Update

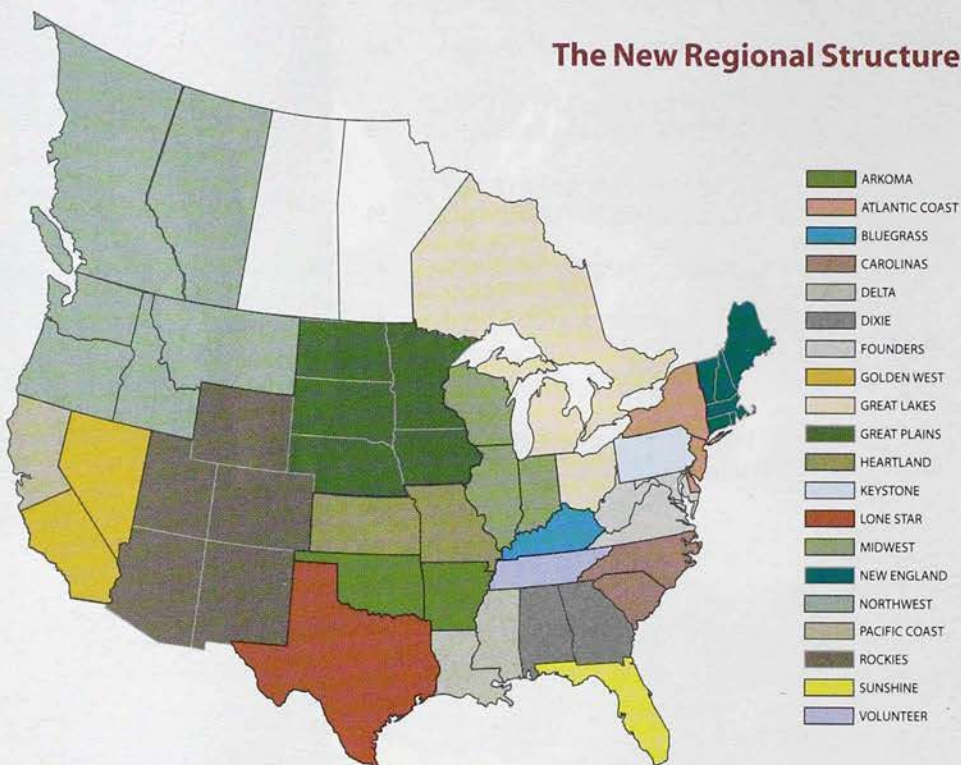

Regional Expansion Implemented

In January 2006, for the first time since 1991, the Supreme Council expanded the number of Pi Kappa Alpha's regions from 16 to 20. This expansion likewise increases the number of regional presidents to 20.

This expansion follows a transformation in the role of the regional president. The core function of the regional president is now to recruit and support alumnus volunteers (chapter advisors, alumni associations and house corporations). Regional presidents serve an especially important function in the chapter/chapter advisor relationship. Not only do they assist in recruiting advisor prospects, but they are also charged with endorsing advisor elections.

If you are interested in serving as a volunteer or getting involved in an alumni association, please contact the regional president in your area. You may find a locator map on the Pike website at www.pikes.org, which provides links to regional presidents, chapters and alumni associations.

2006 Chapter Executives Conference

Three special guests highlight Pike's premiere program for chapter leaders.

The 2006 Chapter Executives Conference began on Thursday, January 5th at "The South's Grand Hotel" – the Peabody in Memphis, Tennessee. For more than 30 years, the Conference has brought together Pi Kappa Alpha's chapter leaders for a midyear event focusing on leadership, management and personal development. A record crowd of more than 360 students participated in this year's three-day program.

The highlight of the Conference was the Executives Forum on Thursday evening. The Forum featured an all-star lineup of Pi Kappa Alpha leaders from business and higher education. The event was hosted by Neal Patterson (Oklahoma State, Gamma Chi '68), co-founder, chief executive officer and chairman of the board of Cerner Corporation, the world's largest independent health care and information technology firm. Joining Brother Patterson were Dr. Andrew Sorensen (Alabama, Gamma Alpha '99), president of the University of South Carolina (and former president of the University of Alabama), and Kevin Turner (East Central, Epsilon Omega '85), chief operating officer of Microsoft Corporation and former president and chief executive officer of Sam's Club, Inc.

For 75 minutes, these accomplished leaders shared their insights on business, leadership and the Fraternity. Brother Turner told attendees that effective leaders model behavior for those around them, or, as he stated, "make sure their video is in sync with their audio". Patterson focused on communication, and how leaders must always consider not only what they want to communicate, but how it should be communicated. Brother Sorensen's remarks centered on the concepts of community and partnership, particularly how fraternities can build effective advocacy networks in higher education. It was an outstanding presentation and surely a highlight for all who were in attendance.

Officer tracks began the following morning and made up the bulk of the Conference agenda. Presidents, rush chairmen and treasurers each had their own four-part program. These sessions were led by Fraternity staff members and ably assisted by an exceptional guest faculty that included Justin Buck

(Southeast Missouri State, Epsilon Iota '96), Mark Dziatczak (Wayne State, Delta Nu '91), Mark Robertson (SMU, Beta Zeta '82), and Darius Sidebotham (Florida Tech, Zeta Sigma '94). These intensive workshops focused on tactics and best practices in each leadership area.

Friday and Saturday were also peppered with special sessions for all participants. Dr. Jerry Reel (Tulane, Eta '57) presented on the origins and meaning of the Fraternity's Ritual; Mark Robertson discussed legal liability and risk awareness; A. Frank Smith (Florida, Alpha Eta '66) facilitated a model initiation ceremony; Mat Forrest (Southern Illinois, Iota Mu '94) shared his experiences in marketing; and Darius Sidebotham presented an energetic and motivational presentation on recruitment. Each of these programs was very well attended and received.

The Chapter Executives Conference concluded on Saturday evening with a keynote from International President Allen Groves (Stetson, Delta Upsilon '79) and the unveiling of Pike University's newest event - The True Pike Challenge (see inset). It was an exciting conclusion to an outstanding weekend. Thanks to those who participated in the Conference, Pi Kappa Alpha is well positioned for continuing excellence. ♦

WHO WILL ACCEPT THE CHALLENGE? STAY TUNED TO FIND OUT MORE...

The True Pike Challenge is the ultimate Pike University event. Held at the Boulder Outdoor Survival School (BOSS), the oldest and largest survival school in the world, this seven day field course will provide a few select Pike brothers with an opportunity to push themselves to the limit and even further.

During June 18-24, 2006, they will hike the terrain of southern Utah to further strengthen the bonds of brotherhood. The Challenge will focus on individual development as outlined in the True Pike commitment, which was unanimously adopted at the 2004 International Convention.

Only undergraduate brothers who have achieved the Garnet and/or Gold Level of Pike University Certification were eligible to apply, and the chosen applicants will be notified by April 1, 2006.

Tuition for the True Pike Challenge, including instruction, permit, field food and gear, is provided by the International Fraternity. Chosen applicants will be responsible for their travel to and from Provo, Utah and any necessary incidental expenses.

Who made the cut? What will happen next? The Autumn 2006 issue of Shield & Diamond will report on our brothers' progress in the wilds of southern Utah.

In the fall semester the men donated over 400 hours of community service, and several men are also members of other service fraternities on campus. They helped raise over $1,500 for a NCSU professor who is trying to adopt two children from Kazakhstan, and raised $1,000 for the victims of Hurricane Katrina. Pike won the President's Cup, distinguishing the chapter as #1 in athletics in the Greek community. The Pike football teams dominated the fraternity and open leagues this year, with both of the football teams meeting to play in the fraternity final. The winning team of Pike Gold went to the national tournament in Florida in December 2005. The members are represented in the student government as well as the baseball and lacrosse teams.

On campus, the men are involved with the Cicerones, the Florida Blue Key, IFC and student government. The chapter will host an alumni BBQ during the annual spring Orange and Blue football game, and they encourage all alumni to stop by the house that day.

Oregon State University: Pi Kappa Alpha's Newest Colony

The Supreme Council is proud to recognize Pi Kappa Alpha's newest colony at Oregon State University.

Located in Corvallis, Oregon State University was founded in 1868; coincidentally, the same year as Pi Kappa Alpha. The university community includes over 19,000 students from all 50 states and 90 countries. Once known as one of the largest and most thriving Greek communities west of the Mississippi River, OSU is striving to regain its position amongst the top Greek schools in the nation. Oregon State was a host to Pi Kappa Alpha's Beta Nu Chapter from 1940 to 1998, and as of November 5, 2005, the Fraternity and University have renewed this relationship.

Consultants Matthew Greco (Chapman, Theta Psi '03) and Tom Olsen (Illinois, Beta Eta '02) spent four weeks in Corvallis conducting the referral-based expansion project. OSU sorority women, student leaders, administrators, faculty, and local Pi Kappa Alpha alumni offered the consultants insight and recommendations of candidates who best exemplified the qualities Pi Kappa Alpha represents.

After conducting over 200 student meetings, 46 invitations to become founding fathers were extended and accepted. Within a week of formal colonization, four more men were recruited. This group is the largest Greek colony on campus in the last 10 years and ranks in the top half in fraternity size. The membership includes men from various academic majors and organizations; including athletes from the following sports: the PAC-10 Varsity Beaver football team, lacrosse team, rugby team, polo team and crew teams. Additionally many clubs and national organizations are represented, such as the power lifting club, debate team, College Republicans, the OSU Barometer school newspaper, Campus Crusades, and the U.S. Coast Guard. The colony also includes two volunteer Oregon firefighters.

Recruitment Report

Pi Kappa Alpha has long recognized the benefit of aggressive recruitment by its chapters. Pike remains dedicated to recruiting the "most best" men on college campuses throughout North America. Delegates at the 2004 International Convention unanimously adopted The Pi Kappa Alpha Recruitment Philosophy, which reads, in part, "Pi Kappa Alpha is committed to active recruitment – targeting, reaching out, making friends with, pledging and initiating the top men on campus, men who we believe will uphold the Fraternity's values."

Chapters can no longer rely on formal rush periods to yield a large pledge class full of blue chip recruits, since in recent years registrations for formal rush have been on the decline. Consequently, at no other time has it been more important for our chapters to actively target recruits, seek out the best men on campus, befriend and pledge those men. Pike chapters have seen remarkable success in committing to this philosophy, and reported over 3,400 pledges for 2005 fall semester.

Recruitment education is important to ensure the continued success of every Pike chapter. To address the need for new and innovative recruitment techniques, Pi Kappa Alpha has created a detailed curriculum that is delivered at all Pike University events. Recruitment education is offered at The Academy, six leadership summits held at regional locations throughout the country, and as part of the Chapter Executives Conference held in Memphis, Tennessee each January.

The 2006 Chapter Executives Conference, held in Memphis, Tennessee on January 5-8, included a recruitment component, organized by Fraternity staff and volunteers, with the goal of building on the momentum of a successful fall recruitment period and educating newly elected chairmen on effective recruitment practices. Over the course of five sessions targeted specifically at recruitment chairmen, attendees learned about numerous recruitment techniques including: hosting events throughout the semester (not only during formal recruitment); making frequent contact with recruits and developing a relationship with the potential new member prior to offering a bid; and including every member in the chapter in the recruitment process. Recruitment chairmen left the conference equipped to organize, educate and motivate their chapters.

For information on how to assist a chapter with recruitment, please contact Shawn Hutcherson, Director of Recruitment, at pkaexp@pikes.org or 901-333-2782.

In addition, each brother living outside of the house is assigned to one of these scholarship houses, which engage against each other in good-natured competition. Each of the five houses has been named in honor of alumni who contributed at least $100,000 to the new house. They are the Miller House, Vance House, Sargeant House, Williams House and Roix House. The Great Hall was named to honor Brent Sembler, chairman of The Legends Campaign, himself a $100,000 donor as well. Alumni raised approximately $2.5 million in the campaign. The chapter won all five of the major sorority philanthropies they participated in. Several men in the chapter serve in various student government positions,

A Tribute to Cumberland Regional President John D. Fitzgerald

Served as Regional President from July 1, 2000 through October 10, 2005

Brothers,

Recently, one of our Fraternity's most loyal and upstanding alumni stepped down from his leadership post.

John D. Fitzgerald (Vanderbilt, Sigma '63) served the Fraternity for over 40 years, the last five as Cumberland regional president, overseeing all nineteen chapters in Tennessee and Kentucky. From president of Sigma Chapter (Vanderbilt) in the mid-1960s, to chapter consultant and housing corporation president, to Cumberland regional president, John Fitzgerald epitomized what it means to be a Pike.

I have had the privilege to become close friends with Mr. Fitzgerald over the past few years, and to this day I am constantly amazed by his strength of character, virtuosity, and zealous devotion to the Fraternity. Mr. Fitzgerald is a torch-bearer for our Fraternity's mission, and we are all forever indebted to him for his services. He has touched the hearts and minds of brothers all across the nation, instilling in them the moral fiber and fortitude that it takes to be virtuous men.

Thanks to Mr. Fitzgerald's leadership, the Cumberland Region is one filled with tremendous success. Over the past five years, the region's chapters and members have been among the top winners of international awards, including the coveted Smythe, the Most Improved Chapter Award, and Pike of the Month, among many others. The Cumberland Region's chapters continue to recruit the most qualified men on their campuses, and the graduates that pass through their doors consistently go on to become prominent and successful alumni.

While it has come time for Mr. Fitzgerald to step down and pass on the reigns, he will forever be remembered as a remarkable leader and a faithful and loyal brother. "Once a Pike, Always a Pike" could not ring more true.

Chapter Advisor Profile

Oren J. Falkowitz

Advisor to Delta Alpha Chapter At George Washington University

Oren J. Falkowitz (Central Florida, Eta Phi '01) serves the Fraternity as an alumnus volunteer, in the capacity of chapter advisor, to Delta Alpha Chapter at George Washington University in Washington, D.C.

Falkowitz began his term as chapter advisor in June 2005. In this position, he seeks to provide Delta Alpha Chapter with a strong foundation of values, continuity, and organization. He serves the chapter as a resource on the expectations of a well rounded chapter, meets with the executive leaders, attends weekly chapter meetings, and is available to all members for advice and perspective.

The Shield & Diamond asked Brother Falkowitz to reflect on his experience as a chapter advisor.

What has most impressed you about the undergraduate members of Delta Alpha?

I am continually impressed by the undergraduates' willingness and eagerness to develop themselves and each other as students and men. They crave opportunities that will enhance their lives for years to come, and I am especially impressed with their ability to synergize education and fun. I think it is evident, dealing with the men of Delta Alpha, that Pi Kappa Alpha continues make better men. Our humble purpose is truly a noble and successful one.

Falkowitz

What do you think it takes to be a successful volunteer for Pi Kappa Alpha?

BALANCE. When I was chapter president of Eta Phi, our advisor, Dave Myres (Delta State, Zeta Beta '92), was a tremendous resource for me. I often think of Dave and his ability to provide perspective and balance as I advise Delta Alpha. Often, a chapter's expectations are idealistic and ambitious, and it is important to balance them by managing expectations. Sometimes the members' emotions benefit from being balanced by the objective perspective of a volunteer. A good volunteer also needs to find balance in his social interaction and relationship with the undergraduates. This comes from developing strong relationships that are different from the ones we may have had in our undergraduate days, but still meaningful. Alumnus volunteers need to be engaged, not aloof, and show a great deal of maturity.

Why would you encourage an alumnus to become actively involved with a chapter?

Giving back to the Fraternity continues to be a rewarding experience. I'm always excited to see the advancement of Pikes both personally and professionally. Just as in my undergraduate days, I continue to be impacted by the firmer and more lasting relationships I develop. Finally, I think that the future of our beloved Fraternity is dependent on volunteers and the continuity they provide. There is a great need in the chapter for someone to provide some perspective and reference for the advancement and progress of the chapter, as well as someone who is in touch with the trends and developments of the International Fraternity.

Shield & Diamond Publishing Guidelines & Criteria

CORRESPONDENT

Each chapter is encouraged to appoint a Shield & Diamond Correspondent. His responsibilities include: Writing chapter news for submission to Shield & Diamond; Taking photographs (or arranging to have them taken); Identifying all persons in each photograph; Meeting published deadlines for submission.

A good correspondent may: Be an English, journalism or communications major; Have a good command of the English language; Enjoy writing and do it well; Understand and meet deadlines; Be enthusiastic and want to see your chapter news published.

DEADLINES

The Shield & Diamond accepts submissions from the chapters for three issues annually. The deadlines for chapter news are:

January 15 for the Spring issue

April 15 for the Summer issue

October 15 for the Winter issue

The Autumn issue of the Shield & Diamond does not contain chapter notes.

WRITING GUIDELINES

Space is limited and your information should be concise. Remember that the facts of the event or activity are the most important items to be included. Your alumni want to read about your accomplishments, achievements and successes (names of individuals are not always important). Please follow these simple guidelines: Avoid long list of names of individuals; Limit articles to 125 words; Deal in facts: the traditional Who, What, Where, When and Why; Do not speculate or philosophize; Do not be vague; Use short, concise sentences. Example: "The chapter's scholastic chairman worked with the brothers to institute new study hours and an in-house tutoring program. As a result, Omega Delta chapter achieved the highest aggregate grade point average, 3.31, of all 23 fraternities on campus."

PHOTOGRAPHS

The best photographs have action or movement and encourage the reader's interest in the article. Photographs of two men shaking hands while looking at the camera or chapter members lined up in front of the house create very little visual interest. If you are photographing an awards presentation, ask your subjects to look at the award or at each other, ask them to speak to each other. Your photograph will look as if it were taken during the presentation, not arranged afterwards. Be creative. Use close-ups. Avoid the staged look.

Photos taken with digital cameras should be taken at the maximum possible pixel setting (for example: 1200 x 1600 pixels). When scanning photos, the resulting scan must be 300 dpi for printing purposes. Blurry or grainy photos cannot be used. You may send digital images by e-mail. Hard copy photos will be returned only when accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Please note: The Shield & Diamond does not publish photographs which include alcoholic beverages (cans or bottles); Photographs can only be returned if they are accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope; The Editor reserves all rights regarding publishing of photographs.

Identify brothers with their school and year of initiation. (Attach a separate sheet to the photo.)

TYPES OF ARTICLES

Scholastic Achievement: Outstanding GPA, resources, computer rooms, innovations

Alumni Relations: Award winning newsletters, alumni functions, outstanding alumni

Where is my chapter's news?

Chapter presidents and secretaries: Make sure your chapter is included in the Shield & Diamond! It's simple to do. You can fill in our online Chapter Notes form – the web address is <http://www.pikes.org/Forms/chapternotes.aspx> – or you can email your news to us at pkα@pikes.org. You don't have to wait for the deadline, either. Sending news all year round insures that your chapter will be represented in the Fraternity's magazine.

Alumni: Encourage your undergraduate brothers to send us the good news about Pi Kappa Alpha at your alma mater!

The chapters on this page sent no Chapter Notes for this issue. Watch for their news in the Summer 2006 issue of Shield & Diamond.

Join Us For 2006 International Work Day!

A record number of chapters have registered to participate in the 2006 International Work Day. Work Day is a program orchestrated by the International Fraternity where chapters, colonies and house corporations all across North America plan a day to get together with alumni, parents, and guests to improve the chapter house and/or grounds. Groups plan constructive projects, food, and fellowship for all who participate. Since its creation, International Work Day has become an annual tradition for most PiKA chapters and house corporations. The best part is that all Pikes are invited to participate with their chapter or one close to them!

How Can I Get Involved?

Review the list on the following pages to find the International Work Day events nearest you or visit the Fraternity's website at www.pikes.org to learn more about this exciting program. Afterwards, contact the project coordinator of the event you wish to attend. The coordinator can provide you with specific information regarding time, location, and what tools or supplies you can help provide. If you have difficulty contacting a project coordinator or the website doesn't answer your questions, please contact Michael Halbrook at mhalbrook@pikes.org or (901) 748-1868 ext. 123.

Murder, Privilege, "Ragtime" and the Thaw Mansion

This installment's tale is the story of heartbreak, affluence, violence, corruption, adultery and murder. A saga so colossal, so fantastic, it could have only been set in the grandest place and time of all – turn of the century New York City. But how does the Beta Sigma Chapter at Carnegie Mellon, some 375 miles from the climax of this legend, have an intimate relationship to such an infamous tale?

The chapter, at then Carnegie Tech, was met with a very unpleasant Christmas gift in 1935. On December 26th their house at 1445 Wightman Street was destroyed by fire. The chapter took quarters temporarily in the old Sigma Nu house at 4921 Forbes Street with full intention of returning to its original home upon restoration. However, it was decided that restoring the devastated structure was improbable, resulting in a search for a new property. In 1936 the purchase of what was to be Carnegie Tech's finest fraternity house was completed. Standing at 5010 Morewood Place, Beta Sigma's new home was in the premier location – a mere 75 yards from the entrance to campus, no more than 200 yards to any college buildings, and a stone's throw from five of Carnegie's strongest fraternities.

The former owner of the property was Benjamin Thaw. Thaw built the mansion at the turn of the century for what at that time was the very sizable sum of $135,000. It was a three-and-one-half story building of grey brick with load bearing walls two feet thick. The facility featured 20 rooms and eight baths along with a six car garage.

On the first floor was the entrance hall, two lounging rooms, dining room, butler's pantry, kitchen, a servant's sitting room, and a lavatory. The walls of the first floor were covered with tapestry, as were the walls of the hallways throughout the house. The second floor had six study rooms and five baths. On the third floor were three additional study rooms, two sleeping rooms, two baths, a servant's suite of three rooms, and a game room. The game room consumed the entire front part of the third floor and measured 50 by 20 feet. Its walls were covered with deep red tapestry. It was furnished with a pool table, a ping-pong table, a piano, a radio, and several lounging chairs and sofas.

This mantle, purchased for $15,000 at the time of construction, was imported from Italy and dates back to the year 1500.

Ornate carvings and tapestry covered walls were common features in the Thaw mansion.

In 1937, Beta Sigma Pikes enjoyed dining in this elegant refectory.

His best throw of the year occurred at the Mt. San Antonio College meet where he reached 287'7", just one inch less than his personal best mark. An injury kept Breaux from competing at the 2005 World Outdoor Championships in Helsinki, Finland. Track & Field News rated him as the number one javelin thrower in the U.S. during 2005.

Offensive tackle Chris Myers (Miami, Gamma Omega '03) was activated by the Denver Broncos after the season got underway and played in nine contests.

Center Joel Rodriguez (Miami, Gamma Omega '03) was on the Tennessee Titans' practice squad the entire season. Quarterback Preston Parsons (Northern Arizona, Theta Rho '99) was released by the Houston Texans before the season started but signed with the Denver Broncos for the 2006 season. Running back Joey Harris (Purdue, Beta Phi '01) spent the entire season on the Green Bay Packers' injured reserve list. Kicker Drew Dunning (Washington State, Gamma Xi '00) played for the Tri-Cities Fever of the National Indoor Football League.

Watching his Denver Broncos have another successful season was Pat Bowlen (Oklahoma, Beta Omicron '63, who completed his 22nd year as president and chief executive officer. Winning plaudits in his first season as Dallas Cowboys vice president of college and pro scouting was Jeff Ireland (Baylor, Theta Nu '89). He oversaw activities on draft day and five of the eight draftees made good contributions. Jeff is also on the NFL's College Advisory Committee, which evaluates and counsels potential draftees. With the untimely death of Atlanta Hawks forward Jason Collier (Indiana, Delta Xi '97) in mid-October and the disabled status of Minnesota Timberwolves guard Fred Hoiberg (Iowa State, Alpha Phi '91) due to an aneurysm, the only remaining Pike in the National Basketball Association this season is center Jake Voskuhl (Connecticut, Iota Chi '96, now in his sixth pro year and first with the Charlotte Bobcats. There is an outside possibility that Fred might return to the Timberwolves this season since doctors have cleared him to resume physical activity.

The Fraternity's two top college seniors last year are now playing professionally overseas. Center Adam Waleskowski (Florida State, Delta Lambda '01) played with the Rosso Alice team in Italy's Treviso Summer League and guard Jay Straight (Wyoming, Iota Alpha '02) was with the Lesob Turismo team in the same league. Adam is now playing with the Erdga Ehingen/Urspringschule team in Germany and Jay is with Galil Elyon in Europe Cup's Israeli Premier League.

Both of the Fraternity's professional golfers improved their earnings totals on the Champions Tour in 2005. Lonnie Nielsen (Iowa, Gamma Nu '72) won $693,651 in 24 tournaments (good for 26th place) and had five Top 10 finishes. His best payday of $140,000 happened after a second place tie at the 3M Championship. Hubert Green (Florida State, Delta Lambda '65) played in 11 tournaments and earned $71,067.

Pi Kappa Alpha's Great College Football Coaches

Throughout the last century, Pi Kappa Alpha men have shaped play on the college gridiron.

Since the early 1900s, members of Pi Kappa Alpha have been involved in the success of college football programs at many universities. Marvin Bridges (Cumberland, Rho 1903) was instrumental in starting the intercollegiate football program at Florida as its first coach. He also helped with the chartering of Alpha Eta Chapter in 1904 and two of his real life brothers were charter members and Gator football players.

The Fraternity's first alumnus to achieve national success as a head coach was Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf (Syracuse, Alpha Chi '21), the first Pike inducted into the National Football Foundation's College Hall of Fame in 1966. He was head coach at Oklahoma State (1929-33), Kansas State (1934), Northwestern (1935-46) and California-Berkeley (1947-56). Pappy was the first winner of the American Football Coaches Association Coach of the Year Award in 1935 and his 1936, 1938 and 1943 teams were nationally ranked.

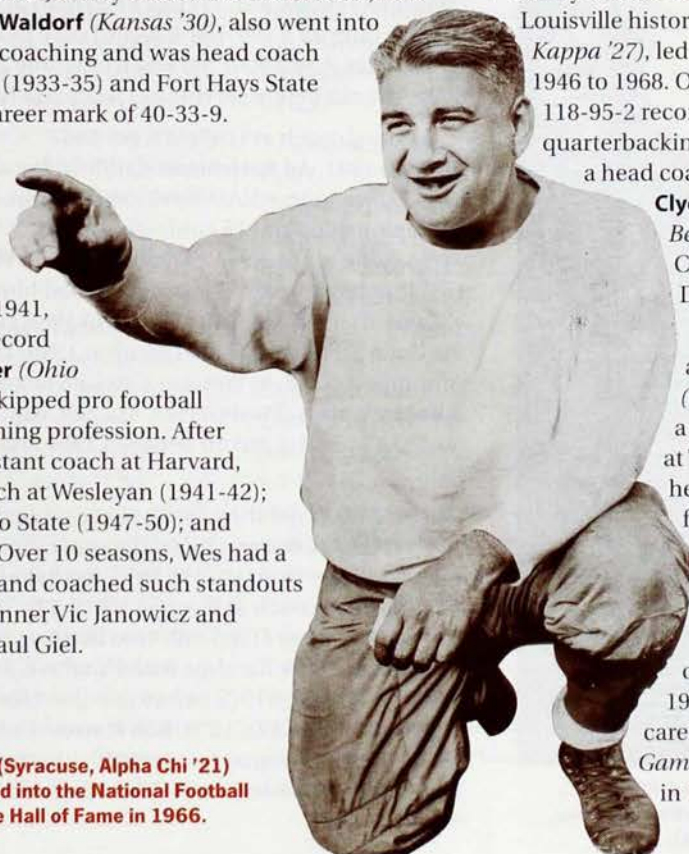

Wes Fesler
(Ohio State,

After moving west to Berkeley, Pappy's first team in 1947 had a 9-1 record and a number 15 ranking in the polls. The next three seasons saw the Golden Bears rack up a 29-0-1 record and play in three straight Rose Bowl games. Over 24 years as a head coach, Pappy achieved a 157-89-19 record and coached such greats as Otto Graham, Jackie Jensen, Les Richter and Johnny Olszewski. His brother, Paul Waldorf (Kansas '30), also went into coaching and was head coach at McKendree College (1933-35) and Fort Hays State (1936-41), posting a career mark of 40-33-9.

Jimmy Kitts (SMU, Beta Zeta '29) was head coach at Rice from 1934 to 1939, then held the same post at Virginia Tech (1941, 1946-47). His career record was 46-42-1. Wes Fesler (Ohio State, Alpha Rho '28) skipped pro football to move into the coaching profession. After seven years as an assistant coach at Harvard, he served as head coach at Wesleyan (1941-42); Pittsburgh (1946); Ohio State (1947-50); and Minnesota (1951-53). Over 10 seasons, Wes had a 41-40-8 career record and coached such standouts as Heisman Trophy winner Vic Janowicz and Heisman runner-up Paul Giel.

Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf (Syracuse, Alpha Chi '21) was the first Pike inducted into the National Football Foundation's College Hall of Fame in 1966.

Once the scene of some of the city's most glittering social affairs, the Thaw mansion was lavishly furnished with eighteenth-century French and English furniture, Goebin tapestries, priceless rugs and sculptures that were museum pieces. Most of the treasures had been distributed to the family following Benjamin Thaw's death in 1933. The walls of the drawing room were still covered with a deep green tapestry and there hung a lone portrait of steel baron Andrew Carnegie, founder of the university.

The centuries-old stone and marble mantles, the tapestry covered walls, and the rich dark woodwork was all that remained. One of the mantles, purchased for $15,000 at the time of construction, was imported from Italy and dates back to the year 1500. This work of art still resides today in the finished basement of the current chapter house.

Who Was Benjamin Thaw Anyway?

While Benjamin Thaw may have never been aware of the Fraternity, he did build a wonderful mansion. Thaw belonged to one of Pittsburgh's great steel families. He was a son of William Thaw and Eliza Burd Blair Thaw.

Thaw fancied himself as a "capitalist", as that is how he was listed in the 1930 census. In 1886 he married Elma E. Dows and had five children who enjoyed growing up in the mansion.

On June 25, 1906 a group of wealthy travelers gathered on the roof of the old Madison Square Garden in New York City to watch the premiere of a mediocre musical review. From beneath an overcoat one man produced a pistol and fired three close range shots directly into the face of another. Harry Thaw, Benjamin's brother, had just murdered architect Stanford White on the steps of the greatest building White had designed. The act was committed in a jealous rage.

Harry Thaw is taken into police custody, 1906.

Brothers of Beta Sigma Chapter enjoy the drawing room, 1937.

White and Harry's beautiful socialite wife, Evelyn Nesbit, had been carrying on an extramarital affair. It is believed that it was in the Thaw mansion that Evelyn and Stanford met, as it is thought that Stanford White provided the home's designs for Benjamin Thaw.

The case became known as the "Trial of the Century" and has been rived only in recent times by the O.J. Simpson trial. Benjamin was no doubt intimately involved with the family in these proceedings. Under a cloud of devious circumstances, Harry Thaw avoided conviction. The story was so infamous that many books and movies have been based upon it, most recently was the 1984 motion picture, Ragtime.

Pi Kappa Alpha retained the mansion through World War II, but eventually sold it to the university. The mansion was ultimately razed in 1957 to make room for the current fraternity quad, where Beta Sigma still resides to this day, along with the priceless Italian marble mantles. The mantles are cherished by the Pike brothers, and one can only contemplate with wonder where they have been, and to what they lay witness, for the 400 years prior to and during their residency in the Thaw mansion.

Delta Gamma Alumni Association Miami University

Very special thanks go to Dr. Dan Weinstein '67, C.J. Robinson '67 and Fred Szumlic '69 for putting together a fantastic reunion for the brothers from 1966-1973 during the weekend of October 21-23, 2005.

Golfers met at Indian Ridge Golf Course on Saturday morning for 18 holes, followed by a cook-out with the undergrads at the chapter house. On Saturday evening, a buffet dinner was followed by dancing to "oldies but goodies" at the Hamiltonian Hotel. On Sunday morning, alums enjoyed a brunch at the hotel and began to think about the next reunion. Delta Gamma's International Work Day is scheduled for Saturday, April 29, 2006. Wear work clothes and join the undergraduate members in projects in and around the house!

The Zeta Chi Alumni Association officially received their charter from the International Fraternity at the Pike University Leadership Summit in Kansas City, Missouri on October 28, 2005.

Super Homecoming 2005 was a huge success with over 100 alumni in attendance. The golf event, 2112 Cup, had its largest turnout ever with Scott Quam '00 carding a 67 to win the event. The Bridge Party, a first for the alumni association, crowned the team of William White '67 and Cliff Mann '67 as champions. All attendees were winners as they made new friends and renewed brotherhood during the two events. Friday night's dinner and dance exceeded expectations with excellent food and entertainment with the highlight of a return of Buddy Holly and the serenading of Steve Sheedy '72 and his fiancé by alumni and chapter members. Saturday's tailgate party came off without a hitch as 325+ were served prior to the Cyclone's victory over the Cowboys of Oklahoma State. The sounds of a live steel drum band added a special touch. During the weekend's events house corporation president Jerry McClelland '73 announced the start of a new $250,000 capital campaign to help complete items that were not accomplished by the previous campaign. Since his announcement the total has topped $100,000. The alumni association showed its support of the campaign with the underwriting of the latest painting of the chapter house by Andy Peters '74. An auction of the painting was held with Charles Drake '67 making the winning bid. A chili dinner hosted by Jim Mulvihill '73 was a perfect end to a wonderful weekend.

Alpha Omega Alumni Association Kansas State

A dinner and auction in conjunction with the 2005 Alpha Omega Alumni Association's annual golf tournament netted $5,000. The flight winners were Dan Schierling '81 and Mike Williams '87 for the Garnet flight and Paul Kolbeck '85, Troy Miller '85, and Jerry Hedrick, Jr '85. for the Gold flight. The tournament was held at Colbert Hills in Manhattan, Kansas, with more than 70 brothers participating. The 2006 event is set for Saturday, August 19, at Colbert Hills. In addition, a Texas Hold 'Em poker tournament is planned at the chapter house during the day for the benefit of non-golfers. For further information on alumni events, contact Dan Schierling at dschierl@arizant.com or 913-461-1972. Kansas State University's hosting of national football champion Texas on Veterans Day, 2006, will be the biggest event in Manhattan, but not the only one, if a PiKA's vision materializes. On November 11, 2006, Mike Riley '84, president of the Alpha Omega House Corporation, hopes to see dedication of a flag pole and plaque on chapter grounds, inscribed with the names of Alpha Omega's Gold Star members. The Fraternity defines Gold Star status as: "Members of the military forces of US and its allies who were killed in the line of duty, contracted a fatal illness during military service or died of an injury sustained during military service." Eleven brothers have been identified, and are Edward O. Ball '35; Glen W. Davis '17; Richard H. Hamilton '32; Edmond L. Hauber '47; Conner G. Hopkins '38; Robert B. Jaccard '36; Wilbur F. Lane '16; Wilbur D. Mansfield '42; Edward M. Mertel '37; Oscar D. Urbom '40; and Dixon I. Wands '36." The idea came about through the interest of many, and the repeated desire of the undergraduate chapter to have a flag pole," Riley said. "The tentative design is to erect a very nice pole, with internal locking lanyard, that will fly two four-by-six flags, the United States flag and the PiKA flag. They will fly 24 hours a day and will be illuminated by lights embedded in the base, along with a bronze plaque with names of the brothers inscribed on it." The project is still in the planning stages and Riley welcomes input from all. A touch of irony has not escaped Riley; on the eleventh day of the eleventh month, eleven fallen brothers will be honored. That is, there is irony if the count is accurate. "We need to make sure we have the correct names and are not missing anyone. We also would like to make an effort to have present widows and children, and grandchildren of these fallen brothers." Riley can be reached at MRiley@mjbtrc.com; 785-742-2121 (office) and 785-742-2937 (home); or P.O. Box 2, Hiawatha, KS 66434.

Super Group Reunites During Tennessee Homecoming Weekend

On November 10, 11, and 12, 2005, Zeta Chapter's 50s Super Group reunited in Knoxville during The University of Tennessee's Homecoming weekend. Fifty-five brothers from eleven states attended.

This reunion group consists of approximately 150 Zeta men from the 1950s era who have been most successful in almost every way imaginable. Brother Malcolm Colditz '53 entertained with a wonderful video of the good old days. Extraordinary speakers were Jerry Askew (North Carolina, Tau '73), former national president of PiKA and current president of the Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation; Dan McGehee '63, former member of the Supreme Council, current award-winning Zeta chapter advisor and 2005 winner of the PiKA Loyalty Award; and Pat Haynes (Arkansas State, Delta Theta '81), executive director of the Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation. The weekend was an enormous success in every way.

The Zeta Chapter reunions began in 1985 with 62 brothers attending. In 1986, 46 brothers attended and began special dispensation initiations of former uninitiated pledges, sons, and one son-in-law that have now provided 15 new brothers in PiKA. In 1990, 108 brothers from 18 states as well as eight former Dream Girls were at the reunion. In 1995, 107 brothers attended, at which time Zeta's dozens of varsity athletes were honored, including three members of the College Football Hall of Fame (one of whom is present Super Grouper John Michels '53, who coached the offensive line for the Minnesota Vikings for 27 years and who has four Super Bowl rings!). In 2000, 71 brothers gathered for the special event in Knoxville.

Indications are that the Zeta Super Group will hold another reunion in 2010.

"Our lives have been greatly enhanced by these reunions," says Zeta Super Group Brother Tom Wade '53, "We urge PiKAs everywhere to organize your own reunions. You will be amazed at how much they will mean to you."

Tulsa Alum Honored With Endowed Chair

Oklahoma State University at Tulsa has announced plans to honor president Gary Trennepohl (Tulsa, Gamma Upsilon '66) by establishing an endowed chair in his name.

OSU Foundation Trustee Monty Butts said creating a presidential chair was the natural choice to support top priorities at the university for years to come. "President Trennepohl is a highly regarded educator and community leader who is deserving of this prestigious designation," Butts said. "His passion is creating opportunities for students to learn. We are pleased to honor and recognize President Trennepohl's ongoing career contributions to education and his commitment to OSU and the city of Tulsa."

Trennepohl joined the leadership of the OSU system in 1995 as dean of the College of Business Administration, now known as the William S. Spears School of Business. In 1999, the Tulsa campus officially became part of the OSU system, and Trennepohl was selected as the first president of the university.

Under his leadership, OSU-Tulsa's enrollment continues to increase, growing from 886 students in 1999 to about 2,700 students today. Trennepohl also led the effort to secure more than $40 million to build northeastern Oklahoma's first Advanced Technology Research Center.

Utah State Pike Continues Family Legacy

CAMP FALLUJAH, Iraq (Oct. 29, 2005) – Growing up, a young boy looked up to his grandfather, a Bronze Star recipient who served in the Army during World War II, and grew up to follow a legacy that he continues today in Iraq.

Corporal Quinn W. Duke (Utah State, Gamma Epsilon '97), 27, said his grandfather's service in WWII called him to pursue a career in the military, and the nobility of the Corps motivated him to become a Marine.

"My grandfather was a strong man with good morals," he said. "He was successful in life. He fought in many campaigns during WWII, to include Guadalcanal. I knew that I wanted to be a successful person with strong values. Even after he had a stroke that confined him to a wheelchair, he pushed on for another 12 years; this is how he inspired me."

"I joined the Marine Corps because I wanted to be the best," said the Logan, Utah, native.

Duke, a manpower analyst, supports manpower information database software, and teaches administrative Marines how to utilize and operate the crucial software here.

The 1996 Logan High School graduate initially served as a reserve Marine while attending Utah State University, and worked in restaurants during the late 1990s.

In 2001, Duke, who is currently operating with Manpower Information System Support Office 11, II Marine Expeditionary Force, Headquarters Group, II MEF (FWD), decided to transition to active duty because he enjoyed his career in the Marine Corps.

"I liked the Marines, and I decided that is what I wanted to do," he said.

Before deploying to the Middle East in August, Duke served in Chicopee, Massachusetts, assigned to Marine Wing Support Squadron 472, and in Kansas City, Missouri, with MISSO 16-17.

"Massachusetts was a culture shock," he said. "I never really spent time on the East Coast. I reenlisted while I was there."

While serving in Kansas City, Duke was augmented to the II MEF to support Operation Iraqi Freedom here.

"I enjoy the work I do," he said. "I have the pride of being a Marine."

Duke said his job requires him to instruct others on the manpower software, which can be challenging.

"The challenges are introducing new systems, and giving classes," he said. "I'm definitely not a public speaker."

Even though Duke isn't keen on public speaking, he overcomes the anxiety in several ways.

"Practice, study and hard work are the only ways to overcome it," he said.

Duke's superiors have picked up on his attitude for success.

"Cpl. Duke is capable of communicating on any level," said Master Gunnery Sgt. Terry L. Slater, MISSO-11 staff noncommissioned officer-in-charge. "He is an outstanding instructor and truly enjoys passing on the experience he's gained. I would love to work with him any time, anywhere."

Duke said he is glad to be a part of Operation Iraqi Freedom, and looks forward to reading about the events in history books.

"To me, it's good to know I'm a part of a world event; part of freeing a country from oppression," he said. "...part of a big event that will go down in history."

Like many Marines serving in the Corps today, Duke is working to become an expert in his field, and is pursuing a college education in conjunction with his duties in the military.

"My goal is to become proficient enough at what I do to become a warrant officer," he said. "In the meantime, I'm working on an electronic engineering degree."

A Meteor Shining Brightly

Pike Alum Brings Civil War History To Life In Compelling Essay

"In May of 1864, as Union Gen. William T. Sherman advanced through northern Georgia to Atlanta, his forces would again meet those of Maj. Gen. Patrick Cleburne, a formidable adversary from the Army of Tennessee, whom Sherman had engaged in previous battles, and the man whom Sherman would later characterize as the ablest division commander of the Confederate army. On May 27 under Cleburne's skilled leadership the Confederate forces would repel the offensive of Union Maj. Gen. Oliver O. Howard about two miles east of New Hope Church at the small settlement around a grist mill known as Pickett's Mill."

— Frederick H. Bohmfalk

Fred Bohmfalk (San Jose State, Delta Pi '56) is one of nine historians who have contributed to a fascinating look into the life of one of history's outstanding warriors. A Meteor Shining Brightly examines the life of Maj. Gen. Patrick Cleburne, one of the Confederacy's most important officers.

The life of Patrick Cleburne was the stuff of epics and novels. From a teenage runaway to a lowly private in Wellington's Army, he was thrown on his own resources at an early age, while the Ireland of his youth mounted a call for independence. He came to America as impoverished gentry, to seek a new start from the ravages of the Great Famine, and on his own merit he carved a life in the young frontier town of Helena, Arkansas.

Shaped by the harshness of the British Army, and his Irish heritage, his concept of freedom was more political than inalienable. When his adopted country was ripped apart by war, Cleburne followed his conscience, coming from nowhere to gain fame and immortality as the highest ranking Irishman of either army, and the most capable division commander of the Confederate army. From Shiloh to Jonesboro, Cleburne won glory for the Army of Tennessee. His spirit was a meteor shining brightly, whose trail blazed out abruptly at Franklin, Tennessee on November 30, 1864.

In his essay, "Cleburne's Victory At The Pickett Settlement", Bohmfalk tells the story of a war which advanced foot by foot and mile by mile, as opposing forces struggled to gain control of an important crossroads dominated by a little church called New Hope.

A Meteor Shining Brightly is a lesson that moves quickly and is easily read. Editor Mauriel Phillips Joslyn has brought together nine keen minds writing eleven engrossing essays on one intriguing historical figure. Civil War buffs and students of military history and tactics have much to learn from Maj. Gen. Patrick Cleburne.

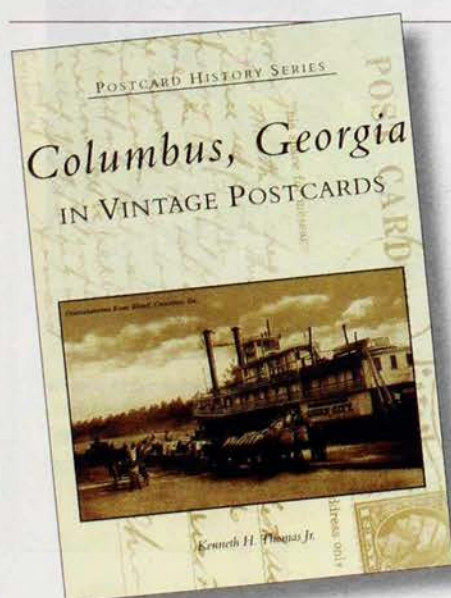

Frederick H. Bohmfalk, member of the Sacramento Civil War Roundtable, the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, and the Pike Loyal Order, is retired from the United States Air Force. He earned his master's degree in management from the University of Southern California. Since retirement, he has found time to indulge in a lifetime passion for history. He frequently speaks on topics of historical interest for Civil War Roundtables and other civic groups.

A Meteor Shining Brightly is available at Amazon.com

"Natural intellect, compelling logic and great moral courage led Confederate Major General Patrick Cleburne to suggest that independence for the South might best be won through independence for the Slave. His controversial emancipation position would make him a liability to the Richmond government and until now, to many Southern writers. Now the fascinating life of Patrick Cleburne is revealed through this scholarly collection of essays. A Meteor Shining Brightly explores the brilliance of the general some have claimed as the most capable, and most controversial, Confederate commander."

Columbus, Georgia In Vintage Postcards

Once again, Kenneth H. Thomas Jr. (Emory, Beta Kappa '65), author of Fort Benning (America in Images: Georgia) brings us a beautiful history of his beloved Georgia in images of bygone days.

Founded in 1828 as a planned city by the Georgia Legislature, Columbus prospered due to its location on the Chattahoochee River. Industry sprang up along the shores of the Chattahoochee and shaped Columbus's identity as one of Georgia's premier cities. Today, a thriving metropolis, it is the Columbus of yesteryear that is illuminated within these pages.

Early postcard views reflect the city from around 1905 to 1942, showcasing many of its businesses, neighborhoods, and parks. Historian and genealogist Kenneth H. Thomas Jr., a native of Columbus, has selected over 200 images from his own collection, other private collections, and that of the Historic Columbus Foundation, the co-sponsors of this book. In Columbus, Georgia in Vintage Postcards, Thomas offers a lovingly crafted tribute to the people and places of his hometown.

News of Bygone Days

100 Years Ago... Alpha Lambda Chapter was chartered at Georgetown College on April 19, 1906. In their first letter to the Shield & Diamond, the new brothers wrote: "We have recovered from the effects of the installation, and are now busy getting acquainted with the fraternity life and discipline. ΠΚΑ's prospects in Georgetown College are very bright indeed, as we have no competition except the Kappa Alphas among two hundred students."

The April 1906 Shield & Diamond carried an editorial titled "Should Foot-ball Be Reformed?" During the football season of 1905, 22 deaths had been attributed to the game. University presidents, professors and ministers called for a cleaner and gentler game. The Shield & Diamond replied, "If foot-ball must be reformed; if the manliest of our games must be converted into a game fit only for high schools and the youth in their teens, then let those who have felt the disappointment of defeat and those who have felt the pride of victory swelling in their breasts institute such changes as will not prove fatal to the game."

75 Years Ago... Robert Adger Smythe journeyed to the Pacific coast to install Gamma Pi Chapter at the University of Oregon. The charter had been granted on February 11, 1932, but the installation took place on March 28. Forty-four men were initiated by teams from Beta Beta (Washington), Beta Nu (Oregon State), Gamma Xi (Washington State) and Gamma Eta (Southern California) Chapters.

The February 1931 Shield & Diamond announced that the 1930 Memphis Convention had broken all attendance records, and that the 1932 National Convention would be held in Los Angeles, California. (That convention would never take place – the next convention was held in Troutdale in 1933.)

From the April 1931 Shield & Diamond: "Pi Chapter at Washington & Lee returned this year to a beautiful new home that outranks all others on the campus in beauty and size.... Altogether, there are twenty rooms that make up the living quarters for the Fraternity." Also, "The Dream Girl of ΠΚΑ' is keeping pace with 'The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi' as a song and dance of general popularity, quite apart from the fraternity and college world, more than 100,000 phonograph records of 'The Dream Girl' have been sold."

50 Years Ago... Epsilon Eta Chapter at the University of Houston was chartered on February 4, 1956. Formerly Sigma Alpha Chi, a local fraternity, the group of 23 men were initiated by teams from Beta Mu (Texas) and Alpha Omicron (Southwestern) Chapters.

The Fraternity was looking southward in 1956, as it made plans to hold the National Convention in Mexico City on September 2-6, immediately preceded by the Leadership School in San Miguel De Allende, Mexico on August 30-September 2.

From the March 1956 Shield & Diamond: "Five years ago, Alpha Gamma Chapter, Louisiana State University, was left stranded with only two members. Consequently, she was forced to give up her house and competition with the other 18 fraternities became increasingly difficult. Thanks to the generous support of alumni, Alpha Gamma has moved into her new chapter house, which is one of the most modern on campus."

25 Years Ago... Spring 1981 saw three chapters come to life. Beta Beta Chapter (Washington) was rechartered after a decade hiatus; Theta Tau Chapter was chartered on April 25 at California State-Sacramento, and Theta Upsilon Chapter was installed on May 16 at Tennessee Tech in Cookeville, Tennessee.

The March 1981 Shield & Diamond featured fiction by Ed Pease (Indiana, Delta Xi '71), and a historical article by Dr. Jerome V. Reel (Tulane, Eta '57) on chapter house mothers. The 1981 Pi Kappa Alpha All-American Basketball Squad was composed of Brian Walker (Purdue, Beta Phi '78), Jim Myers (Georgia College, Theta Gamma '79), Brian Allsmiller (Vanderbilt, Sigma '78), Mike Rhodes (Vanderbilt, Sigma '78) and Kevin Stallings (Purdue, Beta Phi '80).

Brian Walker, #20, on defense, and Pike teammate Kevin Stallings, right background, were members of the 1981 Pike All-American basketball squad. Stallings went on to a career as head basketball coach at Vanderbilt University.

Bud Canada Joins Alton Baldwin in the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame

More than a half-century after playing for the University of Arkansas Razorbacks, Eugene "Bud" Canada (Arkansas, Alpha Zeta '45) became one of nine 2003 inductees into the U of A Sports Hall of Fame.

It was obvious at an early age that Bud Canada was a competitor. As a youngster, he hawked newspapers on the streets of his native Hot Springs, winning a new watch in a sales contest.

Little did he know that some of America's top salesmen would later seek a product he was hawked on Friday nights... his athletic talents.

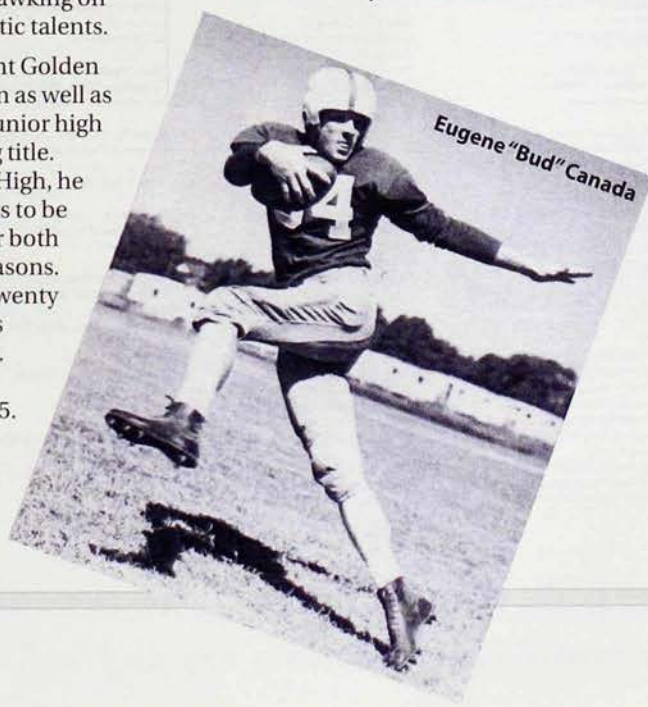

He was a welterweight Golden Gloves boxing champion as well as a football standout. In junior high he won the state scoring title. Playing for Hot Springs High, he racked up enough points to be the state's leading scorer both his junior and senior seasons. Following graduation, twenty midwestern universities sought his athletic skills. Arkansas won out with, Canada enrolling in 1945. He had the distinction of starting at tailback in the first college football game he ever saw. The feisty Canada quickly worked his way into the line-up, as the Hogs starting left halfback and safety.

In Canada's initial season he led the Southwest Conference in punt returns, and led the U of A in tackles as well as passing. After the U of A changed coaches, Canada went from throwing passes to catching them.

Opposing coaches always knew where he was lining up. Canada and Fraternity brother Alton Baldwin (Arkansas, Alpha Zeta '44) anchored a defensive front that guided the Razorbacks to a Southwest Conference championship and a berth opposite LSU in the 1947 Cotton Bowl. Canada was essential as Arkansas won its first bowl game ever in 1948 (Dixie Bowl). Obviously the position change was a good one as Canada ended up playing in the 1949 College All-Star game in Chicago.

Alton Baldwin, also a native of Hot Springs, became an All-SWC end in 1946 at Arkansas and was selected as the most valuable lineman in the Razorback's icy 0-0 tie with LSU in the 1947 Cotton Bowl. He was drafted by the Buffalo Bills of the Old-World Conference. He was one of the league's leading pass receivers and scorers. Baldwin later spent a year with the Green Bay Packers of the NFL and finished his career with the Ottawa Roughriders of the Canadian Football League. He was chosen for the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame in 1987. Canada's induction into the Hall of Fame brought the two Pikes back together on a winning team.

A two-sport star, Bud Canada was a member of the record setting University of Arkansas 440 yard relay team which set a record that stood for 25 years. In 2004, he was inducted into the University of Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor.

Canada's talents were also utilized by his country. He served the United States in the Korean War winning a Bronze Star. He entered as a private, and stepped down as a first lieutenant. Canada also served his state as Sheriff of Garland County and was a longtime State Senator.

Chapter Eternal

Matthew K. Ballard

(Morehead State, Eta Eta '04)

Matthew K. Ballard was born on the anniversary of Pi Kappa Alpha's Founders Day, March 1, 1984, and entered Chapter Eternal on July 12, 2005 as the result of a tragic motorcycle accident.

Ballard was riding his motorcycle on Highway 986 when he collided with a pickup truck in Olive Hill, Kentucky. A member of the Morehead State football team, Ballard had been serving as a student assistant to the program and is the son of Morehead State football coach D. Matthew Ballard.

Ballard's brothers in Pi Kappa Alpha reacted quickly to the news of Matt's death to aid and assist his family. They decided, with the consent of the Ballard family, to develop a ceremony to honor Matt. At the Northcutt and Sons Funeral Home, Chapter President Brad Hagen '02 entered the visitation room with a floral tribute wreath of maroon and gold carnations. He was followed by a double file of chapter brothers, each wearing a maroon carnation boutonniere and white dress gloves, who formed a semi-circle facing the casket. Chapter Advisor Rev. Dr. Charles D. Lees offered a recitation and prayer, during which each Pike went to one knee, remaining so for the duration. Chapter President Hagen addressed Ballard's family, conveying the chapter's sympathy and thanks for the honor of having Matt as one of their own. Chapter member James R. Copher '01 and alumnus Eric M. Heck '02 also spoke about the meaning of Pi Kappa Alpha and Matt's commitment to Pike's high ideals. At the end of the ceremony, the Pikes encircled the casket, whispered the Fraternity cheer, and placed flowers on the bier. Offering their condolences once again to the Ballards, the Fraternity brothers then reverently and quietly left the room. A Fraternity flag in a triangular display case was presented to the Ballards. At the request of the family, chapter actives and alumni served as pallbearers for the funeral at Morehead First Church of God. Brother Matthew Ballard was laid to rest at Mountain View Memorial Park in Black Mountain, North Carolina, the family's home state, on July 18, 2006.

Robert O. Blucker

(Wisconsin, Beta Xi '50)

Robert O. Blucker entered Chapter Eternal on April 3, 2003.

Born in 1927 in North Little Rock, Arkansas, Blucker gained international attention while being held hostage in Iran.

An economics officer with the United States Department of State, he was assigned to the U.S. Embassy in Tehran, Iran when it was seized by Iranian militants on November 4, 1979. Sixty-six Americans were held hostage. Thirteen were released on November 20, 1979. One was released due to illness on July 11, 1980. The remaining fifty-two, including Robert Blucker, were held a total of 444 days. They were finally released on January 20, 1981.

Blucker served Beta Xi Chapter as president during 1953; he earned a bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering from the University of Wisconsin in 1954. After serving in the U.S. Navy in the Korean War, he worked for three years as a process engineer for Texaco. His 27-year foreign service career included consular and economic officer assignments in Argentina, West Germany, East Germany, Nigeria, Libya and Iran. His last assignment was as consular general in West Berlin, Germany.

Blucker is fondly remembered by one of his chapter brothers:

"Brother Blucker was a graduate student when I rushed PiKA. He was finishing his advanced degree in international relations. He became an American hero, but not by his own choice.

'Bluck' was one of the hostages taken in the American Embassy in Iran in 1979. When I saw his name on the hostage list I said to myself, 'The Iranians are in for trouble!' For 444 days Brother Bob slept on a concrete floor. I knew he'd give the hostage-takers a rough time, and indeed he did.

When someone insisted that the American hostages be photographed, Blucker refused, turning his back, and then lying face down on the bed. He angered the guards, but evidently suffered no physical punishment for refusing to cooperate. The Iranians had equal success – none – in getting Bluck to record statements reflecting negatively on the United States.

Eventually, through diplomatic channels, the Carter administration was able to work the release of the hostages, although the exact moment of freedom came seconds after Ronald Reagan took the oath of office.

Robert Blucker, Beta Xi, American Hero! And, as we say, "Phi Phi Kappa Alpha, Brother!" Brother Robert Blucker was living example of what 'Alpha' means in our motto! Our new brothers in Beta Xi would do well to read as much as they can find about Robert Blucker. He is worth remembering!"

— Robert Hale
(Wisconsin, Beta Xi '54)

Stephen M. Kennedy

(Tulsa, Gamma Upsilon '67)

The men of The Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity and Gamma Upsilon Chapter mourned the loss of one of their best as Steve Kennedy joined Chapter Eternal on October 25, 2005. Born August 15, 1946, Steve was initiated January 8, 1967 and served as Gamma Upsilon Chapter advisor continuously since his appointment on October 1, 1996. He also served as vice president and a director of the building corporation. Steve was a tireless supporter of his Fraternity and was instrumental in the rebuilding of Gamma Upsilon Chapter and the success it now enjoys. His personal hands-on approach to chapter operations influenced the lives of many young men.

At a special chapter meeting at the Kennedy residence on Friday, October 21, 2005, chapter members and alumni proudly initiated Steve & Allarsha Kennedy's son, Sean Michael Kennedy, into Gamma Upsilon Chapter.

Gamma Upsilon asks alumni and friends to honor Steve's life and his memory by making contributions in his name to Hospice of Green Country, 2121 S. Columbia Ave. 4200, Tulsa OK 74114, or to the charity of their choice. Memorial contributions may also be made to:

Ray E. Thompson

(Toledo, Epsilon Epsilon '66)

Ray E. Thompson entered Chapter Eternal on July 9, 2005 at his home in Waterville, Ohio. Thompson received his bachelor's degree from the University of Toledo in 1972, and his master's degree from Bowling Green State University in 1975. He was a rehabilitation counselor/supervisor for the State of Ohio for 23 years, retiring in 1998.

Thompson is survived by his wife, Suzanne, and his son and daughter-in-law, and two grandchildren. His brother, William L. Thompson '69, is also an Epsilon Epsilon Chapter alumnus.
