This issue of the Shield & Diamond is published concurrently with the advent of a new academic year on our campuses. Our chapters are busy renewing friendships, polishing their trophies, clarifying their message, and preparing for rush. These days were among the most exciting from each academic year in my bank of memories.

H. King Buttermore III
(Vanderbilt, Sigma '63)

Approximately 400 of our 10,800 undergraduate brothers are returning to their campuses throughout the United States and Canada equipped with new leadership skills and renewed vigor for the task of advancing and sustaining Pi Kappa Alpha on their campuses. These brothers have participated in our 10th biennial Pi Kappa Alpha Officers Leadership Academy. In August, these brothers participated in leadership training and values and ethics exercises, and interacted with our core of volunteer regional presidents, chapter advisors and ritual experts, among others. They also were beneficiaries of an outstanding new leadership track created and implemented by the Fraternity's Educational Advisory Commission. Kudos to the EAC's Mike Hayes (Indiana State, Theta Omicron '82), Pat Haun (High Point, Delta Omega '89), and Thornton Kirby (Virginia, Alpha '84) who were joined by former director of services Mark Dziatczak (Wayne State, Delta Nu '91) in presenting the program. The preliminary evaluations show that the program was remarkably well received. Executive Director Eric Wulf and the entire Memorial Headquarters staff are commended for their successful efforts.

I wish to pay a special tribute to our Canadian brothers, who attended the Academy in large numbers. These men reflect Alberta Premier Ralph Klein's secret to success—"Ask nothing of others you will not ask of yourself." The brothers from Iota Omega Chapter at Western Ontario, Kappa Mu Chapter at Wilfrid Laurier and Lambda Epsilon Chapter at Alberta exude success, and it was my honor to present the men from Laurier their first Smythe Award during the Academy. A fantastic moment unfolded as these men walked to the podium to receive their trophy, and the entire Academy slowly rose, joining in singing "O Canada", gradually growing more loudly to the glorious last phrase. These brothers reflect the best of Pi Kappa Alpha. Truly, as their beautiful national anthem states, these brothers "stand on guard" for Pi Kappa Alpha.

Elsewhere in this issue, you will learn more about Gordon Gee (Utah, Alpha Tau '63), recipient of Pi Kappa Alpha's Distinguished Achievement Award, given each year since 1936 to our stars: senators, judges, broadcasters, athletes, actors, war heroes, and even a baseball commissioner. Brother Gee is Chancellor of Vanderbilt University, and after the presentation of his award, provided to the Academy the most powerful message of support for the fraternity movement which I have heard spoken by a university president. Allow me to share a bit of Chancellor Gee's text. You may know the term, in loco parentis. This is a legal theory that essentially means that the college stands in the shoes of the parents of its students. Many alumni will recall college regulations during the 1960s that controlled numerous details in the lives of students. The Supreme Court then discarded in loco parentis. From the early 1970s on, students and university officials battled over the nature of the relationship between them that would succeed in loco parentis.

E. Gordon Gee

Chancellor Gee, with tongue planted firmly in cheek, then described the successor periods as in loco denial (reflecting a time in which some universities adopted policies officially ignoring fraternities) and then in loco gestapo (reflecting a later time in which some universities attempted to control rigidly fraternities because of perceived risk issues). Chancellor Gee, however, then thrilled the Academy when he encouraged a new relationship between universities and fraternities, a relationship he described as a "partnering" relationship. He called it in loco amicus. Amicus, of course, is the Latin word denoting friendship. What a remarkable development!

Thank you, Brother Gee. The lengthy standing ovation you received from the Academy was thunderous. We are grateful that your recollection of your own Pi Kappa Alpha experience coincides with the stated mission of our founders, and the precepts of our beloved Fraternity. We now have a university official at the highest level confirming what we all have known... that Pi Kappa Alpha and universities have a common mission... equipping students with the skills necessary to choose success.

Faternally,

King Buttermore

Pi Kappa Alpha Presents The 2001 OFFICERS LEADERSHIP ACADEMY

by Matthew B. Johnson (Southern Methodist, Beta Zeta '98)

From August 1 through 5, men from across the United States and Canada gathered in Memphis for the 2001 Officers Leadership Academy. Over 400 of Pi Kappa Alpha's finest undergraduates, alumni, volunteers, and international officers attended the five-day academy, making it one of the largest and most extensive educational conferences in the fraternity world.

For the first time since 1989, the academy was held in a new location. This year's facility, Whispering Woods resort in Olive Branch, Mississippi, was considered "a great facility" by many of the attendees. International Undergraduate Vice President T.J. Turner (Epsilon Gamma, Texas Tech '96) remarked that Whispering Woods was "a great setting... a good move for the Fraternity."

The academy focused on educating chapter officers on fraternity programming and leadership development in a new way than in years past. Instead of providing officer tracks, this year the academy offered programming-specific sessions that allowed officers to gain a diversified perspective of chapter operations. Attendees chose between several "Chapter Building Blocks," such as alumni relations and chapter finances, depending upon the areas of chapter programming with which they were most concerned. Chapter Secretary Rowdy Gaines (Southern Methodist, Beta Zeta '98) thought, "It was great having choices on which session to attend. It was like having a conference tailored to the needs of my chapter."

The centerpiece of the 2001 OLA was Pike Leadership, a five-track leadership development workshop. Each session of the program built upon the ones before it, concentrating on identifying and utilizing the characteristics of effective leaders, envisioning and creating an ideal chapter environment, and formulating strategies for leading the chapter toward success. Educational Advisory Committee members Michael A. Hayes (Indiana State, Theta Omicron '82) and W. Patrick Haun (High Point,

Over 400 undergraduates, alumni, officers, and guests enjoyed the final banquet, especially the presentation of the 2001 Robert Adger Smythe Awards.

After the opening session, members of Pi Kappa Alpha's chapter consultant staff performed a model initiation. Providing educational and instructional commentary on the ancient ceremony was international historian Dr. Jerome V. Reel (Tulane, Eta '57) who commented throughout on each part of the ceremony's origin and significance, especially in relation to the intentions of the Fraternity's founders. Initiation team member Jeff Labrecque (Virginia Tech, Epsilon '00) commented, "Dr. Reel has a wealth of knowledge regarding our history and ritual. He is an invaluable asset to our Fraternity, and we're truly blessed to have him as a resource." Additionally, Dr. Reel presented a video of founder William Alexander in which Alexander described how loyalty is truly the tie that binds our beloved Fraternity.

Delta Omega '89), along with guest faculty member Mark C. Dziatczak (Wayne State, Delta Nu '91), facilitated the sessions.

The Wednesday afternoon opening session featured remarks from Executive Vice President Raymond L. Orians (Memphis, Delta Zeta '66) and International President H. King Buttermore III (Vanderbilt, Sigma '63). Orians greeted the academy attendees with his traditional Memphis welcome and Buttermore motivated the audience by detailing all the accolades Pi Kappa Alpha has garnished over the past few years. The opening session concluded with the delivery of the Chapter Excellence Awards, given to the top 20% of PIKA's chapters.

After the model initiation, members of the Educational Advisory Committee presented the first session of Pike Leadership, which used a multimedia presentation to describe attributes of great leaders. The presenters differentiated leadership from management and highlighted how successful leaders must satisfy the needs of their followers. Michael Puglia (Nevada-Reno, Iota Eta '99) remarked that the presentation was, "Excellently done, I'll present it to my chapter and ask for their input!" Hayes ended the meeting by challenging each of the chapter officers to attend every session and put in the effort necessary to succeed.

Thursday morning began with a bang as the International Rush Advisory Committee presented "Winning Rush." International Rush Director Todd Mudd (Missouri, Alpha Nu '81) and International Rush Advisory Committee members Steve Heck (Kansas State, Alpha Omega '88) and Darius Sidebotham (Florida Tech, Zeta Sigma '94) delivered this dynamic multimedia presentation that focused on recruiting scholars, leaders, athletes, and gentlemen. These rush experts detailed strategies for marketing a positive image, discussed the characteristics of a successful chapter program, and explained how to create a target market. The brand new Rush Chairman's Handbook, which outlines PiKA's rush philosophy and practices, was distributed during the session. At the conclusion of the session, Pi Kappa Alpha honored its most outstanding rushing chapters by presenting the coveted Rush Awards.

Other general sessions on Thursday included "Understanding our Ritual", wherein Dr. Reel expanded on his Wednesday evening session. Also presented were "University Relations", which offered ideas on improving the campus community and the Greek experience, and "The Pike House", an analysis of the current status of fraternity housing throughout North America as well as suggestions on improving the condition of Pi Kappa Alpha housing.

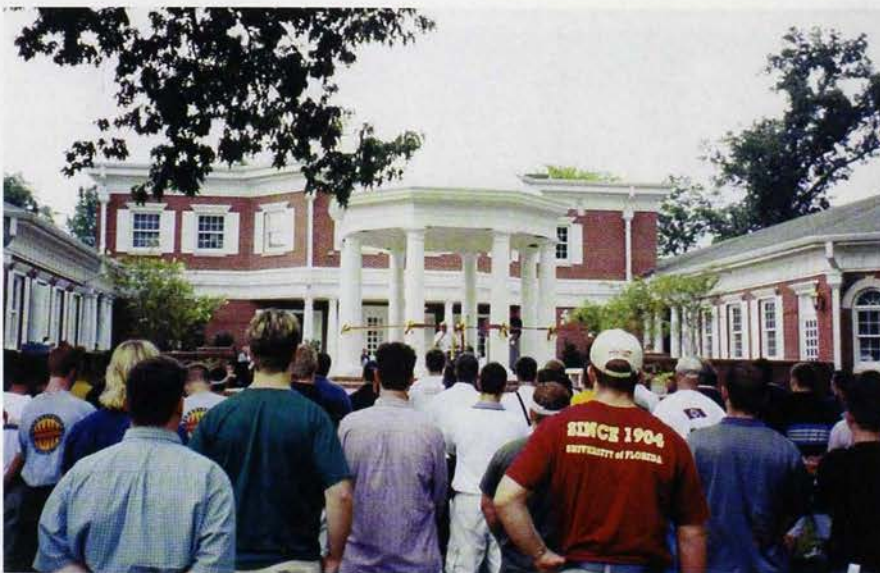

The Educational Advisory Committee presented the second track of Pike Leadership, "Your Leadership Style", on Thursday afternoon. Track two was a personal assessment survey designed to illustrate leadership attributes and characteristics for chapter officers and attendees. The goal of the session was to provide a personal perspective from which chapter officers could view the following tracks. Kyle Mowitz (Florida State, Delta Lambda '01) remarked, "This session was extremely productive. I really found out a lot about my leadership style and myself. I definitely have some goals for the next few sessions."

Friday morning's programming began with Pike Leadership track three, "An Ideal Future", which profiled the leadership techniques that led to the success of another species of prominent "pike", the world famous Pike Fish Market in Seattle, Washington. Following the film titled "fish", attendees stayed in the main pavilion for "Pledging Our Best", a session facilitated by guest faculty member Chris Peterson (Florida, Eta Alpha '91). Peterson shared some of his personal experiences with pledgship and hazing and discussed the value of building better members through positive educational programming. Friday morning's last session was International Vice President and legal expert Allen Groves' (Stetson, Delta Upsilon '79) outstanding presentation, "Improving Excellence Through Reducing Risks". With a newly modified program, Groves examined the ideals and objectives upon which the Fraternity was founded and used case studies to illustrate these philosophies will result in stronger chapters with greater risk awareness.

On Friday afternoon, Pi Kappa Alpha's best and brightest chapters were rewarded for their achievements at the International Awards Session. Awards were given for outstanding alumni involvement, chapter programming, and housing operations. The Chapter Advisor of the Year award was presented to Daniel F. McGehee (Southeast

Major chapter programming awards included the Scholarship Cup, awarded to the Iota Nu Chapter (Saint Louis University) for its 3.27 cumulative chapter grade point average; community service awards, given to chapters for excellent programming and philanthropic fundraising; and athletics awards, given to PiKA chapters with top performance in campus intramurals and/or on the varsity athletic field. Other highlights included the presentation of the Educational Foundation Phi Phi Kappa Alpha Club 100% awards and annual phonathon awards, with Delta Nu Chapter (Wayne State) winning overall for raising over $42,000 from generous alumni. Housing awards for outstanding chapter house improvement project and chapter house of the year were also presented.

Also given at the awards session were charters and gavels to Pi Kappa Alpha's newest chapters: Lambda Epsilon (Alberta), Delta Lambda (Florida State), Phi (Roanoke) and Eta Sigma (West Georgia). The Academy attendees warmly welcomed their newest brothers and commended their outstanding accomplishments.

Following the awards ceremony, excited attendees traveled from Whispering Woods to the Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Headquarters for the dedication of the beautiful Lighty-Wade Courtyard and Pavilion. This remarkable addition to the Headquarters was made possible by donations from alumni, and primarily by donations from two extremely dedicated and generous alumni, Phillip M. Lighty (Washington State, Gamma Xi '38) and Tom W. Wade Jr. (Tennessee, Zeta '53). PiKAs gathered under a light Memphis rain to show their worthy appreciation as the ribbon was cut. Brother Lighty's eyes filled with tears as he reminisced about life in Gamma Xi Chapter in 1937 and the friendships he made that had grown so strong over the years. Following Lighty's address, Brother Wade challenged the Academy attendees by exclaiming that, "If all of you gentlemen will be half the PiKA that Phil Lighty has been, our Fraternity is in great hands."

After the courtyard dedication, attendees traveled to downtown Memphis to cheer on the hometown Memphis Redbirds baseball team. Over two sections of AutoZone Park were filled with excited PiKAs. The brothers were able to socialize and get to know one another in a relaxed environment. Brian Jacks (Delta State, Zeta Beta

DISTINGUISHED ACHIEVEMENT

The Award for 2001

Gordon Gee

(Utah, Alpha Tau '63)

In presenting the 2001 Distinguished Achievement Award to Gordon Gee (Utah, Alpha Tau '63), Cumberland Regional President John Fitzgerald (Vanderbilt, Sigma '63) said, "Where he demands excellence of others, he excels himself. Where he demands sacrifice of others, he goes the extra mile. And where he expects the highest level of performance, he is already at that level."

Gordon Gee is chancellor of Vanderbilt University. A leader in the field of higher education, he comes to Vanderbilt having presided over such institutions as Brown, Ohio State, Colorado and West Virginia.

A joint degree recipient in law and education from Columbia University, Gee completed a federal judicial clerkship, after which he served as an assistant dean at the University of Utah College of Law. After this position, he served as a judicial fellow and senior staff assistant for United States Supreme Court Chief Justice Warren Burger. He then became associate dean and professor at Brigham Young University Law School, and then dean at West Virginia before rising to the position of university president.

Gee is the co-author of six books, and the author of over 25 papers and articles in fields relating to both law and education. The recipient of a number of awards and honors including the Distinguished Alumnus Award from both Utah and Columbia.

Active in a number of professional and service organizations, Gee is a member of the Presidential Leadership Group of The Higher Education Center for Alcohol and Other Drug Prevention and is currently serving as president. In addition to belonging to the Board of Trustees for the National Hospice Foundation, he sits on the boards of the American Council on Education, the Historic Black College and University Advisory Committee of the Kresge Foundation, Boy Scouts of America, and American Red Cross. He is an active and proud member of the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

The father of Rebekah, Gee is married to Constance, an associate professor of public policy and education at Peabody College, Vanderbilt University.

LOYALTY

The Award for 2001

R.B. Johnson (left) with presenter and Housing Commission Chairman Jamie Wolff (Eastern Washington, Zeta Nu '67).

R.B. Johnson

(Linfield, Delta Rho '51)

R.B. Johnson is celebrating his 50th year of membership in the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity. Those 50 years have found him serving the Fraternity in many different capacities.

Initiated into Delta Rho Chapter in 1951, Johnson served Gamma Pi Chapter at the University of Oregon as treasurer and president while performing graduate studies.

Starting in 1953 he began his long career as a volunteer to the Fraternity. From 1953 to 1998 he served Delta Rho Chapter as chapter advisor, and has served Delta Rho as house corporation president since the inception of the house corporation in 1951.

Johnson's involvement in the Fraternity has not been limited simply to the local chapters in Oregon. From 1964-1968 he served the Northwest Region (District at that time) as regional president (district president at that time). Immediately following his service as district president, he was elected by the undergraduate members to the position of Supreme Council vice president, a role he filled from 1968-1970. One of his fondest memories is his selection as Supreme Council vice president at the Centennial Convention in Charlottesville, Virginia in 1968.

Johnson has continued to espouse his dedication to the Fraternity through his life membership in the International Alumni Association, as well as being a member of the Educational Foundation's Lily of the Valley Society. Additionally, he attended the 1992 Convention in Phoenix, 1996 Convention in Kansas City, and the Inaugural Housing Summit in Denver in 2001.

R.B. Johnson has committed 50 years to supporting the mission and values of the Fraternity. The real treasure for him is the hundreds of men who have been initiated at Delta Rho over the years who identify a large part of their fraternity experience with R.B. These men come back to alumni events and sporting events, and invariably their first question is "Where is R.B.?" or "How is R.B.?" This week, the answers to those questions are simple: "Where is R.B.?" R.B. is right here with his brothers, undergraduates and alumni alike. And "How is R.B.?" He is still doing that which he loves greatly, serving the Fraternity both locally and internationally.

'00) said, "It gave us an opportunity to interact and hang out with a bunch of Pikes from all over North America, and watch some good baseball."

Saturday morning began with Pike Leadership four, "Breaking Down Barriers". This breakout session pointed out that officers frequently return from leadership school ready to implement what they have learned, but encounter opposition from chapter members who did not attend. This session was designed to facilitate discussion between officers on common problems and possible solutions. Simultaneous with this session was the Chapter Advisor track, facilitated by members of staff and the Chapter Advisor Task Force. The discussion focused on developing a rapport with chapter leaders and helping chapters overcome common obstacles. Other Chapter Building Blocks on Saturday included "Retaining and Building Better Members", and "Being our Brother's Keeper", which were follow-up sessions by Chris Peterson and Allen Groves respectively. The final track of Pike Leadership, "Taking It Home", was a highly motivational session built off of the "Breaking Down Barriers" session and offered solutions to communication issues within the chapters, a fitting wrap-up.

To close the educational portion of the OLA, Pi Kappa Alpha once again called upon Dr. Jerry W. Askew (North Carolina, Tau '73) and his amazing presentation, "Strategic Leadership". This extremely popular session helped leaders understand the different stages of college life and the factors influencing members during these stages. Askew assisted chapter members in learning how they could use this knowledge to motivate their chapters and affect positive changes.

The OLA then moved to the Adam's Mark Hotel for the Officers Leadership Banquet. Highlights of the evening included the presentation of the Robertson Most Outstanding Undergraduate Award, the Distinguished Achievement Award, the Loyalty Award, the Newell Award for the most improved chapter, and finally the Robert Adger Smythe Awards for PiKA's "best of the best" chapters.

Tim Heis (Southern Methodist, Beta Zeta '98) received the 2001 Robertson Award for his outstanding academic performance as well as his dedication to the campus community and his chapter. Heis, varsity goalkeeper for the national power SMU Mustangs, delivered an impassioned address wherein he thanked his family, friends, and chapter brothers for their tremendous support. The Chancellor of Vanderbilt University, E. Gordon Gee (Utah, Alpha Tau '63), received the 2001 Distinguished Achievement Award. Gee identified the deteriorating relations between fraternities and universities as a critical issue that must be resolved if fraternities are to flourish. He vowed to work from the university side to improve the relationship and challenged chapter leaders to do the same. R.B. Johnson (Linfield, Delta Rho '51) received the Loyalty Award for his 50 years of dedication to Pi Kappa Alpha. In a brief but heartfelt address, Johnson thanked all of his friends and brothers who have continually inspired him.

The 2001 Officers Leadership Academy was truly a success. President Buttermore summed it up best with, "It has been said that leaders inspire others to achieve their maximum potential. If this is true, then the Pi Kappa Alphas who participated in the 2001 Officers Leadership Academy will truly be an inspiration as they return to their home chapters. These leaders have Pi Kappa Alpha poised for success in the new academic year."

Pikes on the Gridiron 2001

Football season is upon us once again! As you're watching the games on television, Division I-AA Pikes to look for include star defensive end Will Overstreet (Zeta '99) of national power Tennessee. Overstreet led the Vols to a Cotton Bowl appearance, and once again he made the SEC Academic Honor Roll. For his outstanding play and leadership, Overstreet was named defensive captain.

Other outstanding Pikes include All-Conference USA second team punter Adam Wulfeck (Alpha Xi '99) of Cincinnati. Wulfeck and the Bearcats played in the Motor City Bowl. I-Back Robin Miller (Gamma Beta '00) of Nebraska averaged almost five yards per carry for the Cornhuskers and played in the Alamo Bowl. Florida State fullback Chad Maeder (Delta Lambda '01) and center Josh Baggs (Delta Lambda '01) were on the Seminoles Orange Bowl team and figure heavily in this year's offense.

Virginia Tech kicker Jon Mollerup (Epsilon '00) is at it again for the Hokies who played in last year's Gator Bowl, as is Texas defensive back Billy Wright (Beta Mu '00) of the Longhorns Holiday Bowl team and Arkansas offensive guard Jerry Reith (Alpha Zeta '00) of the Razorbacks Las Vegas Bowl squad.

Central Florida quarterback Brian Miller (Eta Phi '00) and fullback Sean Gaudion (Eta Phi '00) are key offensive performers for the Golden Knights, as is SMU Mustangs tight end Mike Brown (Beta Zeta '99). Brown is joined by defensive teammates Shane O'Neill (Beta Zeta '99) at safety and linebacker Justin Williams (Beta Zeta '00). Baylor kicker Daniel Andino (Theta Nu '00), who made the Academic All-Big XII second team, will handle extra points and field goals for the Bears.

Cougars kicker Drew Dunning (Gamma Xi '00) and special teams specialist Kyle Stiffarm (Gamma Xi '99) are back for Washington State, and potentially seeing action at both defensive end and tight end for Wyoming will be the Cowboys versatile Casey Tennessee Vols captain and defensive end Will Overstreet (Tennessee, Zeta '99) stares down the opposing offense.

Adams (Iota Alpha '99). Memphis tight end Jeff Cameron (Delta Zeta '00) is expected to figure greatly in the offense for the Tigers, as are Arkansas State Indians offensive tackle Burt Samples (Delta Theta '00) and Illinois running back Clayton Mullen (Beta Eta '00) for the Fighting Illini.

In Division I-AA, Pi Kappa Alpha will be represented among teams such as the Tennessee-Chattanooga Mocs, Drake Bulldogs, Pennsylvania Quakers, Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks, and Florida Atlantic Owls.

In Division II, Pikes will play for among others the Presbyterian Blue Hose, South Dakota Coyotes, East Central Tigers, Missouri-Rolla Miners, West Georgia Braves, and Pittsburg State Gorillas.

In Division III, Pi Kappa Alpha will be represented at schools including Linfield, Plymouth State, Rensselaer, Hampden-Sydney, Chapman, and the University of Chicago.

COACHING

In the coaching ranks, a trio of Pikes are led by Florida State Seminoles legendary head coach Bobby Bowden (Samford, Alpha Pi '49), Motor City Bowl champion Marshall Thundering Herd Bob Pruett (Marshall, Delta Iota '62), and SEC defensive mastermind Woody Widenhofer (Missouri, Alpha Nu '85) of the Vanderbilt Commodores. And this year also sees a return to the sidelines for national champion coach Howard Schnellenberger (Miami, Gamma Omega '80) for the I-AA Florida Atlantic Owls who are competing in their first-ever football season!

PROS

In the NFL, Pikes playing on Sundays include St.

Louis Rams offensive lineman Cameron Spikes (Texas A&M, Theta Theta '97), Seattle Seahawks punter Jeff Feagles (Miami, Gamma Omega '86), Chicago Bears offensive lineman Rex Tucker (Texas A&M, Theta Theta '97), and Green Bay Packers defensive lineman Chad Clifton (Tennessee-Martin, Epsilon Sigma '01). Also, at the print deadline, Ole Miss Rebels tri-captain and defensive star Shane Elam (Gamma Iota '98) was still in the San Francisco 49ers camp and highly touted tight end Ivan Mercer (Gamma Omega '01) who starred for the Miami Hurricanes was hoping to make the Washington Redskins. And of course, Denver Broncos owner Pat Bowlen (Oklahoma, Beta Omicron '63) and backup quarterback Gus Frerotte (Tulsa, Gamma Upsilon '90) are hoping to return the two-time champions to Super Bowl form.

Pike Alumni Making Headlines

Foundation of Donald W. Reynolds Preserves Important Piece of American History

Earlier this year, the Smithsonian's National Portrait Gallery was facing the loss of its most famous and significant painting of first president George Washington. With a limited amount of time to raise the necessary funds to save what is known as "The Lansdowne Portrait", the Smithsonian called on the foundation of one of Pi Kappa Alpha's most prominent alumni, Donald W. Reynolds (Missouri, Alpha Nu '25).

Lord Dalmeny of London's family acquired the portrait in the 1880s and loaned it to the Smithsonian, but for various reasons Dalmeny felt it was time to sell. Graciously, he offered the Smithsonian exclusive rights to purchase the portrait, but only if it could raise the necessary $20 million in a very short time. So, in recognizing the importance of keeping the portrait in the United States forever, the Reynolds Foundation committed $20 million for the purchase, as well as $4 million for a dedicated space at the National Portrait Gallery and $6 million for a three-year national tour of the painting. The portrait is now on view in the National Museum of American History.

This original eight-by-five foot portrait was painted by Gilbert Stuart, known as the "Father of American Portraiture", in 1796, and is in excellent condition. It's referred to as "The Lansdowne Portrait" because it was originally painted for and presented to the Marquis of Lansdowne, a British supporter of the American cause in Parliament during the revolution, as a symbol of reconciliation between the two countries.

"This was a patriotic emergency and the Donald W. Reynolds Foundation answered the call," Smithsonian Secretary Lawrence Small said. "Gilbert Stuart's great portrait of George Washington will now be owned by the nation – forever."

"My fellow trustees and I are excited and proud to be able to play a part in saving this national treasure for the American people," said Fred W. Smith, chairman of the board of the Donald W. Reynolds Foundation. "We felt, as I am sure every American did, that it would be a tragedy to lose this original portrait of our Founding Father. This gift will now secure 'The Lansdowne Portrait' of George Washington and provide for its permanent home at the Smithsonian."

"In addition, we will also provide the financial resources to fund a three-year national tour of the painting and educational materials for America's school children," Smith added. "Our benefactor, Donald W. Reynolds, believed that every American owed a debt of gratitude to those who came before us. He also felt that we have an obligation to keep the symbols of our country's principles for those in the future. This gift will accomplish those goals and honor his name and ideals into perpetuity."

The Donald W. Reynolds Foundation is a national philanthropic organization founded in 1954 by the late media entrepreneur for whom it is named. Reynolds was the founder and principal owner of Donrey Media Group, a nationwide communications and media company. Headquartered in Las Vegas, the foundation is one of the nation's largest private foundations. Up until the time of Reynolds' passing, he regularly visited his alma mater the University of Missouri, where the alumni association building bears his name, and his beloved Alpha Nu Chapter. In 1986, Reynolds received from Pi Kappa Alpha both the Order of West Range and Distinguished Achievement Award.

Information for this article was provided by Patrick Madden (Ohio, Gamma Omicron '91). Madden currently serves as director of external affairs for the National Portrait Gallery and can be reached at maddenp@npg.si.edu.

PIKES ON CD:

Sister Hazel Bass Player Jeff Beres

Since 1997, not a day has gone by that Sister Hazel hasn't been at the top of the music charts or played on the modern rock radio stations. A large part of the band's success is directly attributable to bass player Jeff Beres (Florida, Alpha Eta '89).

Sister Hazel's 2000 release Fortress went Gold (sales of 500,000+) on the strength of singles "Champagne High" and "Change Your Mind", and 1997's ...Somewhere More Familiar went Platinum (sales of 1,000,000+) with total sales of 1.5 million and the #1 song in the country, "All For You." With the success of the two latest discs, even their eponymously titled independent debut Sister Hazel has sold 200,000 copies! Success has also come in terms of appearances on MTV, VH-1 and even "Live With Regis!"

Beres is teamed with guitarist Andrew Copeland, lead guitarist Ryan Newell, drummer Mark Trojanowski and lead vocalist, guitarist and frontman Ken Block. Block, who has also appeared as a guest vocalist on Memory Dean's album Still Hungry Souls that features Jay Memory (Georgia, Alpha Mu '87), handles most of the band's songwriting duties, but Beres and the rest of the band all contribute. Beres' songs include "Starfish" from ...Somewhere More Familiar and live favorite "Surreal" from Fortress.

Although music was always a priority with Beres, he was actually well on his way to a masters in architecture when the whole

Sister Hazel thing exploded, and actually plans to finish his courses and become an architect after the life or recording and touring comes to a close.

The Pike influence in Sister Hazel comes not only from Beres, but also from manager Andy Levine (Florida, Alpha Eta '89). Levine and Beres have been with Sister Hazel from the beginning, and the two are also pledge brothers who in the early days played in a popular local Gainesville band called Waterdog. While in the chapter, Beres served as social chairman and is "proud of the fact that he kept the fun-loving chapter out of trouble!"

To those Pikes interested in a career in music, Beres offers the following advice, "First, practice all the time. Focus on being a musician who's good at his craft as opposed to 'making it' or 'becoming a rock star'. And two, persistence is the key. Sister Hazel remained true to its music, was willing to tour without a deal, and basically became a grassroots success because of it."

Beres enjoys getting back to Gainesville for Florida Gators football games, and also loves the fact that life on the road gives him a chance to meet Pikes everywhere. Says Beres, "If you come see Sister Hazel live, please come on up after the show, say hi, and slip me the grip!"

Professional Educator Bowsher Authors Book on Public Schools

Jack E. Bowsher (Illinois, Beta Eta '50), former chief training officer for the IBM Corporation, just had his third book published, "Fix Schools First: Blueprint For Achieving Learning Standards." The book provides a step-by-step guide for systemic change within a public school district to enable over 90% of the students to achieve the learning standards established by a state and local school district.

Since President Ronald Reagan's landmark report on the public school system, "A Nation At Risk", much has been done to solve what was termed a "crisis." Over 1000 studies, hundreds of reports and billions in incremental dollars were devoted to the problem. Corporate giants as well as political leaders at federal, state and local levels have tried to improve performance. And millions of teachers, administrators, and school board members have strived to improve learning. Despite all efforts, Bowsher tells us that still over 50% of all students are not at grade level for learning. In the top schools, 25% have fallen behind and in inner-city schools this figure often reaches a staggering 75%.

Bowsher contends that the efforts for improvement have missed the root causes of the crisis. The problems lie not with parents, teachers and students, but with the education system itself. The book provides a vision for world-class curriculum, and new systems of learning, tutoring and assessment. Once the new paradigm for education is implemented, professional respect for teachers and administrators will be at an all-time high, new career opportunities will be available, and compensation for educators will greatly improve.

"Fix Schools First" is available through Aspen Publishers at www.aspenpublishers.com.

Pentagon Appointment

A Mid-Career Adventure

Gary Penisten

Former Assistant Secretary of the Navy Penisten Pens Autobiography

The simple virtues on which Nebraskaans pride themselves have propelled Gary Penisten (Nebraska-Omaha, Delta Chi '52) from Omaha to a lengthy corporate career with a mid-life detour through the Pentagon's bureaucratic maze.

In high school Penisten was somewhat of a baseball star, and actually signed a minor league contract with the now-defunct St. Louis Browns. Instead of baseball, though, he went to work for General Electric where he worked for 23-years, only departing because of his appointment by President Gerald Ford as Assistant Secretary of the Navy. When his term ended in 1977, he became vice president and chief financial officer for pharmaceutical company Sterling Drug, Inc. Sterling was bought by Eastman Kodak in 1988, shortly before Penisten's retirement in 1990.

In "Pentagon Appointment", Penisten introduces the reader to the inner workings of high-level military administration, with an emphasis on financial management, and shows how business skills can "get the taxpayers their money's worth." Along the way the author offers many sketches of military and political personalities of the 1970s.

Says Admiral James Holloway III, "Having served with Gary during his stint as Assistant Secretary of the Navy, I have a special appreciation for this book. His recollections of those days as a senior official in the Navy ring true in capturing the urgency of the job and gravity of the responsibilities. Gary Penisten is one of those modern-day patriots who left the comfort and security of corporate America to serve his government in the pressure cooker of the Pentagon. Gary did it with distinction, and with a good humor and understanding that gained the friendship and admiration of his uniformed colleagues."

"Pentagon Appointment" is available at www.amazon.com.

Phi Chapter Rechartered At Roanoke College

Roanoke College is an institution with a rich history. Founded in 1842, it is the second oldest Lutheran institution in North America. High academic standards and great community development have characterized Roanoke College for over 150 years. For the majority of those 150 years, Roanoke has had an active Greek community that is the college's oldest and longest lasting tradition.

In 1896, an application for a charter with the signatures of seven men was sent to the general office of Pi Kappa Alpha. On October 24, 1896, Phi Chapter was formed, and within five years was the largest fraternity on campus.

After the turn of the century, Greek life at Roanoke began to decline thus causing numerous fraternities to go silent, Pi Kappa Alpha included. Phi Chapter willingly sent one of its four members to the 1909 New Orleans Convention to surrender the charter. At that time, a decision was passed to revoke Phi's charter until such a time when a group of men worthy of its honor could again be found at Roanoke College.

91 years later, on January 26, 2000, a group of close friends decided to form a fraternity. In a matter of days, a constitution had been written, officers elected, and 15 members inducted. Calling itself the Independent Brothers of Roanoke College (IBRC), the group in its first semester completed several service projects, enjoyed some social events, and ended the term with a growing membership. Going forward, the two main goals of the group were to seek recognition by the school and gain affiliation with a national fraternity.

IBRC member Daniel Prugh '01 was a good friend of Chris Williams (Virginia Tech, Epsilon '00), rush chairman for the then Pike colony at Virginia Tech. Williams informed Prugh that there was a silent chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha at Roanoke and that the group should investigate recolonizing Phi Chapter. So, IBRC contacted Pi Kappa Alpha and mutual interest was determined.

At the same time, IBRC petitioned Roanoke College for recognition. Four months later, Pi Kappa Alpha was on campus. The effort marked Roanoke's first colonization in 12 years. Since Phi's colonization, inspired by Phi's success, the Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority has also colonized.

On the first day of the 2000 fall semester, Pi Kappa Alpha staff members Mike McMillan (California-San Diego, Kappa Phi '97) and Jason Patocka (Northern Iowa, Theta Zeta '96) arrived at Roanoke College. With an existing membership base, McMillan and Patocka interviewed and bid IBRC members and also recruited new members. After three weeks, officers were appointed and the colony stood at 27 members. In that first semester, the colony grew and had many successes including winning the sorority philanthropy week competition.

At year's end, Phi was recognized by the Roanoke IFC for highest overall GPA, highest new member GPA, and highest member GPA. The IFC also recognized Phi for numerous and diverse service projects. Individually, Colony President Will Farmer '01 won the IFC 2001 Outstanding Leader Award, and Chapter Advisor Patrick Paradzinski '01 won the Student Life Council 2001 Outstanding Advisor Award.

On campus, Pikes hold the positions of newspaper chief editor, vice president of Lutheran Student Movement, president of Habitat for Humanity, chairman of the Student Conduct Council, director of men's acappella group, Chi Omega Man of the Year, and several resident advisors.

After eight months as a colony, Phi Chapter was installed April 21, 2001. The black tie banquet was held outside Salem in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains. The rustic setting for the celebration captured the personality of Phi Chapter, and good food, wonderful company, and inspirational words made for a perfect evening. In attendance were International President King Buttermore (Vanderbilt, Sigma '63), Director of Expansion Ryan Flickinger (Southern Illinois, Iota Mu '94), Brad Smith (Iowa, Gamma Nu '90), McMillan, Patocka, and many friends and family. Thanks to hard work and determination, along with the support and encouragement of the Memorial Headquarters staff, the flame of Phi will burn brightly evermore.

Roanoke College – founded 1842.

Phi Chapter – chartered 1896, closed in 1909, rechartered 2001.

Members – 46.

Scholarship – highest overall GPA, highest new member GPA, highest initiate GPA.

Will Farmer '01 – chapter president, IFC 2001 Outstanding Leader.

Patrick Paradzinski '01 – chapter advisor, Student Life Council 2001 Outstanding Advisor.

Why I Pledged: Mike Mathy (Washington State, Gamma Xi '80)

Mike Mathy was appointed as a member of the International Alumni Commission in 2001. Mathy served as president of the five-time Nester Award winning Gamma Xi Alumni Association from 1992-2000. He also served as chapter advisor for Beta Beta Chapter at the University of Washington from 1993-94, and currently serves on the advisory boards for both Gamma Xi and Beta Beta. As an undergraduate, Mathy served as president, vice president and social chairman. He is a member of the International Alumni Association and the Educational Foundation Lily of the Valley Society. Mathy is a finance manager for Boeing Company and resides in Seattle, Washington with his wife, Sara, and two children, Courtney and Trenton.

Mike Mathy

The Shield & Diamond asked Mathy to reflect on his personal rush experience and Pi Kappa Alpha.

What attracted you to Pi Kappa Alpha?

That's an easy question - the brothers! At Washington State, the Greek system coordinates a formal rush week program. Each rushee "house guests" at one of the 28 fraternities, and I drew Pi Kappa Alpha. From the minute I walked in the door, I clicked with the members. I visited all of the other 27 fraternities during rush, but their guys couldn't compare to the Pikes! More importantly, not only did I like the Pike members better, they made me feel the most welcome.

What rush techniques did the Pikes at Washington State use?

Although I didn't realize it, the Pikes matched me up with several brothers with whom I had much in common. I played high school soccer and was also on the swim team. Well, Eric Gross '79, who later became my pledge dad, was an avid soccer player and captain of the Cougars water polo team. Eric was a huge influence in my pledging Pi Kappa Alpha. One-on-one rushing was a technique that Pikes at WSU were very proficient at. And also, another effective technique used at that time was the Gamma Xi rush slide show that was basically chapter and university pictures narrated and set to music. I saw a similar idea at the last convention using CD-ROM that was awesome.

What role has Pi Kappa Alpha played in your life beyond college?

Even 20-years after pledging, there is rarely a week that goes by where Pi Kappa Alpha doesn't touch my life in a positive way! My affiliation with the local and international alumni associations, as well as the various advisory roles that I have filled, keeps me active with both undergraduate and alumni activities. My continued involvement is one of the most rewarding activities that I do for myself. The contacts that I made in college and are still making today have been invaluable to me personally and professionally.

In 1998, I attended the Toronto international convention, my first. I had such a great time that I also attended the 2000 convention in Atlanta, and I'm already looking forward to Palm Springs in 2002! And this year for the first time I visited Memphis and the Memorial Headquarters, what a blast! It's never too late to get involved, and the opportunities are endless!

Why is rush so important?

Keeping the chapter full of high quality men totally enhances the fraternity experience. Honestly, a full chapter translates into winning more and having more fun! There are more brothers available to field athletic teams, plan activities on behalf of the chapter, or simply hang out with. More brothers also mean that there are more resources available for charity work, social activities, or anything that helps improve the chapter!

AUTUMN RUSH TIP: "Rush Never Sleeps!"

For chapters where summer rush is the main pipeline, avoid the temptation to rest. Now that you're back on campus, this is a prime opportunity to project a "top fraternity" image and identify potential spring pledges. Challenge all of your members, initiates and pledges alike, to submit a minimum of five names per person to the rush committee. These names can be of friends, campus organization members, or classmates. Start working now to win the competition for the best spring pledge class! If your school has "deferred rush", now is the only time to make that necessary great first impression, particularly with the freshmen. While staying within your system's rush guidelines and rules, finalize your strategy for meeting, making friends with, and eventually pledging the "most best men." In summation, there's always an opportunity to directly contribute to your chapter's rush efforts, and history has proven that our chapters that constantly work on rush get the best results, pledge the "most best men", and come out on top.

Top Pledging Chapters, April-June 2001

The following chapters have placed their chapters in a position for outstanding success this year. These leaders are making a difference for Pi Kappa Alpha by winning rush!

Chapter	Pledgings
Beta Phi (Purdue)	24
Kappa Phi (California-San Diego)	21
Alpha Zeta (Arkansas)	17
Delta Gamma (Miami-Ohio)	15
Lambda Delta (Vermont)	13

Epsilon Iota Chapter at Southeast Missouri State University won the 2001 Best Overall Work Day Award for their project, participation and results.

International Work Day has become an annual tradition for many chapters. The 2001 International Work Day resulted in the largest participation by chapters since the programs creation in the fall of 1997. International Work Day is a daylong event set by the chapter or house corporation that is dedicated to house improvement projects. International Work Day program is endorsed and supported by the International Fraternity's Housing Department. All participating chapters qualify for many incentives, which includes a $250 participation grant, an event planning kit, recognition in the fall Shield & Diamond, and eligibility for selection in one of six International Work Day Awards. To get your chapter, house corporation or yourself involved with this exciting event, follow the simple instructions below.

How to Get Involved with the Spring 2002 International Work Day

Chapters or House Corporations:

Registration can be completed via the Fraternity's Website (www.pka.com) and by calling or e-mailing the Housing Department at (901) 748-1868 or pkahouse@pka.com. All registered chapters will receive a free International Work Day Planning Kit that explains how to host the event and take advantage of many incentives offered by the International Fraternity.

Alumni, Parents or Guests:

In late February, watch for an invitation in the mail, check the International Fraternity's Web site (www.pka.com), or look in the spring issue of the Shield and Diamond to see if your chapter or the chapter nearest to you is participating. If you can't wait till then, call (901) 748-1868 or email the Housing Department at pkahouse@pka.com and ask for information about getting involved.

The Pi Kappa Alpha International Fraternity 2000-2001 Annual Report

Raymond L. Orians
Executive Vice President

A letter from the Executive Vice President:

Dear Brothers,

It is a distinct honor to present the 2000-2001 Annual Report of The Pi Kappa Alpha International Fraternity. As you review the pages of this annual report, you will notice that Pi Kappa Alpha continues to grow and prosper. The following highlights are indicative of our achievements this past year.

- ♦ Pi Kappa Alpha experienced more initiations this past year than any year in the past decade.
- ♦ The Fraternity's pledgings exceeded the previous year by a record 11.9% over the previous year.
- ♦ The Fraternity continues to lead all fraternities in average chapter size, a major indicator of chapter strength.
- ♦ Pi Kappa Alpha is one of the largest fraternities in North America with representation on 214 university campuses composed of 204 chapters and 10 colonies.
- ♦ The Fraternity provides extensive educational opportunities to its student members in the form of both individual grants and leadership conferences.

Our Fraternity is blessed with excellent leaders on the Supreme Council who were elected at the International Convention in Atlanta, Georgia early in the year. They have provided the talents and vision to take the Fraternity to greater heights. Our volunteer leaders, from local chapter advisors and house corporation/alumni association officers, to our regional presidents and our various international officers, continue to serve the Fraternity with distinction and dedication.

The Headquarters' professional staff spends countless hours implementing the programs and projects that make Pi Kappa Alpha the most prominent fraternity in North America.

Many in our society have questioned the value of Pi Kappa Alpha and indeed the entire Greek movement. One only needs to see the gleam in a young member's eye when he or his chapter is rewarded for deeds well done, or the support a young member in need receives from his fellow brothers, or the endless testimonies from several members crediting Pi Kappa Alpha with positive, life-changing experiences to know its true value.

Pi Kappa Alpha will continue to be the preeminent fraternity for many years to come as evidenced by another banner year documented in this report. We appreciate all of you who have contributed to our brotherhood and to this success.

Fraternally,

Raymond L. Orians
Executive Vice President

Leadership Programs

International Convention

Pi Kappa Alpha's 2000 International Convention was held in August at the Hilton Atlanta in downtown Atlanta, Georgia. The biennial event drew more than 700 undergraduates, alumni and volunteers, making it one of the most well attended conventions in the Fraternity's history. In addition to leadership and educational sessions, chapters and alumni association representatives participated in legislative sessions discussing such topics as pledge education and academic standards. Attendees also witnessed the presentation of the Fraternity's international awards, including the Chapter Excellence, Smythe, Newell and Nester Awards. In a special event led by representatives of Theta Sigma Chapter (Winthrop), Dr. Jason Silverman was honored as the convention's special initiate. Other alumni were honored with the presentation of the Fraternity's Loyalty Award (J. Lewie Sanderson, Oklahoma State, Gamma Chi '39), and the Educational Foundation's Order of West Range Awards (Charles O. Holliday, Tennessee, Zeta '67; Dr. Ernest Ern, Marshall, Delta Iota '60; Joe T. Ford, Arkansas, Alpha Zeta '57; Dr. Jerome V. Reel, Jr., Tulane, Eta '57; and Hjalma E. Johnson, Florida, Alpha Eta '58).

Chapter Presidents Conference

The Chapter Presidents Conference, held in January at the Peabody Hotel in Memphis, set another attendance record for Pi Kappa Alpha. The 28th annual Chapter Presidents Conference drew 157 chapter presidents, and another 117 rush chairmen participated in the fourth annual Rush Summit, held concurrent with the Conference. As always, the event concentrated on providing leadership development sessions to chapter CEOs, and cutting-edge recruitment strategies for chapter recruitment chairs or committeemen. Attendees were also treated to new presentations by Monster.com Founder and CEO Jeff Taylor (Massachusetts, Theta Mu '79) and Horatio Alger Award winner Tom Harken (Lamar, Epsilon Kappa '97).

Regional Leadership Conferences

More than 2,200 undergraduates and chapter advisors attended one of Pi Kappa Alpha's sixteen regional leadership conferences this past year. On average, each chapter or colony in a region sent eleven men to their annual conference. These chapter representatives were met by their regional president (a Fraternity officer and volunteer coordinator of the event), a member of the Fraternity's Supreme Council, other Fraternity volunteer officers and at least two members of the Fraternity's professional staff at each event. The primary focus of these events continues to be recruitment, risk awareness, pledge education and chapter finances. The success of these events is a credit to the hard work of Pi Kappa Alpha's regional presidents.

Risk Awareness

The goals of the Risk Awareness Foundation in 2000-2001 year were achieved by the following initiatives:

- ♦ Risk Awareness seminars given at each chapter during the chapter consultant visit
- ♦ Risk Awareness seminars conducted at every Regional Leadership Conference, Officers Leadership Academy and the Chapter Presidents Conference.
- ♦ Risk Awareness financial reimbursement and recognition programs.
- ♦ The continuation of several innovative educational resources.

2000-2001 was the second year of the monetary incentive program. Each chapter that returned a signed copy of the Standards for Retention of Membership,

Chapter Charter in Good Standing was eligible to receive a $250 credit to their Self-Retention Fund account. Additionally, the Foundation presented risk awareness programming awards at the 2001 Officers Leadership Academy for implementing a risk awareness program in the 2000-2001 academic year that included comprehensive risk education and risk awareness procedures. Each recipient of this award received a plaque and a $500 grant towards future educational programming.

The Risk Awareness Foundation continued to promote the video program Risk Awareness: Policy & Procedure, which was offered to every chapter and colony throughout the 2000-2001 academic year. This is one of over thirty educational videotapes that are available for purchase by any chapter desiring to further develop its risk awareness program.

Equally as important, each of the nine chapter consultants gave a risk awareness presentation to the entire chapter during each visit. Furthermore, the topic of risk awareness was addressed at each regional leadership conference during the Improving Excellence through Reducing Risks presentation.

The Risk Awareness Foundation has also continued to support chapters that adopt an alcohol-free housing environment, by maintaining the Alcohol-Free Housing Discount Program. This program offers a $1,000 credit to the chapter's annual participation assessment. Only chapters that voluntarily choose to adopt the program are eligible for this incentive.

Pablo A. Hernandez
Director of Services

Services

During the 2000-2001 academic year, the chapter consultant program continued to be the main component in providing programming and assistance to each one of Pi Kappa Alpha's chapters by providing its members suggestions toward having the ideal fraternity experience. The chapter consultant program remains one of the most valuable resources that the Memorial Headquarters can offer.

The Department of Services is proud to continue the Prominent Pike program recognizing men who excel in academics, leadership and service and represent the best of Pi Kappa Alpha. Members who are distinguished with this honor are based on their contributions to the Fraternity and their university. The Prominent Pike is named each month in the Forum, Pi Kappa Alpha's newsletter.

Seven new chapter consultants and two new expansion consultants were hired for the 2000-2001 academic year in June 2000. These eight, coupled with one returning senior chapter consultant, added to the level of experience of the Memorial Headquarters staff. Our chapters benefited from this level of experience through the 234 visits conducted by consultants to 214 chapters and colonies throughout North America last year. The nature of our chapter visits falls into three separate categories: Recruitment, Development and Regular Consultation.

Recruitment visits are granted to chapters that have recently experienced a drop in membership size or that formally requested such a visit. Recruitment visit highlights include:

- ♦ 32 recruitment visits completed during August, September and January.
- ♦ 4 days in length.

- ♦ Rush retreat completed during each visit.
- ♦ "Winning Rush" presentation given by consultant during each visit.
- ♦ Recruitment committee organized and trained during each visit.
- ♦ A recruitment visit summary was completed by the consultant and filed with both the chapter and the Memorial Headquarters.

Developmental visits are designed to service chapters who have been identified with specific programming needs. The following is a summary of its accomplishments:

- ♦ 10 developmental visits were completed.
- ♦ One or two consultants visited a chapter for four to five days.
- ♦ Presentations were given on different areas of programming (i.e. recruitment, ritual, risk awareness, etc.)
- ♦ The consultants trained and provided future suggestions to each chapter officer and committee chairman.
- ♦ The consultants met with university officials to discuss the chapter's reputation on campus.
- ♦ The consultants met with alumni to provide support for the chapter after their departure.
- ♦ The consultants facilitated a goal-setting retreat for the entire chapter to establish their direction on both a long and short-term basis.
- ♦ A developmental visit summary was completed by the consultants and filed with both the chapter and the Memorial Headquarters.

The regular consultation visits are granted to every chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha each academic year. The structure of this visit has the consultant: assessing the effectiveness of each area of chapter programming and providing strategic suggestions for improvement, meeting with the university and alumni to discuss chapter strengths and weaknesses, conducting a presentation to the entire chapter membership and documenting his visit and suggestions by completing a visitation summary that is presented to the chapter before his departure and copied to the chapter advisor, re-

For those chapters that required further attention, additional resources were provided in the form of extra visitations. Both directors of services, along with the chapter consultants, conducted 12 charter reviews, four membership reviews, three financial visits, and established five new alumni advisory/receivership boards throughout the academic year.

Expansion

Pi Kappa Alpha wrapped up another successful year in expansion and continues to be a leader amongst all North American fraternities in that arena. That reputation was upheld by witnessing the chartering of four new chapters and seven colonization's during the past year. 2000-2001 also brought unprecedented numbers for initiations during an installation and will truly go down as one of Pi Kappa Alpha's most successful periods.

In October, after 91 years of silence, Pi Kappa Alpha came back to Roanoke College. Following a successful colonization and a short 7 months later, our Phi Chapter was reinstalled on April 21, 2001. During the 2000 International Convention in Atlanta, we conducted our first ever inspection via satellite and later welcomed Lambda Epsilon, our fourth Canadian chapter, at the University of Alberta on November 11, 2000.

February witnessed the rechartering of two more Pike Chapters. First, was the Eta Sigma Chapter at the State University of West Georgia on February 3, 2001. Later that month, Delta Lambda Chapter was installed at Florida State University on February 16th, setting a new expansion record with the largest founding father initiatory class in the Fraternity's history. Five host chapters and an alumnus ritual team helped initiate 140 men into the bonds.

Currently, the International Fraternity has ten colonies with seven of them being established this past year. The fall was a very busy time for expansion as we witnessed colonizations at six universities. Following Roanoke, we made our return to the University of Florida and the University of Toledo. Along with those

In addition, the department of services facilitated educational presentations at regional leadership conferences, the 2000 Convention, the Chapter Presidents Leadership Conference and Rush Summit, as well as other occasions requested by a particular chapter or host institution. Services also assisted in two chartering banquets and the establishment of six new colonies.

projects, we laid the foundation for Pi Kappa Alpha at the University of Central Oklahoma, Drexel University in Philadelphia, and Dayton University in Ohio. A great deal of thanks is owed to the services department and chapter consultants for their role in collaborating to make that semester so successful.

Spring saw our 2nd largest colonization ever at the University of Delaware with 93 men being pinned. The group is an outstanding mix of campus leaders and varsity athletes and is currently working their way toward chartering. Rounding out our colonies are our existing groups at San Jose State University, Wichita State University, Morehead State University, and William Woods University.

As of July 1, 2001, N. Ryan Flickinger (Southern Illinois University, Iota Mu '94) was promoted to the director of marketing & expansion. In this new role, Flickinger will be in charge of spearheading Pi Kappa Alpha's new marketing plan as well as still overseeing the expansion department and securing future projects. Assuming many of his previous responsibilities as the new expansion coordinator is Justin Buck (Southeast Missouri State, Epsilon Iota '96). Buck will be working closely with the services department to ensure the success of future colonizations and existing colonies. Similar to previous years, each colony will be visited by an expansion consultant and receive a programming visit by a chapter consultant.

To date, Morehead State University has submitted a petition for installation and awaits an official inspection. The members of the Eta Eta colony are eager to present their colony programming material and accomplishments. If approved for chartering, the colony may be installed as early as October. In addition, this academic year has the opportunity to see all ten of our existing colonies receive their charters as they are well on their way to submitting impressive petitions and preparing for a formal inspection.

The 2001-2002 academic year will begin with the recolonization of Alpha Theta at the University of West Virginia. Coinciding with that project will be the return of Pi Kappa Alpha to Northwestern University, our former Gamma Rho Chapter. The investigation of potential university or college sites for expansion will continue along with a campaign to return to the Fraternity's silent chapters.

Pi Kappa Alpha continues to be aggressive with its expansion department. Our success can be attributed to the work conducted by Fraternity staff, in conjunction with the dedicated alumni who advise our colonies and the men of integrity of which they are comprised. Their hard work and devotion to the creation of an ideal fraternity solidifies Pi Kappa Alpha's position amongst the top in the Greek world. That commitment has helped reinforce the Fraternity's ability to have a positive impact on college campuses across North America.

Pi Kappa Alpha International Alumni Association

With 1100 life and current annual members, Pi Kappa Alpha's successful fifth full year of the International Alumni Association (IAA) was one of strong renewal and solidification. As the first Fraternity to found an alumni association drawing upon all alumni, the IAA demonstrates yet again Pi Kappa Alpha's cutting edge commitment to the continued enhancement of alumni related activities.

The IAA provides enhanced opportunities for alumni involvement at all levels of the Fraternity. Membership benefits include an IAA membership card and car decal, annual roll listing in the autumn Shield & Diamond, the IAA exclusive Once A Pike, Always A Pike quarterly newsletter, and for the first time, a membership premium. The 2001 gift was a beautiful IAA pilsner glass that all members received in September.

Available to all Pi Kappa Alpha alumni are programs such as the Pi Kappa Alpha MBNA MasterCard and the Coverdell short-term medical insurance program, a program ideal for recent graduates, new hires and graduate students. Programs like the above will continue to be developed. In licensing and merchandising, Pi Kappa Alpha and the IAA have developed positive relationships with all of our licensed vendors. Special mention goes to official Fraternity jeweler LEGACY/Masters of Design, Campus Classics sportswear, Graphic Cow party t-shirts, Greek Creations sportswear, Loyd's Embroidery sportswear, National Collegiate calling cards, and our newest partner Pi Kappa Alpha Golf Travel.

Also of major importance from a licensing standpoint, Pi Kappa Alpha partnered with Publishing Concepts on an extensive alumni directory project. Last done in 1996, the project has many benefits. First of all, members are able to purchase an alumni directory complete with the most current alumni information available. And this year, the directory comes not only in hardcover and softback, but also on CD-ROM. Secondly, and more importantly, the project allows all alumni to update their current information in terms of profession, address and other developments. Thanks to all who supported the project by hopefully purchasing the directory or at least submitting updated information. The enhancement and accuracy of the Pi Kappa Alpha database is vital, so thank you.

Throughout 2000-01, alumni activities were more abundant, more successful and more visible than ever. Highlights included Alpha Phi (Iowa State) Homecoming, Delta Zeta (Memphis) Alumni Golf Tournament, Chicago Area Alumni Association Founders Day, Tulsa (Gamma Upsilon) Homecoming, Eta Alpha (Clemson) 14th Annual Homecoming Golf Tournament, Eta Omicron (Louisiana-Monroe) Founders Day, and the Eta Sigma (West Georgia) Golf Tournament. Also included were 20 great events that utilized the Pi Kappa Alpha IAA Speakers Program, a service that provides free-of-charge keynote speakers for alumni events. These events included Zeta Rho (North Dakota) Homecoming, Iota Delta (Rose-Hulman) Founders Day, Delta Chi (Nebraska-Omaha) Founders Day, Theta Kappa (Indiana-Southeast) Founders Day, Kappa Omega (Wisconsin-Whitewater) Founders Day, Toledo (Epsilon Epsilon) Alumni Association Founders Day, Theta Alpha (North Alabama) Founders Day, Zeta (Tennessee) Founders Day, Beta Pi (Pennsylvania) Founders Day, Delaware (Delta Eta) Alumni Association Founders Day, Gamma Pi (Oregon) Founders Day, Kappa Mu (Wilfrid Laurier) Founders Day, Omega (Kentucky) 100th Anniversary, National Capital Area Alumni Association Congressional Founders Day, Alpha Tau (Utah) Founders Day, Gamma Omicron (Ohio) Founders Day, Kappa Gamma (Florida International) Founders Day, Delta Tau (Arizona State) 50th Anniversary, Theta Upsilon (Tennessee Tech) 20th Anniversary, and the Gamma Xi (Washington State) 13th Annual Golf Tournament. Increased Shield & Diamond coverage of these alumni activities and future events will continue.

Alumni association excellence was evident throughout 2000-2001. In a new format, three alumni associations were recognized with the Dr. William R. Nester Gold Award for alumni association excellence, the highest honor given. Winners were Alpha Phi Alumni Association (Iowa State), Gamma Xi Alumni Association (Washington State) and Eta Omicron Alumni Association (Louisiana-Monroe). Receiving Nester Garnet Awards were Eta Sigma Alumni Association (West Georgia), Delaware Alumni Association (Delta Eta) and Toledo Alumni Association (Epsilon Epsilon). And also, receiving honorable mention certificates were Alpha Gamma Alumni Association (Louisiana State), Beta Beta Alumni Association (Washington), Big Sky Alumni Association (Gamma Kappa, Montana State) and Tulsa

Alumni Association (Gamma Upsilon). Congratulations also go to new associations at Zeta Beta (Delta State), Eta Alpha (Clemson), Kappa Omega (Wisconsin-Whitewater) and also the Orlando Alumni Association.

The International Alumni Commission is led by chairman Tommy Turner (Texas Tech, Epsilon Gamma '67) and commissioners Kirk Cerny (Kansas, Beta Gamma '89) and Mike Mathy (Washington State, Gamma Xi '80). The service of all three loyal brothers is much appreciated. The IAC would also like to thank past-commissioner Ray Jenkins (Texas, Beta Mu '54) for his service. Executive Alumni Officer/Editor Steve Vincent (Missouri, Alpha Nu '83) coordinates all aspects of the International Alumni Association, the Fraternity's licensing and marketing programs, the speakers program, and, most importantly, Pi Kappa Alpha's 75 chapter and local alumni associations, this all in addition to editing the Shield & Diamond. All efforts promote Pi Kappa Alpha's role as an integral part in the lives of alumni brothers beyond graduation.

The International Alumni Association is a place where all alumni brothers are encouraged to stay true to our axiom, "Once a Pike, Always a Pike". Annual memberships are $30. For those interested in a one-time fee, life memberships are available for $1000. Membership dues are not tax deductible. Please contact the headquarters to learn more about the many ways to continue your Pi Kappa Alpha experience.

Housing

The International Fraternity continues to emphasize the need for improved care and conditions of our chapter facilities. 155 of our groups occupy some form of real estate. While few fraternities employ even one fulltime person to work on housing, Pi Kappa Alpha has three professional staff dedicated to real estate matters: Executive Housing Officer Daniel W. Corah (Colorado State, Epsilon Theta '83), Director of Housing Stewart J. Sapien (Northern Arizona, Theta Rho '95) and Housing Assistant Heather L. Huffman.

Chapter House Fund Total Assets
(in millions)

Traditionally, the Fraternity's loan program has been its most tangible role in housing. Through the Fraternity's Chapter House Fund, governed by the Pi Kappa Alpha Housing Commission, application for loans to chapter house corporations are available. Whether you're in need of a smaller unsecured loan for the acquisition of furnishings and equipment, or a large first or second mortgage loan for purchase, construction or renovation purposes, the size of our available loans range from $25,000 to $250,000 respectively. For those chapters that meet all of the criteria, the newest type of loan available can be used to first fund the cost of hiring an accredited professional fundraiser to conduct a capital campaign feasibility study and then to fund the cost of the entire campaign. In 2000-01 the Housing Commission committed, modified, or refinanced $689,049 in loans.

In recent years, the Fraternity's role in chapter housing has expanded significantly beyond its historical function as that of primarily a lender. New programs have been established that take an empowerment-oriented approach; providing enhanced education and incentives to encourage improved involvement by both students and alumni.

The Fraternity provides a wide array of educational materials and programs on the housing topic, including a multimedia presentation to effectively educate chapters at the 16 regional conferences each year, the Officers Leadership Academy, the Chapter Presidents Conference, and the International Convention. The Housing Department uses the Fraternity's website and all of its publications to communicate with chapters, chapter house managers, house corporations and individual alumni. The department also provides an e-mail information service, titled "Housing E-mail Link". Interested parties may register for this periodic service in the housing section of the Fraternity's website at www.pka.com.

As announced last year, the Fraternity is hosting two educational conferences, entitled Housing Summits, designed specifically for house corporation officers. The program includes an all expense paid trip for one officer from every corporation to attend one of these conferences. Additional representatives are welcome for a nominal fee. The first Summit, held in Denver on the weekend of April 28th, was considered a true success with 48 corporations represented and 78 total participants. The second of the two Summits will be held in Washington D.C. on the weekend of September 15th. For additional information, please call the housing office at the Memorial Headquarters (901/748-1868) or visit the Fraternity's website.

The group property insurance program, coordinated through the Housing Department, now has 59 participating locations, representing over $50 million in total coverage. The purchasing power of the group has saved house corporations thousands of dollars, while providing a comprehensive set of coverages that is far superior to that of what could be obtained on an individual basis.

The awards program recognizes chapters that do an exemplary job of managing and caring for their facilities. Funds are made available to every region for recognition in this area. On an International level, quarterly and annual awards are granted providing a combination of press coverage in Fraternity publications, tro-

WHITE HORSE HOLDING CORPORATION

The White Horse Holding Corporation, previously known as the Pi Kappa Alpha Holding Corporation, is governed by the Housing Commission and administered by the housing staff. It is a non-profit corporation created in 1963 for the purpose of holding title to real estate that has been acquired by the Fraternity. The name was changed last year to help differentiate this entity from other groups using the Fraternity name on both a local and International level. Those who know the history of the Ritual will understand the connection with this name; as well, a White Horse is universally symbolic of Leadership and Victory. While the International Fraternity prefers to not own chapter houses, circumstances occasionally occur when real estate is acquired. The Holding Corporation owns property at the University of Virginia, University of Arkansas, West Virginia University, Oregon State University, University of Miami, University of Idaho, University of Minnesota and Creighton University.

The Housing Commission and staff look forward to continuing and increasing their effort at providing valuable services and resources for the best housing in the fraternity world. For more information, contact the Housing Department at (901) 748-1868 or check out the housing section of the Fraternity's website at www.pka.com.

SHIELD & DIAMOND

In the 2000-2001 year, the Shield & Diamond continued its mission of fraternal outreach, mailing 284,670 copies of the magazine to brothers in the United States, Canada, and several foreign countries.

Focus on Leadership

Ken Lowe (North Carolina, Tau '70)

by Christopher M. Peters (Clemson, Eta Alpha '88)

Focus on Leadership is an ongoing series from the Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation. Its purpose is to provide a forum through which ideas and insights on leadership can be communicated from Pi Kappa Alpha alumnus members who have demonstrated outstanding leadership in their chosen vocations. The development of our undergraduate brothers through leadership education and training is paramount to the future success of Pi Kappa Alpha, and as such, is one of the Educational Foundation's primary missions.

Many people dream of what they want to be when they grow up, but very few actually attain a career like the one they imagined. Having reached the pinnacle of the media world, Ken Lowe is living the dream he formed during his youth.

Ken Lowe's interest in media began at an early age. When he was ten years old he built a small radio station on his family's tobacco farm. It would only broadcast for 2 or 3 miles but even then he knew that radio was what he wanted to do. His career has carried him a long way from that homemade radio station. Lowe is currently president and CEO of the E.W. Scripps Company, a Fortune 500 media company founded in 1878, which consists of 21 daily newspapers, ten television stations, and four cable networks including Home and Garden Television (HGTV), the Food Network, Do It Yourself (DIY), and Fine Living. Scripps also owns the Scripps Howard News Service and United Media, its licensing and syndication arm, which includes the comic strips Peanuts, Dilbert, and Raggedy Anne.

During his 21 years at Scripps, Lowe has worked in nearly all facets of the company including radio, television, and cable. Under his leadership the company's category television division became one of the nation's fastest growing and most successful creators of unique brands for television and the Internet. It was Brother Lowe's vision that has made HGTV a household word.

The Educational Foundation's Director of Development Chris Peters sat down with Lowe recently in his Cincinnati, Ohio office to talk about his business, Pi Kappa Alpha, and his views on the importance leadership plays in life.

Ken Lowe (North Carolina, Tau '70) has climbed the ladder to the top of the media world.

Please tell me about your early experiences in the media arena.

Well I grew up in the small town of Mt. Airy, North Carolina. When it came time for college, I chose the University of North Carolina and was fortunate enough to get a full time radio job at a station in Raleigh. At the same time my freshman year, I met a guy who became and remains to this day my best friend, Rig Dees, or as he's known in the radio business, Rick Dees (North Carolina, Tau '70). The two of us kind of came up through radio together at UNC. We helped start the campus station and still laugh about the time when Rig threw a local musician off his radio show and told him he would never amount to anything. That performer's name was James Taylor.

When I was in Raleigh back in the early 1970s I created a five-hour radio show on the history of beach music. Beach music was basically old rhythm and blues and dance music to shagby. I really just did it on a whim and it gave me a chance to interview all these old groups I had grown up with. So I produced it and ran it on the air there in Raleigh, not really thinking that it would be anything other than a personal whim. But it took off, went into worldwide syndication, and won the Billboard Magazine Award.

That experience taught me that you could do content and programming that had a universal appeal even if you thought it was limited. Radio was also a great way to understand targeted content. As FM radio came along, it forced us to realize that we needed to be more finely tuned in format. So we went from Top 40, to where stations would play just album rock, just country, just jazz, just adult contemporary. Therefore, we started targeting content, in that case radio formats, to a specific group. That was a great background for eventually moving into television.

I came up through Harte-Hanks Broadcasting radio and television. In 1980 I came with Scripps to run their radio group. That eventually led me to overseeing their television group. Then in 1994, a little hobby I had been working on for a cable network targeted toward a specific audience segment of folks who like spending time at home was launched as HGTV. That collection of ideas that I had been literally putting in a cardboard box over the years is now seen as HGTV in about 67 million households. Its programming is seen worldwide in 12 other countries and as a full-time channel in Canada. It has an active web site, a magazine, and a radio format.

Inherent in your capacity as CEO is leadership of others. Is leadership something you've always aspired toward or has it just come with the territory?

I think I've always been comfortable in a leadership role. Thinking back to elementary school and high school, I was comfortable stepping up and playing a leadership role whether it was with class activities, sports, or whatever. There is always ego involved with that, but at the end of the day, I think you have to enjoy leadership and the responsibility that comes with it. One of the few things that I count as something I've been blessed with that usually is passed on is the fact that I am a people person. I really enjoy working with other people. I revel in other people's success. I think a true leader, especially in this day and age, has to be able to set his or her own ego aside and truly relish the moment of team success. Team-building has never been more important than it is now. Especially with a multimedia company like ours where you are delivering content whether it is newspaper, television, cable networks, the internet, wireless applications, video on demand, broad band, etc. Therefore, you really have to have a team concept on all levels. Now you just don't put content into a newspaper, you also put it onto a web site that compliments the paper, and then in turn it needs to be put on a wireless application. So all of the arms need to know what the others are doing and that requires leadership that truly emphasizes team building, esprit de corps, and the ability to share success throughout multiple levels. So yes, I've always aspired to leadership for the ultimate success of the team.

What are some of your memories of your PiKA chapter days?

All my memories of that time are great. Rig and I were very busy. We both had full-time jobs at the local radio station and carried full school loads. PiKA was wonderful because it was an extended family and the relationships that we built there and carry today I wouldn't trade anything for. I forged friendships and bonds that will last a lifetime. The Fraternity was also a great way to start getting into life while you were still in college because you had so many different walks of life contained within the chapter. By that I mean not just guys from different parts of the country, but also guys with varying interests. The chapter was also a learning laboratory for many of us from a business side.

The Fraternity environment was always fun of course and the parties were good, but it was the relationships that really were a great part of growing up. It is truly something that has stayed with me. In those days the Vietnam War was going on and I remember sitting in the house the night that the lottery drawing took place for the draft. We sat around and laughed and kidded about it, but there was an undertone that some of the guys in the room, friends of mine, might get drafted or I might get drafted and that really hit home because we were all brothers.

So the days in the chapter offered an interesting perspective on the world to have that microcosm of life in the PiKA house at Chapel Hill. It had such an impact on me, that I think because of that my brother, Bruce Lowe (North Carolina State, Alpha Epsilon '74), who was five years behind me and went to NC State, ended up pledging the PiKA house there because he saw firsthand what I gained from my Pike experiences. Still to this day there are a group of us who get together and laugh and kid about times there at the house and what we did from pledge week right on through until the day we graduated.

We have a great Fraternity. The great thing about it is that our association never really ends. When you pledge, you truly pledge for life. Sometimes it is easy for people to get distracted with the twists and turns your personal life can take, but it is always there. Your brothers are always there. Sometimes you may lean on them, they may lean on you, but it is an extended family in that regard. The family values that many of us grow up with are underscored in PiKA. When you are young, you don't even realize some of the things you are going through and how some of the experiences are affecting you. Often times you don't appreciate those things until you get older. For me the PiKA house at UNC was a fun time and I miss seeing some of those guys on a regular basis.

What would you recommend to our undergraduate members who aspire to be successful?

Well I think that first and foremost, you must pursue your passions and your dreams. There are so many of us in life that probably get to the point where they say they could, would, and should have done things and are left with deep regrets. Sometimes what seems like the most appealing or successful from a financial or professional perspective is not necessarily what you want to do in your heart. I almost didn't launch HGTV because I kept thinking in some cases that I didn't know if I had the wherewithal or if I was smart enough to do such a thing. Finally, my wife and I sat down one day for a conversation and she said, "Do you ever want to look back and say you didn't do this? What is the worst that can happen?" I think a fear of failure keeps us from living our dreams sometimes. If you are lucky enough to have a passion and you know what it is you really truly want to do with you life, you have to take that chance and follow your dreams. You have to be passionate about it and you have to say, "I'm not going to give up and I'm going to see this thing through." No matter what type of endeavor you take on today, it won't always be a smooth road. But if you hang on for the long haul and pursue your passions, and do it in a way where you can look yourself in the mirror and know you did it the right way, then you will be successful.

What motivates you?

Well like many of my generation, I am realizing that he who dies with the most toys does not necessarily win. Like many of my generation, I am understanding that life is not all that complicated and that if you keep putting off the things in life that are truly important until you retire or until some distant point that you might not ever get the opportunity to do those things.

To that end, what drives me is to be able to continue to work with these young folks who are coming into the business who are energetic, creative and many of whom I hired. I feel a sense of obligation to continue to try and build this company. We are a family owned company. The E.W. Scripps Trust still owns the largest block of voting and economic shares of the company, even though we are publicly traded. I have a great deal of respect and admiration for the Scripps family and it is a company that I feel very good working for.

The main reason I still get out of bed every morning and come in to the office is because I love what we do. We create quality content for our viewers and readers and I love the people who share these efforts with me within the company. It truly is not about a paycheck for me but more about a relationship with those folks. I love leading and trying to create new businesses and forging this company ahead. However, I don't plan to not leave any time on the other end and I am trying to do more things in the community, do more things with charitable work, and do more things with organizations I believe in. Hopefully that will make me a better-balanced person and also a better leader.

What characteristics are you looking for in the leaders you recruit?

The first thing I look for is passion. I'm looking for individuals who have passion and who are able to articulate the fact that they really love this business. If you have the passion and fire, and can couple that with someone who really understands that core values are important then you are off to a great start. Then you have to give that person permission to make mistakes and allow them to grow and learn from their own mistakes. That is what young people need. They need the ability to "learn on the job" and understand that it is okay to make mistakes. The world is not going to come to an end if an idea does not work. That's what I look for, passion, as well as a good sense of who they are and that they are grounded. That doesn't necessarily come with age and experience. I find a lot of young people today who are very well grounded and steeped in some very strong core values. When you couple that with incredible passion you better just get out of their way because they are going to succeed.

In his spare time, Brother Lowe has a passion for anything on wheels. His favorite automobile is his 1939 Ford woody.

What value do you place in time spent away from the office?

Well it is more important now for many reasons. I think it is very easy in a corporate role to become somewhat isolated and forget what it is like out there in the consumer world. I constantly remind myself that some of the very best research I did for HGTV was in the isles of Home Depot or Lowes where

I would actually get a cup of coffee and walk up and down the isles of the store and talk to the folks and listen. Whether it is selling newspapers or whatever it is, today one of the keys to success is making sure you understand what the end user needs or wants from your product.

What I like to tell our folks is that we can always do a better job of servicing our customers, making sure we know what they want by anticipating their needs. So I value my time out of the office, not only from the point of just getting away whether it be for relaxation or whatever, but also because it allows me to get out where the people are. I think too many leaders today lose touch with their customers. You also can't forget how your employees live and what goes on in their lives.

One of the reasons I put HGTV in Knoxville, Tennessee and not in New York City or Los Angeles or in some other major media market like that was because there are homes and gardens in Knoxville that our employees could afford. So they could actually experience what it is like to do home repair and work in the garden. That was crucial in those people understanding their customer or the viewer who is watching the network. So for me, experiential learning is a good reason to be out of the office.

What things do you focus on as a leader?

I look at life as a great journey. I think every year you learn something. Last year Rig Dees and I each turned 50 within a month of each other. We had a party with another PiKA from Carolina named Jim Nehlsen (North Carolina, Tau '69). I remember Rig turning to me and saying, "You know we are playing the back nine." The important thing of course is what you learned on the front nine. Using that analogy as I "play the back nine", I have never had more fun with people and with the business environment. I think you have to accept the fact that you aren't Superman or Superwoman and there are only so many things you can do. You have to rely on people, you have to delegate, and you need a good group of people around you. And for gosh sakes have a little fun.

Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation

Alumni supporting scholastic achievement, leadership training and personal development since 1948.

2000-2001 Annual Report

The mission of the Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation is "to enhance the lifelong Pi Kappa Alpha experience for today's student and alumnus brothers and those in generations to come, and to assure the enduring prosperity of the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity."

The Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation, founded in 1948, is an independent, tax-exempt, beneficent, charitable, literary and educational organization with a 501(c)3 IRS designation. It is governed by a board of trustees composed of twelve alumnus members of Pi Kappa Alpha. Its daily operations are conducted by a professional staff located in the Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Headquarters, 8347 West Range Cove, Memphis, Tennessee 38125.

The Foundation is supported by tax-deductible charitable gifts from loyal members and friends of the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity. In turn, the Educational Foundation provides financial assistance for educational and leadership based programming, and direct financial assistance to the Fraternity's student members.

The information provided here summarizes Foundation activity from July 1, 2000 through June 30, 2001.

From the President of the Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation:

Dear Brothers:

It is once again my honor to present to you the roster of Pi Kappa Alpha All Stars – those loyal alumnus AND undergraduate brothers who are investing in the future of this grand Order through their financial support of the Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation.

Despite an unsettled national economy and stock market, nearly 6,000 loyal brothers, young and old, renewed their commitment to PKA this past fiscal year through their financial support. These loyal donors allowed the Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation to once again INCREASE the level of funding provided for vital academic and leadership programs. Without question, these forums, which include the Chapter Presidents Leadership Conference, the Officers Leadership Academy, and sixteen regional leadership conferences, are all playing a pivotal role in keeping Pi Kappa Alpha the undisputed leader of the collegiate fraternal movement.

To each of you whose names follow, THANK YOU! You are changing the lives of many young men.

If your name is not listed on the following pages, I would heartily ask you to ponder for a moment just what your Pi Kappa Alpha experience has meant, and continues to mean to you. Now more than ever, this Country needs young men who have been exposed to concepts which, these days, seem almost the exception rather than the rule – concepts such as character, integrity, ethics and leadership. Unfortunately, in many cases, these leadership forums, underwritten by the Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation, are the ONLY venues through which literally thousands of our younger brothers are exposed to these principles.

If you believe in the power of this Fraternity, and what it continues to do in molding the leaders of today and tomorrow, please consider this my personal ask to you to join us in this most worthwhile endeavor.

Together, we'll insure that Pi Kappa Alpha remains the standard by which all fraternal organizations are judged.

Fraternally,

THE OAK TRUST

As of June 30, 2001, the following brothers and friends had notified the Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation of their inclusion of the Foundation in their estate plans. These future gifts are primarily funded through bequests, charitable trusts and gifts of life insurance proceeds, with the potential for both immediate and deferred positive tax ramifications to the donor and their estate.

Cumulative realized and future gift assets on record with the Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation from these loyal brothers and friends were over $14,000,000 on June 30, 2001.

Membership in the Foundation's planned gifts recognition program, the Oak Trust, is secured through notifying the Foundation of a beneficiary designation of $25,000 or more from a will or charitable trust, or a $50,000 beneficiary designation from a life insurance policy.

Proceeds from planned gifts to the Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation can be designated by the donor to endow scholarship funds, enhance existing endowments which fund educational programming benefiting all members of Pi Kappa Alpha, or meet future priorities of the Foundation as directed by the Board of Trustees.

Timothy R. Heis Receives Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity's 2001 Robertson Most Outstanding Undergraduate Award

Timothy R. Heis, a graduate of Southern Methodist University, was recognized at Pi Kappa Alpha's 2001 Officers Leadership Academy in Memphis, Tennessee as the 2000-2001 Robertson Most Outstanding Undergraduate Award recipient.

The Robertson Most Outstanding Undergraduate Award is annually funded from an endowment that has been chiefly funded by alumnus members of Epsilon Chapter at Virginia Tech in memory of Jenkins Robertson (Clemson, Eta Alpha '71), who served Epsilon as chapter advisor until his untimely death in 1986.

Heis, a 1998 initiate of the Beta Zeta Chapter at Southern Methodist University, graduated in May with a 3.915 cumulative grade point average, completing his bachelor of business administration with emphasis in financial consulting. A member of numerous honor societies including Order of Omega, Beta Gamma Sigma and Golden Key, he was also selected as a Hunt Leadership Scholar and was a founding father of the Gamma Sigma Alpha Greek Honor Society at SMU. He is also a member of Pi Kappa Alpha's Sabre & Key Honor Society.

Heis was highly regarded as a leader in the Beta Zeta Chapter, the Greek system and student government. He served as scholarship-career services chairman on the Interfraternity Council, president of the student council class of 2001 and participated on the student affairs advisory council and the student-athlete advisory committee. Heis was also very involved in athletics as goalkeeper for the SMU Soccer team, a 2000 NCAA Division I Final Four team. He was named a Western Athletic Conference Scholar Athlete for three years and was also a USAA All-American Scholar.

Heis served the Southern Methodist University Pikes as scholarship and recreational chairman and has supported the Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation as a donor in the $\phi\phi\kappa\alpha$ club. He has served as a volunteer for numerous organizations including the SMU inter-community experience program, Dallas Nature Center, and Special Olympics. He also served as an intern for Congressman Rob Portman, Ohio 2nd District.

Heis will begin employment this summer in Dallas, Texas, with the firm of Deloitte and Touche.

As the recipient of the 2001 Robertson Most Outstanding Undergraduate Award, Heis received a handsome plaque and a $2,500 Scholarship.

Robertson Outstanding Undergraduate Award Finalists

Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation's Order of West Range Welcomes Country Music Superstar Tim McGraw

Participating in the confirmation of the Order of West Range were (from left) Jeff Thompson (Louisiana-Monroe, Eta Omicron '85), Educational Foundation President-Elect Marvin Dennis (Illinois, Beta Eta '56), Tim McGraw (Louisiana-Monroe, Eta Omicron '86), Director of Development Chris Peters (Clemson, Eta Alpha '88), Educational Foundation President Bram Govaars (Arizona, Gamma Delta '66), and Daine DeVillier.

On June 28, 2001 the Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation inducted country music superstar Tim McGraw (Louisiana-Monroe, Eta Omicron '86) into its Order of West Range. McGraw was the sixth and final member of the Foundation's "2000 Class" of Order of West Range inductees. Established in 1986, the Order of West Range recognizes Pi Kappa Alpha Alumni who have achieved significant success in their careers, in service to society, and/or service to Pi Kappa Alpha. As such, the award is Pi Kappa Alpha's highest honor. To date, more than 100 men have been inducted into the Order of West Range representing leaders of industry, government, education, medicine, athletics, and entertainment.

McGraw was a loyal and dedicated Pike during his undergraduate years and has been an enthusiastic ambassador for Pi Kappa Alpha as he travels the world. The stories of his interactions with Pikes who come to his shows are told often at PiKA events. McGraw is currently on tour with Kenny Chesney, playing to sold-out venues across America. On Friday night, June 28, 2001, representatives from Pi Kappa Alpha caught up with him at his concert in San Francisco, California.

Having worked their way backstage through the numerous layers of security and into McGraw's self-described "circus" of touring, his Pi Kappa Alpha brothers were invited to visit privately with him in his dressing room. During the presentation ceremony, Educational Foundation President Bram Govaars summed it up best, "Tim, you are a wonderful steward of all that Pi Kappa Alpha teaches through its lifelong experience. Simply put, these awards are Pi Kappa Alpha's ultimate expressions of pride and gratitude for men like you who have carried the spirit of phi phi kappa alpha with them, as they have become leaders in their families, communities, and vocations."

In further recognition of his vast personal and professional accomplishments, McGraw was also tapped as the first Honorary President of Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation President Govaars continued, "Tim, you are a great professional; a great family man; a great community servant; and a great brother. We need more men like you who enthusiastically spread the 'Good News' of Pi Kappa Alpha and we appreciate the distinction you bring our grand order through your membership and leadership."

When reflecting on McGraw's accomplishments over the years, Former Delta Regional President and his longtime friend Jeff Thompson (Louisiana-Monroe, Eta Omicron '85), who helped make the evening possible, said, "Tim loves this Fraternity and continues to exemplify our axiom, 'Once a Pike, Always a Pike'. He readily acknowledges the positive impact Pi Kappa Alpha has had in his life, and he goes out of his way to recognize Pikes at his concerts across the country. I know this means a lot to him and we at Eta Omicron, and at Pike chapters around across the land, are proud to claim him. Pi Kappa Alpha could not have chosen anyone more deserving for these honors."

Minutes after his induction into the Order of West Range, McGraw went on to play a sold-out show in front of more than 22,000 screaming fans at San Francisco's Shoreline Amphitheatre. Earlier that evening, Educational Foundation Director of Development Chris Peters sat down with Tim backstage to talk about his career, his family, and his views on his ongoing Pi Kappa Alpha experience.

Tell me about your days in Eta Omicron chapter.

I have so many fond memories of those days. You saw us playing basketball out there today. That came from the Pike house. We had a Pike "Dunk Dome" back in Monroe. We played three-on-three on a nine-foot goal with a three-point line and everything. That's where the game that we play most days before our shows came from.

Some of the best friends I've made in my life came from the Pike house. My two best friends Robbie Cucullu (Louisiana-Monroe, Eta Omicron '84) and Ricky Hooter (Louisiana-Monroe, Eta Omicron '86) are Pikes. They started out working with me and worked with me for a long time. I have another chapter brother named Dain DeVillier who is working with me now. So no doubt, some of the best friends I've made in my life were a result of Pi Kappa Alpha. If I counted the ten closest friends I've made in my life, half of them would be Pikes. There are guys all over the country that I could call if I ever needed anything and they would be there for me. Those kinds of friendships are priceless.

How does it feel to be on stage and see a Pike flag or guys in their PiKA letters at your shows?

It feels great. I always give them the salutation sign. It feels wonderful. Our brothers are a good bunch of guys. I am very proud to be associated with them. There were guys from all walks of life in our chapter and that goes for the entire brotherhood. There is every type of guy you would ever want to meet in our Fraternity and it is great and makes our brotherhood special.

Tell me about your family and their importance to you.

Well when you are a kid you have all this energy and all these things that you want to do with your life. You kind of shoot out into the world like a shotgun. Everything is scattered and you hope something will stick. Then when you have a family it puts everything into focus. Instead of a shotgun it is like a rifle shot. You know what you are here for, you know what you are supposed to do, and all of your energy goes toward perpetuating that. I can't imagine being where I am and doing what I do without a family. I would be dead if I did this without a family. They are the biggest inspiration in my life and the very best thing I have ever done with my life.

What is your secret for balancing your music career and family?

I don't try to balance it, that's the secret. You can't play a balancing act when you have careers like this and a family. You've got to put your family and your marriage and your children as your first priority.

Do you have any advice for our undergraduate brothers?

The most important thing is to be yourself and to do what you think is right and to make the best moves that you can make under your particular circumstances. Nobody can plot out your life for you or draw a line from point A to point B and say, "this is how you must get there." It is all relative to your own circumstances and your own thinking. You can accomplish whatever you set as your goal, but it takes hard work.

What would you tell someone who was considering joining a Pi Kappa Alpha chapter?

I would definitely tell them to "Go for it!" You know how people who weren't Greek call fraternities "rent-a-friends" and things like that. Well to me, that is just ridiculous. A Pike chapter is a group of people who will support you and who you can belong to and lot of kids don't have that when they come to college. They don't have that structure, they don't have a lot of friends, and they are often in a new or strange place. To have a group of Pike brothers who can put their arms around you or kick you in the butt when you need to be kicked in the butt, to motivate you to go out there in the world and work hard, and take care of yourself, and take care of your friends, is one of the best experiences you could ever have. Your Pike brothers will be true friends with whom you will always share a special bond. They will be in your wedding, celebrate the birth of your children with you, and be the ones you can rely on for a lifetime.

Did you ever imagine yourself where you are now back during those days at the Pike House?

Sure. I imagined it but never thought that it would actually happen. I can remember not having any hits after my first album, and thinking that if we could just have a new song that would be half way decent that would be fine. I would have been happy that way because we could have gone out and played clubs for five or six years and made a living at it. You have to have an ego to be in this business. So you have to think that you can accomplish something. You have to think in the back of your mind that you can do this. But there is always the little thing of "what if". I've been very fortunate to have a great team around me. From high school, to college, to my friends, to the people who have worked with me, it has always been a great supportive team. That's what you have got to have.

What is next for you?

What's next? Fishing. I have a couple more years left in me, but after that we are going to go do some fishing.

What is your perfect day?

Eating Doritos and watching football or basketball on television, then being able to finish up with a show like we'll do tonight.

Sabre & Key Honor Society 2000-2001 Inductees

At the Awards Luncheon of the 2001 Officers Leadership Academy, the 2001 class of inductees into the Sabre & Key Honor Society were recognized. Twenty-four undergraduate members were selected for the 2001 class to recognize the outstanding efforts they have made as scholars in the classroom and leaders in their chapter and on their campus. Several of the 24 new members were in attendance.

Why I Give to the Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation

Scott Himes (Rose-Hulman, Iota Delta '98) is a senior at Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology. Himes has served Iota Delta as rush chairman and president, and is a member of the Educational Foundation's Sabre & Key Honor Society.

Himes actively participates in different Educational Foundation endeavors, having contributed to the phi phi kappa alpha club along with his entire chapter. He has participated in the Educational Foundation Phonathon for the past three years. Himes was recently asked about his participation as a donor to the Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation.

Scott Himes

Why do you give to the Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation as a member of the phi phi kappa alpha club?

I've been a member of Pi Kappa Alpha for three years, and in that time the Fraternity has had a tremendous impact in my life. I've also seen first-hand the impact the Fraternity has had in the lives of my brothers and my local community. In attending the regional and international conferences I've learned of the positive influence that Pi Kappa Alpha has had in today's society and in the lives of many successful people. Experiencing all this made me want to do my part in contributing to the Fraternity's success. One way I can do this is by giving to the Educational Foundation through the phi phi kappa alpha club.

How has Pi Kappa Alpha affected your life?

Pi Kappa Alpha has affected my life in more ways than I ever thought possible. I've attended five different conferences and conventions, and during each of these I've met undergraduates and alumni from all over the country. Through the various workshops and programming I've grown as a person and a leader, and I'm now much more confident in my skills and abilities than I was before. The Fraternity's ritual has created a deep appreciation for what Pi Kappa Alpha means and where our Fraternity has come from; it has also created a bond between myself and other brothers that can never be broken or shared with anyone outside our Fraternity. Most importantly, because of Pi Kappa Alpha, I've gained many life-long friends. Living with a group of guys 24 hours a day, seven days a week for three years has given me a second family and I know that no matter what happens in my life, I can always turn to them.

Would you encourage other undergraduate brothers to give to the Educational Foundation?

Definitely! Many brothers don't realize that the money they give to the Educational Foundation returns to their chapter in the form of scholarships and loans. This is something that the brothers in my chapter now realize because our current chapter president has started the tradition of 100% participation in the phi phi kappa alpha club. In a few years our chapter will have enough money saved to begin a yearly scholarship because each year our chapter will receive a 5% return on the money we donated through the club. Also, all the brothers benefit right now because they receive a donor lapel pin, a $\phi\kappa\alpha$ club t-shirt, a 2000-2001 PIKE FUND donor decal and a membership certificate. This money also helps underwrite the costs of the yearly conferences and conventions that each member should attend at least once.

Do you plan to continue giving to the Educational Foundation throughout your alumnus years?

I've participated in the Educational Foundation's Phonathon for the past three years and I'm continually amazed by the generosity of the alumni who give money. I'd like to thank each of them personally, because as an undergraduate who has received financial assistance from the Educational Foundation, I realize the impact the Foundation can have on an undergraduate's education. For something that has given me so much, the least I can do in return is give something back. I plan on supporting the Educational Foundation as long as I'm able. I also want all the new members of Pi Kappa Alpha to have the same opportunities that I did.

Why is alumni support so important to the Educational Foundation?

Alumni support is vital to the continued success of the International Fraternity and the Educational Foundation. As everyone knows, during a student's college years his financial resources are limited. With the rising costs of tuition, housing, books, and everyday living expenses, it's difficult for undergraduate members to pay for Fraternity conferences and conventions. While these may be one of the most beneficial activities in an undergraduate's fraternity experience, students can't always afford the costs of travel, food, and lodging. With alumni support to underwrite the costs of these events, the amount of money needed by undergraduate members is significantly reduced. More importantly, alumni support of the Educational Foundation also provides many scholarships and loans that help undergraduates in their financial obligations.

ΦΚΑ Club 2000-2001 DONOR ROLL

The Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation established the ΦΚΑ club to give undergraduate brothers the opportunity to begin donating to the Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation while still in school. Membership in this special annual giving society continues to grow each year. Gifts can be made at the Gold ($25) level or higher.

Members in the ΦΚΑ club received a donor lapel pin, a 2000-2001 PIKE FUND Donor car decal and certificate, the Horizons newsletter and invitations to special events during regional conferences held in honor of Educational Foundation donors.

Once again, during 2000-2001 the Educational Foundation awarded chapters with Garnet & Gold awards based upon the percentage of their membership enrolled as undergraduate donors. Chapters with 25% or more of their members enrolled in the ΦΚΑ club were recognized with a Garnet Chapter award while chapters with 50% or more of their members enrolled in the ΦΚΑ club achieved Gold chapter status. The awards were presented to chapter representatives in August at the 2001 Officers Leadership Academy. To be eligible for this special recognition for the 2001-2002 year, all gifts must be received by June 30, 2002.

Chapters earning Garnet & Gold status this year, will again be recognized at the 2002 International Convention. The goal for the ΦΚΑ club this year is to have every chapter PARTICIPATE by having several student donors represented. Joining the ΦΚΑ club as an undergraduate member is a great way to start a lifetime of support.

Listed below are the loyal and generous undergraduate Pi Kappa Alpha members who made gifts to the Educational Foundation during the 2000-2001 fiscal year. All gifts made at the ΦΚΑ club level directly benefit the Chapter Endowment Fund of the respective undergraduate brother's chapter.

To join the Foundation's loyal list of undergraduate ΦΚΑ donors this year, please contact the Educational Foundation staff at (901) 748-1948, pkaef@pka.com, or join online at www.pka.com.

With 250 alumni, undergraduates, university officials, spouses, dates and international officers in attendance, the Omega Chapter Centennial Celebration at the Lexington Marriott was a tremendous success. Through the work of selection chairman Bob Whitaker '55, 18 new members were inducted. Also that evening, Kentucky director of alumni Stan Key, the father of two current Omega members Ryan '97 and Neil '00, addressed the group. And finally, following an introduction from Cumberland Regional President John Fitzgerald (Vanderbilt, Sigma '63), the event was capped off by a wonderful keynote address from International President King Buttermore (Vanderbilt, Sigma '63) who was provided by the Pi Kappa Alpha International Alumni Association's Speakers Program. On Saturday morning, the 20-man spring pledge class hosted a breakfast-tour of the house. Big

When preparing to send photos to the Shield & Diamond via e-mail or on disk, please scan them (or ask to have them scanned) at 300 dpi (dots per inch).

Photos prepared for the internet are typically 72 dpi, and this is the resolution commonly found on commercial photo disks. Printing requires the higher resolution of 300 dpi.

News of Bygone Days

100 Years Ago... In the Shield & Diamond of October 1901, brand new Omega Chapter at Kentucky included in Chapter Letters a list of its charter members. Then known as the State College of Kentucky, total enrollment was estimated between 600 and 700. Of six known fraternities on campus, average chapter size was approximately nine.

75 Years Ago... In October of 1926, the Shield & Diamond featured the chartering of Gamma Eta Chapter at Southern California. Also included was an article on Taylor Douthit '19 of Alpha Sigma Chapter at California-Berkeley. Douthit starred as a fleet .306-hitting centerfielder for the St. Louis Cardinals. The team would win its first of nine World Series championships in 1926, more than any other team in the National League.

50 Years Ago... In September of 1951, the Shield & Diamond reported the reinstallation of Nu Chapter at Wofford. Originally chartered in 1891, Nu thrived for 15 years until 1906 when "social fraternities were banned from South Carolina institutions of higher learning by state law." Also in 1951, Alpha Alpha Chapter at Duke won the Robert Adger Smythe Award, then presented to only one chapter, as well as the Scholarship Cup. Lastly, mention was given to the fact that the Florida mascot, the Gator, was inspired by the cheer for 1911 quarterback Neal "Bo Gator" Storter '11 of Alpha Eta Chapter. The popular Storter, also team captain, was cheered from the stands with the yell "Go Gator!" and the name became the team name and was eventually made official.

25 Years Ago... In June of 1976, the Shield & Diamond featured the Fraternity's Annual Report. At the time, Pi Kappa Alpha ranked seventh in total chapters with 168, and reported a net gain of plus four chapters than the same time in 1975. The gain was the best in the Greek world. The magazine also listed the new chapter consultant class, among them Jerry Askew '73 of Tau Chapter at North Carolina. Askew went on to become national president, currently serves as an Educational Foundation trustee, and remains a regular presenter of his outstanding educational session "Strategic Leadership" at Pi Kappa Alpha events.

John J. "Jack" Lux

The Fraternity lost a loyal member to the Chapter Eternal on June 27, 2001. John J. "Jack" Lux (Rhodes, Theta '53) was as proud as anyone I've ever known to be called a Pike. Jack hired me as a staff accountant at his accounting firm in July 1972. Within a matter of days he had taken me to 577 University Boulevard in Memphis, the address of the Pi Kappa Alpha Memorial Headquarters until 1988, to begin work on the Pike audit. Almost immediately I thought I could detect a much higher level of involvement by Jack than is normal in the auditor-client relationship. He really took a personal interest in the finances of the Fraternity and the Educational Foundation. The ensuing proved my observation to be correct. Jack's knowledge of the intricacies of the finances of the Fraternity and Foundation was unequalled as was his commitment to the prudent fiscal management thereof. His counsel to numerous executive directors, Supreme Council members and Educational Foundation trustees was invaluable for many years. Jack was also instrumental in arranging for my own special dispensation initiation at the national convention in Memphis in 1976.

Even after his retirement from the accounting firm and his move to Missouri in 1979, Jack proved that his interest in the Fraternity had not been strictly a business relationship. He continued to serve as a Foundation trustee and Endowment Fund commissioner for years thereafter. Jack's years of service were recognized by Pi Kappa Alpha in 1970 with the Loyalty Award and again in 1993 by his induction into the Order of West Range, the Fraternity's highest honor.

When I interviewed with him for the job in 1972, I couldn't help but notice the large Pi Kappa Alpha ring that he wore. I don't think I ever saw him without it at any time thereafter. To me, this symbolizes the commitment he had to the Fraternity - he was proud to be a Pike for life.

He was my boss, my partner, my friend and my brother. I will miss him.

— Joseph L. Ott
(Rhodes, Theta '76)

Donald R. "Gibbie" Gibson

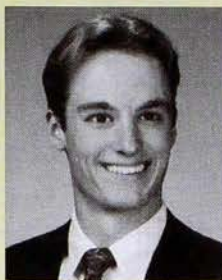

The world lost a true inspiration and the very definition of a gentleman on January 30, 2001. Donald Ryan Gibson, known to all who loved him as Gibbie, died after a long bout with leukemia and a short but difficult struggle with pneumonia. His life was celebrated by hundreds at a memorial service in his hometown of Springdale, Arkansas, on Feb. 3.

To the Pikes, Gibbie was more than a fraternity brother. To a fortunate and close circle, he was more than a son, cousin, brother or nephew. To countless dozens, he was more than a friend, fellow student or acquaintance. He was a role model and a ray of sunlight to all who were part of his life.

Gibbie was born November 13, 1975 and initiated into the Beta Zeta chapter at Southern Methodist University in the spring of 1995. His father, Donald, is a Pike from the Alpha Zeta chapter at the University of Arkansas, and his mother, Carol Lynn, was a Pike Dream Girl. He is survived by those loving parents; a brother, Derek; his grandmother, Imogene Gibson; his aunt and uncle, Pam and Jerry Barrett; and their children, Bo and Britney.

Ryan aspired to be a physician. This man, who spent countless months in the hospital and knew the names of his painful conditions and powerful medications almost as well as his own doctors, wanted nothing more than to study, work and learn so that he could help others. Gibbie had been accepted into the University of Texas Southwestern School of Medicine, earning a rare scholarship there, as well as Tulane School of Medicine, the University of Arkansas School of Medicine and Duke University's medical school. He graduated magna cum laude with a degree in biology from SMU in May 2000, having returned to school, in his own words, "to become a physician so that I could help find a way to alleviate the suffering of people stricken with" leukemia. After all the physical hardships he had endured, Gibbie excelled so well in the classroom that he was selected for membership in Phi Beta Kappa, the country's highest academic honor society.

In his own quiet and unassuming way, Gibbie watched as his passions for scuba diving, Jimmy Buffet music, Native American culture and many other interests led others to dive into their own waters of exploration. We mourn his death and lament that we never will see his face again, but we also celebrate the time we had with him and realize we are better for knowing him. Gibbie is watching us from a peaceful place above, and when we next see him, he will sit back and smile as we tell him what we've accomplished in his name. The world is a better place because Ryan Gibson walked upon it.

A non-profit foundation has been established in Gibbie's memory to help in the fight against leukemia. For more information, or to make a donation, please visit www.ryangibsonfoundation.org.

William Kenneth Warren

Ken Warren (Tennessee, Zeta '45) entered Chapter Eternal on May 26, 2001.

Warren started his career at the age of 12 as a newspaper carrier in Tullahoma, Tennessee. This experience led to an outstanding business career. Warren attended the University of Tennessee 1944-48 where he was a member and officer for Zeta Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha.

In 1962, Warren established the East Tennessee Motor Company, where he served as president until his retirement in 1997. In the community, he was a deacon at the First Christian Church of Knoxville, an active member of Knoxville Rotary, and a board member for numerous local businesses, schools and charitable organizations.

Following a lengthy battle with Parkinson's Disease, Warren passed away at the age of 75. He is survived by his wife of 42 years, Shirley Sexton Warren. Warren was simply summed up by current Zeta Chapter Alumni Association president Buddy Heins '79, "Ken was a great Pike."
