A Living Legend

Freeman Hansford Hart

Dr. Freeman Hansford Hart is gone. Or is he? What makes a man? Is a man's biggest contribution to life merely his physical body? Not so! At least, not in this case. Dr. Hart's body is buried in Gainesville, Florida. That's the town where he spent his last years.

But there are a lot of other towns where he still lives. He lives in Memphis; he lives in Los Angeles; he lives in Charlottesville; he lives in every town where there is a Pi Kappa Alpha brother who ever knew the meaning of phi phi kappa alpha.

What were his contributions to Pi Kappa Alpha? This depends on one's point of view. Every member knows that he served as National Historian for years. He was also National President, Executive Secretary and National Vice President. He composed the HISTORY OF PI KAPPA ALPHA, a monumental task in itself. He is responsible for much of the historical memorabilia in the archives in Memphis.

These are certainly contributions, and great they are, but Dr. Hart will not be remembered for the offices he held—not really. Pi Kappa Alpha has not lost a man. She has lost a spirit, a legend. But then, spirits and legends do not die. Free Hart—the real Free Hart—has not died. A few years from now think a few minutes about Pi Kappa Alpha and see if Dr. Freeman Hart doesn't come to mind.

TRIBUTES TO F. H. HART

Prayer offered by PiKA undergraduate Brother William H. Murphy, Alpha-Eta Chapter, at the Memorial Service for Dr. Hart in the chapter house Thursday evening, April 15, 1965.

"Father in heaven, who knows the secret of death, we ask that you bless our departed Brother and receive him into a new life, for life and death are one, even as the river and sea are one.

"We know you will, for the spirit of a man, who served us all, cannot wander in the wind.

"And, Father, we ask that the new member of your house be not restless—for his labor is done and life now unfolds before him, a life eternal, a life wonderful, a life all must one day lead.

"Bless those who remain, and guide us always in the fine example set by Dr. Hart.

"These things we ask in Your Son's name."

The death of Free Hart saddens me. He was one gentleman whom I truly admired and during his active years with Pi Kappa Alpha, it was a genuine pleasure to work with him and for him.

It was my great privilege and pleasure to have known Dr. Hart and I shall never forget hearing him speak in Gainesville at the banquet following the dedication of the house on Fraternity Row when Judge Myers did not arrive in time to speak. He was an inspiring person and I am sure that Gainesville as well as Pi Kappa Alpha will miss him.

His name will appear large in the pages of Pi Kappa Alpha history. He has influenced many young men for good throughout the years of his membership. It has been a privilege for me to know and to work with him.

Freeman H. Hart

HISTORIAN, HUMORIST, SPORTS FAN, DEVOTED PiKA

by William Crosby, AI

Freeman Hansford Hart was initiated in 1928. Ten years later he was elected National President. This was after he had been National Historian for eight years and National Vice-President for two. He held the office of National Historian for thirty-five years. He was, then, a national officer for almost the entire duration of his membership in Pi Kappa Alpha. This basically, describes the kind of gap that The Fraternity must fill now that "Free" Hart is gone.

Lexington, Virginia was the place of Dr. Hart's birth, and he remained a "good Virginian" all of his life despite the fact that he spent his last nineteen years in Gainesville, Florida. Whether he was proudest of his Virginia background or his Scotch ancestry is a matter of debate. On either subject he had a treasury of stories and anecdotes. "Of Scotch ancestry, he loves to tell stories of his people; he denies their reputation for hard frugality, saying they would have stopped the reports about it long ago but for the free advertising."

The date of Dr. Hart's birth, October 6, 1889, is quite significant in that it was barely two months before the Junior Founders met at Hampden-Sydney, the site of his own chapter, Iota. Two of the Junior Founders, Arbuckle and Smythe, later were close friends of his for many years.

Brother Hart reached the rank of Second Lieutenant of Field Artillery in France during World War I. Reports say that he carried a wounded comrade on his back across Flanders Field under fire. He received a bachelor's and a master's degree from Washington and Lee, another master's degree at Harvard and his Ph.D. at Columbia University.

After the war he resumed his duties as a teacher. A man of many talents, he served as principal of the Shipman, Virginia High School, football coach and Latin teacher at Horner Military School (North Carolina), a master in the Noble and Greenough Prep School (Boston), and professor of history at Washington College (Maryland). In 1925 he went to Hampden-Sydney College where Pi Kappa Alpha first became a factor in his life. One of the lesser known facts is that he was not initiated as an undergraduate, but as a thirty-nine year old professor.

Dr. Hart kept up his indefatigable spirit until his death, April 13, 1965. The morning of that fatal day saw him plowing his watermelon patch. He was even serving once a month as a "supply pastor" in a small church near Gainesville. If his sermons were anything like his Founders' Day talks, he must have filled them with parables because his talks nearly always consisted of humorous stories about people and events in The Fraternity. February and March of every year were always busy times for our National Historian. His activities, enough to exhaust completely a man half his age, were always a source of wonderment for his friends and brothers.

The Founders Day "season" of 1964 carried him through nine states in a period of about three weeks, and he averaged at least one speech a day. He even participated in the initiation of nineteen new brothers at Gamma Eta (University of Southern California). Dr. Hart hit the Founders Day circuit again in 1965, but took an eastern route this time for a few weeks with the same tight schedule. The amazing part of it all is that he drove a large percentage of the time.

Those who knew Dr. Hart during his early years as a member say that he was appointed National Historian because of his research and contributions to the "Shield and Diamond" and because of his well-known ability to reduce history to the written page. His first "Shield and Diamond" article was entitled "The First Pledges of PiKA" and appeared in the April, 1930 issue.

K. D. Pulcifer, (Beta Eta, Illinois) is the man to whom most of the credit should go for "finding" him in the truest sense of the word. As Brother Pulcifer describes it, he was "combing the most recent PiKA Directory sometime during 1929 and found a man listed as 'professor of history, authority on Confederate history' down in the heart of the old Confederacy at Hampden-Sydney." Since The Fraternity was founded, at least partially, by Confederates, Pulcifer wrote Hart for help.

"When I first discovered Dr. Hart's name in the directory," says Brother Pulcifer, who continues his interest in PiKA history today as secretary of the Centennial Commission, "I was living in Chicago and found no opportunity to go to Virginia. Shortly, afterward, however, my work with the Pennsylvania Railroad took me to the headquarters offices in Philadelphia.

"One morning the stationmaster's office in Washington telephoned. A man was there who wanted to speak with me. It was Free Hart. With that canny Scottish instinct about which he told so many stories on himself, he had persuaded the stationmaster to use the railroad telephone line to call me.

"That was our first contact in person, followed soon by a visit to Philadelphia and a return trip to Virginia, during which we visited many historical PiKA spots.

"All this time, we were working on Free to write a complete history. He went to work, submitting sheaf after sheaf of new material that recorded for the first time the story of the Fraternity. He was a man dedicated to his work, indefatigable in pursuit of facts and with an amazing memory that catalogued accurately each new bit of information in the story he so patiently unearthed."

The HISTORY OF PI KAPPA ALPHA will forever be a monument to remind brothers of years to come about Freeman H. Hart. However, great as this work is, it was not his only literary endeavor. In 1925 Professor Hart assisted in the preparation of Channing's "History of the United States," and "The Raven—The Life of Sam Houston" in 1929 with Marquis James. Both of these were Pulitzer Prize winners. He also wrote "The Valley of Virginia in the American Revolution" and has also composed numerous magazine articles. At the time of his death Dr. Hart was beginning the centennial edition of THE HISTORY OF PI KAPPA ALPHA.

Aside from THE HISTORY, Dr. Hart's greatest material contribution to The Fraternity was the museum, now known as the Freeman H. Hart Museum. This and the now-famous book all started shortly after his appointment as National Historian. He made a trip to New York City to visit with Founder William Alexander. At first he had little success in obtaining interviews, but Alexander soon began to "warm up" and became more interested in the Historian's endeavors. The Hart-Alexander relationship grew over the years, and they became close friends until Alexander died in 1939, the last of the Founders to die.

In 1936 the New Orleans Convention unanimously approved Historian Hart's recommendation to set up a Memorial and Archives Fund, to which he made the first contribution. The culmination of this idea came in 1954 when Pi Kappa Alpha dedicated its beautiful Memorial Headquarters Building in Memphis. In it is housed, among other things, the museum to which Free Hart dedicated so much time and energy.

If he spent so much time with Fraternity activities, then, how could he possibly have time for anything else? Who knows? But he did. He was a Rotarian, Mason, and an elder in the Presbyterian Church. In 1960 he retired after sixteen years as a professor of humanities at the University of Florida. A good portion of his time, however, was spent watching and cheering the University of Florida athletic teams. Joe Halberstein, Sports Editor of the "Gainesville Sun," paid tribute to Dr. Hart in a special article.

Free Hart was not the only PiKA in the Hart family, not by a long shot. Mrs. Jean Hart is an "honorary Pike" because a wife cannot stay around a man like this one and not become deeply involved in The Fraternity. She is also a native Virginian. Their four sons, John Fraser, James Wilson, Abel McIver, and David are also brothers in the bonds.

It would be an understatement to say that Pi Kappa Alpha has been a big factor in the life of the Hart family, but one member of the clan did escape to some extent. Dr. and Mrs. Hart have one daughter, Miss Jean Blanding Hart, and even she was an "honorary dream girl," this honor having been bestowed upon her at the tender age of six months by Gamma Theta Chapter (Mississippi State University).

Dr. Freeman H. Hart loved Pi Kappa Alpha. His son, David, on the night of his father's death, expressed succinctly his father's devotion to Pi Kappa Alpha when he phoned Executive Director Earl Watkins to break the news and said, "Mr. Watkins, the Fraternity was his life."

In Memoriam

Freeman H. Hart (Iota)
1889-1965

National Historian Freeman H. Hart joined The Chapter Eternal April 13, 1965 after a brief illness. His body lay in state at Jones and Johnson Funeral Home, 311 South Main Street, Gainesville, Florida, until Friday morning. Funeral services were held at 10:00 a.m. Friday morning at the Highland Presbyterian Church, 1011 N. E. 16th Avenue, Gainesville, Florida. National President Freeman and Executive Director Earl Watkins went to Gainesville to represent the fraternity at the funeral services. Undergraduate members from the Florida and Georgia chapters, as well as many alumni, joined them at the funeral service.

Pi Kappa Alpha has lost one of its most dedicated sons. Brother Hart served our Fraternity since 1930 as National Historian. He has also served as National President, National Vice President and as Executive Secretary for six years.

National President Freeman declared a 24-hour period of mourning beginning at 8:00 p.m. Monday, April 19, and ending at 8:00 p.m. the following night. It was suggested that all members wear a small black ribbon behind their badges during this period of mourning. Chapters held memorial services according to the Ritual of The Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity sometime during this 24-hour period.

Our deceased Brother is survived by his wife, Jean; four PiKA sons; and a daughter.

May his soul rest in peace in our Chapter Eternal.

WE HAVE LOST A FRIEND

BY SMC MIKE NEAL AH, UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA

Pi Kappa Alpha has lost a great leader. Dr. Freeman H. Hart died April 13, 1965. I think to only say that Dr. Hart was National Historian since 1930 and that he had served the Fraternity as National President, National Vice-President, Executive Secretary, and as author of THE HISTORY OF PI KAPPA ALPHA, is not nearly enough tribute.

To those of us who had come to know Dr. Hart well, he was much more than just a leader. We of Alpha Eta Chapter here at the University of Florida are proud to say that we knew him, respected him, and, yes, to use a word that is sometimes hard for a college man to use, loved him. We knew him not only as a national officer and author of the Fraternity history, but as an individual whose interest and devotion to PiKA's and people everywhere was unbounded. On the Florida campus, Dr. Hart was known not only to us, but also known and loved by most athletes and professors in recent Florida history.

Dr. Hart rarely missed the opportunity to stop and chat with his fellow professors. It was a common sight to see him and other professors discussing the issues of the day or the football game, or even more important, where the fish were biting.

When it came to Florida's "Fighting Gators," Dr. Hart was an expert. He rarely missed a practice session of any vascity sport. There were few trips made by the football, basketball, and baseball teams on which he didn't accompany them as friend, companion, and storyteller. Win or lose, Dr. Hart was there with a pat on the back for each member of the team.

Here at our house, Dr. Hart took a great interest in rush. If he were in town, he could be counted on to be on the front steps with the brothers, extending a glad hand to each rushee. His enthusiasm always spilled over on the brothers, helping many rush periods turn out successfully. My last conversation with Dr. Hart, the night before his death, concerned a rushee that he was particularly interested in.

I could tell of many other experiences, his appearances at our Founders' Day programs, where if he were not the main speaker, he would make one of his short speeches consisting of, "I'm glad to be here," or at Mothers' Day receptions, or even when he would drop in during the middle of the week just to chat. All of these things meant a lot to us at Alpha Eta.

Alpha Eta will miss Dr. Hart more than most chapters, but we will not forget his love of people and his devotion to the Fraternity. We liked to think that we were his special chapter. We have lost a true friend.

I hope that each member of Pi Kappa Alpha will remember Dr. Freeman H. Hart as we will—as more than a National Officer and author of our Fraternity's history. These reasons are enough, but remember him for even more, for it was his energy, his hard work, his untiring devotion for Pi Kappa Alpha, that have helped to give us the fraternity that we love today.

You too have lost a true friend.

Secretary Hodges Speaks On Journalism

"Young people choosing careers today should consider seriously the challenges of journalism.

"Responsible newspapers are the eyes of that 'eternal vigilance' which is the ultimate safeguard of our freedom in a democratic society. Whether it is the strength of our economy, the health of our society, or the wisdom of our political decisions, that concerns us, we are dependent upon accurate, honest news coverage of what is happening at home and abroad.

"We depend upon our newspapers and newspapermen to be our sentinels and our teachers. Where formal education ends in our society the newspaper takes over as the textbook of continuing education.

"We need for these essential tasks young men and women of the highest intelligence and character. We need as tomorrow's news men and women people who are dedicated to the highest ideals of America, who are fearless in their devotion to the future, and relentless in their pursuit of truth."

University of Illinois Rush Program

The IFC at Univ. of Illinois recently voted to adopt a Spring rush program similar to the one currently in effect. The rush was held on the weekend of April 23, 24 and 25, 1965. All high school seniors who have been accepted by the University will be eligible as will all men on campus in good scholastic standing. The rushee will receive bid cards as previously and will select 8 houses to visit. All houses must submit a tentative quota indicating the number of men for whom they will have vacancies and will be restricted to this number. At the close of Spring rush the fraternities will not be told whom they have pledged, but will be told how many pledges they received. The names of those pledged will be released after the finals. Open rush for freshmen will follow the formal Spring rush until September 1, 1965. Informal rush for on-campus men will continue throughout the school year. This program is about the same as that used successfully last year except for the earlier date.

Dr. Lawrence N. Canjar, Beta-Sigma (Carnegie Tech), is the chapter's popular faculty advisor. Presently a full professor and the assistant head of the Department of Chemical Engineering, he graduated from Tech in 1947 and received his doctorate in 1951. His main field of research involves the investigation of the thermo-dynamic properties of hydrocarbons. In 1955, he was the recipient of the Carnegie Teaching Award. He is the author of several papers in the field of his specialty. He and his wife Pat are favorites of the entire chapter.

Dr. Hal Hasselschwert (Delta-Beta) presents the new Bowling Green State University Mace to the audience during the inauguration of President William T. Jerome, III. Brother Hasselschwert created and designed the mace.

Brother William P. Tolley, chancellor of Syracuse University, gave the principal address at the inauguration of President W. T. Jerome at Bowling Green University.

Arthur F. Lefferts, Beta-Pi (Pennsylvania), has opened offices in Glenside, Pennsylvania where his certified public accounting firm is specializing in electronic accounting. Art is serving as a deacon in the Abington Presbyterian Church, is active in the George Washington District of scouting, and in the Glenside Masonic Lodge. He and his wife have four "little Dream Girls" and three "young PIKES" which means they have a busy time around the house.

Colony Is Established At Old Dominion College

BY RICHARD OGLE, FIELD SECRETARY

On February 6, 1965, Pi Kappa Alpha returned to the state of its founding for the installation of a colony. The place was Norfolk, Virginia, and the occasion was the official installation of Delta Omega Phi fraternity of Old Dominion College as a colony of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity. Thirty eight men went through the ceremony to become colony members.

Delta Omega Phi was founded at Old Dominion in 1937. Since that time, it has maintained a position of leadership on the campus. It has won the intramural championship six years in a row and the scholarship trophy three years in a row. Delta Omega Phi brothers are involved in all phases of campus activity. Also, four of the five starters on the varsity basketball team are "Delta's."

National President Charles Freeman, National Secretary John Horton, and District President Hugh Flannagan installed the 38 men as colony members of the Pi Kappa Alpha colony at Old Dominion. Executive Secretary Earl Watkins and National Historian Freeman Hart were also present. Three man teams from Gamma Chapter, William and Mary; Iota Chapter, Hampden-Sydney; and Omicron Chapter, University of Richmond assisted in the ceremony.

Old Dominion College was formerly called the College of William and Mary at Norfolk. It is the second largest college in Virginia, with more than 6,000 undergraduates and is the fastest growing college in the state. There are six other national fraternities on the campus.

Preliminary plans call for a fraternity row in about five years. The Pi Kappa Alpha Colony is currently located in a rented house at 1066 West 45th Street, Norfolk, Virginia. Approximately three miles from the house is Elmwood Cemetery where lie the graves of two of the founders of Pi Kappa Alpha—Frederick Southgate Taylor and Littleton Waller Tazewell.

Edmund C. Weber III
Peace Corps Program (India X)
Hilo, Hawaii
(former Resident Counselor
EE, Toledo University)

December 10, 1964

Dear Friends,

Tame Kem cho? (How are you?) hun majama chun! (I am fine). This is in Gujarati—more about the language later. Well here it is Christmas time and I am in Hawaii. These 85° temperatures do not quite fit into this season.

I flew over from home in 16 hours with one hour lay overs in Chicago, San Francisco, and Honolulu. All in all I traveled about 5,000 miles leaving Cincinnati at 8:15 a.m. and after losing five hours, arrived here in Hilo in time for dinner at 7:00 p.m. Hilo is on the big island of Hawaii and is the second largest city in the Islands next to Honolulu. The foliage is as green and thick as money with coconut, palm, banana, guava, orange, and, of course, wild orchids and the largest poinsettias I've ever seen are quite prevalent. The towns' people are quite friendly and offer us rides to and from town all the time. In fact, when ever we buy anything at one of the stores we get an automatic 16% discount.

The training site here is affiliated with the Hilo Branch of the University of Hawaii. Our instructional classes and meals are held in the old city hospital and we are housed in the old nurse's dorm. One of the island's scenic attractions, a 100' water fall, is in our backyard. We are about 2 miles from town—a nice walk down hill—but we usually get a ride. There are 46 in our India X training group who are from at least 25 different states and also divergent economic, ethnic, and educational backgrounds. About  $\frac{1}{4}$  are college graduates,  $\frac{1}{3}$  have had at least 2 years of college, and those remaining have either been in the service or working.

Our daily schedule is always quite busy with little if any free time. At 6-7 a.m., 12-1 p.m. and 6-7 p.m. we have our three meals. We also have coffee breaks from 9:45-10:00 a.m. and 2:45-3:00 p.m. every day. In the morning from 7-9 we have our first language class. From 9-12 we have either Area Studies, Technical Training, or sundry lectures pertaining to our overseas duty. From 1-2 we have our 2nd language class and 2-4:30 we have the same classes as we had from 9-12 in the morning. Physical education (body building) is held from 4:30-6 Monday thru Friday. After supper from 7-9 we have our final language class. We are usually on our own from 2:00 on on Saturday afternoon and all day Sunday.

Our language is Gujarati which is a form of sanscrit very similar to Hindu. We have 5 Indian men and one woman who teach us in 6 groups of 8 trainees. Every afternoon from 1:30-2 and in our spare time we are required to use transiphones which are headsets that pick up, from air waves, a tape that we listen to which contains drills and practice exercises in Gujarati. We can also repeat through a mike that is attached to our headset which can be heard through our ear phones the words on the tape. This helps us primarily with our pronunciation and memorization. The form of in class training that we use is called aural - oral; more or less a listen-speak manner of learning. The guide posts to our language instruction are D. D. T. (v) Dialog—memorization of various types that contain certain grammatical constructions that present the language and give us a reservoir of Gujarati vocabulary. Drill—where we drill orally and practice our dialogs as well as branch out on new words. Talking—guided in and out of class. In fact, we only speak in Gujarati at our meals. We have oral language tests every Monday and Wednesday mornings and a large vocabulary test every Saturday morning. Out of 12 possible points on the oral tests I am averaging 8—not too bad! I have been improving and am about average.

Area Studies is designed to provide us with a thorough understanding of the environment and culture of the State of Gujarat and India. It includes discussion on geography, history, political, social and economic structure and village life in India. We are taught by a number of Indian educators, professors from the famous East-West center at the University of Hawaii in Honolulu, and some of our local staff. We have already had a test on two books we have read concerning this area.

Technical Training so far has dealt primarily with poultry. We have constructed a 17' x 30' chicken house out of bamboo and sugar cane. This was quite a job since we built the house on a grade and had to level it off with volcanic rocks and sand. We had some labor trouble in transporting this fill to the desired spot. Just a week ago we received 200 one day-old chicks which are now in our brooder in the chicken house. This past week we vaccinated and debeaked all our chicks. Since the chicken house was finished, (2 weeks ago) we have had lectures by a county poultry agent on everything from the birth of a chicken to the candling of its eggs. It was quite intensive.

We are now starting a garden, building a bridge, and clearing a trail. The grass is so thick and its roots are so thick and matly that it is quite tough turning over the soil for our garden.

Our Health overseas has been explained to us by a Public Health Doctor. Amazing enough our greatest danger of sickness will be the common cold and other upper respiratory infections—the same as in the U. S. Every Saturday morning we get at least 2 shots. This is always fun and makes for an enjoyable weekend.

Physical Education has been a little tough but it does break up sitting in the classroom all day. Aside from running  $\frac{1}{2}$  mile to and from P. E. we have been tested and timed in the number of push-ups, sit-ups, pull-ups and a  $\frac{1}{2}$  mile run. In swimming we had to swim 50' for speed and 15 minutes without stopping. We will be learning how to play soccer, hockey, and cricket which are Indian sports.

The Assessment program has two major objectives: (1) Provide a realistic description of each trainee, from which administrative decisions can be made in training and overseas. (2) Provide trainees with information about themselves which will serve as a foundation for increased self-understanding, self-awareness, and ability to cope with new experiences and styles of living. Assessment so far has included interviews, psychological tests, peer ratings, behavior ratings by the staff, and grades on academic and field experience achievements. We will have our mid-selection next week. A board will come in from Washington and review all of our records so far, and our qualifications, and select those of us who are to continue. It is expected that we will lose about 20% of our group by February through de-selection.

As you can read from my brief description of our training program here at Hilo the instruction is quite intensive and comprehensive. The staff is confident in their areas which adds to the smoothness and cohesiveness of our training. We are quite aware that Hawaii is our 50th state and that back home is not the States but the Mainland. The racial color is fascinating. We are in the minority here with the far Eastern and Pacific Island influence evident in many of the Hawaiians. The women are quite exotic and their bright colored maumus are very attractive. The barber shops are staffed entirely by women and it doesn't do any good to specify what type of hair cut you prefer. They do not speak much English so you either get a short or long hair cut. We have had two earthquakes which have shaken the buildings violently but that was all. When it rains hard and for an extended period of time the waterfall behind our quarters shakes the windows a little.

Since it is the Christmas Season I would like to extend the best to you and yours for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Please drop me a line over the holidays, I would appreciate hearing from you.

Till I hear from you or you from me—I wish you the best.

Aloha,
Ed

WESTERN KENTUCKY RECEIVES CHARTER

By WILLIAM J. CROSBY
Administrative Assistant

Donald Dickson, National Alumni Secretary, presided as forty-six new brothers were brought into the bonds through Zeta Epsilon Chapter on February 6, 1965. The new brothers were initiated by teams from Kappa (Transylvania), Omega (Kentucky), and Alpha Lambda (Georgetown). Field Secretary Mike Mulchay deserves a lot of credit for keeping the weekend activities on schedule and for making the arrangements for the installation. Mike received a little last minute assistance by Administrative Assistant Bill Crosby.

The man to whom Zeta Epsilon Chapter and Pi Kappa Alpha as a whole owes the most is John U. Field, Alumnus Counselor for Omega Chapter. Brother Field has been working closely with the colony and school officials toward this day. Filling in as National Vice-President, he did a tremendous job, and his reading of "Fraternity Zeal" was an inspiration to everyone there. At the official banquet, Brother Dickson presented Brother Field with an engraved plaque from the Supreme Council expressing its appreciation "for his unusual initiative" in developing this new chapter. Brother Dickson also delivered an address that had everyone re-evaluating themselves and their obligations to Pi Kappa Alpha and to their alma mater and communities.

There are at least two other brothers for whose efforts Pi Kappa Alpha is indebted. They are District President John Ewing and Alumnus Counselor Dr. W. W. Norris, an alumnus of Gamma Psi Chapter (Louisiana Tech). Both of these men have given willingly and unselfishly of their time so that Zeta Epsilon could get off to a strong start as an official chapter in Pi Kappa Alpha.

The fraternity system at Western Kentucky State College is relatively new and Pi Kappa Alpha is the first national fraternity to place a charter there (Kappa Sigma might want to disagree). All local fraternities, twelve in number, are seeking national affiliation and other outstanding fraternities will follow closely behind. Most of the credit for the rapid development of Greeks at "Western" is due to Dean of Men Charles Keown and Assistant Dean of Men Jack Sagabiel, both of whom have worked closely and graciously with Pi Kappa Alpha.

The individual initiations were conducted in the Temporary Student Center, and the installation ceremonies took place in the Baptist Church. At these and other places where help was needed typical Blue Grass Country hospitality was extended. It was a day of war welcomes—Zeta Epsilon into Pi Kappa Alpha and Pi Kappa Alpha into Bowling Green, Kentucky; and there is no reason to believe that this cordial relationship will not continue forever. Pi Kappa Alpha is honored to become a part of this outstanding institution—Western Kentucky State College.

The first officers of Zeta Epsilon are: Larry Hall, SMC; Jerry Colsey, IMC; Kenneth R. Wallace, Th.C.; Eugene Kenneth Duncan, SC; Mack White, MC and George Gleitz, Pledge Master.

The charter members are as follows: Larry Coleman Hall, Gerald Ray Cossey, Jimmy Curt Coleman,

Kenneth Reid Wallace, Jr., Samuel Leon Edwards, Joseph Clinton Pfeiffer, Sherman Roberts England, Jr., James Donald Shanahan, Charles Elvis Cecil, Jerrery Wallace Green, Charles William Phillips, Dalrymple Phillip Bruce, James Leroy Hageman, David Hice Reynolds, Ronald Irving Penrod, Michael Dallas Hepp, William Lynn Busby, Joe William Gupton, Michael Olive Moonan, David Hill Peterson, Joseph Weber, Louis Eugene Derr, Jerry Roland Renfrow, Dillon Hugh Puckett, William Howard Meredith, Robert Carroll Wallace, Ronny Leon Cantrell, Gregory Ralph Ferrell, Michael Benson Holian, Earl Leroy Rosenbaum, Jr., Eugene Kenneth Duncan, George Phillip Gleitz, Larry Fisher Dykes, Joseph MacDonald Mayfield, Joseph Henry Mayfield, Charles Marcellus Jackson, Emmons Orval Pearson, Jr., Paul Edwin Power, Tommy Harold Higgason, Sherman Roberts England, Sr., William Houston Griffin, Willard Moss Thomas, Lee Robert-

Davidson Seniors Value Fraternity System

By LOWRY BEACHUM AND TOMMY JOHN — BETA

In a few short months the class of '65 will bid farewell to Davidson College and to undergraduate membership in Pi Kappa Alpha. Seldom has a class left with greater reluctance or concern for Beta chapter's future, for the road ahead appears to be hazardous and may lead only downward.

Why such a pessimistic outlook from the chapter acclaimed the best of Pi Kappa Alpha only last summer? Only now are we beginning to fully realize the benefits of our four years of association with Pi Kappa Alpha.

First the companionship, inspiration, and guidance of the men whom we chose to call brother under the guideline of congeniality based on character comes to mind. For this is what Pi Kappa Alpha really is—not simply a building or emblem or an outlet for campus social life.

These men have been part of our education, whether in the cheerful banter of the daily meals, the give-and-take of fraternity meetings, or the bull sessions lasting far into the night. Here we have tried and strengthened our ideals and ideas, learning to stand up for what we believe, in matters remote from those covered by classes.

Together we have made the fraternity what it is and in so doing have made ourselves a little better. We have raised this chapter from number twelve to number three on the Davidson campus in scholarship, in only four years by proposing scholarship legislation which has become a model for the rest of the fraternity.

Together we have served the community in which we live—painting churches, clearing fields, collecting for charities. We have built this chapter with our own hands, slowly and often painfully, to its present position of respect, both on this campus and in the national fraternity. It is ironical that in this year

DELTA XI CHAPTER RECHARTERED AT INDIANA UNIVERSITY

By MICHAEL MULCHAY
ΓΔ, Field Secretary

On March 6, 1965, Delta Xi Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha was reinstated at Indiana University, climaxing a successful year of colonization. Brother Don Dickson, National Alumni Secretary, presided at the ceremony which returned to the Indiana campus a chapter first established there in 1950. Assisting Brother Dickson in the reinstatement ceremonies were members of Delta Sigma (Bradley University), Zeta Gamma (Eastern Illinois University), and Beta Phi (Purdue University). Also present were Earl Watkins, Executive Director, Virgil McBroom, President of District 17, Robert H. Bishop, Sr. (Alpha Phi, Alumnus Counselor at Beta Eta and father of one of the new initiates), and Michael Mulchay, Field Secretary.

On February 6, 1964, a meeting was held in the Indiana Memorial Union for organization plans for Pi Kappa Alpha's return to Indiana University. Graduate members, transfers from other chapters, alumni members, and a few interested students were present to hear two District Presidents and the National Treasurer speak. Also present were two delegations from active chapters, one from Beta Phi (Purdue University) and one from Alpha Xi (Cincinnati).

During the following months, the first members concentrated on rush and on organization. They set out to make themselves into one of the best fraternity chapters on campus.

On March 4, 1964, things had progressed to the point of formal association with Pi Kappa Alpha. Field Secretary Joe Savage and delegates from Alpha Xi (Cincinnati), Beta Phi (Purdue), and Beta Eta (University of Illinois) installed formally the Pi Kappa Alpha Colony at Indiana University. Fifteen men were pledged to the Fraternity that day.

The month of May saw the beginning of real fraternity activities. Although the members were concerned with final exams during most of the month, they found time to have their first big house dance. Since the new house seemed like a barn, the natural thing was a barn dance. The only problem was caused by the live cow imported for the occasion. The cow didn't seem to haper grades though. When the final tabulations were released, the colony had a sparkling 2.58 average (on a 4.0 system) unofficially ranking fourth on campus.

The 1964-65 school year began with colony members returning to find the house was not so much of a barn anymore. Many improvements had been made. Countless man hours put in finally made it into one of the most attractive homes on campus. There was still a lot of work to be done, though.

First semester was a busy one. The colony won its first trophy right at the start, taking third place in the twenty-one team intramural football league. The colony had pledged ten men during the season, and on October 16, 1964, they were formally pledged. The next big event was Homecoming. Now the largest display on campus covered the front of the house. 27,000 napkins stuffed into the display proudly proclaimed "Victory—The Sound Indiana University Loves Best." The colony had generated enough steam by the end of the semester to have the President of the I.F.C. at Indiana University tell the students in the campus newspaper that "Pi Kappa Alpha is an example of one of the most successful colonizations at Indiana University." All this and grades had still gone up to 2.6185, now unofficially fifth out of thirty-two fraternities.

On February 22, 1965, the Supreme Council voted to return the Delta Xi charter to Indiana University. Executive Director Earl Watkins immediately notified the colony, and preparations began for the big day.

March 5, 1965 dawned bleak and cold, but no colony member saw the clouds. The individual initiation ceremonies which began the proceedings were to be held that day. During the afternoon, the teams arrived and that evening initiated twenty-nine new brothers into Pi Kappa Alpha. One of those initiated with the undergraduates was Pressly S. Sikes, Dean Emeritus of the Junior Division, and presently Professor of Government at Indiana University.

The next morning, individual initiations were completed, and the installation teams rehearsed for the reinstatement ceremony. At one o'clock, Brother Dickson began the ceremony which officially marked the rebirth of the chapter.

Later that afternoon, the new brothers held an open house. Guests included many campus Greek friends; Elvis Stahr, President of Indiana University; and James Hall, D.D.S., William Albertson, and Larry Baughart, alumni of Delta Xi.

Saturday evening, the installation banquet was held in the Georgian Room of the Indiana Memorial Union Building. At this time, the chapter presented a token of its appreciation to two persons who were instrumental in the colony's success: Ernest Moore, Resident Counselor, and James Whitehead, Director of Fraternity Affairs. Mr. Whitehead and Dr. Robert Shaffer, dean of students, spoke to the new members about their role in the campus community in the future. The highlight of the evening was the inspiring charge directed to the new members of Delta Xi by Donald Dickson, National Alumni Secretary.

So with determination to succeed, Pi Kappa Alpha has strongly reentered Indiana University. Hopes are so great and members' confidence so high that success is bound to come quickly.

Dickson Delivers Indiana Address

By DON DICKSON
National Alumni Secy.

Gentlemen of Delta Xi, Indiana University guests, IFC guests, alumni, and friends . . .

I bring you the personal greetings of National President Charles Freeman and National Secretary John Horton, as well as the best wishes of the rest of the Supreme Council, National Office Staff, and of every brother in Pi Kappa Alpha.

Both Brother Freeman and Brother Horton wish they could be here, but prior commitments prevent it, so I have been assigned to represent the national fraternity here tonight. A close friend asked me the other day how I felt, being third choice. I feel fine.

That third choice question reminded me of another third choice, which I think parallels our being here tonight. It was 1947. I was thoroughly rushed on a small campus by four national fraternities and I asked my advisor for his candid opinion of which he would choose. He rated two other nationals first and second and said PiKA would be his third choice. As young sophomores are want to do, I then promptly disregarded his advice and pledged his third choice—Pi Kappa Alpha. I have never regretted it.

In my many travels throughout the country for PiKA I find too often that the challenge of greatness in a fraternity is unmet. It can't be done, it can't be done, it can't be done. Excellence, gentlemen, is what we're after—excellence in the calibre of men we rush and pledge and train and initiate. We don't ask it, we don't beg it of you, we demand it! Excellence in scholarship and campus leadership. It can be done; it is being done.

Do you know the one great ingredient which defeats the can't-be-done attitude every time? ENTHUSIASM!

Enthusiasm is the human jet propellant, the maker of miracles, and the one quality that makes a man, a chapter, a national fraternity excel.

What a unique opportunity you have here. Re-born on the 75th anniversary of the year that Pi Kappa Alpha itself was re-born; re-born in the same month and only a few days after that day our great national celebrates as its birthday.

The junior founders met 75 years ago at Hampden-Sydney to rededicate themselves to the ideals of the founding brothers of March 1, 1868. Pi Kappa Alpha was on the verge of disaster—and here's another parallel—you too have been down that road—they fought back, those four men and now you've fought back too.

Let's look at what they saved and created: nearly 70,000 brothers initiated into PiKA; 129 chapters; a fraternity worth over 2 million dollars. It must have been beyond their wildest dreams that the future could be so bright for their grand old fraternity. Are you dreaming of great accomplishments? Is greatness in the future for Delta Xi? We think it is or we wouldn't be passing on this great heritage to you.

I was privileged to know one of those great men of the past—Brother Robert Smythe. I heard his farewell speech at Louisville convention in 1962—and I am not ashamed to tell you that my tears joined a flood of tears from the hearts of PiKA's, young and old.

On that day, he said he would never return—he never did. But on that day he placed the heritage and the future of his beloved fraternity into the younger hands and hearts of every PiKA: to preserve it, to love it, to serve it, to live it.

That is the challenge I leave you today. Not a challenge that you should have a successful four-year social club here at Indiana University, but that you should have a life here and leave here with a knowledge of friendships founded on a firmer and more lasting basis and a love in your heart for a lifetime of Pi Kappa Alpha.

What magic formula can I give you? I don't have any. It takes work, hard work, to excel and it is the working together toward and for goals that transcend the individual which is the key to the magic that is brotherhood. Henry Ford said it better than I can:

"Saw your own wood and you'll be twice warmed."

Remember then, on this great day and this great occasion of your rebirth to honor those small groups of men who preceded you on your way—

The founding fathers at the University of Virginia in 1868 whose basic concepts are still valid 97 years later.

The junior founders of 75 years ago who made this day possible.

And, those brothers who breathed the first life into Delta-Xi Chapter 15 years ago on this campus.

Honor them by excelling—by holding high the banner of Pi Kappa Alpha, and by living, not just mumbling, the ideals to which you pledged yourself yesterday and today—the grand principles of Pi Kappa Alpha.

An American poet, Edwin Markham, penned this last thought:

"There is a destiny that makes us brothers

None goes his way alone

All that we pour into the lives of others

Comes back into our own."

Thank you. It has been my great honor to have been with you on this day.

John H. Buchanan, Jr., Alpha Pi, (Howard College), is a U. S. Republican Representative from Alabama.

of fulfilment, of the overflowing cup, we are suddenly threatened with decline, if not destruction.

A movement is presently afoot to greatly weaken or destroy the fraternity system at Davidson. For the sake of the 25 per cent of the student body under the guise of democratic equalitarianism the rights of the majority of the students would be curtailed for the supposed benefit of a minority of independents.

The forthcoming proposal would remove us from the fraternity houses and institute a system of "eating clubs" based on random assignment. Fraternity membership would be limited to junior and senior membership with no house or eating facilities. Whether the fraternities under the proposed system could survive is highly problematical and, in any case, the benefits of fraternity membership would be greatly reduced.

We, the senior class of Beta chapter, have experienced the benefits that the fraternity can and does offer and feel that a part of our education at Davidson equally important to that we received in the classroom has come from our associations with fellow students in and through Pi Kappa Alpha.

We deplore the impending situation and the detrimental effect that the present proposals, if carried through, would have on fraternities and student life at Davidson College. We sincerely hope that the judgment of those who know the value of fraternities will prevail and that Pi Kappa Alpha may continue to serve its role at Davidson.

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION PLANS ANNOUNCED

Uniting students from the North and the South in the aftermath of the War Between the States, the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity, was established at the University of Virginia in 1868. It observed its birthday at nationwide gatherings March first and announced extensive plans to celebrate its centennial in 1968.

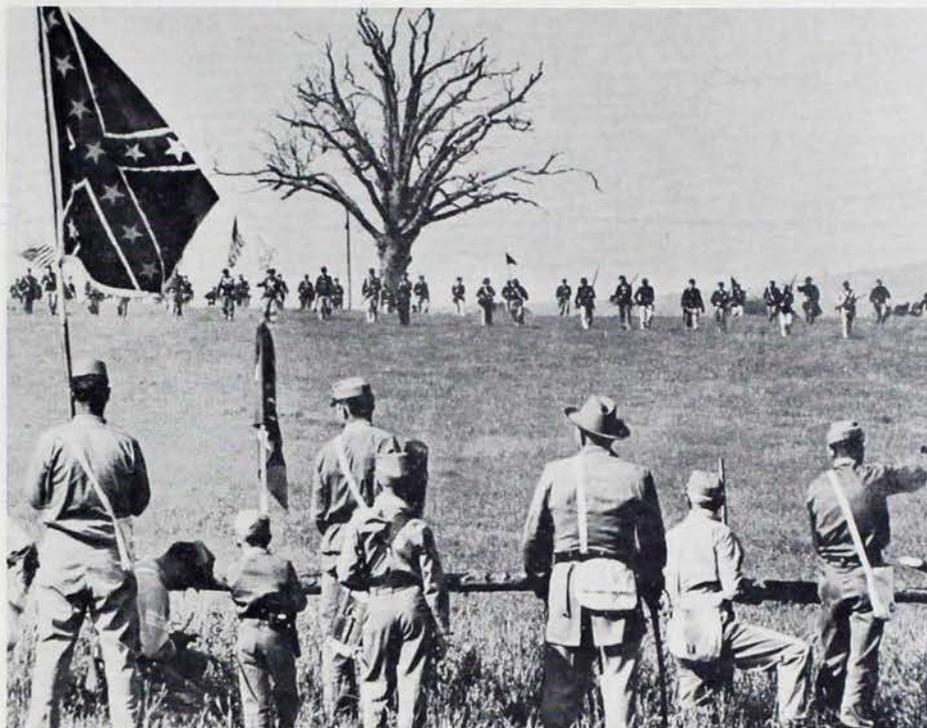

The year-long observation of the centennial will culminate in a pilgrimage to Charlottesville, Virginia by members from 127 college chapters of the fraternity, plus hundreds of the fraternity's alumni and their families. Pi Kappa Alpha is one of the oldest and largest college fraternities in the United States, with approximately 70,000 undergraduate and alumni members.

During the Centennial Pilgrimage, a permanent memorial will be established in collaboration with University of Virginia officials, who have given approval of the project. Re-enactment of the founding drama, as it took place in Room 47, West Range, on March 1, 1868, will be a highlight of the centennial.

A telephone hook-up linked both college and undergraduate chapters in a simultaneous birthday dinner marking the actual founding date on March 1, 1868. Members of Pi Kappa Alpha, prominent in government, business and the church, paid brief tribute to the fraternity's founders. This telephone program became a part of each chapter's own local program.

Senator A. Willis Robertson, dean of the Pi Kappa Alpha group in Congress and an initiate of the fraternity at the University of Richmond in 1907, has extended an unofficial welcome to his state for the centennial.

"My old chapter will be honored to have the 100th anniversary convention in Richmond," Senator Robertson said. "Pi Kappa Alpha has always been a source of satisfaction and pride to me. It provides social and cultural ideals for young men and a lasting bond of fellowship throughout adult life."

Senator Robertson is a direct descendant of Col. James Gordon of Orange and of several other early Virginia greats in colonial history. He has long been especially prominent in fiscal circles as chairman of the powerful Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

On the other side of the aisle in the Senate, Republican minority leader Everett McKinley Dirksen is another prominent member among the fraternity's 19 Senators and Congressmen. Senator Dirksen has also voiced his interest in the Centennial. Often compared with Lincoln in his oratory and mid-western touch, Senator Dirksen paid tribute to Virginia, the birthplace of Presidents and Pi Kappa Alpha.

"In the preamble to Pi Kappa Alpha's constitution are set forth high aims that all the world might emulate", Senator Dirksen pointed out, "ideals that would weld all nations into a universal brotherhood. Let me quote: 'For the establishment of friendship on a firmer and more lasting basis; for the promotion of brotherly love and kind feeling.' These are ideals that go far beyond any ordinary concept of college association. They are the epitome of universal brotherhood."

"In Richmond, Virginia, Mayor Morrill Martin Crowe, a member of the fraternity's Washington University chapter, St. Louis, issued a nation-wide invitation to the Virginia Centennial in an address before undergraduates and alumni at the annual Richmond Founders Day dinner. Mayor Crowe will have an active part in Virginia preparations for the Centennial."

Julian Edward Wood, leader among the original founders, was a corporal and color bearer in the Virginia Military Institute battalion which the Confederates threw into the Battle of New Market in May, 1864. A re-enactment of that engagement was staged at its site in the Shenandoah Valley last spring, followed by dedication of the General George Marshall Library at V.M.I. President Johnson and his cabinet, General Dwight D. Eisenhower and General Omar N. Bradley also participated.

Representatives of Pi Kappa Alpha and Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity, both of which were founded at the University of Virginia by cadets who fought at New Market, were honored at the V.M.I. re-enactment.

Wood was born in North Carolina but grew up in Hampton Roads, Virginia, the son of a physician. Two other V.M.I. cadets who became founders of Pi Kappa Alpha were Littleton Waller Tazewell of Norfolk, Virginia, grandson of a distinguished Virginia governor, and James Benjamin Sclater, Jr., born in Orange County, Virginia. Frederick Southgate Taylor, son of the bursar of William and Mary College, was the fourth Virginian to join in the fraternity's founding.

Then, from the North, came Dr. Robertson Howard, a resident of Washington, D. C., who obtained his medical degree at Georgetown University at 18, before entering Virginia. The sixth founder came from New York City, although his grandfather was a distinguished Virginia theologian and president of Hampden-Sydney College. He was William Alexander, later secretary of the Equitable Life Assurance Society for 55 years. He was the designer of the fraternity's badge.

Members of the fraternity fought in four American wars, in Korea and now in Viet-Nam. Among its military greats are Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges, 1st Army Commander in World War II and Colonel Lewis Wilson, Congressional Medal of Honor holder.

At the 1964 national convention, W. E. Chope, President of Industrial Nucleonics Corporation of Columbus, Ohio and Lee Talley, Chairman of the Board of the Coca-Cola Com-

Cincinnati's Southland Hall Association Wins National Award

Winner of first place for the Charles L. Freeman Award for the Outstanding House Corporation in 1964, Southland Hall Association in Cincinnati really serves a triple purpose.

Incorporated but a year following the chartering of Alpha Xi Chapter at the University of Cincinnati in 1910, the first—and still officially predominant—purpose is to provide housing for the Chapter. The name Southland Hall was chosen to symbolize the heritage of Pi Kappa Alpha at Cincinnati.

The second function of Southland Hall is serving as the official alumni association of Alpha Xi Chapter and the 900 men who have been initiated into the Bonds.

The third function is serving as the Cincinnati Alumni Association for the approximately 350 resident Pi Kaps who have been initiated by many Chapters throughout the country.

A Board of Directors of fifteen men is charged with various duties. These fifteen men are elected for terms of three years each. Two ex-officio members serve also. They are the Alumnus Counselor of Alpha Xi and the Alumni Secretary of Southland Hall.

All alumni records are maintained by the Alumni Secretary, keeping them in better condition than was ever possible by the turn-over of undergraduates.

A variety of events are sponsored by the association throughout the year. Many members participated in the undergraduate rushing program under the direction of Southland Hall Rush Chairman. Homecoming is sponsored by the Chapter and each year approximately fifty alumni and their families return to 3400 Brookline to celebrate and renew old acquaintances.

During the Christmas holidays, a party is held at Cuvier Press Club and features only good food and the spirits of the season—no speeches. The Cuvier Press Club is also the location of the weekly alumni luncheon held on Thursdays and attended by from five to fifteen members.

The Chapter invites alumni to attend the Winter Formal, and generally 20 to 30 couples join in the festivities.

The annual Founders' Day is planned and executed by a committee appointed by the president of Southland Hall Association. Attendance the past three years has consistently been over one hundred fifty Brothers. A full schedule of "Happy Hour," dinner and program have been highlighted by outstanding speakers, the honoring of 25 and 50 year initiates, the presentation of the Outstanding Alumni Awards from both Southland Hall and the Undergraduate Chapter and the annual meeting of the Association. It has been traditionally a stag affair.

The Association cooperates with the undergraduate chapter at the Spring Formal—again many Brothers turn out to dance and see the crowning of the new Dream Gisl of PiKA.

One of the oldest traditions in Cincinnati is the annual Alumni Stag Picnic held in June. It began as a small gathering back in 1929 and has continued uninterrupted since—with crowds pushing the 125 mark for a day of good old "Zinzinnati" fellowship, food and sport.

During the year the Housing Committee remains hard at work supervising the operation of the Alpha Xi house. The Association provides a Financial Advisor to the Chapter also.

Pi Kappa Alpha is one of the leaders in the Local Alumni Interfraternity Council.

The Association provides financial and editorial assistance in the publication of the ALPHA XI MUMMY which is sent each alumnus of the Chapter and those alumni of other Chapters residing in the area. The MUMMY has been consistently one of the top Chapter publications in PiKA and in 1964 won the Pauly Award for excellence.

Three main topics are under discussion at present. An Alumni Support Program is being designed to help defray some of the fraternal and social activities expenses of the Association as distinct from housing. A study is being made of the By-Laws to streamline operations and bring in the direct support of more alumni from Chapters other than Alpha Xi. A complete housing study from an architectural survey through an analysis of the Greek system at the University of Cincinnati to a Break-Even survey on housing operations has been completed and is now the source of ideas for a new program to make Alpha Xi housing even better.

Many long hours are devoted to our operations by the seventeen Board members and others who contribute time and talents. Because of this help, Pi Kappa Alpha in Cincinnati is one of the GREAT fraternities and constantly a contender for the Top place in the Robert A. Smythe Proficiency Award judging.

Phi Psi Officer Presents PiKA Crest

By WALTER JAHN TH, RESIDENT COUNSELOR

The Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity at the University of Southern California was the recipient recently of a beautiful model of the Fraternity's crest at a dinner at the chapter's house on the SC campus.

This particular crest, the only one of its kind, was a gift to the Fraternity by its maker, Mr. Ralph Haney, National Treasurer of Phi Kappa Psi, and the Alumni Advisor to his Fraternity's USC chapter.

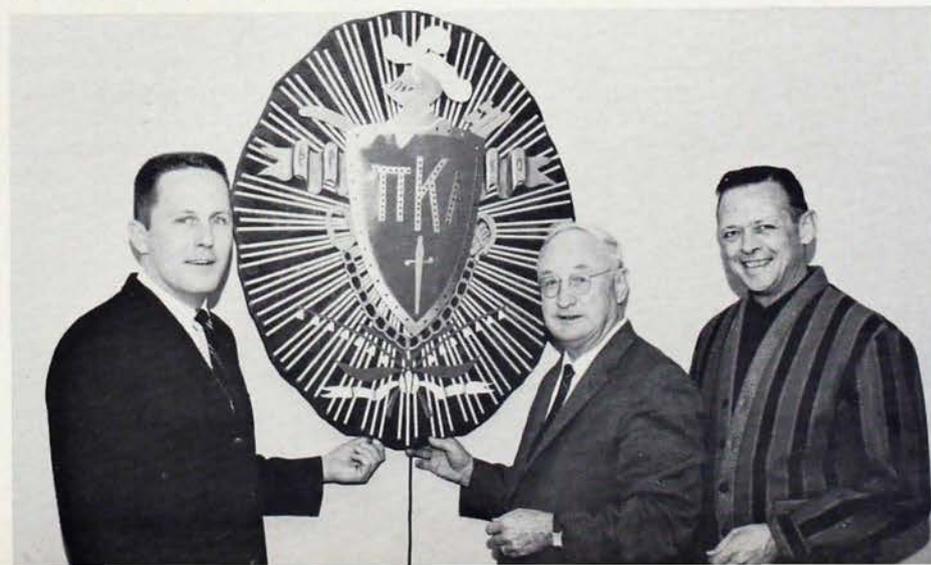

The three dimensional, illuminated crest is made out of carved wood and aluminum. Over the black, flocked, wood background, 98 dowels were placed to form the rays emanating from behind the shield. Each dowel was hand drilled three times, countersunk, and nailed to the background. The gold ribbons, the key, the saber and the chain were all handcarved from hard wood. Superimposed on this background is a curved aluminum shield and helmet, all done by hand, and painted in the official colors of the Fraternity. In place of the rivets around the edge of the shield, approximately 100 holes of varying size were drilled in order that the light from beneath the shield shine through. It would be difficult accurately to determine the number of man-hours spent in preparing this beautiful 36" x 30" model of the PiKA crest.

The history behind this presentation is somewhat unique. Mr. Haney, being the Alumni Advisor of the local chapter of Pi Kappa Psi, has been a long time friend of the PiKA Alumni Advisor, Ray Bradford. In August of 1964 it happened that the National Conventions of each of these two great Fraternities were held during the same period in Denver, Colorado. During the Convention, Mr. Haney was a guest of Southern California's chapter at a reception and subsequently, some of the Pi Kappa Alpha National Officers were guests of the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity at their Convention Headquarters a few blocks away. It could be that the idea for this crest was first nurtured here at this convention.

Pi Kappa Alpha at USC was deeply honored by this presentation to our house of its crest, and undoubtedly this fine addition to our chapter is even more significant since it was entirely hand constructed by a National Officer of another Fraternity. It will constantly remind PiKA's and all of us who were intimately involved at the time of its presentation of the unity that binds all Greek Fraternity men regardless of their individual affiliation. Brother "Ralph" has certainly demonstrated this by his action. He is an inspiration to all of our men who have the opportunity to know him. It is men like Ralph Haney who strengthen our Fraternity system by his dedication and thoughtfulness not only to his own Fraternity but to all Greeks.

Oklahoma State Pikes Are Named World's Fair Guides

By ROBERT S. BOYD

Four collegiate members of Pi Kappa Alpha have added a new feather to the honor-studded cap of their chapter at Oklahoma State University.

And in so doing, they've become "undergraduate-experts" in the care and feeding of World's Fair exhibits!

The four Pikes have represented their fraternity and their state as Sooner Guides at the State of Oklahoma exhibit on the Fairgrounds in New York.

Chosen competitively from a combined total of over 250 applicants each year, the fraternity members were included in the select group during both the 1964 and the 1965 operating seasons of the Fair.

Serving as Guides in 1964 were Stuart Bumgardner and Mike Dixon, while Don Kiser and Rick Messer will serve during the 1965 season.

Their selection as Guides was a signal honor to the individual and to the fraternity, considering the expressed intention of Governor Henry Bellmon to choose only the most outstanding college students and the three top-ranking state businessmen who served the project as Commissioners.

The judging processes were exhaustive. Every applicant appeared before an initial judging committee made up of college faculty members, personnel specialists, industrial leaders and other students. After taking that hurdle successfully, the four Pikes then appeared before a finals judging team of eleven persons—first, at a reception in the Governor's home, and finally, at a formal interview the following day.

During these interviews, the finalist received a thorough going-over. His background, grade average, college activities and accomplishments were analyzed, as well as special skills and talents which he might offer the job. At the same time, judges studied each young man for obvious characteristics of his personality, knowledge of his state, appearance and general manner.

At the end of the judging period, and after extensive deliberation by the judges, the Sooner Guides and alternate guides were named.

"If it sounds as if we carried on a small-scale Miss America contest for young men, that's about what it amounted to," comments Robert S. Boyd, executive director of the Oklahoma World's Fair Commission.

"We actually tried to be as selective as the Miss America competition, because we were dedicated to finding young men who are as representative of Oklahoma as Miss America is of the United States.

"For Pi Kappa Alpha to land four of the top spots during the two successive years of the competition is an accomplishment of which the entire fraternity can be proud."

The honor of being named a Sooner Guide was just another in a long string of honors for the members of Gamma Chi Chapter.

Stuart Bumgardner has served his local chapter as athletic chairman, pledge trainer, treasurer, social chairman, pledge class projects chairman, and chairman of fraternity relations. He served as vice-president and secretary of his pledge class in Alpha Kappa Psi business professional fraternity, and was elected president, rush chairman and pledge trainer of Mu Kappa Tau professional marketing fraternity. He is a member of the Business Student Council and was named the recipient of a scholarship award from the College of Business Administration and of the Raymond A. Young Scholarship. He has maintained a 3.04 grade average with a marketing major.

Mike Dixon has served the fraternity as rush chairman and athletic chairman, and was president of his pledge class. "This program will have a lasting effect, because each one of these outstanding young men, through his preparation for the tour of duty and his experience in selling Oklahoma to citizens of other states and nations, will be a well-qualified booster for Oklahoma for many years to come.

"The friends made by these young men are friends of Oklahoma. I can think of no greater contribution they could have made to their state."

Owens Elected National President

Hubert Bond Owens, (AM, University of Georgia) Athens, Georgia, has been chosen President of the American Society of Landscape Architects in the biennial election held recently. The Society was organized in New York City in 1899 and today has a membership of approximately 2,600. It is the official organization of the profession of Landscape Architecture.

Professor Owens head the Department of Landscape Architecture at the University of Georgia and is widely known as a teacher, practitioner, lecturer and author. He received his BSA degree from the University in 1926 and MA in 1932. He has also spent five summers taking additional courses in landscape architecture at Cornell and Harvard. Following two years as instructor at Berry College in Rome, Georgia, he was called back to the University of Georgia in 1928 to establish and develop a program in professional landscape architecture. He became head of the Department in 1933 and Chairman of the Division of Landscape Architecture in 1950. This Department today is one of 18 accredited by the American Society of Landscape Architects and attracts students from a number of different states and foreign countries.

Brother Owens does not restrict his interest to landscape architecture in the United States but has traveled extensively in Europe and Asia. He has served as ASLA delegate to the International Federation of Landscape Architects at Biennial Congresses held in Vienna, Zurich, Washington, Amsterdam, and Tel Aviv, and was honorable secretary of the organization from 1956 to 1961. He was elected second vice-president of IFLA in July of 1964. His latest trip abroad was as a guest of the U. S. Department of State in 1963 on an East West Central Cultural Interchange tour of Hawaii and Japan. Next September he will serve as one of the featured speakers at the annual meeting of the IFLA Grand Council in Lisbon, Portugal.

Beautification of America has long been of vital interest to Hubert Owens. To help make others aware of what they could do on the local level to acquire and preserve attractive communities and landscapes, he worked to establish and served as first chairman of the Landscape Design Study Courses of the National Council of State Garden Clubs. He is an affiliate of the American Institute of Planners and a member of the Georgia Art Commission. He was an active fighter in getting billboard legislation passed by the Georgia legislature. He was appointed first chairman of the Georgia State Board of Landscape Architects in 1957 and has served as a member since that time.

Brother Owens lives in Athens with his wife, Nan, a Phi Mu, and his two children—Sarah, a recent graduate of the University of Georgia where she was a member of Chi Omega, and Bond, a Phi Delta Theta, who is a Sophomore at the University. He is active in the Kiwanis Club, Deacon of the 1st Presbyterian Church, Trustee of the Society for the Preservation of Old Athens, and Chairman of the Athens Board of Zoning Appeals.

Prof. Owens is the first member from the Southern half of the U. S. A. ever to be elected President of the ASLA and will assume office at the close of the 65th annual meeting of the Society in Hartford, Conn. June 27-30.

Hubert B. Owens, Alpha Mu (Georgia).

THIS MONTH'S

"P.R." TIP

Increasingly, your National Office receives correspondence requesting information and ideas in regard to changing the "Hell Week" ideas of the past to a "Help Week" project. Interfraternity Councils are reviewing and changing their programs to prohibit the childish pranks and uncalled-for activities. This is good news to all who respect fraternity values and human dignity.

The question always arises: "What do we do to replace our old activities?" Briefly, the answer to that is, "Make 'em work". No good pledge will object to working if he knows the work he is doing is worthwhile. What's worthwhile, you ask? A lot of people will give you a lot of answers, but one answer is that it's worthwhile if it is constructive.

Three areas of work might be (1) improvement of the house or other quarters, (2) community service, and (3) campus service. Usually, there is plenty of work to be done around the house, but you should consider getting in touch with the local Chamber of Commerce or one of the many civic clubs. Tell them how many men you have to work and when they will be available. Normally, they can find some kind of work for you. Or maybe you had rather work at your school.

In The Bonds

By

EARL WATKINS
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Not too many years ago there was a young brother who attended his first Pi Kappa Alpha National Convention and Leadership School. He was thrilled with the spectacle of hundreds of brothers gathering together, exchanging information and ideas, taking time for a few songs of fellowship. Later when he returned to his chapter, the one thing that he remembered most was the Story of Pi Kappa Alpha, as told by National Historian Freeman H. Hart. I happen to be that brother, and I shall always be indebted to Dr. Hart for capturing the spirit of Pi Kappa Alpha's glorious past, and presenting it in a manner that a college boy could digest.

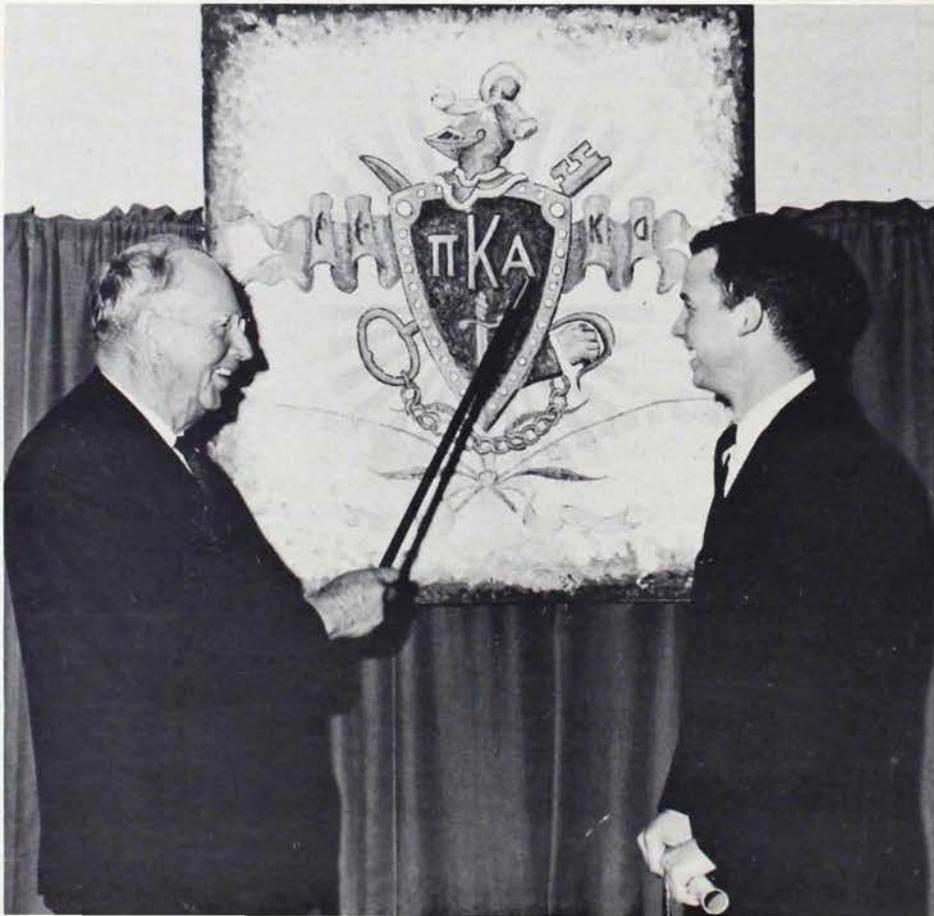

History will record the fact that Free Hart is one of the very few brothers who contributed most significantly to the Fraternity's success during its first century of existence. Like all men of firm conviction, he frequently found himself at cross-purposes with friends and acquaintances. No one can ever accuse him of duplicity; with Dr. Hart you always knew where you stood. In a society that is becoming increasingly regimented, this staunch individual will be missed.

I had the privilege of knowing Dr. Hart for only fifteen short years; yet I know that I was one of his true friends. He always bragged about the match he made between my wife and me, as he accompanied us, along with two Gold Star Mothers, on our third date, for dinner following the dedication of the Memorial Headquarters Building in 1954. We stood shoulder to shoulder on the big controversy of the 1960 Convention. Four years ago, when I was appointed Executive Director, he was one of the first to express words of confidence and encouragement to me. It was just last year that he was the principal speaker at a surprise unveiling ceremony when my chapter honored me by placing my portrait in their house. My eight-year-old son still brags about Dr. Hart's mentioning his name in his address at the 1964 Leadership School. We were together for the last time in February at old Hampden-Sydney, the place where Dr. Hart first came to know and love Pi Kappa Alpha.

The Old Scot, whom I dearly loved, has now joined the Chapter Eternal. I like to think that he is now enjoying a reunion with our Founding Fathers and others whom he has immortalized in his "History of Pi Kappa Alpha."

Carter Wins Championship

By V. L. SCHUG

On November 23, 1964 at East Lansing, Michigan, Western Michigan University won its first NCAA Cross-country championship. With this outstanding win came partial fulfillment of a dream for brother Jim Carter of Epsilon Psi.

Jim has been a strong cog in the cross-country team for two years and still has one year of eligibility left. The other part of that dream is next season to become an All-American.

Jim Carter is a junior from Berwyn, Illinois in printing management and business administration and has been a leader both on the cinders and in the Fraternity. Among his athletic accomplishments are: 1962 Illinois Junior College Mile Champion, and Morton, J. C., basketball team of Cicero, Illinois, as well as his activities at Western.

Of his affiliation with Pi Kappa Alpha Jim says, "PiKA has taught me many things which I could not have learned in the classroom. The relationship with the fraternity has been a rich and rewarding experience, one which I will cherish always."

Jim Carter is an outstanding young man and a fine representative of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Georgia Holds Biggest Founders' Day Banquet

By SPENCER RAGSDALE

Lee Talley (BK, Emory), chairman of the Board of Directors of the Coca Cola Co., was the featured speaker at the largest Founder's Day Banquet ever held by the Atlanta Alumni Association.

He was introduced by Wm. T. Turner, of the U. S. Foreign Service who was the first graduate of Beta Kappa Chapter at Emory University. He pointed out that Brother Talley is now one of the trustees of Emory University.

Lee Talley (left), BK, Chairman of the Board, The Coca-Cola Company, Atlanta, Founders Day speaker at Atlanta, introduced by Wm. T. Turner (right), first Beta-Kappa initiate to graduate from Emory University. Brother Turner is retired from the U. S. Foreign Service, after a life-time in the Far East.

Brother Talley traced the history of Pi Kappa Alpha from its earliest days. He said, "Building from the rubble of the South only three years after Appomattox, these six young men met on the campus of the University of Virginia to preserve the best of the heritage of the ante bellum South."

Brother Talley said, "Pi Kappa Alpha was founded on the solid rock of truth and its constitution was hammered out on the anvil of integrity."

"This fraternity has lived by a philosophy of excellence," he said and we must, "continue to adhere to this philosophy."

Executive Director Earl Watkins spoke briefly at the banquet. He expressed his pleasure at seeing so large a group assemble for Founders Day and complimented the Atlanta Alumni Association on receiving the award for best alumni chapter in the Fraternity at the last national convention.

Epsilon Nu Chapter at Georgia State College, which was chartered in 1960, was named the Most Outstanding Chapter in Georgia by the Atlanta Alumni Association and was also presented a check. Beta Kappa Chapter at Emory University was honored with the second highest award, Most Improved Chapter.

Pi Kappa Alpha National Secretary John Horton presented a certificate for 50 years of loyal membership to John Alonzo Shehan. Others recognized at the banquet for 50 or more years membership were: E. L. Wright, retired Headmaster at the Darlington Schools, who pledged in 1910 at William and Mary; Sam Hodges, who pledged in 1906 at Georgia Tech; William Huie of Psi and Alpha-Mu chapters, who pledged in 1912; and James Elliott, Sr., who pledged at Georgia Tech in 1910.

Progress reports were made by the four SMCs of the Pike chapters in Georgia.

New officers for the Atlanta Alumni Association were elected. They are: Eugene C. Clarke, Jr., president; Tomm O. Houk, vice president; William W. Barham, secretary treasurer. Harry Cashin, Jr., is the retiring president of the Association.

Alabama Moves Into New Chapter House

GAMMA-ALPHA MAKES THE MOVE! Since the beginning of the Spring semester we at Gamma-Alfa have been lavishing in the luxury of our newly constructed house on the University of Alabama campus. The new Pike House has undoubtedly boosted the spirit and drive of the Chapter. Our Spring rush party was a great success and set a new record in its attendance by rushees.

Free from the impairment of temporary housing the Chapter is now in better position to concentrate on the social, scholastic and political life of the fraternity. Officers for the Spring term are Wayne Malone, President; Bill Burgess, Vice-President and Rush Chairman; Douglas Muir, Treasurer; Jim Peavy, House Manager; and Hank Caddell, Secretary. Brother Caddell is also serving as Circulation Manager for Alabama's student newspaper and is presently preparing his campaign for Senator in the Student Legislature. Jim Wakefield is presently serving as a Senator.

Our social calendar for the Spring is quite complete—The main event was the Roman Holiday, held April 23 and 24. Pam Lewis, our Dream Girl for the year became also the Dream Girl for District 10 at our Founders Day celebration.

This semester we have added seven Freshmen to our pledge class, much above the usual second semester crop. Their scholarship thus far has been very good. Scholastically the Chapter rose five ranks among the fraternities here last semester, nonetheless we are still striving to reach our full scholastic potential and believe it can be reached.

We wish to invite all our brothers, especially Gamma-Alfa alumni, to drop by when in the vicinity and visit us and our new house.

Southwest Texas Colony Wins Title

The Pi Kappa Alpha Colony of Southwest Texas State dominated play among the fraternities in football intramurals this 1965 season, and with a fine 6-1-1 record carried off the title as Fraternity Champion of 1965. Playing for the first time under the Garnet and Gold, the Pikes placed four starters on the Fraternity All-Star team. Presently playing in basketball intramurals the Pikes have gained a 5-2 record with four games left to play.

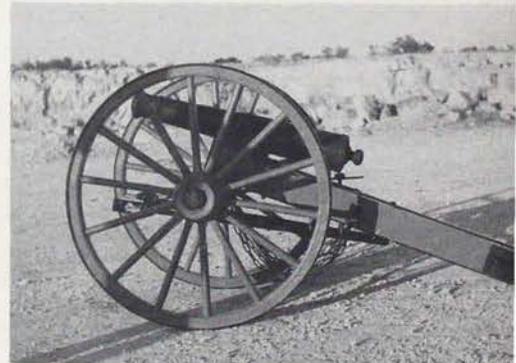

The Pikes scored a first in promoting the spirit of the school during athletic events this 1965 school year by the addition of a "victory cannon." The cannon, an authentic Civil War piece weighing some four hundred pounds, is owned and manned by the Pi Kappa Alpha Colony. The cannon is now in the hands of the IKA Pledge Class whose job it is to keep it in top shape.

This year was the first year that the men of the Southwest Colony rushed under the letters of a national organization. Those of us here believe that Rush this year was one of the most successful seasons that we have ever experienced. The level of the men taken as fall pledges reaches a high in the history of the colony. The future initiation of these men will further strengthen the colony's number one position on campus. This year's pledge class, numbering eighteen, will give the colony a returning membership of fifty in the fall of 1966.

Campus honors were numerous for the Pikes this year. To list but a few: Two Gallardians (campus favorites), Delta Sigma Delta Man of the Year (local sorority), school cheerleaders, Justice of the Student Court, and membership in Alpha Chi (national scholarship organization).

Southwestern Texas State Colony at San Marcos, Texas, is proud of its Pi KA victory cannon.

Doyle and Mathis Ohio State Scholars

The men of Alpha Rho, Ohio State University, were honored to have as their guest speaker at this year's Founder's Day Banquet the National President, Charles L. Freeman. We found Brother Freeman's talk to be very inspiring.

Several outstanding men of AP were honored at the banquet. Al Krebs was named as the most outstanding alumnus member.

Gary A. Gieser was named as the most outstanding undergraduate member, and Fred Mussler was named as the most outstanding pledge.

"Chief Engineer" Gary A. Gieser, was recently replaced at the throttle by Daniel J. Sweeney, our new S.M.C. The other new officers are Frederick W. Mussler, I.M.C., Alan W. Penick, Th.C., and Robert Brown, S.C. Brother Gieser's regime was characterized by continual growth on the part of the chapter. Brother Gieser and five other brothers will graduate at the end of this school year.

Two brothers were recently honored for their fine scholarship. Gary Doyle was elected to membership in Tau Beta Pi (Engineering Honorary), and was granted a National Science Foundation Fellowship. Robert F. Mathis was elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa, and was granted a National Science Foundation Traineeship.

Donald H. Williams, a man who has contributed much time and hard work and who has served as an inspiration to us during the past several years as Alumnus Counselor, was recently replaced by Paul C. VanNatta in that position. Brother VanNatta is an ardent and hard-working alumnus who has served AP for many years.

Alpha Rho walked away from the District Convention (District 15) in Cincinnati this year with the trophy for best chapter attendance. We will be the host chapter for next year's District Convention here in Columbus.

We received a new mascot this winter: a young and rambunctious squirrel monkey, named Mortimer Altonius Beaugard. Mort, as he was usually called, was presented with an honorary pledge pin, and, as can well be imagined, he added much color and excitement to the chapter house. Unfortunately, a short while thereafter, Mort depledged.

Grissom Speaks At Drake University

The most significant event of the recent months for Delta Omicron Chapter was the pleasure of having Garth Grissom as guest speaker at our Founder's Day Dinner. This dinner is held annually in honor of National Founder's Day and in memory of Delta Omicron's founding on February 25, 1950. The climax of the evening was the address by Brother Grissom, a member of the Supreme Council. He inspired everyone with a fine speech on Fraternalism and the importance of the bonds that link together every Pi Kappa Alpha.

Other headline events of the evening included the awarding of the scholarship trophies. Tom Lauterback received the active trophy and Tom Wallace received the pledge trophy for the highest grade point of the previous semester. The award for outstanding pledge of the previous semester was given to Dick Eyestone.

During the first weekend in March many of our brothers traveled to the District Convention at Zeta Delta, Parsons College. Delta Omicron won both trophies given at the convention: the "Most-Man-Miles" Trophy and the District Basketball Championship Trophy. Next year Delta Omicron will host the District Convention and we are looking forward to this privilege.

Another important spring event was the initiation of twelve men into the bonds of Pi Kappa Alpha. These men are Harvey Bally, Ed Christensen, Douglas Cooper, Larry Dart, Dick Eyestone, Jim Foglesong, Roger Fuhrman, Allen Haun, John Heckel, Dennis Panici, John Waggoner, and Tom Wallace.

The Spring semester will find Delta Omicron participating in volleyball, softball, wrestling, golf, and track. With some good teamwork and individual showings we should place among the top four houses in the fraternity league.

Our social calendar included a Roman Toga Party, an Inferno Party, and exchanges with Kappa Kappa Gamma, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Chi Omega. Also to be held is an open house and dinner dance for alumni, parents and members during the nationally famous Drake Relays.

One of the most interesting events of the Spring was a car-stuff that the local fraternities participated in. The Pikes were able to stuff 27 brothers into one car for second place in the contest.

We deeply appreciate the wonderful support that we are receiving from our Des Moines Alumni Organization. The alumni have a fine group of elected officers: Larry Duncan, President; Bill Tate, Vice President; and Don Havens, Secretary-Treasurer. The alumni meetings are held once a month and have been very well attended in the past.

Alumnus Herb Miller (A-Φ, Iowa State) has been ill for sometime now and enjoys all the letters and cards he receives from his brothers. Brother Miller has been a great asset to Delta Omicron while serving on our housing corporation. He is secretary of the National Chapter House Commission.

The 1964-1965 school year has proven itself to be the best in Delta Omicron's fifteen-year history. In the past nine months we have seen our chapter grow soundly.

New House Planned At Southern Miss.

Delta Mu's recent Homecoming brought about the culmination of plans for a new house. Inspired by the backing of our alumni, the active brothers are taking the necessary steps to start construction. The alumni meeting saw the election of the following officers: Wayne Hart, president; Wayne Babin, vice president; Bob Nelson, secretary; and Thomas Nance, treasurer. President Hart urges each alumnus to send his present address to Box 427, Southern Station, Hattiesburg, Miss. These up-to-date addresses will allow our alumni secretary to keep our alumni posted on the progress of the new house.

During Fall quarter Jim McCaslin and Vic Purvis were chosen for Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership society. ODK is the highest recognition awarded men students of Southern Mississippi.

Delta Mu placed second in the annual Chi Omega Song Fest to wind up an exciting year for PiKA. The new year is promising as the basketball team is on its way to another intramural championship.

The present officers are: Don Renegar, SMC; Pat Sheehan, IMC; Larry Patterson, SC; Skippy Reynolds, Th.C.

Lamar State Emphasizes Scholarship . . .

Scholastically, EK currently ranks third on campus only .09 out of first place. Last year one-third of the brothers posted averages over 2.0 (3 point system) with brothers, Robert Dyer and George Thomas posting perfect grades. Lamar's scholarship race is extremely competitive.

Marita Blanton, Phi Mu, is our current Dream Girl. Last year, the Pikes and Delta Zetas co-sponsored a day to honor Miss Celeste Kitchen, college registrar, for her years of service. Miss Kitchen, our honorary Dream Girl, received a Texas size thank you from many city leaders. Our pledges are currently holding parties for the pledge classes of Lamar's six sororities. We are the only group to hold such exchanges.

We are proud of our rank of 8th nationally in scholarship and of our placing second in the Harvey T. Newell Award competition. We are also proud of nine Pike alumni who hold top positions on Lamar's campus.

Tom Hartman is current SMC; Malcolm Duke, IMC; and Kenneth Kennedy, Th.C.

East Central State Enjoying New House

After much work and preparation the Pikes of Epsilon Omega have moved into a brand new house. Some finishing on construction is still being done, but everyone is adjusting to their new quarters.

The house was originally designed for student apartment housing, but due to a stroke of good luck and the rapid growth of Pi Kappa Alpha at East Central State, the Pikes were given this new building for a fraternity house.

The house is composed of sixteen apartments in three sections. Each apartment houses four men, and each apartment has two bedrooms with central heat, air conditioning, an all electric kitchenette, and very ample closet space. On first floor a chapter room and a lounge were made from two separate apartments and on second floor special accommodations were made for our housemother, Mom Anderson.

The housing is set up so that members live on second floor and our pledges live on first floor.

Even though there is much excitement about the new house we must take time to recognize two of our members who were chosen for Who's Who in American Colleges. The men are Terry Harrison, our past scholarship chairman, and Charles Rumsey, our present SMC.

Broussard Elected Vice President At L. S. U.

The 1964-65 scholastic year continues to be a prosperous one for Alpha Gamma Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha at Louisiana State University.

During the Fall campus-wide elections Andy Broussard was elected vice president of the College of Arts and Sciences in a spirited contest. His campaign slogan, "In Your Heart You Know He's Right," proved to be a good deal more successful for Brother Broussard than for another of last Fall's office seekers.

For the fourth straight season, the chapter published its "Beauties of LSU" calendar, picturing a member of one of the various sororities as the featured girl for each month. As in the past, the calendar has proven a popular feature all over the campus. Brothers Clay Johnson and Tim Ellen-der were primarily responsible for seeing this task through to completion, with the valuable aid of SMC Al Wright.

Rush Week last September saw the LSU Pikes acquire a pledge class of forty members—including pledges from all parts of Louisiana and from several other states as well. Chosen pledge class president was Russell Mixon.

Plans for the coming Spring call for both the traditional Founders' Day program and the Spring Formal. At last year's Founders' Day Banquet, then National President Joe C. Scott was the featured speaker. He delivered an inspirational address which is still being discussed by the brothers around the house.

Recently Louisiana's progressive new governor, John McKeithen, noted that "a new day is dawning for our state,"—an observation that also might well be applied to the PiKA chapter in Louisiana's capital city.

Georgetown Pledges Largest Class

Hard work and cooperation by the brothers at Alpha-Lambda resulted in a very successful rush season and on March 20, we found ourselves with the largest pledge class on campus. An exceptionally large freshman class made possible the acquisition of twenty men.

In February, we elected Larry Yoder to lead us during the following year. Serving with him on the executive board are: IMC David Lee, SC Gary Burbage, ThC George Olsen, and House Manager Keith Stephens.

Brother Yoder was elected president of the Student Government Association for the coming year.

A standout for Alpha-Lambda this year in the field of sports is David Lee, guard on the basketball team. He ended the season second in scoring in the competitive K.I.A.C. with a 19.8 average.

The coming of spring brings thoughts of outings and formals. Under our new leadership we have had a serenade and we are looking forward to many more activities. Competition for the Intra-mural Trophy is again at fever pitch and we are struggling to win it for the fifth time in six years.

With a fine new pledge class and capable leadership we will proudly celebrate our sixtieth year on this campus upon our return in the fall.

Alpha Eta University of Florida

During the final week before initiation Alpha-Eta pledges all carry canes 24 hours a day. Sorority girls steal and decorate them. In order to get them back the whole pledge class serenades the sorority house. The final event is presenting a trophy to the sorority that got the most canes and one to the girl who got the most.

Our 50th annual Mothers' Day Reception on February 14 was its usual success with over 500 people attending. We had the pleasure of honoring 3 mothers who have attended each year for 50 years.

Newly elected officers for the 1965-66 school year are: SMC, Mike Neal, IMC Jim Bogner, ThC Bud Cobbs, House Mgr. Billy Macomber, Pledge Master, Jack Palmer, Social Chairman Joe Sanders, Historian Bill Murphy, and SC Bob Kemp.

Awards for this year are: Jack T. Estabrook award for the most outstanding brother went to past SMC Abe Kinner, Most improved brother award went to Chester Clarke, and the Intramural award went to Chester Clarke, and the Intramural award was given to Jack Palmer.

With 39 new brothers Pikes at the University of Florida look forward to the best year yet in 1965-66.

PiKA's at Auburn Compete For Student Offices

Upsilon chapter is looking forward to a successful spring and summer quarter with a new slate of officers and twelve new initiates. The new officers are William M. Parker III, SMC; Ernest Falkner III, IMC; Terry Wayne Mitchell, ThC No. 1; Ronald Walker Kirkland, ThC No. 2; Edward Joiner, Kitchen Steward; Richard Mallory Garwood, Grounds Manager; Michael Bruce Parsons, House Manager; Billy Howard, Alumni Sec.

PiKA has been active in Auburn campus politics this year with Randy Partin as President of the IFC, William Parker as Chairman of the IFC Social Committee, and Charles Majors, President of the Auburn Law Society.

Pikes are well represented on Auburn athletic teams this spring. David Outland is captain of the golf team, and John Lange and John Schell are both holding down slots on the tennis team. Randy Partin and Tommy Christopher are on the track team, with Christopher holding the SEC pole vault record. Jack Hartsfield is captain of the Auburn Gymnastics team.

Spring quarter will be a busy one for Upsilon with many activities scheduled, including the upcoming Seventieth Anniversary Alumni Convention, the house party, and spring rush.

Ga. Tech Initiates One Thousandth Member

On Saturday February 13, 1965, Alpha Delta chapter located at Georgia Tech initiated ten new members into the fraternity. Ken Ledbetter, the tenth man fraternity. Ken Ledbetter, the tenth man initiated, became the one thousandth member to be inducted into the bonds by Alpha Delta since its founding on February 20, 1904. Other initiates were Steve Bishop, Johnny Crane, Charlie Fitch, David Hackstadt, Don Miller, Jake McGuire, Rick Serafin, Jeff Dabney, and Gene Smith.

These pledges and the new housemother Mrs. Albert Wright have helped Delta chapter to become the number two fraternity on the Tech campus. Working together, the brothers and pledges have succeeded in raising the chapter's scholastic standing, have won the annual gym meet, and have taken third places in football, stunt night, and the famed Rambling Wreck Parade.

Chapter spirit and enthusiasm is at an all time high; and under the leadership of newly elected SMC Butch Landers, the Tech chapter should continue to progress.

Mississippi State Elects Officers

Gamma Theta has been a beehive of activity closing out our Spring semester's work. Although we regret the separation during the summer months, we eagerly anticipate the rest from our schoolwork.

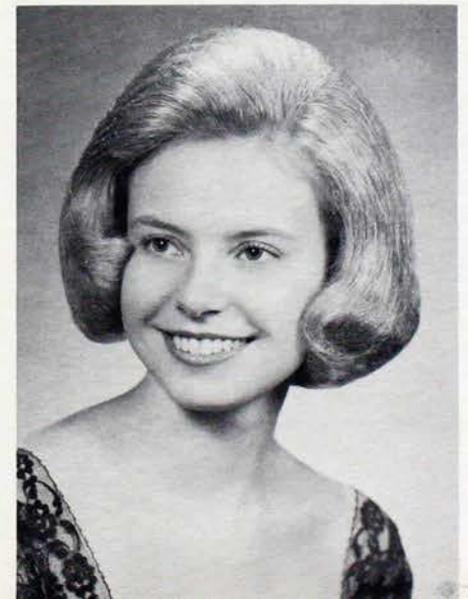

The new SMC is Melvin Payne, the IMC Bill Jordan, and SC Richard Deane. Larry Wilson is now serving his second semester as ThC.

On May 1, Gamma Theta held its annual Dream Girl Formal here at the house. Erma Thomas and her band provided the music for the gala affair. The decorations and favors added the final touch to complete a perfect weekend. At the intermission of the dance, the announcement of the new Dream Girl was made. She is the lovely Charlene Canova.

At the first of the semester, we welcomed eighteen boys into the sacred bonds of PiKA. We are proud of the quality of the new initiates, and are happy that we could offer such men the joys of being a part of our great fraternity.

Sam Houston Crowds Trophy Case

Epsilon Pi chapter of Sam Houston State once again rode the crest of Greek systems on campus this year. Campus elections were indirectly decided at the chapter house and trophy cases were remodeled to brace six new awards.

The campus election for class officers seemed more like a Pike political committee meeting. Out of nine possible class officers, seven were Pikes, including all the class presidents. Johnny Robinson began the "snowball" by being elected student body and senatorial congress president. John Hulo and Charles Garner then won senior class president and vice president elections. The surprise of the election came when "dark horse" Tommy Jones won junior class president without the help of the block vote. Johnny Downing did the impossible by winning sophomore class president after last year serving as the sophomore favorite. Pledges Richard Landers and Johnny Cook took the offices of sophomore vice president and freshman president.

Pikes boasted yet another feat when Chip Westman took over the office as Intrafraternity Council president and Richard Fountain was elected IFC treasurer. The office of president was again filled with PiKAs when Charles Peterson headed Alpha Chi and Ted Blanton presided over the Young Democrats. Altogether, there were 12 PiKAs seated in the Senatorial Congress.

Two Romcos, Gary Moore and Don Fulton, flirted their way into being named Kappa Delta Beau and Alpha Delta Pi "Lil' Abner."

From there our minds turned to trophy collecting. In a period of one week four trophies were brought to the house. Mike Birowski turned Sterling Moss in driving his way to victory in the Soap Box Derby. The car set a new Greek record for time and also brought home the trophy for being the best constructed soap box.

Headed by Song Director Van Russell,

Epsilon Pi chapter sang their way to a second place trophy in Greek Sing Song. We received even more prestige when it was announced that we had won the Greek scholarship trophy by attaining the highest grade point average ever achieved by a fraternity on campus. Sometime later we happily received the news that our chapter had been ranked third in the nation of all chapters in scholarship.

At District Convention, National President Charles L. Freeman gave our chapter another scholarship trophy for having the highest average in our district.

Enough trophies? Not yet. Pledge Jeffrell decided that gold was to his liking, as he fought his way to a winning trophy in the Greek sponsored "Fight Night."

Officers for the past semester include: Dallas Garrett, S.M.C.; Tommy Jones, I.M.C.; Paul Roch, S.C.; Ralph Stenzel, Th.C.; and Anthony Boatcallie, M.C.

Lehigh Chapter Entertains Univ. Pres.

This year's rushing wound up as the most successful in the history of Gamma Lambda. Using such propaganda as fifth in last year's interfraternity sports and fourth this year among fraternities in house averages (2.412), we brothers plunged headlong into the midst of the freshmen. There are twenty-one new future brothers of Pi Kappa Alpha—the largest number of pledges taken by a fraternity at Lehigh University.

These pledges certainly cover the entire spectrum of college freshmen. Coming from both North and South America, they include athletes, scholars, and such fine men whom you will be proud to call "brother." Pledged on February 13, 1965, these are: Gary Anderson, Baltimore, Md.; Eric Brecht, Berwick, Pa.; Don Cloud, Norwalk, Conn.; Gary Collison, Lewistown, Pa.; Chuck Cook, Pennsauken, N.J.; Augusto Costa, Lima, Peru; Dan Grimes, Cumberland, Pa.; Dick Haslett, Bethlehem, Pa.; Steve Hessler, Hockessin, Del.; Bill Hitch, Wilmington, Del.; George Klassik, Summit, N.J.; Steve Lawrence, Baskin Ridge, N.J.; Bob Mathers, Haverstown, Pa.; Doug Miller, Catasauqua, Pa.; Matt Ross, Oceanside, N.Y.; Jack Scott, Westport, Conn.; Ted Stryker, Lititz, Pa.; Joe Toth, Trenton, N.J.; Harvey Trimble, Princeton, N.J.; Gabe Laco, Steel City, Pa.; and John Whitney, Wayne, Pa.

On January 15, 1965 Dr. W. Deming Lewis, the President of Lehigh University, along with several of the faculty of Lehigh had dinner at Gamma Lambda of Pi Kappa Alpha. Dr. Lewis provided stimulating conversations with the brothers and was highly interested in the brothers' opinions on various aspects of colleges and now Lehigh could be made a better university. He is very much interested in his students and strives to attain the complete cooperation of fraternities with the university. Gamma Lambda of Pi Kappa Alpha is honored to have entertained Dr. W. Deming Lewis.

Dr. Ogletree Presents Historic Badge To Howard College Chapter

The Howard College Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha received historic fraternity pin from one of the chapter's original members. The pin, a gift of Dr. Wiley D. Ogletree, is a jeweled Sigma Omicron Tau badge. SOT was the local fraternity that was chartered Alpha Pi Chapter on March 10, 1911. It is believed to be the only pin of its type that is in existence today. Therefore, it has been framed and placed in the lodge for all alumni and visitors to see.

Scholarship has become an increasingly important part of fraternity activities at Alpha Pi. For the past three or four semesters our grade average has continually improved. Last Spring, thanks to the diligent work of actives and pledges, we earned the highest single semester fraternity average ever recorded at Howard college.

To help bolster student spirit at football games, PiKA is contributing a victory bell. The bell, which is painted bright red with gold "PiKA" lettering on it, was given to the chapter by Brother Tony Kent. The bell was originally used by his great-great-grandfather to call slaves from the cotton fields.

Marshall Pledged Twenty-Seven Men

The first semester of the 1964-1965 year saw a successful rush by the men of Delta Iota, who received twenty-seven pledges. The pooled efforts of the actives and pledges produced a second place win in the Homecoming float competition at Marshall University. The float was 57 feet long and featured life size figures ramming a colossal cannon in conjunction with the theme, "Rally Around Marshall."

Delta Iota began the second semester by electing the following officers: Charles Evans, SMC; Jim Odum, IMC; Larry Oezio, Initiation was held recently and those pledges received into bonds of brotherhood were: Bob Bryan, Sam Hooten, Tony Kent, Jimmy Pridgen, Bill Proctor, Robert Wright and Larry Wood.

None of the fraternities have had pledging as Howard is on a deferred rush system. However we hope we have a slight edge with the freshmen because of our summer rush program. Bob Gentle and Jim Henderson, co-rush chairmen, did a fine job organizing and planning the various parties. Also, Bob Snow, alumni advisor, helped us by making pictures of all rushees. These pictures help brothers to remember names and faces that might be forgotten in the confusion of rush week.

The Alpha Pi House Corporation has several improvements in the making for our lodge this semester. Sound-proofing the chapter room with acoustical tile, building a wall and outside lighting will add much to our fraternity living.

*Robert C. McAllister
A-II, Howard College*

Pledge Master; Paul Blaum remained Th.C., and Patrick Adkins remained SC.

Within recent weeks there have been numerous and conspicuous improvements throughout the house. The basement and the kitchen were completely renovated and rooms were painted.

Formal rushing has begun for the second semester and preparations for another fine pledge class are under way.

Delta Psi Number One In Scholarship At Maryland

The fall semester, 1964-65, afforded Delta Psi Chapter its greatest achievement since its rebirth only three and a half years ago — Pi Kappa Alpha is the number one scholastic fraternity at the University of Maryland. One semester previously our chapter had placed last (24th) in fraternity scholarship. With a spirited, concerted effort led by scholarship chairman Dick Phillipy, PiKA achieved a 2.439 average (4 pt. system), by far the highest fraternity average on campus.

This semester also witnessed PiKA winning two campus trophies by winning the Pi Beta Phi Holiday Doors Contest and the Alpha Omicron Pi Red Cross Blood Drive, and the election of Past SMC Charles Bowers to the fraternity honorary, Kalegothos.

At the semester's close Delta Psi was proud to initiate ten new brothers: Michael J. Collins, James H. Benson, Charles A. Besser, Fredrick A. Faffley, Wayne C. Cavanaugh, Richard H. Sothoron Jr., James F. Carter, Gordon VanDyke Miller, Robert J. Bauer, and Thomas J. McCubbin.

Spring semester was greeted with much enthusiasm. Inspired by Charles A. Randle, SMC; Lee M. Seabolt, IMC; William J. Callahan, Jr., SC; and Dennis R. Wrasse, Th.C., and complemented by Social Chairman Bill YaCola, the chapter pledged six fine men.

In Spring sports Delta Psi wrestlers earned PiKA its first intramural championship. Wayne Fanzone (147) and Pledge John Schickler (130) were semi-finalists while Chuck Besser (123) and Jim Benson (137) easily outclassed all opponents in winning intramural gold medals.

Fraternal spirit reached its heights at the PiKA Founders Day Dinner at the Park University Hotel. Alumni and undergraduates were honored to have as guest speaker Brother Maston O'Neil, Congressman from the State of Georgia. At this dinner Gordon V. Miller was named outstanding pledge, James Carter received the pledge scholarship award, and Richard Phillipy was honored for achieving the Dean's List and the highest house average.

Delta Psi's only misfortune was the transferring of District President John L. Layton. Because of Brother Layton's interest in Delta Psi's housing situation and his unselfish, personal help given the chapter, John was awarded an engraved plaque to show in a small way our deepest appreciation. We at Delta Psi know that Brother Layton's inspiration, enthusiasm, and drive will be missed not only by our chapter but by all chapters in District Three.

The past semesters have witnessed PiKA successes in new and diverse fields. Although presently hampered by inadequate housing, Delta Psi will continue to drive hard for our ever present goal—top fraternity at the University of Maryland. This determined attitude will be carried on by the elected officers,

Pat Hollaran Joins National Staff

Pat Halloran, former S.M.C. of Delta Chi, became a National Field Secretary on March 1st. In his years at Omaha, Pat contributed much to the chapter while serving as I.M.C., interfraternity representative, Pledge trainer, and S.M.C. He is certain to do as much for the Fraternity nationally as he did at the local level with Delta Chi.

An Omaha Alumni association has been founded, through the cooperation of many brothers in the area. Temporary officers include Jim Leslie, president; Simon Simon and Bill Kautter, vice-presidents; and Ed Young, treasurer.

The Greek Week Banquet again provided Delta Chi with the lions' share of the goodies. For the third year in a row, we won the I.F.C. Scholarship Cup. In doing so, we once again retired the Cup, the only Fraternity on campus ever to do so. Trophies were given at this time for the twelve intramural sports on campus. Of the twelve, Delta Chi took seven, placing first in football, indoor track, outdoor track, softball, volley ball, archery, and swimming. Some of the brothers who were outstanding in the intramural program included: football: Dave Harrington, Tim Swisher, and Rich Tompsett; track, Doug Slaughter, Mike Sweet, Craig Hoenshell, pledge Steve Wyant; swimming, John Thomas, Claude Jelen, Mike Moore, Keeter Johnson; archery, Steve Gidley; softball, Harv Gilbert, Terry Tuner; and volleyball, Mike Mench, Jim Boe, pledge Dick Harris.

On March 21, seven men were initiated into the bonds. They were Buddy Belitz, Jim Boe, Harold Conner, Dan Parker, Jack Randow, Norm Slarer and Rick Switzer.

Pikes play a vital role in varsity baseball this Spring. Eddie Bryant, at 3rd base, is captain of the team, as was Brother Ken Allen last year; Larry Krehbiel is the mainstay of the pitching staff with a 14-0 all-college record. He was NAIA All-American last season. Donny Gilbert is a utility infielder with a lot of potential. Pledge John Robino is a pitcher in his first season with the C.I.C. champions. He had an excellent high school record, and has the potential for an excellent college record as well.

Field secretary Dick Ogle is currently visiting in Omaha. A graduate of the University of Alabama, he is returning to law school next year. We are impressed with him.

We are proud to welcome Bill Burn into the chapter. He is a transfer from Alpha Phi (Iowa State) and we expect a lot of work from him in the next year.

The spring pledge class consists of 14 fine men, with John Whisman serving as president. John tells me all 14 will go active in July. We'll see.

Officers for the coming year include: Rich Tompsett, president, Ramon Hoenshell, vice president; Mike Sweet, secretary; Claude Jelen, treasurer; Mike Moore, pledge trainer; Larry Forman, social chairman; Bob Autenreith, Sgt. at arms; and Jim Thompson, intramural director.

At the Founders Day dinner dance, the annual awards were given to the men who had contributed most in certain chapter areas. Recipients were Joe Snell, best active; Jim Boe, best pledge; and Dave Harrington best athlete. The big brother-little brother team of Doug Slaughter and Jack Randow won the White-Gilmore scholarship award. At this time, before leaving for National office, Pat Halloran received an award from the Chapter for outstanding service.

Pikes on the Omaha University varsity baseball team are (l. to r.): Don Gilbert, All-American Larry Krehbiel, Captain Ed Bryant, and John Robino.

Idaho Colony Occupies Chapter House

The men of the Idaho Colony have had their time well occupied for the last few weeks. Of prime concern is remodeling the house and planning for the Dream Girl dance.

After moving all twenty-six members into the house, work began on removal of walls, finishing floors, and painting. Necessary furniture was also procured through trades with other fraternity houses on campus as well as local businesses. There are other remodeling plans which will hopefully be completed this summer.

The Dream Girl Dance was held April third and was the main social function for the Idaho men this semester. Candidates were chosen and the first Dream Girl of the colony was named at the dance.

Officers for the colony were elected recently. These men will serve a full year term to help get the house more firmly established. Elected officers were: President, John Tullis; Vice-President, Keith Ries; and Secretary, Dennis Johnson. The new administration has already assigned men to the appointed house offices.

Studies are of primary importance for the remainder of the year. The men are working to attain a house average above that of the all-men's average for the campus. We hope to meet this and all other requirements so that we may become a chapter in October.

Eastern Illinois Pledges Visit National Office

Pledge walk-outs are usually newsworthy only to the chapters involved. This story is one that will interest and concern all active chapters. It will stand for a long time to come as a challenge to pledge classes everywhere.

At Zeta Gamma, the 19 man pledge class met in secret. Their goal was to take an active and afford him the courtesies of being their guest on a trip to the IKA capital, Memphis. Two weeks of planning resulted in the two actives and, from the chapter house, a gift for the National office, in the form of a disgustingly healthy rubber plant which sapped its livelihood from the personal attentions of the pledges.

The chapter had planned a dance for this week-end. Naturally, the decorations were to be made by the Neophyte Nineteen. As crepe paper was unrolled in the house, miles of southern highway rolled beneath 4 cars. The lead and last cars were in touch by CB radio. Late in the evening a chaotic house discovered the loss of two brothers, a plant, and a huge Confederate flag, as pounds of party favors piled up in every conceivable corner of the chapter house.

Also, late in the evening, the caravan stopped for dinner. At a restaurant in southern Illinois, the other patrons were amazed and amused to hear the strains of "Red Roses for a Blue Lady" suddenly come to life. The Zeta Gamma men raised their voices in song—with a pleasant effect.

"The unity of this Fraternity" also often extolled in lyrics was proved in a decisive way. Upon leaving the restaurant, a stop light helped to send 4 cars on 4 different routes! But, as all roads lead to Rome, at least 4 roads which pass through Memphis merge at Fulton, Kentucky. And here, in the dead of night, those 4 cars were reunited, just outside town, on a lonely stretch of the open highway.

Once in Memphis, the 21 men went nearly directly to the National office. They detoured slightly in order to have breakfast and get a general impression of the city. Once at the National, tired from their journey, the fellows shaved, washed up, and one even washed his hair. The pledges sang for Brother Earl Watkins (they are always singing). It was with some little hesitation that the presentation of the plant, majestically resting on the Confederate flag, was made. The plant was dead. Unexpected freezing temperatures and a sudden stop, piling a dozen shaving kits and briefcases on the floor had seriously effected it. A leaking tin of brake fluid had the final effect; however, with customary understanding, Brother Earl made a gracious acceptance.

As Brother Earl later went downstairs, after his personally conducted tour of the building, the pledges rallied to the suggestion of one of their brothers. The pledge meeting in the Supreme Council chamber, behind locked doors and drawn blinds will long be remembered. As a parting gesture, before Brother Earl Watkins took them out to lunch, the great heritage of IKA was revitalized by raising the Rebel flag on the flag pole on the Headquarter's front lawn.

When they had returned to home ground, impressed with the signs and symbols they had looked upon, these men knew the feeling of national brotherhood. And, of deeper personal consequences, after the rigors and acts and the events of this journey which lie between these lines, these men knew strong unity which will never depart from them. They went active one week later and ΦΦΚΑ became to them a description, deep reality, a memory of the trip to Memphis.

Ficek scores again for Eastern!! This was the familiar sound to Panther followers this basketball season. Jim Ficek, senior forward, has consistently come through in moments of decision for EIU.

At Western Illinois University, Eastern needed the win to cinch a tie in Conference play. The lead see-sawed back and forth the entire game until 8 seconds were left in the game. Jim hit a lay-up to win the game by a mere 1 point lead. Jim totalled 26 points for the game.

Brother Jim set the Eastern record for field goal percentage when he shot 56.7% from the field. He also won the 1964 IAC individual scoring crown with 151 points in 8 games for an average of 18.9 points per game. He was the best field goal shooter in the conference, making 60 of 94 attempts for 63.8%. We of Zeta Gamma doff our hats to a great, great Pike, Jim Ficek.

On March 26, we initiated into the bonds of fraternal brotherhood a pledge class that had proven itself to be the top pledge class on campus and, according to Earl Watkins, one of the best pledge classes of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Epsilon Phi Occupies New Quarters

Epsilon Phi chapter at Arkansas State Teachers College has just completed furnishing a new fraternity room which is located on the second floor of Arkansas Hall. This past December 1 each of the fraternities on campus moved to separate floors in a new million-dollar dormitory and a room on each floor is provided by the school as a study lounge and fraternity room. This takes the place of fraternity houses on this campus. We have furnished our room at a cost of $9,000 to $10,000. At one end of the room is a kitchenette and officers table. On the opposite end there is a walnut trophy case with glass sliding doors displaying the intramural trophies which we have won. We have won the sports sweepstakes trophy for the previous six years.

In the center of this trophy case there is a built-in color television set. The floor of the room is covered with a garnet carpet. The glass south wall is covered with old gold colored drapes. The other walls are paneled in walnut to match the trophy case, built-ins and officers table. The furniture is black and gold leather and the coffee table is walnut with a red leather inlaid top. The end tables are also finished in walnut.

On March 25, we had our open house. The guest of honor was Miss Betty Kai Turner, our Dream Girl. Mrs. Silas Snow, wife of Brother Silas D. Snow, president of the college, and Mrs. Richardson were hostesses. The presidents of the sororities on campus served punch and cookies.

We climaxed a most successful evening by defeating our arch-rival fraternity for the volleyball championship and in doing so clinched the intramural sweepstakes trophy for the seventh consecutive year.

E Z First in All-Sing

Epsilon Zeta Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity at East Tennessee University took first place in the 1965 Winter Quarter All-Sing this year. After many weeks of hard work and careful planning, and with the able leadership of Ron McCulloch as Director, and Marian Gimbal at the piano, EZ carried away the first place trophy singing: "Go Tell It on the Mountain," and "Get Me to the Church."

EZ started the year off right by giving a Calendar Girl Dance for the entire student body the first week of the quarter. At intermission the fraternity presented its 12 calendar girls and the calendars immediately went on sale. This year's calendar, in full color, is the best in the chapter's history, each month being represented by a campus beauty. A hand should go to Bob Shaver and Sam Deen for their many months of hard work which was responsible for the calendar's success.

EZ held its annual Founder's Day Banquet at the Broadway Restaurant in Johnson City on March 1. Brother William McElveen, Assistant Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, acted as Master of Ceremonies. After a delicious buffet dinner, Phil Thomas, Dean of Men at East Tennessee, presented Dan Wexler a Golden Member certificate for his 50 years of service to Pi Kappa Alpha. Parts of the program were televised over WJHL in Johnson City.

Elections were held in March for the 1965-66 school year. The new officers are as follows: President, Dan Mahoney; Vice President, Vint Rector; Secretary, Boone Vance, and Treasurer, Ralph Sutherland.

Dan Mahoney, Ralph Sutherland, Ron McCulloch, Joe Stacks and Bill Allen acted as delegates to the Regional Convention held in Nashville, March 26-27. Henry Cullom was re-elected District President and much was accomplished in the way of uniting the four chapters in Region 12.

Bradley Develops Balanced Program

A well-rounded fraternity is what every Pi Kappa Alpha chapter works toward. At the Delta Sigma chapter, Bradley University, this goal is being accomplished. Brotherhood above all, prominence in scholarship, athletics and social events, and good alumni relations—as well as a fine campus reputation—are the things Delta Sigma has emphasized in building its well-rounded chapter.

In scholarship, Delta Sigma was first out of fifteen Bradley fraternities last year. Last semester Delta Sigma's active chapter again placed above the all-men's average on campus. In social events, Pike parties are the undisputed first among other Greek houses. Among the social extravaganzas held this year have been an elaborate Hawaiian Party, a fast-paced Roaring 20's Party, and a sophisticated evening at Pike's Playboy Penthouse.

In campus activities Pi Kappa Alpha has become firmly rooted. Campus offices held by Delta Sigma this year have included editor of the Scout, the Bradley newspaper; station manager of Bradley radio station WRBU; cadet commander of the ROTC; Senior Class treasurer; two student senators; secretary of the Interfraternity Council; and chairman of the Bradley Greek Week. In elections, coming up soon, brothers of Delta Sigma are nominees on the Greek coalition ticket for junior class president, sophomore class senator, and IFC treasurer.

In alumni relations, a special effort is being made to tie the bonds between alumni and undergraduates. For the first time alumni pledge fathers have been chosen for the pledges along with their undergraduate pledge fathers. Each pledge is assigned the name of a recent graduate and then begins regular correspondence with him. This keeps the alumni informed of activities in the house, and at the same time gives the pledge a little extra motivation in his striving toward initiation.

The Delta-Signals, our chapter newspaper, has been slanted directly toward the alumni, allowing plenty of space for news briefs from the alums, and acknowledgment for their contributions and associations with the house. An up-to-date list of all alumni and their addresses is maintained for the use of the other alumni brothers.

Th. C. "Money Bags" Jim James, Δ-Σ (Bradley).

Athletics do much more than just show Delta Sigma's athletic capabilities. They instill in every member the desire to work and play together for success—brotherhood exemplified. Players or spectators, we all do our part to have Pi Kappa Alpha supported not only as a team, but as a fraternity as well.

Pi Kappa Alpha is a lesson in life. At Delta-Sigma, this lesson is taught to every brother and pledge. Cooperation and most of all, a strong brotherhood, has made our prominence and success possible. A constant and devoted struggle to uphold the ideals of Pi Kappa Alpha has done this for us, and it is the only answer to a lasting success.

Cincinnati Chapter Plans Soundly

After returning from Denver this summer with the number two ranking in the Smythe Award competition, Alpha Xi began its preparations for the coming school year. An extremely inspiring second annual retreat was held at the beginning of the fall quarter to formulate specific points to be included in our 10 + 1 program of goals to be attained throughout the year. There is evidence of a strong start to achieving our goals.

Following a highly successful rush period, Alpha Xi pledged thirty of the most outstanding freshmen on campus. Almost immediately after pledging the brothers and new pledges pitched in and began work on PiKA's prize winning homecoming float, a giant, lifelike witch stirring her brew. The Homecoming Weekend was highlighted by the annual dance as well as the memorable open house and buffet for alumni at the chapter house.

Alpha Xi's intramural program was on its way to one of the most victorious seasons in some time. Beginning with football, the Pikes kept rolling up victories until they met last year's champ, Phi Kap, and this year's champ, Phi Delt. Again in volleyball the Pike team piled up victories losing only two games, one to the university winners. In swimming, the hard-fought battle ended with the Pikes emerging the victors for the second straight year. While setting several records, a total of 91 points was gained from swimming which helped move PiKA into fourth place in the intramural standings.

On December 3, 4, and 5 Cincinnati was host to the National Interfraternity Council convention. Many brothers from other chapters as well as National Officers Charles Freeman, Earl Watkins, William Crosby, and Robert D. Lynn were present for the convention. It was a most worthwhile convention and an enjoyable weekend for all. We were honored to be visited by our National Officers and many of the brothers from out of town. Alpha Xi sponsored a luncheon at the Colony Restaurant for Pike delegates and alumni where all listened to interesting comments and had the honor of meeting our lovely Dream Girl, Sandy Skinkle of KAΘ.

At the present time Alpha Xi pledges are participating in Help Week activities. Directed by Help Master Tom Bechert and House Manager Doug Good the pledges are giving the house quite a thorough cleaning up and redecoration. As in the past, this year's pre-initiation week is being devoted to constructive endeavors and to the development of pledge unity. An experiment in one quarter pledging is being tried for the first time this year. After completing a highly accelerated and well planned pledge program under Pledge Trainers Dave Karem and Dan Moul, those pledges with better than a 2.3 grade point average are to be initiated. The program seems to have been quite successful as ten out of thirty pledges achieved a 2.3 or better and as a group, our new initiate average is a very high 2.96. Those whose grades were below a 2.3 will remain pledges for another quarter and may then be initiated with a 2.0. We are looking forward to welcoming these fine men into the bonds of our fraternity.

The activities of our chapter have continued on the same high level this winter quarter just under way. Our basketball team is off to a strong start. Alpha Xi's social program has been really swinging this year under social chairman Bill Beertsche with many theme parties, stags and date parties. The highlight of the quarter will be the Winter Formal to be held January 29 in the Skyline Room. Plans are also under way for the Annual Founders Day Dinner.

With campus elections coming up soon, the Pikes are well represented with candidates. S.M.C. Jay Wright is in the running for Student Body President. Brothers Joe Burnett and Jim Lied are seeking the offices of Senior Class Treasurer and Junior Class President respectively. Pledge Glen Weisenberger who has a 4.0 is running for Sophomore Class Treasurer. Along with these high offices numerous other brothers are seeking seats on Student Council and the College Tribunals.

The spirit here at Alpha Xi is continuously high. We are all looking forward to another fine year of success having fun, accomplishing worthwhile tasks and promoting good relations with the university, other Greeks, and the public.

ΑΞ, Univ. of Cincinnati

Eta Celebrates Founders' Day Banquet

Eta chapter had its annual Founders' Day banquet March 7, at the chapter house. New Orleans alumni and their wives attended the banquet along with guest speakers Guyton Watkins, National Treasurer, and Robert D. Lynn, editor of Shield & Diamond.

Preceding the speeches, the annual awards were given to various chapter members. Bud Brown won the Scholarship trophy with a 4.0. Jim Kubec copped the Best Pledge award, while Earl Stolz, SMC, was awarded the Brotherhood trophy and Pat Folk walked away with the Athlete of the Year award.

After the awards, Brother Lynn spoke on "Brotherhood Now." Guyton Watkins followed with a short talk of importance to all Eta members the possibility of a national loan for a complete renovation of the chapter house during the summer.

After years in an inadequate house, the Tulane Pikes finally have a good chance for a practically new house and nearly twice as many rooms for house residents.

With a newly renovated house due by September, we are all looking forward to having a successful rush week and one of the best and biggest pledge classes ever at Tulane.

Gamma Sig Excels In Sports

Recognition is due the brothers of Gamma Sigma who again dominate the competition for the I.F.C. All Sports Trophy at the University of Pittsburgh. We won a first place in softball, bowling, volleyball, and sparked by the efforts of Carl Rotter and Ed. McQuoid, who were undefeated in competition, we also won a first place in wrestling. Backed by a second in football, thanks to the defensive efforts of the Pika Banshees, and a third place in ping pong; we placed in six of seven major sports which put us far ahead in competition for the All Sports Trophy.

With only two sports remaining, our basketball team remains undefeated and with our victorious track team returning we are confident of new laurels for our chapter.

Our chapter fares well in varsity athletics. Jim LaValley is the starting center on the basketball team while Wayne Bodenheimer and Bob Thompson are standouts in track and basketball. Clair Riley is our letterman representative in golf and wrestling.

Nine brothers attended the District Convention and returned with indelible memories of the well taught lessons learned at Delaware. Many familiar faces were seen again at the joint District 2 and 3 Convention.

Our new officers, under the leadership of SMC Dale Pflug, are striving to set new goals for our brotherhood from what was learned at the National and District Conventions.

Our past SMC, Ed Miguelucci, has been elected I.F.C. President and Jim Coll has been elected to the I.F.C. Judicial Board.

Tentative redecorating plans have been set up to repair and redecorate our house. Highlighting these plans is our desire to acquire new furniture for our TV room, a new decor of garnet for the proposed Garnet Room and preparation for next year's District Convention which is to be held in Pittsburgh.

Highlighting our social calendar was the Dream Girl Formal held at the Hotel Webster Hall where Miss Loretta Stepien was named the new Dream Girl of Gamma Sigma. Miss Stepien was presented the honor by Miss Jacqueline Eich, last year's Dream Girl.

Vandivort Named St. Pat at Rolla

The spring semester of 1964-1965 has been a joyful semester. Highlighting the semester was the initiation of 6 new men into the bonds of brotherhood. The new initiates are; Allan Dwight Krekel, St. Louis, Mo., Jie Ned Vance, Independence, Mo., Ronald Roy Moore, St. Louis Mo., Dennis John Fesler, St. Louis, Mo., Robert Allan Baeyen, Websters Groves, Mo., and James Erwin Thomas, Bellville, Ill.

The St. Patrick celebration, here at Rolla is one of the biggest party weekends of the year. It is held as close to St. Patrick's Day as possible, and this year was the 12th, 13th, & 14th of March. This year proved to be one of the best St. Pat's yet. School let out on a Wednesday to let everyone get ready for the parties on Friday and Saturday. Thursday and part of Friday is always used to finish the float and prepare the house for guests. On Friday, the big party started at 9:00 P.M. with the whole school dancing to the music of "The Kingsmen" and their "Jolly Green Giant." At 12:00 midnight, that same night, our own house party started and ran through till 4:00 A.M. Saturday Morning. At 10:00, we were all uptown and ready for the annual parade, with all the fraternities on campus entering floats.

The St. Pat's board, which plans the weekend, picks from their number, one man who will be "St. Patrick" and who rules over the festivities of the weekend. This year, PiKA's senior member on the St. Pat's board, Clyde Vandivort, was selected as St. Pat.

PiKA scored again when Miss Diane Bowers, a senior at Southeast Missouri State College, Cape Girardeau, was named St. Patrick's queen.

On Friday night the winners of the float contest were announced and our float, labeled "Wascal Rabbit", took third place out of 20 floats.

Our Dream Girl Dance this year will be held April 3rd, in St. Louis, Mo. Candidates for Dream Girl are Miss Carol Duncan, pinmate of Dave Karr, Eloise Feuchter, wife of Bill Feuchter, and Miss Jean Hauchey, pinmate of Dan Goodman.

Alpha Kappa is headed this Spring semester by SMC Gary Koch. Other officers are; Dan Goodman, IMC, Larry Littlefield, THC, Jim Dollar, SC, Tony Kirn, Pledge Master, and Rick Roth, Steward.

Larry Littlefield is chairman of the Judicial Board in the IFC, Gary Koch, Editor-in-chief of the Rollamo, our school year book; Clyde Vandivort, president of the St. Pat's Board; Dave Riley, advertising manager of the "Miner", our weekly school paper; Gary Koch, treasurer of the Student Council; and Larry Littlefield, treasurer of Blue Key. There are four men from our house in the National Honor Fraternity, Blue Key. These are Larry Littlefield, Clyde Vandivort, Dan Goodman, and Wes Myers. We also have four men in Who's Who in American College's and Universities—Larry Littlefield, Clyde Vandivort, Gary Koch, and Owen Lasker.

Spring graduation will take five brothers from Alpha Kappa. Graduating on May 31st, 1965 are Dan Goodman, electrical engineering; Clyde Vandivort, electrical engineering; Dave Karr, mechanical engineering; Dick Porter, chemical engineering; and Ron Candido, metallurgical engineering. These men will truly be missed at Alpha Kappa.

Montana Contributes $1736 to March Of Dimes

Pi Kap members at Montana State College can proudly boast of another successful Pi Week. The record contribution this year of $1736 pushed the total of contributions to the March of Dimes to $9515.

Pi Week began thirteen years ago at Gamma Kappa chapter when the members decided to find some way of thanking the March of Dimes for the wonderful job it had done helping one of their brothers when he had polio. So they sold pies! Each sorority and dormitory was allowed one queen candidate, with every pie they sold counting as one vote towards their candidate. The spirit soon grew so competitive that one sorority might easily sell several thousand pies.

Friday night was open house at the Pi Kap house, with entertainment provided by the various fraternities and sororities. Pi Week was climaxed by a dance Saturday night, highlighted by a pie-eating contest and the queen crowning. This year Miss Janet Bowers of Kappa Delta sorority was named Miss Pi Week.

Florida State Builds Chapter House

Following the completion of another school year, the brothers and pledges of Delta-Lambda are anxiously awaiting construction of our new colonial style house. This immense project has kept our members highly enthused as well as busy. We expect completion sometime next fall.

Returning from a wonderful Christmas vacation and a Gator Bowl victory over Oklahoma, we initiated ten men into the brotherhood. New brothers are Charles Barnes, Russell Burnett, David Cooley, Paul Donovan, Edward Garrison, Ken Jensen, Pat Linehan, David Lyons, Tom O'Quinn, and Jeff Rozhon. The chapter pledged twenty-nine capable young men who are now participating enthusiastically in intramurals, varsity sports and scholastics.

The past neophyte class inaugurated a Cane Contest. Our neophytes carried canes on campus while sorority girls were encouraged to capture the canes. The sorority that captured the most canes received a beautiful trophy for their efforts.

The Founders' Day Banquet was held in the new University Union on February 28, 1965. Brothers Frank Loeser and J. L. Milton did a tremendous job in making this gala event a complete success. Our excellent speaker, Dr. R. R. Oglesby, talked on the coming years of Pi Kappa Alpha.

The middle of March came and so did our annual Dream Girl Weekend and Formal. At the weekend, we crowned our new Dream Girl, Miss Roslyn Cotsen, a Delta Zeta from Miami. She is pinned to Brother Jim Cobb. Our theme this year was "Return to the Wild West," and we did. The entire weekend was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present.

We are doing well in softball and expect to do equally well in track. At this time we rank fifth in overall competition of the 18 fraternities on campus. Four of our pledges participate in Florida State athletics. Huert Green is the number one freshman golfer, setting the course record at 65. Dave Frew and Wayne Currie are two outstanding freshman track team members. And Bill Bardsley is a member of the freshman football squad.

For the ensuing year our chapter elected the following men as our leaders: Ray Hayes, SMC; Robert Duggan, IMC; Barry Drossner, Th.C; and Coleman Driver, Historian. We expect these men as well as our other officers to give us excellent leadership.

Davidson Members Elected Campus Officers

Spring elections at Davidson have given Beta Chapter an excellent representation on campus organizations and publications. Johnny Gresham will assume the office of First Vice-president of the Student Body; Arnie Snider will edit next year's yearbook; Alva Whitehead and Bob Finlayson will sit on the Honor Court.

In scholarship, a field in which Beta has been steadily improving for several years, the chapter ranked third out of a total of twelve national fraternities. Five brothers were listed on the Dean's List.

The Founders' Day Banquet on March 5 brought out a large number of alumni from the area. Brother Freeman Hart, who told about a brother in Pi Kappa Alpha whom he had known in each of the ten generations of the fraternity's existence.

*Louis Loesne,
B, Davidson College*

Phil Brooks ( $\Delta$ -Z, Memphis State) is the President of the Interfraternity Council.

Phil Brooks IFC Prexy

Delta Zeta chapter began the spring semester with much enthusiasm as Phil Brooks, a sophomore from Memphis, was elected President of the Interfraternity Council. Phil also received the award from Delta Zeta chapter as the outstanding first year active. Phil represented the Memphis State IFC at the National Interfraternity Council meeting held in Cincinnati in Dec., 1964. Billy Banks is past president of Omicron Delta Kappa, a national leadership honor society. Tom Watson is serving as secretary of ODK.

For the Fall semester Delta Zeta placed third in scholarship among the twelve Fraternities on campus.

Every spring semester at Memphis State the fraternities and sororities participate in either Follies or in All Sing. This year we participated in All Sing and sang songs from the Broadway musical Oliver. Under the diligent leadership of Brother Jim Ryland Delta Zeta placed second.

On February 21, 1965 twenty men were initiated into Pi Kappa Alpha. Thomas Edgar Bergdoll Jr. was elected outstanding pledge. Other new initiates were John William Poag, Charles Douglas Biter, Braxton Lamont Carter, John Vernon Dowtin, Richard Dennis Edwards, Johnston Morgan Ewing, Barry Raymond Fischer, Jerry Alau Good, John Michael Harper, Harry Lee Holden, Lester Eugene Johnson, William Powell Joiner, Terrell Boyd Quinley, Fran-nie Wayne Sanderson, George Barry Schmu-lbach, William Grey Thornton, Robert Earl Tolleson, Mark William Waggner III, and James Douglas Worley Jr.

After a completely successful spring rush, Delta Zeta pledges totaled twenty-six men. They are Allen André Don Arnold, Joe Arnold, Ray Barnes, Walter Capatino, James Dunn, Rusty Dyer, Harold Epperson, Joe Hamer, Stan Hays, Rusty Hill, Ernie Jansky, Mike Lopicolo, Todd McNab, David Peterson, Bob Petty, John Robilio, Danny Scruggs, Delta Zeta chapter is looking forward to the Dream Girl Ball, which will be held May 7 at the Hunt and Polo Club. Doctor Feel Good and the Interns will provide the entertainment. The Dream Girl court will include Toni Chiozza, Becky Goodwin, Martha May, Dianna Neel, Carla Strain, and Nancy Thurmond.

The Mothers Club is sponsoring a Talent Show which will be held May 5, 1965 at White Station Auditorium. Brother Tommy Burke and the Counts will provide special intermission entertainment.

John Houseal is campaigning for President of the Student Government Association. Lamont Carter is campaigning for legislator of the Student Government.

Spring sports activity has begun with Delta Zeta capturing two victories in softball. The chapter is looking forward to May Day in which all the fraternities compete in track and field events. PiKA's on the varsity baseball team include Jim Brimmi and David Giovanetti. On the Freshman baseball team are "Bumper" Dunn, Todd McNabb, and David Peterson.

Bowling Green Pledges Twenty-Five

Our rush program concluded with the theme, "Hullabooboo," a take-off on the TV feature, "Hullabaloo." It featured the "Blue Crystals," a local group who just cut their first record on the Capitol label.

Delta Beta is proud to announce a spring pledge class of 25. This gives our total membership an increase to 78, after and if all the pledges go active some time in May. One of the pledges, David Riedl, is the brother of our past president, John Riedl, who will graduate in June, 1965.

To stress academic achievement among the pledges, we have initiated a "study table," three times per week, consisting of three hours nightly. These are monitored by the brothers.

The newly elected and appointed officers who fill the positions here at Delta Beta are: president, Fred J. Griffiths; vice president, David L. Szymkowiak; treasurer, Daniel T. Elliot; secretary, Lowell C. Grimm.

On March 27, 1965, Delta Beta celebrated Founder's Day with a party and banquet at the Toledo Yacht Club. Alumni sponsored the party and approximately 150 alums and undergraduates attended. Of those alumni attending were: Don Dixon, National Alumni Secretary; Mike Clancy, Re-elected District President (Dist. 16); Phil Wood, Alumnus Counselor; Jim Furry, president of alumni.

Epsilon Delta Completes Spring Rush

Epsilon-Delta completed a successful spring rush as 18 pledges were accepted. This brings the total pledges for the year to 33 and the active membership to over 50.

Founder's Day was occasioned by a banquet at Sammy's restaurant and club in Dallas. Our guest speaker was Dr. Whitt Blair, Dean of the School of Education at North Texas and our former faculty sponsor. Dr. Smith, one of our faculty sponsors, was the master of ceremonies. Several of our alumni were present.

Epsilon-Delta completed a successful basketball season by finishing second in the intra-fraternity league, losing the championship in the next to last game. However, with only four sports left to participate in, we are leading in the race for the All-Sports Trophy.

Epsilon-Delta has set a precedent in IFC office-holding. With Robert Pearson as IFC president, and Artie McGuffey as IFC treasurer, we are the first fraternity at North Texas to hold two offices in IFC.

We are looking forward to our Dream Girl formal, to be held at the Tower Hotel in Dallas.

The plans and paperwork for our new house are nearly completed at this date. Ground-breaking has been set for the first of June. The house, a colonial mansion type, is to be completed in the fall.

Dean Curry,
E-Δ, North Texas State Univ.

Texas Tech Emphasizes Community Service

The brothers of Epsilon Gamma at Texas Tech have completed another year in which Pi Kappa Alpha again occupied a prominent place on the Tech campus in the fields of social life, athletics, and service.

In the field of intramural athletics, Tech Pikes rank second overall, trailing by only a few points. We scored highly in football and basketball, doing well in several other sports as well.

Such functions as the Toga Party, Tramp Turnout, Beach Party, Pike Fiesta, and others have helped Epsilon Gamma maintain social prominence as well as providing a host of fond memories for many of the brothers.

In accordance with a desire to further the name of Pi Kappa Alpha through service to the community at large, Tech Pikes donated time, effort, and funds to two worthwhile projects this fall. When the question arose of whether or not to have the traditional exchange of gifts within the chapter, the brothers decided that the money could bring more happiness if put to other use. So on a Sunday afternoon, a party was given for 30 underprivileged children of the town. There was a Christmas tree and gifts, but the children, mostly of Latin American descent, seemed to enjoy the several candy filled pinatas most of all.

Tech Pikes also helped the March of Dimes during its local campaign by driving their 1928 American of France fire truck to solicit donations.

The chapter has been active within as well as without. We began the year with the initiation of fourteen men who had pledged the preceding spring, and more recently has brought into the bonds of brotherhood nine men of the fall pledge class. The present pledge class of nineteen will be initiated next fall.

Officers are as follows: Larry Craig, SMC; Jimmy Carter, IMC; Larry Pugh, Th.C, and Don Gailey, SC.

E-Γ, Texas Tech

Beta-Beta Attends District Convention

February 12th found the members and pledges of Beta Beta traveling south to Corvallis, Oregon for the District No. 27 Convention. The enthusiasm and spirit of the brothers in attendance was certainly not unrewarded as they returned bearing two awards and a good many helpful ideas.

For the second consecutive year, Beta Beta won the David E. Jolly District President Award for scholarship. The highlight of the Convention, however, came during the intermission at the District Dream Girl dance, when the Chapter Dream Girl, Miss Kay Mikoski, was selected District No. 27 Dream Girl.

With the beginning of a new quarter came the election of new officers. Upon the words of wisdom and encouragement from Brother Bill Crosby, Administrative Assistant at the National Office, who paid the Chapter a welcomed visit, the new officers set out to prove the excellent potential which exists in the brothers and pledges of Beta Beta. Those elected include: Lynn Nothdurft, SMC; Rick Triebel, IMC; Mike Clements, SC; and Tom "Howie" Nelson, Pledgemaster.

During the year a new rush program has been put into effect. It is called "Get 50" as the goal of the Chapter is to increase the size of the membership to fifty by the end of this current school year. Though the start has been slow, the Chapter has gained considerable momentum, and with the help of a renewed alumni relations program, the goal is in sight.

Dave Woods,
B-B, University of Washington

Miss Phylis Rutherford, Delta-Theta candidate, was named Miss Arkansas State.

Charles Kruse (Δ-Θ, Arkansas State) shoots for two.

Chope Speaks To Vanderbilt Pikes

The spring semester at Vanderbilt has been a very productive and rewarding one for Sigma chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha. Of the many events and happenings of this semester, two are of outstanding significance.

On the first week-end in March, Sigma celebrated Founders' Day with a big two-day affair. On Friday night, March 5, we had a dinner and dance which was well-attended by Sigma's alumni. The featured speaker for the evening was Brother W. E. Chope, an alumnus of Sigma and President of Industrial Nucleonics Corporation of Columbus, Ohio. Brother Chope won the 1963 Distinguished Achievement Award of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

The following afternoon we had a cocktail party for the alumni, and finished the Founders' Day week-end with a combo party that night at the house. On March 26 and 27, Sigma hosted the Twelfth District Convention. Included in this meeting were Zeta chapter of the University of Tennessee, Delta Epsilon chapter of the University of Chattanooga, Epsilon Zeta chapter of East Tennessee State University, and Sigma chapter of Vanderbilt University. Besides these four chapters and their representatives, there were also members present from chapters outside the Twelfth District. Some of the topics discussed at the two-day session were scholarship, alumni relations, pledge training, and rush. It was a tremendously successful gathering.

In intramural fraternity sports, the Pikes have remained at, or near, the top the entire year. The basketball team, after losing the first game, roared back to win the remaining five regular-season games and gain a berth in the play-offs. There we defeated favored Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Delta Theta to reach the finals. Although we lost here, Sigma still finished with a second-place position and a fine record of seven wins and two losses for the season.

In this very successful basketball campaign, PiKA was led by Mike Ainslie, the top scorer in the play-offs, and guard Biff Holland. These brothers were ably supported by Benny Waggoner, Marshall Wood, William Lea, and Reiley Kidd. With wrestling, tennis, track, and softball still to come, the Pikes stand a very good chance of winning the overall I-M trophy for athletics.

This semester Sigma has initiated an energetic and ambitious Community Service program. On five occasions this spring, we are furnishing helpers on Sunday morning for the Veterans Administration Hospital in Nashville. The actives and pledges taking part in this project work with the chaplain of the hospital. They go among the wards of the hospital and help those men who wish to attend church services to go to the hospital chapel. After the service is over, they return the patients to their rooms. On one Sunday evening this spring, a group of the brothers, who took part in the University's Athenian Sing, will go as a choral group to the hospital and sing for the patients. Details for another work project for a day home in Nashville are being worked out, and we hope to be able to help this organization, too.

This semester Sigma has one of the finest pledge classes in its history. We have twenty-four boys who are going through active pledge training. As their academic standing for the first semester was second among fraternity pledge classes, the active chapter anticipates being able to initiate a great majority of these pledges at the end of their period of training in late April.

Concerning campus activities, the biggest news for Sigma is the overwhelming endorsement given by the student body to a student government reform which was sponsored by Brother Mike Ainslie, Student Association (student body) President. This reform replaces a Student Senate with a Board of Presidents and institutes a system of class officers and class cabinet. This new system furnishes better representation for the student body. With many offices open, PiKA is running several brothers for various posts.

The Pikes hope again to top the other fraternities in the upcoming campus blood drive, which is sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, a national service fraternity, of which Brother Rusty Garth is co-chairman. In the fall semester, the Pikes won a plaque for the most pints given by a fraternity, the first time such an award has been given. We are confident of retaining this trophy in the spring blood drive.

MU Experiences Outstanding Year

The members of Mu Chapter at Presbyterian College have experienced a very successful 1964-65 school year thus far. Campus leadership has been the key word with Mu this year as PiKA's have been found in some of the most influential positions of campus activities. In addition, PiKA's have been well represented in varsity sports as well as the intramural competition.

Mu Chapter completed a highly successful rush program by pledging 17 pledges to include Sandy Lynn, Ted Chaulgren, Joey Singleton, Mel Davis, Jack Howard, Micky Hampshire, Richard Munn, John Still, Charles Rowland, Dallas Schaaf, Reed Bolick, Jim Wagers, Les Newsome, Ted Minnick, Mac Singleton, and Glenn Beckman, each of whom recently has returned from his pledge trip to the various Pi Kappa Alpha chapters of Georgia, Tennessee, South Carolina, and North Carolina.

First semester's social activities were climaxed by the annual Dream Girl Ball held in conjunction with Christmas Dance week-end at Presbyterian. The highlight of the dance was the crowning of Miss Faye Hays as Dream Girl of Mu. A senior business major at Winthrop College, Faye is pinned to Brother Tommy Hearon. Brothers and pledges anticipate an outstanding PiKA week-end in May highlighted by the traditional Roman Holiday banquet and dance.

Mu again looks forward to another outstanding year in 1965-66 under the leadership of newly elected officers Walt Todd, SMC; Jim Johnson, IMC; John Monk, ThC; and Phil Olmert, SC.

Virginia Pledges Outstanding Class

The 1964 fall rush season was highly successful for Alpha chapter at the University of Virginia. Twenty-six outstanding men were pledged, five of whom are on the freshman basketball team. The first year team so far this season is eleven-zero and fully expects to finish undefeated.

The new pledge class thus far has demonstrated high spirit as a group and has shown a true spirit of devotion to Pi Kappa Alpha. There is also a wide range of individual personalities in the new class. They vary from the potential All-American basketball player to the dean's list student as well as the workhorses who make up the backbone of the fraternity and the University.

The competitive spirit among the thirty-one fraternities at the university was very high this past rush season, and therefore the brothers of Alpha chapter felt extreme pride in the calibre of men attracted and pledged. The brothers were inspired by the determination and enthusiasm of James J. Chaffin, the rush chairman and vice-president. A large degree of Alpha's success this past fall was due to Chaffin's capable leadership.

The chapter is now experiencing a fine, united spirit and with this high degree of esprit de corps Alpha looks for an even more successful rush next season.

Lea Elected Richmond SMC

Omicron has installed the following officers for the new year: Harry Lea, SMC, Guy Peters, IMC, Bill Grammer, ThC, Dave Shepherd SC, and Jim Hollins, Historian.

This school year has been a successful one through outstanding group efforts and individual honors. Our sincere thanks to the Alumni Association for a very successful victory celebration after the VMI-Richmond football game.

In intramurals, PiKA stands third overall. Our soccer team recently suffered its first defeat, but remains number one in the league. Fall Olympics ended in a first place tie between PiKA and S.P.E.—the first time S.P.E. has been beaten or tied in several years. It was an exciting contest, decided by Pledge Gene Lebo's second place in the javelin in the closing minutes.

Homecoming was a big success this year, thanks to the efforts of co-chairmen Dick Grundy, and Jim Hollins, and the other brothers who worked until four A.M. preparing the float and decorations.

Many of the brothers have earned individual honors. Sophomore Rick Payne, a regular on the varsity football team, was chosen to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." While maintaining a perfect "A" average for the third straight year, Guy Peters was chosen vice-president of the junior class of Richmond College. Harry Lea is president of the junior class of the School of Business Administration. Senior journalism major, John Hopkins was chosen editor-in-chief of the school newspaper, "The Collegian".

With a grade point average above the all fraternity and all men's average and strong intramural teams, Omicron should have one of its most successful years in recent memory.

Iowa Emphasizes Chapter Scholarship

Gamma Nu chapter at the University of Iowa went into the second semester with a redefined program emphasizing scholarship while continuing its traditions of brotherhood and social activities.

Scholarship chairman Al Mood is working closely with the active chapter and the pledge class to bring the house up with the top houses on campus scholastically. Selective pledging has netted 13 sharp new pledges with high grade points.

Stoffragen, a freshman with a 3.7 grade point average was elected president of the class.

Ten men were initiated into the bonds early this spring. They are: Rick Miller, Bloyce Johnson, Ted Johnson, Jim Duermeyer, Bob Penwell, Joe Tsiakals, Jim Thomas, Ray Heimbuch, Dan McGrevey, and Steve McGrath. Tsiakals received the pledge scholarship award. Penwell was named outstanding pledge.

John Gardner, a '64 graduate of Iowa, has been named counselor in residence.

A number of brothers attended the district convention which was held at Zeta Delta, Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa, this spring. The intramural basketball team captured second place in a tournament held there.

On the social scene, plans are being made for the big spring formal, to be held April 24. A recent hit for the brothers and their dates was a "purple passion" party. Over 100 people attended the function. Social activities are under the directorship of Bob Hoehle.

Various men have been active in intercollegiate athletics.

Mike Kinsinger closed his collegiate fencing career with the best record ever compiled by an Iowa fencer. Last year he was Big Ten champion in the foil. This year he finished second.

Mike Petersen lettered as a member of the varsity swimming team.

Joe McEvoy is preparing for the opening of the golf season. Last year he was No. 2 man on the Iowa golf squad.

Ron Hedglin was named to the Big Ten bowling team for the fourth straight year. This is his second year as captain of the team.

Tulsa Pikes On The Move

Gamma Upsilon wishes to express its congratulations to all our new Brothers. We are especially proud of those initiated into our chapter on March 14, 1965. Proud new wearers of the Shield and Diamond are Cameron Cunningham who received the scholarship award for the highest grade point made by a pledge, H. P. Appleby who was selected "Best Pledge," Kim Long, Kipp Hoffman, Rich Klarr, Ronnie Ronck, Art Dupuy, and Dennis Bradford.

Congratulations are also in order for our new pledges. Through a strong rush program, we gained a fine second semester pledge class. We are indeed proud to have initiated Professor Louis Cunningham, Assistant Professor of Voice at the University of Tulsa.

Our chapter celebrated Founders Day with a banquet at which we presented a beautiful, full color 24x27 inch reproduction of the fraternity crest, which we at Gamma Upsilon produce, to each alumnus. A special tribute of thanks goes to our Alumni Advisor Ron Woods who received the trophy awarded annually to the outstanding alumnus.

Gamma Upsilon is making its presence known in the University of Tulsa's intramural program. Our fine wrestling team finished in a tie for first. Our swimming team, led by double winner Brother "Skip" Schiff, took third place.

We have a major party every month and have had such outstanding successes as our Charlie Brown Party, Academy Awards Ball, Pike's Prehistoric Party, and our Shipwreck Ball. We also sponsored a city-wide Teen-Dance and brought in Johnney and the Hurricanes who have appeared with the Beatles in England. Our Dream Girl Formal was held April 24, 1965.

The entire chapter participated fully in Greek Week, the first in the University of Tulsa's history. There were such activities as a luncheon for Housemothers, Greek Games, Greek Carnival, and a picnic. The week was topped off by the IFC-Panhellenic Awards Dance.

PiKA is on the move and we intend to remain at the top.

*George Flippo,

New Hampshire Builds Chapter Strength

Once again the Gamma-Mu "Fire-fighters" have taken part in a year of many activities—both social and academic. The tragic fire, which destroyed our chapter house during last year's summer recess, was a difficult blow to overcome, but the true spirit of Pi Kappa Alpha brotherhood provided us with more than enough incentive to strive for an even stronger chapter. The reaction had such an effect that our Fraternity has gained the reputation of being truly invested with more dynamic loyalty and sincere friendship than any of the other houses at U.N.H.

At the opening of school last fall, we found ourselves with the problem of renovating the "new" house which we had purchased as a replacement. Formerly used by another fraternity, the physical plant was adequate, but certainly not attractive. Many hours of dedicated labor by the brothers and pledges alike transformed our new house into a really pleasant residence. There was no lack of pride when we opened the doors to alumni and friends during Homecoming. Our housing efforts have not ceased, however, and plans include a much-needed addition to be constructed in the near future.

Informal rushing led to the initiation of two top men—Philip Beland and Paul Arsenault, and we were pleased to pledge 16 enthusiastic men during the formal period this spring. Members of the class, under the direction of Pledgemaster Karl Broekhuizen, include: Charles D. Andrus, Donald S. Bascom, Donald S. Clark, Charles B. Doleac, William P. Gifford, Donald C. Haley, David D. Malcolm, Donald W. Merrill, Gregory L. Morrill, Lawrence J. Murphy, Ralph F. Renzelman, Michael N. Sapp, Rolfe E. Schofield, Gary L. Shoup, Barry S. Smith, and Richard W. Whitney.

Academically, the 2.8 accumulative average of the group is sure to have a beneficial influence on the record of the chapter as a whole.

Graduating in January were Larry Olivier and Tom Averill. We were all sorry to see them leave Gamma-Mu, but took pride in their accomplishments, and wished them well in all their ventures.

Elected as the new chapter officers for the coming year were: Mike Hartson, president; George Bucken, vice-president; Ken Lee, treasurer; and Wayne Sheridan, secretary.

Athletically, Gamma Mu Chapter has had a successful program so far this year. In every contest the brothers have rallied to the occasion and shown the true PiKA spirit!

Last fall our football squad compiled a 4-3 record in tough B League competition. This record was good enough for undisputed third place. The offense featured an aerial attack with Bob "Stub" Swasey and Briar "Hand Stands" Cook firing to such competent receivers as Tom "Bear" Sawyer, Jim Georges, and Speedy Jim White. Defensive standouts were Phil Hatch, Mike Hartson, and Bob Melvin.

Birmingham-Southern College President Howard Phillips (Γ-Φ, Wake Forest), National President Charles Freeman, Birmingham-Southern Dream Girl, Audrey Prude and Birmingham City Council President M. E. Wiggins enjoy Alabama Founders Day festivities.

The basketball team had a disappointing 4-4 record because of two very close games which we lost—one to Phi Kappa Theta by two points in double overtime, and one to Phi Mu Delta by one point in regulation play. Bob "Gunner" Melvin led the team in scoring while Briar Cook led Gamma Mu in the rebounding department.

Now, with sixteen pledges added to our roster, we are looking forward to the start of the volleyball and softball seasons.

As the year draws to a close we look forward with mixed emotions to the inevitable final exams—and with great expectations of pleasure to the festivities of Spring Weekend. The Gamma Mu Gang and their gorgeous honeys are sure to be at their best for the annual boat ride fiasco.

Likewise we send Gamma Mu's best to Pikes everywhere in the lasting bonds of Phi Phi K-A.

Scholarship Emphasized At Valparaiso Univ.

The men of Epsilon Beta are again on their way to one of their most successful years in the history of the chapter.

Scholarship which is constantly emphasized remained one of our strongest points. During the fall semester we placed second scholastically on campus with a 1.62 out of 3.00 grade point average. Brothers Steve Theil, David Kohlstedt, and Jim Marsch and pledges Larry Garcia and Roland Otto were recognized for their outstanding academic achievements by being named to the dean's list, an honor requiring a 2.5 or higher grade point average. Many of our graduating seniors do not plan to terminate their formal educations this coming June. Approximately three-fourths of the 21 seniors plan to continue their education through graduate work in their respective fields.

Spring rush headed by rush chairman Paul Kahle, newly elected SMC, was highly successful. By taking a fine class of 23 new pledges, the largest pledge class on campus and second largest in our history, we further strengthened the outlook for the future of EB. Pledging is now in progress and all 23 are industriously working toward the improvement of the chapter.

Sports again ranked high among the achievements of the men of Epsilon Beta. In football we were barely beaten out of first place losing the final playoff game by one touchdown after being involved in a four way tie for first place at the end of the regular season. In volleyball we took first and in swimming placed third. We are ranked third among VU's fraternity and independent teams in all sports points.

Earlier in the year John Ector was selected "Man About Campus" by the women of the sororities on campus.

Presently all are busily engaged in practicing our song for Spring Weekend, hoping that we will be able to extend our string of consecutive victories to six and retire our second three year traveling Song Fest trophy.

The year has so far been highlighted by a visit from our national president, Brother Freeman, and a recent trip to Chicago's O'Hare Inn to sing for the Chicago Alumni Club's celebration of Founder's Day.

Newly elected officers for 1965-66 are Paul Kahle, SMC; Bill Buettner, IMC; Bill Miller, Th.C, and Bob Pieters, SC.

*Edward Hintzen,

Beta Zeta – S.M.U.

Beta Zeta chapter is making rapid progress in all fields of fraternity life. The beginning of spring has brought many honors and activities to the brothers.

Highlights of the activities include our Founder's Day banquet held on March 5, at the Continental Inn in Dallas. National President Charles L. Freeman, as the principal speaker, gave an inspiring and impressive speech to the actives, pledges, and alumni gathered. Weldon Howell, BZ, President of the Preston State Bank; Reagan Ferguson, BZ, President of the Dallas Alumni Association and Vice-President of Dallas Federal Savings, along with 35 other alumni were present. The Beta Zeta Outstanding Alumnus award was presented to Kennedy England, BZ, for his diligent help to the chapter. Also, a Golden Chapter Certificate was given to William Shadrach, AZ. Gene Wallace, Alumni Secretary, was instrumental in making the banquet a tremendous success.

Not only has the chapter been active with the alumni, but also within itself and on campus. The pledges have had dinners with the Pi Phi, Zeta, and Tri-Delta pledge classes. The pledges also had a traumatic experience in losing the Active-Pledge softball game due to weak bats and the pitching wizardry of Brothers Stitt and Starr, 18-3. Micky Kahn, a new initiate, is running for varsity cheerleader. Beta Zeta chapter placed third in men's Sing-Song competition with its rendition of "All My Trials," lead by Phil Scarborough. Grade-wise the chapter pulled a 2.47, high among campus groups, as compared to the overall men's average of 2.00.

New officers for the next year include Danny Dixon, SMC, John Colby, IMC, Tom Railsback, SC, George Gross, ThC, and Gene Wallace, House manager.

Beta Zeta welcomes into the bonds of brotherhood twenty-two men this semester, marking a milestone in the history of Beta Zeta chapter as the largest group of men ever to be initiated by Beta Zeta. They are now Brothers Bob Strevell, Mack Goforth, George Cochrum, Mickey Kahn, Ray deSola, Jim Miller, Lynn Railsback, Kirk Wade, Bob Spickelmier, Jim Jensen, Garland Wright, Frank Arnold, Larry Beich, Henry Darwin, Frank Moore, Garry Johnson, William White, Rick Hinton, Harvey Davis, William Burdeaux, Melvin Riley, and Charles Graham.

Danny Dixon has distinguished himself in the chapter as present SMC and former ThC. On the campus he has done much to make PiKA respected. He holds the positions of Secretary-Treasurer for the school spirit group known as the Squires, is the newly elected president of the Interfraternity Council and has been chosen just recently for membership in the national Blue Key honorary.

PiKA is a social fraternity and Beta Zeta chapter has not let the young ladies or its members forget it. Our annual Valentine's Day Party, with the presentation of the pledge class sweetheart, this year Miss Wilma Wallace, Zeta Tau Alpha, and this year's new creation, the "ID" party. The highlight of every social year is the Garnet and Old Gold Ball, where the Dream Girl for the coming year is presented.

Bouquets were presented to the nominees from all the sororities with a special bouquet and engraved silver tray going to our lovely new Dream Girl, Miss Betty Ann Kinner of Chi Omega. Other presentations included the Mothers Club Scholarship Award which this year went to Danny Dixon and Pledge Hank Darwin. The Best Pledge Award was presented to Pledge Bob Strevell who was the pledge class president.

We are all looking eagerly forward to the rest of this year and next year, confident that PiKA will be number one in our hearts and at Southern Methodist University.

Western Michigan Is Host To Convention

The district convention, district sixteen, was held on March 12, 13, and 14, hosted by the Epsilon Psi Chapter, Western Michigan University, in Kalamazoo. Michael Clancy, who was unanimously re-elected district president, declared the convention an overwhelming success.

Approximately seventy-five brothers and guests were in attendance. Special guests included the National President, Charles L. Freeman, and his son King; Don Dickson, National Alumni Secretary; Ted Grofer, district vice-president; Gerry Hodges, National Field Secretary; Dr. Austin Tyler, alumnus counselor of Epsilon Psi; T. J. Rivard, president of Inter-fraternity Council, W.M.U.; two members of Phi Sigma Rho Brother Cushman Bissell, prominent attorney, spoke at The Chicago Founders Day. Fifty-three brothers and pledges from Valparaiso University provided choral music.

(local), Adrian College; and National President of Sigma Tau Gamma, Sterling Breed. Chapters represented were Delta Beta, Bowling Green State U.; Delta Nu, Wayne State U.; Epsilon Epsilon, U. of Toledo; Epsilon Xi, Case Institute of Technology; Epsilon Psi, Western Michigan U.; Zeta Alpha, General Motors Institute; Ferris Colony, Ferris State U.

Five workshops headed by one National officer, two district officers, and two officers of the host chapter, were successful in their attempts to correlate and improve ideas and problems of all the chapters in the district.

The district convention, for the first time, established a working constitution upon approval of the delegates attending.

The convention featured a basketball tournament among the chapters in which the Zeta Alpha chapter took possession of the trophy.

Credit for much of the work done to make the convention a success goes to Mike Galinis, convention secretary, assistant chairman, and committee head of rush; Bob Kotz, president and chairman of the convention planning committee; and Kurt Tillman, committee chairman, all of Epsilon Psi Chapter.

Wofford Men Hold Campus Offices

The year 1965 has been a year of progress for Nu Chapter at Wofford College.

Significant progress has been made in the fields of academics, sports and campus leadership. Twenty-three men were pledged at the beginning of the semester and eighteen new brothers were initiated in March. The chapter compiled an overall grade point ratio of 2.35, a mark far above the all men's average and the averages of the other six fraternities at Wofford.

Interests are not entirely academic however, as can be seen by the active participation in varsity sports. Five starting members of the football team with the best record in South Carolina for the past year are members of Pi Kappa Alpha. Members can also be found on the golf, baseball and track teams. The intramural softball team is currently sporting the championship crown and prospects look better for the coming season.

Campus leadership is headed by Pi Kappa Alpha. As of the March elections, Nu Chapter boasts of the President of the Senior class, President of the Junior class and President of the Freshman class as well as the Secretary of the Student Body and several class Senators.

The annual Dream Girl weekend is slated for April 23 and 24 at Laurel Park Inn in Hendersonville, N.C.

Fraternity officers for 1965 are: SMC, John Land; IMC, Tommy Myers; THC, Jimmy Proctor; SC, Jim Bowers, and MC, Jim Leavelle.

Zaruba Named Outstanding At Univ. of Illinois

Beta Eta finished second in scholarship improvement out of 57 fraternities at the University of Illinois. On February 24, Charles L. Freeman and Mrs. Freeman along with District President Virgil R. McBroom and Mrs. McBroom were guests at a banquet honoring the initiates: Richard R. Almon, Kenneth W. Andre, Richard G. Gossett, Steven J. Kyle, Leonard E. Olson, and Philip J. Stella.

As a service project, Beta Eta sponsored two play-days for a local orphanage at which the youngsters were shown around the campus during special festivities. They had a fine time.

Second only to scholarship last semester was Beta Eta's concentration on carrying out a vigorous rushing program. Thanks to much hard work by chairman Randy Dunlap, Beta Eta pledged an outstanding group of young men and throughout all of last semester and all of the second semester an informal rushing program was carried out. Three men from this group especially distinguished themselves. Philip Stella served as Junior Interfraternity Council social chairman. Ken Andre was one of only 61 freshmen out of a class of 5500 who earned a straight A average. He was recently elected an officer in Phi Eta Sigma, freshman honorary fraternity. But the greatest honor was awarded to John Zaruba from Brookfield, Illinois. John was chosen the Outstanding Pledge of 1964-65 out of the netire fraternity system, which at Illinois is the largest in the country.

Having Brother Gerald Leech chosen as one of the outstanding one hundred graduating seniors, being represented on the Interfraternity Council by Larry Lincoln and Gerald Leech, as secretary and treasurer respectively, enjoying a great social season highlighted by several Open Houses and a successful pledge dance attended by many other Greeks, and basking in the fine achievements of its pledges, Pi Kappa Alpha is still one of the top fraternities at the U. of I.

To maintain this high ranking and insure even more successes in the near future the men and officers of Beta Eta have several goals for general improvement. Among these are improved alumni relations and an even more concentrated rush program to expand our membership.

Beta Eta is always striving for the honor and glory of Pi Kappa Alpha.

B-H, Illinois*

Adair Earns 4-0 Grade at Emory

So far this has been a good year for us here at Beta Kappa. In February we received into the brotherhood the following: John McCord, Mark Brody, Pete Butter, Mike Cleaver, Bob Cook, Ken Venson, Ken Thomas, Clem McGarry, Ed King, Larry Schneider, John McAfee. The following were scheduled for initiation: Walter Strickland, Mike Dean, Hugh Bray, Charlie Browne,

Former National President Grant Macfarlane, Salt Lake City, Utah, gave a stirring Founder's Day address to 150 alumni and undergraduates at Memphis. Special guests included brothers from Gamma-Iota (Mississippi) and Delta-Theta (Arkansas State).

Phil Thomas presents a 50-year membership certificate to Dan Wexler, an alumnus of Zeta Chapter, University of Tennessee, at the Johnson City Founders' Day Celebration.

Mike Hall and John Ingram. This represents 85% of this years pledges to be initiated.

In scholarship, we again scored a 2.47 (4 point system) and all indications have it that we are over the All Mens average. Brother Wendell Adair made another 4.0, was tapped into Pi Sigma Alpha (Political Science Honorary) and won a scholarship to Washington University next fall to do undergraduate research. In addition, Brothers Malone and Warren were on the Leans List.

Our social calendar was highlighted by the annual Dream Girl Formal which was held on the first weekend of March, 1965. Miss Roberta Chapman was crowned by out-going Dream Girl, Miss Ann Lovett. The Court consisted of Misses Kay Spicer, Sherry Seegar, Havolyn McDonald and Carol Eliot.

The newly-elected officers are SMC Tom Wicker, IMC Bob Malborg, THC: Bob Romeo, SC Bill Bush.

In March, the "Pinning Tree" got a real workout as Brothers Henderson, Ingram, McGarry, Sinderson, Adair, McCrackin and Bill Cook can testify.

Twenty-Nine Initiated At Pittsburgh, Kansas

On January 17, Epsilon Chi welcomed nine new brothers into the bonds. They are Ted Cady, Paul Dountas, Keith Grigsby, Ralph Headly, John Hexter, Ron Nick, Dub Rakestraw, Rodney Rupar, and Rob Walton.

Spring Rush, under the direction of Ron Johnson, proved highly successful as twenty new men were pledged. This was the highest number among fraternities on campus this spring. The new pledges are off to a good start—planning money-raising projects and community service projects under the leadership of Pledgemaster Terry Mitts.

For the third year in a row, the Pikes are in control of the IFC, as Larry Evans serves as president and Mike Kapple as secretary.

In varsity sports, Pikes are "Gorillas" on the gridiron, the tennis courts, on the track, and on the diamond. Bob Jenkins, last year's IMC, served as assistant coach on KCS's conference championship basketball team.

Intramurals are always on the scene at KSC, and so are the men of PiKA. So far this year, Epsilon Chi has captured a second place in touch football, and a third place in basketball. The indoor volleyball teams are all coming along strong, and the softball team appears to be ready to better its second place finish of last year.

Doug Potts, a four-year letterman in football, has been recognized for his all-around ability as a student as he has been selected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

In the field of scholarship, Epsilon Chi placed second on the campus as its grade average bettered both the all-men's and the all-fraternity average. The members of the chapter are especially proud to boast that their grade average topped all other Pike chapters in District 20.

Founder's Day was a big event for Epsilon Chi this year, as the chapter was honored by the presence of National Counsel Garth C. Grissom. Another honor for the chapter was the visit in March by Brother Richard Ogle, National Field Secretary.

The biggest night of the year for the men of EX was May 15. Under the chairmanship of Jerry Butler, "Spring in the South" proved to be the best Dream Girl Formal ever attended by any of the brothers.

In the future, the KSC Pikes are looking forward to seeing their mascot gain more weight. "Judge," just a pup of 19 months in May, is a registered, pure black Great Dane who has reached a weight of 185 pounds (and he's still eating).

Also, steps are being taken to set in motion the plans for acquiring the long hoped for new house for the Pittsburg Pikes.

These and many other fine activities are under the direction of the newly installed officers: Steve Ehart, SCM; Gary Nicklaus, IMC; Ron Porter, Th.C; Tom Reeves, SC; and Jim Purtle, Historian.

Gannon Pledges Twenty-Five Men

With the start of the Spring semester, the word went out, "Rush!" It was through the diligence of Brothers Carl Zipper and Jeff O'Hara and their adequate rush program that Epsilon Upsilon pledged 25 new members. The brothers and the alumni of Epsilon Upsilon are very proud of their achievement and are certain that many of the 25 will eventually be initiated into the brotherhood.

Dr. Freeman H. Hart, National Historian, was the honored guest of Epsilon Upsilon at the Third Annual Founder's Day. Dr. Hart spoke to the brothers, alumni and pledges on the major part he played in organizing Pi Kappa Alpha's History. Alumnus Jim Wittman was the master of ceremonies. Other honored guests and speakers were Mr. James Loughin, Dr. Ray Cartledge, and Mr. Stu McEleheney.

The brothers of Epsilon Upsilon, fourteen strong, made their presence known at the District Convention held at the University of Delaware. The attending brothers walked off with both prizes—the most brothers in attendance and the most man-miles traveled.

New officers have been elected and the results are as follows: SMC, Clemens Stolinski; IMC, Carl Zipper; SC, Joseph Heimbold; Th.C, Jack Reisenberg; and MC, Thomas McIntire. The new officers assumed office May 15, 1965.

Our chapter is also keeping on top of the sports program here at Gannon as we won the swimming meet in the Fraternity Division. Leading the Pike tankers were Pete Reyburn, John Sechrist, Marty Brown, John Place, Skinner Haines and Scott Barnard.

Scholastically, after the first semester, we again rated high among the fraternities and well over the all men's average. All the brothers, especially scholastic chairman Dave Parsh, were very happy with this achievement.

With graduation nearing, our senior brothers are looking forward to their future jobs and further schooling. Brother Dave Dieteman will leave for medical school at Loyola of Chicago, Bob Lacy will work for Firestone in Akron, Ohio and Chuck Colwell will be married in July and will work in Buffalo, N. Y.

Epsilon Upsilon wishes everyone a very happy, healthy and safe summer.

A Way Of Life

Pi Kappa Alpha is a way of life.

It is a code of long standing.

I live by its symbolism.

My old ring is smooth and scarred—
but its shield is still my talisman—

The challenge today is as it was in yesteryear—

If you are a Pike—You strive for the maximum.

Every day you live beyond the call of duty—

It long has been so, and in these forty years the threads of friendship and truth have twisted themselves into the cord which binds me to my brothers.

• • •

The younger men look to us with trust—

Always they bare their souls on getting started —and never do they fail to appreciate the effort we give—the ear we lend.

When in conference or in informality we speak of gentility, honor, and attainment, the old men respond with pleasant memories

—and the young men love them for it.

Back at the chapter a fresh impetus is born, and a new level of leadership emerges, and Pi Kappa Alpha adds to its great momentum.

—and so it has been for a hundred years
—and so it will continue

—and perhaps my grandson, and his grandson, will some day wear the badge.

Pi Kappa Alpha is a way of life.

—ancient youth took no greater vow
—Athens produced no finer citizens.
