Tuesday-and-Thursday night study halls.

For publicity of a product, of which one of the alums was connected, BZ brothers engaged in a 7-man chariot race to a nearby drive-in snack establishment. Brothers pulled their dates en route to the pre-arranged refreshment, and the dates pulled the brothers to the house on the return trip. Newsmen and photographers from two Dallas television stations, both Dallas newspapers and a national syndicate covered the story.

Lehigh Occupies New Home

After years of planning, Gamma-Lambda has obtained an attractive new chapter house. The new house and its athletic field "Tiger Stadium" are located on a one acre plot in a beautiful suburban area of Bethlehem. Our thanks go to all the brothers who gave up their spring vacations to help us move into our new home. Upholding its reputation of giving the best parties at Lehigh, we christened our new house with a combination house party-housewarming.

Gamma-Lambda took advantage of its new field for football and softball practice and won the League softball championship. Veteran Jim Seigman in his fourth year of pitching for the Pikes allowed only 12 runs in 7 games.

The Pikes of Gamma-Lambda have completed a highly successful spring semester rush program with 13 new pledges. These men will follow a progressive new pledge program which was adapted from that of Sigma Chapter at Vanderbilt.

Norman Strate was recently elected vice president of the senior class. William Toikka was elected to Tau Beta Pi (engineering) and Pi Mu Epsilon (math) honoraries.

Diana Thomas Selected by Iowa State

Highlight of the spring social activities at Alpha-Phi Chapter, Iowa State University was the selection of Miss Diana Thomas as Dream Girl. In the field of community service, Alpha-Phi cleaned a youth camp on one spring weekend.

Oregon State Chooses Two Dream Girls

This year the members of Beta-Nu chapter elected two Dream Girls at their Dream Girl Dance at Surfides Resort, Oceanlake, Oregon—Jean Pyleman and Linda Travis, members of Alpha Chi Omega Sorority. This occurred after two attempts to break the tie vote failed.

The dance culminated a weekend of activities which included a picnic, swimming, party, banquet and horseback riding.

McLeod Speaks At Miss. State

Gamma-Theta Chapter at Mississippi State had a very busy second semester beginning with the Founders' Day banquet on February 25. Speaker for the occasion was Executive Director Dr. Robert L. McLeod.

On March 15, twenty-six pledges were initiated culminating a very successful pledge training program. The pledge class for that semester was helpful in placing Gamma-Theta Chapter second in scholarship among the fraternities on campus.

The highlight of the social season was the Dream Girl for 1961.

In campus elections, SMC David Raspet was elected president of Blue Key National Honor Fraternity and president of the science school. Dan Camp was elected cheerleader and president of school of education.

Beloit Leads In Scholarship

This has been a year of building for Beta-Iota, both within the house itself and also on the Beloit campus. At no time since this chapter was virtually reborn after the war has the house been stronger or had brighter prospects.

Last semester the house ranked high in scholarship, provided the backbone of the school's swimming and cross country teams, and came up with one of the best informal dances of the year. Rich Olcott, who appeared for Beloit on TV's "College Bowl", was honored with a Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship.

The house itself saw many physical improvements during the semester. A new TV antenna, one of the highest in Beloit, was raised. Contributions from the Parents Club financed a tiling of the basement, and the pledge class turned the attic into a study and social room for future pledges. Outside the house a new driveway and flagstone walk were constructed, plus the addition of shrubbery and a new lawn.

Social activities at Beloit have been running in high gear during the last semester. The annual Dream Girl dance was presided over by lovely Faith Christian, and the "Shipwreck" informal proved to be one of the most successful dances in many years. A large number of dunkings in the nearby Rock River lagoon testified to the pinnings and engagements of Beta-Iota brothers.

Rush this year culminated with eighteen fine pledges. During Help Week they gave a top to bottom cleaning of a local church where Brother Jim Duren is assistant pastor. The pledge class also renovated the attic in the house which will be used in future years as a study and social room for pledges.

Members Beat Pledges At Georgetown

*"I don't know
But I've been told,
The Elkhorn creek
Is mighty cold."*

This was the theme of Alpha-Lambda's first annual tug-of-war between actives and pledges. In the encounter, the fourteen members of the active chapter demonstrated their superior brawn by pulling the pledge class into the water in a matter of seconds.

The Georgetown Pikes almost filled the trophy case. It won first place in intramurals for the second straight year. Paced by Tommy Allan, IKA went undefeated in cross country and basketball, second in volleyball, and third in football and softball.

With only a small group of actives graduating this year, Alpha-Lambda expects to be strong on campus again next year and to remain the top Greek organization at Georgetown.

Pikes Featured In Texas Carnival

Beta-Mu continued to prove its ability and resourcefulness on the University of Texas campus by taking second place in the fraternity show division of Varsity Carnival. The annual all Greek festival, conducted to raise money for charity, was held on April 29. A large measure of the credit for the show goes to Dick Stallcup, chairman of the committee; Jimmy Shafer, in charge of stage and set design; and Ray Scarborough, director. "The Unflushables," very aptly named, was a satirical portrayal of the weekly television production, "The Untouchables." "The Unflushables" received publicity coverage in several newspapers and on a local television station. Pikes dressed as 1920 gangsters raided sorority houses, womens dorms and boarding houses staging a gangland killing before their eyes. Featured actors in the production were Wade Parks, Robert Forrester, Buddy Rogers, Al Kimball, Andy Odom, Tim Coffee, Joe Latting, Bill Brown, and Buddy Boudloche. Girls featured were Marilyn Russey, Dianne Billingsly, and Patty Crow.

Beta-Mu elected officers for the following semester include Dick Chote, SMC, Ken Burch, IMC, Rodney Hortenstine, ThC, and Don Porter, Pledge Trainer.

Dean Lowry Speaks At Houston

Spring semester at Epsilon-Eta Chapter, University of Houston was under leadership of O. J. Joyce, SMC, Marshall Newcomb, IMC, James Kleiner, SC, Bruce Moore, ThC, Gary Tindall, Historian, and Doug Petit, Pledgemaster.

February 25, we held our Founders Day with Brother Wallace "Brick" Lowry, Dean at Sam Houston State Teachers College, as our speaker for the evening. A dance followed the banquet.

One of the biggest accomplishments of the year was the acquisition of our housemother, Mrs. Houston. We are the first and only fraternity on campus to have a housemother and meal program.

EH has brought home the first place intramural basketball trophy for the third consecutive year.

The University of Houston held its first variety show since the termination of Frontier Fiesta. Brother Marshall Newcomb was featured in one of the acts.

On March 24, we had a "Crazy Hat" party with the Delta Gamma Sorority. The array of hats ran from the outlandish to the absurd and the party provided laughter, music, dancing, and fun for everyone.

April 8 was the date of our annual "Swamp Party." Huts, lean-to's, and jungle skyscrapers are constructed by the members and pledges in our back yard. Some of them are two and three story structures but they never seem to qualify as architectural dream houses!

Georgia State Honors Dr. Blount

Epsilon-Nu Chapter, Georgia State College, held its annual Beachcomber's Party in May climaxing the year's social activities. The 250 guests arrived early for shrimp and iced tea and later swung into the early morning hours to the music of Clarence Chandler and his band. Among the guests were Dean of Men Kenneth England, Dean of Students William M. Suttles and Mrs. Suttles, and Dr. and Mrs. Paul Blount.

Highlight of the evening came when Miss Jo Ann Clark was announced as "Dream Girl, 1961-62" and was officially pinned by SMC Mike McCrory, while brothers and pledges sang "The Dream Girl of Pi Kappa Alpha." Members of her court are Misses Patti Hill, Jo Ann Scarborough and Carolyn Gallagher.

Earlier in May the chapter gave a banquet honoring Dr. Paul Blount. Brothers, pledges and dates turned out to celebrate Dr. Blount's receiving his Ph.D. in English from Cornell University. Roy Holcomb, initiated in May, also came in for a share of recognition.

Dickson Serves As Washington AC

No defeat here, only a Reorganization and Planning Session for Beta-Beta. At 6 p.m. on May 26, seventeen brothers, accompanied by Alumnus Counselor Curt Dickson, left Seattle and headed north on U.S. 99 toward Camino Island, home of the 1961 Beta-Beta retreat. Urged onward by their mission, rather than impetus of any civil defense warning, they fought the evening traffic toward the remote spot.

The "adequate" directions left much to be desired. A yellow sign shaped like an arrowhead turned out to be a lucky guess and a right turn at the proper time. A forced (wet) beachcombing expedition preceded the first session Friday evening because the keeper of the keys also missed the turn. Our leader?

The troops finally grouped for the first session and work began on summer rush and house publicity. Summer rush is the main concern of Beta-Beta. An adequately organized program being essential, this subject was our main topic. A general explanation on organization and changes in rushing rules was given, followed by a discussion of procedures and tactics. Further planning and organization will complete the framework laid down at our "Camp David."

House publicity, a relatively new field for Beta-Beta, was considered next. Open discussion was held and numerous suggestions were offered to improve the prestige of Pi Kappa Alpha on the University of Washington campus and throughout the Pacific Northwest. Ideas now on the "planning board" include a Father's weekend, a chapter flagpole and flag, a patio house-warming, and the IKA "ding" board—Beta-Beta's answer to the "Letter's to the Editor", where we may speak out on all issues by placing our comments on a board placed in front of the house.

Next the IKA's focused their attention on refreshments and the true spirit of brotherhood as they began the chapter song session. Hoarse voices were heard long into the night banging out variations to every song from "Pika Town" to "The Lady in Red."

The second session on Saturday morning, held among sleeping bags, potato chips, and stacks of air mattresses, placed emphasis on the areas of scholarship, house improvements, pledge training and social events. With the background of a fine year nearly completed, the men look to the year ahead with their attention directed toward the problems to be solved and the goals to be reached.

As the discussion drew to a close, newly elected SMC Al Ross said, "We have let a lot of water pass over the waterfall, so now let's grab those buckets and catch all we can." So with buckets in hand, goals well in mind, sights aimed high, the men of Beta-Beta returned to "sunny" Seattle, a more cohesive brotherhood ready to meet the challenges that lie ahead.

Vanderbilt Men Lead Campus

The word at Vanderbilt is "Catch the Pikes." Yes, that's what they're going to try to do next year here on the campus. This year, we believe that the Pikes have come out on top. We worked individually and as a chapter in practically every area of student life during the 1960-61 school year.

At the beginning of school the active chapter assured the success of the fraternity by going all out in its rush program and obtaining perhaps the number one pledge class on the campus. Continuing in its pledge work, the chapter instituted a new and unique pledge program in an effort to bring the pledges closer to the actives, create a stronger sense of fraternalism, and more important to make outstanding actives of the pledges. Perhaps the outstanding part in the training came when the chapter chartered a bus and the entire pledge class and about ten actives visited and toured the National Office in Memphis. This trip was enjoyed by everyone and definitely established closer ties between the pledges and Pi Kappa Alpha.

Sigma Chapter has been known in recent years as the dominant fraternity in politics on the campus. This year the Pikes were again very active politically, placing six out of a possible twenty-four senators in Student Government. This equals the school record set last year by the Pikes. In addition John Sabotka was named President of the Student Court, which ranks as one of the highest and most respected positions on campus.

This year set the stage for Sigma Chapter's rise to the top in the sports world at Vanderbilt. Basketball proved to be the Pike's forte as the team went to the finals but unhappily lost in the last round by three points. The pledge basketball team came out on top, however, in the pledge tournament. In softball the chapter blazed its way to the finals under the fine pitching of Leroy Norton. The Pikes also made it to the finals in the volleyball tournament. In track the brothers earned several firsts from the final meet.

The Pikes placed first in the Athenian sing; ranked first among the fraternities in the Homecoming decoration contest with an ingenious mechanical Commodore display, and in the Marlboro box-collecting contest the Pikes came in first both semesters adding a new stereo and television to the house.

John Sabotka made Phi Beta Kappa as a Junior, and also was tapped into ODK. Larry Banks, one of the starting five on Vandy's varsity basketball team, set a school record for the most rebounds in one game. Ernie Jackson was elected "Mr. Commodore."

In addition to the many small combo and record parties, we had two big parties—Founders' Day and the Dream Girl Dance, with the music of Jimmy Dorsey's orchestra. Highlight of the evening came as Miss Candy Love was crowned Dream Girl of 1961.

Next year the Pikes will occupy a new house, now under construction. Much planning and preparation has been made for next year and the new house.

Kansas Selects New Housemother

Beta-Gamma Chapter at the University of Kansas will begin next semester with a new housemother, Mrs. Rene Wallace. Mrs. Leona Ladehoff, to whom we have all become attached during her two years as our first lady, will be returning to her home in Iowa. Laddie will always have a special place in our hearts.

Next year three of our men—John Stallwitz, Allan Davis, and Steve Leach—will hold committee positions on the Kansas All-Student Council. Representing PiKA in Vox Populi political party next semester will be Jim Martin and Jeff Ward. Pat Piggott will be on the Board of Directors of the Student Union Activities. Three other men of Beta-Gamma, Harold Rogler, Hans Heynau, and Steve Leach—will hold positions on the editing staff of the Kansas Engineer, engineering magazine.

Individuals in the house have been outstanding in a wide variety of fields. Allan Davis was recently elected secretary of Delta Sigma Pi, honorary business fraternity. Dick Peil was granted the Military Order of the Loyal Legion award for his work in K. U.'s ROTC program. Hans Heynau was among the winners of undergraduate research participation awards. Jim Martin won an award for outstanding radio news reporting, and Eric Jacobsen awards for photography and institutional advertising. In the field of sports, Ken Hoy won three trophies in the campus bowling tournament.

W. Virginia Host To District Convention

Led by convention chairman Thomas Wetzel, Alpha-Theta was host for the District 5 Convention in Morgantown. The highly informative and fun filled weekend will remain as a memorable occasion in the hearts of the one-hundred and fifty men in attendance. Fraternalism was high as the weekend got off to a grand start with a stag "Tea Party." The following afternoon, at the general business meeting, the experiences of the chapters in finance, scholarship, rushing and pledging, social activities, and alumni relations were discussed. Speaker for the banquet was Dr. George H. Geuting, a 1937 graduate of West Virginia University and Alpha-Theta alumnus.

Climaxing the Dream Girl formal was the presentation of Miss Lynn Heil as Dream Girl of District 5, representing Alpha-Xi Chapter (Cincinnati). Lynn, Kappa Kappa Gamma, was on the 1959 Homecoming Queen Court, a member of the U. C. Bear Kittens, and a candidate for the Goddess of the Greeks at Cincinnati. Alpha-Xi presented a musical salute to Miss Heil.

Student government seats have been won by Thomas Freeman, Bill Byrd, and Roger Galloway. Special honors include: Thomas Wetzel, emperor of Sphinx, senior men's honorary; Thomas Sowinski, Sphinx; Peter Neri and William Teano, Helvetia, sophomore men's honorary; Robert Nixon, president of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity; James Laughlin, president, and David Vaughn, vice president of Y.M.C.A.; and Roger Galloway, president of Alpha Psi Omega, dramatics honorary.

First place in the annual Sphinx Talent Show brought a handsome trophy. Dr. George Geuting, former pledgemaster at Alpha-Theta, presented the chapter with a handsome and towering pledge training award. "The Henderson Award" given to the chapter by Jerry Hamill in honor of our housemother will be presented annually to the best pledge.

Florida Names Swan Editor

March was the big months at the Florida Pike house this year. Amid thousands of Hawaiian orchids flown in especially for the occasion, Alpha-Eta crowned its Dream Girl for 1961 in a gala affair, topping off a week of suspense for the dozen pinmate finalists. The worthy maiden to receive the coveted Dream Girl trophy was Miss Jean Makensen, ΔΔΔ, one of the sweetest girls we know. Viva the Queen of Pikes!

Founders' Day was ushered in after many weeks of planning by Ross Adams and his hard working committee. Alumni from far and wide joined with the active chapter in honoring the men who founded our great fraternity. Old friendships in the bond were renewed, new ones were made, and two new members of the Golden Chapter were given their certificates.

In campus wide activities, Alpha-Eta saw Neil Swan elected editor of the school newspaper, the Florida Alligator. Nelson DeCamp, active in chapter and on campus for three years, was elected president of the Florida Union Board of Student Activities, which plans, coordinates, and carries out all school sponsored functions at the University of Florida. Pikes are represented in IFC by Wilson Atkinson, who did a fine job as chairman of the annual "Fraternity Day" program on campus.

When the dust cleared away and semester grades were finally posted, the Pike House found itself accredited with a strong improvement in scholastic standing on campus. Two men were elected to membership in Phi Eta Sigma, freshman scholastic fraternity.

The annual Poppy Day sale for disabled veterans saw the chapter pour out en masse to completely canvass the entire downtown area in a very successful effort to raise money for this worthy cause. Grass-planting also became second nature to the Pikes as the lawn of the Florida Medical Center reaped the benefits of a full day's work from Alpha-Eta.

Social chairman Ross Slater sparked the social calendar with new spirit and imagination. The annual Christmas Dance proved once more to be the highlight of holiday celebration, while Spring Frolics, climaxing in a carefree weekend of sun and surf at St. Augustine's Vilano Beach, was delightful. The Pikes will long remember their Hawaiian Party, complete with all the traditional attire, cuisine, and atmosphere of our fiftieth state.

Duke Pledges On Dean's List

The brothers of Alpha-Alpha have just completed another exceptionally successful and productive academic year. Spring rush netted the Duke Pikes seventeen of the most outstanding athletes, scholars, and gentlemen in the freshman class. The social year was likewise well-nigh perfect with its share of unsurpassable good times spiced up with the renewal of old friendships, the results of various prolific relationships, and a profusion of spending which could hardly be deemed commensurate with budgetary limitations. However, the good times were well worth the expense, and if financial recovery fails to materialize, we, like all good Pikes, will be willing to economize.

Our fine pledge class was up to scholastic standards with the inclusion of six Dean's

List men: Joel Morris, John Koonce, Dick Buddington, Ward Page, Bucky Bright, and Stan McCleskey. Athletes were represented by Bucky Bright, star freshman halfback; Fred Lazard and King Knox, members of the A. C. C. championship freshman golf team; Norman Harritt, fleetfooted third baseman, and Dave Ditmars, flashy net standout.

Tom Gebbie and Fred Cox are leading players on the nationally ranked Duke University basketball team. The Duke wrestling team also was successful as Earl "sumo" Brian achieved fame through his unmerciful bone-shattering tactics. Brother Doser had a successful season on the links as captain of the golf team. The Pikas received distinction through the brilliant play of lineman A. W. Booray in the Cotton Bowl victory over the Arkansas razorbacks. On the intramural side, Bruce Jansten led the chapter bowlers to league championship while Prior Sugg pushed the basketball and softball teams to award winning positions.

Graduation brought with it the usual amount of sentimentality as a result of the departure of the senior class. Past SMC B. B. Foster will be attending the University of McGill Medical School next fall. Other senior brothers studying medicine next year include Roger Gregory, Duncan Ashe, Craig Roberts, and Larry Frank. Frank, also a past SMC, achieved further distinction as president of the pre-med honorary, Order of Hippocrates. Sid Daughtridge joined the ranks of Phi Beta Kappa. He plans to spend the next three years in the Marine Corps on an assignment in the Union of South Africa. Lambeth, McLeMore, Riechmann, Doser, Mirilia, and Booray will serve as officers in the United States Navy. Chandler and his wife will move to Pittsburgh, Pa. where he will be employed by the Duquesne Power Co. Britt Burns, president of the Duke chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, will return to Copperhill Tennessee to enter business. Bruce Wheeler will begin graduate studies at the University of North Carolina.

Mothers Entertain At Pittsburgh

Gamma-Sigma's active Mother's Club had an enormously successful "Dessert-Bridge" card party at the house. The combined efforts of all the women and brothers raised over $500 for the benefit of the fraternity.

Our athletic teams did very well this season. The IKA's took a first in volleyball for the seventh straight year. They also picked up firsts in basketball, badminton, and golf, with Jim Dinley garnering honors on the All-Star team as second highest scorer in the hoop league. Steve Ganong's record setting 880 run helped give us a second in the track meet to add to the seconds already won in football and swimming. The IKA's came in second place for the IF All-Sports trophy, a mere three points behind the leaders. Added to this year's sport schedule was a basketball game with the Pittsburgh Wheelers, composed of players in wheel chairs. The Wheelers picked up their 21st straight win by downing the IKA team 100 to 22.

There are some fine looking varsity prospects in this year's pledge class. John Vaccino and Paul Martha should be football regulars next season. Jim Mill and Jerry Cherry will also be on the football squad helping Larry Vignali to a winning season. Guarding left field for the Pitt baseballers is John Cioffi. Carl Warnes has been voted co-captain of the swimming team in his Junior year and three of this trimester's pledges will be in the water for Pitt and Carl next fall—Steve Ganong, Wayne Papert, and Bill Shanahan.

Alan Seijas was named University Scholar at the Honors Convocation this spring. Also sharing in the honors were Dale Hardner and Karl Schmitt. Alumnus Bert O'Malley was honored by the School of Medicine for his fine scholastic record. Tom Auten was named to OΔK this past term, and Carl Pepine was awarded the title of Junior Worthy at Pittsburgh.

The fifth annual Father and Son Banquet had over 80 per cent attendance, and everyone enjoyed the dinner served by the mothers. After a short resume of accomplishments during the year, we settled back to watch colored movies of the 1960 World Series which was obtained through Jack Berger, ΓΣ 1950, publicity agent for the World Champs.

Gamma-Sigma started a bridge tournament for sororities this year. Won by Phi Sigma, Delta Delta Delta took second place. Next year it will be open for fraternities also. The ΓΣ Newsletter is again in full operation thanks to editors Frank Lucchino and George Mazzei. Any alumnus not receiving his Newsletter should send his new address to the IKA house.

Carnegie Builds Glass Buggy

With the arrival of spring at Carnegie Tech there also comes the 35-year-old Spring Carnival. Much work is involved in making such an all school weekend a success, and so preparations are begun in October for this weekend in May. Tech's 12 fraternities and 7 sororities compete for the many honors to be had.

The most exciting event of the Carnival is the "Buggy Race." This is a relay race in which teams of five men (pushers) and a driver relay a buggy about a prescribed course of 1½ miles through the campus and nearby Shenley Park. PiKA entered the two buggies, The Shark and Zoro. The Shark, a sleek, deep red, fiber glass buggy, placed second in the preliminaries from a field of 18 buggies, with a time of 2:32.8 minutes. ATO captured the first place crown with a time of 2:28.8 minutes. We owe the great performance of The Shark to the efforts of Jack Hubacher and Pete Murray for their many hours of preparing the buggies. The winning relay team consisted of Bill Elsey, Jim Jubinski, Jim Sharkey, Bob Wolfe and Bob Myne. The driver was Len Caramela.

The overall theme of the carnival was "Flickers, Flappers and Flings" with the fraternity booths depicting a particular event of the gay '20's. Under the leadership of Art Lubetz, we built our booth depicting the "First Dance Marathon of 1923". It was a dance pavilion flanked by two 15 foot dancers, whose legs went up and down in a dancing motion, while inside, two gaily dressed figures revolved and danced to the enchanting melody of "The Charleston." The booth was completed only minutes before the judging, and placed third among the twelve fraternities competing.

Because of the traditional MUD and RAIN of Carnival at Tech, "Plank Jousting" was a very appropriate event. This game requires teams of five men who individually climb upon a plank, feather pillow in hand, and try to knock opponents into the sea of mud below. PiKA achieved a tie for third place, and many muddy clothes, shoes and brothers.

The faculty participated in the "Faculty Egg Toss." Two members of the faculty teamed up and tried to toss a raw egg to each other without breaking it.

The Jazz Concert of Friday Night had as its stars the "Brothers Four", and for the Spring Carnival Ball on Saturday, May 6, 1961 Tech Students danced to the music of Ralph Marterie and his Band.

Campus Leaders Elected at Murray

Epsilon-Lambda Chapter, Murray State College is proud of its excellent organization during student elections on the Murray campus. Sid Easley, pledgemaster, was elected Student Organization President; Lowell Stonecipher was elected Treasurer; Charles Barlow and Steven Sanders were elected representatives from their classes. We also placed nine men on the "Man on Campus" slate.

Pikes at Murray are active in college sports. Bob Goebel was a standout performer on the freshman basketball team and Lowell Stonecipher a regular on the varsity baseball team. Curt Sanders, Bill Lasater, and Ross Dawson are on the track team. Sanders and Dawson hold school records in the two mile and one half mile runs respectively.

May 8, 1961, Epsilon-Lambda initiated sixteen new men. Many of these new actives helped us to become a top contender for the IFC all sports trophy.

The highlight of Murray State's social life this spring was the Pike dance, "Neptune's Cove". We imported Jerry Lee Lewis from Nashville, Tennessee and packed the Student Union Building ballroom with over six hundred couples.

East Carolina Honors Conley

The first "Outstanding Brother Award" was recently presented to Don Conley by Epsilon-Mu Chapter Alumnus Counselor Fred Robertson on the basis of his participation in fraternity activities, campus organizations, and contributions to Pi Kappa Alpha and East Carolina College. Brother Conley served the chapter as secretary and vice president and is currently co-captain of the East Carolina Golf team which has recently captured top honors in the conference tournament for the second consecutive year.

Miss Nannie Sue Crawford was selected Dream Girl of 1961 at the annual Dream Girl Ball held at Greenville Golf and Country Club.

Epsilon-Mu placed second in intramural competition under the leadership of athletic chairman Charlie Zucker.

ODK Selects La. Tech Pikes

Gamma-Psi recently held a most successful Black and White Formal. The decorations recreated a south-Louisiana swamp and included a ceiling of Spanish moss and walls lined with cypress trees. A twenty foot rustic bridge with a babbling brook completed the picture. Intermission brought the crowning of Gamma-Psi's 1961 Dream Girl, Helen Fielder, Phi Mu. The intermission party was held on the lawn of Louisiana Tech President Ropp. There dates enjoyed opening their umbrella favors under the starry skies.

Gamma-Psi continues to be well represented on the campus. One-fourth of the new initiates into ODK, honorary leadership fraternity, are Pikes. Next year the chapter will be represented on the Student Senate by: Scott Weathersby, vice president; Perry Pringle, treasurer; and Bob Caverlee, representative. Pledge Roy Vinning has been elected president of the Louisiana Tech Engineers Association.

Gamma-Psi is ready to begin an addition which will add twenty-six feet to the length of the chapter room. Another wing will be added to later and our house will have the shape of the Greek letter II.

Under the direction of athletic director Frank Betts, Gamma-Psi won the overall and fraternity intramural trophies for the second consecutive year. Out of a total of ten different sports, we copped six first or second places in the fraternity division and three first places in the overall intramurals. This gives Gamma-Psi permanent possession of the trophy. Allen Herbert won the award as the outstanding intramural athlete presented by the Louisiana Tech Athletic Club.

Gamma-Psi won the trophy for fraternities in the annual IFC-Panhellenic Greek Week. Greek Week activities ended with a picnic and competition in swimming, canoeing, and barber-shop quartets. During Greek Week we held a sorority bridge tournament at the chapter house.

Hampden-Sydney Pikes All Campus Leaders

The brothers of Iota Chapter are making significant contributions to campus leadership at Hampden-Sydney College. SMC Tim Butler is one of the captains of the football team and is serving as president of the Student Christian Association. ThC Wade Saunders is captain of the tennis team, vice president of the junior class, and a member of the Honor Council. Pledgemaster Earl Guthrow was elected vice president of the Student Government in a close race with one of his own brothers. Russell McAllister and Norwood Davis are active in publications, serving respectively as Associate Editor and Sports Editor of the school newspaper, the Tiger.

Junior Otis Bradley was awarded the Joshua Warren White Trophy as the athlete who had displayed outstanding sportsmanship for the previous year. Bradley played football and won the trophy for being the most outstanding wrestler in the Mason-Dixon Conference Tournament. In that tournament he was undefeated and the winner of his weight division. In addition, he serves as Iota house manager. Junior Bill Caperton was acclaimed as the outstanding track man for the previous year. Bill holds the school records in the 440 and 880 yard runs.

Two brothers were initiated last spring into Pi Delta Epsilon, journalistic fraternity, and into Eta Sigma Phi, classical fraternity. Senior Tom Tredway, current IMC, was tapped into Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary leadership fraternity.

Bates Chappell, who served as president of his pledge class, was elected secretary-treasurer of the Student Christian Association. Plans are already being made for an active and aggressive rush program for the coming year. A progressive program in the field of alumni relations is being undertaken also.

The outside of the house has been painted and the interior has been completely redecorated with an entire new floor being laid. The basement has been repainted and many needed repairs made. The majority of the work was done by pledge groups, with professional help being called in only when necessary.

Virginia Host To District Convention

On April 14 and 15, the District 3 Convention was held at Alpha Chapter, University of Virginia, with thirteen chapters in attendance. National Vice President L. A. McCall, Jr. National Historian Freeman H. Hart, and Administrative Assistant Reese I. Joye Jr. helped to make the occasion an outstanding one. Convention Committee Chairman Kent Morrison coordinated and chaired the meetings for District President Flannagan, who was ill and unable to attend.

Alpha Chapter concluded the year with a flurry of honors and awards being won by the brothers. "Swede" Kamfjord was elected president of the School of Education, while Joe Kehoe was elected its treasurer. Mitz M. Martin was elected into membership into the Raven Society, the University's top honor society, while two pledges, Jim Andrews and Dwayne Bickers were initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, freshman scholarship organization.

Gene Engel was chosen as Virginia's "Athlete of the Year" for his superb performance on the basketball court and his record breaking on the track field. Ron Gassert was selected as the outstanding Cavalier football player of the year, and was elected Co-Captain of the team for the coming year. Gary Cuozzo and Joe Kehoe were on the ACC All-Scholastic Team.

The chapter is looking forward to a very prosperous year under its new officers: SMC Kent Morrison, IMC Jan Kamfjord, ThC Joe Kehoe, SC Bernie Morrel, and House Manager Ted Rzemoluch.

Omaha Student Council Staffed by Pikes

In the spring elections for Student Council, Delta-Chi brothers won five out of the six positions, including vice president and treasurer. The May Day Float Parade was won by Delta-Chi's "Fantasy in Red" depicting Communist domination of the world. In the spring musical, "The Boy-friend," Dud Kersey and Jim Pelowski played the lead roles, supported by Bob Cramer. Dud Kersey was awarded the All-Greek Outstanding Pledge Award and was the recipient of the coveted Interfraternity Council Scholarship.

Having placed first in the intramural swimming meet, Delta-Chi won the interfraternity softball trophy with a record of 7-2 (Brother Lee Perkins pitched one no-hitter and two one-hitters!). This same team is now enjoying a no-loss record with an earned-run average of 15 runs per game in an all-city softball league.

Delta-Chi Chapter, in the best tradition of PiKA, entered the largest turtle, Homer PiKap, in the National Turtle Trudge at Toledo University on May first.

Homer, a 30 pound snapping turtle and native of Nebraska, carried the garnet and gold colors with a dignity befitting a PiKap entry. Being the largest turtle in the race, he caused a great deal of consternation to the race officials as he almost squashed a couple of lesser turtles on the course. Feeding Homer also seemed to cause the officials a little worry. "No one will touch him," said one race official. "We had to use hockey gloves."

It was felt by most brothers that this first setback of Homer was due to loss of weight, so he was flown back home on a jet transport to go into active training for next year's race, which he is expected to win.

Kansas State Hurdler Prominent

Alpha-Omega Chapter has traditionally been represented by some outstanding athletes, Rex (Hurdles) Stucker, a senior from Effingham, Kansas, is one of the most sensational track men ever to represent Kansas State. He won the 1960 award for outstanding athlete of the year at K-State. Rex tied the conference indoor world record in the 60 yard low hurdles with a 6.7 seconds time. He tied the conference record for the high hurdles with a time of 14.0 and holds records at K-State in the indoor 60 yard high hurdles with a 7.4, and for the high, low, and 400 meter hurdles outdoors. He placed second in the National AAU 220 yard and low hurdles in New York June 24. Rex's national rank is 4th in the highs and lows, and 2nd in the 400 meter hurdles.

John (Pat) McNeal, a promising sophomore distance runner from Wayzata, Minnesota, has helped the K-State relay teams set two new school records with a 7:36.1 in the two mile relay and 10:05 in the distance medley. This two mile relay time ranks them fifth in the nation. Also, Pat ran on the relay that set a new two mile record at Arkansas, registering 7:41.2. Pat's best half-mile time is 1:52.7.

Last fall, four Pikes bolstered the swimming team at K-State. David Hinderliter, Craig McNeal, and Eric Carlgren were key letter men among the University tankers. Gary Beck was working on the boards until a broken nose sidelined him. Dave, a graduating senior from Park Forrest, Illinois, broke K-State records in the 50, 100, and 220 yard freestyle events at the Norman, Oklahoma, Big Eight meet. The official times were 23.8 in the 50, 52.0 in the 100, and 2:14.9 in the 220 yard freestyle. He also holds the 60 yard freestyle record of 29.6 and swam on the record setting 400 yard freestyle relay team. Dave was named to the All-Big Eight swimming team in the 50 yard freestyle.

Maryland Pikes Rebuild Chapter

The University of Maryland has never seen such a resurgence of membership and activity like that demonstrated by Delta-Psi chapter of Pi KA. Since the early successes of Delta-Psi in the mid-fifties, the chapter steadily declined to almost a point of no return. However, in the fall of '60, with the support of the Supreme Council and the National Office, one final attempt was made to conserve the chapter and perpetuate the ideals of Pi Kappa Alpha on the campus. The chapter rejoined the Interfraternity Council and participated in the formal rush program of the university, initially pledging five men.

Throughout the fall and early winter these men, with guidance from various alumni brothers, carried on the work that was necessary to lay a good foundation for a revived chapter.

Soon after the start of the second semester, rushing activity increased and within six weeks 14 men had been pledged to Delta-Psi. In the absence of any initiated undergraduate brothers, the new pledges elected officers and functioned as the chapter in most campus and interfraternity affairs. Projects in intramurals, community service, rush and social activities were expanded to a point which earned campus recognition.

The membership now stands at twenty. Negotiations for a new house began in early June and it is anticipated that the house will be in full operation with the start of school this fall. The University of Maryland administration and Interfraternity Council have given their wholehearted support to the return of Pi KA to the campus. Alumni of Delta-Psi and other chapters have participated in the revival of the chapter's activities and membership. They have been led by Alumnus Counselor John Stoelting from Alpha-Xi Chapter at the University of Cincinnati, who was requested by the Supreme Council to guide the chapter's activities in a rebuilding program. He is a resident of Washington, D. C., where he heads the Group Insurance Office for The Ohio National Life Insurance Company.

The housing situation has been handled by the Delta Psi Foundation, Inc., led by J. Allison Ballenger, Zeta, (Tennessee). He is the President of Ballenger Buick, Inc., Laurel, Maryland.

The pledges have been led in their various activities by Peter Rios-Velez of Aberdeen, Maryland, president of the pledge class and David Clemans, of Gloversville, New York, vice-president.

Activities for the coming year include a full rush and social program and the furnishing of the new house. Alumni relations, scholarship and community service projects are being emphasized. "Come to Maryland and watch the Pikes grow."

Case Holds Parents Day

Although welcoming smiles and friendly handshakes are not by any means new to the brothers of Epsilon-Xi, they occasioned one of several "firsts" for the Pikes at Case. In this instance, it was our "First Annual Parent's Day." The parents of the brothers were not only treated with a dinner and party in their honor, but were also able to tour the campus and have conferences with the faculty and administration. Parent's Day was originated not only to fete those wonderful people who are generally paying for our college years, but to show them the spirit of brotherhood and fellowship which prevails among the brothers.

Stop watch, slide rule, nerve pills, road map, date, and auto—we needed them all for the first "Pike Motor Car Rally." Brother Stroud, social chairman, organized the run which proved to be by far the most successful social event of the year.

We did not win senior carnival, although our "Electronic Kissing Ability Rater" was judged by many to be the most unique booth at the carnival. Still, the bruised thumbs and sleepless nights were well worth it. The spirit that comes from brother working with brother cannot be measured.

Denver Crooners Win Trophy

The May Day festivities at Denver University were very successful with Gamma-Gamma Chapter winning the second place overall trophy, a first place trophy in Twilight Sing and a first place trophy in the May Fair. Ken Koso won the award as ugliest Greek on campus at the "Beauty and the Beast" dance. Gamma-Gamma finished the sports program by taking second place in softball. A concentrated spring rush has brought Gamma-Gamma the largest pledge class on campus. The office of vice president of IFC was won this year by Jerry Lau. We are pleased to announce the initiation of George McCormick, chemistry professor at the University. For the past 15 years Brother McCormick has been very helpful to the chapter.

Gamma-Gamma recently held its Dream Girl ball at the new Pinehurst Country Club. The ball was a great success with a large alumni turnout. It was further enhanced by the attendance of the Supreme Council which was meeting in Denver.

Kentucky Pledges Good Scholars

The brothers of Omega began the semester with twenty-two new pledges who had an academic average of 2.7, slightly better than the chapter average of 2.5. On April 23 we initiated all but one pledge, who chose matrimony. The Mothers Club recently sponsored an auction in order to help us purchase new china.

We crowned Miss Betsey O'Roack, Chi Omega, Dream Girl for 1961 at the annual Dream Girl Dance, May 5. Betsey's court consisted of Pat Botoner, Alpha Delta Pi, and Judy Jett, Delta Delta Delta. The dance was held at the Holiday Inn with Ralph Majors band from Cincinnati. We finished the weekend with a cabin party at Clays Ferry Beach after which the members began making preparations for final exams.

Cincinnati Dates Enjoy Riverboat

Shortly before we boarded the boat, the brothers moved their dates into the house for the weekend party. The girls had a good time poking into everything; however, curiosity has strange rewards, and some of the girls found that their dates had left carefully planted and often startling surprises for them. Free run of a fraternity house is an experience every young coed should have.

At dinner before the boat ride many plans were discussed for Saturday's activities. There were those who wanted an afternoon of swimming at Cincinnati's Coney Island. Some had hot tips on the old nags at the River-Downs race track. A couple even thought of going to an open-air art show at the Zoological Gardens.

Everyone was awaiting the boat ride at eight o'clock, and there was no lingering at dinner. When all were aboard, the whistle signaled our departure, and the paddle wheel began its churning as Captain Johnston guided us into the Ohio River channel. As we passed under one of the bridges linking Ohio with Kentucky, Cincinnati's sky-line faded into the distance. From the deck below the sounds of dixieland jazz penetrated the night. We were off on a wonderful weekend party.

Saturday morning came too soon for many of us. Those managing to open an eye discovered a beautiful day with a bright sun dominating a deep blue sky. The Pikes and their dates had brunch at the house.

After an afternoon of fun, we gathered at the Terrace Hilton Hotel, where the banquet and Dream Girl Ball were held in the Pavilion Caprice. On a table near the entrance thirteen trophies with the name of the Dream Girl candidates formed a half circle, centered by the golden cup for the Dream Girl of 1961.

The cuisine was excellent. SMC Jay Green awarded to past past SMC Nick Shafor and to Tom Simpson the Outstanding Chapter Senior awards. Jim Woodard received the Outstanding Campus Senior award. Jim has been president of his sophomore, junior, and senior class. He belonged to Metro, Sigma Sigma, Cincinnati, and Sophos honoraries, holding office in several. Sigma Sigma bestowed upon him the Mr. Bearcat award, the highest honor that can be given to a graduating senior man. Selection is based on character, leadership, scholastic attainment and university service.

The ball which followed was superb. Thirteen beautiful young ladies escorted by their dates made a pretty promenade down the center of the ballroom. Master of Ceremonies Don Jacob pronounced Toni Sillman, Kappa Alpha Theta, the Dream Girl of Pi Kappa Alpha for 1961. Toni is a petite Cincinnati beauty.

"After the ball was over," the brothers and their dates gathered at the house. On the front porch the recently pinned and the engaged couples stood for a formal pinning serenade, led by Max White.

After church services we went to one of Cincinnati's beautiful Mt. Airy Forest Park. What relaxation! The expertly catered meal, plenty of refreshments, the traditional "house men" vs. "town men" softball game, and the comfort of quiet conversation.

One hundred and forty Pikes and dates will remember it as one of the best weekends in their college years.

Arizona State Pikes Commissioned

At Delta-Tau the spirit and excitement of the military runs high. This year Delta-Tau can boast of five future Army officers, one Marine Corps officer candidate, and two award winners in the basic Corps of Cadets.

At the 75th annual commencement at Arizona State University two of these six men received regular commissions. Dick Strombres held the rank of Cadet Colonel, was Commanding Officer of the Army Cadet Corps, was in charge of the annual Military Ball plus several fraternity parties, and also attended the U. S. Military Academy at West Point. The other Pike receiving a regular commission was Henry Banks, retiring MC.

The remaining Pike cadet officers are all captains in the Army ROTC: SMC Bill McBroom, Phil Hineman, Jack Fletcher, and Wayne Holsworth.

Next year Gail Walston and pledge Dennis Kasl will be Cadet Second Lieutenants in the Air Force ROTC. Brother Walston received the Convair Merit Award for the best basic AFROTC cadet accepted for the Advanced Corps. Pledge Kasl received the American Legion Award for high scholastic and leadership capability for a second year basic cadet.

Fire Truck Joins Water Fight

The 1917 Ahrens Fox, pride of Gamma-Mu, is running once more on six cylinders. Burt Dean took the cracked engine block home with him during spring vacation and welded it.

Not long after the Fox was back on six the engine had a chance to prove itself. One hot spring afternoon the fraternities and sororities on Strafford Avenue were engaged in a water fight. The battle was definitely turning in favor of the sororities so the Miami (Ohio) University President John D. Millett presents Nial Eugene Stouder, ΔΓ, with the Hinckley Award as Outstanding Junior Man.

Gamma-Mu fire fighters pressed into service the Fox containing a seventy-five gallon capacity water tank. Immediately the tide of battle shifted in favor of the fraternities. Gamma-Mu gained the admiration of the other fraternities and the respect of the sororities.

This year the successful Founders' Day celebration was highlighted by the traditional piano burning on the front lawn. Placed on the remains of our Winter Carnival snow sculpture, it was set afire and the party moved outside. Several of the alumni and brothers such as Stan Pike and Peter Cole had their instruments hidden away just in case the piano burned. Seeing the fire, they formed a band playing dixieland jazz and old time favorites, accompanied by over fifty couples singing the lyrics.

Homecoming was also very successful this year, having over one hundred guests present for the dinner, football game, and party. The highlight of the day was a chance for the alumni to ride on the Fox to and from the football game.

Many major house repairs took place throughout the school year such as the re-cultivating of the front lawn, aided by ten loads of loam, and cleaning up the back yard including the old brush and stumps that were left from building the new addition. The space under the stairway leading to the upper deck was enclosed, and is now being used for a bookcase and shelves.

Tulsa Earns Scholarship Trophy

Gamma-Upsilon Chapter has kept in tune with spring with many varied activities and accomplishments. In almost every realm of college life it has been at the top during this past semester. Credit is very largely due to our retiring President, Jim Ellington, who unselfishly and intelligently led us so effectively.

We ranked first in scholastic improvement this year. A very good example was set by our SMC Ellington who maintained a 4.0 average. Gamma-Upsilon placed as the Best Men's Act in the school variety show. In Student Government, Ed Wheeler became vice president of the Student Senate. Social events include a interfraternity party in honor of Delta Gamma Sorority. Gamma-Upsilon's 1961 Dream Girl Formal, held at Rolling Hills Country Club, began with dinner at 7:00 p. m. with alumni, members, and pledges taking part. Awards were presented to outstanding members. The Best Scholastic Average for a Senior went to Ray Mashburn; The Most Valuable in Intramurals to Ray Mashburn; and The Most Fraternity-Spirited Man to Jack Lamb. Midway through the evening Jim Ellington and the retiring Dream Girl, Miss Lindell Wilcox, Delta Delta Delta, presented the 1961-62 Dream Girl, Miss Marcia Largen. San Diego Elects Pike President

Delta-Kappa has dominated campus politics with the consecutive election of two of its members as president of the Associated Student Body, San Diego State College. Don Brown served as last year's student body president and proudly relinquished his office to Boyd Malloy. Both presidents received support from Mike Dunham, sophomore class representative, and Jim Street, freshman class president. Bob Ogle, president of Tau Sigma, national business honorary, and Bob Johnson, president of the Rugby Club, have likewise aided the two Presidents. Delta-Kappa has gained further prestige in athletics with the placing of eight starting men on the frosh football squad and three on the varsity.

The gargles and croaks of the Brothers fill the air as we anticipate the approach of the annual "Spring Sing" with Alpha Phi Sorority. Zimmerman Entertains At Penn State

Beta-Alpha Chapter, Pennsylvania State University, topped off an outstanding social calendar with its annual Founders' Day celebration in March. The highlight of the occasion was the appearance of our guest of honor, National Song Director George H. Zimmerman. He gave an extremely entertaining speech after dinner in our chapter house telling of his various experiences as a national officer and as a schoolteacher in his hometown of Dayton, Ohio. After dinner he added some extra life to our party by sitting down at the piano and playing and singing some of the real old favorites. Brother Zimmerman provided an enjoyable evening for all, and he has a standing invitation to return to Beta-Alpha at any time in the future.

Pam Moberly, member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, was chosen as Dream Girl for 1961 at our annual Dream Girl Dance, May 5. She was presented her crown by last year's Dream Girl, Janet Kuntzleman. The following night we held a South Sea Islands Party, complete with tropical backdrop and an authentic waterfall. The evening began with a Hawaiian feast, and a local combo provided the music for the rest of a memorable event.

The members of Beta-Alpha made another big jump in scholastic standing among the 55 fraternities at Penn State. Through diligent study we moved from seventeenth place the preceding year to a tie for seventh place last winter.

was recently elected Mr. Memphis State University. Brother Robillio has also been chosen for WHO'S WHO and is a member of Pi Sigma Epsilon, honorary sales fraternity.

Some of the other Pikes that are leaders on the campus include Hudson Brown, president of the Cub Club, a student organization for the purpose of promoting competition between fraternities in sports and other campus activities. Frank Simonton, a June 1961 graduate, has been awarded a $1700 grant and assistantship in the Physical Education Department at MSU. Ken Jackson, another graduating senior with a 3.8 overall average, is the first MSU recipient of a Woodrow Wilson Scholarship.

Other leaders in chapter and campus activities include: Rich Brackhahn, past SMC and president of the IFC, newly elected senior class prexy; Edgar Trotter, 1961 DeSoto yearbook editor; Lewis Trotter, member of Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary art fraternity; and Jim Long, business editor, TIGER RAG newspaper.

On May 26, Pi Kappa Alpha and Kappa Alpha co-sponsored a salute to "Uncle Willie". "Uncle Willie" is William Blackwell, retiring 82 year old caretaker of the Den, student recreation center. Willie was presented with a pipe rack and a supply of tobacco. This was a salute to the dear old man who has been a tradition at MSU for fifteen years.

The past school year was certainly an enjoyable and profitable one for Delta-Zeta. We are now looking forward to the initiation of our 23 spring pledges.

Memphis State Purchases Fire Truck

Delta-Zeta Chapter at Memphis State University is very proud to announce the acquisition of a fire engine. The 1928 Mack cab and American-LaFrance trailer engine was recently purchased from the St. Louis Fire Department. The engine itself, a hook and ladder truck with 274 actual feet of ladders, is 78 feet in length. Now resting in the rear of the chapter house, the engine is presently undergoing extensive body and motor repair at the skillful hands of industrious actives and pledges. In several weeks we hope to have the engine looking its best and running as good as new. On the first trial run, the monster engine averaged three gallons to the mile.

On May 6, the Dream Girl Ball was held at the Colonial Country Club with the "Downbeats" from Ole Miss playing the tunes. We honored all our graduating seniors at the formal, and further honored them at the annual Senior Outing held June 5 at Sardis Lake in Mississippi. The 1961 Delta Zeta Dream Girl is Brenda Theurer, re-elected for her second year. The Dream Girl Court included: Karen Moeller, Thelma Schwartz, Mary Frances Griffin, and Joye Clarke. Brenda is truly a Pi Kappa Alpha advertisement. She has done a tremendous job in promoting us on campus and in the city of Memphis.

Moving Day At Colorado State

On April 28, 1961, exactly ten years after Delta-Phi received its charter, the Dream Girl Formal was held at the Americana Motor Hotel in Denver. Miss Jean Williams was elected Dream Girl for 1961. Honored guests were Dr. John Vanderwilt, president of the Colorado School of Mines, and many other notables from the administration.

Next fall we will be living in a temporary house while waiting for the new fraternity row to be completed here.

The officers for next year are Bob Hunt, president; Doug Zunkel, John Macfadyen, and Mike Miller.

Past president of Delta-Phi, John Macfadyen was recently elected treasurer of the Student Council.

Donelan Honored At South Carolina

Vivian Brandenburg was chosen Dream Girl of Xi Chapter, University of South Carolina, on April 28, 1961. Vivian is a member of Alpha Delta Pi and is majoring in education. The four finalists were Linda Burnette, Genie Garvin, Linda Wise, and Wynn Reed Wysong.

Bill Donelan received the outstanding senior award, and Jimmy Vann was selected as the outstanding pledge.

With the aid of outstanding athletes like Gordon Cole, Jimmy Hunter, Jim Costen, and Billy Gambrell we were able to cop first place trophies in both softball and track in the campus intramural events.

Dr. Shapley Visits Beta Chapter

Beta Chapter enjoyed a rewarding spring of 1961. As runner-up in the pledge training and Greek Week competition at Davidson College, this award was the culmination of long months of concentrated activity by Pledgemaster Ray Thomas and our fine pledge class.

During April, the Brothers of Beta Chapter were privileged to have as their guest, Dr. Harlow Shapley, world famous author and astronomer.

On May 6, Beta's social season came to a close with our annual Dream Girl Banquet and Ball. Miss Ann Eason of Queens College was presented with the traditional bouquet of red roses, symbolizing her selection as the Dream Girl of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Stephen F. Austin Has Fine Pledge Class

Since December 17, 1960, Epsilon-Omicron has had an eventful and memorable year at Stephen F. Austin. This semester our pledge class is composed of thirty-one pledges, the largest on campus. This was due to one hundred per cent participation by the chapter during rush and especially to Bill Ferguson, our rush chairman. In May the pledges selected Tommy Warner as the most outstanding pledge. Pledge Ronnie Redd was elected sophomore class president, and John Enloe was named all-campus "Mr. Pledge" for the spring semester.

At the Christmas Sing-Song last year, our choir under the direction of Carl Rodgers won first place. In intramural sports we placed second for the year. Our intramural basketball team helped the Nacogdoches County Humane Society raise money by playing a charity basketball game with the Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity.

One of our proudest achievements this year is having the highest scholastic average of any fraternity on the campus. Stephen Kerr, valedictorian of the senior class, was named to Who's Who as well as B. H. McDaniel.

On April 7, we held our first annual Dream Girl formal with Miss Sandra Smith crowned as our 1961 Dream Girl. She was selected from four girls representing each local sorority on the campus. Our social program this semester, thanks to Social Chairman Bob Stroud, was a big hit with the chapter and visitors. It included an all school dance, Hawaiian Party, Masquerade Party, and Welcoming Pledges Dance.

At the Senior Day Banquet Don Keasler was elected as most outstanding active of the year and in campus elections he was named "Mr. Stephen F. Austin."

Northwestern Pikes Softball Champions

Gamma-Rho Chapter ended the year as All-School softball champions at Northwestern University. The Pike nine were touched only once in the eleven game season. Three brothers were named to the All-School softball team.

The house showed definite improvement in tennis, swimming, and wrestling. Several other sports such as football, golf, and track will have heavy emphasis next year.

Rebuilding and strengthening house competition in scholarship and other activities will be the theme of the present administration. Although the house has shown consistently high scholarship standings, we feel there is always room for improvement. Pledges and brothers will be encouraged to participate in house and university activities to a greater degree than has been done in the past.

In total, Northwestern Pikes look forward to a rewarding and progressive school year.

Ga. Washington Leads In Intramurals

The social season was highlighted by our annual Dream Girl Dance on May 9 and the selection of Miss Helene Harper as Dream Girl for 1961. Miss Harper, Delta Gamma, is George Washington's homecoming queen and is a senior majoring in American Thought and Civilization. Members of her court were Joan McFadden, Dee O'Brien, and Rachel Mlsna.

The success of the dance was largely due to the combined efforts of our co-chairmen Bob Corens and Bill Schoeni. Special awards were presented for scholarship and athletics to Barry Dantzcher and Al Galiani and outstanding member awards to Bob Corens, George Jaeger, and Ed Rutsch.

The chapter took first place in A League football, track, and bowling. Individual trophies were presented to Don Ardell for track and to Mark Rosen for bowling.

Nine pledges were initiated as a result of our informal spring rush and preparations are well underway for a successful fall rush.
