PI KAPPA ALPHA NATIONAL FRATERNITY

Anyone who serves Pi Kappa Alpha in an elected or appointed office discovers that he has grown very fond and proud of countless undergraduate PiKAs. Nothing has been pleasanter than my friendship with succeeding groups of undergraduates. Some of these friendships have lasted and grown deeper over more than three decades. ■ Affection for the undergraduate is at times mingled with surprise, shock, alarm and mild indignation when one hears undergraduates say, "We feel no part of the National Fraternity," or "We have a close Brotherhood in the house, but the National Fraternity means nothing to us." ■ To a man who has a deep involvement in the Fraternity, such remarks as these are not only disturbing, but painful. Not only are there the undergraduates who do not feel a part of the Fraternity, there are those who ask, "What has the National Fraternity Done for us?" Still others complain, "The National Fraternity leaves us off here with a feeling of isolation." ■ Let us think about the undergraduate, the active chapter and the National Fraternity. 1. Each of us was initiated into Pi Kappa Alpha, and the local chapter was the instrument to accomplish this. 2. Each wears a badge worn by 55,000 men. 3. Each undergraduate while a Pledge studies the Garnet and Gold Guild pledge manual which serves as a practical introduction to the ideals and organization of Pi Kappa Alpha. 4. Each of us has a Shingle which is a sign that each is a member of a great Fraternity. 5. Chapters are visited by National Officers, District Presidents, and Alumni. 6. The Shield and Diamond magazine telling about PiKAs is received by each member throughout his life. 7. The Thrilling History of Pi Kappa Alpha by Freeman Hart is a gift to each initiate. 8. There are regular Pi KA Conventions where PiKAs from every one of 126 chapters gather. 9. There are frequent mailings to the undergraduate chapters from the President, the Executive Director and other officers of the Fraternity. 10. Finally there is National Fraternity concern in every PiKAs grades, payment of house accounts, conduct and success on campus and in life. ■ The Supreme Council National Officers and Alumni are keenly aware of the status of every chapter. The National Fraternity rejoices in the accomplishments of every undergraduate and suffers when undergraduates fail to live up to the ideals of the Fraternity. ■ The man who is not aware of his National Fraternity and of what it is, means, and offers must share in any blame. The National Fraternity expects a man from the time he is pledged to continually learn about our great fellowship which, after a century of prestige, is willing to confer upon him the honor of membership. ■ The National Fraternity has reached hundreds, yes, thousands of men who testify to its greatness through their devotion to and unselfish service of the Fraternity. How did the men who have held such affection develop that affection? The answer is they sought, found and responded with devoted service to the great challenge Pi Kappa Alpha made to them. ■ The way to know our Pi Kappa Alpha is to make the effort to know it. The most outstanding men who have been devoted PiKAs throughout their lives did not wait to be spoon-fed. They were hungry to know more and more about the Fraternity, and they never stopped trying to satisfy their hunger.

Yours in Phi Phi Kappa Alpha,

Charles L. Freeman

CHAPLAIN'S CORNER

There is a moment in the journey through the Alps from France to Italy which is unforgettable. The train climbs through the mountains amid sombre crags and gloomy valleys and then plunges into a long tunnel. Suddenly it emerges into a broad valley filled with sunlight, where gay flowers and green shrubs transform the landscape with life and beauty. We are in a new world. A similar experience is ours when in the gospels we pass from the story of the Cross to the story of the Resurrection. We move from the chill of despair to the warmth of hope and faith, from tragic sorrow to radiant joy. No one can miss the change. The Resurrection could not have been invented. It is too good not to be true. The proof of it is in the effect it had on the disciples. Something happened there which made new men of them and which created the Christian Church and inspired the acts of the apostles. At a sitting of the Brains Trust the members were asked to say what person they would most like to meet and what question they would put to him. One of the members said he would like to meet with Jesus Christ and ask Him if it was really true that He had risen from the dead. St. Paul's answer to that question was that he had met with Jesus Christ because He had risen from the dead. Since Jesus rose that meeting is possible to us all. It is the central experience of the Christian life.

COVER

The four-color cover reproduction of our Pi Kappa Alpha coat-of-arms is pleasing to the eye of any viewer because of its striking design and beauty of color. To brothers in the fraternal bonds, however, it has a significance, a richness in meaning, which non-members will never perceive. Each part, each color, each detail has a significance which stimulates us to fulfill more completely within our lives the ideals of our beloved fraternity.

PI KAPPA ALPHA'S OWN 1963 ALL AMERICAN FOOTBALL TEAM

From end to end the line chosen for the 1963 Pi Kappa Alpha All-America football club represents perhaps the strongest forewall ever selected for the fraternity's honor team.

Three of these linemen received wire service All-America recognition. They were DON MONTGOMERY, an end, and WHALEY HALL and TOMMY NEVILLE, tackles. Others were named to regional all-star teams.

And STALEY FAULKNER, a tackle, helped Texas to its unbeaten season, No. 1 ranking and victory over Navy in the Cotton Bowl.

Every section of the country is represented on this year's team and three small college stars are included. There's a kicking specialist, too.

Here is the 1963 Pi Kappa Alpha All-America team:

Cure, Faulkner, Stokes and Baker are repeaters from the 1962 team.

Brasuell is the only sophomore. Cure, Neville, Lenkaitis and Hawley are juniors.

There were some outstanding pledges, ineligible for selection, and some fine sophomores who will be contenders next year.

Pledges included STANLEY QUINTANA, who piloted the University of New Mexico to the Western Athletic Conference championship; NICK SPINELLI and RUSSELL SMITH of a fine University of Miami of Florida team; TOM RELLES, California halfback, and GARY BYSTROM, California guard; and FRANK LASKY of Florida. Spinelli and Lasky are seniors.

Top sophomores included VICTOR PUR-vis of Southern Mississippi; STEVE RADICH of California; HOWARD MILLER of Marshall University and DON SCROGGINS of Memphis State.

Other fine players who were worthy of selection included RICHARD KERN, William and Mary halfback; JAMES SCHIERLOH of Miami of Ohio, guard; ALEX BELL, Duke halfback; HILTON BALL, Mississippi State guard; GORDON McDERMOTT, Wittenberg linebacker; JIM SMITH, Wittenberg tackle; JIM STAUBER, San Diego State halfback, and KENNY ALLEN, Omaha quarterback.

Montgomery, Cure and Radich were the fraternity's top ends. Montgomery, who made the Atlantic Coast Conference all-star team for the last two years, was selected by The Associated Press for its second All-America team.

Cure ranked among the top 10 players in the nation in pass receptions, with 40 catches for 534 yards. In his sophomore and junior years, Cure bettered the Mid American Conference three-season pass receiving record. He was an all-conference team choice both seasons.

WHALEY HALL, a 6-foot-3, 230 pound tackle, who led Mississippi to an unbeaten season and a Sugar Bowl appearance against Alabama, was named to the United Press International's second All-America team. He has signed to play pro ball with the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League.

TOMMY NEVILLE, the standout lineman of a surprisingly strong Mississippi State team which earned a Liberty Bowl shot against North Carolina State, was named tackle on The Associated Press third All-America team.

The guards spots went to two tackles. Although there were some fine guards, tackles STALEY FAULKNER of Texas and LEW LENKAITIS of Wittenberg just had to be placed on the fraternity team.

Faulkner was one of the two starting tackles on the nation's best college team, Texas, and his play helped Texas to its unbeaten season. Lenkaitis was one of the strong rocks in the line of the unbeaten Wittenberg team that ranked 5th among the nation's small college teams.

EDDIE STOKES of the University of New Mexico was chosen at center. He was named for the second time to the Western Athletic Conference all-star team and was given All-America honorable mention by The Associated Press.

Stokes, a 190-pounder, was selected by The Associated Press as its "Lineman of the Week" for his play in New Mexico's win over Wyoming. He played center on offense and linebacker on defense and called defensive signals. Stokes was named his team's most valuable player and also its top defensive player, the first player ever to win both awards. He intercepted three passes against Montana.

RUSS VOLLMER, Memphis State quarterback, is best known among the fraternity team's backs because of a startling performance last October that a Hollywood scenario writer would have difficulty duplicating.

The Associated Press selected him as "Back of the Week" for his play against Mississippi State. The A.P. story said this is the way Hollywood would tell it:

"Our hero is knocked out cold during the first half of the game and is taken to a hospital. He soft-pedals his injuries, climbs off the examining table and speeds back to the packed arena.

"It's the second half now, and our hero's team is losing. He warms up on the side of the field as 32,000 cheers split the air, then enters the game. The offense is bogged down, but our hero leads his team to the winning touchdown in the closing minutes.

"It actually happened to Vollmer.

"And here's the way it went as he engineered a 17-10 victory over Mississippi State.

"Vollmer took the opening kickoff and raced 78 yards, setting up the first Memphis State touchdown. A short time later, he returned a punt and was knocked out of bounds, over the team's bench and onto the running track. He was out cold.

"He was rushed to a hospital, where he admitted his back was sore, but said, 'I don't give a damn if it hurts. Put a sponge on it and it will be all right.'

"The x-rays proved negative, and after getting the best wishes of his nurses, he was driven back to the football field. He returned to action in the fourth quarter and led the drive that won for Memphis State."

Vollmer piloted Memphis State to its first unbeaten season since 1938, including a scoreless tie with the University of Mississippi. He completed 29 of 58 passes for 466 yards, carried the ball 88 times for 370 yards and a 4.2 yard average and punted 10 times for a 37.8 yard average. Vollmer scored 51 points, including six touchdowns and returned nine kickoffs 290 yards for a 32.2 yard average.

The Associated Press gave Vollmer honorable mention on its All-America squad and he was signed by the Minnesota Vikings of the National Football League.

Baker, Hawley and Brasuell round out the backfield.

Baker was named to The Associated Press Little All-America first team in 1962 and to the A.P.'s Little All-America second team in 1963.

He was voted the outstanding back of the Ohio Valley Conference. Baker threw nine touchdown passes and scored six himself by rushing. He was the total offense leader in the conference with a passing total of 1,149 yards and a rushing yardage of 366 yards.

Coach Marv Levy reported that Hawley did "an extremely creditable job." The 6-foot-4, 200-pounder was a starting flanker back and was second on the team in pass receptions. He caught 25 passes for 300 yards and four touchdowns. He scored touchdowns on passes against Southern California and Washington. He caught the winning touchdown pass late in the game against Iowa State on a 58-yard play.

As a freshman in 1962, Jack Brasuell bettered the records set as a first teamer by Lance Alworth, who went on to become a three-time PiKA All-America halfback. And as a sophomore in 1963, Brasuell led the Arkansas backs in kickoff returns and was second in rushing, pass receptions and scoring.

END—STEVE RADICH
California

END—JIM ROEDIGER
Wittenburg

GUARD
HILTON BALL
Miss. State

CENTER—GORDON McDERMOTT
Wittenburg

He returned 13 kickoffs for 329 yards, including one 89-yard runback in the close game with Texas, which the Longhorns won 17-13. Brasuell scored four touchdowns for 24 points, caught 15 passes for 159 yards and two touchdowns and carried the ball 56 times for 261 yards.

H. L. Daniels of Texas Tech set a Southwest Conference record of most field goals over a three-season period with 14. He also set the conference record for most field goals in a single game. He kicked three against West Texas State as a sophomore and three against Washington State last season.

Daniels booted eight field goals this year. He finished fifth among Southwest Conference scorers with 39 points, all by kicking. He plays fullback but was too valuable as a kicker to be permitted to rush the ball.

Presbyterian College's chapter had more Pikes on the varsity squad than did any other chapter, twelve. Hampden-Sydney had eight while the University of Tennessee-Martin Branch, Marshall, Wake Forest and California all had six.

Rip Engle, whose Penn State team won seven and lost two games, is again the Fraternity's Coach of the Year.

Sooners Name Jones Head Coach

Gomer Jones, Pi Kappa Alpha star linesman at Ohio State in the early 1930's, was named head football coach in January. He succeeds his close friend, Coach Bud Wilkinson, with whom he has worked for years, building the mighty Oklahoma gridiron greats.

Jones, who served Wilkinson as line coach the past 17 seasons, built the awesome and agile interior lines that became an Oklahoma trademark down thru the years.

A star center and guard himself at Ohio State back in the mid-30's, Jones knew how the line should be manned. Thru his hard-nose teaching and expert manipulations, Jones turned out a raft of outstanding line-men.

Among his best known products were Jerry Tubbs, Jim Weatherall, Ed Gray, Bill Krisher, Kurt and Buddy Burris, Stan West, Wade Walker, Tom Catlin, J. D. Roberts, Jerry Thompson, Bob Harrison, Wayne Lee, Leon Cross, Ralph Neely and Newt Burton.

Gomer turned down several bids to become a head coach at other colleges, choosing each time to remain at Oklahoma. Last year, he was named associate athletic director.

Jones was born Feb. 26, 1914, in Cleveland. He played guard under Sam Willaman at Ohio State in 1933 and moved to center where he gained national acclaim in 1934 and 1935 under coach Francis Schmidt.

Jones' coaching career began in 1937 when he served as freshman football and basketball coach at John Carroll University. He was assistant line coach at Ohio State from 1938 until 1940 and, after a Navy hitch, became line coach at Nebraska in 1946.

The next year, he moved to Oklahoma to coach the line for Wilkinson, who had just been hired as head coach.

Jones and Wilkinson were inseparable after that. They built a dynasty in football that may never be equalled. Together, they developed eight bowl teams, 14 conference champions and three national champions.

A strong and literate advocate of defense, Jones co-authored with Wilkinson "Modern Defensive Football" and wrote "Offensive and Defensive Line Play."

THE YEAR 1963 IN RHYME

By ED W. HILES

We've come to the end of Sixty-Three
With its record etched deeply in history.
We've had other years that were plenty rough
But this one can't leave us soon enough.
Red China and Russia decided to part
And Britain was barred from the Common Mart;
With bank robberies rampant across the land
And the Berlin Wall at the same old stand.
A hero General was cleared of subversion
And Thresher went down in a fatal immersion.
Rail Unions were stopped from feath'ring their nest
And the Catholic world laid a Pope to rest;
Mona Lisa arrived in all her lustre
And the South won the test of the filibuster.
A Space Man went twenty-two times around
While a Sky Pilot's marriage ran aground,
And British tongues were set awhirl
By an osteopath and a party girl.
A Yankee governor took a second wife,
While the nation was seething with racial strife.
A bomb explosion took the lives of four,
And a Governor stood in the "school house door."
The "Yanks" found the Series a bit upsetting
And a football star was suspended for betting;
While a magazine reeled from a three million fine
For getting its scoop from a party line.
The TFX was investigated
And an Italian village was inundated.
T'was the year of the atom testing ban,
And the birth of quints to the Fisher Clan,
When Hurricane Flora wrought destruction,
And business was promised a tax reduction,
When a Senate aide quit lest he face discharge,
While a teamster official was still at large.
But the most tragic news that the year unfurled
Was that shocking event that rocked the world:
A rifle was fired and a President died
With a Governor wounded at his side,
While a brave First Lady denied her tears
As she witnessed the end of some happy years.
T'was an act that mankind would long decry—
With never an answer to the question, "Why?"
'Cause a mind that was warped with criminal derision,
Committed a murder on television.
Still, this was the year of Supreme Court Rule
That God couldn't go to a public school.

Yes, the year that's approaching its final hour
Proved Death no respecter of wealth and power.
It leaves us a challenge of urgent need.
To rid the world of hate and greed,
And Brotherhood of man restore
In Nineteen Hundred Sixty-Four.

The second largest group ever to be received into Pi Kappa Alpha was chartered on November 10, 1963, as Zeta-Alpha Chapter at General Motors Institute, Flint, Michigan. Presiding at the installation ceremonies was Director of University Relations Stanley Love.

Assisting Brother Love were Ted Grofer, ΔΞ (Cincinnati), former District President, Mike Clancy, ΔB (Bowling Green, Ohio), President of District 16, former Field Secretary Ken Armstrong, AP (Ohio State), and George Jacoby, ΔΔ (Georgetown), personnel executive of General Motors Corporation, who was influential in developing the local group's interest in Pi Kappa Alpha.

were Administrative Assistant Bill Crosby and Field Secretaries Darrell McMullen and Bob Felts. Field Secretary McMullen is to be commended for preparing the group for the two-day event. Ritual teams from Delta-Beta (Bowling Green University), Epsilon-Epsilon (University of Toledo) and Epsilon-Phi (Western Michigan University) did an outstanding job in the enormous task of initiating approximately twenty-five men each, with the initiations lasting until early Sunday morning.

Zeta-Alpha Chapter is very fortunate in that they will begin its official "life" in Pi Kappa Alpha with fifty-five alumni, thirteen of whom are presently serving as faculty advisors who meet regularly at the school to be of assistance to the chapter. More alumni of Phi Kappa Epsilon, the local fraternity, will be initiated at later dates and will increase the strength of the alumni support. It would be hard to predict anything but success for this infant chapter.

Instrumental in developing alumni interest was John A. Noreen. It was primarily through his efforts that such a large group of Phi Kappa Epsilon alumni returned to become charter members.

The administration of General Motors Institute were extremely cooperative in allowing the use of a complete wing of class rooms for the individual initiations.

The installation ceremonies were conducted at Christ Episcopal Church at 2:00 p.m., and the celebration banquet followed at 4:00 o'clock. Principal speakers were Director of University Relations Stan Love and Ted Grofer, who congratulated the new members and offered them a challenge to continue their high standards of the past and to assume the standards of Pi Kappa Alpha. Indicative of the truly "national" aspect of The Fraternity was the fact that fourteen different chapters were represented by the undergraduates, alumni, and national officers in attendance.

IN THE BONDS

By EARL WATKINS
Executive Director

It was 96 years ago on March 1, 1868, that the Founding Fathers met in the small 47 West Range room on the University of Virginia grounds to found our Fraternity. This was an enthusiastic and gifted group of young men, whose very character and ideals are reflected so clearly in the Preamble, which reads:

"For the establishment of friendship on a firmer and more lasting basis; for the promotion of brotherly love and kind feeling; for the mutual benefit and advancement of the interests of those with whom we sympathize and deem worthy of our regard; we have resolved to form a fraternity, believing that, thus we can most successfully accomplish our object."

William Alexander, the last of the Founders to die, lived to see Pi Kappa Alpha taking its rightful place among the great college social fraternities of America. However, it is doubtful that any of the Founding Brothers ever envisioned a day when their small, intimate group would expand to an organization that has 127 chapters located in 40 states. Surely they would be amazed to know that we have initiated 64,130 men, and that the general fraternity's net worth is near $2,000,000, with the local house corporations' equity totaling many more dollars. The hearts of WILLIAM ALEXANDER, ROBERTSON HOWARD, JULIAN EDWARD WOOD, JAMES BENJAMIN SCLATER, JR., FREDERICK SOUTHGATE TAYLOR and LITTLETON WALLER TAZEWELL (Bradford) would swell with pride to know the far-reaching impact of the bonds of brotherhood that they formed that Sunday afternoon. Time and time again, we have heard great men of America extol the values instilled in them by their association with Pi Kappa Alpha.

Undergraduate chapters and alumni associations of our great Fraternity throughout America are now celebrating our 96th birthday at gala banquets. Strains of "Down in Old Virginy," "Honeymoon," "Dream Girl," and "How'd You Like to Be a PiKA," ring from the rafters, blending the uncertain tenor of the new pledge with the breaking baritone of the Golden Member Certificate holder. While we are filled with the warmth and nostalgia of this happy celebration, let us all ask ourselves, "Have I given back to Pi Kappa Alpha even half of what I have received from it?" For it is only in so doing, Brothers, that we will be able to keep alive the ideals of this great Fraternity.

There will never be a better time for alumni to renew their interest in the fraternity, to remember the challenge they accepted when they were received into the bonds of our brotherhood. Start now by attending the monthly alumni meetings in your area. When returning to your alma mater, always drop by "The House," especially at homecoming. Keep the quality of our undergraduate membership high by recommending young men that you, personally, would want to call "Brother." And last, but not least, is the need for your support of the Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Foundation Annual Giving Program.

Happy Birthday to PI KAPPA ALPHA, celebrating 96 years of fellowship!

SENATOR and GOVERNOR VISIT PI KAPPA ALPHA FRATERNITY

U. S. SENATOR HERBERT S. WALTERS and Tennessee GOVERNOR FRANK CLEMENT visited the Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Headquarters in Memphis, Tennessee January 18, 1964. George Lewis, Zeta (Tennessee), close friend of both Brother Walters and Governor Clements, accompanied them.

After a tour of the building, there was "PiKA talk" over coffee cups. National Editor Lynn gave background information on the Gold Star Memorial Building, museum, and headquarters. Senator Walters responded, recalling his brief career at the University of Tennessee but emphasizing the lifelong friendships formed through Pi Kappa Alpha. He spoke of the pleasure he has had in working with Epsilon-Zeta Chapter at East Tennessee State as well as with Zeta Chapter. Governor Clement spoke of the pleasure of fraternity friendships.

Brother Walters is president of Walters and Prater Construction Company, president of Hamilton National Bank, Morristown, Tennessee, and is director of many corporations. He is a trustee of the University of Tennessee and of King College. He has long been a Tennessee and national leader in the Democratic party.

Governor Frank Clement became a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon at the University of Tennessee. In 1952 he was elected Governor of Tennessee at the age of 32, thereby becoming the youngest governor in the nation. He was re-elected in 1954 and again in 1962. He was keynote speaker at the 1956 Democratic National Convention.

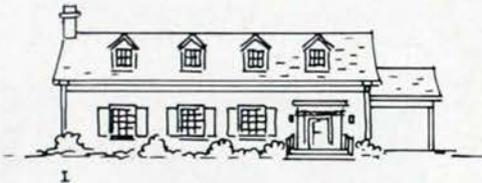

Pi Kappa Alpha brothers present to greet the Senator and Governor included: GEORGE T. LEWIS, JR., District President JOSEPH NEELEY, National Editor ROBERT D. LYNN, ROBERT HORTON, JOHN LUX, EDWARD J. BALLOU, JR., ROBERT WILLIAMS, Administrative Assistant WILLIAM CROSBY, EARL TRIPLETT, and GERARD HOLTER.

PI KAPPA ALPHA HOUSING VALUED IN MILLIONS

Our chapter accommodations include many variations, such as rented rooms, rented houses, college owned special fraternity dormitory sections, lodges and houses, and fraternity owned facilities. The estimates of value are based on fraternity use and are not intended to reflect appraisal value for non-fraternity purposes.

The summarized information about each chapter includes: (1) Chapter Greek name, (2) name of the college or university, (3) name of the person to contact for further information, (4) type of housing facility, (5) total number initiated by the chapter, and (6) estimated value of the property.

NOTE: This is the second in a series of chapter house sketches. The series will be continued until all houses have been included. Watch for yours.

NEARLY four years ago to the exact day the first meeting of the original local group, Zeta-Beta Chapter was installed at Delta State College, Cleveland, Mississippi. It was on November 17, 1959 that the Cavalier Social Club, later to become Kappa Tau Delta Fraternity and then Pi Kappa Alpha Colony, had its first organizational meeting and became the first social fraternity on campus. Since then competition has come in the form of two other fraternities that were subsequently formed.

Presiding over the ceremonies was National President Joe C. Scott, and assisting him were National Alumni Secretary John Horton, National Historian Freeman H. Hart, Executive Director Earl Watkins, and District President Jason Niles. Field Secretary Darrell McMullen, Alumni Director Jack McFarland, and Administrative Assistant Bill Crosby arrived in advance to make the arrangements for the weekend's activities. Brothers Hardy Graham, Gamma-Iota (Mississippi), and Jack Kluck, Gamma-Theta (Mississippi), and the initiation teams from their chapters are to be congratulated for the exceptional manner in which they conducted the initiatory ceremonies.

Ruff Turner, serving as the first SMC of Zeta-Beta Chapter, acted as Master of Ceremonies at the official installation banquet at which National Historian Freeman Hart gave the principal address. Brother Hart's talk was filled with anecdotes on the history of Pi Kappa Alpha. The biggest surprise of the day came when Mr. H. L. Nowell, who directs the fraternity affairs at Delta State College, presented the chapter a gift consisting of a silver tray, coffee and tea servers, and sugar and cream dishes. Having worked very closely with the local group since its inception up to the day of the installation, "H.L.," as he is known by all, has developed a feeling of real attachment to them. Pi Kappa Alpha is deeply indebted to him for the help and concern shown by him during the last few years. Others who spoke were National President Scott, National Alumni Secretary Horton and Alumnus Counselor Judge William Bizzell. Brother Bizzell, an initiate of Alpha-Iota Chapter, has been working closely with the group in its efforts to become a chapter.

Delta State College, Cleveland, Mississippi, is one of the colleges and universities in the state system. Founded in 1925, it has a current co-educational enrollment of 1,500 students. Delta Delta Delta and Kappa Delta sororities are represented on campus. Other national fraternities are receiving petitions from local groups.

With the installation of Zeta-Beta Chapter, Pi Kappa Alpha become the only fraternity with chapters at every major college in Mississippi. It is the fifth chapter in the state. The struggles of the early members against the anti-fraternity feeling, which existed only a short time ago, have paid off. Pi Kappa Alpha at Delta State College has, therefore, played a large role in helping fraternities to become accepted and respected in a college where they previously did not exist.

The first officers of Zeta-Beta Chapter are: Ruff Turner, SMC; Frank Prewitt, IMC; Jack Busby, Th.C; and Doyle Garrett, SC.

ACCOUNT OF

PANAMA SUBVERSION

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is reprinted from the Whitehaven (Tenn.) Press, January 16, 1964, by permission of the paper and the family. Dr. Thomas Salmon, ΓΘ (Miss. State), is a former Field Secretary.

An interesting letter has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Buck, 4350 Highway 51 S., from their daughter, Mrs. Tommy Salmon, direct from Panama and the Canal Zone. Capt. Salmon has been stationed there since last August. His wife, the former Helen Buck, joined him in September. They were married in Whitehaven last March. Capt. Salmon's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Salmon, 1308 Oakwood.

Mrs. Salmon's account of recent violence in that area is gripping. It is especially meaningful to her father, for Mr. Buck served 24 months in Panama with the Army Engineers from 1933 to 1936.

The letter follows:

Saturday

Dear Folks,

This will be short so I can mail it. Last night a Panamanian Negro evacuated us from the city. We had been holed up in our apartment for 24 hours.

Now we are at Lee and Fish's (Oltensburg) and will be here for a while so don't worry.

The news that has gone out couldn't possibly be accurate. Contrary to what they are saying, we did not fire first. If a peaceful demonstration includes lynching two Americans and cutting up others, and leaving them in the streets of Panama, then my concept of peace is terrible.

Tom and I heard Thursday night from Lee that something was going on (they live two blocks from the street that divides Panama and the Zone and had just accidentally driven through the beginning of the mob). We went next door and spent the night with Donna and John. During the night we heard that the mob was destroying American cars so the boys went downstairs and took the license plates off our cars. The radio kept telling us to stay put and not leave the apartment. Friday morning, (after not closing my eyes all night), we heard crashing glass and later found out that they were bursting out windows below us in the businesses. We were also told that it was impossible to get to the Zone as the mobs were out. Since our names were listed in the lobby as Doctor and Captain, we decided to go to still another apartment about 9:30 a.m. There were nine of us including a two-year-old baby. We sat there for the rest of the day not daring to appear at the window or do much more than breathe. I have never been as frightened in my whole life! There were gunshots outside and cars with four and five men whizzing by looking for U. S. Americans. We kept in phone contact with Lee and she sent the cables to you. We knew you would be worried but we didn't want you to know we were still in the city.

Finally about 7 p.m. the Panamanian custodian came up to the 10 of us and said you've GOT to get out! I'll call the National Guardia. In the meantime a Mr. Sherbill who lived down the hall is in the trucking business in Panama. He is from Miami. He suggested we pile in the back of an old paneled truck with Panama license plates, and one of the Negroes who works for him drove us through. We were piled in the back and scrouched down. We came right by the University of Panama where the students who started the whole thing have their headquarters. This Panamanian SAVED our lives.

When we got to the MP gate he stopped the truck and shined a flashlight on us to see who we were. Then we drove through and got out and on a bus which took us to the Clayton gym to be processed. It was a grim and frightened group that finally smiled from ear to ear. We had to leave everything except a change of clothes (I stuck my silver in a paper sack). Our cars are still there and probably wrecked. Our insurance will not cover riot and revolution, but one day we can buy another car! I never asked God to get us out. I only prayed that He watch over us and forgive us our sins.

A friend (Major) picked us up and took us home to steaks. (I could have eaten liver and you know how I hate that.) Then Lee and Fish brought us here.

Rest assured that we are ok now. Bless the Oltenburgs!

There has been much violence — destroying, burning and some murder. You probably won't get the story about what happened in Panama City.

We saw a car go by dragging an American flag and a broom.

It looks like this will last a while, so we will be staying here. We can't get incoming mail as yet but I'll try and write you again soon.

Don't worry about us now. Tom probably won't go to work until Tuesday or so. Do remember to thank the Lord for protecting us.

Much love,

HELEN.

Alpha Sigma Phi and Theta Chi fraternities were recipients of the Alpha Rho Foundation plaque. (l. to r.) Seated, Alpha Sig's Barry Gump, Gary Koch, and Chauncey Forward; Theta Chi's David Cutler, Charles Bell, and Paul Brause. Standing, IKA's C. W. Pettegrew, Howard D. ## ALPHA-RHO PROMOTES SCHOLARSHIP

Concerned that fraternities should place more stress on educational, scientific and cultural pursuits, alumni members of Alpha-Rho Chapter, Ohio State University, in 1956 organized The Alpha-Rho Foundation, a non-profit corporation, to receive and administer funds for educational purposes.

Under the auspices of the Council of Fraternity Presidents, ARF created an award to be presented quarterly to that fraternity which showed the greatest improvement in its combined grade point average on the Ohio State campus, according to statistics compiled by the office of the Dean of Men.

First winner of the award, for its improvement during winter quarter 1959, was Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity. Other early winners were Beta Sigma Tau, Alpha Sigma Phi, Sigma Alpha Mu, Alpha Phi Delta, Alpha Kappa Lambda, Kappa Delta Rho, Delta Tau Delta, and Alpha Sigma Phi - Theta Chi (tie).

As a further reward for scholastic improvement, and to exchange ideas on fraternity betterment, the Foundation began, in 1960, to give a dinner for four undergraduate officers and one alumnus officer of the fraternity winning the quarterly scholarship improvement award. These dinners are attended by officers, trustees and members of the Foundation.

Other projects of the Foundation have included: financial support for the fraternity system's German Exchange Student Program; books and other educational materials for the Pi Kappa Alpha educational program; and a major grant to the OSU Development Fund for short term student loans.

Officers of ARF are: G. Ray Fenner, president; J. Roth Crabbe, vice president; Paul C. Van Natta, secretary; and H. T. Hance, treasurer. Other trustees are: Robert W. Cyester, Dr. John P. Garvin, G. Alfred Krebs, C. Wib Pettegrew, and Norval C. Younger.

FRATERNITY SHOWS SURPRISING IMPROVEMENT

On college and university campuses throughout the country, the fraternity system has become the subject of "new looks" and studies to solve what has been described as the fraternity "problem."

Most recent example of this is at Williams College in Massachusetts where a special 11-man committee said that the institution's 129-year-old fraternity system conflicted with the educational purposes of the college. The report said fraternities control too large a share of the feeding, housing and social life of the students. The report recommended these functions be returned to the college itself.

Elsewhere, the fraternity system has been criticized for what many believe to be discriminatory practices.

Perhaps those institutions which are having a "problem" with fraternities should turn to Penn State for a study which turns up sharply contrasting facts and figures.

From all indications, the situation at Penn State has never been healthier.

There are 54 fraternities operating during the normal school year and 15 are open this summer. Enrollment has reached what is believed to be a record 2,616. And the University feels the fraternity system's housing and feeding and social contributions are an assist, rather than a detraction, to the official University operations.

* * *

Fraternities in State College have spent nearly $1 million on new houses or repairs to old ones in the past two years.

University officials are providing additional advisory assistance for fraternities and a special effort is being made to acquaint parents of prospective new students with the system.

Those responsible for the dramatic improvement of fraternity conditions at Penn State—and the easing of what is a "problem" at other institutions—have earned a sincere nod of approval and a wish for a continued pathway of success in the future.

John W. Browning, Jr., National Rush Director and former Field Secretary, and Miss Martha Twing, former secretary to Executive Director Earl Watkins, were married October 5 at Bellevue Baptist Church in Memphis. They are living in Little Rock where John is Administrative Assistant to Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

District 1 Convention Held at Syracuse

The Alpha-Chi Chapter at Syracuse University burst with activity as delegations from District I fraternities and from the National Office attended the 1963 District I Convention. SMC Thomas McBride and IMC Mike Pipp represented Beta-Theta in the discussions which highlighted the meeting. Notable among the guests were National Treasurer H. Thomas Hance (Alpha-Rho and Alpha-Alpha) and the Dean of Men of Syracuse University.

After the convention was officially opened by District President John W. Fisher, FT (Rensselaer), the guest speakers took the floor. The discussion centered on the question of the relationship between fraternities and the university community. The consensus was that fraternities were a very valuable part of university life, but that they must change rapidly to suit the changing university environment.

Committees were organized and such issues as expansion, finances, scholarship and leadership were discussed. In a comprehensive report to the chapter, Brothers Pipp and McBride covered many of these issues and promised to make use of some of the suggestions of the other Pike houses in these important areas.

Ehrgott Named A&P President

The nation's largest retail chain—The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company—has chosen a New York University alumnus for its president. He is John D. Ehrgott (Alpha-Upsilon), a 1917 graduate of the College of Engineering.

Brother Ehrgott was vice president and treasurer of the company prior to his election to the presidency.

A career officer with the A&P, he joined the firm in 1917, immediately after graduation. He became corporate controller in 1923. In 1947 he was named to the board of directors.

During his student days at NYU, Mr. Ehrgott was manager of the varsity basketball team in 1916-17. Howard Cann, later to become the NYU coach, was captain that year. Mr. Ehrgott also was a member of the gymnastics squad and of the musical club.

Hans P. Gravengaard, ΓB (Nebraska), continues his successful career as an author. His most recent project, "How to Break Your Success Barrier", is a driving and effective book. It is a call to develop a truly basic and practical formula for a successful and happy life. According to Brother Gravengaard, it is designed to "vitalize and develop the talents and powers latent within you; to help you give your life direction and inspiring purpose." Your editor can personally testify that it is a joy and an inspiration to read.

Brother Gravengaard is former Vice President of the Underwriter Company and former Executive Editor of that company's Diamond Life Bulletins Department. The book may be ordered from: The National Underwriter Company, 420 East Fourth Street, Cincinnati 2, Ohio.

Fine Men Make Pi Kappa Alpha A FINE FRATERNITY

All other elements being equal, the men make the fraternity. This has always held true of such social organizations. Personal association is the greatest asset possessed by a fraternity, and this association can be afforded only to the extent realized by the members of a house. The PiKA's of Gamma Eta chapter have always taken pride in making their house known as the "Friendly Fraternity." Pi Kappa Alpha intensifies the casual, rather impersonal associations usually found on campus and organized them consciously and intentionally as a venture in friendship. In this transformation, relationships which otherwise might be incidental may become highly productive in the total education of the student.

The men of Pi Kappa Alpha accomplish such a transformation in several ways. They strive, first, to provide an intimate, face-to-face association within a small social group. In reducing the general and somewhat vague university community to a much smaller, more homogeneous group, a student's relationship with his fellows become meaningful and intimate. In such an intimate association, one has in the highest degree the sense of belonging to a significant social group. Pi Kappa Alpha also provides a disciplined association, governed by chapter organization and group commitments. In their selection of officers, the men of Pi Kappa Alpha choose fellow members who will structure and enforce the by-laws of the chapter. The officers of PiKA represent the entire group in their functions as guardians over the countless varied affairs of a social fraternity. Through the formation of disciplined association in the selection of officers, and through the provision of an association of friendship in the efforts of the entire chapter, Pi Kappa Alpha offers a significant dimension in college living.

MR. P.T. JOINS CHAPTER ETERNAL

By ROBERT D. LYNN
National Editor

PAUL TULANE ATKINSON

"PAUL TULANE ATKINSON lived by the ritual of Pi Kappa Alpha," were the words softly spoken by a fraternity brother and longtime friend when he learned of the death on June 25, 1963 of "Mr. P.T." while visiting in Falls Church, Virginia. These sentiments were echoed by his host of brothers in the bonds throughout the United States.

Born March 1, 1887, nineteen years after Pi Kappa Alpha's own birthday, he grew up embodying the charm and grace of the Virginia gentleman, a true native. He enrolled at historic Hampden-Sydney College and immediately became a member of Iota Chapter. His devotion to its ideals and purposes led him to contribute a lifetime service.

His leadership included service as National Secretary from 1911 to 1917 and National Editor from 1913 to 1920. He cherished most, however, his service for a half century as Alumnus Counselor for "his boys" at Hampden-Sydney. Mrs. Atkinson said, "He loved every student here but his special concern was for those boys who chose to become members of Iota Chapter. He insisted that they must be the best, realizing their greatest potential, becoming real Christian citizens."

Prior to graduating in 1907, he was a member of the track team, president of the senior class, senior orator, editor of the college magazine, and editor of the college annual. He served as superintendent of school in Prince Edward County, Virginia, until enlisting in the army during World War I. In 1919 he began his long tenure as treasurer of Hampden-Sydney College, retiring in 1957. In 1939, 1955, and 1956, the annual and the magazine dedicated their issues to him.

"Mrs. P.T." reports that as Brother Atkinson read to her the Shield and Diamond article on Robert A. Smythe's death, he interposed many reminiscences. He told delightful stories of their happy associations at conventions and at Supreme Council meetings.

P.T. was a twenty-four hour per day, seven day per week, "now and forever" Peka (as they pronounce it in Virginia). At the New Orleans Convention in 1909 he spoke against expansion throughout the United States. Once the decision to expand nationally was made, he enthusiastically worked for its sound implementation.

As National Secretary, he was "commissioned," literally, to investigate and decide whether to charter some petitioning western locals. He is directly responsible for bringing into Pi Kappa Alpha two of the finest locals ever chartered. On April 15, 1913, he personally initiated every charter member of Alpha-Sigma Chapter, University of California, and repeated this in Salt Lake City on April 20, 1913, for Alpha-Tau Chapter at the University of Utah. He then hurried to New York City by train and installed Alpha-Upsilon Chapter at New York University.

It is generally conceded that he has initiated more members of our fraternity than any other man. It was the privilege of every Iota man to be introduced into the bonds by him. He knew the ritual "by heart" because it was in his heart.

It was through his leadership that a new and finer Iota Chapter house was built after a fire loss. In 1949, it was dedicated to him.

In 1958, the Supreme Council held a special session in Room 50, Cushing Hall, Hampden-Sydney College, where the Junior Founders met "in convention" and brought new life to Pi Kappa Alpha through a sound reorganization meeting. A reception in the home of Brother and Mrs. Atkinson followed the meeting and was an inspiration to each of us privileged to be present.

John Brinkley, recent Hampden-Sydney Rhodes Scholar, when he learned of Brother Atkinson's death, stated in a letter to Mrs. Atkinson, "Out of those times with him, I gained what I now know as the heritage which is ours at Hampden-Sydney, a heritage of which Mr. P.T. will himself be a part as long as there is a Hampden-Sydney."

He was a trustee of the Hampden-Sydney College church for 52 years, Sunday School superintendent for 26 years, a deacon and elder for 46 years. The memorial resolution of the church included these words, "He was a deeply devout but happy Christian . . . a humorous companion, an entertaining conversationalist, a favorite visitor in the homes of the people and a warm friend to the students in our midst."

He is survived by his devoted "Pi Kappa Alpha wife," a daughter, Mrs. Robert T. Jerome, two sons, William and P.T., Jr., and nine grandchildren.

The altars of Pi Kappa Alpha will forever glow more brightly and with a richer meaning because P. Tulane Atkinson is still one of us in spirit.

Senator Morse Visits Cornell Pikes

(Reprinted from The Beta Theta Data)

The lights burned bright in the Beta-Theta Chapter house as the brotherhood and select guests welcomed the senior senator from Oregon. Senator Morse is an alumnus of the University of Wisconsin and of its Pi Kappa Alpha Chapter (Beta-Xi). His visit climaxed his May 21 stay on the Cornell campus and was the result of the concerted efforts of the Cornell Pikes under the guidance of Alumni Relations Counsellor Ben Powell.

In the informal atmosphere of the Beta-Theta lounge, Senator Morse reviewed some of his past experiences in the halls of Congress, telling of both its serious and humorous aspects. He answered questions on a wide variety of topics, making clear to all, his positions on such far-ranging subjects as aid to education, filibustering, Powell Amendments and the raising of livestock. His answers were such that all present, whether government majors, chemical engineers, or embryology majors became engrossed in the discussion.

Senator Morse was very complimentary as to the size, comfort and beauty of the chapter house. Immediately upon entering the lounge, he seated himself on a couch and invited his admirers to relax and make themselves comfortable. He answered questions directed to him by the Beta-Theta Pikes and always in his answers could be seen his expertness as a politician, his very down-to-earth sense of humor, and his appreciation of his position as a representative of the United States Senate.

After his visit, the Senator was escorted to the Statler Club by several brothers. In his farewell, he thanked the brotherhood, represented by SMC Tom McBride, IMC Mike Pipp and Beta-Theta Editor Alan Jay, for his entertaining and relaxing evening at the Cornell chapter of his fraternity.

HUGH LEWIS, Zeta (Tennessee), has been named president of the Tennessee Bankers Association. A native of Bells, Tennessee, he became affiliated with the Bank of Crockett in 1938. He has served as vice president since 1942.

After service in World War II as an Air Force officer, he returned to his position with the bank. He has served as alderman and chairman of the board of the First Christian Church. He has been an active leader in the community.

His brother, George Lewis, former S.M.C. of Zeta Chapter, is a prominent attorney in Memphis, Tennessee.

Practical Contributions Of Fraternities to Colleges

1. A prime objective of fraternities is to improve the scholastic ability and performance of members, resulting in a much higher degree of persistence toward graduation than nonfraternity students and steadily increasing grades.

2. Fraternities with their ideals, IFCs and alumni advisers develop responsibility for student self government and save disciplinary costs for the colleges.

3. They create a home away from home atmosphere, which is difficult for the college to create and actually is not its purpose. They effectively teach good manners toward required standards of conduct.

4. They stimulate healthful intramural programs by supplying the participants and the competitive spirit.

5. They put campus charity drives and programs over the top and are important factors in promoting campus cultural events.

6. By providing substantial capital for housing they release capital of the college for other purposes.

7. They contribute substantial local taxes, relieving the pressure on the tax free college to help pay for local and campus public services.

8. They are substantial contributors to the local economy through their purchases of food and supplies, and home maintenance and hiring of full and part time workers.

9. Graduate fraternity members give more generously to college funds and supply a larger proportion of volunteer workers in raising them.

10. Fraternity members constitute the majority of most college boards of trustees (except in some state institutions where they are politically designated).

Survey by Arizona State IFC Shows Community Approval

The Arizona State IFC reported on a scientific sampling survey of community attitudes toward fraternities in Tempe, Arizona where the college is located.

The report showed that the citizens of the community were not too well informed about fraternities, but:

1. 51.1% knew fraternities engaged in community service projects.
2. 71.3% either did not know or did not feel that fraternities encouraged use of alcohol by members.
3. 63.2% believed that fraternities helped develop leadership ability.
4. 57.5% believed that others than the well-to-do could afford to be members.
5. 69.9% believed that fraternities did not influence members toward misconduct.
6. 71.8% believed that fraternities were either of 'some value' or 'great value' to students.

Also of interest was the finding that people who had lived in Tempe (Arizona) five years or more showed greater approval of fraternities than did newcomers to the area.

JOIN THE GARNET AND GOLD RUSH TO DENVER COLORADO

BY GARTH GRISSOM, Alpha-Omega
Convention Chairman

DENVER, the mile high city at the foot of the Rockies and the site of the 1964 Convention of The Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity, is both a beginning and a climax.

For some, it will be the oasis at the end of a 500 mile trail across the Great Plains; for others, it will be the mecca to be found north of the blistering ranges of the Southwest.

But it also is the jumping off place for the Rockies, and all that they imply for the millions seeking the thrills and fun of high country.

Denver is a city of contrast. It has been called a "Cowtown" by some and "Cosmopolitan" by others.

Either description may be right. Denver is a city where the best and most colorful of the old has been preserved carefully to blend with the sophistication of the present. continued next page

THE GARNET AND GOLD RUSH 1964

On a mountain top just 20 miles from downtown Denver is the grave of Buffalo Bill. Only a few miles away, across the hog-backs, is the $40,000,000 complex that is building Titan missiles.

This mixing of the old with the new is a part of the everyday living in Denver, and few are the residents who will deny that this blending is part of her charm.

Another sign of the new in Denver is the Denver Hilton. This new, luxurious hotel will be the Convention Center for hundreds of PIKES.

The Denver Hilton commands a majestic view of all of Denver. On one hand is Colorado's capitol building, topped by a dome coated with gold leaf (valued at $23,000) in tribute to past mining glories. On the 13th step, on the west side of the capitol building, a mark indicates a point that is exactly one mile above sea-level. The mile high city can prove the authenticity of its name.

Looking in another direction from the Convention site, one can see the gleaming white tower of the 28 story First National Bank Building, representing a wedding of conservative Denver banking money with the flamboyant millions of the Texas Murchisons. This beautiful structure is topped by a public observation tower, the "Sky-deck." From this point, there is an uninterrupted view of the city, the Great Plains, and a 200 mile expanse of the Rocky Mountains.

Only a short distance from the Denver Hilton, in the Civic Center, is the United States Mint, which stores more gold bullion ($6 billion) than any United States depository outside of Fort Knox. (Tours, but no souvenirs, can be arranged.)

Connected to the hotel, by an overstreet cross-walk, is Denver's largest department store, May-D & F. On the same location is the Zeckendorf Plaza which provides ice-skating in the winter and miniature golf in the summer.

Denver's list of miscellaneous attractions is almost endless.

Southeast of the city is giant Cherry Creek Dam and Reservoir, built for flood control and now being used as a recreational area for boaters, swimmers and fishermen. Near Union Stockyards is the giant City Coliseum, home of Denver's annual National Western Stock Show and Rodeo; circuses, ice-skating spectacles, and a variety of other public events.

During winter time, its symphony orchestra offers weekly concerts. Its Bonfils Memorial Theatre is the home of a civic theatre association. A half dozen major entrepreneurs keep Denver's city auditorium alive with a variety of fresh presentations from Broadway or the world of music.

In summer, Elitch Gardens, one of the city's amusement parks, is the scene of the nation's oldest summer stock theatre. Only forty miles away is Central City, world-famous for its summer offerings of opera and drama.

Climate, general attractiveness and recreational facilities inevitably head the reasons given by newcomers for their move to Denver. During the past fifteen years the population of the metropolitan area has more than doubled and is now over 1,000,000 persons.

Thousands of the nation's most competent people work in the complicated field of science, defense, missilery, electronics and aviation. The Martin-Marietta Co. makes the Titan; Dow-Chemical Co. operates a super-secret atomic energy plant on a nearby site; the National Bureau of Standards maintains a laboratory at nearby Boulder and other firms of varying sizes make ejection seats for jet planes, complicated electronic systems for bombers or automatic computer systems for missiles.

The people of Denver extend a hearty welcome to all visiting PIKES; and with all of this to offer, it is no wonder that so many are saying "Let's join the Garnet and Gold Rush to Denver!"

Letters from the Governor of Colorado and the Mayor of Denver welcoming Pi Kappa Alpha.

Office of the Mayor

City and County of Denver
CITY AND COUNTY BUILDING - DENVER 2, COLORADO

Members, Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity
Welcome to Denver!

Speaking on behalf of all the citizens of Denver, we are honored that the members of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity have chosen our city for their bi-annual convention.

You will find that the citizens of Denver are friendly and will be of assistance to you in any way they can. Be assured that my office and the employees of the city and county of Denver also will do everything possible to make your stay here a pleasant one.

While you are in the city of Denver, I hope you will find time to visit some of the points of interest in and around the city. It is impossible, of course, to list all of them. But it certainly will be time well spent to take a drive to Colorado Springs, some 70 miles south of Denver, and visit the United States Air Force Academy there. This trip would afford you the opportunity of seeing some of our beautiful Rocky Mountains.

Since you are holding your meetings at the Hilton Hotel, you will be only a few short blocks away from the Civic Center complex. In this complex, we have the City Hall, the Water Department Building and Public Library and, just across the street from the City Hall, the United States Mint.

Again, welcome to Denver. I hope the members of the fraternity will come back and visit us soon again.

Sincerely,

Tom Currihan

LETTERS FROM COLORADO BROTHERS

Dear Convention Bound Brothers,

As SMC of Epsilon-Theta Chapter I would like to tell you about the University campus, the region, and a little about the chapter located at the university where the National Leadership School will be held in 1964.

Colorado State University is located in Fort Collins, Colorado, a town of 25,000 population. It is a Land Grant institution and the oldest and fastest growing college in Colorado. It is located on 375 acres of beautiful campus underlying the foothills of the Rockies. The University is made up of many modern facilities.

Within a close radius of the University are mountain dams and rivers, a beautiful view of famed Longs Peak, and Rocky Mountain National Park. Peaks rising to more than 14,000 feet are within an hour's drive. Recreation is easily obtainable in the form of five city parks, two mountain parks, two golf courses, three bowling alleys, boating, fishing, water skiing, hunting, hiking, picnicking, and horseback riding.

Epsilon-Theta Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha is the newest Fraternity at Colorado State University. It was formed in 1956. Every year since its founding it has ranked above the "All Men's" and "Fraternity Men's" average scholastically.

We hope you will charter buses and trains and visit us in Colorado this summer, August 20-23, 1964.

Yours in the bonds,
CARL L. BROWN, SMC

Dear Pi-Kaps, Pi K A's, and Pikes:

Spring is finally here, and the summer isn't far off. The summer of 1964 not only brings us a long anticipated vacation, but also a very necessary, vital, and enjoyable gathering of Pikes from all over the country.

On behalf of the men of Beta-Upsilon, and indeed, all the Pikes in Colorado, I would like to extend a sincere and enthusiastic invitation to all of you.

Aside from the sheer necessity and importance of the Convention, there are other factors which should be considered if you are coming. To be specific, you needn't worry about "extra curricular activities"—you can, however, worry about having too good a time. Boulder is a twenty minute drive from Denver, and since summer school will be in progress, there will be an abundance of girls here — they outnumber us 2 to 1.

In and around the Denver area you will find one of the most delightful climates in the West, magnificent mountains, which serve adequately for both the sightseer and the climber, and countless other attractions which will make your visit an enjoyable one. You owe it to yourself to attend.

Yours in the bonds,
RAY TAIBBI, SMC

Dear Brothers:

Plans are being made now for the Convention to be held in Denver. As SMC of the chapter at the University of Denver, I would like to take this opportunity to welcome you to the Mile-High City.

Gamma-Gamma Chapter at Denver is engaging in a busy year, busier still while we are preparing for the Convention here.

We are now at home in our new house at 2001 South York Street. It is unique in structure in that it is built in a self-supporting concrete dome. It is one of the highlights of campus architecture and many strangers drop in for the tour.

Although the Convention will be centered around the Hilton Hotel, we hope that you will stop by and take a look at our house.

We at Gamma-Gamma are looking forward to your visit.

Yours in the bonds,
TOM FARRIS, SMC

THE GARNET AND GOLD RUSH 1933

By MANUAL BOODY, Gamma-Gamma

THE YEAR WAS 1933 — one of the depression years. Franklin Delano Roosevelt was inaugurated as the 32nd president of the United States.

It was the start of the New Deal to aid the unemployed all over the country through public works and by direct relief.

On March 6 President Roosevelt declared a bank moratorium after a number of banks had suddenly gone out of business, creating a "run" on all the banks.

On June 13 the U. S. Congress passed the National Recovery Act (NRA) which, with the Agricultural Adjustment Act, gave the President control of agriculture and industry. The Blue Eagle was the symbol of NRA.

The Supreme Council of the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity took a bold step by suggesting that a national convention was needed before January 1, 1934, especially since the 1932 convention had been postponed. The 77 undergraduate chapters concurred.

The convention sites were simmered down to two — Chicago and Colorado.

More than 75 per cent of the chapters voted for Colorado. The Call to the Convention was issued May 1 over the signatures of Grand Councilor Dr. Howard Bell Arbuckle and Grand Princeps Elbert P. Tuttle.

On to Colorado!

Pi Kappa Alpha defied hoodoo and old man depression to hold the convention.

The history-making 13th Biennial Convention was held August 28-31 at the picturesque Troutdale-in-the-Pines resort at Evergreen, Colorado—30 miles west of Denver. Prior to the convention, the headquarters had been at the Cosmopolitan Hotel in Denver.

The government and financial machinery was overhauled thoroughly and reorganized to make Pi Kappa Alpha an even greater fraternity.

The convention also signaled the start of the Pi Kappa Alpha Endowment Fund, first alumni session, first alumni luncheon and a number of other firsts. The Shield and Diamond endowment fund passed the $60,000 mark.

Despite the economic conditions, nearly 200 were registered for the convention, representing 77 college chapters and many alumni chapters.

Charles Earl Mitton, charter member of Gamma-Gamma at Denver University, was the district princeps. He and his committees worked diligently to make the convention a huge success.

There were only two active chapters plus an alumni chapters in Colorado at this time — Beta-Upsilon at Colorado University and Gamma-Gamma at Denver University.

The convention marked the retirement of Robert A. Smythe, Lambda, as Grand Treasurer after 44 years in that office, and Dr. Arbuckle, Iota, as Grand Councilor. Office of Grand Councilor was abolished after the retirement of Dr. Arbuckle.

Simplified titles for national officers were substituted for high-sounding names.

National officers elected were:

PRESIDENT—Elbert P. Tuttle, BΘ (Cornell), Atlanta attorney.

SECRETARY — J. Harold Johnston, AΨ (Rutgers), New York philanthropic foundation secretary.

TREASURER — For four months until he becomes Honorary Life President, Robert A. Smythe, Atlanta cotton broker.

ALUMNUS SECRETARY—Joseph A. Sheehan, AN (Missouri), St. Louis plumbing contractor.

COUNSEL — Clarence A. Tormoen, BX (Minnesota), Duluth, Minnesota, attorney.

Tuttle, Van Buskirk, Johnston, Smythe and Sheehan constituted the new Supreme Council.

National officers reappointed by the Supreme Council: HISTORIAN—Freeman H. Hart, I (Hampden-Sydney), professor of history at Hampden-Sydney College, Virginia.

CHAPLAIN — The Rev. Dr. Prentice A. Pugh, X (Sewanee), Nashville rector.

EDITOR—K. D. Pulcipher, BH (Illinois), Philadelphia, public relations.

COLORADO

Troutdale pictured in 1933 is now used as a school for religious instruction.

R. M. McFarland, Jr.,  $\Delta\Delta$  (Ga. Tech), Atlanta, continued as assistant treasurer.

Troutdale-in-the-Pines, in its remote setting in the Colorado mountains, proved to be an ideal location for a fraternity convention.

Pi Kappa Alpha, for the first time, had a full 4-day convention undisturbed by elaborate entertainment interruptions and devoted seriously to becoming better acquainted and to transacting fraternity business.

It was the first time in the modern history of Pi Kappa Alpha that a general conclave was held in a resort rather than a large city.

Colorado was still dry as well as the rest of the United States until December 5 when the 21st amendment became effective. The 21st amendment repealed the prohibition amendment (18th), commonly referred to as the Volstead Act.

Tuxes were conspicuous by their absence. The favorite costume for the convention ball was white flannels. It was cold and rainy when the delegates arrived; there had been early snow in the high mountains. The southern lads shivered for a day. The sun shone on Tuesday and the rest of the week and everybody was happy.

There was a fine representation of Pi Kappa Alpha ladies. Some expressed pleasure at the absence of an official entertainment program, leaving them free to get up their own parties—horseback riding and bridge.

Yes, 1933 was a great year for Pi Kappa Alpha.

NOW THE YEAR IS 1964 — thirty-one years later. Colorado has been selected for the second time in the 96-year history of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity to host the National Convention.

The convention site and headquarters will be the new and luxurious Denver Hilton Hotel in Denver, August 23-26.

The convention will be preceded by the National Leadership School, August 20-23, at Ft. Collins, Colorado, on the Colorado State University campus — 60 miles north of Denver on U. S. Highway 87.

Now there are four active chapters in Colorado, Gamma-Gamma at Denver University, Beta-Upsilon at Colorado University (Boulder), Epsilon-Theta at Colorado State University and Delta-Phi at Colorado School of Mines (Golden). The alumni chapter, Beta-Pi, is in Denver with Garth C. Grissom,  $\Delta\Omega$  (Kansas State), as president.

Walter J. (Dutch) Osterhoudt, AX (Syracuse), of Durango, Colorado, is the district (No. 25) president.

Now 126 active chapters, 70 alumni chapters and six colonies comprise Pi Kappa Alpha.

Brother Grissom, a Denver attorney, is the general convention chairman. Grissom, with the help of the Colorado chapters and alumni living in Denver and Colorado and neighboring states, is determined to make the 1964 convention one of the finest in the history of Pi Kappa Alpha. Vincent P. Martino and Lester V. Roper, Jr., are the assistant general chairmen.

Brother Mitton, a prominent Denver insurance man now, will be back at the old stand and help out with the convention — his second in 31 years.

Plan to make the National Convention your vacation in Denver and beautiful Colorado. Denver is the gateway to the Rockies.

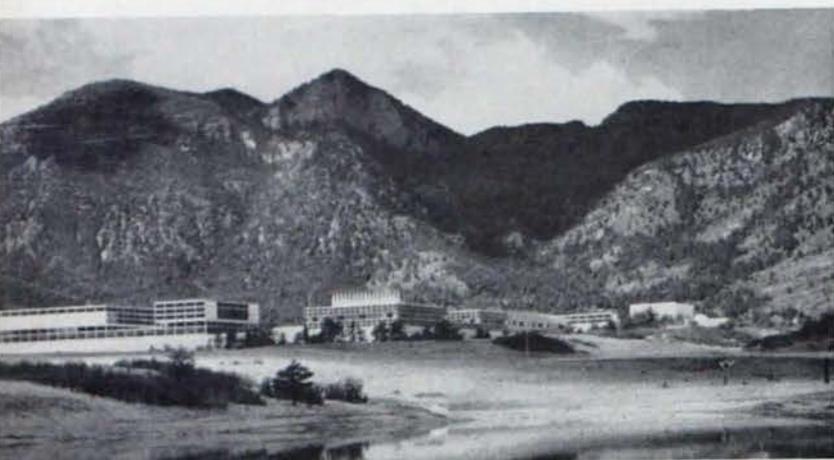

Now is the time to make your plans to visit colorful Colorado by car, plane, train or charters.

There are many scenic wonders easily reached by autos. The national parks and monuments in Colorado include Mesa Verde National Park (contains the best preserved cliff dwellings and other works of early man in the U. S.) in the southwestern part of the state near Cortez, Hovenweep National Monument at the Utah border near Cortez, Dinosaur National Monument in Northwestern Colorado, Colorado National Monument west of Grand Junction, Black Canon Natinal Monument near Montrose, Rocky Mountain National Park near Estes Park, Mount of the Holy Cross near Vail Pass, Trail Ridge Road near Estes Park and Pike's Peak near Colorado Springs.

There are 53 peaks in Colorado 14,000 feet high or more. The Rocky Mountain National Park has 80 massive peaks, including the 14,256-foot Longs Peak.

There are many short trips of interest continued next page

THE GARNET AND GOLD RUSH

Near Colorado Springs you will find the modern facilities of the United States Air Force Academy. You can see the 17 spines of the Academy Chapel in the center pointing skyward.

Pikes Peak near Colorado Springs is 14,100 feet is best known mountain in Colorado if not America.

including Buffalo Bill's tomb and museum atop Lookout Mountain, Idaho Springs, Central City, Black Hawk and the Garden of the Gods, Cave of the Winds, Cheyenne Mountain Zoo, Seven Falls and Manitou in the Colorado Springs area.

There are amusement parks in Denver with rides for the kiddies.

Then there is fishing, professional baseball, and for those who like to try their skill at picking winners, greyhound and horse races.

A note to those who attended the 1933 convention in Colorado. Troutdale-in-the-Pines is no longer a resort. The 43-year-old facility was sold in March, 1963, to the Sky Pilots, an interdenomination group, for the purpose of training youth in Christianity.

The Denver Hilton Hotel offers 884 guest rooms and suites. Each room is equipped with radio, television and individually controlled air-conditioning as a service of the hotel.

There are four public dining areas, offering a complete choice of menu from quick snacks to superb gourmet special ties.

Three unique and distinctive bars and cocktail lounge areas are available at the Hilton.

More than a score of smart retail shops and public service facilities are located within the perimeter of the hotel.

Serving the entire hotel, a 600-car parking area is connected three floors below the street level. Rapid, safe elevators, rising the entire 22 floors of the hotel adjoin the facile motor lobby.

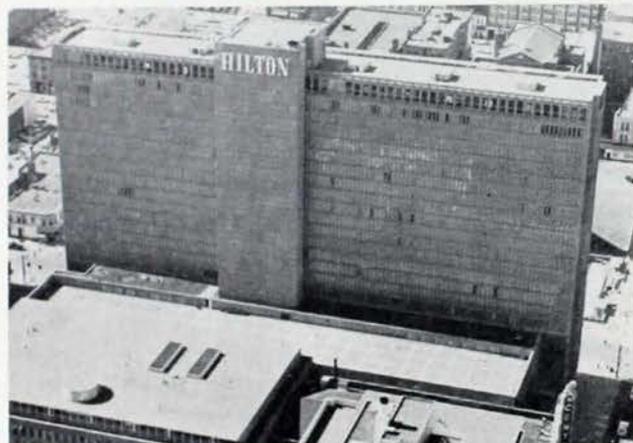

The following Hilton Hotel room rates will prevail for the convention:

Single rooms—$9.
Double rooms—$15.
Triple occupancies—$18.

There will be no charge for children when sharing room with parents.

Once again, it's on to Colorado!

Brothers, let's make this convention the biggest one, attendance-wise, and the one that'll always be remembered.

The modern Denver Hilton is located in downtown Denver, site of the 1964 National Convention.

Many beautiful mountain lakes and streams are nearby where fishing, boating and swimming can easily be enjoyed during your trip to Colorado. Shown here is the Grand Lake, world's highest registered yacht anchorage.

WILL YOU BE THERE?

Denver, Colorado — Pi Kappa Convention — August 23-26

GARTH C. GRISSOM, Host Committee Chairman for the Convention, extends an invitation to all delegates attending — to join a "POST CONVENTION TOUR." Combine your Convention trip with a "SOUTHWESTERN VACATION." L-D Travel Service, Inc. offers an "INDIAN COUNTRY TOUR" of the Southwest. Seven days and six nights all-expense tour of the fascinating Santa Fe, Taos area.

TOUR HIGHLIGHTS

INSPECTION of the U. S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs. This is a tremendous institution representing an initial cost of 150 million dollars. Of special interest is a chapel of dramatic architecture.

Time to browse the picturesque artists' colony at Taos, New Mexico. The tour will be housed at the new million dollar Kachina Lodge. At Taos one will see the Old Plaza, Kit Carson's home, La Cruz Alta, art galleries and museums.

Tour of Los Alamos Laboratories of the University of California. Here is the frontier of nuclear science.

Two days at the La Fonda Hotel in Santa Fe, New Mexico. Tours and sightseeing of this interesting Indian country.

Tour will move 246 miles to Durango, Colorado. Through the Jemez Indian Reservation and Aztec ruins. One day trip to MESA VERDE NATIONAL PARK. At Durango, our group will be accommodated at the very old, but now restored Strater Hotel, famous for its Diamond Belle Bar. Durango is in the vicinity of the Silverton-Ouray mining district where were to be found, in yesteryears, some of the most gigantic gold mines in the world.

As our tour turns toward Denver, we will pass through miles of Magnificent Colorado Scenery, by way of Pagosa Springs and over awe-inspiring Wolf Creek Pass. Here can be sensed the majesty of the Colorado Rockies and the spirit of the American pioneers who, by their courage, conquered the West!

Your post-convention tour offers an unusual combination of beauty, history, and moderate cost. The scenery along the route to be traveled ranks with any on the continent; the historical background of the area is the oldest in America; the cost is less than would be expected if this tour were taken privately in the family car.

The fauna includes a large and sometimes fierce assortment of wild life. Besides the smaller mammals are found deer, elk, desert fox, Mexican wolf, the agile and graceful coyote, black bear and the dangerous grizzly. The powerful jaguar, more beautiful and almost as large as the tiger, is to be found and, above timberline, the majestic mountain sheep.

The tour will travel by chartered buses. For the comfort of the passengers, the vehicles will be filled to less than full capacity. No single day's mileage will be excessive.

PRICES AND GENERAL CONDITIONS

THE COST of this tour is presented as a one price package covering transportation, hotel accommodations, dining room gratuities, and all breakfasts and dinners, and one luncheon.

DR. FLOYD F. HATCH

Dr. Floyd F. Hatch, AT (Utah), 71, prominent Utah surgeon, died November 7 at his home following a prolonged illness.

Dr. Hatch has practiced medicine in Salt Lake City for the past 46 years. He served as an army surgeon during World War I at Fort Riley, Kansas. Following his return from military service in 1919, he was one of the founders of the Inter-mountain Clinic, with which he was associated the remainder of his life.

He has served as the president of the Staff at the Latter-day Saints Hospital, Salt Lake City, president of the Salt Lake Surgical Society, and president of the Utah Chapter of the American College of Surgeons. From 1957 to 1959 he was a member of the Board of Governors of the American College of Surgeons.

Dr. Hatch had a close association with the University of Utah College of Medicine throughout his career, and had been an Associate Clinical Professor of Surgery since 1943.

He was born February 16, 1892 in Heber City, Utah, a son of Joseph Hezekiah and Sarah Jane Clyde Hatch. His father was a prominent businessman and rancher of Wasatch County. His grandparents were pioneer settlers. Abram Hatch, his grandfather, was a church, civic, business and agricultural leader of the state.

He graduated from the University of Utah in 1912 with a bachelor of arts degree, and in 1914 was the first Utah graduate from the Harvard Medical School. While at the University of Utah he played football and was president of the charter group of Alpha-Tau Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha social fraternity. At Harvard Medical School he was a charter member of Phi Beta Pi medical fraternity, and later organized a chapter of the same fraternity at the University of Utah.

Dr. Hatch did postgraduate work, emphasizing gastric surgery, in Europe in 1926 and 1927. He became a Diplomat of the American Board of Surgery in 1942. He was a member of the American Urological Association since 1923 and was a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons.

For the past 32 years, he and his family resided at 1363 Butler Avenue in Salt Lake City. Surviving are his widow, Donnette Lloyd Hatch, two sons, three daughters, and thirteen grandchildren.

SUBERT TURBYFILL

Subert Turbyfill, BO (Oklahoma), 62, died of cancer December 14, 1963 after an extended illness. A native of Norman, Oklahoma, he received his B.A. degree from the University of Oklahoma and the M.A. degree in Fine Arts from Michigan State. He was a loyal member of Pi Kappa Alpha throughout his life. Since 1933 he has taught in the Canal Zone schools and College, serving as Dean of Men at the time of his retirement in July, 1963. Dean Charles L. Latimer, Jr. said of him, "He always stood for that which was good for the College and its students. . . . He was a man of supreme loyalty—to country, community, and school—and he showed his loyalty not just in words but in deeds of love and charity." He is survived by his wife and a son, Richard.

W. PAUL HOLBROOK, M.D.

Dr. W. Paul Holbrook, BB (Washington), 65, first national president of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, and an outstanding Tucson, Arizona physician died while pheasant hunting in September, 1963. Death was apparently due to a heart attack.

Brother Holbrook graduated from the University of Washington where he was a leader in Pi Kappa Alpha and on campus. After receiving his medical degree from the University of Oregon, he did postgraduate work in London and Vienna.

He is survived by his wife, the former Margaret Bressler, three children and twelve grandchildren. Dr. Holbrook lived at 4101 E. Whittier St., Tucson, Arizona.

JACOB GORTATOWSKY

Jacob D. Gortatowsky, Ψ (North Georgia), 78, general manager of Hearst Newspapers until his retirement in 1955, died January 12. A native of Albany, Georgia and son of a Confederate soldier, he affiliated with Pi Kappa Alpha while attending North Georgia College, Dahlonega, Georgia. At 25, he was made manager of the Atlanta Constitution.

He joined the Hearst organization in 1916 and rose rapidly. Once William Randolph Hearst referred to him as "exactly the man I had in mind." Brother Gortatowsky was chairman of the board of Hearst Consolidated Publications, Inc. at the time of his death.

DONALD A. PAINE

Donald A. Paine joined the Chapter Eternal of his beloved Pi Kappa Alpha on October 9, 1963. Brother Paine was president of the Pi Kappa Phi local fraternity at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, in 1915. It received a charter as Beta-Epsilon Chapter on December 17, 1915. From the moment of his initiation to the time of his death, he contributed constant love, loyalty and support for Pi Kappa Alpha.

Brother Paine served in many capacities, including district president, and he and Mrs. Paine were "regulars" at National Conventions. His greatest contributions, however, was his long service as Alumnus Counselor of Beta Epsilon Chapter. In recent years, he has similarly assisted Epsilon-Xi Chapter at Case Tech. He had a part in its chartering May 21, 1960.

Don loved people. A teacher by profession, he served as Spanish teacher and department head in the Cleveland school system for several decades. He also served as a translator for commercial firms with business interests in South America.

An "Old Timer's" party was held at Don's home August 24, 1963 with five "1915 members" and their wives having a happy time.

The Grandfather's Clock he and Mrs. Paine have donated to the memorial museum in Memphis was made by his great grandfather in 1815 in Washington, Pennsylvania. It still keeps excellent time.

Brother Paine is survived by his wife and one son, Geoffrey, who is an alumnus of Beta-Theta Chapter at Cornell University. The family residence is at 16908 Edgewater Drive, Lakewood, Ohio.

SAMUEL J. GREEAR

Samuel J. Greear, 51, ΓΓ (Denver), was fatally injured October 17, 1963, in an automobile accident near Kremmling, Colorado, while on a hunting trip. Greear suffered head and internal injuries and died at the scene of the accident.

Brother Greear, who was the head accountant at the Denver office of Standard Oil, was buried at Fairmont Cemetery in Denver. Survivors include his wife, Katherine M., and sons Nick and James.

MORGAN VINCENT MARTIN

Morgan V. Martin, ΑΘ (West Virginia), 56, Martinsburg, West Virginia attorney died October 2, 1963 after an extended illness. Survivors include his wife and a daughter.

U. S. AMBASSADOR

GRANT STOCKDALE

Grant Stockdale, ΓΩ (Miami, Fla.), 48, plunged to his death from his office in Miami, Florida, December 2, 1963. Stockdale had been very despondent over the assassination of his close friend, President John F. Kennedy. He failed to keep an appointment with his physician the morning of his death.

A native of Mississippi, he earned his education at the University of Miami through his football prowess. He became a highly successful real estate promoter and many years ago developed a close friendship with John F. Kennedy. He had a major role in Kennedy's successful campaign for the nomination and subsequent election. He served sixteen months as ambassador to Ireland where his gregarious and friendly nature earned a warm place for him and the United States in the affections of the Irish people.

He is survived by his lovely family—his wife, three daughters and two sons, who live at 611 North Greenway Drive, Coral Gables, Florida.

GEORGE FREDERICK HANSON

George Frederick Hanson, (Knox College), had a fatal heart attack September 6, 1963, at the age of 60. He was a sales representative of Boorum and Pease Co. of New York. ### LOUIS A. CARRICARTE

Lt. Louis A. Carricarte, 22, was killed when his small plane was shot down December 12 in South Viet Nam. He graduated in June, 1962 from the University of Miami where he had served as SMC of Gamma-Omega Chapter.

Edwards Named Outstanding Student

By Robert Mills, ΓΤ

The highest recognition a member of Pi Kappa Alpha can win is the Power's Award, presented annually to the outstanding undergraduate member of the fraternity. During the 1962-63 school year, William J. Edwards ('63) of Gamma Tau Chapter (Rensselaer) was presented this "Man of the Year" award.

The many honors Bill received as an undergraduate include the following: Dean's List, four years; member Tau Beta Pi, an engineering honorary; member Rho Tau Sigma, mechanical engineering honorary; captain of varsity football and lacrosse teams; member Olympia, athletic honorary; member of the North squad in the North-South lacrosse game; and Honorable Mention All-Pi Kappa Alpha football team. In 1963, Marine Commandant General Shoup presented Bill the Commandant's Trophy, presented annually to the outstanding platoon leader and most promising Marine Corps candidate in the country.

To those who know him, this additional honor, the Powers Award, may not be overly surprising. Besides being very active in almost all phases of campus life, Bill took time to participate in nearly every phase of fraternity and chapter life as well. In addition to holding, among other positions, the office of SMC, Bill was constantly a leader in the house in every respect. To quote from the statement accompanying his nomination for the award: "To merely state that Bill is a fierce competitor would be a gross understatement; to say that he possesses, and devoutly adheres to, an impeccable moral code would not do him justice, for in every sense of the word, Bill embodies personality and perfection of leadership that defy qualifications."

In June of 1963, Bill and Miss Lee Ann Merklin of Portland, Oregon, were married. At present, Bill is attending the University of Michigan, where he is studying for his Master's Degree in Mechanical Engineering.

Joe Savage Named As Field Secretary

Executive Director Earl Watkins has announced the appointment of James A. "Joe" Savage as Field Secretary. A member of Epsilon Zeta Chapter, East Tennessee State University, Joe held the offices of SMC, Pledge Master, and IFC Representative, and represented the chapter at the 1962 National Convention in Louisville, Kentucky. The fact that Epsilon Zeta has won the President's Service Award for community service for six consecutive years is due in no small way to Joe's leadership.

Joe was also prominent in campus activities, having served as Student Body Senator and Greek Week chairman. He will be entering the Army in a few months with the rank of Second Lieutenant, which he attained in the Reserve Officer's Training Corps at East Tennessee State. His free time is spent playing tennis and golf, reading, or coin collecting.

Joe is the second Field Secretary to come from Epsilon Zeta Chapter in as many years. "Tinker" Steele from this chapter served on the staff during the 1962-63 school year.

AMERICA'S OLDEST FRATERNITY JEWELERS

GUEST EDITORIAL

By EARL W. LAWRIMORE, Editor

"The fraternity system prevalent today in many colleges and universities in America began in times of insecurity, the mid-19th Century, when our country was rapidly splitting over issues of slavery and states' rights, and in the gruelling times of Civil War and the bitter period of Reconstruction. At that time, fraternities served a useful and perhaps necessary purpose.

"But today the fraternity is as much a thing of the past as the Civil War a century ago. Our Nation's college students use them for social clubs and entertainment, often to unworthy ends. Pretensions of 'brotherhood' and 'unity' are high-sounding cover-ups for an oppressing if underlying desire to conformity.

"The time has come for the fraternity to give up its farcical existence and make way for more needed and more useful organizations emphasizing intellectual and cultural stimulation."

So runs the challenge to the modern fraternity, and we as members of Pi Kappa Alpha must be in the forefront of defense. Let's be realistic and admit that a number of chapters have degenerated from the high ideals of our Founders. Let's be realistic and admit that the pressures of conformity are often very strong, as they inevitably are in any closely-knit group.

But let's keep things in perspective . . . and this brings in the defense of that tattered and much-used bastion of fraternalism, brotherly love. Certainly it is not so easy for us to love four or five dozen men as it was for our Founders to love a handful, and now our national expansion far exceeds even the wildest dreams of those Reconstruction days.

But can we just say, "Brotherly love would be nice, but it's not practical," or worse, "It's not cool," and with a shrug of the negligent shoulders skip the subject? Like Christ, who insisted that love is the solution to man's basic problems, so do we of the Altar and Skull believe that brotherly love will provide the continuing answer to the problem of existence and survival which now seriously faces the fraternity.

Brotherly love is literally the life-fluid of the fraternal body. It must be constantly regenerated, and without it the body soon dies. It must arise in the hearts of its men, and those hearts must still be stirred by the ideals of "brotherly love and kind feeling" that compelled our Founders to say "We have resolved to form a Fraternity, believing that thus we can most successfully accomplish our object."

Yes, the challenge must be met within the hearts and minds of each of us, although many of us had rather find a solution elsewhere at all costs. But thus the fraternity was born, and thus it shall prosper or die. The time is overdue for self-examination and evaluation. Let us first look within ourselves.

Theta Captures Intramural Crowns

Pledges Arnold Drennen of Birmingham, Alabama, and Bill Wilson of Festus, Missouri, and sophomore Brother John Thornton of Huntsville, Alabama, sparked Theta's intramural flagball team to a first place tie during regular season play at Southwestern. Flagball is a derivative of football. The Thetas led from the quarterback position by Brother Thornton who was the league's leading scorer, went undefeated while being tied only once, holding their opponents to 66 points while racking up 174 for PiKA. The season closed with Drennen, Wilson, Thornton, and John Arehart of Farmville, Virginia, taking up four of the seven places on the All-Star team selected by popular vote of the players.

Pledge Drennen again brought home the bacon by walking off with the championship in the intramural tennis tourney, losing only 4 games out of 84 in 7 matches, as he defeated the runner-up two straight sets, 6-5 and 6-1. He is expected to take over the number one position on the varsity tennis team when spring sports go into full swing.

Second semester, the brothers led by Herb Bingham of Nashville, Tennessee and his 180 average will be seeking their second consecutive bowling championship and their third in four years. Officers of the chapter for the second semester are Bill Holmes of Dyersburg, Tennessee, SMC; Eddie Pruitt of Memphis, IMC; and Ed Williams of Moorefield, West Virginia, ThC.

The highlight of the year's events thus far was a massive hemorrhage of the left rear tire of the chapter's 1929 American-La France fire truck en route from one of Southwestern's football games. This clinched our title as the most explosive force on campus. By the way, does anyone know where we can obtain a 10.00 x 24 fire truck tire, CHEAP? Memphis tire dealers just walk away mumbling to themselves!

Pikes Present Books to Library

Dr. Steen, President of Stephen F. Austin State College, Dean Gerber, dean of the college, and Miss Wyatt, head librarian, were on hand when Jerry Parker, SMC of Epsilon Omicron, presented a pledge guide and history book to the college library this semester. The Chapter hoped to make fraternity literature available to the entire campus.

PiKA took second place with its Homecoming float and after the parade Dean Wallace Lowry, District President, spoke at our alumni meeting. The annual Homecoming Party was acclaimed the best ever by the returning alumni.

Jerry Parker was elected SMC for the spring semester along with Gary Evers, IMC; Shelton Boone, ThC; and Kent Scott, SC.

The most promising events of a socially strong spring semester will be the Founder's Day activities, the all-campus Showboat Dance presented by PiKA on March 7, and the Dreamgirl Day and Dance on April 25.

The Chapter initiated nine men into the fraternity in September and the rush season produced 17 pledges. During the semester the Pledge Class had many activities including an egg throwing booth at which pledges "volunteered" to be splattered!

Oregon Scholars Earn Honors

Gamma Pi was host to the District 27 Convention on February 21-22. National Historian Freeman Hart, National Secretary George Watkins and Past National President John Yerkovitch were among the dignitaries present.

Three members of our chapter were placed on the University of Oregon honor roll Fall Term. Jon Cruson, Woody Savage and Rod Shipley compiled grade point averages of above 3.5 on a 4.0 scale. The entire chapter also came through, exceeding the all men's average for the first time in its history.

Brother Julian Carroll has been chosen captain of the UO Frosh swimming team. A member of the 1960 Australian Olympic Squad and double winner in last year's British Empire Games, Julian has already broken Oregon Frosh (and Varsity) records in both the 100 and 200 yard backstroke.

Gamma Pi's own Grand Old Man, former SMC and professional college student Bob Weir, has finally graduated! Yes, after seven years of major changing and army reserve call-ups Brother Weir has received his degree—in philosophy.

PiKA's Hold Responsible Positions at Duke

Fall has found the return of the bronze-clad PiKA's of Alpha-Alpha chapter to the ivy covered walls of Duke University. Under the adept leadership of prexy, Terry Mitchell, the enthusiastic PiKA-man have commenced the extensive and ambitious program which will insure a successful year for the brotherhood. With the addition of a diligent and imaginative pledge class of seven, one of the largest fall classes on campus, the established goals of the year are certain to be attained.

This year, leadership proved once again bountiful as brothers' names adorn the lists of offices and responsible positions in varied fields on campus. Heading this list finds PiKA's leader of the year past, Mike Miller installed as President of the Interfraternity Council. Sophomore Hal Byrd assumes the task of secretary-treasurer of his class. Messers Louie Hagood and Buck Scull have been elected to the Engineer's Student Council; the former as treasurer and the latter as secretary. Mark Farber is the able secretary of the YMCA. Dick Buddington has been appointed I.F.C.'s scholarship committee chairman. In addition to their aforementioned offices, brothers Buddington, Byrd and Farber are orientation leaders for Duke's new freshmen. These achievements are a tribute to the fraternity and will continue to be so throughout their college careers.

Not to be minimized in the least is the PiKA's improved social program this year. The initial function, Homecoming Weekend, showed the brothers' superlative aptitude in this line of endeavor. It was a great honor to meet and welcome the returning alumnae who helped create the present statute of the fraternity on campus.

But, the year is yet young and our accomplishments are destined to increase. With the great potential and the program scheduled, the Duke PiKas will maintain and fortify their great influence in and contribution to the university community.

Mu Attends District Convention

Plans are now being made by all brothers and pledges to attend the district convention to be held at Beta Chapter on Feb. 22nd. Mu will lead the discussion on "Campus Influence."

Mu has done well this fall in rush and is proud to announce the following new pledges: Dan Montgomery, Greenville, S. C.; Larry Younce, Johnston, S. C.; Bruce Lawrence, Greenwood, S. C.; Tommy Hardwick, Fort Mill, S. C.; Allan Harris, Florence, S. C.; Don Blanchard, Pickens, S. C.; Buddy Protinsky, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Bob Warren, Allendale, S. C.; Bill Petty, York, S. C.; Jim Johnson, Georgiana, Ala.; Richard Smart, Greenville, S. C.; and John Glover, Clinton, S. C.

The annual dream girl ball was held on December 13th. Maurice Williams and the Zodiacs provided entertainment with Miss Lou Ann Kendall of Cheraw, South Carolina being crowned dream girl at the intermission. Lou Ann is a junior at Winthrop College. On the afternoon before the dance, a party for the boys and girls of Thornwell Orphanage, Clinton, S. C. was given. The brothers and pledges participated by purchasing and presenting gifts to the children.

Hampden-Sydney Wins Riculfi Award

As the fall semester began at Hampden-Sydney College, the brothers of Iota Chapter once again showed their leadership in all facets of campus activity.

Having the Riculfi Trophy (national award for outstanding intramural play and participation in intercollegiate sports) sitting over the fire place for the second time in six years, the PiKA athletes expect to repeat their standout performances of the past. The Hampden-Sydney varsity football team, posting a 3-1 record thus far in the campaign, has eight brothers on the squad, six of whom hold starting positions. Senior George Perkins is starting at center for the third straight year. Also in his third year as a starter for the Tiger gridders is senior Kenny Pritchett. Junior George Heilig is in his second year as first string wingback. Steve Helvin, a mainstay in the Tiger's defense for three years, is starting at the tackle spot. Soph Whitey Lipscomb has been a standout as quarterback for the 1963 gridders. At the first team fullback spot is hard-running Jim Pickens, a junior. Rounding out the squad are outstanding reserves Steve Debell and Gary Pootee, both sophomores.

The Hampden-Sydney varsity basketball team, looking forward to another winning year (33-15 the last two seasons), has six PiKA lettermen returning. Back after three years as starting forward, is high-scoring Phil Lotz, a senior. Defensive artist Mike Crone, a senior, is back after three years of starting at the guard spot. Rounding out an outstanding backcourt combination is junior Dave Trickler, starter the last two seasons. Other Iota lettermen are juniors Ed Wlth-hoef and Steve Snyder, both centers, and guard Frank Booth, a sophomore.

Attempting to repeat last year's sweep of intramural sports, Iota chapter has again fielded a standout football team. The thus far undefeated, unscored upon PiKA's have won their first three games by handy margins. Iota's big, bruising defensive line and fleet-footed secondary, have allowed only three first downs in three outings, and are yet to be scored upon. Meanwhile, the PiKA offensive unit has accounted for three game total of 74 points. Bo Long captains intramurals.

PiKAs at Hampden-Sydney are again well accounted for in student government. George Heilig is vice-president and Wavey Townes, a sophomore, is secretary-treasurer of the student body. Frank Booth is Sophomore Class representative in the Student Assembly, while Mike Crone represents the PiKAs. In the Student Council, Bates Chappell is a Senior Class representative, George Heilig, junior Class, and Wavey Townes, Sophomore Class. Holding positions as Sophomore Class Officers are Frank Booth, Secretary-treasurer, and Steve DeBell, Historian. Bates Chappell is president of the 1963-64 Student Christian Association, while Ed Graves represents the PiKAs and George Heilig, the student body as a whole.

The statistics of the 1962-63 school year just published, find Iota Chapter in the number two spot of all the fraternities on campus, with an overall grade average of 83.17. Being very proud of the "scholars" that made this fine showing possible, we feel that the brothers responsible should be acknowledged. On the First Dean's list are graduating Seniors Norwood Davis, Earl Guthrow, Mac McAllister, and Bill Middleton; rising senior McGuire Boyd and rising sophomore Frank Booth. On the Second Dean's List are graduating seniors Bill Caperton, Dick Cardwell, Jimmy Hatcher, Don Humphreys, Ferdie Johns, Freddie Mitchell, Evans Ross, Stuart Shelton, Moley Stuart, Bill Tennent, and Joey Viar. Rising seniors are Bates Chappell, El Graves, and Tom Wood; rising junior Garnett Davis; and rising sophomores Ed Newton and Bryant Smith.

The news of the death of our beloved Alumnus Counselor, Paul Tulane Atkinson, was received by Iota chapter and PiKAs everywhere with great sorrow. "Mr. P.T.", who suffered a fatal heart attack on June 25, was a fraternity man of the highest degree. He became a PiKA as a student at Hampden-Sydney and never lost interest in the group, either locally or nationally. He held the position of National Secretary for a number of years, as well as being the Editor of the SHIELD AND DIAMOND from 1913-1920.

Georgia Tech Pikes High in Scholarship

The Alpha Delta Chapter placed 10th out of 26th in overall grade point average at Georgia Tech during the fall quarter. The actives placed 7th with a 2.5 grade average. Jomey Ethridge, a I. E. Senior, lead all brothers and pledges with a perfect 4.0 average. This was a tremendous improvement for the chapter as it finished 25th in the fall of 1962. This quarter the greatest number of pledges made their grades in recent years for initiation as sixteen out of twenty-six made a 2.0 or better.

Alpha Delta not only improved in scholarship but also in the sports field. After only winning three games in the last four years in football, we won five and lost two to place second in the league. In softball the Pikes won their league and finished third in the school play offs. Barry Pickett and Wade Johnson, the Pikes battery mates, were selected on the school's all-star team.

Rich Gilbert, a pledge, won the annual freshman cake race held during homecoming. Rich's prizes were a kiss from Miss Homecoming and 12 cup cakes. The race was a two mile cross country race around the Tech campus. Mrs. Gerry Russo was selected as one of the Mrs. Homecoming's court attendants.

During the fall quarter Pete Sherwood was elected vice president of the pledges' I.F.C.

It was announced by the Black & White Committee that Hank Ballard and the Midnighters would play at the Black and White Formal Weekend in February.

The elected officers for this quarter are: Lawrence Brantley, S.M.C.; Edwin McPherson, I.M.C.; William Nettles, Th.C.; Clifford Nix, Social Chairman; Bob Pahl, House Manager; Dave Cooper, Table Manager; and Ed Cobleigh, Historian.

The Pikes had a very successful rush this past fall quarter as we pledged thirty-three men. The Rush Week was highlighted by a Roarin' Twenties Party at the Henry Grady Hotel. During the quarter we had a smøker which featured the showing of the Cleveland Browns' Highlights of 1962.

Auburn Adds Twenty-Six Pledges

The Pikes at Auburn University are working hard to achieve goals in many fields. Thus far we have certainly received just awards for our efforts. Of course, the biggest thing in any chapter is its rush program. At the beginning of last fall, Upsilon pledged twenty-six outstanding men who would be a credit to any organization. Since then we have pledged six more during open rush. At the end of fall quarter the desire to become PiKA's was very evident in the fact that all but a few of these men made their grades for initiation. The overall point average of the Pledge Class was 1.37.

Homecoming was a banner day at Auburn. Many of our alumni returned and attended an informal open house held before and after the game. Although rain spoiled all floats and yard decorations the spirit was certainly not dampened. Following the Auburn Tiger's upset victory over the University of Florida, the Lodge was the scene of many exuberant and excited members and alumni.

Our last act of fall quarter before going home for the Christmas holidays was the holding of our annual Christmas party for the Underprivileged Children. Fourteen children, whose ages ranged from two to fourteen years old, were invited to attend the gala affair. Each child's transportation was provided by the members.

Once in the house, the children watched T.V. or played games. Following the serving of cake and ice cream, everyone gathered around the Christmas tree for the presenting of the gifts by Santa Claus, in the person of Dan "Fats" Ennis. At the close of this wonderful event, it was hard to say who had had the most fun, the members or the children.

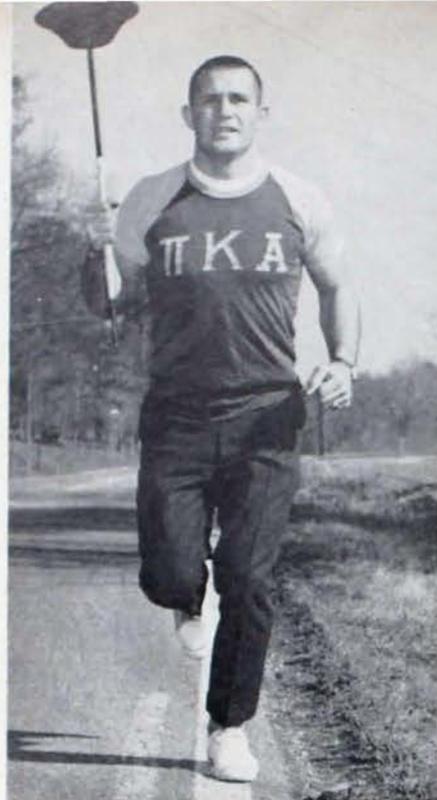

"Campus Leaders" is the motto of Upsilon this year. Bill Mayrose, present SMC and Senior Senator, is a member of the Men's Discipline Committee and the Publications Board. Owen Brown, former I. F. C. Secretary and an outstanding campus leader, is occupying the office of President of the Interfraternity Council besides being a member of the Juris Prudence Committee. Doug Hale holds the position of President of the School of Engineering. Jimmy Riley, past SMC, is editor of the GLOMERATA, the annual college publication. Rush chairman Aubrey Garrison is kept busy as Superintendent of Safety as well as Chairman of the Olympic Games (Greek Week), a member of Traffic Control and Traffic Appeals Committees, and editor of The Greek, a school publication. Jim Thomas is commander of the Auburn Rifles, the Army drill team. Upsilon is also well represented on the Plainsman (weekly paper) staff with Dan Ennis Serving as Business Manager and John Porter as Advertising Manager. Jim Barber is a member of the Committee of Schools.

The close of fall quarter also found Upsilon well represented in almost every honorary society on campus. Bill Mayrose is a member of Tau Beta Pi, Pi Mu Epsilon, Pi Tau Sigma, Omicron Delta Kappa, Spades (Senior Men's Honorary), and Who's Who in American Colleges.

Owen Brown has been selected by Phi Eta Sigma, Tau Beta Pi, Phi Mu Epsilon, Omicron Delta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, Scabbard and Blade (Military Honorary), Spades, and Who's Who in American Colleges. Doug Hale is a member of Tau Beta Pi, Pi Tau Sigma, Pi Mu Epsilon, and Omicron Delta Kappa. Omicron Delta Kappa selected Dan Ennis and Jimmy Riley who is a member of Spades also. Charles Majors, one of our pledges, has been picked by Phi Eta Sigma, freshmen honorary.

After such a great beginning, it is with great expectation that Upsilon looks forward to the rest of this school year. A few highlights coming up in the next months are the Bohemian Brawl, the Calender Girls selection, and the Dream Girl Formal.

Drake Wins Public Relations Award

The brothers of Delta-Omicron proudly announce the election of Jim Curtin, former SMC and present Drake Inter-Fraternity Council president, as one of twenty-five Drake students represented in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities." Brother Curtin has done outstanding work in the past, both in the fraternity and in such campus activities as IFC, Student-Faculty Council, and orientation counseling.

The other highlight of the year thus far was winning the Drake Public Relations Award, voted on by Des Moines business men. The trophy climaxes a year of service to the campus and city of Des Moines by Pi Kappa Alpha. Delta-Omicron also congratulates the man responsible for the details of these projects, our former public relations chairman and present SMC, Steve Finkel.

We are now in the process of planning our Dream Girl Formal and an all-university function for early April. We have remodeled our basement, creating both a party room and dining room, so the house will be in perfect shape for the all-university party.

Our new officers for spring, 1964 are Steve Finkel, SMC; Dave Roseberry, IMC; Herb Dotterer, THC; Lee Schwartz, SC; Hank Patten, pledge trainer; and Joel Lefton, assistant pledge trainer and social chairman.

University of Iowa Entertains Children

Highlight of Gamma Nu's first semester was homecoming weekend. After having won second place for originality in the 1962 homecoming float parade, we felt a real challenge to improve upon our record. This year, our float was built with Alpha Xi Delta sorority. With a theme from the cartoon characters "Peanuts," we won the sweepstakes trophy and first in originality. The float featured several "Peanuts" characters simply riding on a float and waving to the crowd with the words "Homecoming is Happiness" written on the side of the float. A formal dinner-dance with several alumni attending provided a fitting conclusion for the weekend.

As a community project event this year, we held our second annual Crippled Children's Party. This is a party held for the children of the University's Crippled Children's Hospital. The Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority helped host the party, which was held in the fraternity house. The children ranged in age from seven to fourteen, and entertainment included pin-the-tail-on-the-donkey, ring toss, drawing games, cards and of course refreshments. Dick Levin, a graduate student with experience entertaining children helped make the party a success.

In intramural sports this year, Ron Hedglin led the bowling team to a victory in bowling and a first place trophy for our mantel. Randy Hoff, last year's intramural tennis champion, finished second this year. In basketball, the team is currently unbeaten in three games and seems certain to finish high in the listings.

Many of the brothers are also active in University sports. Mike Petersen and Al Mood are on the varsity swim team. Mike Kinsinger participates in fencing and Jim McAndrews is on the Iowa baseball team.

Some of our brothers also distinguished themselves in scholarship. Gary Johnson was given membership into Phi Alpha Mu, honorary scholarship society for juniors. Wayne Thompson was chosen Outstanding Greek for The Fraternity Way booklet.

For the second year in a row, we have won a prize from the Marlboro Contest. Last year, our sign made out of Marlboro cigarette packages won us a television. This year, we won a stereo for having saved the largest number of cigarette packages. The total was approximately twenty-five thousand. Since all of these packages had to be counted and put in series of fifties, this made an ideal project for the pledges one evening.

Gamma Nu officers are Wayne Thompson, S.M.C., Mike Petersen, I.M.C., and Steve Combs, S.C.

This year's pledge class consists of eleven pledges from formal and informal rush. This semester's officers include Dick Harrison, president; Norm Maw, vice-president; Paul Walker, secretary-treasurer; Bill Cecil, social chairman.

This spring, Gamma Nu chapter looks forward to the Dream Girl formal, several parties, the PiKA National Community Service Day project on April 27, and the initiation of new members.

Purdue Above All-Men's Average

Beta-Phi chapter is planning an all-out push for a forty-plus pledge class this spring semester. Along with the rushing at meals, there will be numerous parties, including an Oriental Party, a Ski Lodge Party, a Casino Party, and a Playboy Bunny Party.

The chapter is now twelfth out of the forty fraternities on campus in intramural athletics. It will be, as it has been in past years, above the all-men's scholastic index by a substantial percentage. Beta-Phi has combined efforts with Alpha Xi Delta Sorority and Beta Theta Pi Fraternity to represent Colorado and Kansas in Purdue's Mock Political Convention. This fall the Pikes bought a breakfast put up by Chi Omega Sorority at the annual Campus Chest Auction. The money from the auction goes for community chest.

In campus activities Dave Parker was elected Editor-in-Chief of the 1964 Debris, Purdue's annual; Sam Gilmore, activities director in the Student Union; and Tom Kasline, Senior Executive at IFC. Brother Parker was selected for Iron Key, a select honorary fraternity for excellence in scholarship and activities. Both Dave and Sam were elected to Omicron Delta Kappa, a national leadership honorary and to Gimlet, a local activities fraternity.

Oklahoma State Has Campus Leaders

This year Gamma-Chi at Oklahoma State has shown an advancement brought on by our new self-improvement program in many respects. Nothing exemplifies the eagerness and progress that our chapter has made, more than the on-campus leadership held by our house.

Last spring more Pikes were initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, the freshman honorary society, than could be claimed for any other fraternity on campus. At present more officers are Pikes than those of any other fraternity. The vice-president position is held by Guy Owens, the secretary is Steve Mills and the treasurer is David Bagwell. Also, in the Inter-Collegiate Knights, the Sophomore Service Fraternity, Pi Kappa Alpha is well represented by Richard Messer, President; James Holland, Treasurer; Guy Owens, and Steve Mills. In Xi Mu the Professional Law Fraternity, Don Kaiser, and Doug Boyd are members. In Scabbard and Blades, the Army Honorary Fraternity, Pikes added another member, Mike Matheny. Newly selected vice-president of the University Theater Guild is S.M.C., Johnny Rose.

We are pleased to acclaim James Holland for being chosen as the annual honor student of Sigma Xi, the National Faculty Research Organization, and receiving a scholarship paying his school tuition.

On the yearbook, Redskin staff, Mike Dixon is Editor and Gary Parker is assistant editor. In charge of Ads and Indices is Brother Richard Messer.

More members of PiKA are in Blue Key than members of any other fraternity. Mike Dixon was elected secretary of Blue Key. Other members of Blue Key are Carmi Humes and John Klopp. In the Marketing Fraternity, Mu Kappa Tau, Stu Bumgardner is President, Jim Cain is Pledge Trainer, and there are ten other members. David Bagwell is a member of Arts and Sciences Honor Society and Arts and Sciences student council.

Gamma Chi is also represented at the New York Worlds Fair with Mike Dixon and Stu Bumgardner, serving with three other campus students, as guides for the Fair.

We finished a very impressive house decoration for Homecoming on the theme of "Redskin Renaissance."

In October we had our first Quo Vadis, or toga party, incorporated from the original creator, the Alpha Zeta chapter in Arkansas. Our second party, our Shield and Diamond Formal was held in December.

The newly elected officers for the Spring semester, elected December 16, 1963, are: Johnny Rose, Oklahoma City, S.M.C.; Quinton Etzel, Corsicana, Texas, I.M.C.; Gary Parker, Tulsa, S.C., and; Carl Tennille, Stillwater, ThC.

Missouri Increases Pledge Class

The weekend of February 8-9 Alpha Nu will be the site of the District 20 Convention. The 4 Chapters in our district coming to the University of Missouri will be Beta Gamma from Kansas University, Alpha Omega from Kansas State University, Alpha Kappa from Missouri School of Mines, and Epsilon Chi from Kansas State College of Pittsburg, Kansas.

The highlight of our activities in the first few months has been our excellent open rush program. Under the direction of Charles Allmon, we have added 11 additional fine pledges. We now have an excellent pledge class with which to work and are looking forward to their future contributions to the chapter. Newly initiated into the bonds were two holdover pledges from last year—now Brothers Clip Clippinger and Ken Kerssick.

Our new officers for the present term are as follows: Dennis Squires, SMC; Bob VanBuskirk, IMC; John Rice, ThC; and Dennis Tebbe, Housemanager.

Our intramural program ended quite successfully as the Pikes placed 12th in overall ranking among 32 fraternities last year. It is too early to tell our prospects for this year but events look promising.

The Pikes at Alpha Nu have been outstanding in providing benefits for various causes and organizations. Our chapter organized a food drive in which 782 cans of food were collected from various residential sections in our area. The food was given to the United Fund which distributed the cans to the needy during the Thanksgiving and Christmas seasons. Several weeks before Christmas vacation the men in our chapter became bellringers for the Salvation Army. We worked for one day and, while competing with other Greek houses on campus, we won the first place trophy for most money collected. The Pikes started Christmas early for the underprivileged children in our area by holding a Christmas party in conjunction with the Gamma Phi Beta Sorority. The party was visited by Santa Claus who distributed presents to all the children.

The highlight of our social activities this semester was our annual Monte Carlo Formal. The chapter house was decorated in the atmosphere of Monte Carlo, with the special attraction being the gambling casino in the Rathskeller. The day's events started with a steak dinner at the chapter house. Then came the dancing and "gambling" afterwards which concluded a successful day's events.

Mel Marien,
AN, Missouri

including pledges and alumni, twenty-six men were pledged in early October. This pushed our membership up to seventy-one, largest and most prosperous on campus.

New emphasis has been placed upon the scholarship and intramural programs for the current school year. Sandy McCoy, Scholarship Chairman, along with an appointed committee, has industrially tackled our academic problems. This effort is cited as most important, since we are currently aspiring to capture the Interfraternity Scholarship Award, instead of our usual third place position.

Bob Smith, intramural manager, has revamped our sports program, giving us a more balanced and highly potential standing. We stand among the leaders with a winning football season, while prospects look good for a terrific basketball season. Participation is greatly improved, since the spirit has soared with the competition mingled with rivalry.

Miss Carole Cooper, a Junior at the University of South Carolina, honors us as our new chapter Dream Girl. Carole has been an important "member" of our chapter with her helpful suggestions and support. She is the pinmate of David Clark, SC of Nu.

Nu is proud to have three of its senior members recently named to the highest of academic honors, Phi Beta Kappa, and Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. PiKA placed more men than any other fraternity on these hallowed lists. The three men named were James E. Griffeth, Allen H. Stokes and R. Stewart Bauknight. These men have also contributed a great deal more to PiKA through their services and responsibilities of chapter offices.

Enough tribute cannot be paid to John Horton, Nu Alumnus Counselor and member of the Supreme Council for his untiring efforts in working with us this year. His latest accomplishments have brought improvements to the house in the form of refurbishing one room and the planning of another, as well as the innumerable other small, but important suggestions and contributions that unceasingly help our overall programs and ideals of brotherhood. Words are not available to express our friendship and appreciative attitude toward Brother Horton. ΦΦKA.

Leadership Tradition Continues at Omaha

No sooner had Brother Jim Pelowski returned from an exchange tour of Egypt, when things started rolling for Delta Chi (Omaha). Our rush program, under chairman Joe Snell, brought forth 32 men who elected Gene Groh as their pledge president. They were barely used to their pledge pins when Doug Slaughter was elected "Typical Freshman", an honor bestowed annually by an all-freshman vote. This was the 11th time in 13 years a "Pike" won this honor. Two weeks later, the all-school elections found Pi Kaps take 7 out of 10 offices open to men. Seniors Jim Pelowski and Ken Allen were elected president and vice president of their class; Juniors elected Joe Snell their vice president; Mike Sweet became Sophomore president; Mike Mench and Greg Loso were elected president and vice president of the Freshman class, and Doug Slaughter took one of the two Freshman Council seats. We now control student council, with 5 out of 8 male positions, including President Dud Kersev, Vice-president Rich Tompsett, Treasurer Jim Grasso, and Janitor Bill Wakefield.

Pi KA has been well represented in this athletic department this Fall. Brother Allen and Pledges Jim Collin and Tom Luby helped the football team take its second straight Conference title. Larry Villnow is starting center for the basketball team. The track team will again put Jim Cramer to work on the shot and discus.

In intramurals, Pi K A recently sewed up the Interfraternity sweepstakes trophy for the second year in a row. Once more and we retire it.

Other Fall activities involving Pi Kaps included the production of "Don Juan in Hell," in which Dud Sauve and pledge Greg Loso performed; and the production "The Cave Dwellers," in which Fred El-sasser and Mark Hallgren played.

The Dream Girl Formal, held at the Blackstone Hotel, found Kathy Bowman of Chi Omega crowned Dream Girl for 1963-64. She was crowned by Judy Mae McCallum of Chi Omega, wife of last years' SMC Lynn McCallum; and presented with the traditional loving cup, dozen red roses and congratulatory kisses of 75 Pikes.

Delta Chi is proud to have Guy Griffith from Gamma Iota (Ole' Miss.) in our ranks this semester. He is an F-105 pilot here on the Bootstrap Program.

Larry Forman,

Syracuse Celebrates Fifty-First Birthday

Alpha Chi, Syracuse University, begins the second semester rush sessions with a new corps of officers and a new Dream Girl Calendar.

Joe Zerbey took over the chapter reigns at mid-semester and Bob Lehmann, past SMC, was elected ThC. Tom Willis is Alpha Chi's new IMC and Doug Grant is the newly appointed SC.

The chapter's second annual calendar went to press on December 20 and will run from February through next January. This year's calendar includes a color cover and many photographic improvements over the first attempt of a year ago.

The highlight of the first semester's social calendar was a semi-formal dance at one of Syracuse's local nightspots.

Alpha Chi will celebrate its 51st year on campus this March 7. Founder's Day chairmen Bill Yaus and John Auth have rounded up a fine band and hope to have a member of the Supreme Council present for the festivities.

Thomas S. Muller,

Three Straight For Texas Singers

The highlight of the fall semester for the men of Beta Mu of The University of Texas has been the successful culmination of their efforts to win their third consecutive "First place" in the University-sponsored "Sing-Song". The award was made in the mixed singing event, in which the Pikes teamed with the Delta Delta Deltas. The first place award was not new to the Pikes as they had won it six times in the last ten years.

Tom Lee Waterston did an excellent job directing the group in what was termed "an almost professional performance" of a medley of songs from Camelot. As usual, the competition this year was extremely keen.

After "Sing-Song" the Pikes were greatly in demand for singing appearances. The Tri-Delts and Pikes serenaded Governor and Mrs. John Connally with Christmas carols and presented Mrs. Connally with a poinsettia. During the serenade the Governor made one of his first appearances since he was shot in Dallas on November 22.

Our pledge class joined the Zeta Tau Alpha pledge class in a caroling party during which they serenaded many fraternity and sorority houses on the campus.

In addition to our fine singing record, we have done well in intramural sports competition this year, especially touch football, tennis, and bowling.

We would like to congratulate Brother Staley Faulkner, a member of last year's All PiKA Team and a starting tackle on this year's University of Texas National Championship Team. Staley has signed a contract to play with the Houston Oilers of the American Football League next year.

Our "Twenty Point" pledge program designed by Jim Wilson is one of the best that we have had in recent years. In addition, to his pledge training, Jim's scholastic proficiency has been such as to qualify him for membership in Tau Beta Pi honorary engineering society, and Eta Kappa Nu honorary electrical engineering society. We are very proud of Jim and his outstanding academic achievements.

William Campsey
BM, Texas

Zeta Enters Song Competition

With its calendar completed and sent to the printer, Zeta Chapter is now concentrating on All Sing which is held during the latter half of winter quarter. Zeta is entering the intermediate group (8-12 singers) and will present the song "You Are Beautiful" from Flower Drum Song. All Sing was originally started at the University of Tennessee during the early 1930's by a member of Zeta Chapter.

Zeta has a new set of officers for the ensuing two quarters: SMC, Vin Swasey; IMC, Bob McNees; SC, Ken McDonald; and ThC, Marc Pellegrino. Zeta will continue its progress under the leadership of these new officers.

Star Athletes At Kansas State

As the indoor track season passes along at Kansas State University, so does the name of a distinguished PiKA. At the present time the number one miler at K-State is Pat McNeal, assistant track coach and second place winner of the Knights of Columbus indoor track meet in Boston, Massachusetts. Pat will receive his bachelor's degree in Agriculture Economics this spring.

Bill Guthridge, former Wildcat basketball and present K-State ticket manager and assistant basketball coach, was named recently as head golf coach. He received his bachelor's degree in physical education in 1960 and his master's in 1963.

Recently, Craig McNeal past Big 8 swimming record holder was named to the position of assistant varsity swimming coach.

The brothers of Alpha Omega are looking for a good year with participation in many campus activities. We received second place trophy in Interfraternity Sing for our presentation of "All Hail to Pi Kappa Alpha" and "PiKA Girl of My Dreams." We also placed first in division football and fourth in division basketball.

Social-life of Alpha Omega began in a great way this year with a pre-school rush party at the Glenwood Manor in Kansas City. Entertainment consisted of a banquet and social hour. For Homecoming activities we staged our annual Cornjiger barn party for all returning alums.

The K-State Pikes won first place and received the trophy for the best Homecoming float during the weekend.

The tragedy of this semester was a fire that destroyed a room in our house. The fire started by a defective electric radio caused about $30 damage to the house and destroyed over $2,000 worth of books and clothing.

Pitt Pike Successful Scholar

After having an all around successful Fall term, we are looking forward to success in '64. Scholastically, led by brother Jay Pisula's 4.0 average, both actives and pledges did very well. In athletics, Dave Garwood holds the university pole vaulting record. Clair Riley, a member of the varsity wrestling team is also a letterman in golf. In IFC competition, under Paul Busang's leadership, we took second place in softball, football and volleyball. In intramural three-man basketball, our brothers won first place.

The Dream Girl Formal, held at Hotel Webster Hall, was attended and enjoyed by the entire chapter. The crowning event of the evening was the naming of Miss Jacqueline Eich as the new Dream Girl of Gamma-Sigma.

Taking time from study for finals, along with the brothers of Beta-Sigma chapter, our annual Orphans Christmas Party was a great success. Candy and ice cream, along with good cheer, were truly appreciated by the children.

During the vacation between terms, Gamma-Sigma kept up with its tradition of remodeling the Chapter House. The entire first floor was repainted and plans are made to make a new T.V. room in the basement.

On February 7-8, sixteen brothers are planning to attend the District Convention at Penn State. We are also planning to send a large delegation to the National Convention in Denver.

Washington Undeclared In Football League

A spirited cheering section led by our Dream Girl, Miss Suzi Kanz, spurred our football team on to an undefeated season on the muddy fields above Lake Washington. However, two ties prevented our participation in the championship finals.

Beta Beta successfully ushered in the new year here in Seattle with the christening of its new "unofficial" mascot. A 1947 twenty-foot Buick hearse, a gift from the pledge class, has now become the latest addition to our parking lot as well as the strangest attraction on campus. Coeds will soon be faced with the drama of riding to and from parties and exchanges in the spacious velvet lined rear "compartment" while balancing on the coffin rollers. Serious debate was raised over the question of removing the latter fixtures, however, it was finally decided to leave them in the floor to preserve the authenticity of the vehicle. The gift, however, has not been without its problems. Adequate insurance coverage and repair have led the list of frustrations the men face in maintaining a hearse. The chapter has appropriately named her the "Spirit of Pi KA."

The highlight on sports last quarter was marked by the success of our bowling team. Captained by Dave Barnett, Rick Ayres, Ben Heeb, and George Lewis bowled their way into the all-fraternity championship. They are now practicing to beat their 165 average and try for the all-University title.

On January 8, the Chapter was host to traveling Field Secretary Darrel McMullin who was able to spend a couple of productive days with us.

Eastern Illinois Receives Float Honors

The Colony at Eastern Illinois University has been very busy this school year. On the 26th of October of last year, we entered our first float in the annual Homecoming Parade. We won a third place, tying with Delta Sigma Phi, who won first place the two previous years. The theme of Homecoming was "The Roaring Twenties," and our float was "The Cat's Meow."

At the beginning of the school year, it was felt by the members that Eastern needed a mascot, and on October 26, we donated a panther costume to Eastern. A member of Eastern's gymnastics team will wear the costume to all athletic events and assist the cheerleaders.

In November we sponsored our annual Sadie Hawkins Dance, which is an all-school event. Prizes were given for the best dressed girl, couple, and corsage. There were refreshments, pictures being taken, and a "Marryin' Sam" for those couples interested in getting "hitched." Miss Karen Livegood was chosen Queen of the Dance.

The Colony is doing quite well in athletics this year. We won the doubles in Intramural badminton, and presently we are first place in Intramural bowling with two series left to play.

Over Thanksgiving, we remodeled the house by painting its entire interior and installing new furniture in the living-room, kitchen, and bedrooms.

On December 18, a Christmas Party for the neighborhood children was given at the fraternity house. The women of Alpha Gamma Delta assisted with the 19 children who attended the party.

This new year will find us very busy with community and campus projects and activities. In March, we are sponsoring our annual Stunt Nite.

San Diego Men Fill Campus Offices

The Delta Kappa Pikes have again maintained their number one position in campus activities at San Diego State University. The results of the fall elections found six PiKA's in office out of twenty-two student council positions. This semester Lower Division Representative Larry Taylor will preside as IFC Rush Committee Chairman and Ron Long will be the new IFC treasurer. The Delta Kappa Pikes are proud of their five brothers chosen for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities—Sal Ferrantelli, Mike Lembeck, Mike Spurgeon, Jim Street, and Leroy Vadney.

The biggest event in the fall semester is homecoming. In 1961, the Pikes sponsored the homecoming queen and built the sweepstakes winning float with the Alpha Phis. Last year, the Pikes teamed with Kappa Alpha Theta to tie for sweepstakes honors with Alpha Tau Omega. This year Delta Kappa teamed with the Gamma Phi Betas and won the sweepstake trophy for the third straight year with its outstanding house decoration entitled "Mississippi Mud."

Rugby, a sport generally considered rougher than football has been firmly established at San Diego State. Out of the starting fifteen players, seven are PiKA's—Larry Taylor, Earl Hale, Dennis Dieb (SMC), Jim Stauber, Mike Arellano, Jim Piper, and pledge John Luster. There are still fifteen Pikes vying for starting positions.

New Mexico Enlarges Trophy Case

Beta Delta Chapter at the University of New Mexico completed their fall semester with a large problem confronting the men of the chapter, Where will we find room for all of our new trophies?

New Mexico Pikes won the all-campus intramural program by over 1,000 points in the largest intramural sweep in the history of New Mexico's intramural program. Pikes scored first in Swimming, Track, Basketball, Weightlifting, Gymnastics, Badminton, Squash, and Golf and then picked up 2nd, or 3rds, in all of the remaining sports for a complete sweep of athletics.

Two Pikes were heard all around the Western Athletic Conference for New Mexico as Eddie Stokes was chosen all-Conference, Lineman of the Week, and All-American honorable mention honors. Pledge Stan Quintana was the New Mexico starting quarterback in only his Sophomore year and is considered possibly the finest prospect New Mexico has ever fielded.

Besides our many athletic honors, New Mexico Pikes turned in a second-place performance in the annual homecoming house decoration contest. A huge locomotive measuring over 30 ft. high was constructed on the Pike house lawn to represent New Mexico's surge over our opponents, the Air Force Academy Falcons.

Pikes took the lead in campus affairs, receiving state-wide television and newspaper coverage when we protested a local sports writers non-support of the University football team. Our protest was in the manner of burning the sports writer in effigy on the Pike front lawn. Most of the U.N.M. students gathered at the Pike house when the effigy was lit and the burning led to a spirited pep rally. The football team went on to win the last five of six remaining games and win the Western Athletic Conference Championship.

Former New Mexico basketball great, Brother Mike Dietmeir, was appointed coach of the New Mexico freshman basketball team; and he has done an outstanding job in building New Mexico into a national basketball power by his fine scouting and recruiting services. As of this writing, New Mexico was rated 18th in the country. Also, Beta Delta's track star and coach, Pete Brown, has been instrumental in building New Mexico into a nationally respected track power.

Brother James Offutt was elected to the presidency of the Interfraternity Council.

Beta Delta Pikes joined hands with the Chi Omega's and gave up part of their Christmas vacation in order to help the needy children of Albuquerque. A successful Christmas party was given for the youngsters.

Our Roaring Twenties Party and the fine

Hi-Jinx Party were high lights of the social calendar.

In order to promote better campus and Latin American relations, Beta Delta Pikes are providing room accommodations for a young Costa Rican exchange student during his stay at the University. Lesly Lam has stated many times that he feels the fraternity system on this campus does much to foster the ideals of the University and of Pi Kappa Alpha.

The best news of the year was received when our alumni board announced plans for a new house for Beta Delta. The new house will be constructed in a ranch and pueblo style and should be ready for the next school year as the architects and investors are already at work on the plans.

This has been a great semester for New Mexico Pikes, but the future leaves nothing but gleams of greatness for New Mexico's oldest fraternity, Beta Delta of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Louisiana Tech Has Versatile Brothers

This year, as in the last eleven out of twelve years, Gamma Psi won the Greek intramural football championship. Winning first in cross country as well as first in volleyball has put us number one in the overall sweepstakes race.

While our chapter was doing well in intramurals, men of PiKA were distinguishing themselves on the college gridiron. One-third of the Louisiana Tech first team was composed of brothers and pledge brothers. Brothers Wallace Martin, Pat Shows, and pledge brothers Kenny Tidwell and Gerald McDowell led Tech to a 7-3 season.

Our chapter activities are not dominated by sports. Socials as well as leadership on campus are stressed. We have had several parties in the house since returning from Thanksgiving. Parties such as the annual horror party and Christmas Party were held. Hayrides and after-the-Tech-football-games parties were also in swing.

Leadership recognition was awarded to two brothers. Brother Pat Shows and Brother James Wright were picked for Who's Who in American Colleges.

Campus activities included an outstanding performance in the annual Campus Carnival. As always, the "house" was packed to watch the brothers give their view of a typical Southern minstrel.

January is the month for fraternity elections. An excellent slate of officers was elected to serve for next semester. They are: SMC, Harry Farrar; IMC, Don Little; ThC, James Tate; SC, David Malcom.

Future plans for Gamma Psi include a reconstruction of the pledge program, more recognition on campus, the forming of a Ladies of PiKA Club, as well as the strong possibility of a much needed addition to the house. The need for a house mother is also one of great importance.

Rensselaer Member Wins Powers Award

The annual meeting of the National Interfraternity Conference was held on the weekend of December 6-7 in New York City. On Saturday afternoon, Dec. 7, Gamma Tau chapter organized a luncheon for all the brothers of Pi Kappa Alpha who attended the conference. About twenty-five Pikes from all parts of the country met in the Village Room of the Taft Hotel at noon. Attending were Earl Watkins, National Executive Director; David C. Powers, former National President; William Nester, National Scholarship Director; Robert Lynn, editor of the Shield and Diamond; and Brother Jansen, newly elected First District President.

The highlight of the luncheon came when Brother Powers presented the Powers Award to William J. Edwards ('63), Gamma Tau Chapter of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. Because of other commitments, Brother Edwards could not attend the luncheon and Dick Schantz, IMC of Gamma Tau, accepted the trophy for him.

The luncheon concluded with speeches by Brothers Watkins and Powers.

Pittsburgh Skins Rival Chapter

Two new football victory skins adorn our walls at Gamma-Sigma due to the champion Pittsburgh team, ranking No. 3 in the nation.

During the Christmas season, we joined with the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority and entertained children from a local orphanage. The children had fun but so did we.

Jim Mastrian and Al Seljas are members of the Druids, an honorary leadership and activities society. Two more brothers have been honored with membership in this exclusive organization—James Coll and Chuck Lock.

Our chapter was featured on local station KDKA-TV this year. We introduced a new line of products in an advertising campaign for the Bissell Sweeper Company.

Miss Jacqueline Eich is our new Dream Girl. She is vivacious, witty and has a great personality as well as beauty.

Chuck Lock,

SMU Pikes Pledge Twenty-Eight

The Beta Zeta Chapter of PiKA at Southern Methodist University pledged twenty-eight men. This is the largest pledge class in three years. All members worked hard to accomplish this, but special credit goes to Danny Dixon and Dave Starr, Co-Rush Chairmen. There were four Rush parties and two Preferential parties. Several sorority girls and the Dream Girl, Jean Richards, assisted at the parties.

Pledge Trainers John Noble and Don Wheeler have welded the pledges into a closely knit group with the new pledge program. The pledges elected the following officers: Jim Stitt, president; Don Moffat, vice-president; Jim Snider, treasurer; Melvin Riley, secretary; Karl Richter and Phil Scarborough, co-social chairmen; Dale Norton, sergeant-at-arms; and Bob Powell, house-manager.

After Thanksgiving the pledges challenged and defeated the ATO pledges, 7-6, in a football game.

Homecoming festivities took place just before the beginning of Rush. The PiKA's went all out and built a prize-winning decoration. The decoration consisted of a large crepe paper steam engine running down a Texas Longhorn.

The annual Pledge Christmas Party was given shortly before Christmas. It was held at the Double Tree Inn at Lake Dallas. The surprise of the evening came when the favors were distributed. This year they were unique seven foot long snakes with black beady eyes and red felt tongues! Later in the evening Toni Herringer was introduced as the Pledge Class Sweetheart. She received a silver tray. Each of the other nominees received a gold charm bracelet with her sorority letters and PiKA engraved on it.

During the second week of December, our PiKA chapter played our annual football game with the PiKA chapter of North Texas State University. The North Texas chapter won the game, 12-6, and will keep the trophy this year. A party was held at North Texas after the game.

Just before Christmas the Mothers Club gave its traditional Tree Trimming Party. The brothers and their dates decorated the Christmas tree after eating homemade pie and coffee. Approximately one hundred thirty-five people attended.

Who's Who At Penn State

Who's who? Reilly and Prindle. This year the selection board of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Campuses has selected brothers Charles Reilly and Arthur Prindle as two of Penn State's representatives. This is a high honor and Beta Alpha is proud of their achievement. These outstanding brothers are representing our fraternity in other endeavors as well. Brother Reilly is currently secretary of the University Student Government, a member of Skull and Bones and Lions Paw hat societies, and in addition he has compiled an extensive list of campus activities. Brother Prindle is presently secretary-treasurer of the Interfraternity Council, a member of Parma Nons hat society, and he too has an impressive list of activities.

University of Mississippi officers (l to r) are SG Ralph Young, ThC Bob Weatherly, IMC Garner Lester, and SMC Hardy Graham. Brothers Lester and Graham are "Pike Sons."

Spring Week, the highlight of the Penn State social season, will be headed this year by David DeMueh. Charles Knight has recently been appointed Secretary of the Inter-Fraternity Council Board of Control. In other campus activities, Joseph Buchanan is president of the Student Union Public Relations, and Vice-President of Alpha Delta Sigma advertising fraternity. Brother Sam Ambrose is currently editor and chief of Student Union Publications.

Beta Alpha is deeply indebted to these outstanding Brothers for their effort toward bettering Pi Kappa Alpha.

Georgetown Pikes Football Changes

The Georgetown Pikes have taken an early lead in the all important intramural race. Bob Campbell and Lou Bishop coached the Pikes' football team through an impressive undefeated season which saw Alpha Lambda go unscored upon in intramural play. The crushing defense was sparked by Jerry Miller, George Cook, Rowe Harper, Phil McQuaid, Gary Warren and George Olsen; while Paul Atkinson, Larry Thomas, and George Hays helped shape the offense into a tremendous scoring threat. This was one of the best football teams, man for man, that intramural play at Georgetown has seen in a number of years.

Bob Campbell led the volleyball team to another championship late in the fall. He was helped by such stand-outs as Gary Warren, Jerry Fields, and Larry Thomas. These two successful campaigns have put the Pikes in undisputed first place in the intramural race which they have won for three out of the last four years.

Alpha Lambda's alumni association is growing as was evident in the large turnout for the annual homecoming dinner hosted by the chapter. This is the only such dinner given on campus for any alumni group at homecoming, and we are proud of the privilege to entertain our older brothers.

Christmas time saw the chapter house transformed to suit the holiday spirit as Alpha Lambda crowned its Dream Girl at their annual Christmas party. She is Becky Roberts, a sophomore from Columbus, Ohio. Miss Virginia Covington, Georgetown College librarian and long-time backer of the Pikes, was also made lifetime Dream Girl. The formal dinner preceding the crowning was enjoyed by the Pikes and their dates along with the president and other officials of the college administration.

However, we must not forget the life-blood of the fraternity—rushing. In the fall, Alpha Lambda, through the organization of rush chairman Paul Atkinson, did not lose a bid and pledged men outstanding in campus activities. They were: Jon Bell, Gary Burbage, Rowe Harper, Bob Kuhnle, Phil McQuaid, Terry Schwartzwelder, Keith Wallace, and Glenn Wright.

William & Mary Hosts District Convention

The Pi Kappa Alpha District Four Convention was held Saturday, December 7, 1963, with Gamma Chapter at the College of William and Mary as host.

At 10:00 AM, the meeting was called to order by SMC William Pippin of Gamma Chapter. J. W. Lambert, Dean of Students at The College of William and Mary, welcomed the visiting chapters: Alpha Chapter of The University of Virginia, Iota Chapter of Hampden-Sydney College, and Omicron Chapter of The University of Richmond. Following the welcoming remarks, District President William H. Flannagan was introduced and spoke of the coming 1964 Convention to be held in Denver, Colorado. This convention will lead up to the Grand Centennial to be held in Virginia in 1968.

The meeting continued with chapter reports concerning four areas of fraternity interest. Wade Cheatham of Gamma Chapter spoke on "Public Relations". A discussion followed on "Rush" led by Greg Smith of Iota Chapter. Greg Gregory of Alpha Chapter led the third topic of discussion on "House Management." The final topic of discussion was that of "Pledge Training" given by a representative of Omicron Chapter.

District President Flannagan summed up the events of the day and announced that the Pika Ball would be held at Iota Chapter in 1964. The meeting was adjourned by SMC Pippin and an invitation was extended to everyone for a party that evening.

During the rest of the semester, Gamma Chapter meet with a number of successes. In the annual Homecoming parade, Pika placed first for the second consecutive year. In Intramurals, Gamma fought to two championships in swimming and volleyball and almost won the football championship but had to settle for second place. If our intramural teams continue with their success, we should be a cinch for the All-point Intramural Sports Trophy.

In the area of community service, Gamma Chapter collected donations for the Tidewater Tuberculosis Association in its annual "Midnight March" on T.B. Sorority parties, theme dances, and a host of other activities headed the calendar. Highlights of the social season were our annual Christmas Party and the annual Playboy Party.

In the final meeting of the Fall semester, the following were installed for the coming Spring semester: SMC, Thomas Yerkes; IMC, David Kern; ThC, Thomas D. Willet, Asst. ThC, Jan Mozeleski; SC, Peter Nance; IM, Paul Holtzmuller; and IFC Rep., William Lott.

Alumni to Aid In Rush

For the first time in several years Delta Eta will receive some tangible alumni support during the crucial formal rush period.

Three of the officers of our housing corporation, Brothers Burdett, Clarke, and Riker, have taken it upon themselves to sponsor social function removed from the isolation of Delaware's "careless" campus. They and others have also pledged the support of their presence at campus rush functions where they will testify to the continuing values of fraternity life. In our corner this year will be our new faculty advisor, Capt. Wilbur Farlow of Delta Xi chapter. Brother Farlow is the supply officer for our ROTC cadre.

In a continuing effort to favorably bring the name of PiKA before the campus, the Delaware Pikes this fall undertook to sponsor two campus mixers. First a rock and roll dance was held on the patio of the student union, to which admission was free.

Later in September a student bowling party was conducted with participants receiving food, drink, and door-prizes. From this event a student bowling league developed, and subsequently the university's bowling team was selected from the league's participants. As with last year, the Pikes landed two men on the team—Brothers Felten and Crossland.

Our sixth annual calendar was published this fall. Distributed free to every student, this publication has become a Delaware tradition. All of the major campus events are listed plus our own social calendar and a generous helping of facts about PiKA. Through the sale of advertising, this fine rush vehicle manages to make a profit too.

In preparation for spring rush a chapter pledge guide has been printed and a revised rush film prepared. The former lists such topics as pledge duties, chapter history, and chapter organization. The latter, edited and prepared by Brother McCaffrey, is a 20 minute panorama of chapter life highlighted by trips to other chapters and the fall social program. Brother Morris is now in the process of collecting slides to supplement the movies.

A new face is the best way to describe the Delta Eta Spectator. New type styles plus colored stock give our newsletter a sharp distinctive appearance. Plans are to publish three times yearly—September, February, and May.

Murray State First in Scholarship

Epsilon Lambda, once again is the winner of the Dean Nash Scholarship Award for having the highest overall scholastic standing of all fraternities on Murrays campus. We are indeed proud of our chapter.

On the civic scene Pikes are again consistent leaders. Epsilon Lambda recently gave the Murray-Calloway county library a fall cleaning. Pikes at Murray State are always at the service of the community.

In chapter elections for the spring, the following were selected: S.M.C.—Terry Weatherford, I.M.C.—Jim Brien, Th.C.—Bill Ayer, S.C.—Kent Wright, and Pledgemaster Robert Lee. The desires and goals of the chapter are firmly held by the new officers and under their leadership the chapter hopes to reach greater heights.

Also Pikes fared well in campus elections. Richard Hurt was elected sophomore vice-president and Ken Stadelman senior vice-president. Brothers Tom Adams and Jack Madura won for Pikes in the "Man on Campus" elections.

On December 15 twelve fine young men were initiated. Jack Madura was chosen by the actives as "ideal pledge". The new actives plan a trip to Memphis and National Headquarters in the near future.

Our annual Dream Girl Ball was a gala affair for all the brothers and their dates. Miss Maxnie Bennett was crowned Dream Girl for the coming year. She is pinned to brother Bob Goebel, a varsity member of the Murray State basketball team. Former dream girl Mary Ann Jolly bestowed more honor on Epsilon Lambda by being selected as Mrs. Murray State. We are proud of our Pi.K.A. girls.

The highlight of everyone's social life was Pike's annual Royalty Ball. Seven hundred couples danced under three thousand balloons filled with helium. There was also a revolving bandstand located in the center of the dance floor. It can truly be said that PiKA gave M.S.C. students their biggest thrill of the year.

Pike's homecoming float won first prize this year. The theme was "Munch a Bunch of Raiders". It was a massive football player eating a sandwich consisting of Raiders football players. The victory was followed by a highly successful party held in honor of old grads.

On the sports scene Pikes started the season by winning the cross country run and placed second in the football league. PiKA placed nine men on the all-intermural football team—twice as many as any of the other fraternities. The basketball team is in great shape and ready to win the league! We are confident too that we shall win the all-inter-mural sports trophy.

Mississippi State Forms Rush Committee

Plans for rush of Fall-64 have already begun. A committee has been formed and a vast program is in the making so that every boy who is Pike material will have a chance to become a Pike.

Our Dreamgirl Dance which is now three months away has already been planned except for a few minor details. This year it will begin on the night of Friday, April 10, with a casual party and get into full swing Saturday night with the formal dance. With the adequate space of our new home we will be able to hold the dance there. It will be the first formal ever held in a fraternity house on this campus.

Exams are close and soon second semester will be under way. During the first week after registration, we will initiate a large majority of our forty three outstanding pledges. Rush for the Spring Semester begins during registration also. Much work has already been done to insure us that we will have a pick at the top rushees.

Shortly, our new home will get the furniture it has needed ever since the construction was completed last October. Among the many articles due in the next few weeks is a large leather couch to be placed in front of our open fire place. This particular article is a result of the work of our devoted house-mother, Mrs. L. E. Claiborne.

The pledge project is the building of a large circular barbecue pit. This project in the near future will be the center of a patio to be located at the rear of the house. The pledges will also build a new walkway from the front walk to the drive on the side of the house.

The interfraternity sports championship is now resting in our hands. We have already placed first in volleyball and snooker, third in ping-pong, and are in the running for first place in bowling. If everything continues at the same pace we should receive the big trophy at the end of this year.

Social life here at state is at a new height. Last weekend we held a traditional "Gangster" party. Everyone was adorned in a costume of the "Roaring 20's". Gambling tables were plentiful and everyone freely threw their allotment of play money around. On Valentines Day a supper party will be held honoring all the girls that are dropped, pinned, engaged, or steadily dated by a Pike.

Last week the new officers for this semester were installed. The competent boys elected are: Richard Martin, SMC; Robert Wright, IMC; Thomas Ligon, ThC; Al Sanford, SC. This fine slate of officers gives added assurance of another extremely successful semester in the history of the Pike's here at State.

Pike Has Leaders At Florida Southern

In sports, Pike is leading the 10 fraternities on the Florida Southern campus. On the intramural side, PiKA is only a few points out of first place for the all-sports trophy. We came on strong in the finals of volleyball to get 3rd place among 12 teams. The Pike volleyball team was led by All-Star selection Larry Quigley. In football, the Pikes beat Sigma Chi 19-6 for the All-Star team, Ken Heubner, quarterback and Bob McKnight, end. With basketball coming up, PiKA should be tough. Three starters are returning including last year's league leading scorer, Scott Honefenger.

Of the school's three major sports, PiKA dominates two of them—baseball and crew. Southern's fine baseball team, will be led by Pikes. Ken Heubner and Cecil Hock won 10 of the teams 15 victories last year. Heubner was also the team's leading batter. Allan Bryan also saw action. Robert DeSear and Bob Nunn will head the outstanding crew team.

In scholarship, PiKA advanced from 6th place to 3rd place, just missing the scholarship improvement trophy.

Bob Kimbrough of Brooksville, Florida, and Carter McCaffery of Riviera Beach, Florida, received two of the schools highest awards. Bob was chosen Greek God of the upcoming Greek Week festivities. Carter was elected vice-president of ODK, honorary scholarship and leadership fraternity.

This semester our officers are: SMC—Gary Roth, IMC—Robert DeSear, ThC—Frank Peters, and SC—Bob Nunn. PiKA also leads in campus offices. Some of the major positions are: Bob Kimbrough, president of Baptist Student Union, Don Hall, Student Government Association, Bob McKnight, president of Sophomore Class, Fred Larson, Rush Chairman of the I.F.C., and Larry Quigley, sweetheart of Alpha Gamma Delta.

Tulane Gives Annual Orphans' Party

Eta Chapter of Tulane University held its annual Orphans' Christmas Party on December 11, 1963. This year, as always in the past, orphans ranging from ages of six to twelve were invited to the Pike House for games, entertainment, and refreshments. About twenty-five children from a local New Orleans orphanage enjoyed the friendship and hospitality of the Brothers of Eta.

The party, which lasted approximately two and a half hours, proved equally enjoyable to the hosts as to the guests. During the course of the evening, cartoon films were shown by a projector to the jubilant children, and cookies and punch kept appetites at a minimum. Since in years past, the orphans have exhibited a particular interest in dancing, music by a stereo record player was supplied, and the score of merry-making guests showed their elders many a fancy step.

To thoroughly complete the evening a surprise appearance was made by Saint Nick himself. Pledge-brother Robert MacNamara did the honors by bouncing in out of the cold in the full regalia. Christmas spirit prevailed utmost in the minds of each of the children as Santa Claus let all climb on his knee one at a time and tell their wishes to the jolly old fellow. Santa awarded each of the children an individual stocking full of candy from his mysterious "bag of toys". When all had concluded Saint Nick made his farewell in the traditional way and bounded off into the night. Shortly afterwards the orphans were returned to their home after many a "thank you" from twenty five grateful children. The chapter purchased two fine record players with some rare extra money and made a present of these to the orphanage as added Christmas presents.

The evening proved to be very beneficial

PiKAs gathered December 8 for lunch at Hotel Taft, New York City, during the annual meeting of the National Interfraternity Conference. Alumni members in attendance were: Dr. William J. Lanier (Beta-Phi), Associate Dean of Students, Wittenberg; Eldridge W. Roark, Jr. (Alpha-Pi), Director of Fraternity Affairs, University of Iowa; Earl Watkins (Gamma-Iota), Executive Director; Ray Jansen (Alpha-Chi), President, District 1; William Nester, (Alpha-Xi), Dean of Men (University of Cincinnati) and National Educational Advisor; and Robert D. Lynn (Mu), National Editor and NIC Executive Committee member. Undergraduates present were: John Breen (Epsilon-Pi), Owen Brown (Upsilon), John Creamer (Alpha-Rho), Sid Dunagan (Gamma-Upsilon), Ronald Hahs (Epsilon-Iota), Gean Martin (Xi), Glenn Mueller (Gamma-Tau), Robert Rohrbaugh (Alpha-Omega), Byron Rushing (Epsilon-Kappa), Eugene Sayre (Omega), and Chuck Wendt (Gamma-Omega).

San Jose Wins Scholarship Trophy

San Jose's scholarship program and a little hard work paid off for the brothers for the Fall '63 semester. The scholastic ratings showed a safe margin between the Pikes and the fraternity and all-men's averages on campus. The chapter took the trophy over 14 other fraternities on campus.

With the house cleaned up for fall rush, Alan Duncan, Rush Chairman for fall semester, set the ball rolling for his very successful rush program. The reward for our efforts was thirty new pledges. This has been one of the best rushes yet to be seen by the chapter.

The social calendar, under the direction of Social Chairman Bud Fleming, was full of exchanges and parties. Our annual Fireman's Fling was a huge success this year. A slide was built from the second floor to the basement, and the only entrance to the party was by way of the slide. The whole affair proved to be a great time and a huge success.

In rounding out a full and successful semester, we participated in such sports as football, volleyball, bowling, swimming, tennis, and wrestling. For the spring semester's first intramural event, basketball, we have three teams lined up in hopes of capturing the honors.

Elections for the spring semester were held, and a capable group of men were installed into office. Bob Schenone is the new S.M.C., Al Duncan the I.M.C., Bob Morell the Th.C., Bill Hickey the S.C., and David Mettler is the new M.C. With these new men in office, the chapter is looking forward to an even better spring semester.

Pikes Out Front At Ole Miss

The Rebel Pikes got off to a tremendous start this year by stealing every fraternity blind and coming up with 24 of the sharpest pledges on campus!

We have swelled that number considerably in open rush, and now boast the undisputed top pledge class on campus.

Our pledges attained three of the four available spots on the freshman cheerleading squad, and this year for the first time, the entire freshman class voted on these representatives, as opposed to the former practice of selection by the varsity squad.

Larry Cunningham, president of the pledge class, was immediately elected president of the Junior Interfraternity Council, and Bill Yoste won a place in the Campus Senate.

The actives are doing pretty well for themselves, too. Dick Todd was elected last year as treasurer of the Associated Student Body and is this year seeking the office of the presidency.

Flo Yoste heads up the Student Activities Department on the President's Cabinet, and has recently retired from his position as Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate.

Brother Yoste has also been initiated into the Arnold Air Society, honorary group for AFROTC students, and Scabbard and Blade, honorary military society. Also in the Arnold Air Society are Brothers Jim Whitten and S. P. Crockett, who serves as president of the group. Other Pike initiates into Scabbard and Blade are S.M.C. Hardy Graham and Semmes Ross.

In Naval R.O.T.C., Hardy Graham, Ken McCoy, Joel Sartoris, Johnny Miller, and Bob Neill hold five of the top eight positions.

ΠΚΑ's at Ole Miss are justly proud of Whaley Hall, All-Southeastern Conference tackle and voted tackle of the year. We also lay claim to seven Rebel baseball players, as well as other men on the varsity football team.

Hardy Graham, Henry Haynes, and Tate Thigpen have recently been initiated into Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary academic fraternity, and Bill Bullock was tapped for membership in Omicron Delta Kappa national honorary leadership fraternity.

Perhaps the highlight of the entire year occurred right before the Christmas Holidays, when Earl Watkins, Executive Director of ΠΚΑ and an alumnus of Gamma Iota, was presented with an oil portrait of himself, to be hung in our chapter house. The portrait was presented by S.M.C. Hardy Graham after an address by Brother Freeman H. Hart, National Historian. The portrait was a gift of National President Joe Scott.

Rebel Pikes do more than their share in upholding the Ole Miss party tradition. Our Roman Ball at homecoming was the talk of the campus, and we are now anticipating our annual Dream Girl Formal, the Playboy Formal, our Rebelee party, and a spring houseparty on the Gulf Coast.

S.M.C. Hardy Graham's fiancée, Miss Judy Williams, ΔΔΔ, was selected an Ole Miss beauty for the second year in a row. Another Pike pinee, Miss Betsy Henrich, ΑΟΙΙ, made the final judging.

Howard Organizes Torch Relay

The fall semester at Howard College's Alpha Pi chapter has been filled with many activities.

First on the agenda Brother Bonwell Royal, veteran of four years and four letters in Howard College football, organized a torch relay to Clinton, Miss. Starting on the Howard campus, the runners from five fraternities trekked 270 miles to the Clinton, Miss, and the Mississippi College football stadium.

Stormy weather proved an adversary during the running. Also an encounter with interception-minded Mississippians came outside Jackson, Miss. Finding themselves surrounded by approximately 8 to 12 cars filled with vengeful Choctaws, the runner's engaged in what one participant described as a friendly scuffle. He also noted that at least one bloody nose resulted from the fracas.

The attempt was foiled by the Howard group; and, while the staff was lost in route, Brother Royal delivered the victory fire to the Clinton stadium.

Also on the agenda was the presentation of the IFC All-Sports trophy to our chapter for last year.

Brother Bob Franklin, rush chairman, planned and executed the best rush program our chapter has seen in a long time. Our system of rush is deferred to mid-term. We pledged ten boys at the first of the year that were upperclassmen, and at mid-term we pledged twenty-one men. This group is not just strong in number, but the quality would be hard to improve upon. Their officers include President—Richard Meredith, Vice-President—Sam Hooton, Secretary—Bob Shields, Treasurer—Ken Peters, and Historian—Charles White.

When time came for the sororities to announce their sweethearts, Pikes were the top contenders. They are: Delta Zeta Man-

Dream Girl Formal was held at the Roma County Club on December 19th in Birmingham. Miss Dianna Fuqua was presented as the new Dream Girl. She was given a trophy, roses, and sweetheart pin. She is a member of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority, a junior in Biology and is from Piedmont, Alabama.

New officers were also presented—SMC Mike James, IMC Dave Beerman, ThC Will Reynolds, SMC Pete Pennington, and Historian Bob Embry. Best active trophy was awarded to Brother Walter LaGrove. Brother Lindy Martin, Director of Student Affairs at Howard College, spoke on the "Meanings of the Fraternity" after the banquet. There were around sixty-five couples present.

December saw the annual party for the Alabama Cripple Childrens Clinic. Brother Jerry Albano did a good job heading this project.

These activities concluded the fall semester.

Delta Zeta Memphis State University

Pikes at Memphis State, have taken first place in Intramural volleyball thus adding another trophy to the collection. We have been quite successful in athletics this year due to high spirit and good group participation.

We have recently initiated two star footballers, Russell Volmer, QB, and Donnie Scroggins, guard. Russell and Donnie have the distinction of being on the first undefeated team in twenty five years. Due to Memphis State University's outstanding success this season, the chapter now has several new skins to add to the present collection.

Homecoming is a big event on campus. This year the Pikes met the challenge with hard work, and skill. The project was a reproduction of Mt. Rushmore. Each of the Presidents faces were moulded and mounted atop a twenty foot mountain. Along side the presidents, demanding equal importance, was the even larger figure of an MSU tiger. Across the mountain, was written "We're Making History". At the base, another MSU tiger was chizzling out tomb stones for past opposing teams.

Socially, the Pikes have also been active. Most of our parties took the form of victory dances after the football games. The most recent party was the traditional pledge party, held at the University Club. Pledges treated actives to a dinner and dance. The music was provided by the Blazers, which are mostly composed of pledges. The highlight of the evening was when pledges put on a skit which was primarily a take off on the members.

Slated to lead Delta Zeta chapter in the coming semester are: SMC Tom Waring, IMC Alan McAdams, ThC Lee Davis, SC Doug Pera. We are all looking forward to

Davidson Has Scholars and Athletes

Hosting the Districts VI and VII Joint Convention February 22 highlighted for Beta Chapter the beginning of second semester. The event was held at the Holiday Inn in Charlotte, N. C., and included discussion groups, a business session, a banquet for delegates and their dates, and was concluded with a combo party.

Beta is optimistically looking forward to the compilation of semester averages for the college's twelve fraternities, having dropped to fourth place on campus in scholarship last year. Bolstering the chapter's average will be the grades of Beta's 19 pledges, a group whose composite College Board average is 1,265, and which contains five high school valedictorians and three salutatorians. The new initiates are a versatile group, numbering four student body presidents, seven National Merit finalists, and nine high school monogram winners among its ranks.

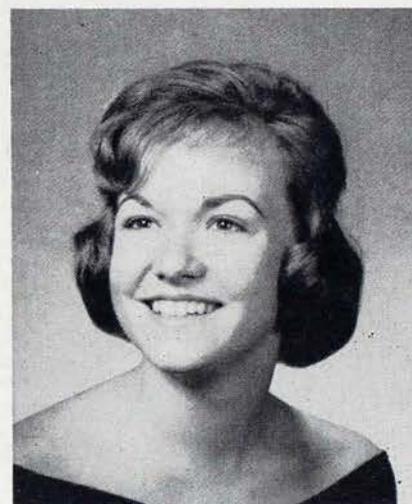

Bright spot of the brothers' Christmas season was a party given for children of Barium Springs Children's Home. The children were brought to the house for supper, games, and a visit from Santa.

The new semester began with the pledges participating in Greek Week, followed by Midwinters Weekend, consisting of a basketball game, a concert by Count Basie, and two fraternity combo parties. Sophomore John Triplett, one of the mainstays of Davidson's football line, was honored as Beta's Outstanding Athlete for the fall semester. Brother Triplett is also a catcher on the Wildcat baseball team.

The chapter recently paid special recognition to Brother M. L. "Teeny" Lafferty, Beta '38, who was elected president of the Davidson College Alumni Association for the 1964-65 year.

In spite of biased referees, Beta's brothers defeated their pledges 13-6 in a post-season grid encounter, played in a constant down-pour. The pledges claimed that they were handicapped by the fact that their coach was the fraternity's mascot, a goat named Muldoon.

Baker Repeats As Little All-American

Jimmy (Wink) Baker wound up a brilliant career at East Tennessee this fall by being named to the Associated Press Little All-American team for the second straight year.

In 1962, Baker was picked for this honor by both the AP and by the Williamson National Poll. Since neither the Williamson nor the United Press International picks have come out yet for 1963, he may yet add both to his long list of honors.

Baker, a Rossville, Georgia, native who came to State in 1960 and took over the first-string quarterbacking job in 1961, also added his third straight Ohio Valley Conference leading total offense championship to his laurels this season.

In 1960, as a freshman, Wink, playing behind the brilliant southpaw Tim Sowders, had a modest 155 yards rushing, 354 passing. In 1961, his sophomore year, Baker passed for 859 yards, added 406 rushing for 1,265 yards total offense; in 1962, as the Bucs raced to a 7-3 season, he counted for 898 yards passing, 350 more rushing for a total of 1,248 yards; and this year, in nine games, Baker threw for 1,149 yards, rushed for 366 more for a mark of 1,515 yards total offense.

His final three years, Baker's efforts led the Ohio Valley Conference in total offense, and earned him All-OVC berths and a probable repeat for the All-PiKA team.

Put all his yardage together, and you have a fantastic figure 4,537 yards gained—or 2.58 miles, in more dramatic terms.

In addition, Wink scored 169 points himself (18 as a freshman, 30 as a sophomore, 71 last season and 50 this fall) and tossed 31 touchdown passes (five as a freshman, then eight, nine and nine in his next three years).

Never before had a Buccaneer team such an offensive machine as the little senior from North Georgia. And never will the 1961, 1962, and 1963 fans forget Jimmy "Wink" Baker, Little All-American.

Two of Baker's 1963 performances stand out—the ones against Chattanooga and Wofford.

At Chattanooga, with the Bucs trailing 13-22 with less than three minutes to play, Baker fired a 15 yard touchdown toss, then scored a two-point conversion to cut the margin to 21-22. The Bucs recovered a Chattanooga fumble following the ensuing kickoff, and with 48 seconds to play, Baker found teammate Mike Casey in the end zone again with a 24-yard pass to provide the Bucs with the biggest victory in history, 27-22 over the tough Chattanooga.

At Wofford, with the Bucs trailing 13-14 in the fourth period, Baker faked a pass, skirted right end and sped 47 yards for the go-ahead touchdown.

The Bucs kicked off, and recovered a Wofford fumble on the next play. On the Buc's first effort following the recovery, Baker broke the Terriers' backs with another touchdown run, good for 26 yards and a 25-14 Buccaneer lead.

These two electrifying TD runs were on two consecutive plays that left the crowded stands stunned.

A Spartanburg, S. C., sports editor turned to the writer and said: "By grannies, if there ever was an All-American football player, Baker is it."

And that he is—a genuine all-America and all-PiKA.

Cincinnati Retreat Pays Dividends

Beginning this school year was the first annual retreat of the Alpha Xi brothers, held September 20, 21 and 22. The retreat was a successful one, setting up policy, organizing rush and establishing a ten-point program to keep the Pikes at the head of the fraternities at the University of Cincinnati.

Included in the ten-point program: fulfillment of a scholarship program to place Alpha Xi in the top five fraternities on campus; the initiation of at least 75% of the pledges through a comprehensive program of orientation and indoctrination; an intramural program to place the Pikes in the top five on campus; a program to place men in top extracurricular activities; entering and winning all campus events; strengthening communications between undergraduates and alumni in the continued improvement of the alumni relations program; and re-establishing Alpha Xi's image as the friendliest fraternity on campus.

Rush season immediately followed for the Alpha Xis and was tremendously successful, as the Pikes have taken in a class of forty pledges, one of the largest pledge classes on campus, placing the Pikes in the four largest fraternities on campus. Orientation, training and leadership shown these men should lead to a large number of initiates.

Homecoming, with a South Seas theme, followed rush, and the Pike's "Cut 'Em Down to Size" float, with a moving swordfish as the theme, appeared on the front page of the Cincinnati evening newspaper.

Miss Suzanne Crowley, sponsored by the Sam Houston State Pikes, was named "Miss Sam Houston."

On Sunday, November 17, the pledges collected for Muscular Dystrophy. The active chapter, at the same time, elected their officers for the coming term. Newly elected officers are: Frank Arnett, SMC (Dayton, Ohio); Andy Grant, IMC (Cincinnati, Ohio); Mike Kahsar, SC (Cincinnati, Ohio); Jim Becker, ThC (Steubenville, Ohio); Randy Thomann, Chapter Executive (Indianapolis, Indiana); and Bruno D'Agastino, Campus Executive (Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania).

Fine Pledge Class Busy at West Virginia

Alpha Theta pledged twenty-nine fine men as the climax to a very successful rush week. The pledges, without the knowledge of the active chapter, carried out an eighty-five mile marathon run from Morgantown to Pittsburgh. The event was publicized on the radio and in the newspapers.

The chapter won a new 23-inch Motorola television set in a contest sponsored by a local merchant. Members collected 23,601 cigarette packs to win the contest, 13,206 packs more than the second-place fraternity.

The house has been packed every week end. Major parties have included Mountaineer Week End, Homecoming Week End, and Showboat Party. The annual New Year's Eve Party was held at the South Charleston Woman's Club. Over fifty couples attended. There has been an active program of social events with sororities this semester, including listening parties, serenades, caroling, and desserts.

The chapter is presently third in intramurals with a good chance of moving up.

Next year Alpha Theta will have to adjust to the new deferred rush system that was passed by Interfraternity Council this year.

Officers for the semester are William Jones, SMC; Richard Littke, IMC; Keith Kennedy, ThC; Robert Welling, SC.

Rensselaer Tries Second Semester Rush

Completing a semester filled with successful activities, Gamma Tau Chapter at Rensselaer is now busily preparing itself for the imminent second semester rush, a system being tried here for the first time. Our string of parties will continue in this semester, but with all the emphasis placed on rushing and on maintaining our traditional top-notch pledge class. Coffee hours and personal contacts will play the biggest part in the month-long rushing period and the Pikes are well prepared to obtain future brothers who will retain our number one position on campus.

Contributing to our reputation on campus

Miss Karen Livengood was queen of the Sadie Hawkins dance sponsored by the Eastern Illinois IKA Colony.

and among the freshmen during the first semester was our leadership in campus life. Brother Glenn Mueller is IFC President; former SMC Steve Zwick is Chairman of Campus Chest, the school's charitable organization; and sophomore Ted Mirczak is president of his class for the second year. Pi Kappa Alpha also claims five other brothers participating in the IFC, several brothers in honorary societies, chairman of numerous committees and professional societies, and members in virtually every important organization on campus.

Our accomplishments in intramural athletics this year have been the best in some time. The house is off to a good start toward winning for the first time the Alumni Trophy, presented annually to the house with the best overall athletic record. With competition in football, tennis, golf, swimming, and bowling completed, the Pikes are leading the field. We also have our usual large representation on varsity teams including football, basketball, hockey, swimming, baseball, lacrosse, tennis, and soccer.

Social activities have been abundant, as usual, except for a slight lull during finals. Two of the most successful weekends were Homecoming and Dream Girl, both of which brought many alumni back to the house. Gamma Tau selected the lovely Miss Linda Roberts, date of senior Brian Dillon, as Dream Girl.

Recent house elections resulted in Brian Dillon, a chemistry major and former House Manager, being selected as SMC. Other officers for the last semester are: Dick Schantz, IMC; Fred Boyce, ThC; Mike Bouffard, SC.

COLORADO is the place to spend the summer of 1964. Make plans now to vacation in a great Vacationland and take in the 19th convention as well. ■ Colorado has been inhabited for over 20,000 years. You can actually see the homes of some rather recent tourists, the Mesa Verde Cliff Dwellers; who lived in the Southwest corner of the State from 800 to 1,200 years ago. You can follow the history of the Spanish explorers, the mountaineers and gold seekers. You can see the mountain country where Indians dwelled peacefully. ■ Despite rugged terrain, Colorado's highways are first class. The State maintains more than 8,000 miles of highways, including 27 major mountain passes, 21 of which are open year around. About 500 miles of the new Interstate Highway System has been completed or is under contract.

No matter what your method of transportation, you come to a climate that is high, dry and cool. It is perfect for the trout fishing that is available in over 4,000 miles of mountain streams and countless lakes. Hiking, camping, water sports, and mountain climbing are also available to the summer sportsman. ■ Detailed U.S. Geological maps are available for the mountain hiker or jeepster. ■ For the less venturesome, but still rugged, Colorado offers two National parks, five National Monuments, one National Recreational area and eleven National Forests, covering a total of more than 15,000,000 acres of public lands. The new State Park System includes lakes, roadside parks and campgrounds. There are more than 40 developed campgrounds in the State. ■ The old Mesa Verde Cliff Dweller disappeared mysteriously; but you will want to stay on, and on, and on, in cool, colorful Colorado. It is the ideal spot for a vacation; it is the ideal spot for a convention; come to Colorado and enjoy both.
