PROFESSIONAL BIO:

Steve Rullo is the Chief Information Officer for GE Capital, Global Operations, and Finance. In this role, Steve is the IT leader of the GE Capital business and GE's finance and shared services functions. He is overseeing a digital transformation to radically simplify and contemporize the way GE provides financial services to its customers and runs its own enterprise financial systems.

HOW HAVE YOU SET YOURSELF APART IN A LARGE, GLOBAL COMPANY LIKE GE?

I have consistently taken risks that others have shied away from and I've kept my word by doing things I said I was going to do. As an example, I spent five years working in three different countries, overseeing several projects that had been stalled for years. Taking the assignment and moving my family to Europe was risky, but through this process, I was able to guide a global change in GE's financing practice and build a reputation as someone who can drive complex change.

WORDS OF WISDOM:

Get out of your comfort zone early and often in your career. Take the jobs that others are passing up because they are hard. Taking measured risks will give you practical experience and help you develop skills that will set you apart in a large company like GE. It will also give you access to the leaders of your company, helping you to build your personal brand.

WHAT INFLUENCE DID YOUR TIME IN PIKE HAVE ON YOUR DEVELOPMENT AS A LEADER?

Pi Kappa Alpha was a foundational leadership development experience for me. I took on leadership roles within my chapter, serving as treasurer and president, and I attended national conferences. Through these experiences I learned organizational skills, such as managing a budget and operating our chapter house. At the same time, I learned how to work within a team and motivate others, which in turn motivated me to work directly with Fraternity leaders on issues we were dealing with at our home chapter.

WHAT IS THE MOST CRITICAL CHALLENGE STUDENTS FACE ENTERING TODAY'S WORKFORCE?

Technology is changing at an incredible pace. While students have a good handle on the digital economy, they often lack the practical experience to apply to a career. Your college classes will not teach you how to respond in critical situations or crises; you can only learn this through experience. Recognize that it's going to take time. Today's student can start to gain experience and grow leadership capacity by taking on leadership roles within the fraternity and internships while still in school.

MORSE SUCCEEDS REEL AS FRATERNITY'S INTERNATIONAL HISTORIAN

Pi Kappa Alpha is pleased to announce the appointment of F. Anderson Morse (William & Mary, Gamma '76) to the position of international historian. This position was created at the 1902 Norfolk Convention with the charge to document, collect, and preserve Pi Kappa Alpha's history and artifacts. Brother Morse has served as assistant historian since 2004 and he is the 11th alumnus to serve as international historian. He brings a wealth of professional experience to this role following 10 years with George Washington's Mount Vernon Estate and Gardens as the senior director for development. In January 2018, Brother Morse accepted the position of senior director of major gifts at the National Law Enforcement Museum in Washington, D.C. which will open to the public in fall 2018.

Brother Morse has previously served Pi Kappa Alpha as international president, international vice president, president of the Risk Awareness Foundation, Founders regional president, and Gamma Chapter advisor. He is currently vice chairman of the Pi Kappa Alpha Foundation's Heritage Committee.

International Historian Emeritus Jerome V. Reel (left) and newly appointed International Historian F. Anderson Morse discuss the Fraternity's history.

Virginia on March 1, 2018, Dr. Jerome V. Reel Jr. (Tulane, Eta '57) was recognized as international historian emeritus following 48 years of volunteer service to Pi Kappa Alpha, including service as international historian since 1976. Brother Reel achieved much during his tenure including the publication of The Oak: A History of Pi Kappa Alpha in 1980, which has subsequently gone through six editions and two revisions through 2015. At the Richmond Convention in July 2018, Pi Kappa Alpha will recognize and celebrate Brother Reel's unparalleled service and devotion to the Fraternity. ❖

FAITHFUL & TRUE

Shad D. Williams leaves the office of international president after a memorable two years.

Shad D. Williams (Oklahoma State, Gamma Chi '90) has served as the 51st international president of Pi Kappa Alpha from 2016-18 after being elected at the 2016 New Orleans Convention.

As he prepares to leave office in August 2018, Williams took time to answer some questions from the Shield & Diamond:

You've been involved with the Fraternity since 1989. How did those experiences prepare you to be international president?

In the summer of 1989, I joined Pi Kappa Alpha at Oklahoma State University. Like any freshman, I thought I had things figured out. Of course, like any freshman, I quickly realized that the game had changed for me. On nearly every level, what worked in high school didn't work anymore. Honestly, I was a little lost trying to find my place.

It didn't take long for me to find my path, and I am thankful for my undergraduate experience because it challenged me to expand the scope of my thinking. I was surrounded by people who outperformed me on so many levels, and it motivated me. Whether it was academics, athletics, leadership ability, or simply being committed to living the college experience, I learned from everyone.

It's amazing how the process repeats itself as you progress through the volunteer ranks of the Fraternity. I was appointed to the PIKE University board in 2004 and elected international vice president in 2010. Each time, I found myself surrounded by the best of the best. And once again, I found myself taking the best attributes of the leaders around me. Even today, I find myself trying to replicate the best attributes of the brothers I've worked with. The leadership test lab of the chapter experience is resulting in a superior volunteer corps.

As a result, I've been able to serve at the highest level of Pi Kappa Alpha. Beyond my Fraternity career, the trajectory of my life changed, and I'm forever thankful. When it's done right, the PIKE experience instills a desire to excel, to over perform, and to make a difference for the people around us. I'm convinced it's become a part of my Pike DNA.

In your inaugural speech in New Orleans, you talked about the six pillars of the Fraternity's Strategic Plan. How much progress have you seen in these areas?

The Fraternity continues to make great progress on the Strategic Plan. Broadly, the Supreme Council has been focused on six key areas: quality growth, asset development, alumni engagement, membership development, chapter support, and university/community relations.

I won't get into the detail of each component of the plan, but there are a couple imperatives that have been the most pressing over the course of the past two years.

As you'd expect, quality growth will always be a staple of the Pi Kappa Alpha Strategic Plan. Recruitment is the lifeblood of the Fraternity, and we will continue to evolve our efforts to attract the most, best men, and I'm proud to say that our recruitment numbers have remained at historic levels. In fact, Pi Kappa Alpha has experienced record numbers of new members in two of the past three years.

Similar to the need to always evolve our recruitment, we've also been acutely focused on membership development. At the direction of the 2016 New Orleans Convention legislative body, the Supreme Council created a task force to study the Fraternity's membership education program. Led by International Vice President Mark Dziatczak (Wayne State, Delta Nu '91), the task force spent many hours reviewing our current programming; benchmarking our efforts against not only other fraternities, but the onboarding programs of Fortune 500 companies and other organizations. Most importantly, the task force had the courage to take a critical look at the efficacy of our efforts.

I think the key question that was asked is this, "Are we creating an environment that fosters continued learning and engagement, or are we encouraging an environment that only fosters learning for a few weeks of the new member experience and unintentionally causing an apathy issue that can severely hinder our chapters?" The answer to this question is important.

I participated in several of the discussions, and I'm aware of the findings and recommendations of the task force. As a result of their work, I believe we are about to embark on a new era for Pi Kappa Alpha, and we will set the standard other organizations will follow. The results and recommendations of the task force will be revealed at the Richmond Convention this summer, and I'm excited to work with our leaders as we lay the foundation for the next 150 years.

"My family is an important part of my Fraternity experience. I wouldn't be near the Pike I am without the support of my wife, Paige." – Shad D. Williams

A fraternity fosters friendship, love, accomplishment, trust, and a faithful diligence to make the world a better place.

Serving as Pi Kappa Alpha's international president places you in some very select company. What did you take away from this experience?

It is such an honor to be included among the list of our past presidents. I have a legacy to live up to, and that's my takeaway. I've mentioned this in a couple of keynotes, but I've been particularly humbled to wear the international president's badge. If you've ever seen the badge, you know that it's simply stunning. It's a little larger than a standard badge, and it's surrounded by diamonds. It's an amazing reminder of the dedication of those who came before me because of the story behind the badge.

After chartering our Epsilon Gamma Chapter at Texas Tech University, Harvey T. Newell (Millsaps, Alpha Iota '30) was returning home in his private plane when his plane crashed on May 17, 1953. Sadly, President Newell was killed. Legend has it that Brother Newell was wearing his badge. Understanding his dedication to Pi Kappa Alpha, the Newell family commissioned the president's badge I wear today, and the badge worn by every president since Brother Newell's untimely death. It sounds a bit dramatic, but I think of the story and the men who came before me every time I pin it to my shirt.

Do you have a favorite memory from your term as international president?

There are so many experiences, it's hard to name just one, but I think celebrating our 150th Founders Day in Room 47 West Range at the University of Virginia will always stay with me. I was there with the entire Supreme Council, Dr. Reel (Tulane, Eta '57), Andy Morse (William & Mary, Gamma '76), Tom Clark (Virginia Tech, Epsilon '73), Justin Buck (Southeast Missouri State, Epsilon Iota '96), Ryan Flickinger (Southern Illinois, Iota Mu '94), Allen Groves (Stetson, Delta Upsilon '69), Shane Pate (Oklahoma State, Gamma Chi '00), and my father, John Michael Williams (Oklahoma State, Gamma Chi '68), among many others. We were all there to celebrate the humble beginnings of what has become such an important part of our lives. When you think of our founding, the early challenges and our relentless effort to expand our reach across North America, you can't help but be inspired. To be in the room where it all started 150 years ago to the day was special. You might recall, we also streamed part of the celebration from Room 47 via Facebook Live. It's amazing to think about the advances in our Fraternity since 1868.

The President's Badge, commissioned by the family of Harvey T. Newell (Millsaps, Alpha Iota '30).

A fraternity celebrates 150 years of existence. A fraternity fosters friendship, love, accomplishment, trust, and a faithful diligence to make the world a better place. We can stay ahead of the competition by setting the standard and refusing to settle for less than being extraordinary.

What advice do you have for Pi Kappa Alpha's next generation of young leaders?

Advice can be a tricky thing. There are so many perspectives and so many different views on what it takes to be effective that it's easy to get lost in the noise. I tend to focus on core values. We all face challenges, and we must make decisions based on the situation and unique circumstances. But in times of difficulty, when the path may not be clear, it's important to remember who you are and what you believe. There are many expressions of our core values, and great guidance can be found in our Creed. Specifically, the following passage:

"Recalling that Pi Kappa Alpha is a lifelong commitment, I therefore reaffirm to live my life with honor and courage seeking the inherent worth in each person I meet; to accept all brothers of Pi Kappa Alpha in love and friendship; and to serve my faith, my family, my community, my alma mater, and my Fraternity."

What advice might you offer to your successor?

I'm always open to advice and usually cautious to give advice to peers, but since you asked, I used to belong to a duck hunting club with Ray Orians (Memphis, Delta Zeta '66), and we hunted frequently for a couple of years. During those early morning hunts and afternoon drives home, we'd talk about all kinds of things; Fraternity, sports, family, life, you name it. Ray has a great way of giving advice and sharing perspective because he usually tells a story and lets you draw your own conclusions. It's usually pretty clear. And it's always a great story.

But the best advice Ray gave me regarding Pi Kappa Alpha is this: we must never forget we are a fraternity. It sounds simple, but it's true. We can't forget who we are and what we do. Think about our Ritual and the Obligation that we swore to uphold. Candidly, throughout my time as a volunteer for the Fraternity, I'm not sure I've been given better advice or better insight into how we became the organization we are today.

I believe if we stay grounded in our core values, we will never stray from our course. I mean that as an organization, but also as individuals who are called to a higher duty.

How would you like to be remembered as international president?

I'd like to be remembered as a president who was a faithful and true servant to the Fraternity. ❖

Have there been any people who have had a significant influence on you in your official role?

Absolutely. The brothers, both undergraduates and alumni, who are leading our chapters have been the most impactful. The work taking place on campuses across North America is extraordinary. We are dedicating thousands of hours in community service and hundreds of thousands of dollars to organizations that are making a difference in the communities where we have a chapter. How we spend our time is an indicator of our culture and values, and I'm proud of our contribution. Our challenge is spreading the word. We're good at spreading our message, but we need to be better.

On a more personal level, I've been fortunate to know so many great leaders in our Fraternity, but I don't have to look further than our current Supreme Council, past presidents, and Fraternity staff to find good advice and counsel. The men who comprise our board are dedicated, thoughtful, and sincere in their work for Pi Kappa Alpha. Our past president roster is crowded with entrepreneurs, attorneys, university administrators, professors, clergy, corporate leaders, and men with a lifetime of experience. And our professional staff is widely considered the gold standard in the Greek world. There is wisdom in many counselors, and I make an effort to leverage them all.

So what do you believe are the Fraternity's keys to success moving forward? And how can we stay ahead of the competition?

We are renegotiating our existence on campuses across North America. There are new rules being instituted, and in many instances, we aren't party to their creation. Ultimately, I think fraternities will be divided into two classes: social clubs and fraternities. Social clubs are a dime a dozen. They're not unique. They're predictable. The experience is finite. Their future is limited.

PIKES ON THE HILL

Annual Capitol Hill Visits Take on a Protection of Constitutional Rights Theme

Protecting the constitutional rights of student members of the Greek community was the focal point of this year's annual Capitol Hill visit by the Fraternity and Sorority Political Action Committee (FSPAC) on April 25, 2018. It became a priority when a high-profile university instituted policies which infringe upon the rights of its students to freely associate with whom they choose, threatening a fundamental principle upon which the Greek community was founded.

Pi Kappa Alpha's delegation for this year's visit consisted of 10 members, five students paired with five alumni. Each pair was joined by a sorority undergraduate and alumnae to create a four person team. The PIKE undergraduates were Jacob Bruce (Colony at Kentucky), Michael Cairo (Florida Atlantic, Lambda Beta '13), Nick McCollum (Indiana State, Theta Omicron '17), Christopher Petrillo (Vermont, Lambda Delta '16) and Tarik Terry (Old Dominion, Zeta Iota '16). The five alumni were James Allen (Arizona, Gamma Delta '09), Chief Real Estate Officer Dan Corah (Colorado State, Epsilon Theta '83), Peter Danjczek (George Mason, Kappa Theta '08), Jordan King (Arizona, Gamma Delta '10), and Randy Ross (San Luis Obispo, CA, Iota Theta '98). The PIKE teams had over 60 meetings with Congressional members and/or their respective staff members. Collectively, the entire fraternity and sorority group, consisting of over 200 fraternity and sorority undergraduate and alumnus volunteers, had 465 individual meetings on Wednesday, April 25.

Michael Cairo, who also attended the annual trip last year, said, "I am most grateful for having the opportunity to work with members of Congress, some of whom I am lucky enough to call my Fraternity brothers, in advocating the protection of the fraternal experience through the legislative process. It has been an invaluable experience that I realize most people don't get to have."

While the Collegiate Housing & Infrastructure Act (CHIA) continues to be an important initiative for FSPAC, recent events have demanded immediate attention.

Harvard University implemented policies that blacklist students who choose to join single-sex organizations. These policies specifically target students' constitutional rights to freely associate by restricting their ability to serve in student government, hold an office in any organization, be a sports team captain, be eligible for certain scholarship opportunities, and more. Because these policies impact all single-sex organizations, historical, non-Greek organizations from Harvard chose to participate in this year's Washington visit.

The fundamental issue is the restriction of constitutional rights and a lack of equal treatment under university policies for all student organizations. This lack of equal treatment also includes deferred recruitment, a policy which prevents students from joining a Greek organization during their first semester, or year, in college – a growing concern across the country.

The Fraternal Government Relations Coalition's legislative focus is on the current version of the Higher Education re-authorization act, the PROSPER Act, which addresses these major concerns. The Greek community does not seek special privileges, it simply seeks equal treatment under the law and university policies alike, so that all students – fraternity and sorority members, student athletes, student government officials, or any other students who wish to exercise their constitutional rights and associate with whomever they want – are free to do so.

Following the event, Jacob Bruce was appointed to be one of the two Greek

Jordan King, Jacob Bruce, and Congressman Andy Barr [R-KY] (ZAE)

Congressman Pete Sessions [R-TX] (Southwestern, Alpha Omicron '76) and Nick McCollum student representatives on the FSPAC board of directors for 2018-19. If you are interested in being a student representative for the Capitol Hill visits or want to remain informed of FSPAC's current legislative focus, please contact PIKE FSPAC board members Jordan King at king_jordan11@outlook.com and Dan Corah at dcorah@pikes.org.

On Saturday, February 17, 2018 Zeta Tau Chapter was installed at Eastern Kentucky University.

Originally chartered in 1969, Zeta Tau Chapter has over 700 lifetime initiates and has long been a dominant force on Eastern Kentucky's campus in Richmond, Kentucky. The Colony at Eastern Kentucky began in fall 2016 with the arrival of Expansion Consultants Erik Fournier (Jacksonville, Mu Mu '15) and Eric Beagle (San Diego State, Delta Kappa '16). After two weeks of recruitment, the colony numbered only 23 men. When Fournier and Beagle left after six weeks, the colony sat at 66 men and was the second largest Greek group on campus.

During their time as a colony, the men raised the most money for philanthropy of any fraternity on campus, became the largest fraternity, achieved the second highest GPA, and completed over 1,000 hours of community service. The colony was chartered with 88 total members, and included students with 4.0 GPAs, an All-American linebacker, and the entire Homecoming court.

The colony members were initiated on February 16, 2018. Initiation teams from Theta Omicron Chapter (Indiana State), Alpha Lambda Chapter (Georgetown), Kappa Zeta Chapter (Louisville), Iota Delta Chapter (Rose-Hulman), Eta Rho Chapter (Northern Kentucky), and Eta Eta Chapter (Morehead State) were in attendance along with International Fraternity staff and 20 chapter alumni.

On Saturday morning, Zeta Tau Chapter was installed by International Vice President Mark C. Dziatczak (Wayne State, Delta Nu '91), Bluegrass Regional President Allen Eskridge (Transylvania, Kappa '91), Director of Expansion Graham Jewell (Rockhurst, Kappa Epsilon '13), and Director of Chapter Services-West Erik Fournier. That evening, the chapter and alumnus members gathered with their dates at the Round Barn Stable of Memories in Lexington, Kentucky for the chartering banquet.

The program for the evening included speeches from chapter members and Chapter Advisor Brian Wilson (Eastern Kentucky, Zeta Tau '90), an awards ceremony, and the keynote speech delivered by International Vice President Dziatczak who recalled how special the colonization process is and how much opportunity lay before Zeta Tau Chapter.

At the conclusion of the program, the chapter named their first Dream Girl, Sabrina Wallace, as they sang "Dream Girl of Pi Kappa Alpha". ❖

ZETA CHAPTER RETURNS TO ROCKY TOP AT THE UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE

On March 23, 1874 the sixth chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha was installed in Knoxville, Tennessee.

After being silent since 2014, Zeta Chapter was reinstalled on March 24, 2018 at the University of Tennessee.

A historic and storied chapter in Pi Kappa Alpha's history, Zeta is a 15-time Smythe Award winning chapter and has produced nearly 1,800 alumni including Dustin Colquitt '01, punter for the Kansas City Chiefs; Travis Hill '89, co-founder of Carnival Music; Chad Holliday '67, former chairman for Bank of America; and many other proud Pikes.

The colony at the University of Tennessee was started in the fall of 2016 by Expansion Consultants Michael Riedl (Kansas, Beta Gamma '16) and Graham Jewell (Rockhurst, Kappa Epsilon '13). The colony members numbered 138 after eight weeks of recruitment and quickly began to compete in all areas with the top fraternities on campus.

The colony members maintained a 3.08 GPA with 85 percent of their membership involved on campus in orientation, professional societies, Army ROTC, student senate, and campus events board, as well as varsity and club athletics. During their 18 months as a colony, over 20 members, as well as members of the alumni advisory board, attended PIKE University events.

The 131 colony members were initiated on March 23, 2018 in Knoxville, Tennessee. Initiation teams in attendance that evening came from Sigma Chapter (Vanderbilt), Upsilon Chapter (Auburn), Alpha Mu Chapter (Georgia), Zeta Tau Chapter (Eastern Kentucky), and Theta Pi Chapter (Alabama-Huntsville), as well as a team of alumni from Zeta Chapter.

The following morning, Zeta Chapter was installed by International President Shad D. Williams (Oklahoma State, Gamma Chi '90) with assistance from Volunteer Regional President Chuck Hunt (North Alabama, Theta Alpha '93), Chapter Advisor Kirk Swor (Tennessee, Zeta '98), Will Wade (Tennessee, Zeta '91), and International Fraternity Chief Operating Officer Lance Horner (McNeese State, Lambda Upsilon '10).

The chartering banquet was emceed by Chapter Advisor Swor. Invocations for the evening were delivered by Bryan Rocko (Tennessee, Zeta '18) and Rick Kuhlman (Tennessee, Zeta '69) with remarks from Zeta House Corporation President Buddy Heins (Tennessee, Zeta '79), Colony President Jon Reesman (Tennessee, Zeta '18), Chapter President Chris Logan (Tennessee, Zeta '18), and Expansion Consultants Riedl and Jewell. The keynote address was given by International President Williams.

Upon the conclusion of his remarks, the colony presented a Volunteers football jersey, number six for the sixth chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha, to International President Williams. After PIKE's initial arrival 144 years ago, Zeta Chapter once again stood proud on Rocky Top. ❖

NORTHERN COLORADO

Mu Tau Chapter joins the ranks of Pi Kappa Alpha

Mu Tau Chapter was installed at the University of Northern Colorado on Saturday, April 28, 2018.

The University of Northern Colorado, located in Greeley, Colorado was founded in 1889. The campus is home to nearly 12,000 students and eight fraternities. Pi Kappa Alpha arrived on campus for the first time in fall 2015. Expansion Consultants Tyler Anderson (Nebraska-Omaha, Delta Chi '11) and Joey Romanczuk (Rowan, Mu Alpha '12) took the campus by storm to recruit 56 men and start the largest Greek organization on campus.

However, the immediate success of the colony would be met with adversity in the following semesters. A highly competitive fraternity environment and scholastic obligations drove the colony's membership down to just 22 men. The group was able to recruit an additional 15 members by adding key contributors from varsity athletics, but the colony GPA was still short of the goal set by the members.

After attending The Academy in summer 2017, the colony found new motivation to work toward receiving their charter. Members were held accountable and put all their effort into recruitment and programming. During the 2017-18 academic year, the colony maintained the highest GPA on campus and recruited more men than any other fraternity.

On April 27, 2018, 40 members of the colony at Northern Colorado were initiated into the bonds of Pi Kappa Alpha. Initiation teams from Iota Alpha Chapter (Wyoming) and Beta Upsilon Chapter (Colorado) were in attendance to assist International Fraternity staff.

On Saturday, April 28, Mu Tau Chapter was installed by International Legal Counsel John Silberstein (Chapman, Theta Psi '85), Director of Expansion Graham Jewell (Rockhurst, Kappa Epsilon '13) and Director of Finance Luke Ryan (Florida State, Delta Lambda '12). During the ceremony, Colony Advisor Carlos Morabito (California State-Fullerton, Mu Epsilon '13) was installed as chapter advisor.

The weekend concluded with the chartering banquet in Loveland, Colorado. Colony leaders gave remarks and received awards for their dedication. The keynote speech for the evening was given by Brother Silberstein, who spoke colloquially with the newly initiated members and their parents, allowing them to ask questions about the organization that was being celebrated. Members and parents alike took pride in knowing that Pi Kappa Alpha had come to the University of Northern Colorado nearly three years prior to build better fraternity men. Though the path was unconventional, that goal had been achieved through the hard work and perseverance of the brothers of Mu Tau Chapter. ❖

The Richmond Conventions

The original Constitution of Pi Kappa Alpha provided for an annual Convention, which was to be the governing body of the Fraternity. In 1874, just six years after the Fraternity's founding, Alpha Chapter issued a call for the first official Convention to take place on December 28, 1874.

Four chapters, Gamma (William & Mary), Epsilon (Virginia Tech), Zeta (Tennessee), and Alpha (Virginia), were in existence, and delegates represented three chapters. Zeta Chapter sent no delegates. Frederick Southgate Taylor (Virginia, Alpha 1868) served as the presiding officer while R.M. Hughes (William & Mary, Gamma 1871) served as secretary.

Much work was accomplished during the first Convention including amendments to the Constitution and work on the Ritual. Following the meeting of the delegation, membership of people who had been members of any other fraternity was prohibited, chapter officer terms were at the discretion of individual chapters, and alumni clubs were authorized.

In 1893, members of the Fraternity convened in Richmond, Virginia for the second time. This time, there were 17 attendants and only five of the 12 existing chapters were represented. While attendance was low, the Convention was constructive. Revised editions of the printed and secret Constitutions were adopted, and the Fraternity's original coat-of-arms was readopted. Additionally, the Convention adopted a button that could be worn by alumni and new members. Northern expansion was defeated.

Attendees at the 1893 Richmond Convention

Since 1868, Pi Kappa Alpha has gathered in Richmond, Virginia five times for the Fraternity's biennial convention. In her 150th year, this grand old Fraternity will return once more to the place where it all began.

1896

Six of the 12 existing chapters met for the Fraternity's ninth Convention in 1896, the third to be held in Richmond. With 26 members in attendance, this event was the largest meeting of the Fraternity to that point. A Constitutional committee was appointed, and ritualistic degrees and northern expansion were defeated.

1907

The Fraternity's first biennial Convention took place in May 1907 with Richmond again serving as the host city. Delegates from all 30 chapters were present. Two different efforts for general expansion were made with the second motion passing 20 to six. With that motion, the Fraternity could seek chapters in colleges and universities in all states west of the Mississippi River and all eastern states lying south of the Ohio River. A permanent chapter house loan fund was established after representatives from Alpha Gamma Chapter (Louisiana State) asked the Convention for assistance to secure financing for competitive housing. The Convention resolved that the delegates request their chapters and alumni to contribute to a fund set up to aid the chapter. Immediately upon passing the resolution, the delegation appointed a committee charged with formulating a plan by which a fund would be created for acquiring chapter houses. The next morning, the 1907 Convention established the Chapter House Fund. A standing committee on songs was also appointed.

The 1968 Supreme Council

"A festive mood prevailed, for Pi Kappa Alpha had come back home, where this grand old Fraternity had been founded one hundred years ago."

National Historian Paul G. Blount
Dec. 1968 Shield & Diamond

The next time the Fraternity would meet in Richmond, Virginia would be the Centennial Leadership School and Convention.

The focal point of the memorials dedicated to the Founders at the University of Virginia during Centennial Leadership school was the ceremony formally presenting Room 47 West Range for use as a perpetual scholarship grant and the unveiling of a symbolic painting of the Founding. Immediately following the Centennial Leadership School held on the grounds of the University of Virginia, Pikes gathered at the John Marshall Hotel in Richmond, Virginia, for the largest Convention celebration in the Fraternity's history. Over 1,000 undergraduate and alumnus members were on hand to officially welcome the second century of our Fraternity.

One of the many Convention highlights was the introduction of the IKA Committee of 100, leaders in all endeavors who were chosen to spearhead the observance of the Fraternity's 100th anniversary. The Convention also reorganized the Supreme Council, creating seven voting members and a non-voting National Counsel to be elected by the Council, approved change in membership selection to allow for chapter option on voting regulations, and ratified the Supreme Council's position on drug abuse. Of our 142 chapters at the time, 137 were represented.

SUMMER RECRUITMENT

Pi Kappa Alpha is a leader in the Greek world when it comes to recruitment. Although most fraternities emphasize recruitment during “rush” periods, we understand that to operate and recruit to a chapter’s full potential, it is necessary to employ a year-round recruitment strategy. Just like any prominent sports team or big company, we also need to be aggressive and not allow ourselves to rely on passive recruitment tactics frequently used on our campuses.

Summer recruitment is the most effective way to recruit men before the start of the term. Most fraternities take this time to relax and enjoy time off from the school year. As Pikes, we understand that this is the best time for prospecting and recruiting new members. We can use this time to get to know potential rushees, promote and market the chapter in a positive way, and begin planning for the year ahead. Some of the most effective summer recruitment strategies include utilizing regional captains, holding summer recruitment events, and staying updated on ChapterBuilder.

REGIONAL CAPTAINS

Regional recruitment captains focus on strategic geographic areas where higher concentrations of potential recruits exist. If we want to recruit potential new members (PNMs) before they begin classes, we should get to know them at their high schools or in their hometowns. Regional captains should be assigned to the areas they will spend the most time in during the summer. Their job is to invite potential new members to events throughout the summer to get to know them and introduce them to other members of the Fraternity.

SUMMER RECRUITMENT EVENTS

Along with the formal or informal recruitment events hosted by regional captains, it’s important to think outside the box and find more ways to get to know potential new members. A couple of summer recruitment events to keep in mind are:

- New student orientation
- Parent orientation
- Move-in day
- Welcome week
- University athletic competitions

CHAPTERBUILDER

A chapter can have all the events it wants but if the men don’t keep track of the potential new members, it will be difficult to gauge interest and potentially bid the PNM. ChapterBuilder is a way to stay updated on the men we are interested in. Previously referred to as a “green book”, ChapterBuilder is a more interactive way to stay up to date with PNMs. It makes recruitment easier, more efficient, and a whole lot more fun. It is imperative that every member downloads the ChapterBuilder application, requests a free demo, and learns how to use the software. This small change will go a long way!

#myFraternity

myFraternity is a grassroots campaign to promote the positive outcomes and positive experience of Greek life.

As undergraduates we competed vigorously against rival fraternities in intramurals, recruitment, and every other metric available. But after graduation you were probably able to appreciate that each Greek organization is founded on the premise of brotherhood and caring for other people. This unity of purpose is a strength of Greek life. Higher standards. A collective effort to do good. Learning to adapt, get along, and achieve goals.

This fall, Pi Kappa Alpha, in partnership with the North-American Interfraternity Conference, will participate in the myFraternity campaign to promote and show the value of fraternity and the value of Greek life today and for the future.

HOW YOU CAN HELP

Op-Ed. Share your personal story of how your chapter experience helped you adapt to college or provide emotional support. Or perhaps how your role as a committee chair or officer prepared you for the world of business and added experience to your college education. Were there lessons about working with people, setting goals, or overcoming challenges that you learned through your chapter experience? Write a letter to the editor of your local news outlet and share your story.

Social Networks. Use the #myFraternity hashtag on Facebook, Instagram, or Twitter and share parts of your experience on Wednesday, September 12, 2018. Reach out to brothers and tag them, encouraging them to tell their stories as well.

Want to do more? Send your story to media@pikes.org, and let's discuss the best way to promote it. Don't forget to include your contact information.

The other 66 NIC-member fraternities in North America are working toward the same goal to create a groundswell of awareness around the positive aspects of Greek life to ensure future generations derive the same benefit that we did. We hope to hear from all of you!

CONGRATULATIONS

PI KAPPA ALPHA FOUNDATION

Raising Funds to Educate and Empower Principled Leaders

PI KAPPA ALPHA MAKES COMMITMENT TO PREVENTING ADDICTION

Fraternity partners with Center on Addiction

Pi Kappa Alpha International Fraternity is excited to announce its partnership with Center on Addiction, formally known as The National Center on Addiction and Substance Abuse. Founded in 1992, the nonprofit works to find, promote, and enact the necessary solutions to end America's deadly addiction crisis.

The organization strives to provide families, employers, medical leaders, and individuals with the tools they need to succeed and to remove the stigma of addiction, replacing shame and despair with hope and compassion. This partnership comes at a formative time, as more than one in seven young adults age 18-25 in the U.S. have a substance use disorder.

The strategic alliance between Pi Kappa Alpha and Center on Addiction first aims to help develop a productive dialog and acute awareness of the epidemic that plagues many college campus communities and students. Pi Kappa Alpha will use its collegiate footprint to help launch a campaign that aims to end the negative stigma on addiction.

Above all else, the Fraternity cares about the health and safety of our members and guests. With over 200,000 living alumni and 15,000 students representing 225 colleges and universities throughout North America, the Fraternity can play a vital role in addressing this monumental crisis through educational initiatives for its members, serving as advocates in the larger campus communities, and leading change by investing our manpower and experience with developing young men.

"The Fraternity's Health & Safety program provides strategies for students focusing on expectations, intervention and accountability. We recognize that we serve an important space, and Center on Addiction's vision fits well with our own goal of improving the health and safety of our member and chapters by providing ongoing education and intervention strategies," said Executive Vice President and CEO Justin Buck (Southeast Missouri State, Epsilon Iota '96).

Pikes gather in New York City to join Brother Joseph Plumeri (William & Mary, Gamma '64) (front, center) for the public announcement of the Fraternity's partnership with the Center on Addiction. (First row, from left): W. Thomas Clark (Virginia Tech, Epsilon '73), Bruce A. Wolfson (Pennsylvania, Beta Pi '71), Joe Caruso (Florida Tech, Zeta Sigma '70), Joseph Plumeri, Tom C. Tillar (Virginia Tech, Epsilon '71), Britt R. Massing (Central Florida, Eta Phi '89), Joshua Franklin (Mississippi, Gamma Iota '12), Kevin E. Virta (Western Michigan, Epsilon Psi '83); (second row, from left): Justin A. Buck (Southeast Missouri State, Epsilon Iota '96), Mark Robertson (Southern Methodist, Beta Zeta '82), Jason Ziegler (Winthrop, Theta Sigma '94), Todd Hittle (Oklahoma State, Gamma Chi '84), Anthony Fiori (California-San Diego, Kappa Phi '97), Devang Desai (Miami, Gamma Omega '03), Nicholas Rossino (Drexel, Lambda Zeta '10), Ryan Flickinger (Southern Illinois, Iota Mu '94), Steven V. Aveni (George Washington, Delta Alpha '05)

Center on Addiction Executive Chair Joseph Plumeri (William & Mary, Gamma '64) has been an integral part of many well-known institutions, serving as chairman and CEO of Willis Group and former CEO of Citibank North America. He hosted the Night to Imagine gala at the Pierre Hotel in New York, unveiling the nonprofit's new direction: putting its knowledge into action in the face of the largest drug epidemic in U.S. history.

Pi Kappa Alpha was recognized as a vice chair sponsor of the event and was represented by nearly two-dozen alumni and guests. In addition, the Fraternity's partnership with Center on Addiction was officially announced.

Learn more about Center on Addiction at www.centeronaddiction.org or about the Fraternity's approach to Health & Safety at www.pikes.org/health-and-safety.

The Pi Kappa Alpha Foundation is proud to partner with the Fraternity in this bold endeavor. We will do our part to help raise the funds required to achieve the vision, to end negative stigmas, and to empower our members to make a difference in their chapters and communities. ❖

The Oak Trust Legacy

REMEMBERING BROTHER JOSEPH R. BROWN

Oak Trust Member Since 1993

"Titan of real estate and ultimate loyal Pike" exemplifies the life of Joseph Roy "Joe" Brown.

Joseph R. Brown was initiated into Beta Gamma Chapter at the University of Kansas in 1950 and served the chapter as president. His volunteer service continued as president of the Kansas City PKA Alumni Club from 1959-61 and included 25 years on the chapter's house corporation board – 10 years as president.

Brother Brown was an architect by education; but, professionally, he specialized in public utility financing. He enjoyed a 41-year career with Black & Veatch, a worldwide provider of comprehensive services related to mining and public utility projects.

Brown's extensive involvement with Pike included service on the governing board of Pi Kappa Alpha's real estate division for two terms spanning almost 20 years. He was a Foundation trustee from 1986-97, serving as president from 1993-96. Embracing the architect in him, he proclaimed his true love was in chapter housing. Brown's expertise played a significant role in the development of Pi Kappa Alpha's Model Facilities Program that promotes smart, fraternity house design that is in tune with the modern, student, housing, market.

Brother Brown supported Pike with his time, talents and treasure. He received the Loyalty Award in 1996 and was inducted into the Order of West Range in 2004. He generously supported the Foundation, renewing his Presidents Council membership annually and achieved recognition in the Sabre and Key Society. Brown was a charter member of The Oak Trust, a visionary group committed to ensuring a bright future for Pi Kappa Alpha. In 1993, he, along with his wife Betty Tudor Brown (an Alpha Chi Omega from KU), created a bequest via the Joseph R. Brown Revocable Trust. His contributions to the Fraternity's work in the field of real estate is unparalleled, and his legacy gift will benefit Pi Kappa Alpha in perpetuity. ♦

of the Pi Kappa Alpha Foundation

Members of the 1868 Club have chosen to honor the beginning of this great Fraternity by donating $18.68 each month for one year, or $224.16 total. The 1868 Club is an ideal way to support Pi Kappa Alpha if you are a young alumnus or an alumnus who is not accustomed to giving regularly to the Foundation but feels strongly about giving back. Funds raised through the 1868 Club are unrestricted and support causes deemed valuable by the Foundation's Board of Trustees.

Charlottesville, Virginia

Since March 1st, 1868, over 280,000 men have shaped our Fraternity's robust history and established lifelong friendships. What began with six esteemed men at the University of Virginia has emerged into a century and a half of Pikes impacting lives across the world. The sesquicentennial anniversary of Pi Kappa Alpha also offers a unique opportunity for PIKE chapters and alumni associations to celebrate a significant historical milestone.

On March 1, 2018, while all of Pi Kappa Alpha celebrated 150 years of our great Fraternity, the Supreme Council convened in Charlottesville, Virginia. The Council meets quarterly, but this was only the second time in Fraternity history that the Supreme Council met in 47 West Range. That evening, the Council hosted a reception on the campus of the University of Virginia, just 75 yards from Room 47 West Range, for all local alumni and any past or current International Officers to attend. Over 80 people attended with representation from 13 states and 35 chapters.

The venue's location was secured with the help of Past International President and current Dean of Students at Virginia Allen Groves (Stetson, Delta Upsilon '79). A cold and rainy day could not dampen the flame of Pi Kappa Alpha that evening as the room quickly filled with brothers connecting and, in many cases, reconnecting for the first time in years. Kappa Gamma Chapter (Florida International) alumni used this event as a reunion with six brothers flying across the country to attend.

After an hour of mingling, Executive Vice President Justin Buck (Southeast Missouri, Epsilon Iota '96) gathered the crowd for brief remarks about the founding, history, and accomplishments of Pi Kappa Alpha. At this point, he introduced the 16 current/past international officers in attendance. He then turned the floor to International President Shad D. Williams (Oklahoma State, Gamma Chi '91) for the night's keynote remarks. Williams spoke of Pi Kappa Alpha's humble beginnings in a tiny room as well as the tremendous growth the Fraternity has seen in 150 years of existence. He also addressed the obvious challenges the fraternal community faces and how Pi Kappa Alpha will tackle them head on.

At the conclusion of Williams' remarks, he announced to those in attendance that Past International President and International Historian Dr. Jerome V. Reel Jr. (Tulane, Eta '57) would be taking on a new role as historian emeritus. Dr. Reel, a stalwart of Pi Kappa Alpha on an international level for almost 50 years, addressed the crowd with his usual quick wit followed by a lengthy and well-deserved round of applause. Williams then announced that F. Anderson Morse (William & Mary, Gamma '76) will replace Dr. Reel as international historian. (See story on page 3.)

The night came to an end with a Facebook Live broadcast from Room 47 West Range conducted by Executive Vice President Buck and International President Williams that reached over 7,000 Pikes. As individuals left the celebration, there was a sense of pride, accomplishment, and confidence that Pi Kappa Alpha, just as it has for the past 150 years, will continue to be the place where young men grow to become leaders in their families, their homes, and their communities. ♦

CAL'S GO TO GUY

Something along the lines of “let me check with Andrew” seems to be the most common response to almost any question that arises regarding Cal football. Nobody knows the program inside and out quite like Andrew McGraw (California-Berkeley, Alpha Sigma '92), the Golden Bears' top football administrator.

While head coach Justin Wilcox is ultimately responsible for making final decisions on the field, he works hand-in-hand with McGraw to make comparable decisions off of it.

“I communicate with Andrew a number of times daily,” Wilcox said. “There are so many different things that go into operating a football program – from training table to travel, recruiting, equipment, academics and so much more. Andrew essentially touches everything that has to do with our football program that’s not X’s and O’s.”

McGraw has always had the innate ability to see the big picture yet be able to focus on all the details needed to be successful, and for nearly three decades Cal’s football program has benefitted tremendously from his extraordinary skills.

Growing up in a Cal family, McGraw was meant to bring his skills to Berkeley. His mother, Regina, was a pom-pom girl at Cal in the 1960s and passed that love along to her family, including a young Andrew.

“Oski is a household name in our home,” Regina said. “We are a Cal family and I always joke around that Andrew’s blood is blue and gold, and it has been since birth.”

If McGraw’s blood wasn’t blue and gold the day he was born, it turned Cal’s colors one famous Saturday afternoon in November of 1982 when a then nine-year-old McGraw got a bird’s-eye view of arguably the most famous play in college football history from one of its most iconic places – high above California Memorial Stadium on Tighthead Hill.

Cal's top football administrator Andrew McGraw is focused on the future.

“That pretty much did it,” Regina said.

It also foretold of an incredible journey to come as McGraw has moved methodically to the top of the Cal football administrative food chain to his current dual role as assistant athletics director for football administration and interim sports administrator for football.

In the fall of 1990, nearly a decade after witnessing The Play, McGraw was an accomplished quarterback at Santa Cruz High School although at well under 6-0 a lightly recruited one. But after one particularly good game during his final prep season, he was approached by a man in a UCLA jacket.

“I assumed it was a coach,” McGraw said. “I had played a good game, but I wasn’t sure why UCLA would want a 5-10 quarterback.”

McGraw was right about his suspicions.

“Have you ever thought about joining the UCLA music department?” the man who turned out to be UCLA’s band director asked McGraw, who was also an accomplished drummer.

“USC and UCLA have band football teams and he said that if he could get me to be their band’s quarterback that they would win that game for the next four years,” McGraw said with a laugh.

But McGraw also received a competing offer from the band director at Cal, and although there was no football team to quarterback, the choice was easy and the next fall he was at his dream school.

McGraw focused primarily on his musical and academic endeavors during his first few months in Berkeley but missed the gridiron. During the spring of his freshman year, he took a walk up the hill from his Unit 3 dorm on Durant Avenue to California Memorial Stadium.

When he got there, McGraw knocked on the door of the equipment room. He may not have yet known it, but his professional career was underway.

McGraw started as a student equipment manager and soon after added scout team quarterback to his resume. By the time he graduated from Cal in 1995, he had developed tremendous relationships and made important connections within the football program.

Steve Mariucci became the first of many to realize McGraw’s invaluable contributions when he took over as head coach in 1996. Mariucci hired McGraw as a recruiting assistant, and after Mariucci left following a single season as Cal’s head coach, his successor Tom Holmoe signed on McGraw as a defensive quality control coach.

Andrew McGraw (center) has been with the Cal football program for nearly three decades.

In the years since, McGraw has likely had more roles and responsibilities than anyone in Cal football history – working in recruiting, football operations, player personnel and administration, among other areas.

"He's invaluable," Wilcox said. "Andrew understands the program as well as anybody – from the actual logistics of how we do things and what it takes to operate our program to the scope and all the details of it. We are fortunate to have him. He's seen it all and he's somebody that understands what it takes."

"You would be hard-pressed to find someone that cares about the University of California and the athletic department more than Andrew McGraw," said Mike McHugh, who served as the program's Director of Football Operations throughout the Jeff Tedford era and was a mentor for McGraw. "He has devoted his entire adult life to making Cal a better place."

McGraw's best memories include plenty of victories but he says his involvement in the recruitment of current NFL standouts Alex Mack and Aaron Rodgers is also right at the top.

"Believe it or not I actually felt like I had won the Draddy Award when Alex won it," McGraw said, referring to the honor known as the academic Heisman earned by the lightly-recruited player he helped unearth out of the Santa Barbara area.

He also vividly recalls his significant role in Rodgers' recruitment.

The story of Cal discovering Rodgers while looking at tape of his Butte College teammate tight end Garrett Cross has been well-documented, but some of the details involving McGraw's involvement have typically escaped the story.

"Coach Tedford asked me to scour the country for a junior college quarterback because he was concerned about our depth at the position knowing that Kyle Boller would be moving on to the NFL after that season," McGraw said. "When I popped Garrett's tape in, I couldn't stop noticing these missiles being thrown by the quarterback. This guy is also running all over the field and making plays with his feet. I immediately go into Coach Tedford's office and say, 'Pop this tape in, we've got to watch this'. He says 'Alright the tight end – yeah, he's good and we'll take him, but the quarterback, woah.'"

We kind of pump our fist and hope that this isn't too good to be true."

McGraw and Cal football staff legend Kevin Parker would eventually become a formidable recruiting duo that spearheaded the recruiting efforts of many of Cal's top players, including Parker's fellow Oakland native Marshawn Lynch.

"We had a good run," Parker said. "Andrew cares for every young man that comes through the Cal football program. We knew we could recruit players that would turn the Cal program around and we did."

And at a young 44, McGraw has big plans for the future.

"Justin Wilcox is one of the brightest head coaches in college football and I know he loves it here," McGraw said. "He has a plan to build Cal into a national championship contender, and we're not alone in thinking that's very attainable. We are in one of the most desirable places to live in the Bay Area and at the No. 1 public school in the world. We can bring in the type of special student-athletes we need to make this program thrive. There are some really exciting things on the horizon."

It's a horizon McGraw first got a glimpse of from high above California Memorial Stadium more than 30 years ago and has been focused on reaching ever since. ❖

War for the Hell of It: A Fighter Pilot's View of Vietnam The Pilot: Fighter Planes and Paris

by Ed Cobleigh (Georgia Tech, Alpha Delta '63)

Ed Cobleigh knows what he writes. He lived it, flying jet fighter planes with the U.S. Air Force, U.S. Navy, Royal Air Force, Imperial Iranian Air Force, and the French Air Force. He instructed at the USAF Fighter Weapons School, the USN's Top Gun school, and the Royal Air Force's Qualified Weapons Instructor course. As an air intelligence officer, he worked with the CIA, FBI, and MI6 on a variety of covert intelligence projects. He has visited 50+ countries in various capacities. Now retired in California's wine country, he puts all his knowledge and experience on the page.

Cobleigh is the author of War for the Hell of It: A Fighter Pilot's View of Vietnam and The Pilot: Fighter Planes and Paris. Coming in 2018: The First Fighter Pilot: Roland Garros, the Playboy Who Invented Air Combat.

Ed "Fast Eddie," Cobleigh served two tours of duty during the Vietnam air war, logging 375 combat sorties in the F-4 Phantom fighter/bomber.

In War for the Hell of It, Cobleigh shares his perspectives in a deeply personal account of a fighter pilot's life, one filled with the undeniable thrill of flying a fighter aircraft. With well-crafted prose that puts you into the Phantom's cockpit, Cobleigh vividly recounts the unexplainable loss of his wingman, the need to trust his reflexes, eyesight, and aggressiveness, and his survival instincts in the heat of combat. This is an unprecedented look into the state of mind of a pilot as he experiences everything from the carnage of a crash to the joy of flying through a star-studded night sky.

Cobleigh gives a stirring and emotional description of one man's journey into airborne hell and back, recounting the pleasures and the pain, the wins and the losses, and ultimately, the return.

The Pilot has mastered many fighters, from the treacherous Sopwith Camel to the stiletto F-104 Starfighter, from the Spitfire to the F-16 Viper. But now he has a new challenge. He can't shoot down the future, but the past may hold the key to his present.

The Pilot relives classic missions and relives past love affairs searching for answers. Heart-pounding air combat spanning the skies of time involves him in a fast-paced mélange of fighter aviation, espionage, libido, memories, and culture in the City of Light.

Cobleigh earned a degree in mechanical engineering from Georgia Tech and a master's degree in management at the University of Southern California.

He earned his pilot's wings with the United States Air Force and eventually achieved the rank of lieutenant colonel. As a fighter pilot, he flew the F-104 Starfighter, the F-4 Phantom, the A-4 Skyhawk, the Anglo-French Jaguar, and the F-16 Fighting Falcon.

Ed Cobleigh

His 375 combat missions in South East Asia during the Vietnam War earned him two Distinguished Flying Crosses.

The Magician's Tomb

by W.J. Cherf (Indiana University, Delta Xi '73)

*The sands could not contain it...
An Egyptian stumbled across it...
It took an archaeologist to free it...*

This archaeological adventure story is about Professor Dr. Erik Reissen, Egyptologist, whose team excavated the tomb of a mythological magician named Djedi. Son of Imhotep the famous architect and Neferka the sorceress.

The tomb's contents are coveted by an evil adept named al-Razzuli, who must possess them at any cost. Opposing al-Razzuli are the members of a secret society, and the agents of a shadowy paranormal Vatican organization. Standing in the middle is Reissen. These opposing forces drag him into a confrontation that changes his life forever.

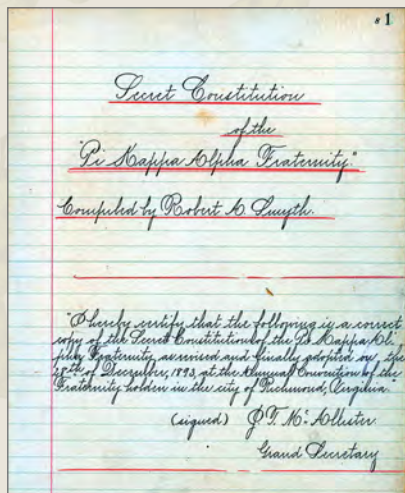

W.J. Cherf is the author of nine books in the fantasy/paranormal/adventure genre. Wit, a love of science fiction, and a deep reverence for ancient history and archaeology are stitched together beautifully in his novels, because Cherf has been there, dug that. He's even seen the sun rise atop the Great Pyramid.

With a bachelor's degree in anthropology, master's degree in Egyptian archaeology, and doctorate in ancient history, Cherf remains current as an elected officer of Denver's Egyptian Studies Society and is a member of the national service organization, Sertoma, Inc., which is devoted to serving those with hearing disabilities. He and his wife, Sue, enjoy golf, road racing, and cheering for the Cubs and Chicago Bears.

He was a member of the Duval County Medical Society, the American College of Surgeons, and the American Medical Association. He galvanized several physicians and community leaders to develop a new not-for-profit hospital which opened in 1969. Brown was chairman of the board for Memorial Hospital Jacksonville from 1969-82.

He was a clinical associate professor of surgery at the University of Florida through the Jacksonville Health Education Program (JHEP) teaching the senior surgical residents.

In 1983, Brown retired from surgical practice and became chairman, CEO, and president of Health South Inc. While serving in this position, he became a diplomat in the American Board of Medical Management which was equivalent to a master's degree in health care management. In 1995 Memorial Hospital Jacksonville was sold; the newly built rehabilitation was retained, and in 1998 the name was changed to Brooks Health System. In 1999 Brown received an honorary doctorate of humane letters from the University of North Florida.

Brown was the author of many medical, religious, and political articles, and several medical and family history books. He was a renaissance man who greatly contributed to the growth of Jacksonville's medical community, University of North Florida, and St. John's Cathedral. He received the distinguished achievement award from the University of Florida in 2003.

From early childhood Brown had a passion for hunting doves, quail, ducks, and geese. In later years, these hunts were shared with his favorite hunting companion, Jeffrey Berry, his grandson. In addition to hunting, Brown enjoyed carving and painting ducks. He appreciated art and painted in watercolor, oil, and acrylics.

DUANE W. POST
(Nebraska-Omaha, Delta Chi '52)

Duane W. Post entered Chapter Eternal on October 8, 2017. He was "president of almost everything" while a committed member of Pi Kappa Alpha at what was then Omaha University. He was an "anchor" member of Delta Chi Chapter.

I can still remember his reputation on campus and his impact on me as an impressionable young man.

Duane spoke to our new member class, and I can remember him saying, "No where in America is the personnel committee of a major company saying, 'Let's go out and hire those people with the best average grades we can find!'"

That's when I first really connected the dots relative to my own academic performance.

That speech was instrumental in helping me "get serious" about my grades, for which I'll always be grateful.

Not surprisingly, Duane went on to have a distinguished career at IBM.

Duane Post was a wonderful person, campus leader, chapter leader, and brother in Pi Kappa Alpha.

Rest in peace Duane, and thanks for all you meant to your brothers!

(Nebraska-Omaha, Delta Chi '57)

ALAN R. ROSS
(Washington, Beta Beta '59)

Alan Richard Ross, better known as Al or "Big Al" to most who knew him, entered Chapter Eternal on March 30, 2018 at the age of 78. Father figure to hundreds of men initiated during his tenure as chapter advisor of Beta Beta Chapter, Ross had a big hand in helping shape PIKE into what it is today at the University of Washington.

He took on Beta Beta's chapter advisor duties in 1980 following its recolonization and held the role for 15 years before transitioning to the Alumni Advisory Board and Pi Kappa Alpha UW Housing Association, where he served in various capacities until 2015.

"Al was more than a chapter advisor to us," said Brian Mann (Washington, Beta Beta, '90). "He was a steady hand to a sometimes struggling chapter, a stalwart on the housing front, and a mentor to us all. He was a big part of why I got re-engaged after I graduated and was a great influence on so many brothers."

Perhaps two words that best describe Ross are loyalty and commitment. He and his wife, Gwen, were married for 51 years, and together they had two children, who raised three grandchildren. Ross was known as a pillar of the Redmond, Washington community, where he owned and operated Lakeside Drug and was the community's pharmacist for 44 years. He held volunteer roles for PIKE for 35 years.

"Al showed me the true meaning of 'Once a Pike, Always a Pike,' and is the person I credit with my involvement in the Fraternity today," added Dan Miller (Washington, Beta Beta, '92). "Every time I interacted with him, whether as an undergraduate officer, or after I became chapter advisor or regional president, Al always had advice that made me better in my role."

To honor his commitment to education and the positive impact he had on so many young men, many of the brothers he advised surprised him and his family at Founders Day several years ago by announcing the endowment of the "Al Ross Scholarship" at the Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation, to reward the student with the most improved GPA annually. The scholarship had been planned and funded in secret as a way to thank "Big Al" for his more than three decades of unwavering dedication to PIKE. His family asks that remembrances be made to his scholarship via the Pi Kappa Alpha Educational Foundation.

A. JAMES ROSSANO (Transylvania, Kappa '87)

Anthony James Rossano entered Chapter Eternal on January 25, 2018. He graduated from Transylvania with a bachelor of arts degree and later worked his way up to become a senior counselor for Bosley Medical. He married Vicki Baynton on Saturday, July 20, 1991.

Rossano always had a passion for life; he was positive, resilient, and hard working. He loved life and lived it to the maximum. When his wife Vicki was diagnosed with cancer, he dropped everything to be with her every step of the way. His love for not only his wife, but all whom he cared about, was never questioned. He loved without boundaries and took great care of the people closest to him.

Rossano will always be remembered for his loving, caring, and charismatic ways. He loved big dogs, Kentucky basketball, politics, and giving gifts. If you gave him your ear, he could talk for an hour. His best evenings were spent over a big steak after a long day of working on his yard or "working out" as he put it. He was a confident man and proud of his Italian heritage, always supporting his family and encouraging them to pursue their dreams, no matter how big. He instilled in those who knew and loved him to live each day with passion, positivity, and happiness.

EVAN M. SCOLLARD (Trinity College, Epsilon Alpha '15)

Evan Mark Scollard entered Chapter Eternal on March 24, 2018. He graduated cum laude from Trinity College in 2017 with degrees in psychology and anthropology. Scollard spent the fall semester of his sophomore year studying abroad at the University of St. Andrew in Scotland. He took advantage of every opportunity presented to him at Trinity College, receiving two grants, becoming a member of the academic honor fraternity Gamma Sigma Alpha and the international honor society Psi Chi. He also served as president of Greek life, the editor of the university's student newspaper, and was a fellow at the Churchill Institute.

After Trinity College, Scollard attended Officer Candidate School in Newport, Rhode Island where he was commissioned as an officer in the United States Navy in October 2017 and stationed in San Diego serving aboard the USS Boxer.

He was most known for his determination, drive, and zest for life, accomplishing and experiencing more in his 23 years than most do in a lifetime. His humor, quick wit, and captivating personality made him an instant favorite with everyone he met. He loved reading, the beach, music, and found immense joy in making people laugh. Above all, Scollard cherished time spent with his family. As a son, he filled his parents with pride and unconditional love. He adored his sisters and valued his role as a big brother.

"I volunteer because my experience as a PIKE helped shape the man I am today."

Through my time as an undergraduate, I recognized the assistance, guidance, and benefit of the alumni to Alpha Omicron Chapter, especially our chapter advisor at the time, Mike Rossman '70. As a result, I wanted to give back to the chapter that provided so much to me during my time at Southwestern University.

As a young professional, some people ask how I have time to pursue my career while still volunteering for Pi Kappa Alpha, but time management was one of the many tenets I learned during my time at Southwestern. As an undergraduate, I had to balance my personal life, studies, collegiate athletics, and the Fraternity, so the transition to involved alumnus was not a difficult one. There are times that it can be a challenge, but more often than not, I am able to strike a balance in my life.

Even with managing my time well, without the support of the other alumni advisory board members I would get overwhelmed. Everyone on the alumni advisory board is consistently willing to devote their time and energy to ensure we have a clear structure, message, and positive influence on the chapter. Alumni advisory board members are able to stay connected and engaged, regardless of how often they are able to make chapter events, through our scheduled phone calls, social events, and official advisory board meetings.

Volunteering, like a lot of things in life, requires you to fully jump in, to not only make a difference but also to reap the benefits of volunteering. Pi Kappa Alpha needs young alumni to give back by volunteering their time and by lending their experience and insight. My advice to new volunteers is to contact their local alumni associations, alumni advisory boards, or the national headquarters to learn how to get involved.

Lastly, I volunteer because my experience as a PIKE helped shape the man I am today in several different ways: the lifelong friendships that I developed, the experience gained through various chapter leadership roles, and the development of professional skills that have helped me excel in my career. I give back to the current undergraduates by supporting them as a true advisor who lets them tackle the issues and lead in ways that are most comfortable to them while providing guidelines and ideas to help enhance their ideas and efficiency. My job is not to control them, but instead lend my experience and knowledge to help them develop the best path toward success

For more information on how you can volunteer, visit us on the web at www.pikes.org or contact the Alumni & Volunteer Department at 901-748-1868 x 1112 or alumni@pikes.org.
